

Wilson, Kiesling Named AWS Top Tech Women

By CAROL THOMPSON
Toreador Staff Writer

Marianna Wilson and Nita Haseloff Kiesling were named AWS women-of-the-year at the annual Women's Day Banquet Tuesday night.

The banquet climaxed AWS Day, an annual event in which Tech's top women students are recognized. Miss Wilson and Mrs. Kiesling were selected by popular ballot from 15 senior women nominated for the honor.

Miss Evelyn Oppenheimer, prominent Dallas book reviewer, was speaker for the banquet. Plans are now in progress for having Miss Oppenheimer conduct a one-week workshop on techniques of oral book reviewing and review lecturing this summer at Tech.

Pi Beta Phi was recognized at the sorority with the highest scholarship for the fourth consecutive year. Casa Linda, Tech's co-operative house, received the award for the dormitory with the highest scholarship.

Sigma Kappa sorority received the intramural baseball sportsmanship award, and Kappa Alpha Theta was recognized as champions of the tournament, which was held earlier this spring.

Four Awards Given

Special awards given included: Delta Delta Delta scholarships, given to Phyllis Sears and Glenda Harris; Hattie Smith award, presented to Shirley Mullins as the sophomore resident in Casa Linda with the highest average during the fall semester; and the history major award, won by Fane Downs for the second year.

Grace Wheeler was given the Mortar Board award for the woman student with the highest grade-point average during her freshman year. Miss Wheeler had a 3.0 average.

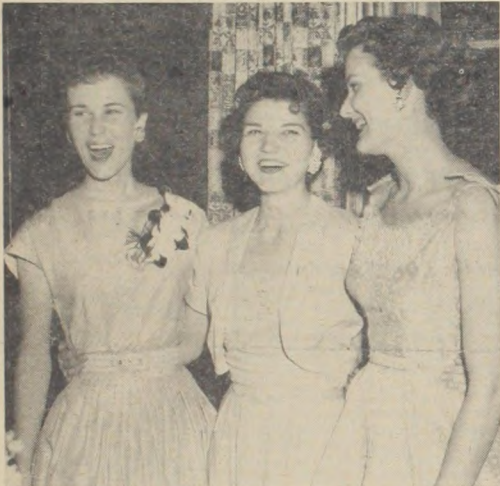

Mary Randal received the Alpha Lambda Delta award for the senior woman with the highest overall grade point average. Miss Randal has a 2.86 over-all average.

Sororities, Dorms Give Honors

Recognition was also given to high scholarship girls by the sororities and dormitories. Peggy Miller and Sunny Barrow received recognition from Drane; Joy Risher, from Horn; Dorothy Brinkerhoff, from Knapp; and Mary Ann Parks, from Casa Linda.

Members of Mortar Board, Junior Council and Alpha Lambda, scholastic honorary societies, were presented. Legislators and See AWS, Page 2

Circle K Is Active In Service Project

By DALE JOHNSON
Toreador Issue Editor

One of the newer service organizations on campus is Circle K, college Kiwanian group. Though of recent origin, the club already has been active in several projects, on campus and off.

Circle K's top campus project has been Toys-for-Tots campaign the past two years. The group sponsored the campus drive in 1955, but offered no award to the top contributor. However, in 1956 Knapp Hall won the trophy for contributing the most toys to the campaign.

Circle K plans to make the Toys-for-Tots drive an annual event on campus, and each year give the winner a trophy. In order for the winning organization to gain permanent possession of the award, however, it must win three years in succession.

In 1955 Circle K aided in the get-out-the-vote campaign on the campus.

Off-campus projects include sponsoring a Boy Scout Troop in the city; helping the Hub City Kiwanis Club, Circle K's sponsor, with its annual rummage sale; aiding in getting a Circle K club started on the Lubbock Christian College campus, and helping in forming Key Clubs, high school Kiwanis organizations.

Highlight of Circle K's existence, however, was the presentation in December of an international charter to the club. As the organization was begun in November of 1953, it had just barely over the year's minimum existence required for a campus organization to receive a national or international charter.

Tech's chapter of Circle K was begun by Dr. Howard Golden of the marketing department. Dr. Golden is a member of the sponsoring Hub City Kiwanis Club and is Division 7 chairman for Circle K clubs. Guy Finley was charter president.

