Gadflies—In private conversation House Democrats are voicing two deep thoughts. It's a result of recent parliamentary developments.

First they think Speaker Henry T. Hainey ought to spend a few days boning up on Roberts' Rules of Order.

Second they seem to be glad they have such a large majority.

Time after time of late the Republican minority has had a merry time at the expense of that huge group of gentlemen now crowded into the saddle. Only when bills bearing straight Administration labels are up for consideration is the majority leadership capable of

Oil Men Here Urge Governor To Sign Bills

Local oil men and others interested in the oil industry are particularly anxious regarding the status of three bills recently passed by the Texas legislature pertaining to the oil industry. They are Bills Nos. 99, 96 and 43 which call for the supervision and regulation of refineries, penalties for violations, and providing appropriations of additional monies for the railroad commission to enforce provisions of the bills. The bills are now before Governor Ferguson for her signature to make them law.

Up until this afternoon the bills had not been signed. Local oil men express the opinion that if these bills do not become effective, the oil industry in this section will become more complicated, as a result of activities of the so-called "hot oil" operators in East Texas.

Telegrams urging Governor Ferguson to sign the bills have been sent from here, with the hope the chief executive will soon affix her signature to the measures now before her.

Representatives of several oil companies in this area forwarded telegrams Thursday urging the governor to sign the measures. Ben Latevire, of the American-Marañcho forwarded the following message: "Big Springs, Tex., March 1, 1934, Honorable Missian A. Ferguson, State Capitol Building, Austin, Texas: We are independent oil operators of West Texas and have forty-eight people depending upon us for support and we earnestly solicit your approval of House Bills 99, 96 and 43, which will greatly assist for an orderly oil development and more fair allocation of the state's production in Texas and trust that these laws can become effective immediately. "American Marañcho Co."

Banker Takes Nephew's Life, Kills Himself

West, Texas, Banker Had Quarrel With Kin Over Market

WEST, Tex.—Rudolph Nemecek, 33, a director of the West National bank, shot and critically wounded his nephew, Johnnie Nemecek, 30, in the Nemecek Brothers Market here late Thursday, then killed himself.

Gets Second Gun—Testimony at an inquest conducted by Acting Coroner E. H. Bressler showed that Rudolph Nemecek walked into the market and shot his nephew in the back of the neck with a shotgun, then attempted to turn the gun on himself but was disarmed by bystanders.

He fled from the store, obtained another gun from an unknown source and drove to the home of Joe Holy, half a mile east of West. Holy said Nemecek sat down on the running board of the automobile and fired both barrels of the shotgun at himself, the charge blowing off one of his ears but failing to wound him fatally.

"Get away—I know what I'm doing," Holy quoted him as saying when Holy attempted to wrest the gun from Nemecek.

Motive Unknown—He reloaded both barrels of the gun as Holy watched, horrified, placed the muzzle of the gun in his mouth and pressed the trigger with a stick. That blast was fatal.

The motive for the shooting remained a mystery, although friends of the Nemecek family, prominent at West, said Rudolph Nemecek and his nephew had quarrel over business affairs of the market, in which both owned an interest. Johnnie Nemecek is a son of Rudolph's older brother, A. Nemecek. He has a wife and baby daughter. His uncle is survived by his widow and four daughters, Mamie, Hattie and Georgia of West, a Mrs. Williams of Crystal City, and a son, Freddy, of West.

Action Means Improvements May Be Had

Concurrence By Directors Of Airport Is Considered Probable

City commissioners convened in an important called session Thursday evening agreed to execute a lease contract from the Big Spring Airport corporation passed a motion authorizing the mayor to sign an CWA application for graveling and street and alley paving and approved reduction of amount of bonds required of the First National bank to secure deposits.

Motion to have the lease contract for the airport executed was made by Commissioner Leo Nall and seconded by Commissioner R. V. Jones. All commissioners voted aye. A motion "authorizing the mayor to sign an application to CWA for graveling and street and alley paving the city to spend not more than $2,000 for material" was made by Jones and seconded by Victor Mellinger. All commissioners voted aye.

The motion calling for a reduction in the amount of bonds required of the bank to secure city deposits was made by Mellinger and was seconded by J. W. Allen. All voted aye.

Improvements Stated—Action of the committee in directing execution of the airport lease contract under revised terms may mean that this city's application, once approved provided the port was municipally owned or leased, will get $26,000 in improvements including two paved runways.

