

Sport Ticklers For Side Line Coaches

Try these questions on your grandmother shawl. The odds are ten to one against you that you'll miss at least five.

Lenoir Rhyme beat Milligan. Where are these two schools and why? River Falls spilled La Crosse Teachers but where did they spill them? Locate any ten of the following colleges: Augsburg, Baldwin Wallace, Tufts, Rose Poly, Sue Bennett, Hampden-Sidney, McPherson, Moravian, Grove City, Furman, Wooster, Wofford, Presbyterian, McKendree, Tarkenton, Hartwick, or Wagner. (Set you can't place over three from memory and that it would take you an hour to find out where the rest are).

Who is the chief scorer of the Southern conference and on what team does he play? Why didn't he play football last fall?

Name the teams the following men coach: Stagg, Morrison, Cawthon, Sasse, Zuppe, Cranfill, Burton, Littlefield, Phelan, Heisman, Kimbrough, Saxon, Warner, Ingerson, Williams, Hanley, Anderson, and Alexander.

And here are a few easy ones. Where is Sid Knowles coaching? Who coaches the Lubbock Westerners? Who is Del Morgan? Who was captain of last fall's Tech eleven? How heavy is a football? How long is a football field (you sure missed that one)?

If you can pass this "sporting" test you win the prize. Treat yourself to a good nickel cigar.

Vanities Given Party Visitors

Misses Harriette Roach, Glyde Ormsley, Mary Lois Gamel and Beth Wulfman entertained Thursday evening at the country club for members of the La Chaparitas club and guests.

Halloween appointments were featured and stunts and bridge the diversions of the evening. Louise Jennings played piano selections also.

Vanities were given to the guests present by the club members. Club members who were there were Misses Virginia Murray, Sue Barton, Gertrude Standefor, Gail Quinlan, Camille Stobaugh, Vonelle Gilkerson, Cecile Horne, Frances Ford, Polly Barrow, Jean Shelley Jennings, Maxine Clark, Sylvia Wilson, Johnny Gilkerson and Marjorie Ann Ainsworth.

Other guests were Misses Ada Mae Gilbert, Mary Earl Lofland, Melba Gilbert, Dorothy Hill, Geraldine Durham, Pauline Warren, Lenora Brownfield, Ima Baker, Melba Watson and Maurine Cook.

Students To Meet Tonight For Special Columbus Program

The Spanish club, "Copa y Espada" will meet Thursday evening in room 310 at 7:30 o'clock. All members are urged to be present, because it is necessary to elect a new vice-president. Also an interesting program has been planned on the Life of Columbus and "La Fiesta de la Raza." Also a social hour including games which are peculiarly Spanish.

Dear Fellow Students:

As a candidate for editorship of the Toreador last spring I announced in my platform that I would devote the best of my ability towards the promotion of a better Texas Tech spirit through united support of our fighting Matadors.

Tomorrow Captain Jack Durham and his boys take on the Colorado Miners—the first inter-sectional foe to be met on the Tech gridiron. Because of the importance of this game I am particularly glad to be able to devote a large portion of this edition in behalf of our Matadors.

Yours truly,
The Editor.

Centenary plays S. M. U. and Perdue this fall. The Gents have already whipped Baylor.

What They Tell The Editor

EDITORS NOTE: Letters from students or members of the faculty when signed will receive space in this column. Unsigned letters will find a direct route to the waste basket. Letters will be limited to 250 words and will carry only the initials of the writer if so desired.

Dear Editor: Where is the "free taxi" service that the citizens of Lubbock promised to give Texas Tech students if the State would give Lubbock the honor of postmarking mail from the State's 7 year old institution.

It seems to me that the new Loyalty League, or what ever they call it, can do plenty of good in promoting "free taxi" service for tired Tech students. The Lions could roar their approval and the Rotarians might rotate their expensive cars out towards the campus each noon for the purpose of keeping the boys and girls satisfied with their education. Is it true that cattle raising is the big racket in these parts and that the Chamber of Commerce believes in making Tech students walk so as to increase the demand for leather?

Yours expectantly,
"Mike Robe."

Dear Mike: I agree with you that Lubbock citizens could do much in promoting "free taxi" service for tired Tech students. It is true, however, that many of the Lubbock citizens are very good at letting students ride to and from town. What about the Tech professors who in an empty car pass students walking in the streets? Yours truly, The Editor.