Dr. F. L. Mize, head of the management department, is club advisor and Dr. Golden is club sponsor.

Every week, two members of the Tech organization attend the Hub City club's meeting. Once each semester, the Tech club and the Hub City club have a joint meet. In the fall, Circle K is host, while in the spring Hub City hosts the meet.

Kelly, Hatfield Winners In Beauty-Beast Contest

Winners of the Beauty and the Beast contest, sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, were Nan Kelley, Zeta Tau Alpha, and Leo Hatfield, Pi Kappa Alpha.

Miss Kelley was presented a bouquet of carnations and both of the winners received trophies to present to their fraternity and sorority. The couple will also receive a paid dinner date to one of Lubbock's restaurants and each will be given a golden key when they arrive. Names of the winning sorority and fraternity will be placed on a plaque at Saddle Tramp circle.

Votes were cast for a penny each at a booth in the Union until 7 p.m. last night. Money collected through the votes for the beauty and the beast and from the admission to the musical show totaled $1012.13. Alpha Phi Omega presented the Saddle Tramps a check for $1000 to add to the fund for "Saddle Tramp Circle" during the show. The circle is to be completed by Homecoming next year and will be used for pep rallies and other campus gatherings.

Runners-up for the beauty were, in the following order: Anease Pritchett, Sigma Kappa; Patti Matthies, Gamma Phi Beta; Ann Nickols, Alpha Chi Omega; Nancy Unger, Delta Delta Delta; Charlene Williamson, Horn Hall; and Carole Deen, Tau Beta Sigma.

Runners-Up Are Listed

Runners-up for the beasts, in the following order, were: Jackie Henry, Phi Gamma Delta; C. Glen Wood, Alpha Tau Omega; Sandy Lynch, Phi Delta Theta; John Green, Sigma Nu; Wayne Gibbens, Kappa Sigma; and John Bates, Sneed Hall.

Students who entered the contest had to be regularly enrolled at Tech and fill college requirements for participation in extra-curricular activities.

Jazz contest was not held because some of the bands who were to enter could not be available. Therefore, trophies were not awarded to the bands participating in the musical show. The dollar for admission to the show was considered as 100 votes for the contestants of the donors choice. Four bands who donated their time for the musical show were the Ad Libs, Savando Travino and his Latin American Combo, Harold Goodson and his band and the Four Teens. Numerous singers were also present for the show.

This is the first year a beauty has been chosen to reign with the beast, although the selection of the Ugliest Man on the campus is an annual event.

Debaters Vie For SWC Crown

Tech's debate team left yesterday for the Southwest Conference speech tournament to be held tomorrow and Saturday in Dallas as the first team to represent Tech in Southwest Conference competition.

The debaters will contest the Oklahoma University debate team in Norman and will enter two other debates in Ada and Durant before going to Dallas today.

Joe Ben Hudgens and Willis Taylor will be the affirmative team while Virginia Bray and Jerry Fletcher will make up the negative team.

All Southwest Conference schools will enter a negative and affirmative team and Techsans will debate the team from each of the entering schools. A winner will be chosen from the affirmative and negative divisions.

Banquet Date Set For Cosmopolitans

The annual banquet of Tech Cosmopolitan Club will be May 11 at 7 p.m. in Catholic Parish Hall.

Feature of the banquet, honoring Tech's 25 foreign students from 17 countries, will be native foods prepared by the students.

Mrs. John Lynch, former president of Lubbock Council of United Nations, will be guest speaker. Music from the program will be provided by Servando's Continentales, who will play music representative of all countries.

For the second consecutive year, two Tech journalism majors walked off with top honors in the Southwest Journalism Forum photography contest conducted by the Dallas Press Club and Southern Methodist University.

Leonard Hartley, freshman from Big Spring, copped first prize of a $50 savings bond, while Harold Creswell, senior from Lubbock, took runnerup honors which netted him $30 in photography equipment.

This marked the second year that Creswell won top honors in the meet as he was first place winner last year.

Last fall Hartley worked with the college's public information service while Creswell works for the information service at present.

In sweeping the photography contest, Hartley and Creswell competed against colleges from a three state area including Baylor, T.C.U., S.M.U., North Texas State, Oklahoma A&M, Abilene Christian and Hardin-Simmons.

