Stassen To Speak At Convocation

Council Members State Objections Against Affiliation

By BOB WATSON
Toreador Staff Writer

Student council voted Monday night against joining the United States National Student Association. After lengthy debate, the Council voted unanimously against affiliation with the association.

Tom Hassell, engineering representative, urged that the council vote against the issue because the principal objectives of the association would not be applicable at Tech and because the organization, at this time, is not workable. He added that at the regional convention in Dallas last month, the association was sorely pressed to find people who would accept offices.

Don Sloan, also an engineering representative, stated that NSA constitution was vague as to the purpose of the organization and that there were no provisions made to keep it out of politics. "What we would get out of it would not even pay the interest on the dues we would pay," he declared.

Dues Considered High

Tech's yearly dues would be $241, plus expenses of delegates, Bill Nugent, council president, stated, adding that the high cost of affiliation was one of the chief deterrents.

Another engineering representative, Brae Biggers, argued that NSA would give valuable aid in settling the problems of racial discrimination. Since Tech has the only textile engineering department in Texas, persons of other races may seek admission to this department, he pointed out. One of the purposes of NSA as stated in the preamble of its constitution is "equal rights and possibilities for primary, secondary and higher education, regardless of sex, race, religion, political belief or economic circumstance."

Negro Problem May Appear

"We (at Tech) may be confronted with this problem much sooner than we think. We should cooperate in softening the issue when it comes," Biggers said.

Dick Copeland, arts and sciences representative, said that students at Tech now enjoy more freedoms

Ballerina Appears On Artist Course

Opening the Tech Artist Course series for the spring semester will be the Slavenka Ballet Association. The Slavenka Ballet Variante, scheduled for a Lubbock appearance March 22, Prof. R. A. Mills, artist course director, said.

The famous international dancer and motion picture star who came to America as prima ballerina of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, is returning to the stage after a year's absence. "Ballet Variante" introduces Slavenka in the dual role of dancer and choreographer. She will be assisted by a company of ten notable performers.

Duo-pianists, Vita Vronsky and Victor Babin, will present a concert here April 12. Called "the most brilliant two-piano team of our generation," the young musicians were proteges of the late Rachmaninoff.

Judging Teams Will Compete In Denver And Fort Worth

Four judging teams, one including Camille Stevens, the first girl in Tech's history to win a position on a livestock judging team, will compete within the next three weeks, Prof. Ray C. Mowery, head of the department of animal husbandry has announced.

The livestock judging team which left Wednesday for the National Western exposition in Denver will compete tomorrow in the first intercollegiate car-lot judging contest ever held. The team will also enter the regular livestock judging contest. In this competition Tech has ranked second three times in the last four years. Team members Robert Cox, Lubbock; W. D. Hancock, Jayton; Jim Hutchins, Esteline; Edd C. McLeroy, Brownfield; Russell Sadler, Stanton; and Billy Rufe Taylor, Quamah, have participated in practice contests on route.

N. C. Fine Is Coach

N. C. Fine, associate professor of animal husbandry, accompanied the team as coach. Fine, a Tech graduate of 1935, and a member of the team that won international contests in 1934, is also coach of the dairy cattle judging team.

Another livestock judging team, of which Miss Stevens is a member, will compete in the Southwestern Exposition and Livestock show in Fort Worth Jan. 31. The contestants are: Woodrow Allen, Lubbock; George Fisher, Spur; Otto Freeman, Sweetwater; Glenn Quattlebaum, Amarillo; Clinton Ritter, Lawn; and Miss Stevens, Wimberly. The team is coached by Mowery.

Cattle Judgers Go To Ft. Worth

Tech will also send its dairy cat-

Vets May Still Pre-Register

Veterans who failed to pre-register in the day allotted this week may do so early next week, H. A. Anderson, veteran coordinator, announced.

Veterans who plan to graduate, transfer, or interrupt their training under the G. I.

Saturday, Jan. 24, is the last day veterans can charge reschool supplies on their requisition books for this semester. It has been announced.