WHAT ABOUT SPIRIT?

Dear Editor: At no time during the past three years have I seen that "Tech Spirit" lower than it is at this time. The reason for this, I do not know. This much I do know, if the students of this college do not get behind the football team out there on Matador field, it is only a matter of time before we will not have a chance to get behind them. Why? Simply because they will be going elsewhere to play their games. No business manager, however smart, can put on programs of the type that our present managers are trying to put on for our pleasure and benefit, without some help from the side line.

I believe that if the students of this school will visit the practice field once or twice a week and watch those boys work out from 4 o'clock until 7 every evening of the week, they will see something that will arouse any spirit that they might have ever had. Last Monday morning I went out to that field feeling kinda low in spirit. When I went away about dark and left those boys still out there working, I went away with a new-born spirit. From now on I am going out there when I need a "spirit doctor." Another thing that will help a lot is for us to go to pep rallies. Not only go to them, but take part in them. There is to be a big rally Thursday night before the game on Friday night, and I am of the opinion that every student in this school who belongs here will be out there at that rally (except, of course, those who are working).

Come on student, let's go out to that practice field some time this week and then to that pep rally on Thursday night and see if we can't revive that lost "Tech Spirit." When we revive the spirit we will go to the ball games and thereby help in the struggle to furnish the student

Y. M. C. A. Five Leads Tech Play

Intramural basketball came a step nearer to its close last week. Four games were played under the supervision of Harvey Dunn, manager.

The Y. M. C. A. presenting the most formidable team to date trounced the Bookstore to the tune of 33 to 14. The fact that the Bookstore had already won one game makes the "Y" boys appear all the stronger.

Aud Darr's liberal arts fish team won a game by default from the army team. The junior-senior engineers defaulted to Crew's fish engineering team.

In the closest match thus far the junior-senior Aggies defeated the soph cagers, 16 to 12. Both team showed lack of practice and as a rule both were inaccurate in their ability to ring-up goals.

Government statistics recently published reveal that Soviet Russia's compulsory education campaign is running 110 per cent ahead of schedule. During the czarist regime the most ever in school was 7,235,000. Last year there were 17,612,000 in Russian schools.

Sun Beau, that's the name of a race horse, has won nearly $400,000.

Swede Sixteen

It's a beautiful country, Sweden! And no wonder Hollywood looks in that direction for screen talent, now and then, with the Swedish beauty crop turning out such lovely products as 18-year-old Alano Taube. She's already one of Sweden's most popular film actresses.

THOMAS HERE
Ray Thomas, 29, has returned to Akron, Ohio, after a visit in Lubbock.

Thomas, who is a textile graduate, is assistant to the general manager of the fabric mills of the Goodyear Rubber company at Akron. He has recently been doing research work on fabrics for the new dirigible, "Akron" being built by the Goodyear people. He has been visiting in New England during his vacation and also at the Goodyear plant in Georgia, where several other Tech graduates of the textile department are employed.

TO DISCUSS CAMPAIGN
Members of the finance committees of both the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. are reminded of the meeting tonight in room 318 for the purpose of discussing plans for "Harvester Week," which begins October 28. Geraldine Clewell is chairman of the girls' group and Houston Hinson of the boys' committee.

The committee will work out plans for the campaign, during which they hope to see every student personally to find out if they are interested in furthering work of the "Y" organization.

ADDED TO CABINET
Officers of the Freshman "Y" Council have become ex-officio members of the "Y" Cabinet, Jack Boyd, secretary, announces.

The officers are Fred Williams, Lawrence Kahn, and Joe Christian, J. O. Sanders has also been appointed as a cabinet member.

Hallow'en Is Party Motif

Miss Melba Mae Tatom entertained Las Vivarachas club and their guests Thursday afternoon in her home at 2219 15th street.

The Hallow'en motif was featured, and bridge was the diversion of the afternoon.

Guests were Misses Evelyn Stewart, Patti Hopping, Kathleen Conrad, Sue Brown, Lessey Bullock, Mary Evelyn Woodson, Ada Ruth May, Lorene Gable, Eileen Graves, Virginia Baker, Crystelle Cook, Martha Alice Penny, Lenora Brownfield, Nancy Paver, Annabel Carter, Juanita Freed, Vonelle Gilkerson, Dorothy Rushing, Frances Ford, Ruth Pirtle, Sallye Bean, Margaret Conner and Mrs. Harvey P. Choral Club Practices On Hymns For Annual Concert

Cowen's Rose Maiden, and Mendelssohn's Hymn of Praise are to be presented this year by the Choral club which meets in the engineering auditorium Wednesdays at 7:30. New members are welcome, and additional tenors and basses are urged to attend.

