

Tax Revision Bill Is Sent To Senate

Measure Designed To Spur Business Recovery WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—The finance committee sent to the senate today the revised five billion dollar tax revision bill with a statement that the measure would clear the way for business improvement.

Profits Tax Eliminated Numerous changes made in the measure by the senate committee included elimination of the administration-sponsored undistributed profits tax, which the house had continued in a modified form.

Senate debate on the measure will begin at noon tomorrow.

In its report, the finance committee said "the major amendments proposed by the committee have been adopted with the view of going even further than the house bill in an effort to stimulate and encourage business."

Flat Rate The levy, widely criticized by business spokesmen, has been sponsored by administration fiscal experts and approved in modified form by the house.

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) asserted that a substitute flat rate of 18 per cent on corporation income, approved by the finance committee, would increase business certainty and encourage expansion.

Norris, however, declared he did not like the elimination of the profits tax "at all."

"I think a corporation should pay something for the privilege of incorporating," he said. "There is no reason why they should be permitted to accumulate huge surpluses without being taxed for it."

Insurgents Moving On Two Loyalist Strongholds

Communications Severed Between Barcelona And Valencia

HENDAYE, France (At The Spanish Frontier) April 5 (AP)—Spanish insurgent armies, driving to win the civil war this spring, cut Catalonia from the rest of Government Spain to accomplish their first great objective and swept on today toward Barcelona, their enemy's provisional capital.

A secondary advance was moving toward Valencia.

Communications between these two major coastal cities remaining to the government were severed yesterday when insurgents reached Tortosa, looking down upon the Mediterranean.

Machine-guns and field artillery raked the road from Tortosa, rendering useless the last highway link between Catalonia and the rest of Government Spain, which includes Madrid and Valencia.

Generalissimo Franco's troops were preparing to occupy Tortosa itself.

An insurgent communique announced their troops had pushed six miles to the north, and a report of captured Lerida on the central sector of the Catalan front. Government troops were said to be in full retreat presumably to take a desperate stand in fortifications stretching between Balaguer and Borjas Blancas, approximately in the center of Catalonia.

With insurgents moving north and east from Tortosa, and east from Lerida, their two columns could join for what might be decisive battle at these government defenses—about 80 miles west of Barcelona.

A third column, meanwhile, was moving south from the Tortosa sector, toward Castellon de La Plana, 37 miles north of Valencia. These troops occupied Morella and moved forward on the road to San Mateo.

Rail Loan Program Is Considered

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—Administration business advisers gave serious consideration today to proposals to relax restrictions on federal loans to railroads in receivership.

One representative said such loans would supplement financial aid already being extended to railroads not in receivership.

They would fit into whatever program Mr. Roosevelt may advocate for restoring distressed roads to profitable operations. He is expected to send a message on the railroad situation to congress in the next day or so.

Many informed persons believed the administration was depending heavily on revival of the carriers to aid general business recovery.

A more direct attack on the economic situation as far as the average business man was concerned, however, was foreshadowed by house passage of the senate bill to give the Reconstruction Finance Corporation almost unlimited discretion in making loans to aid commercial and industrial enterprises.

The bill also carried authority for loans to municipalities and other political subdivisions for self-liquidating public works, opening the way for a renewed outflow of federal millions into the channels of trade.

Senate approval of a single house amendment will send the RFC bill to the White House for President Roosevelt's signature. That amendment eliminated a provision that loans to railroads must be approved by the interstate commerce commission.

Administration officials said the requirement was not needed because it was already a part of the law under which the RFC operates. In effect, the IOC now must certify that the line receiving a loan can be expected, on the basis of present and future earnings, to meet its fixed charges.

Administration advisers contemplate proposing that congress relax this restriction so the RFC may have a freer hand in approving loans, especially to roads in receivership.

Such loans, one informant said, would be made only to roads having sound financial prospects. Those "hopelessly in the hole" would be unable to obtain aid. In many cases the latter then would have to merge with more profitable lines.

TRAFFIC VIOLATORS PAYING PENALTIES

Evidence of a campaign against traffic violations is shown on the corporate court records for the past 10 days.

During that time there have been 18 pleas of guilty to traffic violations such as overparking and running red lights. Seven entered pleas of guilty to exceeding the speed limits.

Several cases for speeding and running red lights are pending. Four were given tickets for light running Sunday when they elected not to wait for a green sign on the newly erected traffic signals.

Group Named For Inquiry Into TVA

Two Republican Senators Decline To Serve

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—Two republican senators appointed to a ten man congressional committee to investigate the Tennessee Valley Authority today declined the appointments shortly after their names were announced.

They were Senators Borah (R-Idaho) and Senator McNary (R-Ore), the republican leader.

The two were named by Vice President Garner to serve with Senators DeBorja (D-Ohio), Brown (D-NH) and Schwartz (D-Wyo).

The other five members, selected by Speaker Bankhead, included Mead (D-NY), Driver (D-Ark), Thomson (D-Tex), Jenkins (R-Ohio) and Wolverton (R-NJ).

