Med School Gets Boost From House

AUSTIN (P)—Members of the Texas House of Representatives tentatively approved Monday a bill authorizing a new state medical school at Texas Technological College.

Vote on the measure was 95-28. The school would be limited to 100 beginning students each year.

Rep. Bill Parsley of Lubbock, sponsor, said the school would not be built until a teaching hospital is built with local funds near the college.

Asked how the school would be financed, Parsley said, "That would be up to future legislatures to decide when and how. This simply locates the school."

In the House, a bill changing the name of East Texas State College to East Texas State University was also tentatively approved.

The Senate voted 16-13 again to refer a bill prohibiting girls from attending Texas A&M to the Military and Veterans Affairs Committee.

Constitution, Favorite Voting Set Wednesday

The Student Council will submit its proposed constitution to the student body Wednesday during the election of class favorites and Mr. and Miss Texas Tech.

Roland Anderson, chairman of the Committee on Constitutional Revision, said voters would be asked simply to vote "yes" or "no" for the constitution.

He said under the new plan there would be more separation of powers between the three branches of government. Fashioned after the national government, the main function of the president of the student body would be to carry out the legislation of the Senate.

The chief executive would also appoint committee chairmen, with the advise and consent of the Senate, which would make up sort of a cabinet.

Under the new plan the vice president of the student body will be chairman of the Senate. This would enable the president to have more time for executive duties and would give the vice president more to do, Anderson said.

The Supreme Court would function in much the same manner as before. That is, it would advise the Senate of the constitutionality of legislation. The new constitution will lay groundwork for expansion of the judiciary, he said.

The Student Council secretary would be redesignated as the secretary of the Senate. She will be entitled to one vote as will the head cheerleader. A president pro tempore will be elected by the Senate.

According to section seven of the new constitution "all legislation passed by the Student Senate must be signed by the President before it can be enacted, or considered as law.

"The President must either approve or veto any legislation, or any parts of the legislation, thereof, within a period of two weeks after it is presented to him. Any legislation not signed within the specified period of time shall be considered disapproved and vetoed by the President."

The section goes on to say that the Senate can pass vetoed legislation with a majority of 2/3 of the total membership of the Senate.

Unlike the present constitution, the new one states that the president of the Student Association can propose amendments.

Nancy Shoemaker, secretary of the Student Council, said balloting will be done on I.B.M. cards. She listed the procedure:

In column "A" of the ballot, will be the voting for Mr. Texas Tech; in column "B", Miss Texas Tech; in column "C", male class favorites; and column "D", female class favorites.

In column "E", 01 will be in favor of constitution ratification and 02 will be against ratification, Miss Shoemaker said.

Seniors will vote on blue cards; juniors on orange; sophomores on green; and freshmen on white. The polls will be open Wednesday 8 a.m.-noon and 1-5 p.m. in the following places:

Ad Bldg., Business Administration Bldg., Civil-Mechanical Engineering Bldg., Ag Bldg., Home Ec Bldg. and Music Bldg.

Polls will be open 8 a.m.-5 p.m. in the Union.

Class favorites and Mr. and Miss Texas Tech will be announced at an informal dance at 4 p.m. Friday in the Union. Miss Shoemaker said all candidates must attend.

'Neither Red Nor Dead' Is Judd's Theme Today

Dr. Walter Judd will speak at 7 p.m. today in the Tech Union Ballroom on "Neither Red Nor Dead."

Dr. Judd, who is a former Republican Congressman from Minnesota and was a medical missionary to China for 10 years, will discuss the significance of what is happening in Communist-dominated areas of the world.

He served in Communist controlled areas as a missionary as early as 1930. He was a delegate to the General Assembly of the United Nations in 1957 and to the World Health Organization in 1950 and 1958.

While serving in Congress, Judd was a member of the Committee on Foreign Affairs for 16 years. In 1962, a Congressional poll showed him to be one of the five most influential members of the House, and the only one selected from the minority.

Marcia Winkelman, chairman of the Tech Union Ideas and Issues committee said, "We urge all interested persons to take advantage of a fine opportunity and attend this program."

Dr. Judd was important in the organization of the Council of Europe and was a delegate to the First Consultative Assembly at Strasbourg in 1951.

He also gave the keynote address at the Republican National Convention in 1960.

