Parade Kicks Off Thursday Activities

Plans are nearing completion for the National Intercollegiate Rodeo set to begin Thursday in Lubbock Municipal Coliseum.

First performance is scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday followed by performances Friday and Saturday at the same time.

Rodeo Queen contest, won by Almeida Ratliff, a parade, an interfraternity wild mare race, an intersorority goat sacking contest and a rodeo awards dance are featured attractions of the three-day event.

Parade will begin at 4 p.m. Thursday in downtown Lubbock. Deadline for riding group and organizational entries has been set at 10 p.m. today. Entries may be made by contacting George Spinks, parade chairman, at the Rodeo Office in Tech Union or call PO 5-8541, Ext. 470.

Rodeo stock will be furnished by Walter Alsbaugh of Alamosa, Colo., who furnished stock for NIRA National Championship Finals Rodeo. Included in his stock is the famous Brahman bull "Mickey Mouse," ridden after 157 consecutive failures by Lubbock Christian College cowboy Ed Workman.

James Miekler of Abilene will be announcer for the rodeo and clowns will be Perry Williams of Kermit and Jiggs Young of Ringgold. Judges are Dick Barrett of Ryan, Okla. and Dave Hopper of Hereford.

Tickets are now on sale at Tech Union; McQueen's Boot and Saddle Shop, 1110 Ave. K; Excel Frontier Shop, 1107 13th and Bill Price's Western Shop, 2854 34th.

FROM HEMMORAGE

Roberts Improves

Condition of James Scott Roberts, hospitalized in Amarillo after a brain hemorrhage last Thursday, was reported as improved yesterday.

DOCTORS WERE reported as feeling the youth was doing as well as could be expected. Time of an expected operation still is not definitely set.

Roberts was said to be conscious and talking with members of his family Sunday.

A TECH CIVIL engineering junior last semester, Roberts had left school at the end of the fall semester and was visiting a friend, Billy Johnson, on a farm near Friona Thursday when the hemorrhage occurred.

After passing out at about 1 p.m., he was taken to the Friona hospital, where a doctor stated he had a broken blood vessel in his head.

A BRAIN specialist from Amarillo was called in Thursday night and Roberts was moved to an Amarillo hospital Friday about 2 p.m.

X-rays were taken about 5 p.m. Friday, and it was then reported several small blood vessels had broken. Doctors decided to postpone definite plans for an operation until Roberts was improved.

ALTHOUGH A first report indicated the youth was paralyzed, later reports have shown that no paralysis has been present. Doctors seemed to be of the opinion that this was a good sign.

Three to Attend Debate Tournament

Two students and one professor will represent Texas Tech at a Delta Sigma Phi, national honorary fraternities society, meeting at John Carroll University in Cleveland Thursday through Saturday.

TOM REAGOR, business administration senior, and Kip Glasscock, A&S freshman will debate on "The United States Should Provide Economic and Military Assistance in Latin America Only to Nations with Democratic Governments." The debate will consist of six rounds—four conventional and two cross-examination rounds.

Reagor and Glasscock will also participate on "How Can We Best Improve Relations with Latin American Countries?"

GLASSCOCK WILL enter the persuasive speaking contest, while Reagor will participate in extemporaneous speaking on current national and international affairs.

Dr. P. Merville Larson, Tech speech department head, who is Delta Sigma Rho national vice president, will be in charge of two student roundtable discussions. They will be on "How can Delta Sigma Rho Become a More Significant Organization and Command Greatest Possible Respect on University Campuses?" and "How Can the National Delta Sigma Rho Forensic Meet Be Improved?"

More than 40 students from colleges and universities throughout the United States will take part in each contest.

CHOIR TRIALS TO START

Tryouts will be conducted for Tech choral groups from Friday until the end of Dead Week in Room 254 A of the Music Building.

Mr. Gene Kinney, choral director, will conduct the tryouts for Tech Choir, Tech Singers, Male Glee Club and Girl Glee Club.

Editor Names '59-'60 Staff

RALPH W. CARPENTER, next year's FOREADOR sports editor, announced Monday the sports staff for next year's paper.