POSTPONE PARTY
The Home Economics club's initiation party, which was to be given at the practice house Friday night, has been postponed on account of the Tech-Colorado football game, according to Dean Margaret V. Weeks.

PLENTY OF NOTRE DAME
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 22. — Notre Dame's football team won two, tied one, and lost one as the result of last Saturday's play. The varsity defeated Drake 63 to 0, the reserves tied Michigan State Normal, the first "B" team elipped Northwestern's "B" team a 14 to 7 defeat, and the other "B" eleven dropped to Western State Teachers.

Our opponents tomorrow night are known as the Orediggers, a term often applied to the beloved co-eds of Texas Tech.

Lime Lines

GRIDDON GRIPES FROM GOSSIP'S GRAVEYARD

WELCOME OREGIGGERS

Lime Lines, most widely razzed sports column this side of Avenue Q, bids you Colorado Miners welcome. You fellows came down here from your mountain-side campus in Golden for the purpose of upholding the prestige of the Rocky Mountain conference—you've heard that one before but here's something new: St. Louis 7 and the Missouri Miners 0, Simmons 45 and the Texas Miners 0, Northern Normal 7 and the Michigan Miners 0, Western State 19 and the Colorado Miners 0. Yes, it looks like an "off" year for all the Miners. Good luck you Oregiggers!

WHAT ABOUT IT, LYLE?

Understand that our Mr. Holmes, Shamrock's model of the great Collier Parris, has kidded the Simmons Brand (that's a school paper) about the poor showing the Cowboys have made in football. We can hear that Mr. Holmes was carried in the last issue of the Brand. Lyle, we wonder what the boys down in Abilene will have to say to you this week when they smear the ink on thick about their 45 to 0 victory over the Texas Miners. Yes, Mr. Holmes, you may have to sit up late thinking about a suitable come-back.

FOOTBALL A LA NISSELY

BAD BREATH, Tenn., Oct. 22.—Lesterine eliminated Baiton in ten seconds here yesterday when on the first charge the Bad Breath boys were forced to confess to their best friends.

TRENCHMOUTH, La., Oct. 22.—Forham's "pink toothbrush" attack messaged an easy victory over Tech here today when the deceptive "four out of five have it" spinner plays of Forham baffled the bleeding gums.

THE NATION'S BEST

Several weeks ago this column tipped you off as to "who was who" in the race for national football honors. Today we bring our list up to date by suggesting that the best teams from Atlantic to Pacific and from Canada to Mexico are—Tulane, Southern Methodist, Tulane, Southern Methodist, St. Mary's, Southern California, New York, Cornell, and Stanford. Our personal opinion is that Notre Dame, Northwestern, Southern Methodist, St. Mary's, and Tulane will be near the top at the end of next month. Possibly Yale or Harvard.

HONEST CONFESION

They say that honest confession is good for the soul. Here goes: We missed on the Amarillo-Pampa game, we picked Rice to beat S. M. U., we figured that Oklahoma would take Texas for a ride, played a hunch that Purdue would beat Wisconsin, and we guessed that Texas Miners would beat Simmons. Why don't you expect football dope, try talking to yourself—it probably will be just as good as Lime Lines.

A REAL SPORT PAPER

Next time you have a spare nickel and want to know what's going on in the football world just drop in on an news-dealer and buy Uncle Jake's Sport News. Every Saturday morning Uncle Jake brings you the line-ups, inside dope, and probable scores of the Southern conference games and, quite frequently, you'll see the latest on the Matadors.

WHAT WENT WRONG?

Surely the score in Sunday's Avilanche was wrong. Didn't you imagine the Haskell Indians taking a 40 to 0 beating from the Oklahoma Aggies after beating Kansas and Texas Tech. Your correspondent feels certain that "Little Rabbit" Weller and Company wouldn't stand for any 39 to 0 score but then they expected Notre Dame to run over Drake as they did. Sounds like the score of an old Irish-Baylor battle of several years ago, 63 for Notre Dame and 0 for the Drake Bulldogs.