The lecture is one of a series on political philosophies sponsored by the Ideas and Issues Committee. Next in the series is a speech by Sen. Birch Bayh April 14.

Elections Loom For '65 Posts

Nancy Shoemaker, Student Council secretary, announced Monday that general filing for executive offices, representatives and cheerleaders for 1965-66 is from 5-7 p.m. March 23.

Deadline for turning in petitions is noon March 26. Executive officers and cheerleaders elections will be April 9; representative elections on April 14; and runoffs on April 16.

Sticker Deadline Nears

"Only one month remains for some 1,500,000 vehicles registered in Texas to secure the 1965 safety inspection sticker," Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said Monday.

"The period set by law for securing the 1965 sticker ends at midnight, April 15, and there can be no extension of that deadline," Garrison pointed out. "Any Texas motorist whose vehicle does not display the new sticker after April 15 is subject to arrest by any sheriff or his deputy, any city policeman, or by officers of the Department of Public Safety."

WHITE ROSE PRINCESS — Sherry Ribble, applied arts major from Lubbock, is Sigma Nu's White Rose Princess for March. She is a member of Sigma Kappa social sorority and is a candidate for White Rose Queen, to be chosen at the White Rose Dinner Dance, April 24.

Thou Shall Not Steal

Accessories from more than 200 cars belonging to Tech students were engraved with identification numbers by Alpha Phi Omega members Saturday.

Bill Brasher, president of the organization, said the articles marked ranged from spare tires and hubcaps to tachometers. Generally the marking was on expensive parts put on by the owners themselves, Brasher said.

"We feel that this identification method will encourage vandals to stay off the campus and leave Tech cars alone.

"We talked to Bill Daniels, chief of Traffic-Security, and he suggested that we try this marking idea," Brasher said.

Brasher said the organization plans to make the marking a regular part of their services. They will schedule it in conjunction with registration at the time they are putting parking stickers on cars.

The major part of the expenses for the project were paid by Alpha Phi Omega from the proceeds of the Beauty and Beast contest. There was no charge to Tech students.

Brasher expressed hope that, although the 200 cars marked Saturday were not a great percentage of the cars on campus, they will be enough to discourage thieves who hope for quick resale from the stolen accessories.

He said the organization plans to repeat the Marking Day possibly one Saturday in April.

Daily Texan Blasts Board

(Daily Toreador News Service)
AUSTIN—The Daily Texan, student newspaper at the University of Texas, editorially blasted the Board of Regents Sunday for eliminating free off-campus circulation of the student newspaper.

"The regents have not limited the Texan's power to speak, but its right to be heard. This is a most invidious type of censorship," wrote Charmayne Marsh, editor.

Many of the free papers went to members of the legislature, who read criticisms of themselves, and Gov. John Connally.

The regents Saturday on a motion by Frank Erwin, former chairman of the state Democratic executive committee, forbade the Texan to distribute away from the school.

Erwin, a Connally appointee, is now national committeeman from Texas. He gave "sharply rising publishing costs" as the reason for stopping circulation.

Miss Marsh declared the paper is at a profit-making high.

Her editorial said "speculation that regent Erwin's political ties might interfere with his performance of board duties" had been widely publicized by the student daily.

"We think displeasure with this criticism is significantly related to the regental power displayed Saturday," she said.

Proposed SC Constitution Creates New Government

Rice Axes Free Speech

RICE UNIVERSITY CLEARLY is not the bastille of freedom of expression as many persons are led to believe.

Saturday Dean S. W. Higginbotham placed Hugh Rice Kelly, the crusading editor of the Rice student newspaper, on disciplinary probation. The action removes Kelly as editor, thus effectively suppressing the newspaper's campaign to lift a ban on controversial speakers on the Rice campus.

Dean Higginbotham said he punished Kelly "for a deliberate flouting of the authority of the university."

Editor Kelly says of the incident, "The dean has decided that the freedom of the press is expendable. We're a student newspaper, not an echo of the administration."

Higginbotham told The Houston Chronicle that Kelly, 22, "refused to answer a summons to my office after ample notification on March 12 and further refused to talk on the telephone with me on the morning of March 13."

The dean refused to tell the Chronicle what he wanted to discuss with Kelly but admitted it had to do with The Thresher.