Associate Sports Editor is Wayne Glenn, senior from Big Spring who has previously worked with the Texas A&M BATTALION.

Applications for staff sports writers are now being taken by Glenn.

HEAD SPORTS writer is Vernon Stewart, sophomore journalism major from DeLeon, who has formerly worked with Bill Holmes in the Tech sports publicity office, and is a member of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity.

BILL McMINN, sophomore journalism major from Stratford, is also a member of the sports staff.

Foods Course Will Be Open

A course in techniques of food demonstration will be offered for the first time during a summer school session by the food and nutrition department.

Mrs. Gladys Holden, Tech assistant professor of food and nutrition, will conduct the course with the assistance of visiting professional demonstrators.

THE COURSE is designed especially for persons who use demonstrations in their professional activities.

Topics to be covered in the course include interpreting current food and nutrition research, recent developments in lecture - demonstration techniques and demonstration of the "quickie" meal. Special emphasis will be on reliable source material with samples for distribution.

Groups Named Winners In L.V. Layout Contest

Sigma Kappa, social sorority, and Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, are winners in the La Ventana page layout contest.

THE "STARS of Sigma Kappa" was the winning layout in the Fraternity-Sorority section with members' pictures scattered over a black background as stars viewed through a telescope. The Alpha Phi Omega layout was a playboy theme.

Runner-up among sororities was Kappa Alpha Theta with Alpha Tau Omega being the second place fraternity. Second place in the independent section went to the Gargoyle Society architecture and art club, for their layout based on a travel poster. The American Institute of Architecture took third place for their modernistic architectural blueprint design.

Winners in each section will be refunded the money spent for their page layout.

Fabrics Selected For Display

PRIZE-WINNING fabrics by an ex-Techsan and a member of the applied arts faculty have been selected to remain on display in the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts through May 17 as part of a contemporary weavers exhibit.

A new hand-weaving technique developed by Mrs. Meda Parker Johnston asst. prof. of applied arts and improved by Mrs. Elva Powell, Lubbock, a former student of Mrs. Johnston's, has won statewide recognition.

BY COMBINING a silk screen print with weaving, Mrs. Powell produced the fabric which took second place in the wearing apparel division of the State Weavers Conference, held at Dallas. The fabric is for an evening dress.

Speaking for the judges, Karl Laurell of Syracuse, N. Y., said the hand-weaving technique used by Mrs. Powell produced a texture and "feeling" that cannot be found in commercial fabrics.

MRS. JOHNSTON took third place in the same contest with a fabric designed for a lounge coat.

ALTONA, Man. (AP) — Zero, a cow, is recovering with nothing worse than a severe hangover after celebrating the birth of her twin calves by drinking two gallons of alcohol antifreeze.

HER OWNER had left the liquid in a bucket in his barn after draining it from a tractor. Zero decided it was just the thing to quench her thirst after the blessed event.

The farmer called veterinarians, Agriculture Department representatives and even the poison center at Minnipeg Children's Hospital seeking an antidote. None could be found. So Zero selt it off.

Textile Engineering Expands To New Wing

"WE ARE expanding into less space!" says Prof. Raymond K. Flege, head of the Textile Engineering department.

The new wing being built on the Textile Engineering building will house the "pocket-size" textile mill, classrooms, offices, and laboratories the present building holds, plus new equipment, and space will be left over for expansion.

THE TRICK is in more efficient use of the space.

The present building, one of the first at Tech, will be remodeled and used by industrial engineering and engineering drawing classes. The renovation should be completed in October, while the new extension is scheduled to be ready the first of June.

THE EXTENSION is a long, single-story wing parallel to the existing building, and connected on the east by a two-story wing to the older building. The textile department's offices, a fiber testing laboratory, and engineering drawing classrooms will take up the connecting wing, and the textile mill will occupy the longer structure.

The latest machinery for processing cotton from the bale to yarn ready for weaving will be installed.

THE MILL, in addition to serving as a laboratory for textile engineering majors, is used by the Texas. The committee works to extend the use of cotton to make a bigger market for Texas cotton farmers, and to improve processing methods.

"Cotton grown on the South Plains is equal to that grown anywhere in the world," Flege stated.

