Judges for Livestock, Crops Take Firsts at Chicago Show

Tech's crop and livestock judging teams won national championships last week in intercollegiate contests in Chicago. The contests were held at the International Livestock Show.

The livestock judging team won first in a field of 37 entries Sunday, placing in the top bracket of five in all divisions. Billy Jones, Mercury senior, tied Harley Rice of the Ohio State team for top individual honors among the 185 contestants.

Crop Judges Set Record

The crop judging team successfully defended its 1952 inter-national championship last week and chalked up the best team record Tech has ever achieved. Rolie Taylor, Midland senior, was high individual scorer with 1,772 points out of a possible 1,800. His score was 12 points under the all-time individual record, set in 1952 by Bryan Close of Shamrock, a member of Tech's first national and international championship team.

As a team, the 1953 crop judges from Tech set a new high of 5,278 points out of a possible 5,400, bettering the national record of 5,246 set by Tech's 1952 team.

In livestock judging, Tech's team piled up a score of 4,594 points out of a possible 5,000. Ohio State placed second, Colorado A&M third, Mississippi State fourth, and Texas A&M fifth.

Members Places Fifth

Carl Menzies, Menard senior, was also high in individual honors, placing fifth in overall competition.

Members of the livestock judging team are: Jones; Carl Williams, Hermleigh senior; Fred Willis, Odessa senior; Menzies; Lewis Blau, Booker senior; and Dale Hoover, Perryton senior. Stanley Anderson, assistant professor of animal husbandry, is coach for the team.

The crop judging team is composed of Taylor; Max Von Roeder, Snyder senior; and Duane Mounts, Perryton senior. Alternate was Clarence Mertins, Iowa Park senior.

SPECIAL TRAIN IS OUT

J. C. Chambers, Student Council head, announces that, because of the distance and expense involved, the Council will not sponsor a train trip to Florida for the Gator Bowl game between Tech and Auburn on New Year's Day.

Williams Will Speak Tonight

Pi Epsilon Tau, honorary petroleum fraternity, will have T. C. Williams, representative of the Honolulu Oil Company, as its guest speaker at 7:30 tonight in the Student Union Building.

VACATION EXTENDED

Tech students will be given another day of Christmas vacation, Dr. G. E. Giesecke, vice president announced today. Classes will resume Tuesday, for Classes will resume Tuesday, Jan. 5, instead of Jan. 4. A special session of the deans' council voted to extend the holidays after Tech accepted a bid to play in the Gator Bowl against Auburn. This will allow students attending the game an extra 24 hours to return from Jacksonville, Fla.

Students will be dismissed from classes Saturday, Dec. 19, and return Tuesday, Jan. 5.

Most Handsome Man To Be Selected Saturday at Theta Sig's Club Scarlet

Tech's Most Handsome Man will be elected Saturday night at Club Scarlet in the Rec Hall. The annual mock night club, which is sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi, honorary fraternity for women journalists, will also feature a floor show and dancing. Hours are 8 to 11 p.m.

Tickets are on sale in the Student Union. The price is $1.50 for a date ticket and $1 stag.

The seven finalists to compete for the title of handsomest man were chosen last week by the council of the Association of Women Students from a field of 20 nominees submitted by various campus clubs.

They are Buddy Hill, sponsored by the Freshman Class; Don Lewis, Alpha Tau Omega; G. Decker McKim, Delta Delta Delta; Tommy Morris, Book Reviewers Club; Vic Spooner, Kappa Alpha Theta; Paul Stuart, Pi Beta Phi; and Ben Lee Wilson, Phi Delta Theta. All are seniors except Hill, who is a freshman, and Morris, a sophomore.

The floor show for the night club will be furnished by 10 campus groups: Alpha Chi Omega, Kappa Alpha Theta, Alpha Tau Omega, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Pi Beta Phi, Alpha Phi Omega, Zeta Tau Alpha, Sigma Nu, the Music Department, and the Freshman Class.

Other nominees in the handsomest man contest and their sponsors were: Farrell Bryant, Future Teachers of America; Reuel Casey, Alpha Phi Omega; Robert Dinjar, Sigma Nu and Delta Gamma; Ernest Grote, Tech Military Association; Robert Lee Harrington, Kappa Kappa Gamma and Pi Kappa Alpha; Jerry Johnson, Alpha Chi Omega and Zeta Tau Alpha; Alton Linne, Doak Hall; Ernest Lokoy, Gordon Hall; Mack Mohon, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Spencer Norwood, Sneed Hall; James Odum, Town Girls' Club; Joe Thorp, Block and Bridle; and James Wilder, Delta Sigma Pi.

Council Approves Junior Stunt Night

A Junior Class stunt night, Wednesday, Jan. 13, was approved by the Student Council in its Nov. 23 meeting. Further Council action included:

Approval of a request by the Varsity Show Committee to pay the show's director $50 for personal expenses.

Approval of a request by Phi Upsilon Omicron, honorary home economics club, to sell tickets in the H. E. Building and on campus for a show "Roman Holiday," to be held at the State Theatre Dec. 4-10.

Gwen Williams, chairman of the World University talent show reported that about 20 acts have been entered.

Bill Burton, Student Council member, urged interested students to attend Council meetings.

21 Organizations Enter Talent Show Set for Wednesday

Twenty-one organizations have entered acts in a Talent Show which will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Student Union ballroom. Admission charge 50 cents and proceeds will go to the World University Fund.

The Association of Women Students will sponsor the Harmon-Dears, a girls' barber shop quartet. The American Institute of Architects will sponsor The Three Feathers in a vocal act, and Sigma Nu will enter a brief skit.

Other organizations sponsoring acts are: Kappa Sigma, College 4-H Club, Delta Gamma, Alpha Phi Omega, Phi Upsilon Omicron, Zeta Tau Alpha, Delta Delta Delta, Home Economics Club, Phi Gamma Nu, Freshman Class, Kemas, Kappa Alpha Theta, Texas Tech Choir, Der Liederkrauz and Le Cercle Francais, Cosmopolitan Club, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Pi Beta Phi, Phi Delta Theta and the Faculty Club.

