Six Justices Head Court

Members of the Tech Student Supreme Court were announced Wednesday by Ronnie Botkin, Student Council president.

Appointed to serve as justices in the judicial branch of student government were Steve Magee, chief justice; Bob Ford, from the School of Business Administration; Jack McClure from the School of Engineering; C. C. Willis from the School of Agriculture; Lynn McElroy from the School of Home Economics; and Susan Wood from the School of Arts and Sciences.

any question the student body may have on any legislation."

One justice is appointed by the Council president from among the senior students in each undergraduate school. The chief justice is appointed at large.

Tuesday night the Council ratified Botkin's appointments.

Commenting on the function of the high student judicial body at Tech, Botkin said, "The court has the final decision on any matter that the Student Council passes or

The court also advises the president on request about matters being considered by the Council.

Students appointed to the court must have exhibited leadership and a sense of responsibility, Botkin said.

Chief Justice Magee is a former president of the Student Honors Council. He has worked on Tech Union committees and has worked in student government for the past three years. He is currently a member of the Student Publications Committee.

"I feel the position of chief justice is one of the most important positions in Tech's student government. I feel we have a very capable and outstanding student to serve in this capacity," Botkin commented.

New Board Planned By SC, Union

A speakers board that would tentatively approve and aid in securing speakers for campus organizations was proposed in Student Council meeting Tuesday night.

The board would have three main purposes, which include the following:

- To secure outstanding speakers and help other organizations in securing speakers by giving status to their requests.
- To avoid conflicts in scheduling of speakers and to achieve better distribution of speakers.
- To act as a screening agency on possible speaker candidates.

The board would be composed of nine members—three students appointed by the SC president and three faculty members and three administration members appointed by the college president.

SC President Ronnie Botkin and Steve George, president of Tech Union will draw up plans for the speakers board. Upon their completion the proposal will be submitted to Tech President R. C. Goodwin for the final decision.

On Campus Streets—

Checkpoints Proposed To Regulate Traffic

To relieve daytime campus traffic congestion, the Campus Planning Council in a meeting Wednesday, proposed the installation of manned checkpoints on all streets leading into the college.

These entry stations will be similar to those now used at the University of Texas and the University of Kansas. They will provide control and direction of campus parking and traffic.

The Campus Planning Council believes that the check stations will relieve traffic problems in the following ways:

- They will provide for the maximum utilization of the entire campus by faculty, students and visitors.
- Pedestrians on the interior section of the campus can expect better protection.
- The ports will afford opportunity of access to any person needing to be on campus.
- They will cut down on necessity of campus policing.
- The issuance of violations would be cut down.

• Proper direction and information could be given to campus visitors.

The council will submit its recommendation to the Board of Directors for further consideration.

The possibility of removing some cars from the campus and the "double decking" of the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum parking lot were other proposals discussed in the meeting.

Frosh Cars Out?

Banning of freshman cars or cars of those students not maintaining a certain required grade point average was offered as a possible parking problem solution.

To provide more parking spaces, it was also proposed that a raised concrete platform be built over the present parking lot. A ramp would provide access to the second floor.

Discussing campus parking problems further, the council reported that there are now 6,303 parking spaces on campus and 2,000 spaces in the coliseum lot. There are approximately that many cars registered.

Tickets Issued

It was also pointed out that during the 1963-64 school year there were 26,695 tickets issued. This is a little more than two tickets for every student enrolled at Tech.

With the increase of enrollment every year, the council is predicting an increase in the parking and traffic problems. This is evident when the predicted enrollment in 1972 is expected to be more than 28,000.

PRESIDENTIAL SALUTE —

Classes Will Dismiss For AF Gen. Schriever

Classes will be dismissed for an all-school convocation featuring Gen. B. A. Schriever, commander of the U.S. Air Force Systems Command, at 11 a.m. today.

The topic of the general's speech in the Municipal Auditorium will be the "Responsibilities of a Changing World." The convocation is sponsored by the Student Council and the School of Engineering.

