Unique Antique Goes To Dr. Mrs. Jones

Special Rehearsal Of Tech Songs Given Monday By College Chorus

A special "rehearsal" of Tech songs and presentation of a unique antique were the tribute paid Monday night by 200 members of the college chorus to Dr. and Mrs. Clifford B. Jones, who were responsible for publication of the book of Texas Tech songs. The gift, presented by Chorus President Roy Grimes, was a bench made of lumber pilfered by Grimes from the old stadium.

Dr. Jones declared that the bench which bears the seat number 24, 25 and 26, would be the seat of honor in the Jones home. He added that those were good numbers and that they had been the jersey numbers of some outstanding Raider players.

Joneses Stadium Donors

Dr. and Mrs. Jones were principal donors for both of Tech's stadiums, and the new stadium is named in their honor.

Only half of the chorus could be present for the "rehearsal" held in St. John's Methodist church, Dr. J. P. Blittz, head of the music department and chorus director, pointed out. A meeting place was not available which could accommodate the full 400 members, he said. Numbers presented were "Fight On For Texas Tech," "Texas Tech Has Got To Win" and "Let's Go, Texas Tech." Then the songsters did a report performance of "Fight On For Texas Tech," one of the five songs which won the band ballot this fall, held to determine which songs the student body would like for Matador band to play at home football games.

Song Book Available

These and other Tech songs are included in a book which is on sale at Tech bookstore for 50 cents. Publication of the songs was initiated by Dr. Jones in 1944, some of the songs being composed after that time by Thornton Allen, college song editor. Future editions of the book will carry a dedication to Dr. Jones; the dedication was omitted by mistake from the edition now available, Dr. Blittz said. In commenting on the antique, Dr. Blittz said that he felt sure the lumber in the old stadium was sad and that many Texans will attest that it had become very attached to us. Betty Bowman, chorus vice president, had suggested that permission be gained to secure lumber for the bench but chorus members had decided that would be too easy and they wanted to do something difficult in presenting the memento, Dr. Blittz said.

Dr. Jones Pays Tribute

In accepting the gift, Dr. Jones expressed "a full measure of sentimentality." He said that the old stadium meant a great deal to

All-Male Chorus Offers Program Of Carols Tonight

Tech male chorus will make its first public appearance at 8 o'clock tonight in the Recreation hall, presenting a program of Christmas carols, according to Joe Haddon, director and lecturer in music. The chorus will sing "Silent Night," "O Come All Ye Faithful," "Joy to the World," and "Noel."

The male chorus has progressed exceedingly well since its origination in the fall of this year, Haddon said. Much of the credit goes to Richard Richards, Lubbock businessman, who has wide experience with professional voice groups, conducting the men's chorus at the University of Oklahoma, he stated. Meeting each Tuesday and Thursday night from 7 to 8 o'clock, the chorus is open to all male students. The next regular meeting will be Jan. 6, the first Tuesday after the Christmas holidays. Several concerts will probably be given in the spring, Haddon said.

Also on the Christmas program with the male chorus are three carol groups, sponsored by the foreign language department, and Miss Betty Jo Maynard, Lubbock. The groups will sing several Christmas carols in German, French, and Spanish. Miss Maynard will read Charles Dickens' "Christmas Carol" according to Haddon.

Toreador Misquotes Langston In Story

Wann Langston, instructor in geology, was incorrectly quoted by The Toreador Dec. 12 in a story which stated that an exhibit of bones in Tech museum is one eight such blocks on exhibit in the United States.

The correct quotation from Langston should have read: "This block is one of eight blocks collected by the University of Texas and is one of a limited number of such blocks on exhibit in North American museums."

Tech and served a good purpose. He paid high tribute to Dr. Blittz as a great leader and to the chorus for its thrilling performance Monday night.

M. E. McClendon Killed In Wreck Near Carlsbad

Marion Ed McClendon, junior journalism major until called to active duty in the Army Air corps last August, was killed Tuesday when the automobile he was driving overturned near Carlsbad.

A captain in the air force during the war, McClendon had served as lieutenant in the B-29 squadron since being recalled to duty four months ago. His group had made flights to Europe and plans were under way for a Pacific ocean journey, he informed friends here while on leave recently.

Investigating Accident

He was stationed at Roswell, and had gone to Carlsbad to investigate a plane accident, according to information reaching his mother, Mrs. Daphne McClendon, 1502 Ave. X.

McClendon, 25, was termed by Cecil Horne, head of the journalism department, as one of the best prospective newspapermen in the department. Some of his work has been accepted for publication in the Reader's Digest, and his recall to the army stopped his consideration of an editorial position with the Quarter-Horse Magazine, a trade publication.

Survivors include his mother, wife, one child, a sister, and two brothers. One brother, Morris McClendon, is a freshman arts and sciences student.

Fifth Band Clinic Attended By 500

Fifth annual band clinic, sponsored jointly by Tech band and Lubbock High school band, was held last Friday and Saturday with an estimated 500 high school band directors and students attending. Directors were in attendance from all parts of Texas and fourteen Tech graduates brought band members to play in the clinic.

