GOP Leaders Called To Join Parley At White House On Neutrality Law

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—President Roosevelt has invited former Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas and Frank Knox of Chicago—the titular heads of the republican party—to a White House parley Wednesday at which leaders of the nation will consider America's neutrality program.

Stephen T. Early, a presidential secretary, said Mr. Roosevelt had talked with Landon and Knox by telephone last night and said they had accepted the invitation.

Early said Representative Mapes (R-Mich.), ranking minority member of the house rules and interstate commerce committees, also had been asked to the meeting.

The president arranged for the conference, a day before congress meets in special session to consider the neutrality issue, in order to get an exchange of views among bi-partisan leaders in the national legislature. The addition of Landon and Knox, which went outside of congress, was understood to be in the nature of further attempting to bury partisanship and politics during the present crisis.

Early said the president told him today "this is no time to call any of those who will take part in Wednesday's meeting, either republicans or democrats."

Early spoke of them as national leaders rather than political leaders.

The presidential secretary said the meeting would begin at 2 p. m. (CST) Wednesday and that Secretary Hull also would sit in probably as the only cabinet member.

Early replied with a firm "no" to a question about whether the decision to ask Landon and Knox.

TOPICKA, Sept. 18 (AP)—Former Gov. Alf M. Landon will leave for Washington tonight, "glad" of the opportunity to confer with President Roosevelt "in this serious situation."

The former governor declined comment on revision of the neutrality act.

"I don't think it would be proper to say anything at this time, when the president has called us to Washington for an exchange of views," he explained.

the republican presidential and vice presidential candidates in 1936, might be interpreted as a move in the direction of coalition or bi-partisan action.

Mr. Roosevelt continued conversations on the international situation by telephone, over the week-end. Early said, but has not yet touched pencil to paper on his message to congress for next Thursday.

Asked whether neutrality act restrictions might be applied to Russia, in view of her action in sending troops into Poland, Early said he had not heard it mentioned.

Meanwhile, friends of Senators Borah (R-Idaho) and Nye (R-ND) predicted they would seek to align senate republicans as a group against President Roosevelt's proposal to repeal the embargo against arms shipments to warring nations.

Although the senators were silent, persons close to them said there was no doubt they would

THIRD DATE FIXED FOR THANKSGIVING

ELKADER, Ia., Sept. 18 (AP)—Farther from the Clayton county, Iowa board of supervisors to line up with either side in this thanksgiving row.

The board approved a resolution to observe Thanksgiving on Nov. 16 this year "so as not to conflict with the dates set by the president of the United States and the governor of Iowa."

Governor George A. Wilson proclaimed Thanksgiving Nov. 30, the traditional date, Thursday of the month. President Roosevelt designated Nov. 23.

UNION SQUABBLE IS BLAMED FOR SLAYING

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 18 (AP)—Police today sought the slayer of Philip Carey, 26, newly-chosen secretary-treasurer of the Gulf district of the National Maritime Union (N.M.U.) in what they said was believed a revival of the internal fight within the union for control which has simmered for months.

Carey was beaten over the head and shot in front of a bar room last night by three assailants who fled, police said.

COUNTY AUTHORIZES DISCOUNT FOR EARLY PAYMENT OF TAXES

Discounts for early payment of current taxes on the Howard county and common school district rolls were authorized Monday by the county commissioners court.

The court passed an order to that effect shortly before noon to avoid county and common school district taxpayers of the opportunity provided under optional terms of Senate Bill 402 passed by the last legislature.

Under terms of the order, payment of taxes 90 days before the final due date would merit a three per cent discount. This would mean payment during October. Those settling current tax obligations during November would qualify for a two per cent discount and December

New Plan On Oil Problem?

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—The state department would neither confirm nor deny recurring reports today that new proposals for settlement of the Mexican oil expropriation dispute have been presented to President Cardenas by Ambassador Daniels.

A department official said he could not comment.

The state department formulated a compromise proposal in August for the appointment of boards of directors for the expropriated properties, but the proposal was rejected by the American oil companies which owned them.

Officials then said the government would continue its efforts.

Donald Richberg, attorney for the major companies affected, conferred for half an hour today with President Roosevelt.

Richberg told reporters he could not disclose the subject of the talk.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 18 (AP)—Mexico faced spreading European war today and the possible collapse of her German oil market with attention to President Lazaro Cardenas' demand for Mexican self-sufficiency.

In a speech yesterday answering a public demonstration in support of his policies, Cardenas urged that:

1. Mexicans strive to stimulate new sources of goods to make up for the country's lack of cereals and other products it now must import;
2. Land-owners and agricultural workers cooperate in augmenting production on communal farms and plantations;
3. The nation concentrate on cooperative industrial and manufacturing programs.

Should all taxpayers take advantage of the maximum three per cent discount, it would mean that the county would discount approximately $4,900 on its roll slightly in excess of $15,000,000. However, most officials agreed that at the outside the discount figure possibly would not exceed $2,900.

Payments during January would be on the same basis as always and delinquent tax status is unchanged.

For several years the Big Spring independent school district tax office has successfully operated such a discount system. Often times half of the taxroll is paid within the first two months.

Should all taxpayers take advantage of the maximum three per cent discount, it would mean that the county would discount approximately $4,900 on its roll slightly in excess of $15,000,000. However, most officials agreed that at the outside the discount figure possibly would not exceed $2,900.

Keating said that the trench site adjacent to the feed barn had been filled again and would be ready for use when feeding time rolls around in November.

RUSSIANS OCCUPY POLAND'S BORDER CITIES; FIGHT RENEWED FOR SEIZURE OF WARSAW

Nazi Reserves Pouring Into Siegfried Line

Defense Strengthened For Stand Against French Advance

PARIS, Sept. 18 (AP)—Thousands of steel-helmeted German reserves were reported flooding into the Siegfried Line today to strengthen Germany's stand against the French advance on Nazi soil.

Russian "Treachery"

The movement of German reserves toward the western front was regarded by military experts here as a sign nazis expect Polish resistance on the eastern front to collapse soon.

Russia's invasion of Poland shocked France, although the nation expected it. The press condemned it almost unanimously as treachery.

Officially, however, France gave no hint whether she would classify the Russian move as an act of war against allied interests or accept the soviet explanation the invasion was undertaken merely to protect Russian interests on the assumption the Polish government no longer existed.

Official circles, nevertheless, emphasized France and Great Britain were determined to "crush Hitlerism" and free Poland of foreign troops.

Premier Daladier came back from the German-French front to study the new circumstances.

Even as the premier returned praising the morale of French soldiers, it was reported Germany was releasing whole brigades of nazis troops to stiffen her west wall defense.

What many Frenchmen had predicted apparently was approaching reality—German and Russian forces were nearing a junction close to the Rumanian frontier where they would have a channel for Russia to send Germany supplies for her war in the west.

Informed sources here regard the entry of Russia into Poland a blow to neutrality of small states of southeastern Europe.

They consider Rumania particularly endangered because she holds territory once belonging to Russia. Should the conflict spread to the Balkans, these sources expect a quick reaction from Turkey.

In some French quarters also it is believed the Russian action may bring the official policy of Italy—still on the sidelines although a military ally of Germany—into sharper focus.

The French army now firmly holds the left bank of the Saar river from the German border city of Saargemines, where the river enters Germany, to Metz, where it nears Luxembourg.

The French reported fighting off numerous flanking movements attempted by the German infantry to gain summits overlooking Saarbruecken and Saarlautern, two important objectives in German territory.

Thus, the French dominate the whole Saar valley, rich industrial region which they have said more than offsets German mineral gains in the conquest of Polish Silesia.