Aerospace Systems

The Air Force Systems Command is responsible for research, development, procurement and production actions required to place a complete aerospace system in operational use.

Gen. Schriever, a four-star general, has management responsibility for Air Force contracts with more than 5,000 major contractors who are engaged in work on Air Force systems.

Gen. Schriever, a graduate of Texas A&M, was also awarded a master's degree in mechanical engineering from Stanford University. He has received seven honorary doctor's degrees from Creighton University, Rider College, Adelphi College, Rollins College, the University of Michigan, Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute and Loyola University.

Fish Pictures Slated Friday

Freshman pictures for the 1965 La Ventana will be made Friday at Avalon Studios, 2414 Broadway. Upperclassmen who have appointments Friday can keep them, but pictures will not be made for upperclassmen who don't have Friday appointments. All pictures must be made before the Oct. 31 deadline.

'Sweetie' Presented

The new Sweetheart of Sneed Hall was presented Wednesday at a mixer with Knapp Hall.

Miss Sherry Barton, freshman from Dallas, was presented with one dozen long-stem red roses by dorm president Frank Sikes of Plainview.

Each year dorm residents submit candidates for Sneed Hall Sweetheart and elections take place. Miss Barton won the honor after two runoffs.

According to Sikes, the girl chosen as dorm sweetheart is usually the dorm's entry in the annual Miss Mademoiselle contest.

The deadline date for entries in the Homecoming Parade has been set for Nov. 17 by O. A. Keeter, parade chairman.

Any organization intending to enter the parade competition may contact the office of the Ex-Students Assn. before the deadline.

All available American-made convertibles have been promised by local dealers to the Ex-Students Assn. for use by Homecoming Parade officials.

The parade chairman asks persons knowing of available trailers to notify the Ex-Students Assn. in the Tech Union.

Germans Return

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — At least four German aeronautics experts who worked in the United Arab Republic recently returned to Germany.

Reports from Cairo Tuesday said the U.A.R. rocket program was being expanded but that about 30 Germans had left.

About 500 Germans are believed engaged in Egypt's rocket and jet aircraft development program.

Chronicle Of Press Shows Perplexities

Although most newspapers are private businesses operated for profit, they have become an "institution" in the United States.

The influence of newspapers upon public opinion is enormous; they help foster commerce and industry by opening lines of communication between traders and craftsmen and consumers; they speak out against public and private excesses and even provide a check on the government.

Early "newspapers" in Colonial America were really newsletters, sent back to England by home-loving settlers, or distributed among the colonists. When they wanted news of home, settlers could read information brought over on ship by passengers, and gossip "reported" by captains of the sailing ships.

The later papers of the 1700's—all weeklies—were devoted mainly to news. Only a few were outstanding for their editorial commentary, among them Benjamin Franklin's Pennsylvania Gazette.

Franklin Chose News

Franklin, like other newspapermen, had a choice; he could present and discuss the pertinent facts of the day — or delve into arrivals and departures of ships, petty thefts and minor public disturbances.

Franklin, however, stuck to the vital matters. With the approach of the Revolutionary War, the amount of opinion content became greater. Of 37 newspapers printed in the colonies at the outbreak of the war, two-thirds were Patriot.

Patriots Speak Out

Such great men as John Adams, Samuel Adams and John Hancock produced stirring demands for unity among the colonies and for freedom of the press. Fighting for the right of the press to speak at will on important issues set a precedent which, according to many, has made American newspapers great: the ability to fearlessly reveal fact and opinion for the sake of the public good.

Greeley Crusades

During the period from 1833 to 1860, Horace Greeley's New York Tribune appeared on the American scene with the first real newspaper staff. It fought the underprivileged and was a powerful opponent of slavery. The Civil War, called "the best covered war," saw hundreds of reporters at the scene of battle sending observations to eager audiences who then exerted opinion on government conduct of the struggle.

Although reporting was more widespread during the War Between the States, newspapers played a role similar to that of Revolutionary papers: spurring concerned citizens to think about the facts; choosing the facts they thought to have most importance for the public welfare.