The clinic served as a "reader's digest of music" for the musicians. Texas Tech concert band, held two sessions, one each Friday and Saturday afternoons. "This was the best clinic of its type in the country," stated D. O. Wiley, clinic director.

Dorm Three West Will Open Jan. 4

Sunday, January 4 will be the official date for girls now living in Doak hall to move into the west wing of Women's Dormitory No. 3, and for boys moving into Doak hall, according to Miss Mozelle Craddock, manager of the dormitory system. There are also a few places left for boys in Doak and girls in Women's Dormitory No. 3, and for couples on the first floor of Women's Dormitory No. 3, she said.

Borden Company Extends Awards

Borden company foundation scholarships for agriculture and home economics majors have been extended another five years, college officials announced Wednesday. The awards will amount to $3,000.

The agriculture scholarship, which amounts to $300 a year, is awarded each fall to the senior student in agriculture who has the highest average grade in all college work preceding his senior year and who has successfully completed two or more dairy subjects. Home economics majors to be eligible for the $300 award, must complete at least two courses in foods and nutrition in addition to having the highest average grade in all college work preceding their senior year.

Borden scholarships have been given on the campus for the past two years.

Stangel Puts Halt On Idle Rumors

Rumors heard on the campus last week relative to full completion of Clifford B. and Audrey Jones stadium are evidently "idle talk," according to an official of the Old-Mid West Co. The only work being done at present is the cleaning up of the area before leaving the site, a workman said. When questioned about the stadium completion, Dean W. L. Stangel, chairman of the Athletic Council, said "That is the first I have heard about it."

Harold E. Stassen May Speak At Mid-January Convocation

Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, has been invited to address Tech students at convocation at 11:15 a. m. Tuesday, Jan. 20. Pres. W. M. Whyburn announced Thursday. Although no official acceptance had been received late yesterday, Whyburn expressed confidence that Stassen will spend 45 minutes of his two and a half hour Lubbock visit at the convocation.

Stassen, one of four top contenders for the GOP presidential nomination, became Minnesota's youngest governor in 1938 at the age of 31. Twice re-elected, he resigned in 1943 for active duty as commander in the Navy. He rose to the rank of Captain as Admiral William Halsey's assistant chief of staff, and was cited for outstanding performance of duty in the Philippines. President Franklin D. Roosevelt recalled Stassen and appointed him one of the three chief U. S. delegates to frame the United Nations charter.

Only four stops will be made in Texas by Stassen, who is now making a tour of the U. S. These include Lubbock, Amarillo, Canyon and Brownsville. His speeches at colleges are scheduled to include Tech and West Texas State.

Scheduled to arrive at about 11 a. m. by private plane from the West Coast, Stassen is to be guest of honor and speaker at the Lions club luncheon at 12:15 p. m. in the Hilton hotel. A reception on the hotel mezzanine will follow the luncheon, and will close at 1:30 p. m. Stassen will address students and faculty at West Texas State later that afternoon and will speak in Amarillo at 8 p. m. It was announced by M. D. Temple, president of the Lubbock County Republican club.

The invitation was extended to speak at Tech was extended by Dr. Whyburn on recommendation of the faculty committee of convocation and public ceremonies, and by the academic deans, in continuation of the college's policy to bring outstanding speakers to the campus, Dr. Whyburn stated. Among the recent speakers were U. S. Attorney General Tom Clark, Gov. Beauford Jester and Congressman George Mahon.

Junior Livestock Judging Teams Compete In January

Junior livestock judging teams from Tech will enter their first contests of the year next month, Prof. Ray C. Mowery of the animal husbandry department announces. A team will compete in the National Western Livestock Judging contest in Denver, Jan. 17, and in the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show contest in Fort Worth Jan. 31. Names of team members will be announced later.

15 Calves, Steers Exhibited By Tech

Tech will show 15 steers and four bull calves in the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show in Fort Worth Jan. 30-Feb. 8, Dean of Agriculture W. L. Stangel announces.

Dean Stangel will be superintendent of the Aberdeen Angus department of the 1948 show, a position he has held annually since 1937. Four of the steers entered are Hereford, while seven are Aberdeen Angus. The bull calves are Aberdeen Angus. One bull will be entered in the Texas Aberdeen Angus Breeders association auction sale in Fort Worth Feb. 5, while another will be sent to Houston for sale at the association auction Feb. 13 during the Houston Fat Stock show, Dean Stangel stated.

Betty Jo Maynard and Jacquelyn Reynolds, composing Tech's women's debate team, won two of five debates and the men's team, Floyd Sadtler and James Bowman, copped one of five debates in the Invitational Debate tournament at the University of Texas Dec. 12-13.

Colleges represented were: University of Texas, Southwestern University, Baylor university, Texas A&M, San Marcos Teacher's college, University of Wichita, University of Kansas, and Texas Tech. Out of the thirty-five or more teams entered in the tournament, four teams were undefeated.

Students Indicate Religious Choice

Leading church preference of students at Tech, according to information released by W. P. Clement, registrar, is the Baptist church, with 2,159 students out of the total 6,114 listing that religion as their choice.