The dean has no official connection with the student newspaper.

No violation of Rice's rules was cited by the dean other than Kelly's refusal to discuss The Thresher with him.

Bill Timme, president of the student association, said the dean merely wanted to remind Kelly to remember to print the name of the faculty adviser in the newspaper's masthead.

If this is true, then it is obvious the dean was looking for an excuse to silence Kelly. And what a ridiculous excuse he found!

The Daily Toreador receives the Rice newspaper and we have read the articles concerning Rice's speaker policy. They are well written and constructive, but apparently reason and substantiated criticism upsets the Rice dean.

The dean's action is most deplorable and most destructive to freedom of expression.

Complaints About Food?

STUDENTS WHO HAVE COMPLAINED about dormitory food and food service now have the opportunity to voice their complaints in a closed session at the Student Council Food Committee hearing.

However, it seems students just like having something to gripe about at mealtime and any other time they're out of gossip. Only ten dormitory residents have registered their complaints in the Council office.

Tom Edwards, chairman, says the committee will listen to any complaints and/or recommendations at the Wednesday hearing.

"This is the time to speak out about bad food, or forever hold our peace," he said.

If you don't take time to voice your complaint, neither the Food Service nor the Student Council will be able to effect any changes in the food.

Food Service has acknowledged every possible amount of cooperation in conducting the investigations. They have indicated they will give open-minded consideration to complaints and recommendations.

However, the apathy existing among students who are too lazy to stop by the Council office may hinder the efforts of the Student Council and Food Service. If only a handful of students appear at the hearing, then the committee must conclude there are no major problems.

Unless a larger number of students attends the session, the efforts of a few will go unnoticed and the food service—if you think it's unsatisfactory—will continue to be the subject of unnecessary complaint.

It's probable the food can be improved if necessary—but only if students get out and discuss their complaints.

Irish Girl Seeks Sex, Adventure

By DAVE BRUCE
Fine Arts Staff

Lately there has been a rash of movies based on what one critic calls "women's novels": the sort in which the heroine is a kind of super-sensitive stepped-on creature, and the men are pictured as insensitive and rather helpless brutes. One of these was "The Pumpkin Eater" which was well acted, photographed and written, but which still managed to be pretty silly. The latest is "Girl with Green Eyes," which is equally well acted, photographed, and written, but not nearly as silly.

The story is about a young Irish country girl who goes to Dublin in search of sexual and cultural adventure. Into both she is initiated by a man old enough to be her father. Actually, the old guy is understanding enough, or tries to be at any rate, but the gap in years and in culture is just too much, and in the end they have to separate.

Peter Finch would seem to have a talent for playing understanding, but helpless characters. In "The Pumpkin Eater" he played the husband who tried awfully hard to understand, but still managed to drive his wife into all sorts of nervous fits.

In "Girl with Green Eyes" he once again gives his all, but still is incapable of coping with the sensitive creature that he marries. One cannot help but wish that Mr. Finch would some day stand up for the honor of the male sex and give one of these dear, sweet creatures a belt in the mouth.

Rita Tushingam plays Kate, the provincial shoppirl come to the city. If there is a more expressive face in movies, it has yet to make an appearance around here. Ann Bancroft in "Pumpkin Eater" turned in a magnificent performance, but was never as believable as Miss Tushingam is here. It is not at all difficult to imagine her as the shoppirl in town to find adventure and not quite knowing what to do when she finally finds it. It was a performance which left one with the impression that Miss Tushingam was not really doing anything but being herself.

Some credit should also be given to director Desmond Davis. The photography of the film is quite good most of the time, though on occasions it proves to be a little gimmicky. The acting of almost every part is very good.

On the whole, "Girl with Green Eyes" is an excellent film. Technically, it is superb, and the story does manage to stay fairly believable, even if Mr. Finch doesn't. And the presence of Miss Tushingam alone makes it well worth the price.

Texas Major Crime Sets Alarming All-Time Record

AUSTIN — Major crime spread across Texas at the rate of one offense every two minutes in 1964 to chalk up a sharp 13.8 per cent increase over the previous year and set a new all-time high in crime, the Texas Department of Public Safety reported Monday.