Old Dilemma

Patriotic American editors and newspapermen faced a frightening dilemma that still confronts, in varying degree, every newsman: what facts should be printed? In presenting facts to their readers, journalists from small towns and large cities have reflected their community's concerns...chastised their weaknesses. Facts are the most important raw material an editor has to work with, and his selection of the facts which merit space is the difficult job he has to face. It is this selection well made which has created a powerful American press.

Even when selecting items that are non-controversial, an editor knows that some people somewhere will question either his judgment or his integrity or his diligence — or all three. Yet, select he must. And report he will.

NY Police Find Explosive 'Book'

NEW YORK (AP) — Police said a live bomb packaged like a book was delivered through the mail to the offices of the Communist paper, Daily Worker. It was disarmed Wednesday by a police bomb squad.

Lt. Kenneth O'Neill of the police bomb squad said the package bore a label of the "Modern Book Store, 56 East Chicago Ave., Chicago, Ill."

He said the package was about 10 inches long and eight inches wide.

Alpha Epsilon

The fraternity man, who by the cultivation of all that is pure in man's nature and character will achieve the ideals of his fraternity. Eight young men came together on March 9, 1856, at the University of Alabama to form a brotherly society which was destined to extend to the furthestmost limits of the country. They formed a bond which would perpetuate the ties created during the best and most adventurous years of life . . . Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

The brothers of Texas Alpha Chapter of SAE, founded at Texas Tech in October of 1953, are proud of their fraternal heritage and the deeds attained while on this campus. They have a cause . . . to develop a man . . . a 'gentleman'. Scholarship, leadership, participation in intramural athletics, an opportunity for character development, and enjoyable social life give the men of SAE a genuine faith in brotherhood.

Donny Ahead Of '63 Pace

Most folks thought Texas Tech's Donny Anderson set a pretty fast pace winning sophomore back of the year laurels in the Southwest Conference last season.

But, at the midway point of the 1964 schedule — going into Tech's sixth game, with Southern Methodist here Saturday night — Anderson has more than doubled his yardage output of 1963 at this stage.

Nets Yards

Anderson has netted 476 yards on 93 rushes, an average of 5.0

yards each time he grabs the ball. Through the first five games of last year, he had netted 214 yards, an average of 3.4 a carry.

In pass receiving, Anderson has also more than doubled his production at this point of comparison. He snagged five for 69 yards through five 1963 games and has increased that to 14 catches for 176 yards this season.

Game Work

Game by game, here's the way Anderson has been ahead of his 1963 rushing pace: (first figure is his 1963 rushing total, second his '64 net) Texas, 22-34; Texas A&M, 73-129; Texas Christian, 31-164; Baylor, 48-97. In an opening non-conference game last year, against Washington State, Anderson picked up 30 yards. Against Mississippi State this fall, he accounted for 43.

If Coach J T King could be assured Anderson would continue to surpass the 1963 pace, he'd be more optimistic concerning Tech's chances against Southern Methodist.

Last Year

Against the Mustangs last year, Anderson rushed for 109 yards, caught five passes for 40 yards, and averaged 45 yards punting.

To repeat such a performance is asking too much of anyone—even a guy like Anderson.

Tech Events

Texas Tech fans will get a look at future Red Raiders as the freshmen tangle with the reserves in Jones Stadium at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

No admission will be charged. Coach Berl Huffman's Picadors dropped an 18-14 decision to the Arkansas frosh in their opener last week. Next contest for the Tech freshmen will be with Rice here Oct. 30.

University of New Mexico will engage the Lubbock Athletic Club in a cross country meet at Hodges Park here at 3:30 p.m. Friday, Texas Tech Track Coach Vernon Hilliard announced Wednesday.

Raiders, Mustangs Tangle Saturday

By JERRY KOLANDER
Sports Staff

The Texas Tech Red Raiders play the SMU Mustangs this Saturday, and have hopes of repeating a 13-6 victory of last year. The Raiders go into their sixth game with a 3-2 record, while the Ponies support a 1-3 record.