Terms of the lease stipulate that the city is to pay $1 plus net revenues per year to the airport corporation. The city inserted a clause to protect itself from any loss that might be incurred from operating expense should the city find itself unable to sublease the port.

Protected From Loss—The lease contract declares that the airport corporation shall step between the city and any loss. Contained in the contract was an option for the city to purchase the port at the end of the five year period for which the lease is good if the city so desires. The option price was fixed at $109,000.

Approval Very Probable—Directors of the airport corporation were being called into a special session Friday at 3:30 p. m., by Secretary Fox Stripling to consider the lease. It was regarded as a certainty that directors would authorize Stripling and H. Reagan, to sign for the corporation. In turn, Mayor Cliff Talbot will then affix his signature to the lease and the application and C. T. Watson, Chamber of Commerce manager, will probably leave for Austin in an attempt to again run the project through government routine.

Paving Project—Authorizing the mayor to sign applications to CWA for graveling and street and alley paving may mean that a permanent improvement project boomed here months ago may be realized.

Should the street project be given approval several streets recently given a heavy gravel topping will also receive a substantial asphalt, rock aggregate topping. The entire commission, which includes C. E. Talbot, mayor; R. V. Jones, J. W. Allen, Leo O'Nall, and Victor Mellinger, was present.

Cell Lock Is Picked By Girl

Other Cells Opened After They Had Gained Freedom

DENTON, (AP)—Ten men and two women escaped from the Denton county jail early Friday. Five were recaptured in a barn west of Denton several hours later.

The girls, Evelyn Bartee, 17, and Audell Hampton, 16, who had been arrested on burglary charges, picked the lock on their cell door, and made their way into the loft of the second floor. They descended into jailer's office, where they took keys from cabinet and unlocked most of the cells.

The girls and three men were later recaptured in a barn. All escaped down the outside walls by means of an improvised blanket rope.

Ten men and three boys refused to leave the jail.

Former Senator Smoot Implicated In Mail Contracts

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Harris M. Hanahue, president of Western Air Express, told senate airmail investigators Thursday that Ernest W. Smoot, son of the former Utah senator, had "sold" the company on the idea that Smoot could expedite a comptroller general's decision the company wanted.

Government payments to the company were being held up at the time pending the comptroller's decision.

Smoot was hired and after the decision was made, billed the company for $15,000 "for services rendered." He testified he was not paid the full amount.

Hanahue said Smoot, at a meeting in New York, told him he would get his father (Reed Smoot, at that time senator), to write a letter to McCarl.

Hanahue testified that Postmaster General Brown had forced him to make an unfavorable contract with American Airways, an Aviation corporation subsidiary, to get a mail contract.

When Western Air wanted a mail contract extension on a proposed direct continuation of its Cheyenne-Albuquerque line to El Paso, Hanahue said, it was given to American Airways, which subcontracted to Western Air.

ASKS REVISION OF FILIPINO LEGISLATION

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Roosevelt Friday asked congress to revise the Hawes-Cutting Philippine independence law with an amendment for relinquishment of a military base when the islands become independent and provisions for an "ultimate settlement" of disposition of naval bases.

The Hawes-Cutting bill, passed a year ago by congress, automatically lapsed early this year by failure of the Philippine government to accept it.

It provides for independence within twelve or fourteen years. The president said, "While we desire to grant complete independence at the earliest proper moment, to effect this result without allowing sufficient time for necessary political and economic adjustments, would be a definite injustice to the people of the Philippine islands."

Sweetwater Cafe Employee Arrested Here

Wanted In Connection With Theft Of Money From Cafe

Hobbs Dunn, arrested here Thursday evening by Sheriff Jess Slaughter, was returned to Sweetwater Friday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff J. A. Bland of Nolan county.

Dunn, an employe in the Bankhead cafe of Sweetwater, is wanted in that city on a charge of theft.

Sam Cress, owner of the cafe, accompanied Bland here to gain custody of Dunn. Cress, who had just installed the business, received about $80 recovered from Dunn, who had allegedly taken approximately $100 from the safe cash register.

Slaughter arrested Dunn when a westbound bus put into terminal here.

Dunn denied his identity but admitted it when his name was discovered on a tailor's label inside a coat pocket.

More than $53 were found hidden cleverly on his person.

Some time later Deputy Sheriff Andrew Merrick left the sheriff's office and ran into a trail of $1 bills. Before he stopped picking up the bills he had salvaged $23 and one $5 bill, presumably discarded by Dunn as he was being brought to the office for questioning.

