

Students, Organizations To Be Honored

Five Drop From Race; Two Unopposed

Two more candidates have withdrawn from the Student Association officer's race, leaving the offices of president and secretary unopposed. Deadline for filing was 5 p.m. last Wednesday.

Unopposed for president in the Wednesday election is Wallace Wilson, while Edwina Schovajsa is the lone candidate for secretary. Bill Roberts became the second person to withdraw from the presidential race. Billie Harding decided against running for secretary.

Three candidates have withdrawn from races in Arts and Sciences and Business Administration Divisions. Ronald Crouch and Marilyn Wood are out of the race for A&S representative. Gail Biggers is the BA withdrawal. Several other candidates previously announced their withdrawal.

Huda Hassen, council secretary, announced five buildings as sites for ballot boxes. They include the Administration, Agriculture, Home Economics, East Engineering, and Student Union Buildings.

Polls will open at 8 a.m. and remain open until 5 p.m. Wednesday except for the noon hour. The Union's polls will remain open all day. Persons will also have opportunity to vote in the dorms from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. Identification cards must be presented at the time of voting, Miss Hassen said.

Also included on the ballot will be several amendments to the Student Association Constitution. Student Council officers report that the amendments involve no major change in the Constitution and are only attempts to bring it up to date. The amendments will be carried in Tuesday's Toreador.

Slow response was reported Thursday afternoon to the Toreador's call for a list of each candidate's qualifications and a glossy photograph of the candidate. This information must be turned in to Alton Slagle at the Toreador office by noon Saturday in order to be prepared for the April 10 special election issue of the paper.

Candidates will have an opportunity to present their platforms at a special election rally to be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday in front of the Student Union Building.

OXFORD DEBATERS TO DISCUSS H-BOMB

Should the H-bomb be banned?

This is the subject of an Oxford debate scheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Tech Union Ballroom lounge.

The debaters will attempt to determine if it is to the best interests of the United States to ban nuclear weapons.

Pulitzer Winner To Speak At Banquet

Key address at the 15th Annual Matrix Table Banquet of Theta Sigma Phi tomorrow night in the Union Workroom will be presented by Mrs. Caro Brown, Pulitzer prize-winning journalist from Alice, Tex. She will be introduced by Mrs. Otice Green, president of the Theta Sig alumnae chapter in Lubbock.

Also featured on the program will be the naming of Tech's outstanding senior woman journalist and presentation of awards in Theta Sigma Phi's annual area newspaper contest. Mrs. James G. Allen, chapter sponsor, will present the outstanding senior and Dr. William E. Hall, journalism department head, will make the newspaper awards. A first prize and honorable mention will be awarded each for the best editorial, column, feature and news

Mortar Board Executive Here

"Forum certainly has a better-than-average chance for becoming a member of Mortar Board by the fact that two national representatives have investigated it in the last two years," stated Mrs. Carl G. Swanson, national vice president of Mortar Board, yesterday. Just these two visits indicate that Mortar Board has great interest in Forum, Tech's senior women's honorary society, she explained. Tech is also one of only four schools where national representatives have been sent this year.

Mrs. Swanson, who lives in Omaha, Neb., has been visiting the campus since Wednesday. She is surveying the program facilities of Tech and Forum in consideration of the possible establishment of a Mortar Board chapter here in the future. Mortar Board is a national senior women's honorary society.

"Mortar Board is a small organization physically and is unable to take in many new members. It expands in a slow and conservative manner," said Mrs. Swanson.

If Forum is not ready to meet all national requirements they can still petition for Mortar Board and will at least be discussed by the national council each year. Forum has been corresponding with Mortar Board for a number of years, says Miss Sue Rainer, sponsor.

Mrs. Swanson made it clear that if Forum becomes a member of Mortar Board, former Forum members can also be initiated into the organization.

The visitor has held conferences with Forum members; Dr. E. N. Jones, Tech president; Dr. G. E. Giesecke, academic vice president; James G. Allen, student life dean; Miss Florence Phillips, dean of women; Dr. R. C. Goodwin, arts and sciences dean; and Dr. Willa Vaughn Tinsley, home economics dean.

Mrs. Swanson, who has made a brilliant record in law and spent a year as special assistant to U.S.

Attorney General Herbert Brownell, was honored at a luncheon yesterday given by Lubbock-area Mortar Board Alumnae in the Union Anniversary Room and a dinner given last night by Forum at the Lubbock Women's Club.