This particular contest is No. 12 in the rivalry between the Mustangs and the Red Raiders, with SMU leading 6-5.

SMU lost 7-6 to a highly regarded Rice Owl eleven last week. The Mustangs return 18 lettermen from a team that finished 4-6 last season.

Mustang head coach Hayden Fry will use a combination "T" formation offense in trying to attain the first conference win of the year. Fry, in his third year at SMU, has an offensive line averaging 205 pounds. Tech coach J T King has an offensive line averaging 204.

Leading Punter

SMU's 185 pound quarterback, Danny Thomas, is the Southwest Conference leading punter with an average of 44.2 yards per kick. Left end Jimmy Taylor is a prime target for the passing arm of Thomas. Taylor has gathered in 12 passes for 139 yards and one TD. Thomas has completed 20 of 38 passes thrown for a total 193 yards.

The Mustangs do not have a running back in the top nine rushers of the conference, but backs Floyd Burke, Pat Gibson and Rogers Reinowski are not to be taken lightly.

Tough On Defense

On offense the SMU Ponies are averaging 178.8 yards per game while the Raiders average 264.4 yards per contest. It is on defense that the Mustangs are tough. They allow 220.5 yards a game which is good enough to place them second behind Texas in the defensive standings.

Doug Young, Tech's starting defensive guard, injured his knee and will miss the remainder of the season. He is the only casualty following the loss to Baylor last Saturday. The SMU Mustangs report no injuries and are ready for the tangle with Tech on Saturday.

A crowd of 34,000 is expected to see the Raiders try to get their third Southwest Conference win of the year. Tech has never won more than two SWC contests in one season.

Nikita Brought Back Mad

MOSCOW (AP) — Five secret policemen brought Nikita Khrushchev back fighting mad from his Black Sea vacation to the Communist party meeting that threw him out of office, informed sources reported Wednesday.

The first tip Khrushchev had that the party Central Committee had assembled in Moscow came in a telephone call, possibly from Leonid I. Brezhnev, the man who succeeded him as first party secretary.

The sources say members of the Central Committee began gathering in Moscow Oct. 11 or 12 after being summoned from as far away as New Delhi, where the Soviet ambassador is a committee member.

Charges were drawn up, including bungling of the Red China dispute, industrial and agricultural failures, personal excess and creation of a personality cult.

The informants gave this account of the events that followed: Then someone telephoned Khrushchev at Gagra, a resort on the Black Sea, telling him to return to Moscow for a committee meeting on policy matters. Khrushchev angrily replied that he was first secretary and would decide upon meetings. He could not be ordered around.

The secret police turned up at Gagra a short time later and five of them escorted Khrushchev to Moscow. The sources declined to use the term "arrest" but said the pressure approached that.

A fighting mad Khrushchev was outvoted in a meeting of the 11-member Presidium of the 170-member Central Committee. When this happened before, in 1957, Khrushchev rallied the Central Committee to his side, overruled the Presidium vote and ousted his opponents, including former Premier G. M. Malenkov and ex-Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

This time, Mikhail Suslev presented the Central Committee an indictment of Khrushchev, charging both personal and policy shortcomings. Khrushchev replied, then looked around at his followers, expecting support.

No one spoke up for him and Khrushchev lost the first secretary's job, the premiership and the seat on the Presidium he had held since 1939. The momentous decision was announced last Thursday. There has been no indication whether he also was removed from the Central Committee.

Reports are circulating that Khrushchev is writing a paper, possibly a defense or self-criticism. It is doubtful a defense would be made known to the public.

Turkish Doctor Speaks On UN

Dr. Metin Tamkoc of the Government Dept., a native of Ankara, Turkey, will speak on the "U.S. In The UN" noon Friday.

The Tech Union is sponsoring Dr. Tamkoc and a buffet lunch in its Blue Room.

Students and faculty can sign up for the $1 luncheon and speech before 3 p.m. Thursday.