Purpose of the World University Fund is to help students in universities and colleges all over the world to meet expenses. The World University, which directs distribution of the fund, works without prejudice to race or nationality, religious or political conviction, social or economic background. It encourages and supports efforts on the part of students, professors, and others to meet basic needs of universities throughout the world.

Self-Evaluation Committee Advises Electives Should Receive Emphasis

Cross-departmental and cross-divisional electives for students should be given special emphasis, the Self-Evaluation Committee recommended in a final report distributed on the campus last week.

The committee, made up of faculty members, has been conducting research during the past two years and has made several specialized reports.

Flexibility of all curricula should be increased to permit students to take electives in their programs, advised the committee. The report is based on the study of proposed solutions of other institutions, of other college catalogs and of group and individual faculty conferences.

Other suggestions include the need for institutional cooperation. The committee feels that too much emphasis is placed upon particular courses and specialties which are being developed competitively instead of cooperatively by departments and divisions.

Research should be encouraged, recommended the committee, and teaching loads should be adjusted to provide sufficient time for the instructors to take a responsible part in research.

"Fads and frills" should be eliminated and basic fundamentals emphasized in the teaching methods, the committee suggests.

The committee recommended that the academic vice president be made the official channel of communication with the Texas Education Agency.

The third program of the Mu Phi lecture series will feature Miss Imogene Webster, organist of the Lubbock First Baptist Church, at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the church.

Miss Webster will demonstrate the versatility of a 60-rank Aeolian Skinner Organ. The organ, recently installed in the church, is the only one of its type in the Lubbock area.

Miss Webster will also discuss types of organ repertoire suitable to the worship service, including preludes, offertories and postludes.

In the 45-minute lecture, an attempt will be made to show some differences between a pipe organ and the other types in use today.

5,000 Pieces of Mail is Average Day For Mail Room—Unless It's Grade Day

About 5,000 pieces of mail a day are handled by Texas Tech's mail room.

Mail on the campus may go any one of three ways, but official campus mail must go through the Mail Room. Official mail is that which is sent out by departments of the college. Other mail is handled through the dormitories and the Ad Building Post Office.

In order to be included in the postal budget all official campus mail must be stamped in the Mail Room located on the first floor of the east wing in the Administration Building.

Account numbers are carried by all departments, by the Ex-Students Association, the Student Council and the Student Union Building. The postage used by all accounts amounted to $787.93 during the month of August. Mr. Winegar estimates that $15,000 would carry the college mail room through a 12-month period.

Out-going mail is posted three times a day and leaves the campus at 10:30 a.m., 2 p.m. and 4:45 p.m. All that the accountant is required to do is place the account composed of the executive officers of each dorm association, are:

1. To promote greater fellowship, unity and individual responsibility among the members of the Tech dormitories.
2. To sponsor functions and services which will benefit the residents of the dormitories and provide a means for them to participate in extra-curricular activities with more harmony.
3. To serve as a sounding board for problems which the individual residents may meet which concerns all of the dormitory residents.

An all-campus spring barbecue including a recognition service with awards presented to dorms for scholarship, leadership and athletic achievement, and an all-dorm mixer are tentative projects.

Other officers are: Jerry Bailes, vice president; Dorothy Gage, secretary; Alton Linne, treasurer; Bill Geisert, sponsor.

Bill Hudson and Pat McCullough are chairmen of the athletic committee; Claudia Ticer and Charles Barron, publicity; Don Andrews and Nancy White, scholarship; and Norma Chapman and Nina Spearman, social.

number in the upper left-hand corner above the official return address and leave it in the Mail Room.

Registration and final examinations create the heaviest mailings, due to bulletins and grades. Approximately 600 general catalogs were mailed during the month of August as compared to the 100 which have been mailed this month.

Ex-Students Association sent out 10,500 bulletins in September and carries one of the largest accounts.

A 48-hour mimeograph service also is operated by Mr. Winegar in the Mail Room for the same persons who carry mailing accounts.

Miss Yates Named To Music Council

Alice Ann Yates, Plainview junior music major, was elected Tuesday to complete the membership of the recently organized Music Student Executive Council.

The council was developed with the idea of coordinating the activities of the four professional fraternities in the music department. The committee on student organizations has extended the recognition of provisional standing. The council will be recognized in full standing after a year's successful operation.

Two members from each of the four fraternities and one non-affiliated member compose the council.

Dick McCollum and Jack Hon represent Kappa Kappa Psi, national honorary band fraternity for men, Kathy Phillips and Joyce Miller are from Mu Phi Epsilon, national honorary music fraternity for women. Representing Tau Beta Sigma, national honorary band fraternity for women, are Trois Muncy and Jimmie Bennett; Tim Magnus and Ned Harlan are from Phi Mu Alpha, national honorary music fraternity for men. Miss Yates is the non-affiliated member.

Officers of the council are: McCollum, chairman; Miss Phillips, secretary; and Miss Miller, reporter.

L. E. Davis To Show Films Of Air Force Development

L. E. Davis, veteran airman, will show films depicting the latest air force developments which have been released to the public to the Arnold Air Society at their meeting tonight at 7:45 in Room A of the Student Union Building.

Davis, who has been flying since 1919, has just returned from a visit to Washington where he and several other civilians were shown some of the latest developments of the air force.

Davis is credited with helping to develop the Link Trainer for the air force. The trainer, though it never leaves the ground, simulates actual flying conditions.

The films were taken by him on his recent tour.

thy Beavers, Moody Dickerson; Alice Ireland, Kenneth Whittington; Huda Hassen, Eernard Swinler; Olene Pittman, Jim McClatchy; Barbara Stice, Tommy Hord; Pat Hellums, Lee Gill.

Attending as chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hurnence and Mr. and Mrs. D. K. McCarty.

ISSUE TAG WARNING

The Traffic Committee today reminded all faculty, employees and students of the college that campus automobile license tags must be affixed securely to the lower left hand corner of the rear license plates. Failure to comply with this regulation will mean that the owner of the car will be given a ticket requesting him to report to Dean of Men Lewis N. Jones within 24 hours.