THE SHOW-UP BOX

We've glanced over the sport page to get the low down on Tech's opponents. Baylor passed its way to a 19 to 7 win over Arkansas. Can Cawthon perfect a defense against the Bears' passing attack? New Mexico defeated the New Mexico Military Institute 25 to 0 and they tell us that the Roswell boys usually have a fair team. The Abilene Christians won a 13 to 6 battle from Sul Ross to give them two straight wins. The T. I. A. Gusher Keyes was the big star for the Wildcats. Simmons slipped a fast one over the Texas Miners in a 45 to 0 victory. Looks like a big time for the Matadors in Abilene—and possibly El Paso even if the Miners did get the best beating they've had in years. Tomorrow's opponents dropped to Western State 19 to 0 but occasionally Notre Dame loses, too.

LAST WEEK'S STANDOUTS

Notre Dame 63; Drake 6, Wisconsin 21; Purdue 14, Texas 3; Oklahoma 0, Harvard 14; Army 13, Tulane 19; Vanderbilt 0, Georgia 32; North Carolina 7, Southern California 53; Oregon 6, S. M. U. 21; Rice 12.

The Terrible Terror Of Texas Tech

LESTER TRIBBLE CENTER

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a series of semi-humorous sketches of our Matadors. We picked on Les Tribble first because we feel certain that the "Terrible" enjoys a faintly razzing and is sportsman enough to take it with a grain of salt. Watch him battle those Miners tomorrow night.

The boys call him "Terrible." We haven't heard what the girls call him. The "Terrible" echoes of famous wrestling triumphs on carnival lots, drug store floors, and in Sherman alleys. To look at him you'd think twice before you'd call him "Terrible." His Rudy Vallee smile, his Buddy Rogers complexion, his Clark Gable eyebrows, his Graham McNamee voice, and his Pete Cawthon haircut are enough to send their ripples of perspiration down any co-ed's back. That, however, is aside from the subject.

This "Terrible" fellow is none other than little Lester Tribble of Sherman. He is the same guy who got the blame for making about half of the Matador tackles in the Haskell Indian game. We haven't heard how much the broadcasting station got out of making Tribble famous but we have heard that young Lester did play a whole of a game down in Dallas and if that certain "blonde" is in the stands tomorrow you can rest assured that the "Terrible" will be up and at them again.

NEXT WEEK'S SCORES

Your correspondent picks LIFE BICYCLE to stop BODY OIL, LIESTERINE to stop up DAN DRUFF, ETHYL to eliminate CARBON KNOCKS, BRAY to clean CLOTHES, IPANA to stop PINK TOOTHBRUSH, MARTIN to make clean sweep of HALLS, NISSELY to pass WILLIAMS, BROWN to throw GULL, and STATE TAX to burn up TARGET.

TOUGH FOR STAGG

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 22.—While a jury hounded Al Capone for the first legal defeat of his career the grand old man of football watched his Alma Mater, Yale, crush his Maroons 27 to 0 in a football game played in his honor. Yale, playing for the first time in the midwest, completely outplayed Stagg's Chicago university eleven.

Amos would say, "and something." Anyway, this column has merrigaged two fountain pens, a half dozen handkerchiefs, three pairs of socks, one pajama suit, and a top-coat in order to raise Texas to lay on the Longhorns against Harvard. Comparative scores favor Harvard but public sentiment favors the Longhorns. The entire nation rejoices when either Harvard or Yale is whipped and on this occasion Texas is going to cause the celebration. Let's suggest that Texas takes the game by a two touchdown margin—and if they take the game they'll probably receipture Boston for the Indians, throw another Boston tea party, etc, etc, etc far into the night.

Badgers Take Annual Game From Fishmen

Amarillo Junior College Wins From Picadors 14 To 0 In Contest Featured By Close Defensive Play

(Special To The Toreador)
AMARILLO, Tex., Oct. 17.—Meeting the strongest defensive club they have battled this year, the Amarillo College Badgers were able to break loose only twice Friday afternoon and defeat the Freshmen of Texas Tech, 14 to 0, at Butler field here.

The followers of Al Baggett up in the early first period to ring up a tally. A series of line plunges carried the ball down the field from the 50, and Grass picked up the last foot on a plunge into center.

