Rodeo Opens Show

Parading down Broadway to the Tech campus today will be most of the star cast of the annual Tech Collegiate Rodeo which opens with a performance at 8 p.m. today.

Star of the rodeo, Mike Landon, "Little Joe" of the "Bonanza" television series who arrived by plane in Lubbock Wednesday afternoon, will not ride in the parade but will make appearances at each performance of the three-day stand.

QUEENS STAR
Miss Sandi Prati, "Miss Rodeo America" will join Miss Mary Adele Wilson, Tech Rodeo Queen, in the parade which precedes the first performance of the Rodeo.

THREE evening performances are scheduled. Today, Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. and a Saturday matinee at 2 p.m. in Lubbock Municipal Coliseum.

One-hundred-ninety-two cowboys from eight schools will compete for a share of $5,500 in prize money. Events include saddle bronc riding, bareback riding, bull riding, calf roping, ribbon roping, steer wrestling, girls' goat-tying, girls' barrel race, girls' calf dressing and boys' wild mare race.

The all-around cowboy will be awarded a saddle. Trophy buckles will be given the best cowboy in each event. Prizes for other places include hats and shirts.

RODEO ASSN. HOSTS

The rodeo is sponsored by the Rodeo Assn. at Tech composed of students with the help of sponsors.

MISS WILSON is a green-eyed brunette Tech junior from Sonora. The elementary education major and member of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority was chosen from six girls in a student body election.

She is a reporter for the Rodeo Assn., Zeta Tau Alpha pledge trainer and a model for a Lubbock department store.

Miss Prati, brown-eyed brunette from El Paso, will be a sophomore majoring in physical education at Texas Western College next fall. She competed with 25 entrants from 22 states to win her title in November, 1963.

WINS ON CIRCUIT

She has won prizes on the junior rodeo circuit in roping, barrel racing and goat-tying. Her prizes include two saddles, 14 silver buckles, four all-around championships, five reserve championships and 30 trophies in the western classes of horse shows.

MISS PRATI has also received a list of scholastic, junior civic and leadership awards in 1963 when she became queen of the El Paso Community Fair.

Tickets for the rodeo are on sale in the Tech Union, at Price's Bill Western Wear, Opal's Western Wear, and the Piggly-Wiggly stores. Prices include reserved seats, $2.75; general admission, $1.75; Tech students, $1 and children, 75 cents.

An estimated 20,000 persons are expected to attend.

— Union Speaker — Valdez Talk Called Off

By BRONSON HAVARD
Toreador News Editor

The administration ordered Wednesday the cancellation of the forum scheduled for tonight featuring Peter Valdez, national secretary of the Young Socialist Alliance.

Karen Moore, program director of the Tech Union, announced the decision of Dr. R. C. Goodwin, Tech president.

She said Dr. Goodwin notified Nelson Longley, Union director, that the forum with Valdez as speaker would not be in the best interests of the college.

CONTACTED BY THE DAILY TOREADOR, Dr. Goodwin made a brief statement, "I regard it not necessary for him to be on our campus."

Student Council President Royal Furgeson was asked about the order. He expressed deep concern over the decision but said his office would make no comment until the "confused" situation could be studied.

Commenting on and explaining the decision, Mrs. Moore said, "I think it is regrettable, if there is any responsibility it is mine."

She added that the program was officially approved by the Union as part of the "Spotlight on Latin America" week, and the administration had not previously approved Valdez.

"IT IS NOT normal procedure to go to Dr. Goodwin. Mr. Longley and I approve Union speakers. If there is any negligence it is on my own part," she said.

Mrs. Moore added, "No one is going back on his word, but even in this case I don't agree with the decision."

"I think it is a shame that the college is not mature enough to hear programs of different ideas in the economic and political areas," she continued.

Valdez was to speak at a 7 p.m. forum on "Is Socialism the Answer to Latin America's Economic Problems?"

PANEL MEMBERS in the forum were to be Harry Walker, Dr. Lowell L. Blaisdell, Francisco Gonzales, Raymond Mack and Dr. Robert Rouse, chairman.