THE CAT'S MEOW

By PHYLLIS MARTIN

Toreador Society Editor

Well, well, well, here we are back for another adventuresome three weeks! and then, Christmas! Which brings to mind the Gator Bowl game. And I wonder just how many of you lucky Techsians will spend the holidays on the Florida beaches. Sounds nice, huh?

News copy for this weekend includes Barbara Saunders, Delta Delta Delta, and Dave Thomas, Alpha Tau Omega, who were married Friday night in the Church of the Heavenly Rest in Abilene. Dave is a senior at Tech and Barbs will be at home here in Lubbock at 3705 Ave. X.

Sue Duggan, Pi Beta Phi, pinned wings on Cadet Kenneth Burgess at the formal graduation ceremony Tuesday morning at Reese Air Force Base. Kenneth graduated from Tech in 1952.

Nelda Vaughter and Jay Fish became pinned recently; Nelda, a transfer from McMurry College, is pledge president of Pi Beta Phi sorority, and Jay is vice president of Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rooker have recently returned to Lubbock to

TO DISCUSS FIRE RISKS

H. F. Browne, chief of the Accident Prevention Branch of Region 6 for the Bureau of Mines, will be featured speaker at a series of lectures on fire and explosion prevention to be held 11 a.m. to 12 noon Monday through Wednesday in Aggie Auditorium.

The lectures are sponsored by Tech's department of industrial engineering and are open to Tech students and the general public.

live. The couple has been stationed at Keesler Air Force Base in Mississippi for the past eighteen months. Bob received his discharge last month. Mrs. Rooker is the former Claynelle Pack. They will both continue their studies at Tech.

Mary Lu Diggins has announced her engagement to Henry W. Taylor III. The wedding will be solemnized on Dec. 17 at 4 o'clock in the afternoon in Ford Memorial Chapel. Both are attending Texas Tech.

In a Thanksgiving Day ceremony held at the First Presbyterian Church, Miss Sharlene Wall became the bride of AC3 Thomas C. Steelman Jr. The couple is at home at 2810 21st St. Sharlene is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta.

At the annual L'il Abner dance sponsored by the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity Jerry Raun of Harlingen won the sweepstakes jug as Marryin' Sam. Frances Traweck of Matador was the best Daisy Mae, and Dewitt Ward of Midland was the best L'il Abner. And a good time was had by all!

Members of Tri-Delta will be entertained Sunday night with a mixer sponsored by the SAE fraternity. The party will begin at 7 p.m. at the K. N. Clapp Party House.

That's about it for this time—Signing off, Miss Martin? Indubitably, Mr. Reader!

Bette Hickerson Elected Delta Gamma President

Tri Delta Alliance Pine Pilgrimage Slated Saturday

Delta Delta Delta Alliance of Lubbock will sponsor its first annual Pine Pilgrimage from 2 to 6 p.m. Saturday at the homes of Mrs. Roy Lovelless, 4909 19th St. and Mrs. H. T. Luther, 4905 22nd St.

Gifts for the bazaar have been made by members of the alliance, the mothers of the collegiate chapter members and members of the patroness group. Such items as crocheted stoles, crocheted bags, aprons, place mats featuring a Christmas motif, and handmade earrings will be on sale.

Proceeds from the sale will go toward Tri Delta's service project scholarships. Delta Delta Delta contributes to local charities and the collegiate chapter sponsors a war orphan in Greece, but the major emphasis in service projects of the fraternity is on scholarship.

The local alliance is establishing a scholarship fund from which awards will be made annually. The fund will be open to all women students on the campus, irrespective of fraternity affiliation. The major portion of the funds raised by the pilgrimage will go to this fund.

PMA NAMES PLEDGES

Nine fall pledges of Phi Mu Alpha, national music fraternity for men, have been selected. Tim Magnus, president, announced Monday.

In the group are: Guy Knowles, Wyatt Burkhalter, David Wiggins, Virgil Martin, Philip Brown, Buren Malone, Bert Tandy, Jerry Stephens and Dolan Brinson.

DELTA SIG

Waggoner Carr, state representative from the Lubbock district, spoke to a meeting of Delta Sigma Pi, business administration fraternity, Tuesday night. His topic was two new laws, concerning hot checks and small claims courts, of which he is the author.

DEAN SPEAKS TO PHI U

Methods of research were explained Tuesday night at an open meeting of Phi Upsilon Omicron by Willa Vaughn Hinsley, dean of home economics. Miss Dorothy McDaniel, district school lunch supervisor, also spoke to Phi U., honorary fraternity for home economics, at the meeting.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Bibler

Try to forget for a moment I'm your professor and let's talk your problem over man to man.

Announcing a Change . . .

With this issue, The Toreador begins publishing on Thursday instead of Wednesday. The change is prompted by the number of elections and other events taking place on Wednesday, too late for the paper as it was being issued. We will now be better able to give you the news while it is still news. Deadlines for stories is 5 p.m. Tuesday. Stories may be turned in on Wednesday by arrangement with the editor.

Now's Your Chance . . .

You've had twelve cuts in English and the Prof still smiles at you when you make an occasional appearance. You've missed Eco only twice and the instructor is already talking to the dean about you. Can't understand the new absence regulations? As a service to Techsans, The Toreador will try to find the answers for you. Tell us what particular part of the regulations puzzles you or describe your own special situation regarding cuts. We'll interview deans and the like for translations and explanations. The articles will appear on this page of the paper.

New Records Set In Tech-HSU Tilt

Several records were broken in Texas Tech's 46-12 victory over Hardin-Simmons Saturday. Three fumbles recovered by the Raiders gave them a season total of 32, two better than the NCAA mark of 30 set by Colorado in 1949. Hallback Bobby Cavazos scored one touchdown to boost his season total to 80 points. This makes him the highest scoring Raider for one season in Tech history. The old high mark of 79 was set by Harold (Rosy) Crites in 1932. The 46 points scored by Tech gave them 428 points for the year, making them the highest scoring team in Tech history. The Raiders and Cowboys scored 58 points in the game for the highest total in the 20 game history. A victory of 21 points established in 1929 by the Cowboys was wiped out when Tech won by 34.