The French also have thrown out a cordon threatening the right bank of the Saar river which they control from that side to Saarbruecken itself.

French reports indicated an aim to gain Saarbruecken and Saarbruecken virtually intact, although they said German artillery was threatening destruction of both.

In a communique issued this morning, the French general staff reported the night had been calm along the entire front, with only local advance guard actions. The communique did not designate the sectors where the skirmishes occurred.

Meanwhile, to balance German reinforcements the French doubled their own defensive lines.

CONFERR ON PLANS FOR FEEDING TESTS

J. M. Jones, Texas A. and M. extension service animal husbandry expert, conferred with W. E. Keating, superintendent of the U. S. experiment farm, here Saturday on prospects for the 1939-40 feeding tests at the farm.

Federal department of agriculture animal husbandry heads have not yet made proposals for the type of test to be followed this year and for two other seasons.

Keating said that the trench site adjacent to the feed barn had been filled again and would be ready for use when feeding time rolls around in November.

All other cases on the criminal docket were passed over until 8 a. m. Tuesday by Judge Cecil C. Callings who said that the remaining cases of the docket would be set for that time.

A large number of curious, most of them Mexicans, flocked into the courtroom Monday morning.

Poles Refuse To Withdraw From Capital

Nazis Soon May Put Air Force To Work On Western Front

BERLIN, Sept. 18 (AP)—Thousands of German official news agency reported tonight the German military effort to force Warsaw to surrender had been resumed after failure of Poles to negotiate for withdrawal of the city's inhabitants. It was not stated whether the beleaguered capital was being shelled.

To Western Front

Intimations the German air force soon may take a hand in the fighting on the western front were contained for the first time in today's communique of the supreme command.

It said the air force regarded its work in the east virtually ended and now was ready for tasks elsewhere. Berlin citizens yesterday and today observed members of the air force from the east arriving in the capital.

The German communique again emphasized complete dissolution of Polish forces by an encirclement movement.

The situation in Warsaw, Polish capital, was left unanswered. The communique merely said no Polish negotiator had appeared by last midnight although Warsaw had asked for his reception.

Authoritative sources, however, said threatened bombardment of the city had not begun.

The fate of Lwow, capital of the Polish Ukraine, 225 miles southeast of Warsaw, seemed sealed after its complete encirclement, and after Lwow, about midway of the Warsaw-Lwow road, had been captured, Germans said.

One-fourth of the Polish army, the communique claimed, faced destruction or dissolution in a narrow compressed space southwest of Wyszogrod, which is about 40 miles west of Warsaw.

The communique described the

Over 29,000 U.S. Workers In Texas

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—The federal government, with a total of 923,856 civil employees, has 29,785 on its payroll in Texas.

The civil service commission, making these figures public, emphasized they had no relation to the number of legal residents of the state employed by the government, some of whom may hold jobs in other states, many among the 1,011,461 federal employees in Washington.

Texas' population of 6,172,000 was 4.26 per cent of the estimated national total of 144,985,000 in July, 1937. The federal workers in the state constituted 3.22 per cent of the total government employment, and .48 per cent of the state's population.

Sadler Would Lift 2-Day Shutdowns

Mexican Goes To Trial Here

East Texas Field Would Not Be Affected

AUSTIN, Sept. 18 (AP)—Jerry Sadler, member of the state railroad commission, said today he would recommend to the commission that Saturday and Sunday closings of Texas oil wells long in effect be lifted immediately except for the East Texas field.

The top allowables would remain unchanged, however, and because exemptions of many wells from the two-day closings would be eliminated, the net effect, Sadler asserted, would be a sharp reduction in Texas' petroleum production.

By revising well allowables schedules to conform strictly to actual production and abolishing special allowables for new fields, additional clashes in production would be brought about immediately, Sadler continued.

If the commission adopted his shutdown proposal, he said, Texas' total crude output could be reduced 55,000 barrels daily below the September estimate of market demand for Texas oil made by the federal bureau of mines.

Lon A. Smith, commission chairman, said he had discussed the matter with Sadler but had reached no decision. Smith and Sadler were

Small States Worried Over Soviet March

BUDAPEST, Sept. 18 (AP)—Soviet Russia's swift thrust into Poland was watched today with fear and hope by heavily-armed neutral nations of southeastern Europe, at odds over their problems of transportation, minorities and disputed territories.

Questions were asked immediately in each capital whether Russia's military move to "protect" once-Rumanian minorities in eastern Poland would jeopardize or enhance their chances to hold or regain land won or lost in World war treaties.

At stake are vast areas, a wealth of resources and the fate of 10,000,000 people who live in lands outside the nations whose tongues they speak.

In Bulgaria, the soviet action was hailed widely as reviving hope for a forced revision of World war boundaries.

The opinion was expressed at Sofia that fast-moving events might put Bulgaria in a position to regain the rich Dobrudja section along the Black sea where 250,000 Bulgars live under the Rumanian flag.

In Rumania, a spokesman for Foreign Minister Grigore Gafencu said the Russian minister had given assurance the soviet union would continue to respect Rumania's territorial integrity.

Some observers said Rumania was in the most precarious position of the southeastern nations. Rumania has two territorial wor-

RUSSIANS FOES OF GERMAN?

CERNAUTI, Rumania, Sept. 18 (AP)—Major William H. Colburn, United States military attache, said today the commander of a Soviet Russian tank he encountered in Poland told him the Russians were "against the Germans."

Maj. Colburn, who has been in Poland as a military observer, said that yesterday he saw a column of 11-ton tanks on the road to Horodnica, about 40 miles northwest of here, going in the same direction as some Polish troops.

One of them pulled aside, told him to halt and a soviet officer came out. Maj. Colburn said he was cordial and polite. Colburn later talked to the tank commander and quoted the officer as saying "we are against the Germans."

MOSCOW, Sept. 18 (AP)—Germany and Soviet Russia today gave what was interpreted as a strong hint of intentions to create a small Polish buffer state when their invading armies finish conquering Poland.

A joint Soviet-German communique was issued declaring the intention of their armies was to help the Polish people "reconstruct conditions of their state existence."

MOSCOW, Sept. 18 (AP)—The Red armies of Soviet Russia swept deeper into war-weakened Poland from the East today as diplomatic circles predicted the buffer-state created after the World war would be divided again between its two invaders.

Word from the Red army general staff of a constantly narrowing wedge between Russia and Germany troops revived reports an armistice in the European war would be proposed as soon as Poland's fate is determined.

Such a proposal, diplomatic sources said, might be made by Russia or Germany's axis partner, Italy.

With the first move from the east that pinned Poland in a vise yesterday, Moscow informed Poland's allies, Britain and France, the Soviet Union would follow a neutral policy toward them.

In a radio broadcast by Premier-Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov and in his notes to 24 governments represented in Moscow, crossing of the frontier was described as necessary to protect once-Russian minorities in eastern Poland.

Molotov said the Polish government "ceased to exist," and the minorities—11,000,000 White Russians and Ukrainians—were "abandoned entirely to their fate."

A Russian broadcast said Red army troops had been given a warm welcome by the population of White Russia and in the Polish Ukraine.

It made no mention of fighting, although the radio last night acknowledged the Poles were putting

BRITISH AIRCRAFT CARRIER IS VICTIM OF NAZI SUBMARINE

By the Associated Press

The sinking of the British aircraft carrier Courageous, a 22,500-ton vessel, today raised the current European war's known shipping losses to 39 vessels with an aggregate gross tonnage of 198,658.

The Courageous, a British admiralty announcement said, was the victim of Germany's submarine warfare.

The warship, one of Britain's oldest aircraft carriers, was the navy's first craft officially reported sunk since war started fifteen days ago.