Running a close second to Baptists are 1,825 Methodist students, with 509 students, who prefer the Church of Christ, in third place.

Other preferences are as follows: Presbyterian, 396; Christian, 300; Catholic, 179; Episcopal, 122; Lutheran, 51; Christian Science, 24; Jewish, 16; Assembly of God, 13; Nazarene, 11; Congregational, 8; and Latter Day Saints, 3.

Two students each were listed for Church of God, Grace chapel Pentecostal, Salvation Army and Unitarian.

One student was listed for each of the following: Apostolic, Moslem, Bulgarian Orthodox, Evangelist and Reformed, Federated, Foresquare Gospel, Reform church and Seventh Day Adventist. Students indicating no preference numbered 481.

NORDYKE HEADS BSU

Faye Nordyke, senior applied arts major from Tahoka, was elected president of the Baptist Student Union last Sunday. She replaces Jack Terrell who graduates in January.

When admitted to the Union Oklahoma had a population larger than twenty-one other states.

President Extends Greetings

Christmas Greetings: As we dispense for the holiday season, I extend to each of you my very best wishes for a Christmas full of joy and a New Year in which your fondest hopes will be realized. As you fill the vacant places around your respective family firesides, I know the keen happiness that will possess each and every home. While your return home for the holidays means much to you, it means equally as much to your parents, brothers and sisters.

During Christmas share your exciting and interesting activities at Texas Tech generously with the family. Even though secondhand, these experiences will mean much to them and will give them a pleasant picture of your life on the campus. If you can go to El Paso on New Year's day, join us there for the great football game; if you can't make this trip, then hope that your Christmas presents include a good radio with a receptive range which extends to El Paso.

Merry Christmas! W. M. Whyburn President

leave for the 15-day Christmas holiday period.

Although the vacation does not officially start until 2 p. m. Saturday, some students left for home yesterday, hundreds will leave today and a mass exodus will get underway tomorrow with bus and train companies expecting overloaded facilities, a condition which will continue through Sunday. Students leaving either Friday or Saturday will receive double cuts in all classes missed.

Dorms Close Sunday

The dormitories will close at noon Sunday and will reopen at 10 a. m. Sunday, Jan. 4. Classes will be resumed Monday morning with the double cut rule in effect until Wednesday.

New Year's day will find approximately 500 Techsans in El Paso for the Red Raider's third appearance in the Sun bowl classic—this time against Miami university of Oxford, Ohio.

Students attending the holiday festivities in the border city will be greeted by the El Paso chapter of the Tech Alumni and Ex-Students association. Fred Rollins, president of the El Paso group and director of the association, is heading a seven-man committee which is planning entertainment for Techsans. The Hilton hotel will be headquarters for West Texans with a registration booth and message center located there.

Band To Attend

Tentatively plans are slated for a meeting of the Executive board of the Alumni and Ex-Students association, executive secretary D. M. McElroy has announced.

Texas Tech band will lead the Sun carnival parade with Judy Pollard representing Tech as Sun princess.

Pres. W. M. Whyburn has announced definite plans to attend the carnival, and promises all Raider followers to give his seven lucky rabbit feet a thorough workout on the grid turf before game time to insure a Tech triumph.

All Tech students have received an invitation from Delta Gamma sorority to attend an open house after the game. The affair will be held in Benedict hall from 5 to 7 p. m. Jan. 1.

Tech Band Leads Sun Bowl Parade At El Paso Jan. 1

One hundred and ten red-coated Tech bandmen will lead the Sun Bowl parade through the downtown streets of El Paso, Jan. 1. A colorful performance has also been planned for half time at the Texas Tech-Miami football game.

Tech band members are going to meet at the band hall Dec. 30 to rehearse and are leaving the following morning for El Paso on four buses. Upon arrival there, the band will play a concert at 7:00 o'clock m.s.t. on the plaza. According to D. O. Wiley, director, members of the band will stay at Ft. Bliss in an area set aside for civilian bands.

During the half-time performance at the football game, the Matador band will spell out "Hello Folks", followed by a salute to Miami with their school song. A cowboy hat will be formed with the crown forming a huge "M" to honor the School of Mining in El Paso. This formation will then be changed into a sombrero while "Mexican Hat Dance" is played as a salute to "our neighbors across the border." The program will be concluded with the playing of the Matador song.

How do college girls spend their money?

A recent survey made in Economics 438 shows the following expenditures by college girls: The average Tech girl spends 61c a week for cosmetics and toiletries. As for cokes and food for these evening "feeds", $1.89 is the average amount spent in seven days. She takes in one movie on her own during the week, for an average of 40c is spent to see Yan Johnson or some other "Dream Man". Bus fare adds up to 50c in a week's time.

Laundry, including soap, amounts to 43c weekly while cleaning and pressing bills run up to 69c. The general miscellaneous items amount to 28c per week. Such items as cigarettes are included at 22c, stamps at 9c, which means an average of only three letters per coed are written in one week. An average of 8c is spent for magazines and 6c for stationery.