After the first Badger counter, the game became a defensive battle that lasted until the opening of the last decade. Albert Lard, 150 pound quarterback who hails from the Pampa high school squad, took the ball on his 10-yard stripe, started round right end, found a hole just off tackle and cut back through it for 81 yards and a touchdown.

The Picadors of Del Morgan showed the result of weeks of drill against the varsity of Texas Tech, presenting a great defense but lacking in offensive training. Led by L. Fridly, 158-pound substitute center, the Frosh eleven formed a forward wall through which the Badgers could not add up first downs.

Early in the second quarter Morgan sent in an entirely new team. Trying to counteract this move, Baggett began to substitute, and before the game had ended 52 men had seen action on both halves.

In the final period the Picadors opened an aerial attack with their greatest ground game. It netted six of their eight first downs of the game but could not quite pick up a touchdown. The passes featured Pool, McElroy and Hahn on the hurling end, while Rowe sent out some excellent southerly twisters, and Larsen and the Gilmore brothers on the receiving end. Twice a forward pass, Hahn to Larsen, who lateraled it to Rowe, got loose for gains, but the ball "later" never got in the open.

Three times their overhead attack took them within the Badger 10-yard zone, once reaching the two-yard marker, but line plunges failed to complete the job.

Blackie Reynolds co-captain of the Picadors, and a very potent factor in the backfield of Del Morgan, received a broken arm early in the second quarter. Reynolds has previously starred in Lubbock high school and with the Baylor fish.

thought he will be able to take part in the Matador tilt.

With these experienced backs, two sophomores are being alternated in the quarterback position. They are Daggett and Billy Rump. Both men are light but fast, and have proven their ability to run the team under fire.

First In Many Years
The game with Texas Tech will be the Colorado Mines first inter-sectional contest for some years, and the Oregiggers are determined to uphold the reputation and prestige of the Rocky Mountain conference when they meet the Matadors in Lubbock.

The Miners realize that Tech would like nothing better than to knock off a Rocky Mountain conference team, and they will go to Lubbock expecting to meet the stiffest competition of the year.

GEORGIA TECH LOSES
ATLANTA, Geo., Oct. 22.—The Yellowjackets of Georgia Tech were defeated last Saturday by Auburn 13 to 0. It was the first time in 12 years that the Alabama team has triumphed over Tech.

Matadors Beat The Colorado Miner

Baylor Bears Appear Next On Schedule

Only Game This Season With A Southwest Conference Team Will Find Matadors Eager For Victory

Morley Jennings and Botchey Kzech will entertain Pete Cawthon and his Matadors at an afternoon of football in Waco one week from Saturday. The party is booked as a friendly affair but it is probable that the Matadors will release their pent up fury in resentment in an attempt to stage a "comeback" after dropping a game to the Haskell Indians.

As Baylor is the only Southwest conference eleven in the Texas Tech schedule this fall, the Bears will be forced to "shoot the works" against the Matadors. Baylor games indicate that most of the "shooting" will be via the air. A clever forward passing attack kept the Bears in first division of the Southwest conference as the result of an aerial victory over Arkansas last Saturday. Centenary slipped a muscle on the Bears two weeks ago to take them for a 24 to 13 licking.

Three In Row
Facing three tough games in a row; Haskell, Colorado Miners, and Baylor—is asking quite a bit of a sophomore eleven but Captain Jack Durham and his Matadors feel capable of handling the situation. Barring injuries tomorrow night, it appears certain that Cawthon will be able to send his strongest eleven against Baylor.

Plans for a "special train" to the Baylor game are still in their embryo stage. If two hundred students are willing to lay $7.50 on the stone sill at the local railroad office, a "special" will be made up and routed "Waco first stop." Students interested in traveling en masse to help put the Baylor game on ice are invited to communicate with "Bo" Williams at their earliest convenience or drop a note saying that they are "rarin' to go" in the Toreador office.

Terrill Next Picador Foe

Morgan To Take Freshmen To Dallas For State Fair Game With Powerful Prep Eleven; Reynolds Missed

"Hit them hard and low" comes the command of the Frosh mentor as he prepares his Picadors to trample Terrill Prep when the Frosh appear in Dallas Friday. The husky fish run their signals with a dash that seems to seek revenge for the score inflicted upon them by the more experienced Badgers last Friday. The Picadors are being reminded constantly of the lacing handed them last year by the Tigers.