On this side of the world the American navy went ahead with its preparations for the annual war games in the Pacific despite the hostilities in Europe.

About 150 warships and several hundred planes, manned by more than 50,000 officers and men, will participate.

Meanwhile, the outcome of a battle between a British airplane and a German submarine that sank a British steamer remained a mystery.

The unusual fight between the rival over-sea and under-sea raiders was described by Capt. H. A. Pederson of the U. S. Lines' American Farmer last night in a radio message reporting his rescue of 23 crew members of the torpedoed British steamer Kastratia.

The rescue took place 400 miles off the Irish coast. Six men were reported missing.

Pederson said the U-boat which sank the 5,937-ton Kastratia used its rockets and blinkers to help the American Farmer locate the Kastratia's survivors.

In the midst of rescue operations, however, a British airplane appeared and bombed the submarine.

The submarine replied with machine gun fire, Pederson said, "then disappeared, leaving very white smoke on the surface."

Forces Likely To Meet Those Of Germany

Defending Armies Flee Into Rumania To Escape Soviets

CERNAUTI, Rumania, Sept. 18 (AP)—It was reported here today the Russian army, striking swiftly since its entry into Poland yesterday, now held the Polish-Rumanian border towns of Zaleszczyki and Sniatyn and was closing in on Kutny.

To Meet Germans?

Zaleszczyki and Kutny are about 40 miles apart; Sniatyn is about midway between them on a line running southwest.

Germans in their eastward drive still were reported more than 30 kilometers (about 31 miles) from Kutny. Foreign circles considered it likely the soviet divisions would seek to sweep the entire length of the Polish-Rumanian frontier and meet the Germans on the Polish-Hungarian border.

Battered remnants of the Polish army fled heading across the Rumanian frontier, barely escaping the advancing Russian troops. President Ignace Moscicki, Foreign Minister Josef Beck, other members of the government and the Polish general staff had reached here earlier.

Tanks, planes and artillery as well as hundreds of Polish soldiers were said to have surrendered to the Red army. More than 200 planes had landed in Rumania, many of the crewmen wounded.

Two planes of undetermined nationality were reported to have dropped incendiary bombs on Criscestce, Rumanian border town which already was suffering from a similar raid of last night when a sugar refinery was set fire. Eight peasant homes were destroyed and six persons were killed in the second attack, advices reaching here said.

Four were killed by bombs at another Rumanian border town—Kotringeni—Rumanian dispatches reported.

Moscicki and Beck were in virtual custody of Rumanian authorities who denied them permission to confer with other diplomats here. It was believed the Polish officials would leave shortly for Paris.

Meyer Not Downhearted Over Frogs' Prospects

The Sports Parade

By HANK HART

For the benefit of grandstand quarterbacks, whose number is legion, the inside dope on some big-time grid scoring plays is presented in a new feature which starts on today's sports page. Jim Crowley, whose Fordham football team have won 35, lost 8 and tied 7 since he took over there in 1933, explains favorite plays of leading college players. The first, a Minnesota power thrust, is pictured on this page.

There will be others from day to day, from which you can get interesting and expert information. Watch for the Football Photo-Diagrams.

Before we go wholly into the field of football, we ought to pronounce final rites in behalf of the 1939 West Texas-New Mexico baseball season, which ended officially Saturday night as the Lubbock Hubbers took their second title. They whipped the Pampa Oilers, 10-1, thus ending the final playoff series in five games.

It has been officially announced that there'll be no WT-NM-Arizona league series.

Such as we wanted the Barons to take a flag, we must admit this year's Shaughnessy playoff was not without justice. Teams 3 and 4 were eliminated at the start, and Team 2 was bowed out by Team 1. The Hubbers, after all, were the class of the league. Let's hope it'll be a different story next season.

There's nothing new to report on the Barons setup for next year. Negotiations still go on, we're informed, looking toward construction of a better plant, but no definite decision has been made public as yet.

Well, the big guns start booming over the gridirons this week, as collegians take to the field. The heavy artillery is reserved for another week, but this Friday and Saturday bring some teams into action, particularly West Texas squads.

Nearby, Bugs Morris' Abilene Christian outfit, considered potent this year, engages the North Texas Teachers at Sweetwater. The Teachers also are regarded favorably.

The Texas Teachers travel from Lubbock to El Paso for a Saturday night game with the Texas College of Mines, and Pete Cavonius is reported to be a little worried. He lost 14 top players last year, and the Miners are one club which holds an edge over the Red Raiders in

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT

FORT WORTH, Sept. 18 (AP)—The infallible rule of the Southwest conference—champions don't repeat—may trap mighty Texas Christian, but not without a back alley brawl.

It would take every break in the books, plus an absence of injuries, for the undefeated Christians of '38 to come through again. The opposition has toughened with age, some of the Christian stalwarts of a year ago are gone—and the hex is on.

Still, Coach Leo Meyer isn't as downhearted as he has license to be.

"My offense will be just about as good this year, although I may not have as much straightaway power. The line is a bit weaker."

Coach Meyer's statement about his offense is just a little short of startling, in view of the fact that Davey O'Brien and his touchdown arm has departed.

He has Jack Odle, "But I have Jack Odle," he beamed. "He isn't the player O'Brien or Sam Baugh was in senior years, but I'll say that so far, Odle is as good as any back I've had at Texas Christian. That is, up to his junior year. He has shown tremendous improvement. His scrimmage work has been excellent."

"He can pass that football—and don't you forget it. Of course, he will do our kicking, too. Connie Sparks, who is no greenhorn at kicking, will be in there with him."

Alongside this pair in the Christian backfield will be Logan Ware, a sliding tackle runner, and Earle Clark, the mad violinist whom all agree is about the roughest running back in the league. Coach Meyer may be right about his offense.

Starting with the ends, it would look as if his line is still solid as the Maginot Line. Veterans Don Looney and Durward Horner are the nearest pair of wingmen in this sector, and replacements Charlie Williams and Melville Ehlers are better than fair hands.

One of the main worries of a week ago has faded into insignificance. Big Bob Cook, starting left tackle feared out of play with a bad shoulder, went through a long scrimmage encased in a harness that will permit full play. His alternate, Ray Standley, has a bad knee and may not be ready. On the other side, Ennis Kerlee, junior letterman, gets the call, with sophomores Everett and Adams looking acceptable.

Two sturdy guards, Capt. Bud Taylor and Bob Sherrod, form the first string tandem, but Sherrod is out of commission, temporarily, with a shoulder separation. In good health, they will rank with the league's best set of middle-men. Seniors Binion and Chamberlain are reserves.

"Don't worry about our centers," said Meyer. "We'll be well manned there. Of course, we don't have a Kl Aldrich, but we have two swell ball players."

Minnesota Power Off Tackle

By Jim Crowley

Minnesota's Gophers are famed for their off tackle slant into which they pour a five-man interference, the guards pulling out of an unbalanced line to help the three backs. Fordham's Jim Crowley illustrates the play as the first of his Football Photo-Diagram series. The team work it, with Len Eshmont, Fordham's crack halfback, carrying the ball. Here are offensive blocking jobs: The left end bumps the right tackle. The center dumps the right guard as the left tackle aims for the right halfback. The right tackle moves against the left guard. The right end helps the right halfback block the left tackle. The interference smother the left end.

INDIANAPOLIS AND LOUISVILLE TAKE AA PLAYOFFS

By the Associated Press
Kansas City and Minneapolis ran away from the American association field in a season's span, but it required only five games for Indianapolis and Louisville to oust them from the Shaughnessy playoffs.