Miss Thelma Lockwood, secretary to the president at University of Texas, and a national officer of Mortar Board for six years, inspected Forum in October, 1954.

U.S. Secret Service Posts Notices Here

Notices from the US Secret Service have been posted in all dormitories to call attention to federal law in regard to the use of mutilated or foreign currency in vending machines.

For the past several months, a large number of Mexican coins, mutilated US coins, and slugs have been used in dormitory food dispensers, pay phones, and particularly in soft drink machines, according to Jack Thompson, assistant to the vice president.

Use of foreign currency is in direct violation of the Federal law stating that "whoever makes, issues, or passes any token or device intended to be used as money shall be fined not more than $1000 or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both."

Persons mutilating, defacing or lightening U.S. coins are subject to a stiffer federal penalty of a fine up to $2000 or imprisonment to five years.

The vice president of the college was notified by the special secret service agent in charge that "future occurrence of these violations and complaints from the vending machine operators will be thoroughly investigated by our Service . . ." and that violators will be subject to federal and state regulations.

Approximately 460 students and 10 organizations high in scholastic and leadership achievement for the past calendar year will be honored Sunday at the annual Recognition Service, according to Dean James G. Allen, master of ceremonies for the program.

President E. N. Jones will be the principal speaker for the service, to be held at 2 p.m. in the Union Ballroom.

All students receiving individual honors must have made a 2-point average for 1955. Receiving college honors, for which a student must have been recognized scholastically three previous years, are: Monty E. Davenport and James C. Wine, Engineering; Alvin L. Gregg and Willie H. Smith, Arts and Sciences; Bobby R. McGehee and Dibrell Stowell, Agriculture.

Students to be recognized for the first time number 152, and will be given individual honors. Forty-four students will receive class honors, being recognized for the second time, while 12 will receive divisional honors for their third recognition.

The six top-ranking students from the five college divisions are: Ellis W. Huddleston and Ray Joe Riley, Agriculture; Paula J. Hudgins, Arts and Sciences; Delmo G. Maurer, Business Administration; Samuel E. Estes, Engineering; Mary A. Kenney, Home Economics.

Holders of 41 scholarships who have maintained a "B" average will be recognized, as will members of the National and International Crops Judging Team, first place winners in national and international collegiate competition.

Two-thirds of the membership of student organizations to be honored have maintained a "B" or better average. The ten groups are: Alpha Chi, Alpha Lambda Delta, Alpha Zeta, Electrical Engineering Society, Forum, Junior Council, Kappa Mu Epsilon, Pi Sigma Alpha, Sigma Delta Pi and Tau Beta Pi.

Leadership recognition, for which 35 are named, is based on versatility in student activities, the number of students potentially influenced by their offices, and the student's attitude toward responsibility. Each has maintained a "C" or better average.

Eighty-six athletes who have been awarded letters during the past year will be given athletic recognition. Achievement in football, tennis, track, swimming, fencing, golf, basketball and baseball are also included.

Four students will be awarded national competition recognition for winning first place in national or international collegiate competition as Tech representatives. They are Jim W. Gaede, Ellis Huddleston, Richard Ridgway, and Ray Joe Riley, all members of the crops judging team.

"IN OLD MEXICO" SHOWN IN UNION

A movie trip, "In Old Mexico," was conducted by the World Traveler Committee last night in Tech Union.

Mary Randal, Lubbock junior showed films of a summer trip to Mexico, where she attended the University of Mexico.

The films, according to Leah Lewis of the World Traveler Committee, were of special interest to students planning to attend that university.

Varsity Show Cast Polishes for 'Girl Crazy'

The cast of more than 100 Techsians made final preparations for the Annual Tech Varsity Show, "Girl Crazy," this week during rehearsals.

The show, which will be presented Monday through Wednesday, in the Tom S. Lubbock High School Auditorium at 8 p.m., is directed by Jack Pruitt.

Mrs. Ruth Horn Andrews, writer of the history of Tech, has completed the manuscript entitled, "The First 30 Years: 1925-1955."

It is scheduled to be published about May 20 by Tech Press.

Price of the book will be $4.75, says Bengie R. Daniel, manager of Tech Press. Two thousand volumes will be published and they are to be on sale at Tech Bookstore.

Mrs. Andrews, former instructor at Tech and daughter of Tech's first president, Dr. Paul Whitfield Horn, was employed in 1955 to come from New York to write the history of Tech.