Wednesday evening before learning of the cancellation, Steve George, president-elect of the Union, said of the forum. "This is a rather new idea on the Tech campus—a concept of more academic freedom letting different views be expressed on campus."

STILL SCHEDULED in the Latin America week program is a noon forum and movie today on the Orozco murals of Quetzalcoatl with William Rudd, architecture instructor as speaker. Sign up deadline for the lunch is 10 a.m. at the Union newsstand.

"The Forgotten Village" will be shown at 4 p.m. today. It is the story about a small Mexican village and young Juan Diego and his family.

Engineers To Face SC Runoff Voting

Balloting for Student Council representatives Wednesday put 33 students into Council posts and left two candidates facing a run-off vote Friday for an engineering place on the Council.

In the runoff vote Friday are Allan Redwine and Mike Stinson of the School of Engineering. Polling places will be in East Engineering and the Architecture-Computer Bldg. The polls will be closed at 4:30 p.m., according to Pat Hamilton, Student Council secretary.

ELECTED to arts and sciences representative positions were Roland Anderson, Sara Cox, Connie Curry, Lonnie Dillard, Mary Gibbons, Jim Hackney, Steve Henderson, Bill Honey, Holly Hunt, Mike Jones, Tim O'Shea, Sue Ostott, Jill Philbrick, Karo Tubbs, Susan Waits, Marcia Winkleman and Ashley Wisdom. Total vote in the arts and sciences race was 904.

With 440 students voting in the School of Business Administration, elected were Scott Allen, Lynn Barbin, David Beckman, Tom Edwards, Jimmy Martin, Bruce Henderson, Mike Sherman and Patrick Stoltze.

NEW REPRESENTATIVES for School of Engineering are Jim Collier, Bob Filpot, James Gattis, John Miller, Dow Patterson and Collier

Perry. A total of 442 students voted in the race.

With 129 votes cast, Kay Dudley and Betty Jo White captured positions in the School of Home Economics.

Tech Coeds To Compete For City Beauty Title

Ten young women, including eight Tech coeds, will compete for the Miss Lubbock title in the contest pageant May 8.

Deadline for entry is midnight, Saturday. Candidates are Carol McCormack, Ennis; Sandra Spiller, Gamma Phi Beta, Bellaire; Margaret Quick, Dallas; Suzanne Taylor, Friona; Sheryl Beadle, Delta Gamma, Eunice, N.M.; Frances Reese, Ballinger; Rebecca Parker, Pi Beta Phi, Sabinal; Cheryl Poteet, Olton; Monika Beuscher, Lubbock, and Georgia Wall, Lubbock.

An entrant must be of good character and possess charm, contest officials said. Other qualifications include personality, intelligence, charm and beauty of face and figure.

Each contestant must present a maximum of three minutes for a talent presentation, which may include singing, dancing, dramatic reading, art display, dress designing, creative poetry, writing, musical presentation, or she may give a talk on the career she wishes to pursue.

With a showboat theme the pageant will feature can-can girls, a barbershop quartet, a vocalist and a 20-piece orchestra. Entry blanks are available at the Lubbock Jaycee office and from Phil Orman in the Journalism Bldg.

Sing-Song Competition Set Today

Tech's sororities and fraternities will compete in the annual Inter-Fraternity Sing-Song at 7:30 p.m. in the Municipal Auditorium. Admission is free.

Judges will be Mrs. Robert Newton, director of Monterey High School choir; Jack Frost, director of Music from Trinity Baptist Church; Mrs. Charles Moser, director of Hutchinson Junior High choir.

The sing-song will be recorded by KTXB and played back on Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Students, Faculty Hear Illinois U. Psychologist

Dr. Raymond B. Cattell, well known research professor and specialist in clinical psychology at the University of Illinois, addressed a group of students and faculty on the Texas Tech campus Tuesday.

The distinguished psychologist, whose visit was in conjunction with the Engineering and Science Show, spoke on anxiety and neurosis.

Cattell described his work in the factor analysis of anxiety as a new slant on Freud's theory that "anxiety is the simple problem of neurosis."

