

A MIGHTY LOVELY LASS—ALL SET TO COMPETE FOR THE MISS PLAYMATE TITLE

... a freshman from Dallas, Miram Blake is one of many entrants in the Miss Playmate contest.

Tech Beauties to 'See 'n Ski' In New Mexico 'For Free'

A three-day, expense-paid trip to the ski slopes of New Mexico awaits the eleven winning girls in the La Ventana Beauty Pageant Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium.

Miss Mademoiselle of 1960, her nine runners-up and the Miss Playmate will be chosen at the second annual pageant, to be produced along the same format as the Miss America Pageant.

Tickets for the pageant are now on sale in Journalism 101 and will be on sale in the Tech Union beginning Wednesday. Admission is 50 cents per person and no seats are reserved.

Deadline for entries in the Miss Mademoiselle Contest is Thursday. Organizations may enter candidates in the Miss Mademoiselle

Deadline Arrives

Today is the deadline for entries in the Miss Playmate contest in conjunction with the La Ventana Beauty Pageant Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium.

Each male organization on campus may enter a candidate by turning in a 8 x 10 glossy, black and white photograph to Journalism 101 by 5 p.m. contest by paying $1 and turning in an entry blank to Journalism 101. Individuals may also enter on their own.

Preliminary judging for the expected 150 entries will begin at 10 a.m. Saturday in the Aggie Engineering Auditorium. The top 50 candidates will be selected in the preliminaries and will compete in the judging for the top ten finalists and Miss Mademoiselle Saturday beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Judges for the contest are Mrs. Pat Leaverton, John Reese and Harvey Brewington. Mrs. Leaverton is a former New York model and was a judge in last year's Pageant.

Reese is a business law teacher at Tech and was director of the Miss Lubbock contest last year. Active in Lubbock civic affairs, Brewington is vice president of Western Fire and Indemnity Co.

Entries in the Miss Playmate contest will be judged by Jim Dallas, a professional photographer from Lubbock. Male organizations on campus may enter candidates by turning in an 8 x 10 black and white glossy photograph of their candidate to Journalism 101 today.

Yvonne Skinner, Miss Lubbock of 1958, will provide organ music and Les Ready, announcer at Tech home basketball games, will be master of ceremonies.

Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity, is sponsoring the Pageant.

English to Spot Moon Rocket

JODRELL BANK, England (AP)—Scientists at Britain's huge radio telescope said Monday they expect the United States to launch a moon-circling rocket this week and that they plan to track it.

They said the rocket is expected to be the paddle-wheel type and contain instruments for measuring conditions around the moon and carry a camera device.

The Jodrell Bank Telescope, stationed near Manchester, was used recently to track both the Soviet rocket that hit the moon and the one that circled it.

Raiders Meet Lobos Tonight

by JOHN PETTY
Toreador Sports Writer

Basketball blasts into the Texas Tech limelight tonight as the Red Raiders pit their skill against a powerful University of New Mexico five in Municipal Coliseum at 8 p.m.

The game will mark the season's opening for both teams.

The UNM Lobos will bring a squad of 12 experienced and highly touted players to Lubbock to face Coach Polk Robison's Raiders.

Tech Hosts 12 Mexican Students

Twelve senior students of the Normal School of Mexico will be guests on the campus for the next two weeks.

These students are English majors who are studying to be teachers and have begun their apprentice teaching.

Their visit has been arranged by the Good Neighbor Commission of Texas, with the cooperation of the Ministry of Education of Mexico. Although this is the tenth time students have been sent to Texas on such a program, it is the first time Tech has been picked as the host school.

Special lectures concerning education in the United States, literature, folk songs and government of the United States are being conducted for the students. In addition the visitors will go to regular class sessions.

A visit to the college library and a look at the basketball game against New Mexico will give the students two more glimpses into American college life. Their stay in Lubbock will also include a visit to a newspaper plant, a public school, attendance at speech contests, the La Ventana Beauty Pageant and a visit to television station KCBD.