Book Copyrighted

The manuscript for textile book, "Fabric Design" has been copyrighted, it was announced today by its author, Prof. L. O. Bunton, of the textile engineering department. The book is a study in elementary textile design planned for the beginner. It is a new approach to an old subject based on tested teaching techniques, said Prof. Bunton.

Library Showcase Has Book Exhibit

The Tech Bookstore is exhibiting several of its best-known books in the Library showcase this week. The display includes cookbooks, bibliographies, descriptive "how-to" books and best-sellers. Among the best-sellers is "Quo Vadis," which was recently filmed, and J. Evetts Haley's "XIT Ranch of Texas." Mr. Haley is head of the Institute of Americanism at Tech. "A Treasury of Stephen Foster" and "Minute Bibliographies," which contains 150 character sketches of noted people including Lincoln and Eisenhower, are among the descriptive bibliographies on display. Amy Vanderbilt's "Book of Etiquette" and Hedda Hopper's "From Under the Hat" might interest the domestic-minded students, as will the "Joy of Cooking" cookbook. Among the novel books are "The Complete Guide to Cartooning" and "How to Become a Better Reader." All these books are on sale at the Bookstore.

TO PRESENT ORATORIO

Tech Festival Chorus will present Bach's Christmas Oratorio at 3 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 13, in the First Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Taylor, Tech organ instructor, will be the accompanist. The concert will be open to the public free of charge.

RALPH SHELTON

Toreador Editor

The case of a student being escorted away from Texas A&M campus recently by some of his fellow Aggies has caused several students to come by the Toreador office to read the letter in A&M's newspaper which caused the incident.

Most readers are undoubtedly familiar with the details of the case. In brief, John Clark, a junior non-military student from Odessa, wrote a letter to the editors of The Battalion. In the letter Clark assailed some traditional A&M attitudes and traditions. On the night of Thursday, Nov. 24, a group of students loaded Clark and his belongings into his car and sent him away from the campus to the tune of "The Aggie War Hymn" and "Boomer Sooner." Much publicity followed.

Administrators of A&M understandably upset by the bad press notices that the college was receiving, unanimously deplored the mob action; but only one spokesman, the assistant dean of men, saw fit to deplore the fact that A&M is apparently unwilling to tolerate any criticism.

The Battalion's editorial on the matter advocated that "those who were behind the expulsion of Clark should be punished for bringing discredit to A&M by acting as they did."

The administration apparently did not agree entirely, since it announced on Nov. 24 that the college had made a thorough investigation of the incident and "no further action is contemplated by the college."

Letters concerning the affair filled the columns of The Battalion for several issues. Among them was one from Clark's mother, who said in part: ". . . You see, I am responsible. I made the mistake of teaching my son to be an individualist, that his rightful heritage was Freedom of Speech and Freedom of the Press. . . As you bow your heads to give thanks (if you do) this Thanksgiving Day, may your hearts swell with pride with your accomplishments. . . With best wishes for your continued success in keeping the College Administration under control."

Here, in full, is the letter written by Clark and published in the Battalion both on Nov. 18 and Nov. 20:

Editors, The Battalion: Dear Darling Aggies, I read in Thursday's Batt that some among you is again raising the ageless phrase "Old Army" has gone to Hell!" The reasoning that those gentlemen used in their little note of wisdom has indeed got entirely out of style now except at A&M and other dark ages institutions.

Why should a man be made to go through hardships simply for the stupid reason that someone else had to go through them?

It is a good thing that this line of "thought" does not prevail in civilized parts of the world or all progress would stop. I am afraid you children are under the impression that a man is not a man unless he can't take physical punishment. I am truly sorry for you. You are wondering why that your enrollment has steadily dropped, well why do not you look around you and take stock of some of your so called great traditions here and you will see.

You are always making fun of the cookpishers, well I guess people of your mentality would always try to belittle something that is better.

I recently returned from a trip to the University of Oklahoma where I was indeed honored to see a truly great team and great band in action. Up there the student body yells because they want to and not because of force.

At half time of the game a sign was brought round the track by some University of Kansas students. It said "I would sooner be damned than be a damned Sooner."

The Sooners took it all in the mood of good sports. Do you really think that the aggies would have?

Another thing I noticed which would seem strange to an aggie was the fact that their campus was beautiful and well kept, not one single building or street was marred by the smearing of paint so often seen around here.

I will be in law school at O.U. in the Fall of 55. If some of you big tough board swinging "MEN" want to drop in for a spell, feel free to do so.

Maybe we can make partial gentlemen out of you. On second thought I guess you had better not, the Sooners are going to be pretty good about that time, so maybe you had better stay here and make men out of the freshmen.

For those of you who will answer this letter by asking why I have not gone to O.U. in the first place, I can only say that if you will pay my extra costs of going there, boys I'll gladly go.

John Clark

We have published these details for the benefit of those Techsians who have expressed curiosity about the events at College Station. Our opinion? Clark wrote an unwise, childish letter and the Aggies reacted exactly as Aggies are expected to react.

TO WORK ON DOCTORATE

John Gregory, director of adult education at Odessa Junior College, will begin work on a doctorate in education at Tech in January. He has been awarded a study grant by the National Committee of Study Grants for the Ford Foundation Fund for Education. He will work with Dr. Per G. Stensland, head of Tech's adult education department, in field studies in selected communities.

BACKTALK

Dear Editor,

I am attaching to this letter some clippings taken from this morning's "Columbus Enquirer" relating to Texas Tech. Some of these are complimentary; some are not. However, the point I wish to make is that it is a pleasure when one is this far from his Alma Mater to pick up the morning news and find articles concerning Texas Tech.

Everyone in this section of the country is now conscious that "Tech" could possibly mean Texas Tech and not Georgia Tech. My wife and I are proud of our school and proud of the many honors bestowed upon it this year.

Saturday past as we sat watching the Georgia-Georgia Tech contest in Atlanta, we felt a great pride as each time the Texas Tech score was announced that it continued to climb higher than that of the Sugar Bowl-bound Georgia Tech team. We are proud of you and mighty happy that we are able to say, "Texas Tech is our school."