ONE-SIXTH of all the cotton produced in the United States is grown within 50 miles of Lubbock, he said, and Tech, in the middle of this area, is the only college west of the Mississippi River offering a degree in Textile Engineering.

There are only ten colleges in the nation offering this degree, and of the ten only three are accredited. Tech is one of these three.

FOR YEARS, the textile industry has been centered in the east, but there is a great westward expansion on now, and Tech and the South Plains are leading the movement, Flege added.

Honorary Initiates Freshmen

Thirty-four freshman women who achieved a 2.5 grade average or better the fall semester were initiated into Alpha Lambda Delta honorary fraternity recently.

ELIZABETH SAUNDERS, Carolyn Schmiech, Auburn Spencer, Virginia Stowell, Mary B. Welch, Jane Williams, Barbara Woodson and Shirley Wyatt.

Two more members will be initiated, and officers elected at the next meeting, 5 p.m. Thursday.

The two girls to be initiated are Linda Anderson and Jane Merritt.

Alexander Pictures Texas Wild n' Wooly

by MARY SONNEN

GUN-SLINGIN' cowboys and the wild life of the West were the images Ted Alexander brought to Texas from Austria. The assistant professor of languages admits that he had wanted to come to the United States since he was 13, but he didn't make it until 1938, when he came to join his brother in the East.

Because of the interest of his little son, Ricky, in cowboys and horses, Alexander has been taking him to meetings and activities of the Texas Tech Rodeo Assn., which recently gave both Alexander and Ricky honorary membership cards and pins.

AS A YOUNG boy in Austria, Alexander read many of the works of Karl May and Zane Grey and developed a vivid interest in cowboys and the western way of life here in Texas.

While living in Europe, Alexander attended the Universities of Czechoslovakia and Vienna and later received a B.S. and M.S. at Texas Tech. All of the books of the Western United States that he read were German translations, and now Alexander is teaching his language here at Tech.

AS ONE of his hobbies he lists the history of Lubbock and surrounding areas and stories and legends of the same. Another hobby on Alexander's list is Der Lieberkranz, Tech German Club, and its annual show.

Besides his career of teaching, Alexander has been active in the Lubbock Cancer Society, Community Chest, and is presently on the Executive Committee of South Central Modern Language Assn.

ALEXANDER is firm in his belief that every Texan should be loyal and true to his state and should also promote the "western spirit".

Bits From Birdie

by merium jackson

"You know, cats are a curious bunch!"

THAT'S WHAT Birdie remarked recently. It seems that in search of news his bird's eye wandered too far and Birdie got lost.

He, like Gulliver, found himself in a land of horror. Birdie was in the land of cats!

BIRDIE soon found himself in a cage with four of the gigantic animals. However, they seemed to be no mood to harm, and after the Bird had satisfied himself that the cats would not harm him, he asked why they were so entrapped.

It seems they had been in the service of the King Cat for years.

Though the King admitted that their service had been without fail, often many hours over the prescribed time he wanted new servants.

AFTER ALL, it was very plain to see, experience meant nothing. Fusta, the cat who had been the castle treasurer for three years, could be easily replaced by a kitten of the right color.

This was the key. The King wanted new color in his castle. He had nothing against the four cats in prison, except their color.

SO OF COURSE, they were shot.

Birdie escaped with the opening of the cage and bids adeu for this year and always.

finals near, but does dead week?

THE CALENDAR shows that Tech students have 15 more days, counting week-ends, in which to prepare for final exams.

In view of the short period of time left in which to prepare for the finals, students should begin reviewing in their spare time.

Spare time is about the only time that students can review — at least in some of their classes, as regular class work will continue until the first day of finals in many courses.

Ignoring what they choose to call "dead week," many faculty members will assign homework — even major papers — during the week preceding the finals.

This week has been designated "deadweek," because students are supposed to review for the finals during this period. To insure a better climate for studying, social activities have been cut out during this week.

This is fine. Students should sacrifice a little of their social lives in order to make better grades, since the students have sacrificed their social activities toward that end. Instructors should not cover regular classwork during dead week, but rather should review for the finals.

Restricting student activities during dead week won't do much good if students' time is taken up by regular assignments anyway.