Only five per cent of the Tech girls visit the beauty shop regularly. The rest either do their own hair or talk their roommates into doing it.

Results Of Bookstore Investigation Submitted By Grievances Committee

Tech War Veterans association at its last meeting discussed the report of the bookstore investigating committee which completed its survey on the problems involved by the veterans in connection with the Tech bookstore, stated Joe Meador, commander of TWVA.

In one of the first meetings called by TWVA, the members brought up the discussion of the Tech bookstore. Fifty-seven grievances were submitted to the executive committee which broke the grievances down into seven main issues. An investigating committee was then formed composed of Joe King, Joe Meador, Floyd Read, George Wilmoth and Morgan Davidson, to meet with the heads of the bookstore. The issues submitted by the committee were: (1) long lines, (2) lack of equipment, (3) disrespectful attitude toward veterans, (4) ring designs, (5) shortage of help at the bookstore, (6) second-rate equipment and (7) dissatisfaction of having only one bookstore.

Four Meetings Held
The committee had four meetings with Dean Root, assistant to the president, Mr. Cole, manager of the bookstore, and H. A. Anderson, coordinator of veteran affairs, and the following conclusions were reached.

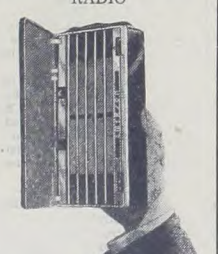

In regard to the disrespectful attitude and shortage of help, Mr. Cole explained personally that the most outstanding policy of the store has always been for all the employees to be courteous. He stated that he was not aware of the fact that any clerk was disrespectful and that he has informed the clerks that he was embarrassed by their actions toward the veterans and that in the future any disinterested, disrespectful or discourteous clerk should be immediately reported to his office. Mr. Cole also stated that he was having a difficult time getting employees as was everyone else but that the situation is now somewhat relieved.

Ring Design To Be Standardized
In the matter of the ring design, Dean Root informed the committee that he would investigate the standard ring design and communicate with all the institutions selling rings, giving them the official Tech ring design. This matter was also passed on to the senior class to be acted upon. Mr. Cole stated that the lack of equipment was due to the shortage of material from the manufacturing companies and that the selling of second-rate equipment has become necessary because of this. He assured the committee that he is trying to get as much first-rate equipment of all kinds as possible.

Concerning the dissatisfaction of only one bookstore, the committee was informed that the Tech bookstore is established on the campus and that the funds from the store go back to the college. Also having only one central location on the campus to buy books and equipment and being under direct supervision of the college were some of the main reasons for only one bookstore. According to the committee, the long lines will be attempted to be eliminated by the use of a numbering system during registration.

Other Issues Enumerated
Other main issues brought out in the committee hearings were: 1. Shortage of books, which was explained by Mr. Cole that a number of instructors fail to turn in the correct number of books or that they wait too near registration time to send the list of books in. Action will be taken on the matter encouraging instructors to be more prompt. Also the paper shortage was slowed down in the book manufacturers output. 2. The K&E slide rule, which is the rule most engineers desire and

Tech Tops McMurry In First Home Game

By ORLIN BREWER Toreador Sports Writer

A slow starting Tech quintet pecked out a not too impressive 60-49 victory over the McMurry Indians in the first home game of the current basketball season last Friday night.

It was a see-saw engagement through the first half with the Indians taking a 20-15 lead after 10 minutes of play. Tech pulled into the front, 29-27, only to leave the court at halftime with the count rested at 29-29, after McMurry coming at a setup in the closing seconds of play.

Hill Leads Scorers
Raiders, sparked by "Wimpy" Hill, who lead Tech scorers with 17 points, entered the second period with a sharp change of pace. They amassed a substantial lead, then coasted to their victory, without being dangerously threatened again by the visitors.

Discounting the win, Coach Polk Robinson was definitely disappointed with this first home game and believes it was the poorest showing made by the Raider cagers this season. His charges are faced with a rugged assignment following Christmas and hence will not break training until a morning workout on Dec. 23. They return to the campus on the 27th and leave for an All-College Invitational tournament Dec. 28 in Fort Worth. Schools besides Tech participating in the tilts are: TCU, SMU, Texas A&M, LSU, North Texas State, Texas Wesleyan college and H-SU.

Troubles Loom For Tech
Back in Border conference folds, Arizona, NMU and West Texas State seem to be at the top of the pile at the moment, and are looming obstacles to the future of the Tech quintet. West Texas has just returned from a successful mid-western tour, while a chance to view Arizona's possibilities will come following games with Baylor at Tuscon, and a tilt later in the week with UCLA on the West Coast.

Tempe university in Arizona has all its '46 lettermen back for action this season, gaining also a few reinforcements for the squad. Here at Tech, C. W. Dukes, Tyler Junior college transfer, shows promise.

Another thought: Bowl games are outgrowing any usefulness they might have once had. If they could possibly be narrowed back to a half dozen maybe they would demand more of the respect they once had. They have overdone a good thing.