Sincerely, Eugene R. Shaw Columbus, Ga. Texas Tech '50

(Editor's Note: The above letter was one of many that The Toreador recently received from eyes in various parts of the country. It is a compliment to the graduates of Tech that not one of the letter-writers too take a "We was robbed" attitude about the failure to win a bid to a major bowl. All of them were concerned with the recognition that Tech had received.)

Ancient Art Comes To Life As Arrows Fly on Campus

Have you ever seen the Robin Hoods of Tech? You can find them practicing their bows and arrows at 10 a.m. every Tuesday and Thursday. The scene isn't Nottingham Forest, but west of the Gym on the campus. The leader is Miss Sue Rainey, and more than one Robin Hood and several Maid Marian's comprise her band. The modern Maid Marian wields her bow and arrow as well, or almost as well, as her fellow bowman. The purpose of all these arrows in the air is not "to rob the rich and feed the poor" but to get credit in physical education.

Glenn Rainer, Lubbock junior, will speak on the customs of Holland at a meeting of the Sociology Club at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the Student Union Building. All students interested in sociology may attend.

Naval aviator Cadet Billy G. Wilkinson, Amarillo, has qualified as a carrier pilot after six successful landings on board the USS Monterey in the Gulf of Mexico. He attended Amarillo Junior College and Texas Tech.

Earrings, Clothing, Keys in Abundance May Be Claimed at Union Lost-and-Found

By CLYDE WALTER
Toreador Staff Writer

Before tearing your hair, gnashing your teeth, filling the air with sorrowful lamentations about lost articles, why not inquire about them at the concession booth in the Union Building?

The Union lost-and-found has enough clothing to start an old-clothing store, and many of the items aren't so old. Included in the assortment are many coats, gloves, scarves, belts, and even a pair of sequin-decorated earmuffs. Jackets, sweaters and hats complete the line of wearing apparel in the Union supply.

Enough single earrings are in the collection of lost articles to decorate all the one-eared women in Texas. The clasps, cuff links, costume jewelry, and a soap dish filled with hairpins fill one cigar box.

One check-book contains a balance of $77.69 and there are enough glasses in the room to start a good-sized optical company.

The lost - and - found has an abundance of men's and women's billfolds and car keys, items which most students can ill afford to lose and which the Union makes every effort to return when identification is on them.

Textbooks of all descriptions, novels and notebooks of every size and shape complete the list of lost items. Scott added that the articles will be kept until after the spring semester at which time they will be disposed of either to charitable organizations or sold, and the money added to the Union operating fund. He urged students who have lost any article to check the Union lost-and-found, especially if it is an article without identification.

Lubbock Radar Set Will Benefit Area

A radar system, which may be used in Lubbock in the prediction of storms and tornadoes, is a conventional radar set with modifications explains H. A. Spuhler, associate professor of electrical engineering at Tech.

This proposed system, which will be placed in approximately seven major cities in Texas, will record on a screen any cloud involving precipitation within a 150-mile radius. The equipment is able only to locate the cloud and as yet is not able to classify it according to types of weather it will produce, except for determination of altitude, velocity and relative density.

"This is something that is distinctly different from the one Dr. H. L. Jones has been working on at Oklahoma A&M in that it is

JR. COUNCIL INITIATES

Initiation of three women students into Junior Council, honorary service organization for junior women, is scheduled for 7 p.m. Monday in the Student Union Building meeting room.

Identities of the new members, selected last month, will be revealed after the candlelight initiation service. The new members will fill vacancies in the organization, which has a set membership of 20.

Refreshments will be served.

Talent Show Host Asks for Entrants

College Capers, intercollegiate talent show, will be held at Sam Houston College, Huntsville, Texas. This is the second annual show for amateur talent.

The show is open to talent from the following fields: vocalists, dancers, comedians and instrumentalists.

Room and board of entrants will be taken care of by the Eclectic Social Society during the time students are on the Sam Houston campus.

Prizes are: $50 first prize, $35 second prize and $25 third prize.

Interested students may inquire at the Student Council office before December 20, for more details of the talent show.

Aggie-of-the-Month for Nov. Will Be Presented

The November Aggie-of-the-Month will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Aggie Auditorium. Bill Sewall of the Citizens National Bank will speak briefly on agriculture as the banker sees it to Aggie Club members.

Folk dancing and songs featured this year's annual Aggie-Home Economics Party held last week in the Rec Hall. The party was planned jointly by Glenn Lust of the Aggie Club, Ann Edwards and Beverly Garner Home Economics Club members.

INFORMAL, SAYS HARRISON

La Ventana Theme To Be A Secret; Various Motifs Used in Previous 28

La Ventana for 1954 will be informal in its photographs and text, Editor Ted Harrison revealed today. Exact theme of the yearbook will not be announced until it appears next spring.

Whatever the theme, it will follow a long line of colorful motifs which began more than a quarter of a century ago.

Of the 28 annuals published since the college opened in 1925, the most favored theme seems to center around progress, building and expansion. Closely following is the "As Seen by the Camera" idea.

In the first yearbook, the 1926 edition, a Spanish theme was carried out. The division sheets were labeled with Spanish terms such as "Las Lindas" and "La Plaza."

The 1927 publication had a western theme. It presented the life of a cowboy involved in a rodeo of college activities.

Great scholars—past and present were emphasized in 1928. Professions which graduates of Texas Tech could enter was the central idea for the 1929 La Ventana. Color illustrations were featured.

Rays of light through the window of one year of college life illuminated the yearbook in 1930. In 1931 there was a "Great Round-Up" staged in the yearbook, published on that famous ranch known as Tech.

Coronado's search for hidden treasure was the theme for the 1932 edition. In 1933, the annual framework was built around fossils that inhabited the earth several million years ago. "Texas Under Six Flags" was the label applied to the 1934 rendition.

Informal caricatures of college life tied the 1935 La Ventana together. The 1936 edition pictured campus life and activities through the camera lens. The theme was similar in 1937 and was titled the "Candid Camera." Unposed photos on figurative film were presented. A definite theme was not carried out in 1938 because the editor felt that no one thing characterized the college. In 1939 the annual was geared around modernism and originality of design.