Col. Homer Garrison, DPS Director, said that all seven categories of major crime showed alarming increases for the past year. The report is compiled from data reported to the Department of Texas sheriffs and chiefs of police.

"Even more alarming than the tremendous number of offenses is that the rate of crime (the number of offenses for each 100,000 population) is steadily increasing," Garrison stated. "The crime rate for 1964 was 2,723.00 compared to 2,393.1 for 1963.

"It is apparent," Garrison said, "that crime in general is riding rough-shod across our state and our nation. It has been estimated that criminal activity has cost our country more than $27 billion during the past year alone.

Four Take Top Awards At Banquet

Two sophomores, one junior and one senior studying pre-medical subjects at Texas Tech received honors Saturday at the Tech Pre-Med Society's awards dinner in the Tech Union.

Top awards were the Dr. E. W. Jones Memorial Scholarship and the Dr. Alfred H. Rogers Scholarship.

The $300 Dr. Jones grant was awarded to Sandra Maryleigh Whitfield, a junior from Plainview. This memorial scholarship is presented each year by Mr. and Mrs. Lee O'Neill of Lubbock in memory of the late Dr. Jones, a long-time Lubbock physician.

Jesse Joseph Kintz, Lake Arthur, N.M., sophomore, received the Dr. Rogers Scholarship, which is also for $300. Dr. Rogers, a Lubbock dentist, annually presents this award to an outstanding young man attending Tech studying either pre-medical, pre-dental or pre-pharmacy.

The Pre-Med Society award and the Jack Price award were also presented. These citations honored the sophomore and senior students (respectively) having the highest grade point averages.

Frederick Koberg of Seminole was recognized as highest ranking sophomore, Lubbock senior Clark Huff received the Price award as the highest ranking student in his class.

Huff, who has been accepted for medical studies by the Southwestern Medical School in Dallas, maintained a straight four-point grade point average during his entire undergraduate tenure at Tech.

The awards banquet, with more than 140 attending, came as the highlight to Tech's eighth annual Pre-Med Day. The over-all theme of the occasion was "The Pursuit of a Career in Medicine."

Regents Deny Censor Charge

AUSTIN (P)—Three University of Texas regents said Monday the regents' order to stop free off-campus distribution of the Daily Texan was no attempt to censor the student daily newspaper.

"The regulations do no more than bring the fiscal affairs of Texas student publications under the effective supervision of the regents," said Frank Erwin, Austin attorney who made the motion Saturday.

Mrs. J. Lee Johnson, Fort Worth regent, and Rabbi Levi Olan, Dallas regent, said they saw no invasion of freedom of the press in the resolution.

Earlier Monday staff members of the Daily Texan delivered their personal copies of the Texan to Gov. John Connally and legislators, saying their regents' action prevented the papers that had been distributed free in the Capitol in the past. The Sunday paper distributed contained articles and editorials which contended the free circulation ban was not an economy move.

"The regents have not limited the Texan's right to speak, but its right to be heard," said Miss Charmayne Marsh, Dallas, Daily Texan editor.

Statistics Show Frosh Cagers Raiders Set New Marks For '65 Held Lead On Opponents

8-1 Season

The Picadors finished the 1964-65 season with an 8-1 record. They beat San Angelo 79-57, South Plains 93-90, Midwestern 81-76, LCC 90-87, West Texas State 91-70, Hardin-Simmons 77-62, Rice 104-93 and West Texas 90-78. Their only loss was a 75-71 decision in a re-match with San Angelo.

The Tech frosh scored 776 points, an average of 86.2 points per game. Opponents bucketed 688 against the Picadors for a 76.4 mean.

In free throw accuracy the Picadors hit 210 of 317 for a .662 percentage, while their opponents made 220 of 297 for a .741 average. Tech hit 283 of 559 field goal attempts for a .506 percentage, and their opponents managed a .478, hitting 234 of 478.

Two free throws after the final buzzer gave the Mustangs a 17-10 season record. Houston closed the season with a 19-10 mark.

Raiders Place At SWC Swim Meet

The Red Raider tankers placed third in the Southwest Conference swimming and diving meet in Dallas last Friday and Saturday. Tech scored 45 points.

Jesse Marsh collected the Raiders only first place of the meet. Marsh won the three-meter diving title.

