Legislators Survey Tech

TODAY TEXAS TECH has the honor of hosting a large delegation of legislators who are here to learn more about this young university.

Most of the representatives and senators have never visited this sprawling 1,839 acre campus reputed to be the second largest in America.

The legislators today will have an excellent opportunity to see Texas Tech as a business campus community and as a multi-purpose state university.

Tech has all phases of a complete community. We have 19 dormitories composing an "apartment" complex, snack bars and cafeterias, a bakery, television and radio stations, daily newspaper, farms, a police force, a system of government for citizens of the campus community, recreational facilities, a communications system including postal service, a library, museum, city utilities and a hospital.

And most important we have the people who compose a community. There are 7,200 students in dormitories on campus. During the daytime we have 16,000 persons working on campus.

But more important to us, we have all the attributes of an emerging university.

We have six schools of study—Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Engineering, Agriculture, Home Economics and Graduate.

More than 6,000 students are enrolled in Arts and Sciences.

We have students from 34 foreign countries, 46 states and 234 counties in Texas.

We welcome the legislators to tour our campus and talk to our students and faculty members. If this is done, then the pride we have in Tech will be evident as you observe our pioneering spirit.

Yes, we feel like pioneers. We are building a great university to serve the million or more persons living here in West Texas as well as the citizens of other parts of the state and nation.

Senators and Representatives, welcome to our campus.

Negroes Plan To March

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Negro leaders are mobilizing their forces for a 50-mile march to Alabama's historic state Capitol at Montgomery to dramatize anew their demands for racial equality.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., leaving Selma for another speaking trip after walking four miles in the rain for the burial of a slain Negro laborer, said the long march will start Sunday afternoon.

The question immediately arose whether state troopers would allow the Negroes to walk in mass formation along the highway or would stop them at the outskirts of this west Alabama city.

No Reaction

No immediate reaction came either from Gov. George C. Wallace or from the troopers' commander, Col. Al Lingo. Observers were quick to recall however, that when another cross-country march reached north Alabama in 1963, Lingo's men turned the marchers back.

Neither was there any indication what Selma city police or county officers under sheriff James G. Clark would do. The city public safety director, Wilson Baker, has consistently refused to let massed groups walk through the city streets. And Clark has arrested hundreds who walked to the courthouse in small groups, getting around Baker's ban against mass formations.

To Montgomery

King said the march to Montgomery, where the Confederacy was born during another racial struggle a century ago, is designed to focus attention on the demands for more liberal voting laws.

A major factor in the sometimes turbulent right to vote campaign in Selma and surrounding counties is a state law which allows county registration boards, except at certain times of the year, to meet only two days a month.

Additional registration periods are provided in January and July, but none at this time of the year.

WON ANYWAY — Seniors Royce Woolard, Glen Hallum and Harold Denney and the rest of the team, with tears in their eyes, accepted the student bodies' unofficial SWC trophy — bigger and better than the one the Conference presents, in a pre-game ceremony Thursday night. The coaches and each member of the team also received individual plaques along with the trophy.

Texas Solons Receive Red Carpet Treatment

A delegation of approximately 33 state legislators on a junket to "get acquainted" with Texas Tech and the South Plains received a "red carpet" welcome at Municipal Airport 4 p.m. Thursday.

The Legislators, members of both the Texas House and Senate, will tour the city and Tech campus with Tech officials and members of the Chamber of Commerce today.

Today's Agenda

Today's agenda also includes a scheduled meeting with Tech President Dr. R. C. Goodwin and other Tech officials for a briefing on the college. Later they will visit the site for construction of a new state school for mentally retarded.

Delegates will attend a noon luncheon in the Tech Union. Then travel by bus to the airport where they will depart about 1:30 p.m.