The two eastern division clubs each won their decisive triumphs yesterday—third place Indianapolis over pennant winning Kansas City 6 to 3, and fourth place Louisville over runner up Minneapolis, 6 to 2.

The winners meet tonight at Indianapolis in the first game of the championship round with the victor in the four-out-of-seven series qualifying to meet the International league playoff winner in the "little world series."

Bobby Riggs Takes Net Title, Beating Young Van Horn

Chicagoan Reaches His Goal, But Probably Can't Cash In On It

By GAYLE TALBOT
FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 18 (AP)—Bobby Riggs, the Chicago minister's son, finally has won the national men's tennis championship and made good a promise to himself of three years' standing.

He reached his goal late yesterday by knocking the spots from young Welby Van Horn of Los Angeles, 6-4, 6-2, 6-4, in 58 minutes.

Now all Bobby needs is somebody to tell him what to do with the fairest bauble of tennisdom.

Bobby came east three years ago with the avowed purpose of winning the championship, eventually, and cashing in on it.

At that time, the professional business looked very good. Ellsworth Vines, Fred Perry and Bill Tilden were making all kinds of money. But that was before they made the monumental mistake of inviting Donald Budge to join up with them.

Don, as everybody knows, put entirely too much amateur spirit into his battles with Vines and Perry last winter. He beat the socks off both of them, and he didn't do the professional touring business any good.

One fears there will be no popular demand for Riggs to turn pro-

Schoolboy Grid Action Opens On A Broad Front

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Staff

All but one of the state's Class AA schoolboy football teams will have seen action when the firing ceases this weekend.

Sixty-four games bring 96 teams into the won or lost column, with four that already have played games laying out, while the other—San Jacinto of Houston—waits until Sept. 30 to blast off the lid. The bombardment really begins this week with the state champion Corpus Christi Buccaneers starting the drive against an inter-sectional foe—Lafayette, La.

The top tilt of the week will probably be Gainesville's battle with Wichita Falls, with the clash of Adamson (Dallas) and Longview, Waco's tangle with Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) and Lufkin's melee with Austin of Houston as other standouts.

Thirty-six games last week found the schoolboys running up a total of 789 points which was rather low for early-season tilts, but further accentuated the fact that the high schools are leaning more toward strong opening tests rather than "breathers."

The conference drive starts this week in one district with El Paso High opening against Yaleta in the El Paso sector.

The schedule also carries more than thirty inter-district games along with nine inter-sectional tilts.

Cincinnati Lead Looks Longer As End Draws Near

Reds Keep Margin At 3 1/2; Split Twin Bill, But So Does St. Louis

Time is ticking away chances of clubs chasing the Cincinnati Reds in the National league, and some of them must know by now how a close sounds to the condemned.

Every day unreel from the senior circuit's crowded calendar in the last week has made Cincinnati's 3 1/2 game lead look longer.

(x) one game with New York cancelled.

The Reds and Cards divided doubleheaders yesterday. Cincinnati made nine errors, but Paul Derringer overcame six of them in the first game to beat the Bees, 6-5, for his 22nd victory. Boston took the nightcap, 5-3.

Carl Hubbell pitched the Giants to a 2-1 triumph over the Cards in the first game, but Fiddler Bill McGee reversed the tables in the second session to win by the identical score.

The Brooklyn Dodgers swept two games from Chicago virtually to eliminate the Cubs from pennant contention. The scores were 10-4 and 3-2.

The Pirates committed eight errors to lose the first game 7-3 to the Phillies, but grabbed the second installment, 10-1.

The Yankees relaxed, having clinched their fourth consecutive American League championship Saturday, and dropped a double bill to the St. Louis Browns, 3-1 and 3-1.

Five errors by the Cleveland Indians helped the Philadelphia Athletics beat Bob Feller, 4-2, but the Indians took the nightcap, 13-5.

Thornton Lee's soupy slants stymied the Boston Red Sox on three hits as the Chicago White Sox opened with a 6-1 victory, but Boston retaliated with an 11-7 conquest in the second.

Hank Greenberg's homer in the 11th inning decided Detroit's single game with the Washington Senators, 3-2.

The St. Mary's touchdown capped a 40-yard march on a pass and five line stabs after Left End Paul Buchanan had pounced on a Don fumble. Burren Brown, quarterback from Beaumont, scored from the three and Halfback Rene Mouton kicked the extra point.

U. S. F. scored on a line plunge by Left Half Marvin Mosconi only after a scoring drive a few minutes earlier had been halted on the one-yard line. The Texans swarmed through the line to block Melvin Reid's place kick which would have tied the score.

Fists began to fly after a pile-up late in the game. Fred Halsey, U. S. F. tackle, was ousted from the game and St. Mary's Halfback Tom Cokley left the game after taking a stiff punch on the whiskers.

Both Ritchie And Baer Managers Are Confident

LUBBOCK, Sept. 18 (AP)—Babe Ritchie, Lubbock's heavyweight hope, prepared to do battle with Max Baer, former world's champion, in a 10-round bout here tonight.

In the event of rain, the fight will be staged tomorrow night.

Tony Herrera, trainer, was confident Ritchie could stand Baer off for three rounds and then win.

But Izzy Kline, Baer's trainer, declared "I don't see how the fight can possibly go beyond three or four rounds. Max will nail him in the first round if he can."

Preliminaries include: Delmar Koch, Amarillo, vs. J. C. Wallace, Big Spring, light heavyweights, four rounds.

Ft. Worth Goes One Up In Tex. Loop Playoff

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT

DALLAS, Sept. 18 (AP)—The youngster of Fort Worth's "three old men," Ray Starr, goes out tonight with his grid cure ball in search of a second straight victory over the Dallas Rebels in the Texas League's championship playoff.

Through the hot afternoon yesterday Starr, who iron-manned Fort Worth into the titular round, sat in the dugout and watched 40-year-old Fred Marberry put the Rebels into their places with a 3-0 decision.

Some five years Marberry's junior, and the "youngest" of the pair, and the "youngest" of the pair, and the "youngest" of the pair, Ed (Beartacks) Greer and himself, Starr will be taking a record of 29 games won and seven lost for the season into tonight's game against Clayland Touchstone, the Dallas hurling choice. Touchstone is another of the league's old-timers. He has won 20 and lost 12.

The mob of 12,245 fans who jammed Rebel stadium yesterday tossed away parlousness at the end of the game and gave old Firpo Marberry a great hand—an ovation he deserved after pitching five-hit baseball and allowing only two runners to reach second base.

Between quiet spots of the quid that decorated his jaw, he used deliberate pitches that, honestly, couldn't have cracked a hot-house window but had the ball busing Rebels developing lumbago from trying.

Fort Worth delivered early for Marberry, getting in two runs in the second frame. Metha and Stebbins singled and Metha came in on the first of three hits. Catcher Kearse barked out.

Marberry rolled one to Rigby, who forced Kearse at second, but Levey, trying for the double play, threw wild to first and Stebbins tumbled in with the second run.

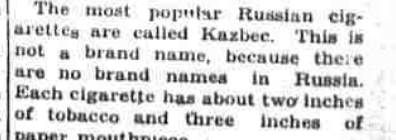

Kearse blew a double down the left field line off Relief Pitcher Earl Overman in the ninth and scored on Kott's single to center. Catcher Red Hayworth letting Trent's beautiful throw-in slip through his legs at the plate.

KILGORE HAS THREE GAMES TOWARD FLAG

KILGORE, Sept. 18 (AP)—Three games in the bag, the Kilgore Boomers were determined tonight's contest with the Henderson Oilers would give them the East Texas League championship.