Are Same Weight
The teams stack up about alike in weight, the Tigers having the edge in experience. Both teams will take 40 passes if necessary. Saturday, Terrill Prep Tugs took the Bacone Indians of Muskogee, Okla., to camp when they completed three passes to score each time. Passing proved to be the Picadors' main factor in advancing the oval against the Amarillo Badgers.

Coach Morgan has had some opportunity to give his Fish more offensive work, which by the way was their falling factor in the Badger game, it is his hope to send a winning team to Dallas Friday.

The absence of "Blackie" Reynolds will be felt rather severely, as the Frosh realizing they have all the more to do will enter the fray a determined crew.

Veteran Freshman Now Varsity Star

For the benefit of the visiting Colorado Miners who might perchance have obtained a copy of this week's Toreador we are presenting a picture of Texas Tech's wild and woolly left end. This young man, Mr. Colorado Miner, is Matt Hitchcock better known as the "veteran freshman." And should you be unfortunate enough to meet him on the gridiron tomorrow evening we feel quite sure you will find him a rather hard fellow to get along with—that is, during the game. Off the gridiron he's a regular guy.

Now about that "veteran freshman" part. This Mr. Hitchcock had a bad case of "scholastic difficulty" during his first two years of college and, like at most high class institutions, one has to excel in the classroom before he can strut his stuff for Alma Mater. Matt played two years of "fish" football. No wonder he's anxious to make a great name this fall.

Hitchcock hails from either Lexington or Cameron. We don't know which and, after all, what difference does that make. He weighs about 180 pounds. If he hadn't have strayed away into the wilds of Wyoming this past summer he would probably weigh a lot more. It seems that Matt climbed the wrong mountain and was forced to send out an S. O. S. His buddy, Bennie McWilliams, sat down and enjoyed the landscape but Hitchcock began to worry as darkness approached. Both lost their way and Matt lost fifty pounds before they finally found an inhabited valley.

Play Side By Side
Usually Hitchcock and McWilliams play side by side in the Matador lineup. McWilliams is a tackle. This past week Mr. Dutchey Smith, the line coach, has been giving the beefy Elva Baker preference over McWilliams but before the game is over the mighty Bennie will probably break into the game.

And so, Mr. Colorado Miners, you have heard one chapter in the amazing career of Matt Hitchcock. Tomorrow night you'll see him in action as he settles down to add a few more pages to his unwritten book—"Hitch-hiking with Hitchcock." Will he bum you for a ride. We think so, and how!

Tennis Tourney In Semi-Finals

Coach O. C. Corry announces that the Fall tennis tournament, has reached the quarter-finals. Rushing, Bickley and Toothaker loom as the possible winners. They have won all their matches in great style. Rushing and Bickley have been outstanding tennis players for Tech in the past two years. This year promises to be the best of any for them. Bickley won a hard fought match with Homer Roberts, of Sweetwater. Roberts had previously been conceded a good chance to pull through to the finals.

The tournament is being held to determine the position for the varsity and freshman teams. So far as veteran material is concerned the present team will be completely lacking. Coach Corry with this in mind intends to give the players as much experience as possible and the meantime be determining their ability.

About eighteen students entered the tournament. Freshmen and prospective varsity men were both eligible. The tournament will be finished some time this week.

Students interested in tennis should see O. C. Corry.

The Pee of the Simmons backfield apparently stands for Pass. Pass, passing gave the Cowboys a 45 to 0 win over the Texas Miners.

Bill Teal, veteran end of the Matador football squad, will be unable to play during the remainder of the season. Teal suffered a broken leg in the Haskell Indian game after stopping the famous "Little Rabbit" Weller time after time. The injury came when Teal was blocked during the play that ended in a touchdown for the Indians.

The vacancy at end caused by Teal's injury will probably be filled by Yancy Price. Price has been performing in the fullback position so far this season. During his high school days Price established the reputation of being one of the best ends in Texas high school football. Either Harold Critch or "Buffalo" Nichols will take Price's place in the backfield.

Star Golfers Enter Annual Tech Tourney

Hughett, Clark, Pendleton, Kelly, Smith And Holmes Will Take Part In Championship Play Next Week

The annual Texas Tech Golf Championship to be held over the Meadowbrook golf links from October 28 to November 1 received a hike today upon the definite announcement that Hughett, B. Holmes, Clark, Kelly, Pendleton, Smith and several more sure shots are to be certain entries.