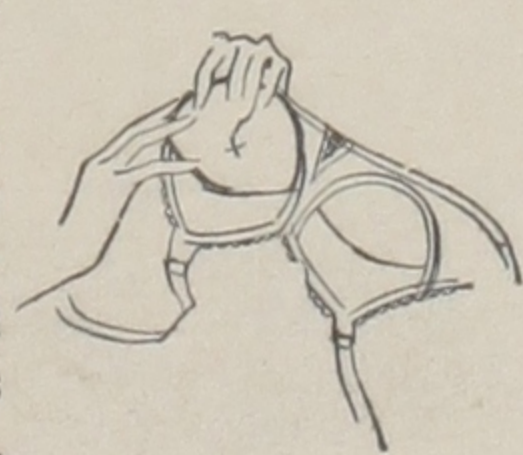

Tamkoc, a Fulbright scholar, will also discuss the possibilities of recent Red Chinese weapons accomplishments in his speech.

GUERRILLA TRAINING — Army ROTC members are taking counter guerilla and antiguerilla training involving judo and hand-to-hand combat. Unit Commander Randy Simmons leaps over a trainee in a judo maneuver, above.

-New Class Offered- Cadets Study Antiguerilla Warfare

Sparked by student interest in southeast Asian guerilla warfare, Tech's Military Science Dept. is offering for the first time classes in counterguerilla and antiguerilla operations.

The class is composed of volunteers from the Army ROTC program; 22 are enrolled now. Techniques of scouting, patrolling, land navigation, unconventional warfare, unarmed defense and survival are being taught.

Practical Application

Training is divided into both classroom instruction and practical application. The unit meets for an hour and a half each week.

Capt. George A. Turain, director and principal instructor, said the new program was initiated by student interest. "Jan Beer, a third-year Military Science student, asked if a program like this could be organized," said Turain, "Now we hope to make it a permanent part of our curriculum."

Guest instructors will lecture on unarmed defense and effects of nuclear explosions. Turain said Tech's program paralleled that given in the regular Army, although on a modified basis.

Good Foundation

"This training will be a good foundation for those entering the Special Forces in the Army after graduation," said Turain. The group is presently taking instruction in judo from John Daring of the Lubbock Police Dept. Junior and senior ROTC members may still sign up for the course.

Similar units, composed of volunteers, have been formed at 77 colleges and universities throughout the U.S., including West Texas State University.

Students To Attend Science Symposium

Two Tech students, Zafer Cetinkaya and Keitha Davis, will leave today by plane to attend a science symposium at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The symposium, sponsored by M.I.T.'s Assn. of Women Students, will consist of a series of lectures, discussions, and question-answer periods on Friday and Saturday.

The two delegates were chosen by the Tech Assn. of Women Students on the basis of their ability and interest in professional careers in the physical sciences or engineering.

Sponsors say the symposium will make it possible for a group of highly qualified men and women to explore the factors involved in a woman's commitment to a scientific professional career.

Also, a report will be made on the current status of women in industry and the academic world, and probe the problems associated with the employment of women.

Miss Cetinkaya is majoring in home economics and Miss Davis is a chemistry major.

MANY PAY RESPECTS

NEW YORK (AP) — Thousands of New Yorkers passed by the flag-draped, closed coffin of Herbert Hoover to pay their final respects Wednesday to the nation's 31st president. Many bowed, knelt or expressed genuine affection. Others paused for prayer in nearby pews at St. Bartholomew's Episcopal church on Park Avenue in mid-Manhattan. The body will lie in state there through today.

Avoid Rush Says Kuntz

Students needing educational and vocational counseling should make appointments immediately, Dr. James Edward Kuntz, director of the Testing and Counseling Center, advised.

Dr. Kuntz reported that students who are counseled before mid-semester would probably avoid the "rush" and a waiting list.

Planning ahead on the counseling would more evenly distribute work for the Center's limited staff, Dr. Kuntz said.

The Testing and Counseling Center offers guidance in educational, vocational and personal counseling.