The Raiders will also boast a 12-man squad but experience—or rather the lack of it—is likely to be their short suit. Only four of Robison's men played varsity ball last year. Only one of them—Gene Arrington, a 6-4 forward—was a starter. Returning squadmen include Dale McKeehan (6-5), James Wiley (6-5), and Steve Lee (6-2). A fifth man, 6-1 Robert Echols, lettered during the 1957-58 season and will be back after a year's absence.

The Lobo lineup includes big Francis Grant, a transfer to New Mexico from Fort Lewis (Colo.)

Coach Polk Robison, facing the toughest basketball schedule in the history of Tech with one of the least experienced clubs in his 15 years as head coach, noted the irony in an invitation to speak at a breakfast meeting of a local civic club.

The organization wanting to hear Polk talk was the Optimists.

A&M junior college. Last year at Fort Lewis, Grant was named to the Little All-American basketball team after he had scored 615 points in 27 games.

ANOTHER HEADACHE for Robison and his crew will come in a small Lobo package by the name of Gig Brummel. A 5-10 guard, Brummel led the New Mexico team last year in points with 233 in 22 games.

That all important height is likely to haunt Robison this season. His tallest tipsters are a pair 6-7 centers, Bill Spitzer and Don Perkins. Both boys are sophomores. (Page 6, BRUMMEL...)

Tech Wives Elect Jean Starr Prexy

Jean Starr has been named temporary president by the steering committee of the Texas Tech Student Wives Club.

Other temporary officers are Mary Niels, vice president; Virginia Weyl, secretary; Teena Reininger, treasurer; Betty Arrell, chaplain; Sue Montgomery, reporter.

Music Dept. to Feature Student-Faculty Fete

The music department is presenting three student-faculty recitals this week. The first one is at 4:10 p.m. today in the Music Bldg. Auditorium.

Student performers are Carol Lewis, Judy Kinney, Janis Richardson, Carol Wilson, Ann Cooper, Lutine Harris, Tommy Mayfield, Gracie Russell, Julia Key, Mark Pair, Patricia Clowdus, Jerry Banks, Jim Suddeth, Sue Dixon, Jane Ann Henry, Kathleen LaMar, and faculty member Charles Lawrie.

The second recital in the Music Bldg. Recital Hall Friday at 8 p.m. will feature Jane Anne Henry, cellist, and Von Prah, tenor. They will be assisted by Kathleen LaMar on the piano and faculty member Paul Ellsworth on the violin.

The last recital will be at 4 p.m. Sunday in the Music Bldg. Recital Hall. Scheduled to perform is baritone Rex Pope accompanied at the piano by Kathleen LaMar.

A string and woodwind ensemble is also on the program. The ensemble is composed of Arlan Carroll, Dale Halford, Jane Ann Henry, Bob Lemon, Lowell Cross and faculty members Paul Ellsworth and Keith McCarty.

UNION RATS, INC.

Students Show Gain

by PAT PORTER
Toreador Staff Writer

For the curious few interested in seeing just how their $5 paid to the Tech Union is spent each year maybe this column will help clear up a few questions. So bear with the percentage breakdowns and remember that the whole point of the story is "the Union is a non-profit making organization."

IT MAY BE surprising to note that any business must pay its employees. The Union spends 23.9 per cent of each student fee to pay for salaried personnel. Custodial cost (poor as the service might seem at times) takes 17.9 per cent of the $5. Non-salaried personnel, including student workers and hourly laborers, get four per cent of the fee.

Each time a glass or chair is broken a new one must be bought. This comes out of a depreciation budget which is a little more than four per cent of the total budget. For general maintenance, travel expenses and new equipment, 23.5 per cent of the fee is used.

The most interesting part of the budget to any student is that one-fourth set aside for Union programs. This includes the dance, professional entertainment, special exhibits and movies held each week.