Coach Polk Robinson, number three high point man on the Tech basketball squad in 1933-34, his last season with 140 points.

Tech Rated Underdog In Sun Bowl

Raiders Intent On Victory Over Miami; Nine Gridmen Make Final Appearance

Texas Tech's Red Raiders will once again occupy the role of underdogs New Year's day when they tangle with the undefeated and once tied Miami University of Ohio Redskins in the annual Sun Bowl classic in El Paso. The Border City newspapers have placed the Ohio crew one to two touchdowns over the Red Raiders, but the Techs are facing this contest with more enthusiasm than most of the regular season games.

Miami, who has completed one of the most successful seasons in its long football history, will be playing its first major bowl game; whereas it will be the fourth post season contest for the Red Raiders. The Redskins were ranked 25th in the nation by the Associated Press in its final rating. Miami shared this position with the University of Illinois and Northwestern, both members of the Big Nine conference.

Miami, publicized as the best-balanced offense in Ohio, terminated the season with eight victories and one tie as compared to Tech's six victories and four defeats. A comparison of the schedules indicates, however, that the two teams are more evenly matched than a study of the records would denote.

The Redskins will field one of the lightest college eleven's ever witnessed in this area as Coach Sid Gillman, who has never coached a team that has failed to score, plans to start a line averaging 181 pounds and a 184-pound backfield. Coach Dell Morgan of Tech will probably counter with a 198-pound line and a 177-pound backfield. Miami has been outwitted in each of its nine games but as Coach Gillman predicted at the beginning of the season, they have not been outrun in any of them.

"We have but one objective—to win that game," Co-Capt. Bernie Winkler, Raider All-Conference tackle, declared. Winkler seems to express the feeling held by the entire Tech squad as they are tackling their ever day workouts with zestful determination. Emphasis is being placed on punting, short and long passes as well as place kicking, a phase which Tech neglected during the regular season.

Nine men will be playing their last game for the Raiders when they engage Miami. Donning the Red and Black for the last time are: ends, Joe Smith of Electra and Ralph Geddie of Dallas; tackles, Bernie Winkler of Temple and George Zoller of Van; guard Floyd Lawhorn of Temple; center Roland "Tuffy" Nabors of Lubbock; and backs Freddie Brown of Burk Burnett, Ralph Earhart of Lefors and Leete Jackson of Lubbock.

The Redskins' able grid general is Mel Olix, one of the nation's leading passers. Olix has completed 71 passes out of 133 for 1,081 yards and an average of .534 which almost equals the record compiled by Tech's Freddie Brown.

Coach Gillman has adopted defensive tactics which compares to those applied by Dutch Meyer of Texas Christian. He used eight various defenses against Cincinnati and Miami is apt to fall into any defensive pattern to confuse opposing players.

Wayne Gibson, Miami fullback, is considered a novelty in the Midwest due to the fact that he tips the scales at only 155 pounds. This year he has averaged 71 yards per try for 271 yards in 38 attempts which is topped by only Calvin Stevenson and Charley Reynolds of the Raiders.

Ping Pong Champs Decided Saturday

Champions in ping pong were determined last Saturday, according to Francis Bearden, director of the Recreation hall. The matches were played off between 3 and 5 p. m. with about 150 attending, he added.

In the men's singles there were 30 entries. In the semi-finals Arthur Rumpy met Wallace Collins while Malcolm Burkett played H. J. Blanchard. Blanchard and Collins played in the finals with Collins winning 2-1. Each game consisted of two out of three full games to determine the winner.

There were 16 teams in the men's doubles. The doubles matches were eliminated to the final two teams consisting of Bob Magouirk and John L. Perry against Freddy Libby and Barney Bevers. Freddy Libby and Barney Bevers won the final match 2-0 by scores of 21-17 and 21-13, for the doubles championship.

Six women entered the women's singles tournament. "Pinky" Pinkston won the championship singles contest. There were two teams in the women's doubles tournament and Betty Hatcher and "Pinky" Pinkston copped this tournament by a 2-0 game count.

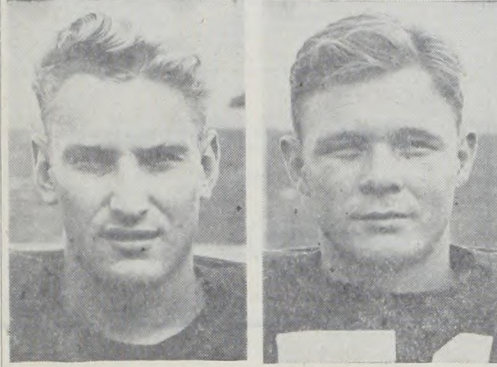

Bearden added that prizes of rubber ping pong paddles and free dance tickets to Recreation hall dances were given the winners. Plans are being laid, Bearden went on to say, for checker, cribbage, and chess tournaments after the Christmas holidays. Notice will be given for the start of the contests. Ping pong tournaments will be held each semester to determine champions.