Senator Borah of Idaho, criticized the size of the ten-man committee in declining to serve and said he did not believe in conducting investigations by the "town meeting method."

Senator McNary said his time was too limited to undertake the task.

"I don't want to shirk my responsibilities," the Oregonian said, "and I appreciate the confidence the vice president has reposed in me, but I have got to go home, and I won't be able to run back and forth."

The republican members named by Bankhead were recommended by House Republican Leader Snell of New York.

Garner told reporters he had consulted no one, not even the appointees, before announcing the selections.

The joint committee will make a broad investigation of TVA ordered by congress following disension among the directors of the TVA, which led to President Roosevelt's dismissal of Chairman Arthur E. Morgan.

Bankhead told reporters at his press conference that he had "tried to select a fair and capable committee."

He said the members probably would meet in a few days to choose a chairman and perhaps decide whether to engage some assistants and counsel.

"They have a big job ahead of them. I know that," Bankhead asserted.

"I suspect they may divide into subcommittees to investigate various phases of this thing. As I have indicated previously, it may be necessary for the full committee or subcommittees to go down to that spot."

In selecting the men, Bankhead said he had given attention to "geographical considerations and seniority in the house."

Garner's appointments bore out predictions that senate members of the committee would be selected from among those who have not participated in the T.V.A. controversy and the procedure to be followed in the investigation.

Voters Naming City Officials

Nearly 200 Ballots Cast; Polls Close At 7 o'Clock

Although voting in the city commission election Tuesday was light, it was proceeding at a livelier clip during the afternoon than most observers believed would be the case.

At 2 p. m. a total of 188 persons had cast ballots in the election. Polls were to close at 7 p. m., W. R. Pursler, judge said.

Candidates included C. E. Talbot, R. V. Jones, Vic Mellinger, incumbents, and D. W. Webber and E. R. Craven. Three places are to be filled in the balloting Tuesday.

Persons who reside and who have resided within the city limits for the past six months, and who hold 1937 poll tax receipts or exemption certificates are entitled to vote in the election.

City Adds $50 To Reward In Frome Case

Officials Call On Other Texas Municipalities To Help

The city of Big Spring took the lead today in what it hopes will be a general move to spur solution of the brutal slayings of Mrs. Weston G. Frome and her daughter, Nancy.

Through City Manager E. V. Spence, announcement was made that this municipality is contributing $50 to the rewards offered for arrest and conviction in the slayings.

Spence said city commissioners had approved the action, and that the money would be forwarded to Governor Allred, who has announced a $1,000 reward for the slayers.

"We are calling upon all other Texas cities, particularly those in the western area, to join us in this contribution," Spence said. "It means the safety of our own people to track down those responsible for this revolting crime, and we want to spur a final solution of the case. Thorough action is necessary for the nation to know that such outrages will be speedily penalized in West Texas. We hope other towns will join us to make the reward fund a big one."

HOWARD PAYNE GYM DESTROYED BY FIRE

BROWNWOOD, April 5 (AP)—Fire destroyed the frame gymnasium at Howard Payne university early today, officials estimating damage at $5,000. Built as a student army barracks during the World war, it was enlarged for use as a gymnasium in 1924. Students, aroused by the alarm, assisted in removing equipment from adjoining buildings.

Western Air officials, expecting Hollenbeck, have to make a "belly" landing summoned fire fighting and ambulance equipment.

Hot Debate On Blum Policies

Uproar In Chamber Of Deputies Forces Suspension

PARIS, April 5 (AP)—Premier Leon Blum's demand for sweeping powers to control France's economic life by decree today threw the chamber of deputies into such an uproar that its president, Edouard Herriot, suspended the session.

This came half an hour after debate began on the premier's financial program, which many political observers predict will cause his downfall.

Blum Montigny, independent deputy, charged that Blum bill—conferred decree powers until July 1—was designed to start "a veritable social and economic revolution."

"That is the way the German republic perished, too," Montigny shouted.

Blum demanded that the lukewarm chamber of deputies and the hostile senate vote him full decree powers. Rightists reacted at once with the charge that his program was "a plan for a Marxist (socialist) dictatorship and revolution."

The general political opinion before the struggle began in the chamber was that the bill would be passed by the chamber and voted down by the senate.

Political experts accorded the premier only a slight chamber majority, however, and predicted a heavy adverse vote in the conservative upper house, bringing his automatic resignation.

Men Continue Search Of Area To Uncover Frome's Luggage

EL PASO, April 5 (AP)—A posse scouring the West Texas desert today uncovered the first tangible evidence of robbery in the six-day-old torture and slaying of Mrs. Weston G. Frome, 46, Berkeley, California society matron, and her 23-year-old daughter, Nancy.

KANSAS CITY, April 5 (AP)—Chief of Detectives T. J. Higgins telegraphed Texas authorities today the name and description of a desperate 28-year-old ex-convict believed to be in the vicinity of the Frome slayings.

Two men, ordered extradited to Los Angeles today to face trial for the murder of a Los Angeles cafe owner, told the chief they had separated from the suspect in Phoenix, Ariz., March 23. The men are Harry Groves and John Rodriguez.