Four speech students will leave

Tech by car Tuesday to attend the Delta Sigma Rho Jubilee Congress in Chicago April 12-14, according to Dr. P. Merville Larson, speech department head. The Congress is planned as a grand climax to the honorary forensics society's golden anniversary, he said.

Serving on various committees at the congress are three sophomore speech majors, Barbara Van Horn, Nancy Henson, Lubbock, Terry McRight, Hereford; and one freshman, Willis Taylor of Lubbock, government major. Dr. Larson is accompanying them on the trip.

Summer session bulletins are now available in the registrar's office, according to Bengie R. Daniel, manager of Tech Press.

Five thousand copies of the 62-page bulletin have been printed. It contains information regarding all summer school activities, including calendar, regulations, requirements and general information.

The summer session first term opens June 4 and closes July 14. The second term opens July 16 and closes Aug. 25. The faculty during the summer session will number 187, and all college facilities will be at the disposal of students.

"The 1956 La Ventana is nearing completion," announced Pat Boles, editor, Tuesday. The completed yearbook is scheduled to go to press Saturday.

"We cannot say yet exactly when the yearbook will be out," stated Miss Boles, "but we are still hoping to have it out on time."

Special attractions of this year's book will include seven full-color division pages, and 36 more pages

70 Gridders Report For Drill

A squad of about 70 players, including lettermen, squadmen and a host of freshman numeral winners from last fall were on hand Wednesday to greet Coach DeWitt Weaver for the opening of spring football drills.

The training session will continue through April 27, the night the annual Red-White spring game will be played. Coach Weaver has stated the annual coaching clinic will not be held in conjunction with spring training this year.

The Raiders are allowed 20 practice sessions in a 30-day period and should bad weather prevail, the Red-White game will be held on Saturday night, April 28.

In addition to the unusually strong group of freshmen reporting, the Raiders gained a group of lettermen out of service and a few junior college transfers. Of the 70 candidates reporting approximately 30 are freshmen.

The Raiders will have depth at every position and the current training period will prove just how much quality lies in the depth available. The Techsans opened the spring sessions without captains being chosen, which is in reversal to the usual Red Raider policy. Captains will be elected at the end of the spring drills.

Twenty-two lettermen and 12 seniors will form the nucleus from which the 1956 starting eleven will be chosen. Also returning to the fold and adding considerable strength to the squad are three service men: Ray Howard, Kenneth Elmore and Barton Massey. Howard is a two-time all-Border-Conference guard while Elmore and Massey are tackles.

McDonald, Osborne Enter Texas Relays

Tech track hopes in the Texas Relays will rest squarely on the shoulders of high jumper Ray McDonald, senior from Blanket, and Kenneth Osborne, freshman hurdler from Amarillo.

McDonald and Osborne are the only members of the Raider track team making the trip to Austin. The Relays featuring teams from a six-state area, will be run today and Saturday.

In their last outing, a 4-way pre-Easter meet held in Abilene, the Raiders finished fourth behind Abilene Christian College, East Texas State and a service team from Sheppard AFB.

McDonald won the high jump, but other than that the Raiders could garner only third places in the mile relay, the sprint relay and the 220. Leon Chester, sophomore from Andrews, placed fourth in the high hurdles.

Tennis Team Set For Rockies Champ

Having defeated arch-rival Texas Western College 7-0 in a dual match last week the Tech netters were to attempt to keep up their winning ways today at 2 p.m. when they faced the powerful Colorado College team defending Rocky Mountain Conference champs.

The Coloradans will have virtually the same team that copped the Rocky Mountain title last year, according to Tech tennis mentor George Philbrick.

clude Emil Garcia, tackle; Will Paradaux, center; Ronnie Feazell, end; Harvey Gray, tackle; David Cooper, guard; and Joe Scott, end.

An added note of good news greeted Coach Weaver when it was learned that Don Presley, who was No. 2 center in the early part of last season, has now been declared physically fit for a return to competition. This addition will greatly strengthen the center position where both Dwayne West and Hilton Hayes were lost by graduation.

The big problem appears to be tackles, where graduation took

end position is one of the strongest, as there were no casualties from graduation. Others who completed their eligibility last season include: guards Arlen Wesley and Tommy Elliott; quarterback Jack Kirkpatrick, halfbacks Don Schmidt and Charles Blanton; and fullbacks Jim Sides and Lonnie Graham.

Coach Weaver reports that starting positions are wide open and he expects more competition for the starting berths than has been experienced since the spring session of 1951.