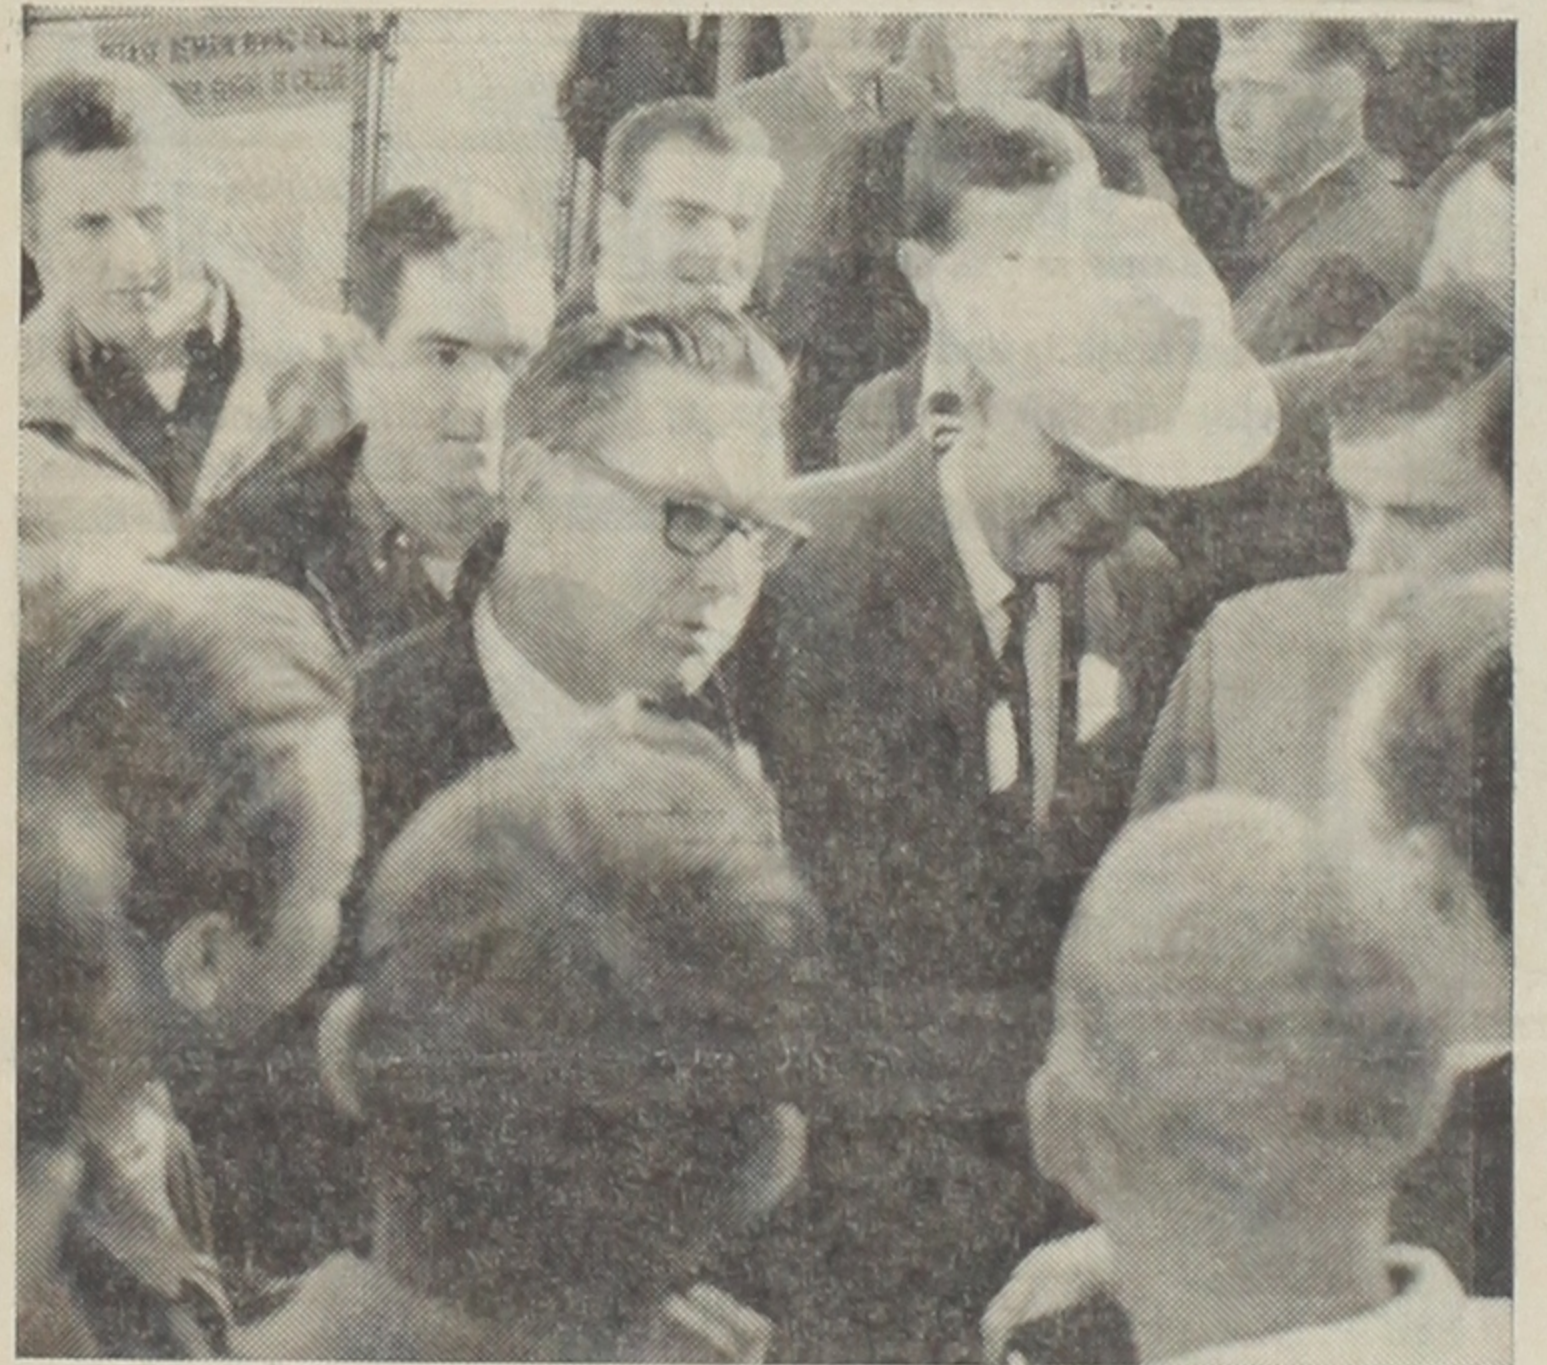

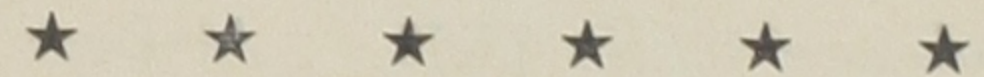

The party includes members of the House Appropriations Committee, Senate Finance Committee, representatives of the State Board for Hospitals and Special Schools and members of the Lubbock legislative delegation.

Lubbock Hosts

Hosts for the legislators' visit will be the Lubbock delegation, composed of Representatives Delwin Jones, Bill Parsley and Reed Quilliam, and Sen. H. J. (Doc) Blanchard. Administration official and members of the Tech Board of Directors and Chamber board of directors and governmental affairs committee will also host the group.

The legislators were honored at a dinner at Lubbock Country Club Thursday night and were guests at the Tech-Texas A&M basketball game.

RED CARPET WELCOME — Representatives from Men's No. 9 surround Sen. H. J. (Doc) Blanchard (center) at Municipal Airport Thursday, shortly following the arrival of 33 Texas Legislators, who are participating in a two-day tour of Texas Tech and Lubbock.

Tech Forensic Hosts 700 In Student Meet

More than 700 students from 44 high schools will invade Lubbock today and Saturday for the annual high school invitational forensic meet.

Schools from as far away as Houston and other South Texas cities have announced they will charter buses to bring students to the two-day meet.

The meet, sponsored by Texas Tech Forensic Union, will include one-act plays, debate, informative and persuasive speaking and prose and poetry reading.

James Robbins, Forensic Union sponsor, said the tournament is the largest in the history of Tech. "The tournament will include 352 hours of debate alone," he said. "It will involve more than 400 judges and timekeepers, as well as all of the people who worked on registration and on the programs."

Forty-two trophies will be awarded at the end of the tournament. Two sweepstakes trophies will be given for over-all excellence to schools in the large and small divisions.

One-act play competition will begin at 9 a.m. today in the Speech Bldg. Robbins said visitors were welcome to observe the plays, which will begin every hour except noon throughout today.