Reasons given for allowing instructors to use dead week for review or regular work as they see fit vary from lack of faith in the sense of fair play of some of the faculty members to lack of faith in the students.

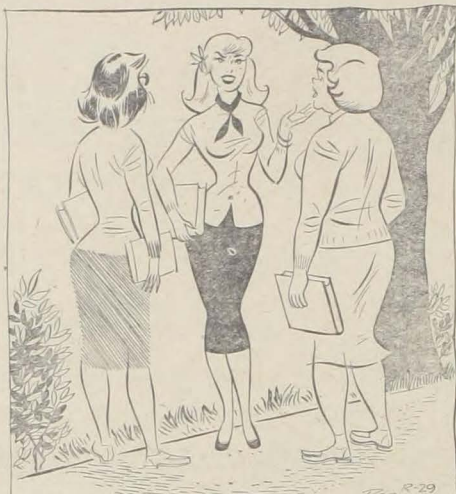

Certain faculty members point out that some OTHER faculty members would use dead week for regular work no matter what, and the students would spend all their time preparing for those courses, and wouldn't be able to review anyway.

It is also pointed out that students wouldn't review if given the chance. Both arguments aren't well-founded.

If a week of review were made official, few faculty members would dare to violate it. Also, those students who refused to use dead week for review would be punished by lower grades on the finals, while those who reviewed would be rewarded by higher grades.

Developing a successful dead week will take effort from both faculty and student body, but the end sought is a desirable one.

nira rodeo shows western-style tech

POLISH YOUR BOOTS AND SPURS, West Techsians, because Tech's NIRA rodeo begins Thursday and ends Saturday.

Sponsored by the Tech Rodeo Assn., the rodeo promises entertainment for Techsians, Lubbockites and West Texans, as some of the best collegiate teams in the Southwest will participate.

The rodeo has long been associated with the West, and Techsians — that is, those from this section of the country — will have the opportunity to view a form of entertainment connected with their region.

Those students from other sections of the country can see a form of entertainment that is representative of the section of country they are attending college in.

Besides its historic value, the rodeo will be very entertaining for those attending, as it will present conflict, humor and action.

Other features of the rodeo include an opening day parade Thursday and a rodeo queen. Fraternities and sororities will have the opportunity to participate in a wild mare race and a goat sacking race respectively.

Proceeds from the rodeo will be used to cover the $5,000 cost and to buy jackets for rodeo team members. Prizes of belt buckles, trophies, shirts and hats will be awarded to the winning contestants.

The Tech rodeo promises to be entertaining, and Techsians would do well to attend it. Besides, Tech's rodeo team is entered, and can use some support.

JUST SOME GAB

Where's The Names

J.S.G.

Some years ago (I'm told), William Shakespeare wrote some very nice things, among which were the words, "What's in a name? A rose by any other name would smell as sweet." To which thought I should like to sigh, "Amen." However, if we were to paraphrase the latter part to better suit our own ends, there might be some, truth in these words: "A skunk by any other name would still stink!" Through this devious manner, I leap into the point at hand: namely, that of names and their worth in certain, restricted instances.

LAST FALL, during the annual dashings hither and yon for various and sundry class tickets, there came up the problem of those who would be teaching certain courses. I was captivated by the names of the classes, but was quite depressed to note no names of instructors (a normal thing, I was informed, and had heretofore noticed it in passing), but nonetheless, I was curious to know, "How come?" Surely, the persons in the Faculty were of high enough caliber (it's reported) that it would not harm their prestige to be listed. Too, there could have been no loss of life involved through the printing. So, again, I asked, "How come?"

No one answered but as I rounded the northeast corner of the Ad building's third tier, I was happily confronted with what I shall call the "government" department's bulletin board, since I don't really know what it is. Hereon posted was a large type-written notification of all the sundry courses in that field which were being offered for that upcoming fall semester. "Glory be!" I exclaimed, "They've posted the instructors for each course along with the class itself." I thought that this was truly a wonderful thing for such a large department to undertake. More recently, I've pondered this miracle moroso than then, but at that time I merely was thankful that I at least would have ONE course in which I would know the instructor prior to the first session of class (the fact that he and I were in service together years ago was only another cause of my jubilation; quite secondary, you know).