Entries in the contest were filed last fall on the SMU campus. Winners were revealed in a letter received locally Saturday.

TECHSANS TALK BACK

We Agree . . .

Dear Editor,
In regard to your recent editorial entitled, "Am I to Blame" I would like to say that I wholeheartedly agree with your viewpoint. Personally I know what a struggle it was for me, and many like me, to find the $25 tuition when we were in Tech. I know it is just as difficult for many students today to finance their way through school. If one student who was capable of getting a college education was prevented from doing so because of this increased tuition, I would be against it.

We of the teaching profession must spend years in preparation and we must return in summers to continue our education, all on the small salary being paid Texas teachers—so you see it would be detrimental to the teachers of our state.

It has been said that the teachers of Texas are sponsoring this bill so their salary could be raised. Nothing could be further from the truth. The truth as you so well stated is that the state administration is sponsoring the bill so as to avert the passage of a tax bill.

Again may I say that I appreciate the stand you have taken. I am glad to know that editorials are being written in opposition to this measure.

Sincerely yours,
Frank D. Ford

Parking Problems . . .

Dear Editor,

Hooray! I was afraid that every one had forgotten the parking issue. Was I glad to see that last letter in the column "Techsans Talk Back"—I was afraid I had waited too long to get in my say. Now, we students have been criticized for not doing anything about this drastic situation. Up until now I was the only person on the campus who had not written a letter to the editor and complained about this awful and most undemocratic situation. Now at last someone is going to propose a cure to all this—Me! I'm tired of all this talk and no "do." We have all cussed and discussed and have been cussed for not attending these meetings concerning the parking situation. Being the loyal follower of Karl Marx that I am—since peaceful means have seemed to fail—I propose overthrow of the capitalists who have taken all the three-and-a-half bucks, not by the stupid socialist methods but by violent revolt! Here's what I propose. Listen carefully, comrades.

First we will ALL take our cars and park them anywhere we please—all over this beautiful grass that Tech is so well known for. You know—in front of the Ad Building entrances, etc. Not only should we do this but we should drag in a great number of wrecked cars and place them over the campus at strategic points—say about a thousand or so. We'll let the campus cops drag them away for a change. Then when the school officials complain we should take all the cars off the campus, block off all entrances, refuse to attend classes, or eat in the daytime, or sleep at night until this business is all cleared up by those in control of these capitalistic organizations. (We might possibly use this method for keeping the room and board rates down—who can tell?)

As for myself, I would be proud to organize such an operation. I can see myself now—standing before the Dean, the President and the Board of Directors, a weeks growth of beard on my face, a cigarette hanging from one corner of my mouth, my clothes soiled and dirty from days of work at such a worthwhile cause, a carbine slung from one shoulder, a Bowie knife at my belt and casually asking, to the displeasure of my audience, a definite step to be taken to remedy this most drastic thing that has come to pass. "After all this is an institution for the students—and their cars. Then I would step out into the tower of the Ad Building and announce the wonderful news to the thronging crowd below and ring the victory bells. Should the verdict not be pleasing, I would commit Hari-Kari and fall into the hands of my faithful followers below—a martyr of the Rights of Students!

I await your reply, students. I need only followers.

I remain your champion and ever faithful servant of the CAUSE!

New Catalogues Now Available

First copies of the April edition of Tech's official 1957-58 college bulletin are now in the registrar's office.

A minimum of 20,000 copies are due to be rolled off the Tech Press for distribution among present and future enrollees.

The general catalogue, which contains no major changes over the 1956-57 edition for Tech in 1957 with three more due to be printed. The three yet-unpublished publications include a business administration bulletin due sometime in May, a June graduate catalogue and a geology bulletin scheduled for August.

Other publications during this school year have been a faculty bulletin in October, a student life publication in December, a fine arts catalogue in January, a women's program folder in February and the summer school catalogue in March.

General college catalogue covers are designed by students of Rod Parkinson, assistant professor of architecture and allied arts.

Phi Gams Awarded Speech Trophy

Phi Gamma Delta was awarded the sweepstakes trophy for the Intramural Speech Tournament at the speech department's Awards Banquet held Tuesday night in the Tech Union.