Higgins learned the man might be traveling now with a woman companion and probably is running short of cash. Pictures of him have been airmailed to El Paso.

U. S. highway 80 ten miles east of Kent, Tex., in the Pecos-Balmorhea-Van Horn section where the women were last seen and near where their semi-nude bodies were found Sunday night.

The papers, Jackson said, bore the date of March 23, when Mrs. Frome and her daughter started their motor trip from Berkeley en route to South Carolina.

The luggage from the abandoned Frome car has never been found, and Sheriff Albert Anderson today said more than half a hundred men scouring the sandy reaches of Culberson county for clues.

Meanwhile, El Paso officers planned to begin questioning employees of the hotel here where the women stayed for a brief visit in El Paso last week before continuing east.

Premeditated Plot? The interrogations grew out of concerted speculations by Sheriff Anderson, the district attorney, and Texas Ranger Pete Crawford that the Frome women were robbed and slain by some one they knew, possibly acquaintances made in El Paso or in Juarez, Mexican border hot spot across the Rio Grande from here.

Out of the welter of conflicting and conjectural theories, however, came uncertain belief that the murders may have been a premeditated plot hatched in El Paso. "Our witnesses have given us many conflicting stories," said Jackson.

Wolf-Steer Clash Historical One

Big Spring high school officials hope to pack Steer stadium next fall when the Longhorns open their football campaign here with the Colorado Wolves.

It's been four long years since the Bovines romped on the same field with the Mitchell county team and that is too long a time to allow relations to drop between the two schools.

Colorado used to beat the locals regularly, even in the days of Frankie Segal, Perry Johnson and others, but their football fortunes took a turn for the worse the last two or three times that the two schools clashed and the Coloradoans were blipping off the field after most of the engagements.

The 1924 battle could hardly be called that. The game is remembered chiefly for two things and neither of those is the outcome which happened to be 42-7.

During the third quarter when Ole Cordill, Sam and Bob Flowers and others were having their fun cutting the opposition completely away with terrific blocks, a kid by the name of Morrison dropped back to kick after the Wolves had gained possession of the pigskin deep in their own territory. And side by side with the name of Morrison decided to drop back and do a little blocking by himself but unfortunately he moved within firing range of Morrison and the kicker didn't connect with the ball at all but Priestler.

RUSSELL ADDED TO CHI STAFF

RISBEEK, Ariz., April 5 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs today acquired the veteran Jack Russell in an effort to bolster the pitching staff.

Russell, a righthander who has served with Boston, Washington and Detroit of the American league, was obtained as a free agent. Manager Charley Grimm said he would report to the club in San Antonio Thursday.

The surprised back didn't go out in the coffin corner but did feel the effects where it hurt most.

Historical event No. 2 occurred when, on the last play of the game, Cordill, Flowers, et al., allowed Morrison to take the ball, crossed the Steer line and then turned and ran interference for his clear to the goal line for the only tally the Coloradoans chalked up.

The Longhorn backs had intended to do that on the play previous and managed to get Morrison in an open field but he stumbled in some manner and fell.

Instructions for that touchdown run probably came straight from the Big Spring bench. Oldie Bristol, the Bovines' tutor at that time, had heard so many local fans waging with a 40-point disadvantage, he secretly vowed with his assistants to do something about it.

The result was electrical in the stands.

Nine Games On Locals' Card Next Fall

Except for a non-conference tilt which might be lined up after Armistice Day, Nov. 11, the 1933 football schedule for the Big Spring high school Steers has been arranged. Principal George Gentry announced Monday.

The Longhorns will open the season Sept. 16 in a night game with Lamesa on the Golden Tornado field. The Dawson county team has joined Class A this year and will play in District One.

A week following that game, the Bovines open up on the home grounds. Their opponents on the night of Sept. 23 will be the Colorado Wolves. The game will be the first in four seasons that the two teams have played.

Another "warmup" affair Sept. 30 will pit the Longhorns against the Austin Tigers in El Paso.

The locals embark on their unique conference schedule Oct. 7, playing San Angelo in Steer stadium.

The Big Spring eleven will play through a conference schedule that has never before been attempted in these parts. They will meet each of the three teams of this section of the Oil Belt district on a home-and-home basis, opposing Sweetwater, Abilene and San Angelo twice during the year.

Complete schedule: Sept. 16—Big Spring at Lamesa (night).

Sept. 23—Colorado at Big Spring (night).

Sept. 30—Big Spring at Austin, El Paso (night).

Oct. 7—San Angelo at Big Spring (night).

Oct. 14—Abilene at Big Spring (night).

Oct. 21—Big Spring at Sweetwater (night).

Oct. 28—Big Spring at San Angelo (night).

Rowe Named To Help With Tickets

Work Toward Selling 3,000 Tickets For Opening Day

While Dr. P. W. Malone and his committee prepared to canvas the town the latter part of the week and dispose of their season and opening day tickets, the contractors moved in on the West Fifth and San Antonio streets diamond site and set to work on the fence.