Bill should report to the veterans training office, two buildings south of the Aggie building, H. A. Anderson stated.

The veterans contact officer who formerly was at Tech on Fridays to aid in reinstating GI insurance will not be at Tech next semester, according to Anderson. Anderson stated that veterans who are interested in reinstating their GI insurance can receive information at the veterans coordinator's office, room 110 Ad. bldg.

Toreador Officers Request To Print 2 Papers Weekly

Publications committee will decide Monday whether or not The Toreador will start semi-weekly publication next semester. A request from Toreador officers for permission to begin twice weekly publication was received by the committee at its regular meeting Monday, but members delayed action until a full report can be made by Elmer Hargrove, business manager, and John Anderson, editor.

Hargrove said yesterday that he believed the committee will approve the request if Tech press can print sufficient copies of each issue of The Toreador. Tech press has notified Prof. Clark Schooley, Toreador sponsor, that it can furnish 4,000 papers twice each week since it has recently received a large shipment of newsprint.

La Ventana Behind Schedule

Other action at last Monday's meeting included the approved expenditure of $250 by La Ventana to employ students to work on the annual Prof. R. A. Mills, La Ventana sponsor, told the committee that "unless something is done, La Ventana will be issued to students later than it was last year when the first annuals were delivered June 27."

Bob Watson, La Ventana editor, told the committee that he was behind schedule because he could get few students to help with the work. He said that he and Sue Stockard, associate editor, had packed all pictures on the first make-up dummies which went to the engraver Saturday, Jan. 10. Pictures mailed were those of the sophomore class; the contract with the engraver calls for all class pictures to be delivered by Jan. 15. The football section which was to have been mailed Dec. 15 has not yet been compiled Watson disclosed.

Before funds to employ workers were voted, one committee member said that if the students were not enough interested in the annual to help put it out, it was in the power of the Publications committee to stop publication of the annual.

Tech ROTC Opens To New Applicants

Tech ROTC will be open at the beginning of the spring semester to all applicants who wish to begin training for the first time. Lt. Col. L. C. Adams, head of ROTC and professor of military science and tactics, said.

Entering freshmen and those non-veterans who have a minimum of three and one-half years before graduation are encouraged to register for training, Adams stated. He added that plans are being made to conduct training during the summer months to bring those students who have only three and one-half years of school remaining up to ROTC sophomore standing before the fall semester.

All items of uniform are now in stock and are available to the student without cost.

Stassen Dubbed Unique Politician

By WINIFRED LARABEE
Toreador Associate Editor

"A free-wheeling political phenomenon" is the characterization given in a Time magazine cover story of Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota who will address Techsans at 10 a. m. Monday at mass convocation in the gym.

The Minnesotan is a unique public figure in at least two respects; he is announced as a candidate for the Republican nomination for the Presidency 18 months before the party convention, which is to be held in Philadelphia in June; and he has committed himself on most of the important issues of the day.

Although Stassen's Tech address is elsewhere than Lubbock county, he will make a major political address in Amarillo Monday night.

Columnist Raymond Moley wrote last August that it is evident that Stassen is a favorite among educated Americans and that college polls have shown great Stassen strength. Political observers concede that Stassen might run a better race than Senator Robert Taft or Governor Tom Dew, but they point out that he must be nominated first.

Won Every Election

Although political observers do not underestimate the astuteness of this man who has run for public office five times and won every time, many feel that he has talked too much, too frankly and too soon.

Stassen himself does not consider this a criticism as he has framed an unorthodox campaign and frank answers on public questions, a promise which he has kept.

And Stassen supporters say (as Time magazine stated it), that the Man from Minnesota is not one to let a wave of the tide run out of wind before the tide is over.

In the news in recent weeks for setting off the Republican hunt for government insiders who profited in the commodity markets, he was also much publicized in 1940 as the youngest governor in the nation at the age of 31. Twice re-elected to the governorship, he informed the voters before his third election that he intended to go into active service with the Navy almost immediately.