Southern Methodist won its ninth straight conference title amassing 209.5 points. Texas was second with 122.5 points, while Texas A&M was fourth with 29.

Remember all those revisions you made in Texas Tech basketball record book last year?

Forget 'em. At least, most of them. The 1964-65 edition of Red Raiders went on a rampage that toppled 20 of their records—many of them set just last year, a few of them dating back 10 years.

Malaise Sets Six

As might be expected, all-Southwest Conference Dub Malaise broke six marks.

Malaise sank 191 free throws during the season (old mark 159, Del Ray Mounts, 1961), average 23.7 points a game (22.3, Jim Reed, 1955), accounted for 106 free throw points in SWC play (90, Mounts, 1961), had a SWC charity shooting percentage of 86.9 (83.2, Mounts, 1962), scored 342 SWC points (302, Harold Hudgens, 1961), and got 21 free chances against Nebraska (20, Eugene Carpenter vs. Hardin-Simmons, 1956).

Harold Denney brought down 19 rebounds against Texas Christian and Texas A&M, breaking Hudgens' figure of 18 vs. SMU in 1961.

Glen Hallum was the sharpest shooter of 'em all from the floor. His all-season field goal percentage mark of 55.3 (95/172) beat Bobby Gindorf's 54.5 mark of 1963. And in SWC play, Hallum's 68.8

(64/109) bested Gindorf's 56.7 of 1963.

Team Marks

Team marks? You bet. Name it, and chances are the Raiders broke it.

For Southwest Conference play the Raiders broke these one-game marks: points—108 vs. TCU (101 vs. TCU, 1961, 1964), aggregate points—202, 108-94 vs. TCU (195, TCU, 1964), field goals—44 vs. SMU (42 vs. TCU, 1963).

All-season marks falling: field goal percentage—47.6 (47.1, 1964), free throw percentage—74.7 (71.6, 1964), points per game—86.9 (85.3, 1961).

Conference season marks tumbling: field goals scored—460 (455, 1964), field goal percentage—49.3

Nine Off To Good Start; Game Attendance Poor

By ALAN SEARCY
Sports Editor

The Raiders are off to a fine start this season after beating Highlands three times, and if indications are correct Coach Berl Huffman's squad will have a winning season.

Back from last year's 10-15 team are several bright spots. Coach Huffman's entire infield returns along with outfielders Bob Fielder and Donnie Anderson. Coach Huffman said, "I feel like we ought to have a good club this year. We've had good practice sessions thus far and the weather has been co-operating real well.

SOME PEOPLE HAVE been wondering why Texas Tech is not competing in the Southwest Conference baseball race. The main objection by SWC officials seems to be the travel situation.

The other conference teams, excluding Arkansas which does not compete for the conference title either, are centrally located. The argument is that the distance between Tech and the other member schools is too great, and thus the expense would be too much.

CALIBER OF COMPETITION is not a prime factor in the abstention, but if the Raiders had a few winning seasons, it might help.

Attendance at the games has not been what it should have been, in the past. The Raiders play a good brand of ball, and they will be facing some top opponents here.

THE RAIDERS WILL be playing a tough schedule this season. Missouri, selected to be the top college team in the nation, in on Tech's slate as is fifth ranked Texas A&M. Sul Ross and TCU also have top clubs.

Raiders Take Three From NM Highlands

Coach Berl Huffman's Raiders defeated New Mexico Highlands University twice—6-2 and 6-3 Saturday to move their season mark to 3-0.

The two victories Saturday gave Tech a clean sweep over the Highlands crew, which last year took six of eight games from the Raiders. Tech dropped them Friday 6-5 in eleven innings.

Friday's second game was called in the sixth due to darkness and the outcome was declared a tie even though the New Mexico club had scored one run in their half of the inning. The final result reverted back to the last completed inning when the score was tied 4-all.

"Moose" Dudley was credited with the first game win. The lanky right hander gave up five hits, walked one and struck out five.

The Raiders jumped off to a quick 5-0 lead largely via walks, a Hornet error and a grand slam homer by third baseman Richard Perry. Tech's only other run came in the fourth frame.

Second Game

The second ball game was all Highlands until the fifth inning. Two Highland errors and a single by shortstop Foy Williams led to a three-run Raider rally and pulled in the second game. Coffee allowed Tech from a 2-1 deficit to a 4-1 lead. The Raiders scored two more in the sixth and the win was secured.