The 22,000 feet of lumber, moved to the grounds Monday morning, was expected to take shape in less than a week. Spring training begins April 11 and the carpenters are working in double time in an effort to complete the job by that time.

Malone appointed C. L. Rowe as the sub-chairman on his ticket committee. Rowe will enlist the aid of several of the local business men and sweep the business district of the town in a continuous campaign while Malone will invade the service clubs.

Indications are that more than 3,000 people will be on hand when Midland opens in the local park April 27. Rowe will visit both Comoma and Forsan, both good baseball towns. In an attempt to lure the many patrons from those areas. Many fans are expected to come from Midland.

Schacht Fails To Find 2nd Johnson

Annual Tour Of All Camps Fruitless; Recalls Genius

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK, April 5 (AP)—Al Schacht, the baseball clown, is back from his annual tour of the training camps, and he still hasn't spotted that rookie pitcher who can throw a ball like Walter Johnson used to.

Every spring when Al makes the rounds of the camps, working out and lining up engagements for the season, he keeps watching for the young pitchers, searching for that easy, flowing motion that made Johnson his idol. He's about decided now that he'll never find it.

Al, who was with the big Swedes on the Washington club for many a year, clowns practically all the time except when he sets around to the subject of Johnson.

"Why do people keep talking about who was the greatest pitcher when anybody with any sense knows there was never one even close to Walter?" he asks.

"When I look at some of these guys they call fast-ball pitchers these days it hands me a laugh. Why, Johnson threw a ball harder when he was loafing along behind a one-run lead than anybody else ever has."

As time passes the phenomenal speed of Johnson becomes only a legend to a new generation, so it is a little exciting to hear Schacht bring it back to life.

"Some days when Walter really felt like throwing that onion it was plain murder for the opposing team. They would just stand back and wave their hats until everybody, even Walter, was laughing. On days Johnson was due to pitch for us you could count on two or three members of the other team reporting sick. They didn't like to face him and you couldn't blame 'em."

"Funniest thing that ever happened was one day when our regular catcher got a split finger and we put in a young fellow named Rip Williams to catch Johnson. Wait was pretty fast that day, and Billy Evans was calling strikes behind the plate.

"The first one went over Williams' shoulder and hit Evans an awful thump on his protector. An umpire in those days wasn't armored up like he is now. The second pitch also went right past Williams and cracked Evans square on the shin. So help me, Billy grabbed his shin and turned around and bawled out that the game was called on account of darkness. Till sweat he made it stick, too, and the sun wasn't even down."

WINTERS, TEXAS, April 5 (AP)—The report that pitcher Paul Dean had signed a contract with Eoss Branch Rickey of the St. Louis Cardinals was the chief item of news today as the gas house gauge checked in for a game with their Columbus farm. The Cards, it is said, got waivers on their pitching problem child so he could attempt a comeback with one of their minor league "branches."

SAN ANTONIO, April 5 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns today cut loose two pitchers. Ewald Pyle, who won 7 and lost 12 for Des Moines last year, went to the San Antonio farm, and Bill Miller was shipped to Hollywood of the Coast league, on option.

BRYAN, TEX., April 5 (AP)—It was Cleveland's turn to be the "home" team in its long series with the New York Giants today, and Bill Terry was thankful. The Giants supplied the baseballs for yesterday's exhibition at Austin, and 23 of them were hit into the crowd.

Tracksters Of Ward Schools Run Tomorrow

Athletes From All Schools Gather On Austin Track

Young athletes from every ward school in the city are scheduled to gather with High School Coach Pat Murphy Wednesday afternoon, 3:30 o'clock, on the Austin street field for Big Spring's annual junior track and field show.

Murphy a month ago introduced the idea into the various schools of the city. His intentions were two-fold. He thereby increased the schools' recreation activity and at the same time was starting a program among the younger boys who will in time graduate to the high school athletic squads.

Students from the third grade on through the seventh are eligible to compete for the various titles that will be awarded.

Events which will be run are the 50-yard dash, 100-yard dash, chin-up, the bar, 440-yard relay, broad jumping and high jumping.

Murphy will serve as the starter.

Edged Ralph Guldahl To Cop Honors

National Champ Is Beaten When Putts Fall To Drop

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 5 (AP)—No one was more certain that Henry Picard would win the all-star Augusta National golf show than the "Hersey Hurricane" himself.

Tall Henry isn't the bragging type, but he is the sort of golfer who will tell you when he feels that they're going to hang up his number in a tournament.

The Pennsylvania pro, 40 years old and a native of Plymouth, Mass., practiced only once before the start of the golfing feature of the winter and the putts were rolling for him. They continued to roll and that's the story of the victory that won him $1,500.

And, for Ralph Guldahl of Chicago, the National Open champion who was edged out of the big prize here a year ago, it was the failure of putts to roll that cost him a possible tie and play-off for the championship.