Navy Officer

After the four-month session of the state legislature, he resigned as governor and served as lieutenant commander, later captain, for 27 months. Temporarily with Adm. Raymond Spruance's Fifth Fleet, he was sent to Adm. William Halsey's staff and was named Halsey's flag secretary and an assistant chief of staff. An excellent officer, Stassen saw combat service against the Japanese and received two decorations, the Legion of Merit and "the Bronze Star."

Appointed by the late President Franklin Roosevelt as delegate to the San Francisco Security conference in 1945, Stassen helped write the United Nations charter. He went on inactive duty with the Navy to participate in the conference as a civilian, but was back with Halsey when the fleet sailed into Tokyo bay.

Job In Japan

Stassen's job was to get American prisoners of war out of bondage. One of the most widely-related incidents of his Navy career is a conversation with a Japanese colonel at the first prison camp from which Americans were liberated.

"I have no authority to release these prisoners to you," the colonel told Stassen.

"Colonel," Stassen replied, "you have no authority, period."

Stassen worked his way through the University of Minnesota and its law school, and was elected president of the student body. Before his election to the governorship, he served two terms as county attorney.

Well-Known Leader Is Texas Tech Guest

Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, will speak to Tech students and faculty members at a special convocation 10-11 a. m. Monday in the gym, states James G. Allen, chairman of the convocation committee. An effort will be made to give Stassen a full 50 minutes for his speech, Dean Allen states.

Volunteer senior ROTC students will act as ushers, attempting to have everyone seated at 10:07 a. m. The band will open convocation.

No Women's P. E. classes will be held Monday morning. All students having classes 10-11 a. m. Monday will also be excused.

Dean Allen will act as master of ceremonies and Pres. W. M. Whyburn will introduce Stassen.

Program Will Be Broadcast

KCBT will begin a broadcast of the convocation at 10 a. m. A press table will be set up in front of the speakers stand to accommodate the eight journalists with Stassen's party as well as local newsmen.

Stassen's other Lubbock activities will take place in the Hilton hotel. They will include a press conference at 11:15 a. m., a speech before the Lubbock Lions club and a public reception on the mezzanine, 1-1:30 p. m.

The contender for the Republican Presidential nomination speaks at West Texas State college at 3 p. m. the same day, and will make a major political address in Amarillo at 8 p. m.

Students Urged To Pay Poll Tax; Deadline Jan. 31

Poll tax must be paid in order to be eligible to vote in any election in the state of Texas, be the election national, state, county or city. Deadline for payment is Jan. 31, tax officials announced.

Students whose legal residence is elsewhere than Lubbock county may either pay their poll taxes in their home county by proxy, or claim Lubbock as their legal residence and pay here. Either way, students will be able to vote in national and state elections anywhere, but may vote only in the county elections in which their poll tax is paid.

Exemptions Listed

Students whose legal residence is in Lubbock county may pay their poll tax now in the Tax Collector's office in the southeast corner of the Lubbock County courthouse or at the temporary booth in the lobby of the courthouse. The last week in which the tax is payable, January 24 to January 31, booths will be set up by service organizations at different places all over the city.

Veterans who will have been discharged 18 months or less and persons who are 21 years of age at the time of the elections will have free votes due them. These persons, in order to be able to vote, must apply at the county tax collector's office in the county in which they wish to vote before the deadline, midnight, January 31.

Seed Breeders Meeting Attended By Prof. Young

Prof. A. W. Young, head of the department of plant industry, will be in Dallas today and tomorrow attending a meeting of the Texas Certified Seed Breeders association. Professor Young will report on the recent meeting of the International Crop Improvement association.

NOTES: 1. The time for the examinations for classes with laboratories will be based on the lecture hours rather than the laboratory hour or hours; except in case of conflict, when an hour which corresponds to the laboratory may be used. If the course is wholly laboratory, then the time for the examination will, of necessity be one of the laboratory hours.