NOTICE THE posters mark "Free, Sponsored by Tech Union. Notice also the nice tables, comfortable lounging furniture, the television sets and hi-fi equipment. This is where the little dollars go one by one.

Each student is actually a stockholder in a business. This business is the Union. If annual premiums aren't collected in the forms of fun and entertainment, then someone isn't being too shrewd businessman.

So rats, next time your professors want to know why you're cutting classes for a cup of coffee and a little fraternizing, tell them you're just checking up on an investment!

And by the way, money leftover at the end of the year goes into an expansion fund which will be used sometime in the future to make a bigger and better Union. Even I don't get paid!

Theater To Present Attractions

The theater will come to Lubbock during December when two attractions are presented in the Lubbock Auditorium, "Hollywood Bowl Gay '90's Nite," and "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs."

Singing star Patricia Moriso will head a company of 52 people when "Hollywood Bowl Gay '90 Nite" is presented on Dec. 10 at 8 p.m. A nostalgic air of the "turn-of-the-century" will be created on the stage as songs from the Gay '90's, Franz Lehár's "Merry Widow" and from "The Minstrels" will be featured.

Tickets are now on sale for the production at the Lubbock Auditorium Box Office. Student tickets are $2.

On Dec. 18 there will be change of pace as Joan Blondstein stars in William Inge's hit play "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs." She heads the Broadway cast of the dramatic theatrical which tells the story of life in small Oklahoma town in the 1920's.

Tickets are now on sale for the production also. The Lubbock Auditorium Box Office is open from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Kappas to Honor

Former Director

The members and pledges of Kappa Kappa Gamma will honor Mrs. Dorothea Humphrey, former Province Director of Chapter from Fort Worth, with a reception from 2-7 p.m. Wednesday in the Kappa lodge.

Some of the Tramp activities during the year are: beginning the year by aiding in the Freshman Convocation; being on hand at all pep rallies and helping the yel-leaders coordinate the rallies; meeting all visiting teams and offering their services in any way needed.

Being on hand at all football and basketball games in order to help keep school spirit up — win, lose, or draw; taking charge of the Victory Bells their ringing after every victory.

Putting on the Homecoming bonfire, effigy building and many other Homecoming projects; helping to sponsor the "Little 500" bicycle race each spring.

Assisting in the activities of the Spring Festival; and aiding the Student Council in selling tickets for the school trip.

THE LARGEST undertaking ever attempted was raising over $5000 for the Saddle Tramp South-west Conference Circle where pep rallies are held.

The 90 members of the Saddle Tramps are led by Pete Baker, president; Larry Campbell, vice president; Bob Sandidge, secretary; James Coggins, treasurer; and Joe Smith, sergeant-at-arms.

As the year progresses, the red-shirted men will add spirit to coming basketball games.

Pack Judges Count Tonight

Philip Morris' fall "Save-a-Pack" contest ends at 10 p.m. today, according to Arthur Mayhew, campus representative.

All organizations entering the contest must have their empty packs or boxes of Marlboro, Parliament, Alpine and/or Philip Morris delivered to 506 45th Street by the 10 p.m. deadline in order to be eligible for the contest.

An impartial judge will count the boxes and the winner will receive a 1960 console television set, courtesy of Philip Morris.

NEW PRODUCTS LEAD TO BETTER JOBS AT DUPONT

COULD YOU MAKE A BETTER BATHING SUIT?

The suits these girls are wearing are made of nylon, the first truly synthetic fiber. It is a product of DuPont research. Pure research. Applied research. And research in manufacture, research in product improvement. All require many types of skills.

You may not discover a new fiber, but as a technical man you can profit well anyway. For once a product—any product—is discovered, hundreds of technical men go to work. Pilot plants are designed. Operating procedures are devised. New plants are built. Manufacturing methods are improved. Product quality is worked on, backed by DuPont's policy: Let's make it better . . . still better . . . even better. Discovery is but the starting shot; these later activities are the game. The players? Men of every technical specialty.