Looking back over the scoring records, one finds that Picard and Guldahl were exactly even through 40 holes. But at the 70th hole, Guldahl three-putted, where Picard got his par. Again at the 72nd, the big Chicago campaigner three-putted and Picard came along to get his par.

There is where the winner grabbed two strokes that saved him from deadlocking with Guldahl and Lighthorse Harry Cooper of Chicago, who knocked off a sub-par 71 on the final round to finish in a tie for second place with Guldahl.

SPRING CLEANING TIME IS HERE

Clean-Up and Paint-Up Week finds Big Spring in need of doing something about actual and resulting observance. The city follows a daily routine of clean-up, but there is always the need of a little more removal of trash and a little more freshening up, especially at this season as Spring approaches.

The governor has designated the special week and it is expected that all over the state there will be observance of it. If this is done as it should be there will be a physically cleaner Texas than there has been for some time, and physical cleanliness will help make moral cleanliness.

Big Spring can well afford to do something to help along this Clean-Up, Paint-Up Week. There are premises that will stand a face lifting that would add to their beauty and utility. There is always a little more rubbish to be removed, and there is always a place where application of some paint will enhance the looks and usefulness of things.

The city government is cooperating in the hauling of trash, and is willing to cooperate along that line with any citizen who wants such service. The carpenters and painters of Big Spring, and the merchants who sell materials are prepared to do the work and supply the items needed without great cost.

Big Spring should take notice of Clean-Up and Paint-Up Week not solely because it has been proclaimed, but because it includes all the proper procedure toward making our town a more attractive and a more healthful place in which to live.

MARTIN COUNTY'S YEARS REVIEWED

A half-century of progress and development of our neighboring county, Martin, is reviewed in interesting and entertaining fashion in a 50th anniversary edition which has come from the Stanton Reporter press.

Items and personalities of historical significance are presented in the edition, along with articles portraying the commercial expansion of Stanton and Martin county. The paper, a big one for Stanton and the Reporter, represents many hours of diligent work.

They had the support of the business establishments of Stanton and neighboring towns, of course. Any newspaper requires such support if it correctly depicts the life of its community. The newspaper is a mirror of the town and county it serves, and it reflects that town and county truly and completely.

Stanton and Martin county have reason to be proud of the results of 50 years of building. And they have reason to be proud of the anniversary edition of the Reporter which tells the story of this building.

On The Record

By Dorothy Thompson

(Miss Thompson's column is published as an informational and news feature. Her views are personal and are not to be construed as necessarily reflecting the editorial opinion of The Herald.—Editor's Note.)

It must be a great comfort to lovers of peace in this world, to realize that Mussolini has nine million men whom he can mobilize at any moment, that he has the world's most powerful submarine fleet, that he has fuel and ammunition for a very long war, and that he alone amongst the leaders of nations has introduced aeronautical description.

This vast accumulation of mobilized men and store materials is all for peace and defense. The latter is plainly necessary. Everybody knows that Italy is in imminent danger of being invaded by Ethiopia, attacked by Spain, and annexed by Palestine.

In England, Neville Chamberlain is clamoring for war against Italy and everybody else, and Leon Blum in France is daily threatening to march forward and conquer all Europe.

This marvelous mechanism for the defense of Italian shores, which includes every man from 18 to 55, is only matched by the Germans, who are privately claiming the power to mobilize twelve millions immediately. This is also warmly to be desired. Because Germany is seriously threatened by the United States of America.

In the United States a racial theory has gained credence, under which the most powerful and numerous single country, with the exception of Russia, is planning to march forward. It seems that the United States represents itself as the greatest stronghold of the Yankee race. As is well known, the Yankee is one of the purest types of Nordic Anglo-Saxon, characterized by extreme length of limb, and dithyrambic head formation, with predominantly blue or gray eyes and brown to light hair.

The Yankee, who is, of course, a Germanic or Saxon type, settled on the Eastern seaboard of the United States and later in the Middle West, particularly in the Mississippi valley, and has always ruled the entire continent ever since.

This racial type has remained singularly unaffected by large influxes of other races, and represents the purest Germanic stock. Unlike the residents of the German Reich, particularly Prussia, where the stock has been contaminated by large amounts of Slavic blood producing the well known type known as Tyre-Germanicus, so-called because of a formation resembling a rubber tyre surrounding the back of the head, and even by considerable Tartar and Mongolian blood, producing the familiar Genghis Khan type of personality. The Yankee has retained his racial purity.

According to the Yankee ideology, it is the Yankee mission to reify the Germanic race, and for that reason is planning to include all the Germanic blood in the Yankee Commonwealth. This will include, of course, all of Canada, Great Britain and the British Commonwealth, insofar as it has been settled by people of the Anglo-Saxon race notably Australia, New Zealand, and South Africa, as well as Germany, Holland, the Scandinavian Countries, and most of Switzerland.

Already the Yankees are claiming their right to intervene in any country where part of the population have Anglo, Saxon, or allied bloods. They organize units or cells of their adherents. They wear a peculiar uniform, consisting of long striped trousers, with straps, Congress boots, and tall hats. They march to a peculiarly blood-curdling song called "John Brown's body," written in memorial to a militant Yankee who was shamefully killed in a rebellion for national freedom and a "Battle Hymn of the Republic," whose author was a Yankee Amazon, a dangerous type of woman in which the country abounds.