The Boomers, playing at Henderson last night, made it three up, 4-2, after a mound battle between the Oilers' Steve Raehenok and the Boomers' Walter Brown.

MISS LANEOS NOTES

Two forms appeared in the dark and with sightless eyes groped along the rail, clinging to each other. Their hands were stretched before them, pointing in this face, pushing that hat, and into another's eyes.

They weren't blind. Just trying to find a seat at the movies during a crowded matinee. Out of the bright glare of the afternoon sun, they found themselves plunged in the soft black of the theater.

They neither knew nor could see where they were and the outstretched sleepwalkers hands were to keep them from running into a wall.

Nothing is as embarrassing as to sit down and stare at the screen only to realize that the inarticulate spluttering you hear are coming from the man on whose lap you have landed. Or to settle down in a seat and hear a crunch as someone's hat collapses beneath you.

It does provide side entertainment, however, once you've grown accustomed to the dark, to see others stumble in and hang at an angle while they feel to be sure the seat is there. Maybe it is just a free laugh thrown in with the price of the ticket with the compliments of the management.

Four Killed In Tavern Gun Fight

PAINTSVILLE, Ky., Sept. 18 (AP) - A tavern gun battle which Sheriff Julius B. Daniels said he believed was started by a mountain "vengeance" quarrel left four men dead today.

The sheriff said he found three of the victims dead or dying when he arrived at the roadside inn after the shooting Saturday night. They were Sambo Nelson, 50, owner of the tavern; Fred Adams, 60, a deputy sheriff, and William Fannin, 28, Fannin's brother, Hobart, about 22, died of wounds in a hospital yesterday.

Nelson's wife and son, John, 19, were wounded slightly in the exchange of approximately 45 pistol shots. Sheriff Daniels said he was holding Eddie Sammons, a former constable, on a murder charge. Sammons arrested William Fannin on a rape charge more than two years ago, the sheriff said, and the two men met Saturday night for the first time since Fannin completed serving a penitentiary sentence recently.

The gunfight started, Daniels continued, when Fannin struck Sammons on the head with a pistol and Deputy Sheriff Adams, a witness, sought to arrest Fannin.

Russia Comes In

The mildest comment that can be made on the latest turn of war events—the decision of Russia to send troops into Polish territory—is that it greatly complicates matters for the democracies. All observers who have been predicting the general world war see their forecasts nearer fulfillment, for with the entry of Russia, the smaller central European states cannot long abide by a policy of neutrality. Once they are in, Italy may have to act.

Nobody is misled by Moscow's announcement that the sending of troops into the Polish area is in the interest of "peace and order in eastern Poland." Russia declares that the White Russian and Ukrainian minorities are in need of protection, but the world will recall that German minorities also were in need of protection when Hitler marched into Austria and then Czechoslovakia.

Comrade Stalin may be acting to protect his own interests when and if the Central European territories, including those of Poland, are carved up for a new serving. In that he may be at cross purposes with Hitler, but for the time being the Russian action distinctly is favorable to the German cause.

To give the devil his due, Hitler has gained definite triumphs in diplomatic dealings with Russia. The non-aggression pact was the first step, one which undoubtedly contributed to the start of hostilities. The arrangement of an "armistice" between Russia and Japan—with a prospective non-aggression treaty there—was another master stroke. If Japan is appeased and removed as a threat at her back door, Russia may feel free to take what action she chooses in Europe. It seems strange indeed that such a Sino-Soviet friendship would ever come to pass, but so also was it strange that Nazi and communist would become bed-fellows. Never should the dictators be belittled in their efforts to improve their own interests.

Russia's action can be interpreted as a step toward speeding up the conquest of Poland, and subsequently quicker action on other fronts. Whatever the final outcome, France and England find themselves more than ever in difficulties right now.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

HOLLYWOOD — The protracted war-of-nerves took its hold in the movies too. All the world has been too much a stage of late for anybody's comfort, industrially or individually.

Hollywood is going right ahead making pictures, even without any assurance that the completed films can be flashed on a large portion of the world's screens.

The prospects are that they'll finish the currently launched "colossal," simply because it would cost the studios more to drop them than to go ahead. They've spent too much in story preparation, actors' contracts which would cost money to break, and other details, to stop now. After that, it looks now as if the production schedules will settle down to a strictly "uncolossal" basis, to pictures which can return a profit minus the normally expected receipts from countries engaged now in other activities than entertainment-buying. And the big ones, which will play this country and South America, surely, will go back to the film vaults after their peaceful tours of exhibition to be held for a happier day in the other regions.

The "uncolossal" business would probably last "for the duration" and—although looking for a bright spot for Hollywood at the moment is like diagnosing a mosquito bite on a man with cancer—it might in the end be a good thing. If for no other reason, it would re-emphasize to the town that good pictures can be made without cranning them with everything that is costly.

On the RKO lot, they've proved it notably in the past couple of years, with pictures like "A Man to Remember," and "Five Came Back," and the more recent "Full Confession"—a dramatic study of a murderer (Victor McLaglen) and a priest (Joseph Calleia) to whom his crime is confessed. The picture was made quietly and efficiently with no fanfare, and it should ride on its own to a deserved success.

In the McLaglen (I quote a confrere, Jack Grant, who expresses it perfectly) "earns the Academy Award he was given for 'The Informer.'" And Calleia's job is no less commendable.

The best other example of the comparatively inexpensive but really entertaining movie comes from Metro, where the latest of the Hardy films, relative to Andy and spring fever, has cleaned up—and justly. Even the least amusing of the series—in my opinion "The Hardys Ride High"—contained more entertainment than many a more ambitious and costly production. That goes too for the adventures of the Joneses, at 20th Century-Fox, although they neglected to include a Mickey Rooney in the family.

To think in terms of story and direction rather than in lavish sets and other costly movie frolics will afford the local geniuses some healthy exercise.

Meanwhile, the American movie fan can look forward to a goodly flock of peace-made local "colossal," typical of which are "Gene With the Wind," "The Wizard of Oz," "Elizabeth and Essex," "The Rains Came," and "The Women."

Any of these should provide the movie-goer with a little forgetfulness of the times the world moves through.

After A Man's Heart

by JEAN RANDALL

Chapter 12
NEW ESTABLISHMENT
 Throughout the day George contrasted Buff, her small energetic figure, her agile mind and her self-reliance, with the helpless and appealing Iris.

"Fraid old Tim's the kind that likes to be leaned on," he mused. "Iris got his number the first time she saw him. Golly! When she lifted those long lashes and gave him an I'm-only-a-girl-please-como-to-my-rescue look, even I started figuring what I could do to help her. Buff, on the other hand, stands straight as a young aspen and defies all the winds of heaven to move her. I wonder—" He found this line of meditation so profligate that he abandoned it, realizing with a grin that he was depending on Buff to work out her own plan for Tim's ultimate recovery.

Tim accepted the dinner invitation without hesitation. Whether his willingness came from George's inclusion, or whether belated gratitude for Buff's kindness dictated his partner and friend cared not to him. The important thing was to get Tim within the sphere of Buff's influence.

They found her installed in a five-roomed apartment, the ornate furnishings of which produced solemn amusement in its new tenant. She pointed out a large oil painting above the fireplace. "It was done by a local artist," she explained. "Before I retire it to oblivion I'd like your separate opinions upon its subject. At first I thought it was the explosion of a featherbed on the shore of an Italian lake. Then Mrs. Webb said that it looked to her like a cherry orchard in full bloom in a desert sort of place. This morning the sun shined on it and I became convinced it was the surrealist's idea of a cottonfield. Now, with the fire-light and lamps, I'm beginning to waver. What do you and George think, Tim?"