Debate preliminaries will begin at 1 p.m. today and individual events at 5 and 8 p.m. The events will be at Broadway Church of Christ and at the Activities Bldg. of First Baptist Church.

90 To Start BSO Trip

More than 90 students board buses at 11:15 a.m. and noon today for Santa Fe, N. M., to attend the Board of Student Organizations' retreat.

Sixty-two organizations will be represented at the three-day meet, which is conducted to allow organization leaders to meet and discuss common organization problems.

Dr. Vincent Luchsinger will address delegates at a dinner tonight. Delegates will then break up into discussion groups.

Saturday, discussion groups will again be formed.

Delegates will attend church services together Sunday morning and will return to Tech Sunday afternoon.

Recital Set Tonight

Heather Woodall, music instructor, will present a recital of German music at the West Texas Museum tonight.

Miss Woodall, a mezzo-soprano, graduated from Oberlin Conservatory of Music in 1963 and joined the Tech faculty in the fall.

She spent a year of study in Salzburg, Austria as a part of the Oberlin course of study.

Included in the program will be four selections of Franz Schubert, five by Joannes Brahms, and five by Wolf.

She will be accompanied by fellow faculty member, Charles Lawrie.

There will be no admission charge for the event, scheduled to begin at 8:15 p.m.

- At 5 p.m. -

Soviets Try To Answer U.S. Attacks

By Associated Press
AP News Analysis

A mob in Moscow, a Castro speech, a new anti-Russian blast from Peking.

Put them all together and they produce a picture of a Communist world desperately needing to do something positive to answer U. S. attacks on North Viet Nam, and probably desperately fearful of doing anything.

The mob, the Castro rage, the Chinese propaganda, tell a story of a Kremlin badgered from all sides, and carry a suggestion that President Johnson may be winning points in his decision to take the bull by the horns in Viet Nam.

Out Of Hand

The new Moscow rioting would have surprised nobody if it had stayed within the usual bounds. The Soviet Communists need some way to dramatize their protest. What was surprising was that the mob got out of hand, bloodied the noses of Soviet policemen and cried "Fascist" at them.

The mob was made up largely of Chinese and North Vietnamese students from Moscow and Patrice Lumumba universities. In going beyond normal police indulgence for such demonstrations they produced another painful situation for the Soviet regime. It strains U. S. Soviet relations, since the Russians had been warned that the Americans demanded protection and respect for U. S. property in Moscow.

It seems reasonable to suspect that the pro-Chinese mob leaders envisioned one more harassment of the Kremlin.

Moscow is the target of new and bitter Chinese propaganda attacks, and of sniping from Communist parties—like Fidel Castro's—for failing to produce anything more than words to answer U. S. actions in Viet Nam.

The Kremlin is nagged by fearful European Communists, afraid on one hand of forever wrecking the world Communist movement, and on the other of bowing to pro-Stalinist pressure which could ruin communism in advanced countries.

Castro's angry speech was symptomatic of what ails the movement. It reflected impotent rage and fear that failure to respond more militantly in Viet Nam might encourage the Americans some day to do something about Cuba. Castro remembers the Soviet backdown in the 1962 missile crisis.

It's been said of Castro that in the world Communist dispute, his heart is in China but his belly depends on Moscow. He sent delegates to the current Communist conference in Moscow, but he appeared to have done so only because of economic pressure from the Russians, and after explaining to the Chinese through emissaries sent to Peking.

The Chinese seem to expect little help from the Russians to halt the new American strategy in Viet Nam. Peking has flung new scorn and defiance into the Russian teeth.

By Chinese reckoning, the Viet Nam war makes rubbish of the Soviet view that communism should try to expand through peaceful transition, completion that concept and all others developed and coexistence. The Chinese have opted in the last decade in Moscow demanded that the Russians scrap cow.

Raiders Blast Aggies 98-73 In Final Game

By ALAN SEARSY
Sports Editor

Texas Tech proved that they were the No. 1 team in the Southwest Conference Thursday night by completely outdistancing Texas A&M 98-73.

The Raiders, who led from the opening whistle, dominated play entirely and held leads of as much as 29 points in the second half (93-64) and 23 points in the initial period (37-14).

Perhaps it was the presentation of a trophy to the Raiders by the student body before the game or just a deep pride which spurred Tech to its resounding victory. But whatever, the Raiders took the court and were never threatened by the band of Aggies.