Centaur, Silver Keys Win; Kemas Downs Los Cams 19-0

Silver Key took over the intramural touch football lead last Sunday when they downed the College Club 25-12. Pete Cook, Jack Noyes, and Carroll Hall along with a host of other Keys bowled over College Club to step into the first position. Bobby Lewis and David Pipher of the College Club helped to stem the rolling offensive set up by the Silver Keys.

Centaur dumped top ranking Wranglers by a narrow margin of 7-6 to cop second place in the league. A well placed kick from the toe of E. L. Derr following a touchdown pass from Tom LeMond to James Johnson proved to be the winning tally for the Centaurs. The Wrangler score came from a pass at the hands of Bob Booker to Bob Barron. Centaur and Silver Key have the same standing, but since Silver Key has beat Cen-

Techsans Placed On All-Conference

Bernie Winkler, left, senior tackle from Temple and Roland Nabors, right, senior center from Lubbock, were named to the All-Border conference team for the second consecutive year last week. End Joe Smith, senior from Electra, and Quarterback Freddie Brown, senior from Burk Burnett, were placed on the second team. Selected on the All-Conference first team were: ends, Robert Chesney, H-SU and Vincent Cisterna, Flagstaff; tackles, Winkler, Tech and Earl Rowan H-SU; guards, Ernest Kelly, Texas Mines and Jack Ellison, H-SU; center, Nabors, Tech; QB, Al Johnson, H-SU; HB, Wilton Davis, H-SU and Fred Enke, jr.; FB, Rudy Krall, New Mexico.

Tech Will Win Say Faculty, Students

By BILL CARPENTER
Toreador Sports Writer

Although the Texas Tech Red Raiders are supposed to be one to two touchdowns underdogs in the Sun Bowl, students and faculty seem to think that Tech will stomp the Miami of Ohio Redskins by an impressive score. Opinions and predictions are:

Alice Gene Meading, arts and science senior: "The score will be 27-13 favor Tech. Earhart will stub his toe on one kick."

Bill "Scoop" Sayers, arts and science junior: "Tech will beat them by a score of 20-13."

Bob McKinney, engineering junior: "Miami by a score of 13-7."

Floyd Goodrich, freshman aggie: "If they play hard Tech will beat them about 27-19."

Joe "Bow-Tie" Meador, arts and science junior: "Tech will win by 6-0."

The faculty agrees with the student on the outcome of the game. Prof. Clark Schooley: "Tech will beat them 35-13 since Tech is two touchdowns underdog."

Francis Bearden, director of Recreation hall: "Tech will win 20-13. Tech has enough defense to stop them on the ground."

T. C. Root, assistant to the president: "I'll guess 26-20 in Tech's favor."

Dean R. C. Goodwin: "If Tech wants to play that game they will win by about 26-7."

Pres. W. M. Whyburn: "We will win by about a score of 13-7 if the school and team spirit is behind the game as it recently was."

Vets Can Resume Service Insurance

Veterans wishing to reinstate their National Service life insurance without first taking a physical examination must do so before Jan. 1, the Veterans administration has emphasized. Reinstatement will come for veterans after payment of two months' premiums. The ex-serviceman may retain his full insurance or may reduce the policy to any amount less than $10,000 which is divisible by $500.

Centaur puts them in the lead with Centaurs second.

Kemas won its second game by defeating Los Camaradas 19-0. Gene Thomas scored twice for the Kemas and Joe Rushing set up the other touchdown. Henry Kerbow and Bill Strals helped Los Camaradas keep the score to a low point.

Socil did not play this week. The next scheduled games take place January 11, 1948. On this date Socil will play Centaur, Los Camaradas will meet Silver Key, and Wranglers will tangle with Kemas. College Club will not play on this date.

Sun Bowl Features 13th Game Raider's Record--Two Losses

By RAY COOK
Toreador Sports Writer

The Sun Bowl game is played each New Year's day in El Paso as a climax and conclusion to the Sun Carnival which is held annually the week after Christmas. The Sun Bowl was established as the sixth oldest bowl classic in 1936 with an opening game tie between Hardin-Simmons and New Mexico State 14-14.

Tech has played in the Sun Bowl twice. In 1936 the Raiders were defeated by West Virginia 7-6 before a crowd of 12,500. In 1942 the Raiders returned to the Sun Bowl only to be downed by Tulsa 6-0 as 14,000 fans watched.

The average bowl attendance for the past ten years has been 13,800. The largest crowd, 18,000, attended in 1944 when Southwestern Texas defeated New Mexico 17-0.

Thursday, January 1, 1948, the Texas Tech Red Raiders will play the 13th Sun Bowl game against Miami University Redskins of Oxford, Ohio. The preceding 12 games follow:

- 1936 H-SU 14; New Mexico St. 14.
- 1937 H-SU 34; Texas Mines 6.
- 1938 W. Virginia 7; Texas Tech 6.
- 1939 Utah 26; New Mexico 0.
- 1940 Catholic U. O; Ariz. Tempe, 0.
- 1941 Western Reserve 25; Arizona, Tempe 13.
- 1942 Tulsa 6; Texas Tech 0.
- 1943 2nd Air Force 13; H-SU 7.
- 1944 S'western 17; New Mexico 0.
- 1945 S'western 35; Mexico 0.
- 1946 New Mexico 34; Denver 24.
- 1947 Cincinnati 18; Virginia Tech 6.