The progress made in the 15 years of the college was recorded in the 1940 La Ventana. In 1941, campus life was presented "Around the Clock."

The 1942 book was called the "Highlight Edition." The front of the annual marks the really big event of 1942—the declaration of war. The rest is dedicated to giving a panorama of highlights in campus events. "Texas Tech

Textbook Bares Mother's Talent

You'd be surprised to discover that your mother had written part of the textbook you were studying in English, wouldn't you?

You'd probably be a little proud too!

Mitch Chinn, 18-year-old pre-law major, was and is.

Chinn, a freshman from Boger, like most freshmen, is taking English 131.

After buying the textbook, he began to browse through it to see what was in store for him.

Beginning on Page 117, is a story entitled "Spelling Bee," written by Laurene Chambers Chinn, Mitch's mother.

Although Chinn knew that his mother had written the story, he said it had never occurred to him that he might read it in a college English textbook.

Was he proud?
He just grinned.

Austin Wheatley To Speak

Austin Wheatley, British Consul General from Houston, will speak at a luncheon meeting of the International Relations Club tomorrow. Admission for the luncheon is 80 cents. Tickets may be obtained in Ad319 or from members of the IRC. The public is invited says Irjs Ann Brunson, president.

Goes to War" is the idea around which the 1943 edition was constructed.

The 1944 La Ventana had as its theme "The Victory Bells Will Ring Out"—this referred to World War II.

"The Greater Institution Which Is to Be" was the central idea for 1945. Music was the theme for the next annual. It was the "Hit Parade of 1946."

In 1947 the "World" of Texas Tech was presented. The book was constructed around "The Educational Heart of Texas" in 1948.

"Through the Archway to College Life" was the central theme of the 1949 edition. This was followed by the Silver Anniversary issue in 1950.

In 1951 La Ventana was constructed from the idea of the blueprints for new buildings. The handshake of a friend was pictured to keynote the 1952 publication. Last year's La Ventana told the story of Don and Sandra, who came to Tech once upon a time. All they saw on the campus is recorded in the 1953 yearbook.

International Show Gets 101 Entries

One hundred and one students will participate in the 6th annual Little International Show of farm animals, sponsored by Block and Bridle Dec. 12.

Five classes will be judged on showmanship and feeding, rather than on the merits of the animals.

Raymond King will judge and members of the national championship livestock judging team will be superintendents for the show.

The purpose of the show is to create interest in showmanship and feeding in the club.

A "Days of '49" party will be held in the Ag Engineering Shed that evening for show participants and club members.

PRINT COLLECTION HERE

"Faces and Figures of Four Centuries," a show of forty prints from the collection of John Meigs, San Patricio, N.M., will open in the Museum Art Gallery from 2 to 6 p.m. Sunday and will continue through Dec. 19.

The collection consists of line engravings and wood cuts dating from 16th century Germany, and includes prints from French, English, and Italian schools from the 16th through the 19th century.

Raiders To Meet Auburn in Gator Bowl

5,000 Tickets Are On Sale For New Years Day Game

Tech's Red Raiders will meet the Plainsmen of Alabama Polytechnic Institute (Auburn) in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., New Year's Day.

Head Coach DeWitt Weaver accepted the bid for the Raiders early Monday morning in Jacksonville a few minutes after Auburn had accepted the host team spot by phone. The Tech party returned to Lubbock at noon yesterday. They brought with them 5,000 tickets which Coach Weaver termed as "choice seats." The tickets are on sale at the athletic office.

Representing Tech at the meeting in Jacksonville were Coach Weaver, Jimmy Wilson, Tech business manager of athletics; Bill Holmes, sports publicity director; and Joe Kelly, Avalancher-Journal sports editor.

The Tech party left Lubbock Saturday night by air and arrived in Atlanta, Ga., Sunday morning. They later went on to Jacksonville where the decision was made.

Weaver, Wilson Sign

Signing for Tech were Coach Weaver and Wilson. This will make the seventh appearance for Tech in a post-season game. It will be the second time the Raiders have appeared in a major bowl. They were defeated 20-13 by St. Mary's of California in the 1939 Cotton Bowl game. Other bowls in which the Raiders have appeared are the Sun and Raisin Bowls.

Tech's only bowl victory came in its last post-season appearance when it defeated College of Pacific in the 1952 Sun Bowl.

Auburn's last bowl appearance was in 1938 when the Plainsmen defeated Michigan State in the Orange Bowl.

Both Auburn and Tech finished their regular season play Saturday. The Raiders coasted by the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys 46-12 to win the Border Conference championship while the Plainsmen of the Southeastern Conference were being defeated by Alabama 10-7 on the strength of a 28-yard field goal in the fourth quarter.

Both Had Good Season

Tech and Auburn will carry impressive records into the Gator Bowl. The Raiders have won 10 and lost 1. Their only setback was a 27-14 loss to Texas A&M. The Plainsmen have won 7 and lost 2 and tied 1.

Both teams that have defeated

Auburn will be in post-season engagements. Georgia Tech, who whipped the Plainsmen 36-6, will play in the Sugar Bowl and Alabama, who handed them their other defeat, will play in the Cotton Bowl. Auburn also has a 21-21 tie with Mississippi State on its record.

The Gator Bowl, which was started in 1946, is the fifth-ranking bowl in the nation. It is already assuming the tradition of selecting top teams for the New Year's Day Classic. The seating capacity of the stadium is 36,000. The population of Jacksonville according to the 1950 census was 204,517.

Auburn Larger Than Tech

Alabama Polytechnic Institute is a coeducational college with a slightly higher enrollment than Tech. During the 1951-52 session it had an enrollment of 7,398 students as compared to 5,634 for Tech during the same period. It is located in Auburn, a town of approximately 13,000 persons.

The school was founded in 1872 as Alabama A&M but the name was changed to the present one in 1899.

In signing for Tech, Coach Weaver said that he was happy to be able to bring the team to his home town for this game. Weaver attended high school in Jacksonville.

Ralph Jordan, Auburn coach, said that he was tickled to be able to play Tech. He declared that the Gator Bowl will have the best game in the country.