2. The committee, in making up this schedule, has attempted to place the examination for every class at a definite time. If there is any class not scheduled, a petition should be made to the Schedule committee to place the examination at a certain time. Any change in this schedule which would affect a group of students must be approved by the Schedule committee. Requested changes in the schedule of an individual student will be considered by the dean of the division in which that student is registered.

Full House

At the opening three Texas Tech home basketball games this season, attendance was unusually low—with seating space to spare at each of the contests. As a result, athletic officials decided to sell a limited number of tickets to non-students for the fourth and fifth games.

With increased attendance has come the question, "Should non-student tickets be sold for future home games?" Athletic Director Morley Jennings, approached by Toreador representatives, readily agreed that students—SO LONG AS THEY FILL THE GYM—should be given first consideration.

Kemas Dance Slated Saturday; Spring Rush Convocation Set

Rushees Feted February 9-11

Fun night this evening and a club dance tomorrow night will be the last campus functions of the semester. Spring session social affairs will get underway when women start rush week Feb. 8.

Annual Kemas formal dance will be held 9-12 p. m. Saturday at Hotel Lubbock, Newell Reed, vice president, has announced. Ted Cramer's orchestra will provide music for dancing. Special guests will be Dean and Mrs. T. C. Root and Prof. and Mrs. H. A. Anderson.

A progressive game party will be held in the Rec hall tonight from 8 to 10 p. m. Ten games will be played with a time limit on each game. Scoring will be done on a point percentage basis and prizes will be awarded the winners, according to Francis Bearden.

Games to be played are ping pong, darts, spin the bottle, checkers, bounce ball, casino, shuffle board, dominos, golf, horse shoes. The campus checker champion will be determined Saturday afternoon following a checker tournament in the Rec hall from 1 until 5 p. m. One girl and one boy will claim the title. Prizes are free tickets to the first dance in February at the Rec hall and a $200 award to each. This will be the last organized activity of the Recreation hall this semester.

Raiders On Road Trip

Trounce Arizona Wildcats, 65-38

By JAN BLACKWELL
Toreador Sports Writer

Texas Tech's Border conference pace setting eagerness left the friendliness of the gymnasium Tuesday for an invasion of three Arizona strongholds. The Raiders played the Arizona university Wildcats, Wednesday; Arizona State's Sun Devils, of Tempe, Thursday; and will play the Arizona State Lumberjacks of Flagstaff tonight.

The Raiders are undefeated in conference play, but must return from the current road trip with a good record if they expect to remain in the thick of the title scramble. All three of the Arizona teams are strong although neither Tempe nor Flagstaff appear to be as potent as the university five. West Texas State, defeated by the Arizona Wildcats 72-69 in an overtime game last week, will invade Arizona with Tech, and the two quints will play the Arizona teams on alternate nights.

This road trip will terminate conference competition until final examinations are over. The next scheduled game is a tilt in Tech gym with a powerful Texas Mines aggregation on Feb. 6. The Raiders then engage Hardin-Simmons in Abilene on Feb. 9, returning home to play Tempe on the twelfth and Flagstaff on the thirteenth.

The Red Raiders, led by Center Don Grove, trounced the defending champion University of Arizona Wildcats 65-38 Friday night in Tech gym. Grove dropped eight field goals and 10 free throws through the basket for 26 points while turning in his greatest game of the year. The rangy Tech center displayed a strong defensive game as he held Arizona's high scoring center, Junior Crum, to four points during the contest.

Bill Banks, Tech guard, played his strongest defensive game of the season as evidenced by the fact that he held Arizona's great forward, Linc Richmond, to a total of three points. Moo Udall, the Wildcat's leading scorer for the season and against Tech, replaced Richmond who was hampered with a knee injury, but Banks also checked this Arizona ace to a scant 10 tallies.

Ardis Barton and "Jiggs" Jackson won the hearts of local fans with their fancy floor games and sensational distance shots. Barton scored 11 points and Jackson tossed in 13 tallies for runner-up honors. Winston Churchill brought a roar from the crowd when he sank a running field goal from mid-court in the last second of play for the final tally of the game.