Advance dope indicates that this will be the biggest and the hottest contested tournament ever to be staged for the Tech affair and to be played over the Meadowbrook club. In Hughett, last year's runner-up, and present holder of the course record with a 63, seven better par, fans will be able to witness one of the leading amateurs of the state.

Holmes Is Good
Bill Holmes, Shamrock, insures a wonderful exhibition of driving, approaching and putting. Since this time last year he has been runner-up in three major state tournaments besides winning the Texas Tech championship last year. He was runner-up in the Raton, N. M., invitational tournament; runner-up in the Western Oklahoma championship tournament; and a semifinalist in the Electra invitational tournament.

Both Hughett and Holmes have had plenty of experience and will have a possible edge over some of the others. Clark, of Lubbock, although just a beginner is shooting the best game of any of the boys now, he may surprise some one before the tournament is over. His long driving and accurate putting is not to be under-estimated.

Clark Likely To Star
Clark along with Walter Pendleton loom as possible prospects to upset the more experienced men. Pendleton has entered several tournaments but has just fallen short several times.

Jelly Kelly, Adolphus Smith, Harold Busby, Massey, and Moore may step in any time, any of these shoot par golf and are not to pass lightly.

The tournament will be held rain or shine. Students may qualify either Wednesday or Thursday, October 28 and 29. Matches began Friday, October 30 and continue through Sunday November 1. For further information see W. G. McMillan, owner Meadowbrook club.

Tough Break

BILL TEAL—END

Bill Teal, veteran end of the Matador football squad, will be unable to play during the remainder of the season. Teal suffered a broken leg in the Haskell Indian game after stopping the famous "Little Rabbit" Weller time after time. The injury came when Teal was blocked during the play that ended in a touchdown for the Indians.

The vacancy at end caused by Teal's injury will probably be filled by Yancy Price. Price has been performing in the fullback position so far this season. During his high school days Price established the reputation of being one of the best ends in Texas high school football. Either Harold Critch or "Buffalo" Nichols will take Price's place in the backfield.

Notre Dame used over two hundred football players last Saturday. Fifty-three saw service against Drake while the other one hundred and fifty played with the reserve team and the two "B" squads.

Gene McEver, Tennessee's crack half-back, scored three touchdowns against Alabama. McEver looms as a cinch on the All-American team.

Tulane lost its last game three years ago when Georgia slipped the Green Wave a beating.

The Pec of the Simmons backfield apparently stands for Pass. Pass, passing gave the Cowboys a 45 to 0 win over the Texas Miners.

TIME AND TIDE

BY WILL BRISBARTON

DEATH COMES TO US

THERE is hardly a young person in Lubbock with access to a car who has not "made the dips" at one time or another. The run was made on the theory that they appeared dangerous but actually were not. I knew a family once who had a gentle, companionable saddle pony that the children played with and trusted implicitly. In an inexplicable mood the horse kicked one of the children in the head one day and killed him. This is much the same kind of accident. Such tragedies are made more terrible by the thought that nothing short of actual knowledge of the future could have warned to take another path, not on a different impulse at that particular moment, or guard against disaster lurking in a casual suggestion. We are a college family, bereaved of one of our number, deeply grieved at the suffering and loss that has come to those students and their families with whom fate has dealt so harshly.

Only a few days ago a sunny, exuberant, irresponsible lad of the local high school died from a tragic accident that occurred in the high school gym. He was a senior—a member of the same class that would be graduating a certain little girl had she not met with a similar accident on the campus of the old high school less than three years ago. I am glad that I am not a person faced with the task of assigning meaning to death, disaster, and suffering. I could not pretend to find hope, merit, completion in death's awful annihilation. I would flee from the duty of standing on the brink of a yawning grave and speaking words of assurance into the intolerable void of bereavement. I could not in honest comfort with pious platitudes. The inscrutable mystery of death's dastardly night baffles and silences me. No person in bereavement wishes to escape the pain of it. He hugs its sting fiercely to his breast as all that he has left of his beloved. He feels, somehow, that if he can keep grief from melting into sorrow he will gain strength for its burden and be able to bear up beneath calamity's full weight.