RETURNING to the subject for which all this jabber will serve as a foundation, allow me to note that I have since asked myself (and others), "How come? How come is it that the government department can do this thing and that other departments cannot?" (Or perhaps I should ask "... will not?"). Assuming that I am a thinking man even if I don't smoke the right brand and have weird hobbies, these names — the missing ones on the schedule of classes — are important to ME and, I daresay, to EVERYONE who enters these halls with a yearning for learning. Yessir, for MY money — it's YOURS too, you know — I would like very much NOT to buy pigs in polkes (with no personalities inferred, involved nor intended). What's in a name, huh? In this case, money!

Clubs, Frats, Sororities, and those of us who are left should get behind the current drive of one Jim McCulloch to insist on this small thing . . . but it means all of us DOING something about it.

SOMEHOW I KEEP remembering an excerpt from Dan Defoe's REVIEW, when asked by what rule almanac makers went. He said something like this; "... Why by the rule of picking your pocket, by what rule should they go? And as long as there are fools to stand it, there will ever be knaves to practice it, especially when they can get by with it, too . . ."

HMMMMM?

Techsians Talk Back

anonymity is backed

Editor,

With all due respect to Don Ledwig's opinion concerning the signing of names to letters printed in the TOREADOR, I submit that he has perhaps overlooked a thing or two. First, it seems to me that any letter which presents facts or honest opinions on any subject should not be barred from print simply because of a technicality imposed by a hard-headed journalist. The concept of a "free press" suggests the right to air conflicting viewpoints by bringing them into the public's eyes, and whether or not an author makes himself known should be up to him.

SECONDLY, it is not a matter of giving the readers "the opportunity to judge for themselves the competency of the writers" so much as to give them the opportunity to judge the facts. If the opinions presented are not factual, then the alert mind will see through them and eventually reject them.

ENTER OFTEN—HAVE FUN—AND WIN! But think carefully! This puzzle is not as easy as it looks. At first the DOWN and ACROSS clues may appear simple. There may appear to be more than one "right" answer. For example, the clue might read: "Many a coed will be given her best date's P-N." Either "I" (PIN) or "E" (PEN) would seem to fit. But only one answer is apt and logical as decided by the judging staff, and therefore correct. Read the rules carefully. ENTER AS OFTEN AS YOU WISH. Good luck!

CURRENTLY ON a national tour, the collection is open to the public without charge. It has been viewed by more than a half million persons in Los Angeles, Kansas City, Oklahoma City, Des Moines, Cleveland, New York and other cities.

THEY INCLUDE 30 from the United States, 10 from France, four each from Italy and England and one each from Ireland and Canada.

Artists were commissioned by Hallmark Cards of Kansas City to submit a work with a Christmas theme. Ten of the paintings were selected by a panel of judges as winners of $6,500 in cash awards in the third international fine arts competition sponsored by the greeting card company.

FIRST PRIZE of $2,000 was won by Massimo Campiglio of Milan, Italy, for his water color entitled "Children Playing". Robert Vickrey of New York captured second place and $1,500 for his work, "Winter Time." "Nativity", an entry by Paris' Jean Carjou, took the $1,000 third place award.

Mimeo, Mail Room Plays Many Roles

by TRAVIS HARRELL

HAVE YOU mailed 700,000 letters this year? That is the number of four-cent stamps that the $28,000 postage used in the college Mimeograph and Mail Room this year would amount to.

The mimeograph department was established in 1926 under the direction of S. T. Cummings, Tech purchasing agent, and in 1948, the job of handling the college mail was given the department.

JOE WINNEGAR, who came to Tech in 1953, is the present supervisor of the department which sorts, stamps and ships the official college mail and supplies much of the mimeographed materials for campus organizations.

Postal equipment is among the most modern available. A set of scales will show the exact weight and postage needed for an item when the correct zone indicator is pressed.

A STAMPING machine can stamp and seal 12,000 letters in two and one-half hours, keeping four men busy feeding the letters into it, and sorting and tying them for shipment.

A small portion of the mail processed by the department during the past year consisted of 18,892 catalogs for 1958.