Before returning to Lubbock the Tech party made all arrangements for housing the Raiders in Jacksonville and other details of the New Year's stay there.

TOURNAMENT OPENS

Twenty-five teams will compete in Tech's intramural basketball tournament, which opens today according to George R. Philbrick, director of intramural sports.

Three leagues will operate with five teams in the Dormitory League, eight in the Fraternity League, and 12 in the Independent League.

The Independent League will be divided into two six-team circuits. A playoff between the winners will determine the Independent champion.

PIKA, Kappa Sig To Battle Sunday

Pi Kappa Alpha and Kappa Sigma will meet at 2 p.m. Sunday to decide the Fraternity League Championship in intramural touch football.

Both Kappa Sig and PiKA wound up the season with identical records, six wins and one loss. The winner of this game will draw with the winners of the Dormitory and Independent Leagues to see who will receive a bye in the playoffs for the final champion.

Independent and Dormitory League champions have already been determined. Doak Hall won the Dormitory League crown and the Chowhounds took the Independent League championship.

Raiders Wallop McMurry 95-54

Tech defeated the McMurry Indians 95-54 Tuesday night in the Tech Gym in the basketball season opener for the Raiders.

The Raiders take on the University of Tennessee today in the first game of a three game tour of Tennessee. The University of the South will furnish the opposition tomorrow and Vanderbilt will be host to the Raiders Saturday.

Sophomore Jim Reed took up where he left off last year and gave warning to other Border Conference high-scorers as he tallied 28 points to lead the scorers. He made 13 field goals and two free throws.

Behind Reed in the Tech scoring was Carl Ince with 18, Gene Carpenter with 15, Eston Blackmon with 11 and Durward Bolding with 10.

High scorers for the losing Indians were Don Taylor with 11 points and Bob Harris with nine.

The next home game for the Raiders will be against College of the Pacific Dec. 21.

Varsity Netters To Play Saturday

Boasting a 2-won, 0-lost record, Tech's tennis team is slated to compete in a four-way contest with Hardin-Simmons, ACC and West Texas State in Abilene Saturday.

The Raiders, led by team captain, David Clark, downed West Texas State Nov. 16 at Canyon to grab their second win. The Tech crew previously had beaten the Buffs in a match at Tech.

In chalking up the second victory, Tech took six of seven matches from the Buffs. Clark won the No. 1 match from Terry Smith, 6-1, 6-2. He teamed up with Van Hall to defeat Smith and Dan Baldwin in the No. 1 doubles, 6-2, 6-2.

The American Society of Mechanical Engineers will show a film on stainless steel at their meeting at 7:30 Monday night.

HUGHES Cooperative Fellowship Program for

MASTER OF SCIENCE DEGREES

The Hughes Cooperative Fellowship Program has been established to enable outstanding graduates to pursue work for the Master of Science degree while employed in industry and making significant contributions to important military projects.

Eligible for consideration are students who will receive the B.S. degree during the coming year and members of the Armed Services being honorably separated and holding B.S. degrees. In either case the field of the B.S. degree must be: ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING, PHYSICS, OR MECHANICAL ENGINEERING. The awards will be made to applicants who have evidenced outstanding ability and some degree of creativeness. They must also possess traits enabling them to work well with others.

Applicants must be United States citizens for whom appropriate security clearance can be obtained, as their work in the Hughes Laboratories may be related to National Defense projects.

Applicants must be able to meet the requirements for admission to graduate standing at the University of California at Los Angeles or the University of Southern California.

Participants will be employed at Hughes full time in the summer and 25 hours a week during the university year while pursuing half-time graduate work.

Recipients will earn five-eighths of a normal salary each year. This salary will be determined by the individual's qualifications and experience, and will reflect current salary practices in the electronics industry. Salary growth will be on the same basis as for full-time members of the scientific-engineering staff. Recipients will also be eligible for health, accident and life insurance benefits, as well as other privileges accruing to full-time staff members.

Tuition, admission fee, and required books at either the University of California at Los Angeles or the University of Southern California, covering the number of units required to earn an M. S. degree, will be provided.

For those residing outside the Southern California area, actual travel and moving expenses to this area will be allowed up to 10 percent of the full starting annual salary.

If a sufficient number of qualified candidates present themselves, as many as 100 Fellowships will be awarded each year.

Candidates will be selected by the Committee for Graduate Study of Hughes Research and Development Laboratories.

Application forms should be obtained immediately. Completed applications must be accompanied by detailed college transcripts.

Ann Perkins Selected as Maid of Cotton To Compete in Memphis National Finals

Ann Perkins, 19-year-old Pampana sophomore, won the 1953 South Plains Maid of Cotton title last week over 20 other area contestants.

She will represent the South Plains in the national Maid of Cotton finals in Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 5 and 6.

Alternates, also sophomores, were Nancy Chastain, 19, Breckenridge, and Sandra Shook, 19, 3217 20th St.

For Miss Perkins, it was a "perfect" advance birthday present. She celebrated her 20th birthday Thursday.

Although fourth and fifth places were not named, two other Lubbock contestants were selected in the top five during the elimination-type contest. They were Patti Price and Laura Lou Bailey. Miss Price is a sophomore, and Miss Bailey a junior.

In the first elimination, the judges selected the top 10. From this group they selected the best five, and then named the three winners.

Rounding out the first 10 were: Jenny Lou Ballard, Plainview; Carolyn Callaway, Ralls; Patricia Heinen, Littlefield; Joan Norris, Waco; Gloria Snell, Lubbock. All except Miss Heinen are Tech students.

Judges were: Callan McNeely, director of the John Robert Powers School of Modeling, Dallas; Mrs. Theodosia Howard, director of the Howard-Eades School of Modeling, Fort Worth, and Joe

15 Persons Plan To Make Sponsored European Tour

Fifteen persons, including eight students, plan to make the European tour sponsored by the history department next summer, according to Mrs. Luta P. Eaves. Two new field courses will permit students enrolled to travel in 10 European countries and earn six semester hours in history at the same time.