Individual awards were handed out to the winners of the different events. Those winners include: oratory, Pre-Law Society; poetry reading, Pre-Law, radio speaking, Westminster Fellowship; declamation, Pre-Law; dramatic interpretation, Sigma Kappa; after-dinner speaking, Pre-Law; extemporaneous speaking, Pre-Law; Bible reading, Westminster Fellowship.

Noel Rietman will represent Tech at the regional meeting of student members of the Society of Petroleum Engineers of AIME at Texas A&M Friday and Saturday.

Prof. Philip Johnson will accompany Rietman.

School representatives will read papers on petroleum, and prizes will be awarded.

Rietman, who won first place at Tech, will present his paper entitled "Shale Oils."

The paper considers how surface and near-surface shales could compete as a source of petroleum, according to Harold Blum, associate professor of petroleum engineering.

Lewis Williams, whose paper was entitled "Casing Design," placed second.

Third place went to John Weaver for "Aluminum Pipe in Petro-

First Year For Off-Campus Speaker

This is the first year that an off-campus speaker had been invited to talk at the banquet. Miss Oppenheimer spoke on "Women with a Past."

She urged women to finish their college education, and protested that there were far too many girls dropping out of school and working to send their husbands to college.

"All living is learning, and all learning is living. Continue to study and grow after college, and don't close your minds when you receive the diploma," Miss Oppenheimer said.

Zimmerman Will Attend Conference

Don Zimmerman will be one of three Texas representatives of the Presbyterian Church U.S.A. attending a conference on the merger of college fellowship centers at Lake Forest Academy, Lake Forest, Ill., this summer.

This conference consisting of representatives from college fellowship unions of the Presbyterian, Methodist, Christian and American Baptist churches is being conducted to study the proposed plan of merger to see if it will be advantageous.

If the plan is accepted, student centers on large campuses will be united on several activities. Student centers will continue to be separate however. On small college campuses where each church cannot afford a center, the students would be united at one center.

Zimmerman was elected a delegate to the conference, which is

DON ZIMMERMAN scheduled for August 26-31, at a convention at Mo-Rance in Kerrville during April. He is a freshman from Hereford.

Tau Delts Entertain With Premier Dance

Tau Delta Tau will present its "Hollywood Premiere Ball" at 8 p.m. tomorrow night in the Union ballroom.

This dance will serve as an announcement to the school of the acceptance of Tau Delta Tau into the national fraternity of Delta Tau Delta. It will be open to all the college.

Music will be provided by the Kingsmen Combo and the dance will be a costume affair of characters from movies.

Decorations for the Ball will include a spotlight outside the Union, spotlights at the entrance of the ballroom, a red carpet bordered by foot prints and hand prints of famous stars will lead to the ballroom and caricatures of movie stars will be on the walls of the ballroom entrance.

Invitations to the premiere have been sent individually to all fraternities and blanket to the sororities.

Arrangements were made by Don Grimes and Dick Hunter, social chairman. Decoration will be made by Jerry Martin, Gerald Dabbs, Gerald Fenley and Neal Garland.

LANGUAGE MADE SIMPLE: No. 2

Exams loom closer and closer. The sands run out; the chips are down. This, you will agree, is no time for levity.

Accordingly, I have asked the makers of Philip Morris whether I might not dispense with jesting in today's column and instead devote it to a cram course in languages.

Their consent was cheerfully given, for they are fine, great-hearted men, the makers of Philip Morris, just as full of natural goodness as the cigarettes they turn out, just as friendly, just as jolly, just as regular, just as unfiltered, just as agreeable. "Why, bless you, child!" cried the makers. "Of course!" Then they rumbled my chestnut curls and somebody cried "Not it!" and before you could say flip-top box, a game of Squat Tag was on, and we played 'til the moon was over the yardarm, and then, pink and touselled, we all went inside and had flagons of temperance punch and Philip Morris cigarettes and fell into our trundle beds and slept the clock around!

But I digress. Today let us turn our attention to the study of languages.

Do you realize how important languages are? I must confess that, until recently, I did not. "What good will Spanish ever do me?" I kept asking.

Well sir, I found out. Recently I took a trip to Latin America, and every day I thanked my lucky stars for having learned Spanish in college. While my fellow tourists stumbled and bumbled, I was perfectly at home.