George made opera glasses of his hands and retired to view the work of art from different angles. Finally he announced that Buff was all wrong in her guesses.

"It was done by a dozen white pigeons trying to fly without using their wings," he asserted. "Three of 'em are doing a darned good job of it, too. One of 'em's two feet above ground."

To the amazement of the others, Tim joined in the nonsense.

"I'm surprised at you both," he said severely. "Don't you know Art when you see it? The painter has clearly depicted a bushel of popped corn being flung across the water. I suppose it's a summer resort of some kind," he went on thoughtfully, "and the stuff was neither buttered nor salted. The purchaser thus expressed his indignation."

"We're all agreed on its being a water scene of some kind anyway," Buff said with relief. "Now when I get used to one or two other trifling items in the place, I can settle down. For instance, if you want hot water in the bathtub you turn the knob that's marked 'waste.' And vice versa. And those two chairs that I've put in the corner and hedged off with a table are not to be relied upon. Even the original tenant—I'm sub-letting, you know—forgot and tried to sit on one, with startling results. He weighs around two hundred, and I thought for a while I was going to have to call Mrs. Webb to help me get him to his feet."

Tim ran his hand through his hair, always a sign of bewilderment with him.

"But why did you rent this apartment?" he asked. His eyes went from the rug, against whose crimson background green and yellow flowers were flung, to the array of hideous ornaments on the mantelpiece. "There are plenty of nice places Boulder. What makes you choose this?"

She shook her head but made no reply. Luckily Mrs. Webb came in at that moment and announced dinner.

George rolled expressive eyes as he tasted his soup. "I hope you're going to ask us to dine here frequently," he said. "When I eat Mrs. Webb's cooking I realize I've practically starved when away from here."

"What," Buff demanded cautiously, "do you feel would be 'frequently'?"

"There are seven nights in each and every week," George said. "I don't want to presume on good nature, and it's true that if and when you leave Boulder, Tim and I will have to subsist on what we receive at our boarding house. I think every other evening would be a happy compromise, don't you? That will give you time to miss us, if you like our company; or to rest up, if you don't. That strike you as fair and square, Tim?"

"It does not," was the succinct answer. "Buff, pay no attention to him. His lower nature gets the better of him when he's hungry. After dinner he'll be more reasonable."

It was a gay evening. Buff was careful to make it so, avoiding any topic which might disturb Tim.

"But just you wait, my dear boy," she mused when her guests had departed with enthusiastic thanks for her entertainment. "I shall play a waiting game for a few days—a week perhaps. After that, the deluge!"

She let both George and Tim severely alone for the next two days. Indeed it was George who telephoned to ask if she had forgotten about them, but Mrs. Webb's valuable services, or had fallen into the lake depicted in the masterpiece over the mantel.

"Five been busy," she said. "But you can both come out to dinner tonight, if you like."

"If we like!"

George threw sufficient feeling into the words to make other comment unnecessary. But when he told Tim of his plans he encountered an unexpected obstacle.

"Go if you wish—and since you invited yourself," he said. "But I have other plans."

Questioned closely, he muttered of work to be done at the laboratory, "trying to catch up." George argued and pleaded in vain. Finally he again had recourse to the telephone.

"Tim says he can't come tonight," he announced plaintively. "Can't or won't?" inquired Buff. "Says 'can't,' means 'won't!'"

"Leave him to me!"

So it was that when Tim emerged from his tiny office a little after six, he found Buff's car parked in front and Buff herself slumped restfully in the seat. She had the air of having been in that position for hours.

"Hop in!" she made him. "Nonsense, of course, you'll come. Well, you can wash up in my bathroom as well as in your own, can't you? Your shirt is reasonably clean," she added, inspecting it critically.

"Anyway Webby's heart will be broken if you aren't there to eat her biscuits."

Very, Very Determined

He hesitated, but the door she held open and the imperious gesture of her small hand were too much. He climbed in. Presently he said: "Look here, Buff, it seems we'll have to talk this over after all. I hoped by this time you'd have tired of your efforts to look after me. I hoped your father would have sent for you. I hoped—"

"You hoped to get rid of me, in fact!" Her tone was cheerful and she gave a little tilt to her perky hat. She looked gamineish and very, very determined. "You're wasting a lot of my time, Tim, and not doing yourself any good either. But I'm prepared to let you drift a while. Tonight I want you to see what I've done to the apartment."

She had done a great deal, he discovered. The too-cheerful rug had been replaced by a restful tanish square. Several comfortable armchairs stood about. An open bookcase glowed with color from rows of volumes. The painted monstrosity above the mantel had disappeared and a panel of Lancelotti's cartoons, plainly framed, lent an impish note to the room. Ash trays stood conveniently about; the big square pillows on the couch were covered with whippoorwill.

"Better," she inquired.

"Much better. And cost about a thousand dollars, I suppose."

"Eighty-seven dollars and forty-five cents," she announced. "Of course the cartoons and the books aren't included. I brought them from the ranch. But all the rest I paid spot cash for."

"Imagination must be the strong point in the Carroll family," he said rudely. "I happen to have priced a couch similar to this myself. It was a hundred and forty-five dollars. As for the rug—"

WASHINGTON — The surprise sinking of the passenger steamer Athena might act as a warning to England that she had better adopt at once the system of anti-submarine warfare that America perfected for her during the World war.

It was tough-minded old Admiral Sims and his staff who taught England that a mine barrage could be laid across the principal submarine outlet into the Atlantic. Thereafter Germany "officially" lost a dozen submarines among the mines and an unestimated number that failed to leave any trace.

It was Admiral Sims and his officers who also perfected the convoy system that permitted U. S. troops to get to France with the loss of only one boat.

The Athena evidently was without convoy of any kind.

THE 'LUSITANIA'

The Lusitania had somewhat the same experience and a lot of unfriendly stories arose about her. The Lusitania sailed with a cargo of American and foreign passengers, together with some war materials, straight in the face of warnings published by Germany in American papers that the boat was certain to be a target for submarines. When it reached the submarine zone it got no protective convoy. Further, for some reason which has not yet been explained, the commander of the ship did not zig-zag as he approached home. That is one way of preventing submarines from getting a proper aim. Further, the commander slowed his speed to barely half the ship's maximum. The Lusitania was cold meat to a submarine.

Repeatedly it has been suggested, and repeatedly it has been denied, that England let the Lusitania run the gauntlet without protection in the expectation that her sinking would arouse Americans further against German "atrocities" and bring America into the war on the side of the Allies.

There isn't a thread of evidence to associate the Athena with such stories, but the general effect on American sentiment appears much the same as that generated by the Lusitania.

THE 'AMERICAN PLAN'

The convoy system, designed to prevent such tragedies, works well. It is run this way: A group of cargo vessels sets out from America. The ships may be conveyed entirely across the Atlantic if the cargoes are worth the additional trouble.

In any event, a convoy of fast submarine chasers or destroyers picks up the group far out in the Atlantic and swiftly herds them into port. The gun boats watch the slower cargo vessels as sheepsheads watch a band of woolies. They circle them, dart in and out among them while all vessels keep an ever-watchful eye for any periscope that may be jabbed above the surface for a second's look-see.

At the slightest hint of the presence of submarines they drop depth bombs which are so powerful they will crack the seams of submarines as much as 75 yards from the burst. A whole pattern of depth bombs may be dropped. Depth bombs are cheap, compared with cargo vessels.

In the submarine zone the cargo ships zig-zag and wriggle in irregular courses. That makes it difficult for the submarine to aim its torpedoes, especially since the presence of the sub-chasers may keep the submarine two miles or more away from the target.