Don't Throw Them Dice 'Gainst Billy On 7-7-47

"Unlucky 13" may be the title attached to this familiar jargon by some persons, but consistency is the term used by Billy Ray Reid. This junior animal husbandry major was judging stock Dec. 13, he was contestant number 13 and placed 13 in the contest.

The first Notre Dame-Army game called for $125 expenses for the Notre Dame team. And if it rained Notre Dame was guaranteed $65. Border conference games call for a $3,000 guarantee today.

STAFF SLANTS

For those of you who can't make it to El Paso on New Year's Day this is the latest release on who will broadcast the game: KROD of El Paso, KIUN of Pecos, KVLK of Alpine, KYKM Monahans, KOSA of Odessa; and in New Mexico, KWEW of Hobbs, KAVE of Carlsbad, KSIL of Silver City, KGFL of Roswell. Other stations will be signed soon according to information from Frank Junell of El Paso.

The Cameron Aggies took it on the chin in the annual Little Rose Bowl in Pasadena last Saturday. Chaffey Junior college of California downed them 39-26 before 55,000 fans. The Picadors suffered their only loss this season at the hands of the Aggies 33-6.

Seems a mite cool, but we've noticed golf team notices in other school papers. North Texas State is eyeing a national intercollegiate championship, while T.C.U. is also excluding optimism with all of last year's squad returning, plus a couple of additions. New Mexico U. had a couple of matches during the fall and seemed pleased with prospects for annexing the conference title next spring.

Intramural touch football on the campus could take a tip from Texas A&I. They play their touch football at night under the stadium lights. Maybe the MCCC schedule wouldn't extend past the Christmas holidays if this were done here.

Lennie Balch and Bill Henderson, two of Tech's leading Golden Glove contenders, are working out daily at the Boy's club. Lavern Roach, a leading contender for the World's Middleweight crown, was impressed with their ability and gave them a few pointers during his recent visit to Lubbock. Henderson went to the quarterfinals of the national in Chicago last year. Balch was eliminated in the finals of the local tournament.

T.C.U.'s Horned Frogs will trot out in new uniforms and plastic helmets in their Delta Bowl game with Mississippi.

Christmas Festivities Are Given By Drane, Doak And Dorm No. 3

Christmas spirit prevailed in Drane hall, Women's Dormitory No. 3 and Doak hall this week when a Christmas party was held in each dorm.

Group singing of Christmas carols opened the party at Drane hall Tuesday night, after which Katherine Nelson read the scripture, and Ruth Caldwell sang "O Holy Night." Jane Magee continued the program with a Christmas story, "Let Men and Fiddles Sing" by Amy Bruner Almy. A piano solo, "Claire de Lune" played by Glyna Addington, and a sextet singing "Deck the Halls with Boughs of Holly" and "Silent Night" concluded the music on the program. Composing the sextet were Ruth Willis, Marjory Prewitt, Patsy Prewitt, June Whitcomb, Alice Adams, and Jackie Bremby.

Presentation of gifts and refreshments of fruits and candy concluded this Christmas party.

The party at Women's Dormitory No. 3 Wednesday night opened with Barbara Conkling's reading of the Christmas story from the Bible. Christmas carols were then sung by the girls, gift presentations made, and refreshments of chilled apple cider and cookies served. Gladys Dawson headed the food committee for the party, with Gretchen Clift as chairman for the entertainment committee.

A solo, "O Holy Night" by Beverly Cumble opened the entertainment at Doak Hall Thursday night. Frances Forsythe gave a reading and Mary Herral provided piano accompaniment as everyone sang Christmas carols. Gift presentations were made. Refreshments were cider and cookies.

DEAN ANNA L. ROSE HAWKES is pictured above with President W. M. Whyburn while visiting Tech campus last weekend. Dean Hawkes, chairman of the committee on standards and recognition of colleges and universities, American Association of University Women, inspected the college in connection with Tech's application for inclusion on AAUW's approved list of colleges. Educational program, living arrangements, social and recreational life of women students and faculty members and medical care were given special consideration by Dean Hawkes.

day as well as its cultural and civic worth. He added that it was a privilege to hear Tuesday night's program and that he would cherish the gift presented to him and Mrs. Jones.

On the rostrum during the special rehearsal were Dr. and Mrs. Jones; Mrs. Barber, mother of Mrs. Jones; Dr. Blitz; Miss Bowman; and Bill Nugent, student body president and member of the chorus. As the chorus sang "Auld Lang Syne", Grimes came forward with the gift.

Blitz pointed out that chorus members should make Tech songs well known on the campus, suggesting that they should be sung at pep rallies. The section of the east stands in the new stadium, directly behind Matador band's seats, was reserved for chorus members at the Homecoming game this year, and Blitz announced that permission has been granted to have those seats reserved for them in the future.