Those making the trip to Arizona include: Ardis Barton, Don Grove, Jay Kerr, Jiggs Jackson, James Hill, Wayne Bowles, William Banks, Gene Gibson, C. W. Dukes, Gilbert McAllister, Winston Churchill and James Cole.

Individual scoring for the Raiders through the home game with Arizona:

Independent Team Wins Tournament

An independent team composed of Techsians won the recent Dickens independent tournament. Playing under the sponsorship of Lucian Thomas Jewell, they called themselves the Thomas Thinkers. In winning the tournament they defeated Floydada, Idalou, Flomont, and Crosbyton in the finals. They defeated Crosbyton by a score of 55-21.

Players on the team, all Techsians, are: Jake Broyles, Charlie Reynolds, Wallace McBrayer, Weldon Minchew, Ernest Hawkins, Clayton Roberts, Bobbie Lewis, J. L. Houser, and Seth Murphy. Hugh Snodgrass, ex-letterman for Tech in '34, '35 and '36 is the team manager.

The team has played a total of 19 games and has suffered only one defeat. This defeat was at the hands of Wayland College by a score of 70-71.

In the Crosbyton game high point man for the Thinkers was Clayton Roberts with a total of 24 points. Runner-up was Weldon Minchew with 9 individual points. It will be some time next semester before the team participates in other tournaments. Lucian Thomas, sponsor, is an ex-student of Tech, attending from '36-'39.

Women's P.E. To Sponsor Between-Semester Ski Trip

Women's Physical Education department has announced it is sponsoring a between-semester ski trip to Auga Piedra lodge at Tres Ritos, N. M.

Tentative dates for departure and return have been set for Feb. 1st and 4th. Those who wish to go must deposit $10 of an estimated $30 total cost at the office of the Dean of Women. Coeds must have a letter of permission from their parents.

For further information, call the Dean of Women's office.

Along with its large production of fruits, vegetables and agriculture products, including bananas, sugar cane, tobacco and pecans Florida has large fishing interests, phosphate deposits, and is rated as the second largest cattle producing state in the U. S.

STAFF SLANTS

It is way late for asking Santa Claus for things, but at the time we were looking forward to the vacation with such anticipation that we forgot, so here goes: Dear S. C., please bring the Tech tennis team some good pre-conference matches so the boys can sharpen up on competition. In case you didn't know it we have four topnotch netters. If the weather stays good and you furnish them with a good stiff schedule, we look for a Border Conference championship.

Joe Wheatley, youngest of the Raider netmen, went to the semifinals in both singles and doubles in the recent Sun Bowl Junior Tennis tournament. Joe went down both times after playing the full string out as his set scores of 6-4, 2-6, 6-4 in singles and 5-7, 6-4, 11-9, teamed with Sam Kobren of El Paso High, in doubles, indicates. The singles match he lost was played in wind that reached 40 miles per hour.

One thing has become obvious as the touch football season progressed. That is: that officials to call games will get harder and harder to find, particularly with the type of sportsmanship evidenced by two of the clubs.

In direct contrast to the above statement—congratulations to the Los Coms for playing every game all the way, no matter how far they were behind, with the same clean spirit and play for fun attitude.

Around the Border Conference... New Mexico U. returned to their Lobo lair after their disastrous swing through Texas, in which they lost three out of three, to bounce Flagstaff 61-53 and slip by Tempe 48-47 for their second conference win.

A couple of nights later in El Paso, the Miners laid Tempe out by more than 20 points.

Hardin-Simmons tripped Arizona 54-53 the night after Tech took the starch out of the Wildcats. The real upset was a few nights before that when the Cowboys downed West Texas State.

But don't sell the Buffs short, they played the game in Abilene, after an extended road trip to the Tech fencers returned from John Tarleton with first place in beginners novice epee; second, third and fourth in novice saber, and first in saber team competition while losing in team competition in foils and epee to George Beakley's J-Tac swordsmen.

The novice beginners' match in epee was won by Robert L. Shannon, Tech freshman from Houston after being schooled for only two hours in the weapon by Sammy Self, Tech sophomore of Lubbock.