You can just about bank on it: The "American plan" will prevent the sinking of such a high percentage of cargo vessels as England lost during the early months of the submarine campaign last time.

Poor old Primo Carnera is in Sequals, Italy, running a restaurant, but his knapsack is packed, and his big No. 16 boots are shined, ready to march if Il Duce tells him to. Gustav Kilian and Hans Vopel, the best bicycle riders New York has seen in years, have returned to Germany and rejoined their regiments. They were so good over here that the team had to be broken up. No one could beat them.

An uptown bride, purchasing the week's groceries, selected a ten pound bag of sugar to be taken to her car. "But you can only have five pounds, Miss the orders just came through."

Hurrying home, and frightened by stories of rising food prices due to the war, she quickly spread the word and everybody in the neighborhood began hurrying down to the grocery to lay in supplies. Everybody got himself five pounds of sugar, but no more.

After awhile the store became so crowded that the manager and his staff began asking questions. "Well," said one customer, "before the war sends sugar out of reach, we're trying to get all we can."

That made the manager laugh, because the "5-lb limit" was his own order. He was having a sale on sugar and wanted all of his customers to have a share in it. His sale price on the five pounds was three cents cheaper than the average quotation.

U. S. Survivors Of Mined Ship Tell Of Terror In Crowded Lifeboat

FLUSHING, The Netherlands, Sept. 18 (AP)—The terror of 56 hours in an open boat hung today over four American survivors of the Norwegian freighter Ronda, sunk by a mine off the northern coast of The Netherlands with a loss of 17 lives.

Two Americans and 15 members of the crew went down with the ship.

The survivors, exhausted, told a graphic story of the horrors preceding their rescue by the Italian ship Providenza, which brought them here.

"How we made it I don't know," declared Miss Josephine Allen Duncan, formerly of Richmond, Va., swept overboard by waves as the doomed vessel settled.

"We were just lucky," said Karl Hilgendorf of Milwaukee, Wis., described by his companions as a hero.

Hilgendorf was credited with saving Miss Duncan's aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan Etchison, formerly of Richmond, whose 13-year-old daughter, Nan, was among those lost.

Other survivors said Hilgendorf tied Mrs. Etchison to two floating planks until a Norwegian sailor helped them into a boat.

The other American survivor was Douglas Miller of Ann Arbor, Mich., University of Michigan student. Gordon Felts of Odessa, Mo., singer who had been studying in Germany, was among those lost.

When picked up by the Providenza, the four Americans and 16 crew members were crowded into a tiny boat intended for 10 persons.

Miss Duncan said the Ronda sank so swiftly after striking the mine Wednesday there was no time to launch the lifeboats.

"Five of the Norwegian sailors built a raft to keep from overloading the boat too much," Miss Duncan said. "They stayed on the raft two nights, hooked to the boat by an ear. Then the raft began to collapse, so we all had to use the boat—literally crushed atop one another."

The survivors said the boat leaked continuously, and that they were forced to ball steadily, using their hands and shoes.

try to obtain an endorsement from a majority at a party conference, of their stand for retention of the embargo.

Borah and Nye contend the sale of arms to France and Great Britain would be the first step toward eventual involvement of this country in war.

The two senators were represented as believing they could convince most of their colleagues they would be doing the patriotic thing to oppose the president's program.

They were likely to meet opposition, however, from Senators Austin of Vermont, the assistant republican leader, and Taft of Ohio, both of whom have declared for repeal of the embargo.

The fight against repeal was carried on yesterday by another republican, Senator Johnson of California.

In a statement issued at San Francisco, Johnson said the president had warned the nation in an address in 1936 that, in the event of war in another country, it would require the "unwavering support of all Americans" to resist the clamor for "fool's gold" from the conflict.

"I take my stand with the Roosevelt of 1936, not with the Roosevelt of 1939," the California added. "We are marching in the shadow now down the road to war."

quently team together in issuing oil production orders. Smith said Sadler also announced they would leave today for Washington. Smith said purpose of the trip was to confer with Secretary of Interior Ickes and others on the oil situation.

"We want to keep Texas' production around the bureau of mines estimate of market demand," Smith said.

Last week Smith and Sadler issued orders increasing the allowable of the East Texas field approximately 100,000 barrels daily and leaving the remainder of Texas' field allowances unaltered, this after several other mid-continent oil producing states had curtailed production.

Sadler declared his purpose in restoring seven-day production for Texas fields except East Texas would be to do away with a "crack" in exemptions. Many wells have been exempted from the two-day shutdowns ostensibly because of special operating conditions, such as heavy water production or high pressures.

It would be impossible to place East Texas on full-time production, he said, because of a new formula under which production of the field is allocated.

Texas' current production is approximately 1,400,000 barrels daily, 8,000 barrels below the bureau of mines estimate of demand, Sadler said.

Later Ernest Thompson, third commission member, said he heartily concurred in the idea of eliminating Saturday and Sunday shutdowns but retaining five-day production allowances.

ries. Fear has been expressed Russia may try to take back the Bessarabia-rich land south of the Rumanian-Ukraine in which 600,000 Ukrainians and 415,000 Rumanians live.

There is concern, also, over what effect the new move might have on Hungary's desire for the return of Transylvania, where there are 1,300,000 Magyars.

Meanwhile, Hungary's desire is complicated by the thought that return of Transylvania might find Hungary with Russia as a neighbor just across the frontier.

Since Hungary's Bolshevik revolution after the World War, Budapest's short-lived communist regime and the bitter counter-revolution of 1919, there has been strong opposition to anything communistic.

In Turkey, where it had been reported that Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu was preparing to go to Moscow to discuss a friendship pact between Russia and Turkey, there was no official comment.

Observers there said that despite Turkey's mutual assistance pact with Britain and France, there was a desire for continued warm friendship with the Soviet, whose troops are massed along her frontiers.

Diplomats in Yugoslavia looked toward Italy for some move that might prevent the spread of war. The only word from Greece was announcement of a new conscription law.

Davey Bested By Baugh In Pro Contest

CHICAGO, Sept. 18 (AP)—Little Davey O'Brien must await another day—possibly next Sunday—to portray successfully his David vs. Goliath role.

The former Texas Christian quarterback made his professional league football debut yesterday at Philadelphia and came off second best in his passing duel with the Washington Redskins' "goliath"—Slingin' Sammy Baugh, himself a former T.C.U. star.

A crowd of 42,000, the largest ever to see the Eagles at Philadelphia, watched a scoreless battle for three periods. Then Baugh hurled a 30-yard pass to Charlie Malone for a touchdown and a 7 to 0 triumph.

O'Brien's passing and ball carrying helped the Eagles reach the Redskins' 17-yard line in the opening period, but he wrecked his own cause with a fumble.

In yesterday's other game, Green Bay's Packers used their vaunted passing attack to hand Chicago's Cardinals their second straight defeat, 14 to 10.

This week's schedule:
Wednesday (night): Cleveland at Brooklyn.
Sunday: Chicago Bears at Green Bay.
Chicago Cardinals at Pittsburgh. New York at Philadelphia. Brooklyn at Detroit.

WACO EDITOR MEETS WITH WARSAW ROTARIANS

Just a few weeks ago, members of the directors of the Warsaw, Poland, Rotary club were able to greet an American citizen, Frank Baldwin (seated, front row, right). Today, their city is a shambles, as a result of war. Baldwin, Waco editor, has just recently returned from Poland, Danzig and other European areas, and has a first-hand knowledge of events which resulted in the current war. He will discuss these events in Big Spring Tuesday, as a speaker at the Rotary club luncheon, at the Settles hotel at noon.