You'll find a teamwork atmosphere at DuPont. Others have. Maybe that's part of the reason half of DuPont's profits today come from products unheard of twenty-five years ago.

If you join DuPont, the men who have worked on new products and ways to make them are the men who will teach you. You will be given an actual project assignment almost at once, and you will begin to learn your job by doing it. Advancement will come as rapidly as your abilities permit and opportunities develop. For DuPont personnel policy is based firmly on the belief in promotion from within the company strictly on a merit basis.

For more information about career opportunities at DuPont, ask your placement officer for literature. Or write us, E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. (Inc.), 2420 Nemours Building, Wilmington 93, Delaware.

180 Will Participate In YMCA Meeting

One-hundred and eighty West Texas high school students will participate in the Young Men's Christian Assn. Youth and Government Pre-Legislative program Dec. 5 in the Tech Union.

The students will train in government committee procedure and gain practical experience in legislative proceedings in the morning.

H. J. "Doc" Blanchard, area state representative, will brief delegates on committee and house procedure.

A model house of representatives session in the afternoon is planned to give the delegates experience in officiating and in debating bills on the floor.

Two Tech students, Mary Jane Gordon and Morris Sheats, past pre-legislative delegates, will assist Dr. Cecil Johnson, chairman of the conference, in evaluating legislative bills submitted by students. Johnson is an assistant professor of government.

Four bills will be selected for discussion and debate.

Selection of a gubernatorial nominee, president pro-tem of the senate and calendar clerk of the senate will highlight the evening activities.

These and officers from five other pre-legislature conferences throughout Texas will officiate at a model legislature in Austin in February.

Counselors Slate Talks

Three Air Force counselors will explain the opportunities in the Air Force available to young men and women with college training Wednesday.

"There are opportunities available in the Air Force for the flying officer that cannot be acquired anywhere else," Captain Owen A. Lansdowne said. "How far we can go in space and how long we can remain free depends to a great extent on how efficient our pilots and navigators are. Man has not been removed from flying and in all probability never will be." Capt. Lansdowne heads the team.

First Lt. G. Dennis Leadbetter will discuss the Officers Training School. This program is designed for the man or woman having a degree and wishing to obtain a commission with the Air Force. The school, located at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, has three month terms and is co-educational. Upon completion the graduates are given a Second Lieutenant's commission.

The third member of the team is Airman First Class Zonia L. Delk. She will be the counselor in charge of the women's programs. When not on recruiting duty, she is a flight hostess with the military air transport service.

DR. FROOD ON HOW TO BE A BEATNIK

I've drawn up instructions for becoming a Beatnik: Let your hair grow until your hearing is noticeably impaired. When beard covers your tie, discard tie. Hang your shoes and socks in effigy. Sell your sink for scrap. Stock your room with cigarettes—because you won't be allowed on the street any more. (Better make 'em Luckies and enjoy your isolation!)

COLLEGE STUDENTS SMOKE MORE LUCKIES THAN ANY OTHER REGULAR!

When it comes to choosing their regular smoke, college students head right for fine tobacco. Result: Lucky Strike tops every other regular sold. Lucky's taste beats all the rest because L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco.

Woodard Out At Wichita U.

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Chalmers (Woody) Woodard gave up the head grid coaching post at the University of Wichita Monday, turning down a one-year contract offer.

The 42-year-old Woodard, who came to the Missouri Valley Conference school from Southern Methodist University three years ago on a three-year contract, gave this brief note to W. H. (Tippy) Dye, Wichita U. director of athletics:

"After careful thought and with due regard for the welfare of the football squad, the football staff, and the football program at the University of Wichita, I feel it unwise to accept the university's offer of a one-year contract."

Woodard coached teams at Wichita have a 10-18-2 record.

Top Cage Teams Swing Into Action

Some of the nation's top teams and stars will be in action tonight when the major college powers tap off for the start of the 1959-60 basketball season.