The novice match in saber yielded three places to the Techsians which is high-lighted by the fact that they had only 30 minutes instruction in the weapon prior to the match by coach Keith Wells and Mark Smith, Tech sophomore of Lubbock. Second place was taken by Clarence R. Barton, Tech freshman of Lubbock; third by Cooper Slay, Tech junior of Mission; and fourth by Robert L. Shannon of Houston.

In the team matches John Tarleton won foil and epee both by the close margin of 5-4. George Beaktouch football league. Through a series of interceptions the Keys racked up their fourth win as the cellar-dwelling Los Coms lost its final game of the season. For the past two years the Los Coms have not only failed to win a game but have failed to score. They have more fun on the field than any other team and regardless of the outcome of the game play the game well. Outstanding play for the Silver Keys was turned in by John Hinchey and Carroll Hall. Dick Springstun and Bill Stalls helped to stem the flood of touchdowns for Los Coms.

For the past two years Kemas has put the jinx on the highly touted Wranglers. In the final seconds of the game with score at a 12-12 tie a long pass from Joe Rushing to Gene Thomas gave Kemas a touchdown and an 18-12 win over the Wranglers. Last year in the final play of the game, the Wranglers were leading the ball game by a 9-6 score, when in the last play of the game Kemas heaved a long pass to win the ball game by a 13-9 count. This moves the Kemas in third place with Wranglers holding down the fifth place spot. Dick Harbord and Gene Greathouse played a fine game for Regional Golden Glove tournament, Feb. 2, 3, 4, 5, in the Tech gym, offers Tech boxing fans a lot of flistic entertainment again this year.

Back to defend his title, and causing considerable comment in boxing circles, is Bill Henderson, 21-year-old junior agricultural education major. Henderson carries the state Golden Glove featherweight title. He went to the quarterfinals in Chicago last year, and is hoping to go even farther this time.

Undergoing stiff conditioning in Bert Kahn's gym, and punching harder than he did last season, Henderson expects to profit by experience gained on the road to the "tournament of champions" in Chicago last year.

A clean-cut and speedy scrapper, Henderson has consistently proven his ability. Last year, he was the only fighter to win in both the state Golden Glove and TAAF tournaments. On Dec. 30 he was a member of the Texas team that opposed Tennessee boxers in the feature attraction of the Delta bowl athletic carnival. He marked that Memphis, Tenn. bout up to experience, and left the only Texas man to win by anything other than a decision. He won by a technical knockout.

Another Techsan, Lonnie Balch, fighting in the middleweight division shows definite class and promise. A fighter that has a lot of respect for training rules, Balch possesses all the qualities that become a champion. Tall, fast and rangy, he presents an elusive target and is backed up by a terrific wallop that booms equally potent from either hand.

Balch, a freshman aggie major from Lubbock, was decided by Tom Adams of Brownfield in the local tournament last year. He had looked forward to a return engagement, but Adams, a former Tech student, has turned heavyweight and is attending Hardin-Simmons this year. Adams won the state middleweight crown, fighting for Lubbock in last year's competition, but is not expected to return to this region this year.

Other Tech students planning to enter the local tournament include: Moo Hall, junior agricultural education major from Olton, and Jack Wilborn, freshman engineer from Fort Worth, in the welterweight division; Gerald Lee Davis, freshman arts and science student, and Fillmore Hendrix, junior arts and science student, both from Lubbock.

Tickets are now on sale at the athletic director's office.

Polecats, Dusters Lead Ind. League

In the independent basketball league the Dusters trounced the Hatcher's Batters team by a 61-9 count. James Cunningham scored 15 points and Donald Bradley 10, spearhead the flashy offense of the Dusters. George Rouse stacked up four points for Hatcher's Batters.

The Lazy Eive trounced the Press Bulls by a 35-10 score. Tommy Hewlett had 12 points for the Lazy Eive, while his runner-up, Glen Johnson, had 10 points. Aubrey Shouse and Jan Blackwell each hit the basket for four points each to lead the Press Bulls.