Future Farmers Of Glasscock Organize

GARDEN CITY, Sept. 16—With an extensive feeding program already started, the Future Farmers of America organized here during the week.

Lester Ratliff was named president, Dan Houston vice-president, Lee Swindall secretary, Hugh Kincaid treasurer and Earl Cook reporter.

H. M. (Max) Fitzhugh, vocational agriculture instructor, reported nine FFA boys were feeding out calves. Fern Cox, W. E. Chaney, Lester Ratliff, Dan Houston, Horace Underwood, and R. C. Shafer were feeding one each and Robert Lawson, Harper Bedell and John Ed Bedell were each feeding a pair. Lee Swindall had a pig on feed for his demonstration.

Plans are to put around 20 lambs on feed the latter part of the month, said Fitzhugh.

Vocational agriculture enrollment this year stands at 25, far above the 18 for last year.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRIETZ

DETROIT, Sept. 18 (AP)—Scop-parade: There is absolutely no betting on the big fight around here except on how long Pastor will last. When Adrian Quist, the Australian Davis Cupper, sails for home soon, he'll leave his heart over here with a Philadelphia beauty. Just before yesterday's workout Joe Gould clipped Joe Louis for almost 50 smackers in a good old-fashioned session with the galloping dominos. You birds who think Davey O'Brien can't do anything but pitch get in touch with Bert Bell, owner of the Eagles, who has dough that says Davey will gain more than 100 yards bucking the line this season.

WEATHER NOTE

The 95 degree heat they're having around Appleton, Wis., has the Lawrence college football team going through slow motion water-cooled formations in the college swimming pool.

Tattle Tales: Governor Happy Chandler of Kentucky has just colonized Shipwreck Kelly and Ralph Kirschner, two former Kentucky grid greats. Mike Jacobs has been doing all right for himself with those war baby stocks. Mickey Cochrane may be interested to learn that we've been told more than once that Detroit fans never have quite forgiven the Tigers for easing him out.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Frank Grayson, Cincinnati Times-Star: "The crowd at the Pirates-Reds game came out in a tux and it wasn't even crowded."

Sports Cocktail: The announcement of Lou Ambers' coming marriage flooded him with more than 2,000 wires and letters of good wishes. Some of the boys got a little mixed up and have sent flowers already. Latest sports exhibit to hit the world's fair is a baseball autographed by two British kings—George VI and his late father. One of the big magazines (Cosmopolitan) is getting ready to ballyhoo a sock at football by Bill Cunningham of the Boston Post in its December issue.

DING! AMATEUR HOUR

Edward Whitaker, New Haven, Conn.: "If Joe DiMaggio continues hitting at a .400 clip, all he need do is add a comma and a couple of zeroes to his batting average, mail it to Ed Barrow and say: 'There are my salary demands, Boss.'"

SALES RACKET ENDS WITH MAN'S ARREST

A shrewd gentleman's clever racket was temporarily at an end Saturday, city police said.

The man was taken into custody along with a stock of cheap rings and a punch by which he made his living off suckers.

With the stamp he converted 10 cent rings into 14-K affairs and sold them at sacrificial prices. One of the rings, bearing three "diamond sets" of "rock" proportions, netted him $3 on a sale, according to police.

Attention 'Old Timers'!

To all pioneers of Big Spring—

A special 30-year celebration and "pioneer" festivity is being planned for October—one in which you will be honored. The Herald wants all your names, and some information about your arrival in Big Spring and your early experiences here. If you have been here 30 years or more, please notify this office. If you have about anyone you know who has been here that length of time. If you like, write a sketch about your coming to the city, and what you found here back in the early part of the century. But at least, please let us have your name. The paper is anxious to compile a registry of every person who has been in the city since 1909 and before. Just call the office, 728, or drop us a card—let us hear from you, please!

Garner, Rayburn Off To Capital

DALLAS, Sept. 18 (AP)—Two key figures in the called session of congress, Vice President John P. Garner and Congressman Sam P. Rayburn, left for Washington today.

Garner, accompanied by Mrs. Garner, motored from his Uvalde home to San Antonio yesterday, thence by rail to the capital. As usual, he declined comment on national affairs.

Rayburn, house majority leader, made the last of several addresses in Texas last night at a constitution day celebration here where he declared in favor of amending the present neutrality law.

He pledged every effort to keep this nation out of war.

Rayburn did not touch on the European conflict directly, but in his plea for strong national defense measures, he said no one could tell when a madman might rise to great power, nor what he would do when he got there.

Beau Brummel, who, in immaculate, fastidious attire, set fashions for years, died penniless in 1840, the possessor of only unkempt, tattered garments.

NEW INDICTMENTS ARE EXPECTED IN LOUISIANA

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 18 (AP)—Assistant Attorney General O. John Rogge returned today from a weekend visit with his family in Galveston, with prospects the federal grand jury would hand down several new indictments in its investigation of Louisiana affairs.

BRITAIN MORE DETERMINED FOR FINISH FIGHT AFTER RUSSIA COMES INTO WAR

LONDON, Sept. 18 (AP)—The British government was represented today as more than ever determined to fight Germany to a finish despite the new situation created by Soviet Russia's invasion of Poland.

Just how important these new complications would be was not immediately clear.

The government continued to study the situation, but remained silent pending receipt of more information.

The possibility of action such as Russian forces took against Poland yesterday, informed sources said, had been taken into account by Britain and France from the moment the German-Russian non-aggression pact was signed Aug. 24.

Authoritative quarters said the new developments in no way altered Britain's belief there can be no peace until the Nazi regime in Germany is wiped out.

The big question, however, was Britain's future relations with Soviet Russia.

Britain had the charge of the Polish embassy here that Russia violated the Polish frontier by an "act of direct aggression."

It was stated authoritatively Britain had a brief report from her ambassador to Moscow, Sir William Seeds, but was waiting fuller information.

Complicating the situation was the soviet government's declaration it would pursue a policy of neutrality with Britain.

The cabinet was expected to decide today whether parliament should be called before its scheduled meeting Wednesday.

The British press, meanwhile, vigorously attacked Russia for what it called the "stab in the back" and the "betrayal" of Poland.

The authoritative Times, which often reflects government views, said:

"To the soviet belongs the base and despicable share of accessory before and after the crime and the contempt which even the thief has for a receiver who shares none of his original risks."

The Daily Mail, under the heading "Betrayal," said:

"This act of treachery is a serious blow to the allies. But Britain

One Workout, And Lion Luminaries Ready To Meet ABC In Charity Diamond Classic Thursday Eve

If confidence were base hits, the utility baritone in the lot: Ray Ogden; Harold P. Steck, catcher or something; Joe Pond; C. J. Staples, a pitcher with more curves than Mae West; A. L. Harris and Joe Pickle, who don't care where or how they play.

Of course Smith has a string of other likely looking ivory, but he's not talking—much. He did give permission for some of his erstwhile stars to work out with the ABC contingent, provided the opposition is not particular, but as for Smith, "nothin' doin'. They're not getting any of my secrets."

At the workout yesterday Tony Rego, manager of the Barons, was an interested observer. Only a broken pencil point kept him from signing new blood for his club.

YOUR TELEPHONE carries quite a load as a taxpayer. Last year this company's tax bill in Texas was almost five million dollars—an average of $9.81 per telephone.

Taxes amounted to 20 cents of every dollar this company spent last year to furnish telephone service in Texas. Taxes totaled almost half as much as the wages paid to the 8,700 men and women who build and operate Texas' telephone system. Last year this company's taxes were nearly 60 per cent higher than three years ago.

As a citizen of Texas, bearing its share of the cost of government, the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company is here to furnish fast, accurate, and dependable telephone service at low cost to you.