Many smaller schools already have begun skirmishing but for the big set Dec. 1 is the official opening day. Before the night is out, fans will have a good idea of what's to come.

Cincinnati, with All-American Oscar Robertson, West Virginia, with All-American Jerry West, Ohio State, with highly touted Jerry Lucas, a 6-9 sophomore, St. John John's of New York, with versatile Tony Jackson, and always powerful Kentucky, are among the highly regarded games slated to show their stuff.

'Father of Atom Sub' to Visit Tech

Adm. Hyman G. Rickover will address the student body at 10 a.m. Dec. 9 at Municipal Auditorium.

The speeches are sponsored by the Student Council. Rickover will be introduced by Rep. George H. Mahon of Lubbock.

Hyman George Rickover was born Jan. 27, 1900, in Russia, the son of Jewish parents. His father, a tailor, came to the United States in 1904 and settled in New York. Two years later he brought over his family.

While in high school in Chicago, Rickover worked as a delivery boy and telegraph messenger. He received an appointment to Annapolis and graduated in the top quarter of the class of 1922.

Five years later he returned to the Naval Academy to study electrical engineering. The Navy then sent him to Columbia University where he earned a master of sciences degree in electrical engineering.

While working for the Atomic Energy Commission at Oak Ridge, Tenn., in 1946-47, Rickover became convinced of the feasibility of an atomic submarine. He submitted plans to the Navy for one, but these were turned down.

He succeeded in winning the support of Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, Chief of Naval Operations, who had had much submarine experience. With Nimitz's support the Secretary of the Navy approved the atom-powered submarine project and Rickover went to work.

Rickover selected his staff personally, drawing men from industrial, educational and research fields as well as from the Navy. He chose only those who had a burning desire to make nuclear power a reality.

While he was selecting his staff, he became an outspoken critic of the American educational system. He called for a complete reorganization and said that nothing short of that could "equip us for winning the educational race with Russia."

Rickover attacked what he termed "trivial" courses and the idea "in the name of democracy" that all students should receive the same treatment in spite of widely diverse mental capacities. He recommended longer school days, weeks and years.

His philosophy is this: "The more you sweat in peace, the less you bleed in war." He works hard at spreading the doctrine that the United States must do a lot of sweating if it expects to keep a technological lead over the Soviets.

Rickover has never shown much concern for rank, procedure and "channels" of the Navy. This shook the regular Navy promotion selection boards, who passed over him twice for promotion from captain to rear admiral.

Without some special action this would have forced his retirement on June 30, 1953. Navy Secretary Robert B. Anderson then intervened on Rickover's behalf. He directed the Navy to convene a selection board for the sole purpose of promoting one engineering captain "experienced and qualified in the field of atomic propulsion machinery for ships"—a description that exactly fitted Rickover.

As a result the captain received the temporary rank of rear admiral and remained in active service. President Eisenhower then nominated him for the permanent rank of rear admiral. Before long several Congressmen suggested that Rickover be promoted to vice admiral.

There was considerable criticism in Congress because Rickover was not invited to a White House ceremony at which the Nautilus' trip under the North Pole icecap was announced and her commander decorated with the Legion of Merit.

Navy Secretary Thomas S. Gates apologized for the failure to invite the nuclear sea power pioneer. He said, "The nomination of Navy witnesses to the award ceremony was made by the Navy."

A group of Congressmen started a move to honor Rickover for his work on atomic reactors, and Congress unanimously adopted a resolution to award him a gold medal costing up to $2,500.

In the fall of 1958 Rickover was promoted to the rank of vice admiral. The following spring he received the medal authorized by Congress. He was the third admiral to be honored with the medal. Others were Richard Byrd, the polar explorer, and Ernest King, top naval officer of World War II.

He conducted Frol R. Koslov, first deputy premier of the Soviet Union, through the Shippingport nuclear power plant. Two weeks later Rickover was a member of Vice President Nixon's party on a visit to Russia. He found the Russians hesitant about showing him the reactors of their icebreaker Lenin.