Tech Faculty, Students Star In '47 Lions Club Minstrel

By JOE FRANCE
Toreador Staff Writer

Lions Club Jubilee Minstrel of 1947, sponsored Monday evening by TWVA set the pace as one of the liveliest and most entertaining shows of the season.

The show, which was given in the high school auditorium, was of the old-time black-face comedy type and was studded with a cast of over 75 local Lions as well as a large group of Tech faculty and students. Some of the Tech faculty who stepped on the stairs to stardom were: Dr. Doyle Jackson, professor of education and psychology, who acted as interlocutor; Dr. J. Wm. Davis, head of the government department, starred in part two as Grampa Stears; and Dr. F. G. Harbaugh, veterinarian and professor of animal husbandry, played the part of Grampa Stears' 180-year-old father. Tech students in the cast included Glyna Addington, TWVA Sweetheart, who played the piano; Morgan Davidson, comedian act; D'Ruth Hopping, mistress of ceremonies; Panze Butler, who played the piano and sang; and jitterbugs Judy Pollard and Hoyle Moss and Vicky Atkins and Ted Gilkas.

Jay Denton and his orchestra began the show with a series of all the medleys sung in the acts. The chorus carried on from there.

Funds obtained from the all-Tech night by TWVA will be used to place a plaque in the Memorial circle in honor of Tech ex-service men.

Equipment Worth $16,500 Ordered By Tech Press

A Kelly automatic book press and a Little Giant job press are included in $16,500 worth of equipment recently ordered by Tech press, Cecil Horne, head of the journalism department, has announced. The new equipment raises the value of press machinery to $46,500.

"Within the next two years, as we become more able and equipment becomes available, we expect to add $30,000 more in equipment and materials. We hope to install an engraving plant and a book bindery, these facilities making the Tech press as complete as any school press in the country," Horne said.

Proceeds from the press, superintended by Wayne Kittley, are used to retire bonds on the Press building which is being paid for by Tech press, La Ventana and The Toreador, with the former bearing the major burden of payments. The press prints all College bulletins, stationery, and various forms used by several departments, while employing 15 persons, most of whom are enrolled in Tech.

Applied Arts Head Has Festive Ideas

Original ideas with unlimited variations in Christmas decorations make for holiday fun, according to Miss Martye Poindexter, head of the department of applied arts.

Common vegetable dyes make eye-catchers of seed pods and with ribbons or tinsel produce interesting displays. Cotton stalks with bolls and dyed cotton burs make unique decorations, she stated.

For white Christmas effects, Miss Poindexter suggests that green boughs be moistened and frosted with flour, or the moistened boughs be sprinkled with soap flakes. Another unusual snow effect may be obtained by dipping boughs in soap suds, allowing the bubbles to burst as they dry. This technique is complicated and requires experimentation for good results, she said.

APO Initiates 20 On Founder's Day

Beta Sigma chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, formally initiated 20 pledges into active membership in a ceremony in the Aggie auditorium Friday evening. New members are: Bill Agnew, James Carroll, Jerry Clark, Charles Clowe, Harold Cobb, John Dubberley, Bill Eddins, Bob Fowler, Beryl Harris, John C. Harvey, Duane Hill, Melvin Hoelscher.

Joe R. Lewis, Bill McKee, Kenneth McLeland, Floyd Napier, Johnny Nixon, Bobby Simpson, Frank Summers, Jack Williams, and Jack Erwin.

Bass Speaks To Society At Tuesday Night Banquet

"From Soup to Nuts" was the address made by Roy Bass, local attorney and lecturer in government at Tech, at the annual banquet of Tech Accounting society Tuesday night in the Yaquif room of the Hilton hotel.

Thirty-one members and dates attended. Faculty sponsors and special guests included Mrs. Roy Bass, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Rushing, Ernest W. Gibson and William Whittington.

The first intercollegiate football game was played Nov. 6, 1869 between Rutgers and Princeton.

Raider Courtmen Trip NM, 62-46

Texas Tech's Red Raiders launched their bid for 1947 Border conference basketball honors Wednesday night at Tech gymnasium with a well-earned 62-46 victory over the University of New Mexico Lobos.

After a see-saw start through the first ten minutes of play, Coach Polk Robison's Raiders gradually outdistanced the visitors from Albuquerque. At halftime, Tech enjoyed a 30-25 lead, and in the second period was never seriously challenged, although the New Mexicans hustled all the way.

All points considered, the victory was on the impressive side. The Raiders at times had difficulty in hitting shots, particularly in the first half, but they displayed an abundance of drive and hustle. And once they gained clear-cut control of the backboards, they held the Lobos well in check.

Don Grove, Tech's mammoth center, took high scoring honors for the night, netting 19 points despite a floating defense used by the Lobos in a vain effort to halt him. William Banks turned in an outstanding game at forward, collecting 10 points and doing yeoman service in the rebound department. Ardis Barton also sparkled playing a great "dogging" defensive game, and tallying 14 points, most of them on spectacular drives under the basket.

The win left the Robisonmen with a four-three record for the season, all losses being to non-conference foes.