Dr. C. D. Eaves, professor of history, will teach the courses. Dr. Eaves stated that these courses will be equal to, if not superior to, other courses in history, because of the opportunity to see what is studied. Dr. Eaves will lecture on the week-long boat trip to Europe and pass out mimeographed textbooks to each student. While touring Europe, an expert guide will lecture on the historic points of study, he said. On the return boat trip Dr. Eaves will lecture on the sites toured and their connection with history.

The night pageant was a climax to a day-long program which opened with a morning parade through downtown Lubbock. Contestants rode on special cotton floats with six bands, including the Tech ROTC Band, providing music.

A special setting, carrying out the Cotton Week theme, was designed by Bassel Wolfe, Tech student, and built by the Tech Gargoyles Society.

Miss Perkins, an elementary education major, will be the fourth South Plains Maid to take part in the Memphis pageant. She was one of the top six Tech Beauties and an ROTC sweetheart last year. In 1952 she was Lions Club Sweetheart. She is a pledge of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. She has brown hair, brown eyes, is 5 feet 5 3/4 and weighs 118.

Block and Bridle Wins First Place

The annual report of Tech's Block and Bridle Club won first place Monday in a contest sponsored by the club's national organization at their Chicago meeting.

The report, bound in a hand-tooled leather cover with a "B" in blue and a Double T in red, was assembled by Myron McCarty, Perryton senior, who is historian of the club.

The Tech chapter also ranked fifth nationally in chapter activities.

Ray C. Mowery, head of the Tech animal husbandry department, was elected national president of Block and Bridle. He formerly held vice presidency of the organization.

Dale Hoover, Perryton senior, is president of the Tech club; Gene Harral, Fort Stockton senior, vice president; Mary Anne Parris, Lubbock senior, secretary; Mrs. Opal Dwyer, McLean senior, treasurer; Dwayne Harral, Fort Stockton senior, reporter; Carl Williams, Hermleigh senior, marshal; and McCarty, historian.

Students Select Cavazos, Currie For Top Honors

Bobby Cavazos, senior animal husbandry major from Kingsville, and Barbara Lu Currie, senior education major from Garden City, will occupy the space reserved for Mr. and Miss Texas Tech in the 1953-54 La Ventura.

Cavazos, a Raider halfback, is a member of the Double T Association, Aggie Club, Infantry Club, Newman Club, and is pledging Alpha Tau Omega.

Miss Currie is president of Delta Delta Delta, a member of Future Teachers of America and Sociology Club and is an executive member of the Board of Student Organizations.

Class favorites to be pictured in the annual were elected in class meetings Nov. 18.

Cathy Beard, elementary education major from Cdaude, and Wendell Stiles, agriculture major from Maypearl, were elected senior favorites.

Junior favorites are Gwen Williams, sociology major from Lubbock, and Jay Fish, pre-med from Snyder.

Pat Boles, commercial art major from Midland, and Don Dilley, animal husbandry major from Borger, are sophomores favorites.

Ronald D. Johnson, business administration student from Muleshoe, and Kathy Kerbow, arts and sciences student from Sweetwater, were chosen freshman favorites.

Library Receives Directories Placed on Main Entrance Walls

Two new directories have been placed on the walls at the two main entrances to the Library. Each gives the names and office numbers of 25 instructors and staff members who may be found in the Library Building, as well as the location of periodicals, circulation, reference and reserve materials.

Alpha Phi Omega, men's service organization, gave one directory and the Library purchased the other.

McCarty's Play At Music Recital For Tech Faculty

The McCarty husband-wife musical team played classical and semi-classical selections for a faculty recital in the Music Building on campus last night.

Keith McCarty is pianist, clarinetist, and instructor in the Tech music department. His wife, Mary Helen McCarty, is pianist and part-time instructor in music.

The program was: "The Sonata in D-Major" for piano, Opus 10, No. 3, by Beethoven; "Soiree-stucky," for clarinet and piano, by Schumann; "Premiere Rhapsodie," for clarinet and piano, by Debussy; "La Soiree dans Grenade," for piano, by Debussy; "L'isle Joyeuse," for piano, by Debussy; and "Sonata in F-Major," Opus 120, No. 1, for piano and clarinet, by Brahms.

Both McCarty's have degrees from the University of Illinois. McCarty earned the Bachelor of Music and Bachelor of Science degrees in 1950, and Master of Music from Indiana in 1950, and Master of Music from Illinois in 1952. Both graduated with honors and taught at the University last year.

MASK UNVEILED

Three masks of Arthur Schnitzler, author of two German plays presented by Tech students, were unveiled Nov. 24, at Der Liederkranz meeting.

Before the unveiling, Alvin Gregg, Plainview student, gave some background of Schnitzler's life.

The three senior architect students who sculptured the masks are: Peter Nicolett, Graham, Richard Armstrong, Abilene; Gordon MacDonald, Lubbock.

Tech's Rifle Team In National Match

Tech's ROTC rifle team will fire Thursday in the William Randolph Hearst ROTC rifle paper match competition on the college rifle range in M2.

The contest is a nation-wide affair, open to colleges with ROTC Prizes and trophies are awarded the top team nationally, the top Army area teams and individual with high scores.

Matches are fired under supervision of ROTC instructors. Team and individual scores are sent to the Defense Department which picks the winners and makes the awards.

In 1946 Tech's team took are honors, winning an engraved plaque.

Tech's ROTC team will fly Dec. 11 to Albuquerque where they will fire against a University of New Mexico ROTC team. Tech's rifle men will be seeking their second victory over West Texas State earlier this season.

Instructor, Groups Present Music Concert In Friona

Three music groups and a music instructor presented a concert at Friona Tuesday.

Participating in the concert were the Madrigal Singers, Harmoknights, HarmoDears and Robert Elson. In the first group are Marjorie Hendrick, Joyce Miller, Marjorie Seales, Alice Ann Yates, Bill McCormack, Clarence Whiteside, Tim Magness and John Taylor. Ned Hardin is the accompanist.

The Harmoknights are composed of Magness, Hardin, Whiteside and McCormack.

In the HarmoDears are Ja Doggett, Misses Seales, Hendrick and Miller.

The concert was sponsored by the Friona Women's Club.