Stan Coffee gained the victory the opposition seven hits during the contest. The Raiders travel to Alpine this weekend to face Sul Ross in their next action.

Freshmen Drop Two Games To Odessa College

The Picadors travel to Levelland today to battle South Plains College.

Odessa Junior College stopped the freshmen twice in Odessa Saturday to even the Picador's record at 2-2 for the season.

Harlan Hinds grabbed the first Odessa victory from the hill giving up five runs on seven hits while his teammates coasted to a 13-5 win. Odessa managed a two-run rally in the bottom of the seventh to win the second game 3-2.

John McIntyre homered for the Picadors in the first contest, but Odessa countered with three circuit blows of their own.

Tech had a 2-1 lead going into the final inning of the second game, but the Odessans pushed across a pair of runs for the victory. Tom Wilson took the loss for the Picadors in the first game, while Mike Murphy lost the second.

TT Tennis Squad Romps Over ACC

The Texas Tech tennis team romped to an easy 7-0 victory over the Abilene Christian Wildcats Saturday in Abilene.

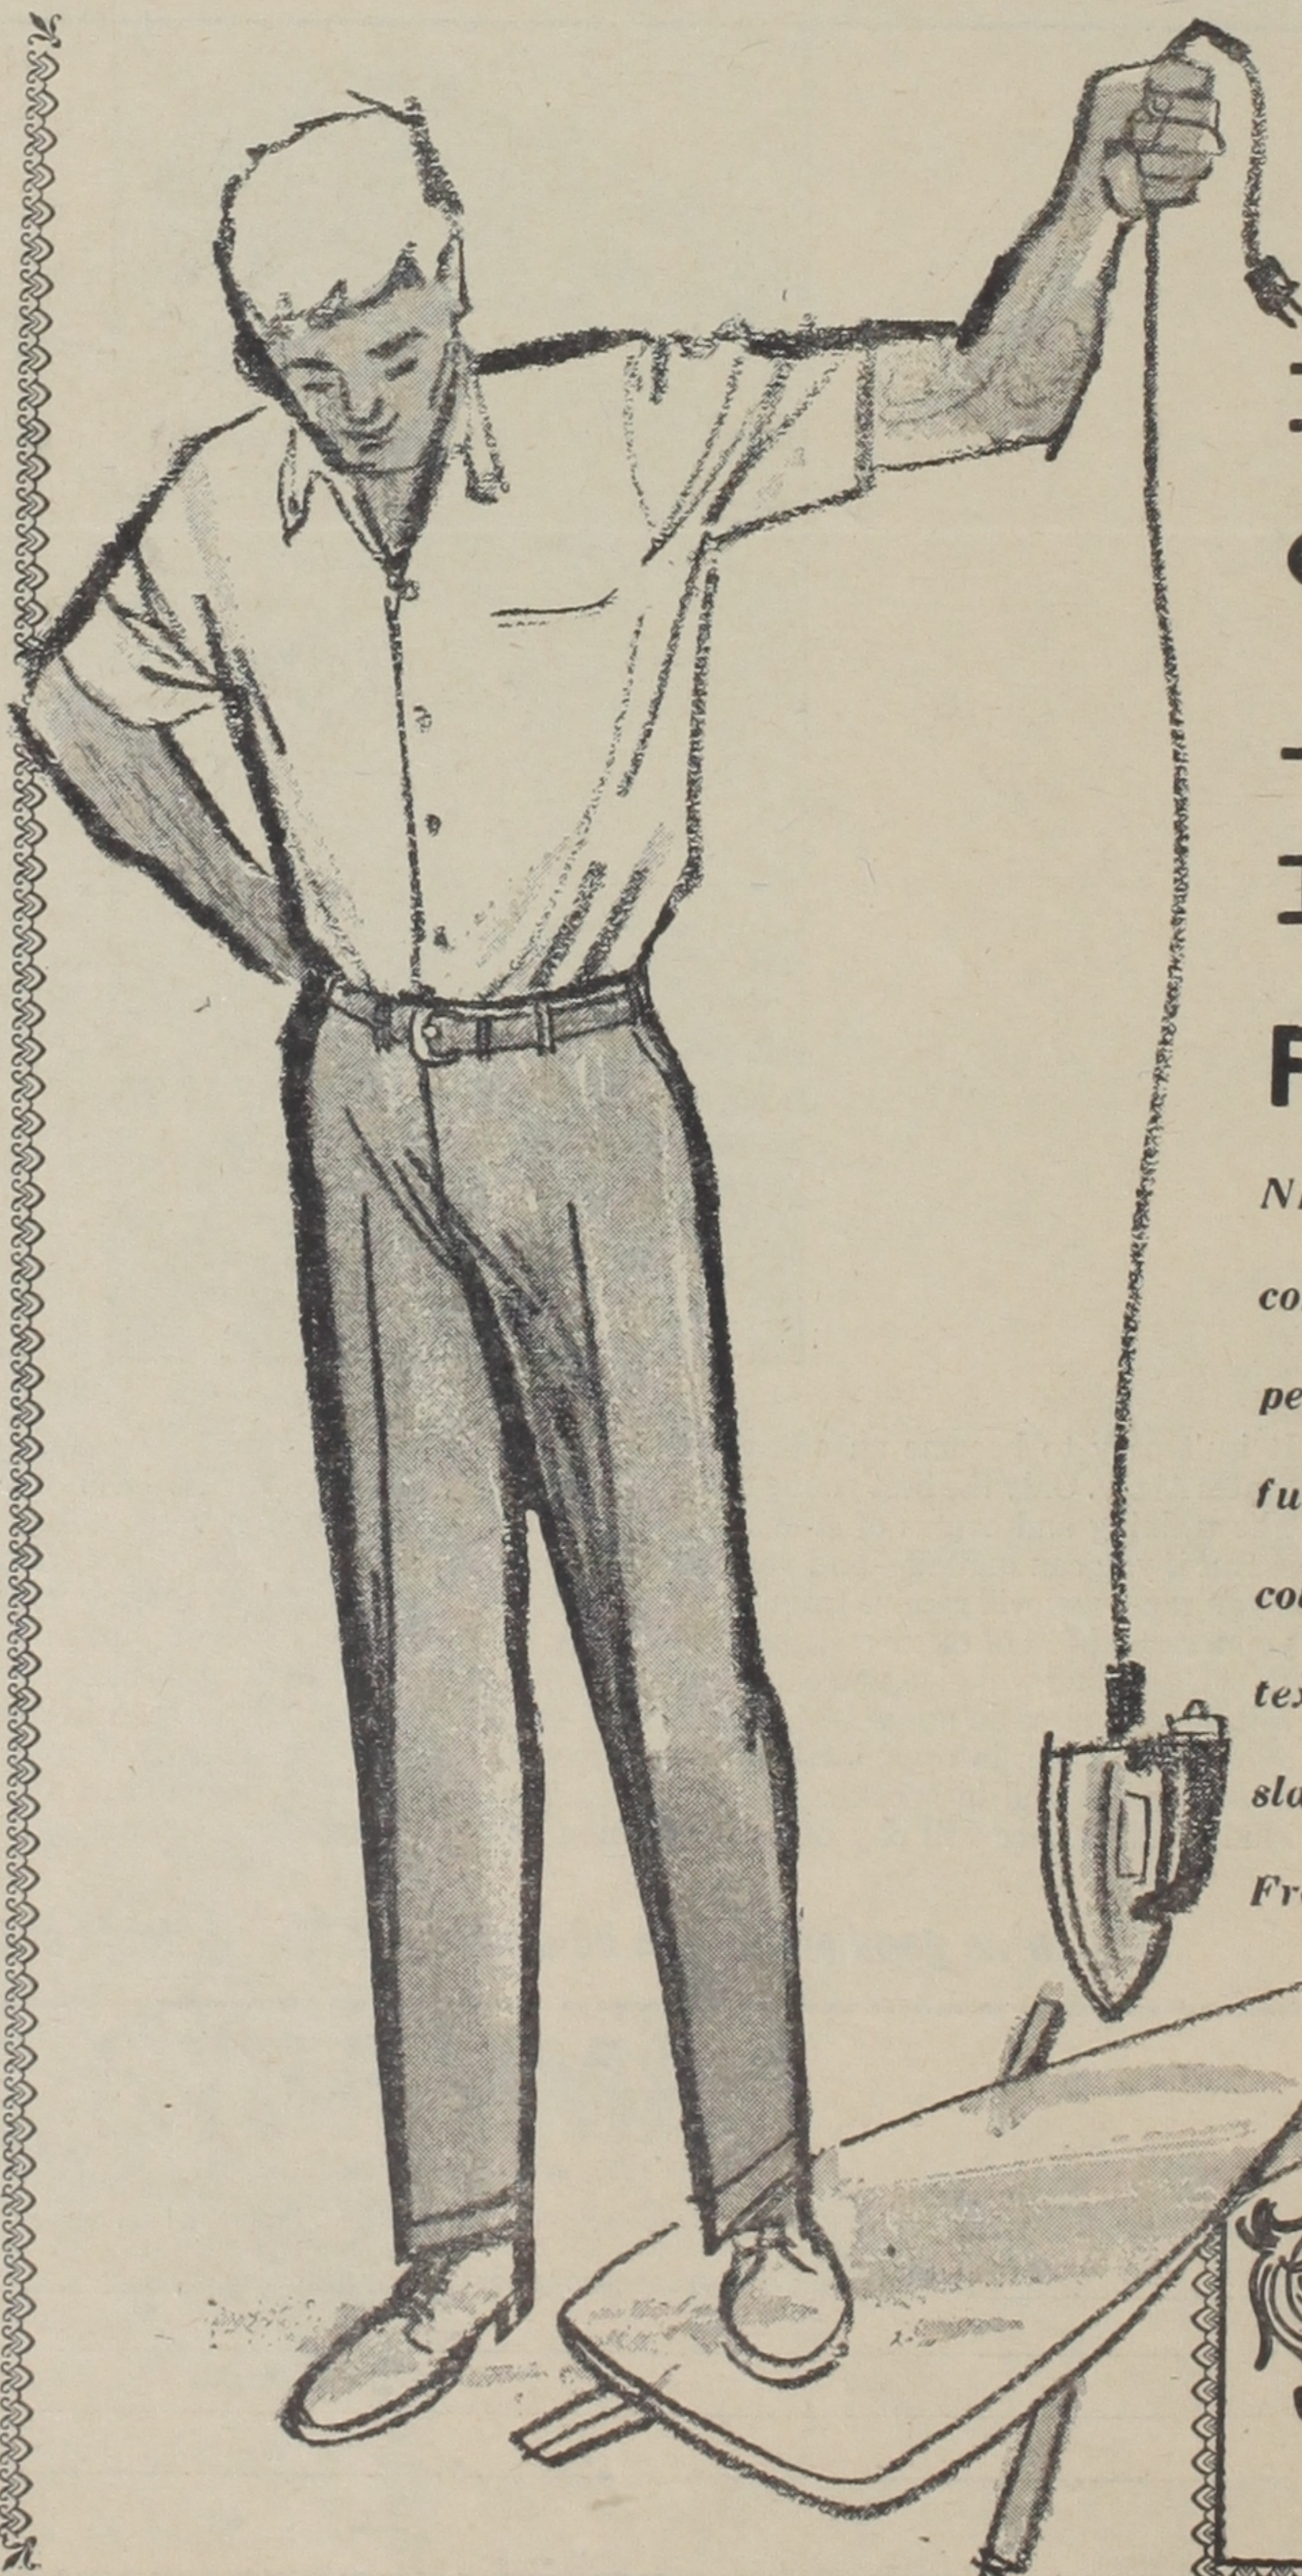

The Raiders won all five singles matches and walked off with both double victories for the clean sweep.

In singles action Robert Peterson defeated Don Avera 6-4 and 6-2, Greer Kothmann defeated John Nelson 6-2 and 6-2, Charles Cower dropped Bob Griffin 6-3 and 6-3, Dub Malaise won over Terry Bishop 6-1 and 6-0 and Bengé Daniel defeated Dickie Hill 6-1 and 6-1.

Peterson teamed with Kothmann to defeat Avera and Griffin 6-3 and 6-2, while a Malaise-Cower combination stopped Ron Williams and Don Leverett 6-1 and 6-0.

Thursday and Friday the tennis team will compete in the Rice Intercollegiate meet in Houston.