Bernie Winkler continued his scoring ways against Miami. It was the big lineman's second touchdown of the year, a feat seldom accomplished by a tackle.

West coast, without benefit of a day's rest.

Doubters, as to the value of controlling the backboard, on a post day basketball, might be convinced by this—in the Tech-Arizona game, Tech took the ball off the boards 58 times compared to 34 times for the Wildcats. Tech had an advantage of 24 rebounds and won the game by 27 points.

An indication of good coaching is the ability of the team as a whole to shoot free shots. Don Grove has made 32 of 39, Barton 31 of 48, Jackson 13 of 16, and Gibson 14 of 20. Draw your own conclusions.

the Wranglers. The Centaurs and Soell teams played practically all but a few minutes of the game in a scoreless deadlock only to have the Centaurs spurt forward in the last few plays to push over a touchdown after an interception by Sandy Hodges. A blocked punt by A. C. Griffin set up the last touchdown. The final score was: Centaurs 13, Soell 0. Charlie Jones and John Murray turned in fine performances for Soell.

The final games scheduled for this week are: Wranglers vs. Silver Key; Soell vs. Kemas; and College Club vs. Centaur. Anything can happen in these games and probably will. Let us suppose for a short space... If Wranglers beat Silver Key and Centaurs win over College Club then this will give the title to the Centaurs; whereas, if Silver Key does win over Wranglers they are virtually certain to win the championship. If Kemas wins over Soell and both Centaurs and Silver Key are beaten then this will throw Kemas, Centaurs and Silver Key in a three way tie for the championship with Wranglers and College Club in a tie for the second place spot. Although Centaurs and Kemas are high favorites over their opponents, the Silver Key and Wrangler game is the game that may determine the champion of the contest.

Standings

Silver Key	4	1	0
Centaur	4	1	0
Kemas	3	2	0
College Club	2	1	2
Wranglers	2	2	1
Soell	1	3	1
Los Coms	0	6	0

ney of Dakota county, Minn.—an office for which he filed immediately after college graduation and in which position he showed particular genius for settling labor disturbances.

Liberalize Party
Characterizing the Republican wing which hopes to liberalize the party, Stassen has as two strong points of his political philosophy international peace and labor peace. He favors low tariffs and reciprocal trade agreements, and his labor peace program—which met with great success in Minnesota—is one of conciliation and cooling off periods. He opposed the Taft-Hartley law as a punitive measure but later favored passing it over the President's veto as he preferred it to no labor legislation.

His labor program is one of the sharp contrasts between him and other leading Republicans, including other candidates and candidate-suspects for the Republican presidential nomination. Spectacular as an administrator, in a little less than four and a half years as Minnesota's governor, Stassen put through a legislative program which reduced the state's debt by nearly 40 million dollars; cut the state property tax rate almost in half; decreased state expenditures; slashed the state employee roll and established a civil service system for state employees; reorganized departmental agencies with the first "business manager" any state ever had; and set up a state labor peace law. Minnesota's Capitol Hill was cleaned up in a hurry and left-wingers of the

Noyes Estate Sends Check For $1,080 For Vet Awards

A check for $1,080 has been received by Texas Tech from the Laverne Noyes estate for scholarships during the 1948-49 year, the Committee on Scholarships and Awards has announced.

These scholarships are awarded to veterans of World War I or their direct descendants who are in need of financial assistance to attend college and who have outstanding scholastic records.

The college receives funds from the estate annually but the amount varies from year to year.

Farmer-Labor administration were ousted.

Made European Tour
Last spring Stassen made a 72-day, 18,000-mile tour of 16 European countries. He investigated the black market in Italy, conferred with President Auriol in France, Jan Masaryk in Czechoslovakia, and Prime Minister Clement Attlee in England. He was received in audience by Pope Pius XII. Climax of the tour was an 80-minute interview with Stalin at the time of the Moscow conference.