All of us sooner or later fight this thing out. We must take things as they come. Death makes its daily visits and youth is also mortal. Death may have neither rhyme nor reason. It may not have a meaning further than what we see. We have no choice but to die when we must, and to surrender personalities knit to our very souls when capricious fate so wills. We can only bear one another's burdens, suffer with those that suffer, share the sorrows of our fellows. The silent clasp of a friend's hand means something. Yet life assumes a grimmer aspect. Sorrow, they say, enriches the soul and someday we may attain the faith of Whitier when he wrote:

I know not what the future hath
Of marvel or surprise,
Assured alone that life and death
His mercy underlies.
I know not where his islands lift
Their fringed palm sin air;
I only know I cannot drift.

DISLIKES MURDER

Alphonso Capone was convicted in federal court at Chicago for evasion of income taxes in 1925-26-27 and failure to file income tax returns in 1928 and 29. The jury deliberated eight hours and 18 minutes with nothing to eat. Capone faces at most 17 years imprisonment and $50,000 fine. He didn't want newspapermen at the trial. "If it wasn't for guys like me fellows like you couldn't make a living," he told them in urging their absence. Al is said to have expressed distaste for his business in these words: "I have never liked wanton murder. I have always talked against it."

Capone went to see the Nebraska-Northwestern football game and "swept in with an escort of motorcycle police like an emperor going to his coronation." Under the caption, "Get This Capone," Jack Leach of the editorial board of the Daily Northwestern, the university's student newspaper, commented on the appearance of the gangster and said:

"You are not wanted at Dyche stadium nor at Soldier field when Northwestern is host. You are not getting away with anything and you are only impressing a moronic few who don't matter anyway."

TEMPERATE BEER

The A. F. L. overwhelmingly defeated a resolution proposing to amend the 18th amendment and described their goal of "mild beer" to be reasonably sure of accomplishment" and said it would "promote the cause of true temperance." President William Green said that it might be "the spark that would set the wheels of industry turning." After all, the wheels of industry was the chief concern of the convention.

Miners Due To Arrive Today

Veteran Squad From Golden, Colorado, Scheduled To Get Their First Glimpse Of Lubbock Today

A heavy and experienced Colorado School of Mines football squad will arrive in this city this afternoon for their inauguration of inter-collegiate athletic relationship with the Texas Tech Matadors. Coach Pete Gawthon's eleven will trot out against the invading Miners tomorrow night unless weather conditions make it impossible to play the game at that time. In that event Tech's second inter-sectional contest will be played in the afternoon.

Play Third Season

Nine members of the Miner squad are playing their third season with the team while nineteen others on the squad are doing second year duty. Boasting the best pair of tackles in the Rocky Mountain conference, a husky plunging fullback, and a halfback that holds an all-star reputation, the Miners will not enter tomorrow's game with any idea of losing in their minds.

Big Dee Michaelson, six-foot and weighing 197 pounds, and either R. T. Preston, 186 pounds, or Bill Trumbull, 206 pounds, handle the tackle assignments for the invaders. Buck Schnars, you'll see a big number 3 on his back, tips the scale at 183 pounds and is the full-back star for the Miners. Eddie Bond, not exactly a lightweight, steps with plenty of style at right half-back.

Will Prove Match

Although the Miners do not appear as winners on paper they should prove more than a match for

let's all go to Turkey

Eastward ho! Four thousand miles nearer the rising sun—let's go! To the land of mosques and minarets—so different from our skyscrapers, stacks and steeples.

Let's see this strange, strange country. Let's see the land where the tobacco* grows in small leaves on slender stalks—to be tenderly picked, leaf by leaf, hung in long fragrant strings, shelter-dried and blanket-cured. Precious stuff!

Let's taste that delicate aromatic flavor—that subtle difference that makes a cigarette!

XANTHI . . CAVALLA . . SMYRNA . . SAMSOUN . . famous tobaccos!

*Turkish tobacco is to cigarettes what seasoning is to food—the "spice," the "sauce"—or what rich, sweet cream is to coffee!

You can taste the Turkish in Chesterfield—there's enough of it, that's why. Chesterfield has not been stingy with this important addition to good taste and aroma; four famous kinds of Turkish leaf—Xanthi, Cavalla, Samsoun and Smyrna—go into the smooth, "spicy" Chesterfield blend. This is just one more reason for Chesterfield's better taste. Tobaccos from far and near, the best of their several kinds—and the right kinds. And pure, tasteless cigarette paper, the purest made. The many requisites of a milder, better smoke, complete!

That's why they're GOOD—they've got to be and they are.