It is purely to defend themselves against this dangerous movement, which threatens to overrun the world, that the German Reich has mobilized such terrific offenses, even at the cost of demanding prodigious sacrifices from the German people.

The warlike proclivities of the neo-Anglo-Saxons, calling themselves Yankees, is expressed in a book called "My Battle," written by their leader.

"Pacifism," says the author, "is an excellent idea, when the strongest man has conquered the world. Then he can preserve peace."

It is statements like this that have terrified the Italian and German peoples, and made them feel that they must prepare themselves for the utmost of Defense. So anxious are they that not a man, woman or child should fall alive into the hands of the invaders that they have prepared vast bombing fleets.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—Ever since a prominent film studio announced that "Marie Antoinette" would be made into a motion picture the character of Stefan Zweig's book has been coming to your correspondent's attention around town. On upper Broadway there is the Marie Antoinette hotel, which was named for that unhappy queen. A few strides away is the Dauphin, another hotel representing the crown prince or heir to the throne. And down in the village, at 8th Street on University Place, is the Hotel Lafayette, commemorating the "engager boy" who crossed the sea to help Washington against the British. The tall figure of Lafayette moves like a fiddle ghost across the last days of Marie Antoinette's reign. He wanted the revolution, although he remained, in a sense, loyal to the queen and her royal consort. He makes a last dramatic entrance on horseback, attempting to turn the tide after the Paris mobs have been unfettered. But his plans go haywire—he makes a few fumbling gestures—and gains nothing, not even a nod from the doomed queen who has grown to despise him.

Hollywood

Sights And Sounds by ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Here And There: Helen Wilson, of whom you probably never heard, has spent more than $1,000,000 on clothes during the past eight years. But she dresses simply and comparatively inexpensively, and on her shopping tours—almost daily—you wouldn't pick her out for a big buyer.

That's what she is—wardrobe shopper for Selznick's pictures. She spends whole days shopping, says she gets as much kick out of ordering a string of beads as she does commanding a whole bolt of $50 a yard material.

When she became a studio buyer, her first assignment was to find clothes and materials for Mae Murray and Eleanor Boardman. She took the stars along, and later Billie Dove, Colleen Moore and Fay Wray shopped with her for picture clothes.

But now her expeditions are solo. Carole Lombard, Janet Gaynor, Madeleine Carroll stayed at the studio when Helen went buying. The stars could have gone along, had they wished, but the public—with autograph books handy—would have slowed down the work. So Helen orders stuff on approval. About half of it is kept—and she considers that a high percentage.

Carriages Come High: In "Jezebel" Bette Davis drove a caleche, which the studio rented for $15 a day but paid $250 to put in shape. Lee Sheldon, the vehicle and animal man at Warner's bemoans the shortage of old-fashioned carriages, of which he had to procure sixteen for this film. There are buckboards and farm wagons in plenty but few "carriage trade" vehicles—no victorias, landaus, and barouches.

Sheldon knows six or seven "horas men" who rent livestock and vehicles to studios. The trouble is, the carriages are used only two or three times a year and the rest of the time they serve as chicken roosts in the barns. That's why it costs $250 to restore Bette's caleche. Sheldon would like to start his own stable of fine carriages. If he had a couple of months to tour the country, he knows he could find any number.

Frivolous Gagger: The Marietta Bittu who occasionally gives a harp concert in Mrs. Walter Abel... And fine, too... Lee Tracy's going to Broadway to star in "The Gag Stays In," a piece about radio humorists—which is why he's been slipping over to radio rehearsals and gag sessions... Lee needs a stage hit to bring him better pictures...

FLASHES OF LIFE: IT SMELLS: PHILADELPHIA—A bus terminal manager summoned Patrolman Obed Weston, pointed to a row of lockers for travelers' luggage, and said: "Something is dead here."

The officer sniffed among the lockers, pried one open and staggered into the street carrying a limp bundle. "Sabotage," cried the patrolman. "Maybe," replied the manager. "I call it limburger."

INVESTMENT: HOPKINSVILLE, Ky.—"Wanted: young woman, not over 30, to marry." Simon Daniel, 25-year-old farmer, said today it had taken him five years to get up nerve enough to insert that advertisement in a Hopkinsville paper.

He succeeded yesterday in mustering his courage. The ad cost 30 cents. "If I get a good wife, it will be worth it," Daniel ventured.

FATHER AT 74: KELLLOGG, Ia.—Alvin Cooper, 74, retired farmer, has become a father for the 1938 time. "The latest addition to the Cooper family, a son, brings the total to seven boys and eight girls. Mrs. Cooper, 42, is Cooper's fourth wife.