DURING AN especially busy day, the mimeograph room is filled with towering stacks of yellow, pink, green, blue, white or salmon-colored paper.

The first fully automatic electric mimeograph machine was purchased in August, 1956. Two other mimeograph machines have been added since; one in August, 1957 and another in September, 1958.

BALLOTS, tests, memorandums and official reports are among the material copied. During the recent elections of student council representatives, 8,000 ballots were produced for the run-off election. "Students who would like information pertaining to exams would be wasting their time here, because there is no record of any kind kept in this office. I do not know their contents myself," said Winnegar.

Spring Sports Have Finale Saturday

SWC Spring Meet Opens In Houston

Spring sports at Texas Tech will make its final bow this weekend in College Station at the Southwest Conference spring meeting.

The tennis tournament begins Thursday morning, golf starts Friday and track begins Friday afternoon.

Rice, following a 5-1 win over Tech here Saturday is the conference tennis champ. The Owls wound up with a 34-2 record for the season.

THE RAIDERS, who finished 19-17, warmed up yesterday afternoon with a practice match against Hardin-Simmons.

Saturday Tech had little to crow about save a brilliant 6-1, 6-1 win by Bob Macy over Ronnie Fisher in the No. 1 singles match. In other results Paul Como (Rice) beat Phil Meisinger, 7-5, 8-6; Art Foust (Rice) beat John Kniffen, 6-2, 6-0; and Doug Bashrum (Rice) beat Danny Scales, 6-2, 6-3 in the singles while Fisher and Foust beat Macy and Meisinger, 5-7, 6-3, 6-4 and Como and Bashrum beat Kniffen and Scales, 6-4, 6-3 in the doubles.

TECH'S GOLFERS, who only a week ago Monday, won the first SWC championship this school has gathered since it has been in the conference, will be ready to prove their victory was no fluke in action beginning Friday morning.

The varsity and freshmen track teams will also be on hand for the meet Friday afternoon. Tech's main hopes for victory rest with Dub Thornton in the high jump. The freshmen are expected to do rather well in their division.

SATURDAY the Raiders won their first track meet since 1955 by capturing their own Red Raider Relays. Tech's 70 points were followed by McMurry, 47½, Hardin-Simmons, 21 and West Texas State, 10½.

Thornton won his specialty with a leap of 6-5 3/4 while Dick Murphy won the highs, Tommy Davis won the 440-yard dash, James Pettit won the 220-yard lows and the broad jump, Pete Dyson won the mile run, and Charles Draper captured the 880.

Tech's Mile relay team composed of Roger Crawford, Davis, Murphy and Draper won their event with a time of 3:24.7.

Tech Will Play ACC Saturday

Texas Tech's baseball team will close out its schedule Saturday afternoon in Abilene meeting Abilene Christian College.

THE RAIDERS upped their season record to 7-5 with two slaughters, 19-4 and 19-3, of Midwestern over the weekend.

The Raiders blasted out 16 hits Friday and 20 more Saturday in the wins. Zan Miles and Charles Flanagan took advantage of the solid support and posted the wins.

JOE REAVES led the way in the first game with three for four including a double. Dave Allen, Jackie Miller, Bruce Boyd and Gehrig Garrison all had two hits. Garrison and Butch Adams both had home runs.

Saturday Tom Prichard led the hit parade with four for five including a double and a home run. Reaves again was tough with three hits including a homer, while George Gibson, Ken Warren and David Bourland each chipped in two apiece.

Both games saw coach Beattie Feathers empty his bench allowing everyone to see some action.

Sugar Ray Out

MULLENS, W. Va. (P) — Sugar Ray Robinson is no longer recognized by the National Boxing Assn. as the world middleweight champion, NBA President Ward Wylie said Monday.

In New York, Sugar Ray took the news calmly and said, "All they're doing is forcing me into retirement." He promised a more complete statement later.

The seven-foot plus Chamberlain said Monday he planned to meet with Gottlieb, owner of the Warriors, in the next day or so.

Whether radio and television will continue as an individual effort or will be made into a package deal like football also will be determined by the athletic directors. The idea is to get more coverage, not trim it.