Hasta la Vista, Señorita!

I recall our first stop in Mexico City. I stepped from the airplane, walked over to the nearest colorful native, and said, "Hasta la vista, señorita. (Good morning, sir.) ¿Pero las lastimas y calamidades se agravanan mas y mas cada dia?" (Has thy footman finished sweeping out thy chamber?)

"No, sir," he replied in Spanish. "He is an idle rogue."

"How is thy footman called?" I asked.

"He is called Diego," replied my friend, "and the little daughter of his fat sister is called Juanita. She has two small books, one gray cat, three black dogs, 24 red chickens, one fat pig, eight pewter mugs, and a partridge in a pear tree."

"Wilt thou have a Philip Morris cigarette?" I asked.

"Gracious," he said thankfully.

We lit Philip Morris and smoked contentedly the better part of the day.

"Perhaps by now my footman shall have finished sweeping my chamber," he said. "Wilt thou not come to my house?"

"Gracious," I said.

Arm in arm we walked to his house, but, alas, his footman had not yet swept out his chamber. So we each took a barrel stave and beat the impudent scamp until it was time for my airplane to take off.

Aloha, Mexico, brooding land of enchantment!

Farewell, Mexico... Hello, U.S.A., land of the long size and regular, the flip-top box, the fresh, natural, zestful smoke—Philip Morris, of course!—whose makers bring you this column throughout the school year.

75 Women Enroll In Charm School

The 75 women enrolled in the charm school sponsored by Tech's Home Economics Club and Phi-Upsilon Omicron are currently learning correct rules of make-up, in connection with make-up, according to Mrs. Bess Rothman, instructor.

A former teacher for John Robert Powers' modeling school, Mrs. Rothman will instruct the women on accessories tomorrow.

In Monday's class, the group learned correct posture, walking, sitting, standing, how to put on a coat and how to carry gloves. Tuesday they were taught how to get a correct fit in foundation garments and how to take care of them.

During Wednesday's class period, line and color were emphasized.

Classes end tomorrow night. The school has been held at two-hour periods each day this week.

Phi Gamma Nu Initiates Pledges

Phi Gamma Nu, professional business sorority, initiated seven pledges last week.

Following the initiation, members had dinner at Walden's Restaurant and the scholarship key was awarded to LaVerne Dierschke, the senior member with the highest grade point average. Roses were presented to the new members by their big sisters at the dinner.

Pledges initiated include Linda Chappell, Lubbock; Judy Cochran, Lubbock; Claudette Hill, Lubbock; Ernette Gebert, Wichita Falls; Janice Newsom, Lubbock; Beverly Wartes, Brownfield; and Evelyn Whittenburg, Amarillo.

Miss Hill was presented as best pledge at the dinner.

Special guests at the initiation included Miss Florence Phillips, dean of women; Miss Jacqueline Sternes, assistant dean of women and Mrs. Dorothy Garner, assistant dean of women.

Sneed Hall Plans Awards Banquet

Sneed Hall will have its annual awards banquet Sunday at 6 p.m. in the Mackenzie Park party house.

Awards will be presented to the best athletic and the outstanding athlete in each intramural sport. These men will be elected by their teammates. Also Mr. Sneed Hall will be awarded a trophy. He is also elected by the men of the dormitory.

Entertainment will be provided by Wetback Womack and his Juarez Five and a Dixieland Combo led by David Pool. Barbecue and the trimmings will be served to members of Sneed Dormitory Association and their dates.

Engineers Slate Picnic

There will be an industrial engineering picnic Saturday afternoon at 12:30 at Tech Terrace in Mackenzie Park.

Chemistry Dept. Schedules Banquet

The Chemistry department's annual awards banquet will be held Saturday at 6:30 p.m. in the Union Ballroom.

All chemistry majors, chemical engineering majors and staff members are invited to attend.

Principal speaker for the banquet will be Dr. Calvin A. VanderWerf, chemistry professor at the University of Kansas. Recognition will be given to outstanding students and recipients of scholarships from the Eastern States Petroleum Co., Monsanto Chemical Co. and Dow Chemical Co.

VanderWerf is a former secretary and chairman of the American Chemical Society's chemical education division and the author of two widely used chemistry textbooks and of numerous research articles. He is a physical-organic chemist, and holds a bachelor's degree from Hope College and a doctorate from Ohio State University.