In July Stassen offered a 12-point program for stopping Communist infiltration in the United States, a program which had succeeded in Minnesota when he took over the governorship. He stressed that civil liberties must not be encroached upon and that charges of "Communism" must not be made hastily and without evidence presented with the charge. He also emphasized that members of the Politburo, including Generalissimo Stalin, must be convinced that Communist infiltration can never succeed in this country.

TCC Selects Students To Head Script Committee For Movie

Plans are now underway for scheduling of social and academic event for the all college movie with the selection this week by the Texas Tech movie committee of the scenario committee.

Chosen individually from each division of the college, this scenario committee should be contacted by any students or faculty members who might have ideas concerning the filming of the movie.

"Students should contact the committee member from their respective divisions," stated W. O. (Dub) Boswell, chairman of the movie committee. Members are Bill Reid, agriculture; Oleta Stewart, arts and sciences; Jack Allmon, business administration; Geo. Wilmoth, engineering; and Gretchen Chitt, home economics.

Movie Financing Planned
The Texas Tech movie executive committee, consisting of Boswell, chairman; Jack Thompson, vice chairman; Estelle Cummings, secretary; Francis Brockman, treasurer and Hubert Burgess, president of TCC and Joe King, vicepresident of TCC, met Friday with T. C. Root to discuss methods of financing the movie. Plans were made to hold a contest next semester among girls' social clubs on the campus in an effort to increase membership in the Tech Chamber of Commerce, Boswell said. The social club which recruits the largest number of members for the Tech Chamber of Commerce per girl will be rewarded by having one of its dances filmed as part of the all college movie.

DANCE SET BY RESERVISTS

Lubbock Naval reserve unit will hold an informal dance in the Lubbock hotel Saturday, Feb. 7. This will be the unit's second dance its organization early last summer.

Varsity Show Scripts Submitted

Loy Catherine Barnett, council secretary, reported that two scripts had been submitted for the Varsity show and that one of these scripts will be approved soon. Burl Hubbard, economics instructor, and Emma Sue Phelps, speech instructor, will be sponsors for this year's show, she said.

Ellen Keffer, home economics sophomore from Seymour, and Barbara Ramsey, business administration senior from Ralls, were approved by the Council to serve on the Artists Course committee. Floyd Wright is council representative to the committee.

Waiting For Your Ship To Come In? Be Sure You Don't Get Shanghaied!

By T. I. BROWN
Toreador Feature Editor
The longing of the American public to get something for nothing has again broken out in the form of a new-type chain letter called the Five Dollar club. Texas Tech's campus is saturated with students and faculty members attempting to make a veritable "killing" with the "get rich quick" idea.
This new plan calls for a $10 investment with a return of either $20,470 or $10,240, if the chain is unbroken, plus the original investment as soon as the investor sells two copies of the letter for $5 each. The instructions say that you will pay $5 for one letter and send the man at the top of the list another $5. You then make two copies of the letter and omit the top name, placing your own name at the bottom. These two letters are sold for $5 each. No letter accompanies the money that is sent to the person on the top of the list.

Compared To Dime Letters
These new letters compare in content with the illegal dime chain letters of the 1930's except that only money without written material is sent through the mail.
An official at the local postoffice said that the chain letter is against a postal regulation and that a bulletin dated August 26, 1947, stated that even though the letter is not included in the mail, it is an infringement of a U. S. Code and that participants are helping to promote violation by continuing the chain. He added that sealed letters could not be opened by the postal employees, but that all unsealed letters containing money could be stopped.
Lawyers Say Not Illegal
On consultation, two local lawyers said they were of the opinion that there was no specific law which could keep anyone from sending the money through the mails.
Some students and faculty members have watched the mail in anticipation during the past week and it is reported that some of them have already received various amounts. Most participants say that they would be surprised to receive anything from the chain and refuse to worry about whether the amount is $20,470 or $10,240.
Who is going to lose on this proposition? The letter says that only the man who fails to sell his two copies can lose; so after our nation and universe is saturated, perhaps we can sell out to the Martians and let them take the loss.