Bosox Top K.C., 8-4

KANSAS CITY (P) — Two door-slamming performances by relief pitcher Bill Monbouquette and lusty hitting by Dick Gernert and Jackie Jensen paced the Boston Red Sox to an 8-4 victory over the Kansas City Athletics Monday.

The bases were filled with none out when Monbouquette took over from starter Frank Bauman in the bottom of the second. He struck out Dick Williams and Hetero Lopez and got Roger Maris to bounce to Dick Gernert at first.

MONBOUQUETTE himself filled the sacks in the sixth, issuing passes to pinch hitter Preston Ward, Whitey Herzog and Lopez before Maris again made the third out.

Monbouquette, now 1-0, held the A's to three hits, fanned six and walked five before yielding to Murray Wall after 7 2-3 innings.

Gernert was four for five at the plate, hitting run-scoring doubles in the sixth and eighth innings.

JENSEN SENT the ball over the left field fence for his fifth homer of the year in the ninth inning. Marty Keough was a board. Boston 002 002 022-8 8 2 Kan. City 300 000 010-4 7 1

THE QUESTION of bringing freshmen who have athletic scholarships under the same transfer rule as those who do not, also will be discussed. The conference believes it can best keep track of athletic eligibility and recruiting in that way. It can at least determine whether a boy is transferring for athletic reasons or other wise.

The annual tennis tournament starts Thursday morning. Ronnie Fisher of Rice, the singles champion, returns. Fisher and Art Foust of Rice also will defend their doubles title.

THE GOLF tournament, 72 holes of medal play, starts Friday with Don Massengale of TCU back to defend his title. Texas Tech is the team champion.

LINEUP

Lewis

This is the final addition of the Lineup column. It has been a real pleasure to write to you this year and hope you will read with interest next year's writers. It is my sincere wish that you have enjoyed reading this column as much as I have enjoyed writing it to you.

Spring sports come to halt this weekend with the Southwest Conference Meet to be held in Houston.

This year Tech seemed to come out better than all of the state sports writers predicted in Spring sports. This season sees Tech with it's first SWC title. The golf men gained the honor. This will not be the last title for Tech, the Raiders will be going after many more crowns in the future and there is no double in my mind that they will bring home the bacon on many occasions.

This spring saw some of the best basketball that Tech has ever produced. It was exciting ball with a cast that thrilled all spectators. This is not the last though, next year Gene Arrington and company move into the Coliseum with victory on their minds and believe me there will be some surprised people.

This spring also saw the Fijis took the basketball title and the Phi Delts are assured on at least a second in the softball race and will probably win it.

This spring also saw the Fijis take the basketball title and the picked for the bottom of the barrel, but proved they were better than last.

The track team turned in many good performances even though they were hampered by lack of personnel. Dub Thornton was a stand-out and is still ranked third in national high jump competition. Tommy Daxis, Richard Murphy, and company gained respect for Tech through their efforts at the cinder meets. They succeeded in winning the Red Raider Relays against better competition than some people expected. The Relays were a success for the sports program.

The athletic department is building and next year will be a trial year, with new material and new methods of play. The year to watch is 1960. The program is geared for winning and men are being recruited to fill the needed positions. The future of Texas Tech's athletic program looks bright indeed. The staff is working toward victory and it is our job to support their efforts and back them with team spirit such as never existed before. The job of winning rests as much on our backs as it does on the players. As long as we give our underlying support and stay with them through thick or thin then the future will be bright.

This newspaper tries to be a representative of the campus. Sometimes it fails due to writing that is not satisfactory. This shortcoming is human. What is needed is support and criticism of a constructive nature. It also needs greater support from the Tech publicity department, that will include information sent to us as it is to other newspapers of the area. This has been overlooked in the past and because of it the sports section of the Toreador has been unable to present news as it should. It is hoped that this failure will be corrected in the future and consideration of the student body will be made as important as the public in general.

Your support of Ralph Carpenter, next year's sports editor, is urged. Criticism aids in bringing to you what you as individuals would like from this your sports section. This paper is growing with Texas Tech and better and more complete coverage is the goal of the future.

All in all, this has been a great year and it's almost concluded. Study for those finals. John Lewis.