Working with a colleague, Dr. Cattell has been trying to measure anxiety and distinguish it from neurosis.

"Anxiety is a state as well as a trait," Dr. Cattell pointed out. "Our hypothesis is that the factors found in behavioral measures will be the same as the factors found in questionnaire measures."

In outlining the differences in anxiety and neurosis, Dr. Cattell said, "Neurotics are higher in anxiety, but some normal persons can be too."

"There is one profile for neuroticism and another for anxiety," he said. "The two must be considered partly different."

Dr. Cattell, who is the author of 32 books and more than 500 articles dealing with the field of psychology, received his degree from the University of London.

Bicycle Race Meetings Set

Tech's "Little 500" bicycle race is scheduled to unfold Saturday as 22 men's teams compete for the trophy in the main event.

The men's race will consist of 40 laps around Memorial Circle and Soapsuds Pavilion. The afternoon of racing will be kicked off by the women's race which will consist of 16 laps around Memorial Circle.

The grueling main event, won by the Dolphins last year, is slated to begin at 2 p.m.

The women's race is scheduled to start at 1 p.m.

Joe Waller, race director, has released a list of important dates that should be noted by contestants:

- Girls' convocation — Thursday, 5:15 p.m., Chemistry 101.
- Boys' convocation—Thursday, 5:15 p.m., Chemistry 101.
- Official's orientation and briefing — Friday, 5:15 p.m., Chemistry 101.
- All teams must be at their respective pits at 12:45 p.m., Saturday, for bicycle inspection.

"All team members from each organization must be present at their respective convocation in order for the race to be run smoothly and successfully," Waller said.

Music Symposium Slates Jazz Study

Tech's 13th Symposium of Contemporary Music continues on campus with two more events scheduled today.

The stage band will present a study in jazz at 11 a.m. in the snack bar area of the Union. Dean Killion will conduct the jazz concert, which will include ballad tunes of the 1940's, "Fuge in Five Flats," and contemporary jazz. A jazz waltz will be presented, and the concert will end with the Latin American tune "Fortune of Fools."

Eighteen student composers will present their compositions at 8:15 p.m. in the Music Bldg. The program will include choral work, instrumental ensembles and works for piano. Students are from the classes of John Gilbert, Francis Bowen and Mary Jeanne van Appledorn.

There will be no admission charge for either of these events.

Judson Maynard and Kent Hill, organists, will present a recital at 3 p.m. Sunday in the First Methodist Church, as another of the symposium's events.

John Cage and David Tudor, nationally-known composer-performers, will present a concert of avant-garde music Monday. Their performance will be at 8:15 p.m. in the Coronado Room. Admission is 50 cents for students and $1 for others. Tickets will be sold at the door.

Tech's Opera Theater will present "Trouble in Tahiti" at 8 p.m. Tuesday. Heather Woodall and George Osborne of the music department, and the Modern Dance Theater will perform.

Friday, May 8, the symposium will conclude with a chamber music concert at 8:15 p.m. in the West Texas Museum on campus

Camp Chosen Science Head

Dr. Earl Camp, head of the biology department at Texas Tech, was elected president of the Southwestern and Rocky Mountain division of the American Association for the Advancement of Science at a noon luncheon Wednesday.

Dr. Camp became a member of the association in 1948 and was named a fellow in 1959.

His primary interests in the association are in the chemistry and agriculture sections. He is now completing a term as a member of the executive committee and has served as chairman and secretary of the botanical sciences section.

Dr. Camp, who defeated Dr. Harold E. Dregne from New Mexico State University for the chairmanship in Wednesday's election, will assume the president's chair after the 1964 meeting in Flagstaff, Ariz.

The noon election highlighted the third day of meetings and exhibits held in the Science Bldg. and attended by more than 300 delegates from participating schools.

Moeser Heads Texas BSU's

John Moeser, Tech junior, was elected president of the state Baptist Student Union at the annual meeting held at Latham Springs Encampment near Waco.

The April 17-19 retreat was attended by the officers and committeemen of BSU groups throughout the state.