Tickets for the banquet cost $1.65 and may be purchased at the Chemistry Office. Deadline for buying tickets is Friday noon.

Phi Nu Alpha Sets Sunday Breakfast

Phi Nu Alpha, music fraternity, has scheduled a Big-Little Brother Breakfast at 8 a.m. Sunday at Walden's Restaurant.

Paddles will be presented to big brothers by pledges and the best pledge will be announced.

Following the breakfast Phi Mu Alpha will sing at the First Christian church morning service.

Recent past activities of the fraternity have included a steak fry and concerts for the Pro-Med Society's annual banquet and for the men of Christ the King Lutheran church.

The Board of Directors in 1955 officially renamed the five divisions of the college. Since then they have been called schools.

Picadors Meet Odessa, Protect Perfect Record

Texas Tech's power-laden Picador baseballers will be trying for a perfect season tomorrow afternoon when they meet the Odessa Junior College Wranglers in the second game of a double-header at Tech diamond.

In the first game, scheduled for 1:30 p.m., Odessa will battle Amarillo College for the junior college zone championship. The Picador-Odessa game, set for seven innings, will directly follow the playoff game. Admission to the two games is free.

Flanagin Will Pitch

Picador Coach Paul Ortosky has named big Charles Flanagin of Dumas to start on the mound. Flanagin, a 220-pound righthander, has one win to his credit; that coming in a relief role in the Picadors' last outing.

In the bull-pen for the Tech frosh will be righthander Billy Tombs of Georgetown. The Picador ace hurler leads the team percentage-wise in two other departments—fielding and batting—having collected seven hits in 13 plate appearances, a .538 clip.

Boyd Is Big Gun

First baseman Bruce Boyd of Abilene has been the big gun for the Tech freshmen. The lefthander has whacked out 15 hits in 34 times at bat, including 12 runs-batted-in, for a .441 percentage. Boyd also tops the Picador regulars in fielding with a mark of .955.

Other members of the "murderers' row" include catcher Paul Cato of Fort Worth, a 500 hitter with seven-for-14; second-base-man Rob Hill of Lubbock Monterey, 423 with 11 for 26; and right-fielder Bill Dean of Tom S. Lubbock, 12 for 29 or 414. A sixth slugger, Robert Benton of Lubbock, is hitting a commendable .379 while driving in 11 runs.

Starters for the season finale will be: Cato, behind the plate; Boyd at first; Hill at second; Gary Wetter of Fort Worth, third base; Kenneth Talkington of Tyler, shortstop; Ken Warren of Dallas, leftfield; Benton in center; and Dean in right, with Flanagin on the hill. The Picadors have a 7-0 season record, three of the wins have been over Odessa.

Intramural Meet Begins Saturday, Competition Will Be On Team Basis

The 1957 version of the intramural track meet will begin 12:30 Saturday afternoon on the Tech track.

The meet will be conducted on a team basis, with a team trophy being awarded to the team scoring the most points. Only team members can participate.

There will be no classification of teams.

Ribbons will be awarded for the first three places in each event. Meet scoring system will be run on the five, three, two, and one point basis.

Edsel Buchanan, intramural director, stated that making the relays worth more points than the other events is being considered.

Use NCAA Rules

NCAA track rules will be followed with the following exception: runners cannot wear any type of spiked shoes, decisions of the judges will be final and in the case of ties, a flip of the coin will decide who gets the ribbon, with points being divided.

Doak In Finals; Slate Released

Doak clinches a finals berth, as the intramural department releases the weekend schedule.

Doak moves into the finals by virtue of a 3-0 semi-final win over BSU Tuesday. Kappa Sigma defeated the Phi Gams 4-2 in the only other Tuesday action.

Today's schedule sends Tau Delta against the Phi Gams, field four; PIKA faces SAE, field five; Kappa Sigma plays Phi Kappa Psi, field one; and the Phi Deltas take on ATO, field three. All games are at 5 p.m.

Friday at 5 p.m. Block & Bridle meets the Geology Club on field five, and Tech Vets play Roman Rushers on field four.

At 8 p.m. the Athletes face Delta Sigma Pi on field two.