Cress said Dunn had been working for him about eight months as a dish washer. Dunn had bought a slicker and a bus ticket before he reached here.

Dr. Wynekoop, Trembling, On Court Stand

Three Bailiffs Carry Defendant To Stand To Give Her Testimony

CHICAGO, (AP)—Dr. Alice Wynekoop told the witness stand in her own defense Friday as he second trial for murder of her daughter-in-law, Rheta, reached its climax.

Pale and trembling, Dr. Wynekoop was carried to the stand by three bailiffs. Her face was ashen gray as she started her testimony.

The doctor's voice choked with emotion when she reached part of her testimony where she described how she found Rheta dead on the operating table.

She had previously described Rheta as having a reticent disposition, but it was not until last fall she became morbid and melancholic.

The court recessed when the witness became faint.

Restoration Of World Trade By U.S. Is Desired

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Roosevelt Friday asked Congress for an authority to modify tariff rates in negotiating commercial agreements with other nations.

"I am requesting congress to authorize the Executive," the President said, "to enter into executive commercial agreements with foreign nations; in pursuance thereof within carefully guarded limits to modify existing duties, and important restrictions in such way as will benefit American agriculture and industry."

He said world trade had declined approximately 70 per cent from its 1929 volume.

Other governments to an increasing extent are "winning their share of international trade by negotiating reciprocal trade agreements", the President said in giving his reasons for asking for such powers.

Democratic leaders assured their support to the request, while bitter partisan debate was in prospect on the ancient political issue.

Texas Secured Independence 98 Years Ago

Ninety-eight years ago today the lusty infant, the future state of Texas, made its historic bow to an indifferent world. Proclaiming its arrival were a few resolute men and brave women, who had spent the past years defending the American principles of government against the machinations of Mexican dictators.

England and France were the only strong nations to recognize the young republic. The relation between Texas and France, however, became greatly strained over the deprivations of a Texan pig that insisted on eating the French ambassador's corn. France almost severed diplomatic dealings with the young republic unable to control its live stock.

The pig episode has been lived down long ago, but Texas is still associated in the minds of many Easterners with wild form of live stock, particularly the long horn cattle, the poisonous gila monster, the long-lived horned frog and diamondback rattler.

Texas is not ashamed of any of these native specimens, but she is particularly desirous that out-of-state visitors relegate them to their proper place and not imagine the state is overrun with them. In connection with this all Texans, Big Spring citizens included, are being asked to participate in the Texas centennial which will be observed two years hence, in celebration of the state's one-hundredth birthday.

Big Spring being on the most popular southern route to California will be in a position to do its share in the Centennial. Already its highways both east and west are being put into shape. Cedars are being planted and clumps of trees, that should be well developed by 1936.

The Centennial committee of Big Spring is composed of E. Reagan, Shine Phillips and Bruce Frazier. They will work with the city agencies in helping Big Spring put on its best bib and tucker and meet all visitors with a clean face and a smile.

The two years constitute a short span and the Centennial committees at Austin and in other Texas cities are already actively at work; Texas wants the sums its residents took to Chicago this past summer brought back and more dollars along with them. All interesting and historic landmarks are being marked and old legends, even that of the "onery" pig, are being refurbished. Women's study clubs are brushing up on Texas history, so as to be able to answer questions.

It is suggested that all Texans, both native and adopted, who are not already well acquainted with Texas' colorful and romantic history, spend the next two years acquainting themselves with the history of their state and with its interesting and historic spots.

Today—Texas Independence Day—is good time to begin to read about Texas.

CWA Rolls Cut 20 Per Cent

Second Straight Sharp Reduction Is Ordered For County

Another 20 per cent CWA roll out followed on the heels of a sharp reduction last week to shave the Howard county total to 200,000 bushels ending Thursday evening.

County Administrator H. H. McNew said Friday that 120 men were taken from the rolls as a result of the order from Austin.

Reason for the pronounced cut, which is 10 per cent above the regular weekly reduction percentage, was that highway projects are in progress in Howard county, McNew said.

He expressed the opinion that this county would experience no more such reductions and that the roll will now continue to dwindle at the rate of the prescribed 10 per cent per week until complete demobilization is accomplished by May 1.