Raiders Finish With 12-2

The win gave Tech a final conference mark of 12-2 — best in the league — and a season record of 17-6. The Farmers finished with a 7-7 conference record and an overall mark of 14-10.

Raider scoring was pretty evenly distributed with Harold Denney collecting 27, Glen Hallum 26 and Dub Malaise 24. John Beasley topped A&M with 27 points.

Plenty of new records were set in the game. Tech broke the SWC mark they set last year for the most points in conference play in one season with a total of 1,242. The old mark was 1,189. They also set a new mark of 460 for the most field goals in one season. It broke the 455 total they established last season.

Malaise Sets Marks

In individual records Malaise's 24 points broke the Tech record for most points scored in conference play. His total of 324 broke the old mark of 302 set by Harold Hudgens in 1961.

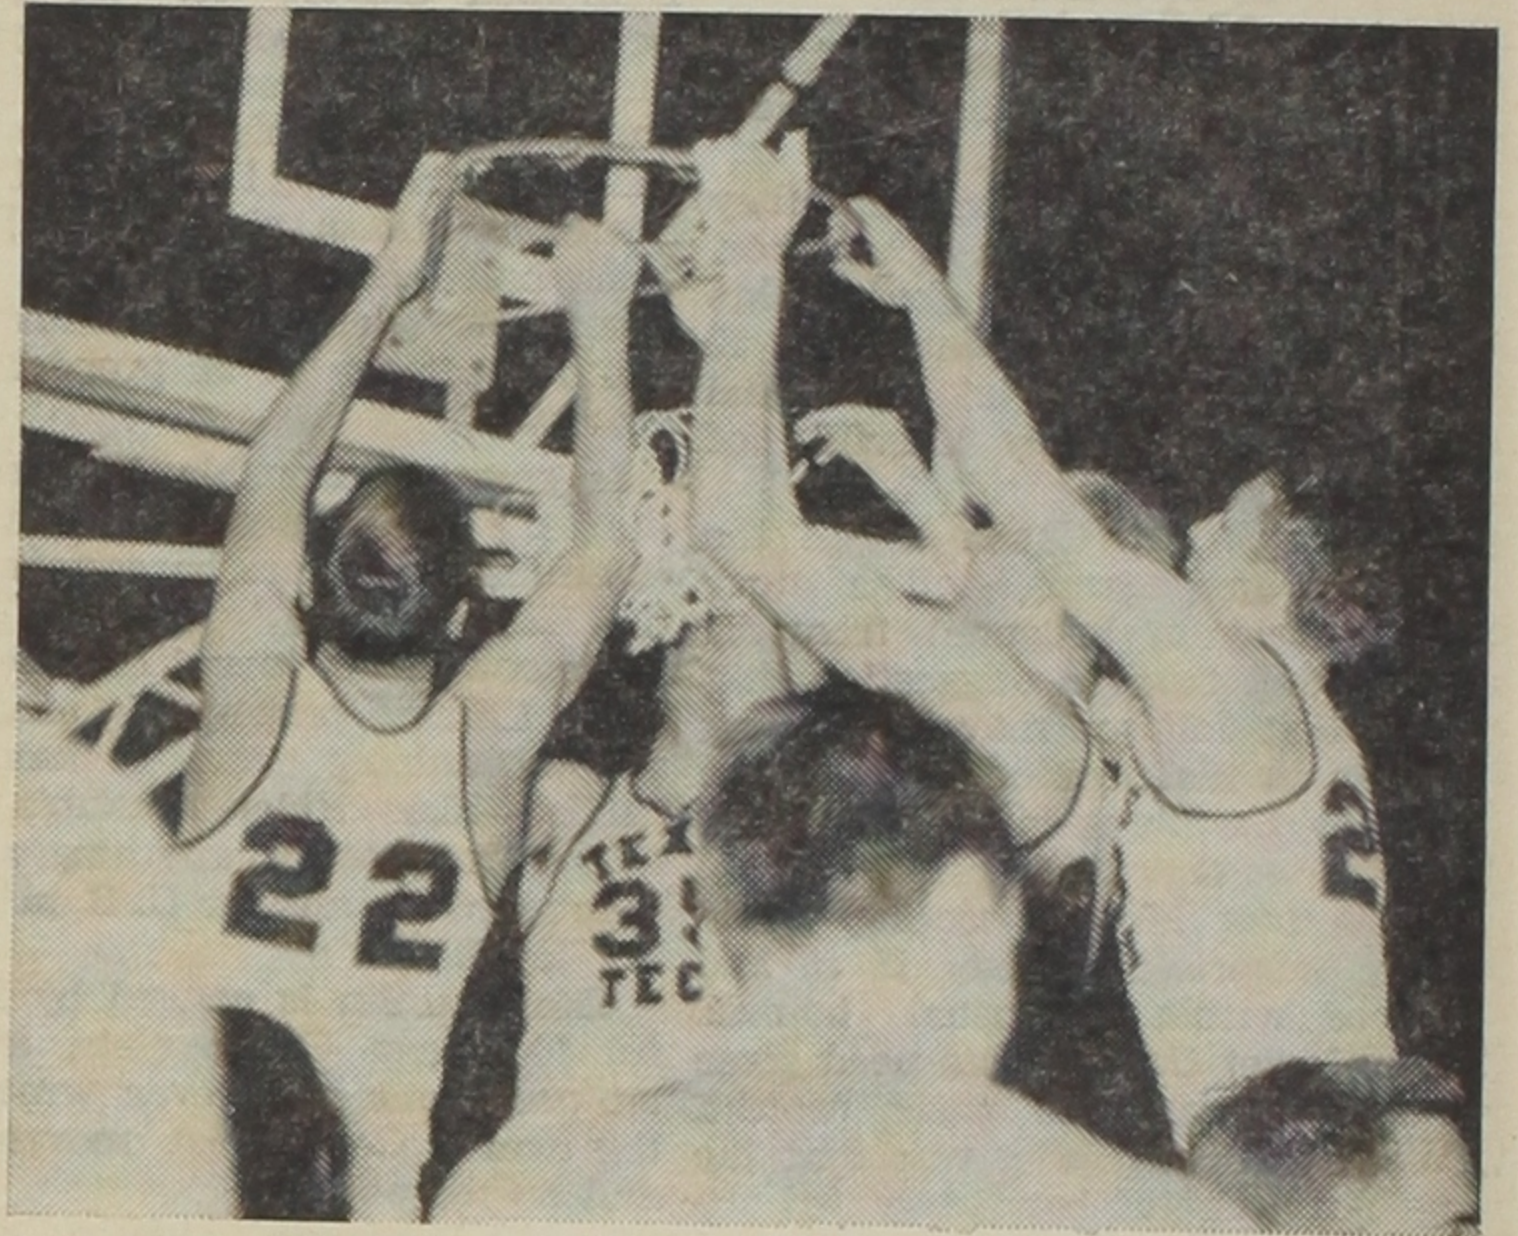

In addition the Raiders' 12th conference win was the most Tech has ever recorded. The previous high was 11 in 1961 and 1962.

Denny put the Raiders ahead 1-0 with 19:51 to go in the first half, and Tech quickly built this margin to as much as 23 points 37-14. For a time it looked as if Tech was going to run A&M out of the gym, but the Aggies started to pick away at the deficit and pulled to within eight points 40-32 with 2:42 left. The first half ended with the Raiders on top 47-36.

Hallum led Tech in scoring in the first half with a total of 16 points. He hit six of nine field goals and four of six free throws. Malaise was close behind with 15 markers on seven field goals and one free throw. Beasley had 12.

The Raiders hit 19 of 39 field goals in the first half for a 48.7 percentage. Their free throw average was 69.2, connecting on nine of 13. A&M hit 14 of 44 from the field for a 31.8 percentage and eight of 13 free throws for a 61.5 mean.

Texas Tech's freshmen won the preliminary game over West Texas State 90-78. Donnie Malone scored 28 for the Picadors to tie with Earl Jackson of West Texas for top scoring honors.

TO THE VICTORS — Four of the unofficial SWC champs remove the net from the basket following the last game of the season Thursday. The Red Raiders downed A&M 98-73 finishing with a 12-2 mark, the best in the conference by two games. Left to right are Dub Malaise, Harold Denney, Glen Hallum and Billy Tapp.