Active in school affairs, Moeser is junior class favorite, local BSU president, past chaplain of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, men's social fraternity, and a member of Who's Who at Texas Tech.

IN MAY 8-9 LUBBOCK CONFERENCE MEET

Houston May Bid For SWC Entry

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

Despite the silence all the way around on University of Houston's bid to enter the Southwest Conference, there are strong indications that it will come up for a decision at the May 8-9 meeting at Lubbock.

Houston obviously isn't revealing its hand and the Southwest Conference is, as usual, professing to know nothing about it.

The latter is a reasonable attitude — applications do not go directly to the conference. They have to be submitted by one of the members because any school to get into the league must be invited.

JUST WHO IS GOING to submit Houston isn't known but somebody is pretty certain to have already been lined up.

It seems quite appropriate that Houston should make its bid in the home of Texas Tech, a school that fought for 30 years to get into the league and just wouldn't take no for an answer.

Tech bounced back and hammered on the door even after the conference fathers took a vote and burned the ballots so nobody would know how they stood.

It won't be the first time for the big university at Houston to try to crack the barrier. But this time Houston has more guns to back its contention that it should be in the league that now has eight members.

THE SCHOOL HAS grown into a giant (17,500 students), its athletic program is big time and it offers a potential in attendance that could appeal to those who consider the financial aspects.

They're not supposed to think about the commercial angles primarily but don't get the idea that the colleges and universities don't consider them. Rightfully so.

Big time athletic programs must be financed. There have been too many colleges forced to quit football because the wherewithal didn't come in at the gate and even the faculty had to sacrifice to make up the deficit.

RED DREW, FORMER coach of Alabama, coined the expression (perhaps with tongue in cheek) that "It's not whether you won or lost but how many paid to see the game."

Houston appears to be getting support from several directions. Student newspapers at some of the conference schools, notably Rice and Texas, are advocating that the big university at Houston be admitted to the conference.

The pleas of opponents are that it would make the conference too large and would cut down on the colorful intersectional games. These are answered with the observation that other conferences operate quite successfully with a larger membership, such as the Big Ten and Southeastern, and that substitution of Houston for some of the intersectional games now on the schedule might be beneficial.

ANYWAY, IT IS reasonable to assume, advocates add, that a conference game would be a better draw than the average intersectional game.

Texas Tech, with a smaller potential than Houston, gave the conference a boost. Tech has made a fine contribution to the league and the members all will admit it. Could it be that Houston might make a similar contribution?

ANYWAY, PROSPECTS of Houston being considered at the Lubbock meeting has drawn it out of the doldrums. The conference folks can't give their usual prediction that "nothing out of routine is due to come up and it will be a very quiet meeting."

TCU Golfers Upset Texas To Keep Alive Tech Hopes

Texas Christian upset favored Texas 4-2 in a match highly important for the hopes of Tech's Red Raider golf team for a second Southwest Conference title.

Tech finished up their dual match competition with a 27-15 record. After the loss to TCU, Texas must beat third place Texas A&M at least 5-1 in the last match for both teams Friday in Austin.

Texas' record now is 22½-13½ while A&M's record is 22-14. A&M could still take the title with a 6-0 win over the Longhorns, but the Aggies would have to fight an uphill battle to do so since the final match is being played in Austin on the Teasipper's home ground.

If the two teams should split, or if either team should win by a 4-2 score, the title would then go to Tech. Tech Coach Jay McClure isn't overly optimistic, however, since the Teasippers are playing on their home ground.

"If we do win, it'll be by slipping in the back door," the Meadowbrook pro commented.

Sports — Briefs

Coach Don Spark's varsity and freshman track team travels to Dallas Saturday for a quadrangular meet with Texas Christian, Southern Methodist, and Baylor. The meet will be the last one for the Raiders before the SWC meet here May 7-9.

Coach George Philbrick's tennis team finishes up its dual meet season with a pair of matches against Texas Christian here Saturday and Southern Methodist Monday. A win by the Raiders against TCU would cinch a fourth place SWC finish for Tech.