Married for Life: The air rushed through the night. Air, sweet with the tang of ripened apples fanned them. In the east a star shot. Judith looked straight ahead with unseeing eyes. He was not thinking of her or of her words that hurt like a too heavy hand upon a raw rose. He was planning how to come back. Unconsciously he was exhilarated by the prospect of getting into a fight again—taking off his coat, rolling up his sleeves, hammering his way back. But for the girl at his side, he would not have been the least unhappy. If she loved him—he could take a licking—chin up—laugh it off—

In their drawing room, enroute to New York, the wall of ice between them melted—or rather Judith knocked it down. She was a Goodloe—the habit of a lifetime—of generations, does not vanish at one blow. Courtesy was a primary law. Good courtship was a cardinal virtue.

"It's silly for me to start out this way, Reuben. We're married—for life and I come of hardy stock," she laughed almost in the old way. "I held live to be as old as Grand!" She held out the steady, small brown hand that wore the new wedding ring.

He forgot that he was broken, humiliated, unloved. He forgot, if he ever knew, that polish, culture, breeding can control human behavior to such an extent that all except the most canny are deceived. His heaven returned, closed around him. That he was literally on his knees to her, instead of on the throne beside her, bothered him not at all.

He ordered supper served in their compartment. Judith planned her refreshments, put them on the little table. He listened, while she chattered about it, places they would see—Burma with its temples—He had planned to be sappers there.

The suite reserved for them in the Waldorf Astoria was the best in the house. He kept it. The boat was sailing tomorrow. He has to do some tail scouting. His tall scolding amounted nothing. A morning spent with brokers and talking over long distances to Warder, not only verified Clem's telegram—there was nothing to be salvaged—but reminded him that the new high-priced machinery installed at the Luteja just must be paid for. Debits, just debts! (Copyright, 1938, Blanche Smith Ferguson)

Chapter 19 REAL LIFE DRAMA: As Reuben faced his wife he realized a man needs all the love a woman can give him—all the confidence. He felt it in this moment. He was destined to feel it with the cruel keenness of a double-edged sword in many, many moments.

Studying the stricken face, Judith remembered that she must not judge him by her own standard. She was a Goodloe. Goodloes were good sports. He had fulfilled his promise. She owed him the very roof above her—

She said with a fine show of indifference: "It doesn't matter really, one way or the other." "Doesn't matter?" Doubling his ears, even as he was doubting his integrity, "Doesn't matter?" "No."

The burden of all the world dropped from him. He stooped and kissed her—gently. Then again not so gently—with all his heart's hunger. He said on a note of pity: "It would be bad enough if you loved me, Judy."

Judith said: "We must go back to our guests." In a hideous walking nightmare he followed her. In this, the first hour of their lives together it was she who had been strong. The thought jangled discordantly in his brain. "I've got to let her go—She will want to go—"

Only Claisy noticed that he was not quite the same man who had left the dance. Claisy noticed it with a great tearing at her heart. Her eagle was being forced down to earth. Wings clipped. Courage sapped. She looked at Judith, radiant and poised, and knew not only jealousy, but actual hatred.

Discarded? From the top of the stairway, the bride turned and tossed her bouquet to the expectant rainbow of the bridesmaids, who stood looking up with avid outstretched jeweled hands. Only Claisy stood apart, making no effort to catch the white shower. Judith, seeing no longer wondered. Claisy loved Reuben.

"Poor Claisy! Poor Reuben! Poor me!" It was all a queer jumble. "Amid a shower of rice, confetti, old shoes, she went away. "Goody Gran, darling—Jim!" "Who's after Judy?" "Isn't she the lucky girl, going around the world?"

"Send me a spangiel from Japan," someone shouted. "I like white jade, Judy—it's lucky, you know." Dodging rice Reuben climbed in the car beside her. The door slammed. The door whirling away through the night.

When the home gates were behind them, young Mrs. Oliver, brushing rice from her smart blue suit, shaking out her silver fox scarf, looked at her husband in the critical manner of one scanning a stage figure through an opera glass. The play was ended. The curtain was about to be rung down. There was a hint of weariness in her voice. "That's that! Now what?"

Reuben said with curious detachment. "If you're wise, you'll let me take you right back to Goodloe's Choice—to your grandmother." And immediately the curtain was rolled up again, on a real life drama which there was no time for elaborate stage setting, lighting, props or tricks.

Blood hammered in Judith's ears. He was offering to take her back—to free her! It percolated through her brain slowly, while a shamed color stained her face. So—that was the type he thought her! A cheap gold digger. "You probably think I'm icily, but you're insulting me."

He thought: "I've done it again! Another blasted code." If she didn't go back he'd be breaking one after another all his life. He said wearily: "It will be easier—" "To go back—on my wedding day—discarded?" "It wouldn't be that. It isn't as though you care."

"They would know," with unconscious cruelty, "that you're not what you pretended to be." "They'll know it anyhow." Her eyes narrowed. They reminded him of Amanda's eyes. "They won't guess you fooled me too."

He was too bewildered to resent all she implied. He said: "It's a big sacrifice to make for pride." "I've made a bigger one." "Married for life?" The air rushed through the night. Air, sweet with the tang of ripened apples fanned them. In the east a star shot. Judith looked straight ahead with unseeing eyes.

He was not thinking of her or of her words that hurt like a too heavy hand upon a raw rose. He was planning how to come back. Unconsciously he was exhilarated by the prospect of getting into a fight again—taking off his coat, rolling up his sleeves, hammering his way back. But for the girl at his side, he would not have been the least unhappy. If she loved him—he could take a licking—chin up—laugh it off—

In their drawing room, enroute to New York, the wall of ice between them melted—or rather Judith knocked it down. She was a Goodloe—the habit of a lifetime—of generations, does not vanish at one blow. Courtesy was a primary law. Good courtship was a cardinal virtue.

Heating Device For Chicken Brooder Is Improved

A large container for fuel saves time and work in raising baby chicks, Mrs. O. B. Gaskin, poultry cooperator for the Knott home demonstration club has found. As a heating device for her chick brooder, Mrs. Gaskin is using a kerosene lamp wick attachment. She substituted a gallon syrup bucket for the base of the lamp by cutting a hole in the bucket lid and fitting the wick and globe holder into it. A piece of felt was sewed on the wick so that it would reach the base of the supply. This improvised heater is placed in a hole which has been dug in the ground, over which the brooder house is placed. Fresh sand to a depth of several inches is kept on the floor of the brooder house so that the feet of the chicks will not become too warm. Mrs. Gaskin is meeting with success in brooding 200 chicks in this manner.

Slayings

The robbery of the woman might have been plotted when they were here last week while driving east. "This is only one of a host of theories and conjectures we are working on."

The testimony of three witnesses was counted on heavily by authorities to support their contention two men and two women had parts in the slayings. Their reports, however, were based on normal casual observation of the Frome Packard on the Pecos-Dallas highway six days ago.

Services were to be held in the Eberley chapel at 5 p. m. with Dr. C. E. Lancaster, First Baptist pastor, and Melvin J. Wise, Church of Christ minister, in charge. Burial was to be in the Salem cemetery, 17 miles northeast of here.

METEORITE FALLS

CHICAGO, April 5 (AP)—A small meteorite fell into a parkway in suburban Winnetka last night and the sound of the crash and the bright light started rumors of an explosion. Policemen Lester Barker and Thomas Schultz found a two-inch fragment of the meteorite, which had cut a five-inch hole in the sod and buried itself.

DAVISES HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Jam Davis and son, Allen, of Fort Worth, are visitors in Big Spring. Dr. Raleigh Davis of San Antonio also is in the city.

Forsan Students Likely To Visit Mexico City

FORSAN, April 5—When the Forsan senior class, together with several members of the junior class, start out on their traditional tour this spring, it's an even bet that their noses will be toward Mexico City.

Supt. Leland L. Martin, who has always taken his graduating class on an educational and pleasure tour at the end of the school year, has investigated the possibilities of old Mexico for the tour.

He is satisfied that the trip to the Mexican capital would be practical and highly educational. It would, he believes, be more adventurous than many of the other tours taken by the senior classes of past years.

Jewelry Left

Anderson, although puzzled over the assailants leaving some valuable jewelry, was also still inclined to the robbery motive.

Jackson, in commenting on the jewelry left with the bodies, said, "The murderers apparently only wanted money, or jewels which they might dispose of without attracting too much attention."

Anderson said a final checkup of valuables showed the girl's gold bracelet and the mother's diamond ring still missing.

Found on the bodies were Mrs. Frome's wedding ring, her diamond studded bracelet watch of white gold and diamonds and Nancy's necklace and diamond ring. Officers said the women had between $125 and $150 when they left El Paso, but the money was missing.

Roy Chitwood, investigator for the district attorney's office, said the autopsy report of Dr. W. W. Waite showed "conclusively" that the women were not ravished. He said both were shot with different caliber bullets, once behind the ear.

Rangers On Case

The Texas state department of public safety assigned two patrolmen and sent two Texas rangers to Van Horn to aid the investigation.

Sheriff Anderson held only a faint hope that the few fingerprints taken from the abandoned car of the two by State Patrolman John Reese would be of value. The prints were sent to the public safety division at Austin, he said, together with a man's handkerchief, a pack of paper matches, a quantity of hair, and parings, items found clutched in Nancy's hands.

Anderson said nothing could be said of the value of the fingerprints, "until we find something to check from."

HOOF-MOUTH DISEASE SCARE IN ENGLAND

LONDON, April 5 (AP)—England faced today the threat of a severe outbreak of hoof and mouth disease, and the ministry of agriculture ordered a ban on movement of livestock in an effort to check its spread.

The order affected nearly 25,000,000 animals and was issued after nine cases were verified.

An outbreak last fall was checked with slaughter of thousands of cattle, sheep and pigs for which the government paid $2,000,000 compensation.

The kind of service you get from your automobile depends upon the kind of oil, lubrication and gasoline you give it. The light weight oils and greases you used for quick winter starting are not suitable for hot weather driving. Chances are your winter oil is dirty and diluted from frequent choking.