Complete History Shown In Records Of State National; Started In 1909 As State Bank, Nationalized In 1924

3 Presidents Served Since Organization

The records of the First State Bank of Big Spring, and later the State National Bank of Big Spring, show a complete and interesting history of the twenty-five year-old banking institution now bearing the latter name in this city, which on Saturday is celebrating its twenty-fifth anniversary by opening in its new and more commodious quarters corner of Second and Main streets.

The First State Bank of Big Spring was organized under the banking laws of Texas, and a charter was issued on January 18, 1909. The incorporators were C. D. Read, T. S. Currie, Bernard Fisher, A. Biney Jones and C. E. Bell. After receiving the charter and preparing the building for banking purposes, the new institution opened for business on March 1, 1909, with the following officers and directors:

C. D. Read, president, now residing in Big Spring.
A. Biney Jones, vice president, now living in Greenville, Texas.
T. S. Currie, cashier, now active vice president of Big Spring.
L. V. Read, assistant cashier, now residing in San Antonio.
C. E. Bell, director. Mr. Bell is deceased.

Bernard Fisher, director, now living in Big Spring.
The above also served as directors. The same organization prevailed in the bank until January 1, 1910, when Wm. E. Currie and L. T. Deats were added to the directorate.

January, 1912, saw William Fisher, now deceased, replace his son, Bernard Fisher, as a director. A. C. Walker replaced A. Biney Jones as director, and has served continuously in that capacity since that time. Mr. Jones sold his interests in the bank and left the city to make his home in Greenville, Texas.

On January 1, 1914, S. A. Penix, county judge, went in as director in place of C. E. Bell. On this date also L. T. Deats, now deceased, succeeded C. D. Read as president and director.

There were no other changes until January 1, 1917, when Bernard Fisher replaced his father, William Fisher, as a director.

In January, 1924, W. R. Dawes, was added as a director of the institution, made vacant by the sudden death of L. T. Deats, which occurred on January 4, 1924. Wm. E. Currie succeeded Mr. Deats as president of the institution, and has served continuously in that capacity since that time.

Following the death of Mr. Dawes in 1933, Robert Currie succeeded as director.

On May 26, 1924, the Comptroller of the Currency at Washington authorized nationalization of the First State bank, and on this date the bank began operation as a national bank under federal supervision, and has operated as such since that time.

In 1925 the State National building was given a complete overhauling and remodeling. New fixtures and vaults and new safety deposit boxes were added to its equipment. The front pillars replaced the old front, adding much to the appearance of the bank building.

T. S. Currie, active vice president and directing head of the institution, began his banking career as cashier of the old First State bank, and served in that capacity until January 1, 1924, when he became active vice president. Mr. Currie came to Big Spring in 1905 from Sterling county, where he had been engaged in the cattle business for five years. He came to Texas in 1900 from near Madison, Wisconsin.

He was engaged in the real estate business for a short time in Big Spring before entering the banking business.

Wm. E. Currie, president of the State National bank, came to Texas on January 15, 1885, and located in Glascock county, where he engaged in the cattle and sheep business. He came from Wisconsin, where he spent his boyhood days. He had leased out his ranch properties, and came to Big Spring some twenty years ago, and has resided here since. Mr. Currie was elected president of the institution in January, 1924, and has served in that capacity ever since.

Boatler Indicted By Mitchell Grand Jury

Charged With Offense Against 13-Year-Old Girl

Noel E. Boatler, principal of the Fairview School 20 miles northwest of Colorado, was indicted Wednesday at Colorado under a charge of criminal offense against a 13-year-old farm girl.

A grand jury convened Monday for a term of the 32nd district court returned the indictment Wednesday afternoon.

Boatler, 27, is being held in the Howard county jail for safekeeping.

He made no statement when informed of the indictment.

Previously he had told officers he did not wish to have an examining trial or attempt to make bond.

Complaining witness for the state is Lois Saunders, farm girl of the Fairview community and student of Boatler.

The offense is alleged to have occurred Friday when Boatler allegedly went with the girl to Midland. He was taken into custody there Saturday afternoon.

Boatler is to be arraigned before Judge A. S. Matzney of the 2nd district court Monday morning.

Conviction under Texas criminal statutes carries a minimum penalty of five years and a maximum sentence of death.

Officers here said they did not know when Boatler would be returned to Mitchell county.

Federal Aid To Be Given Distressed

Huge Nine Hundred Fifty Million Dollar Relief Sum Is Sufficient

EXPENDITURES TO BE USED FOR LABOR

Program Calls For Helping Professional Groups Of The Nation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt Wednesday announced a reorganized national relief program to be substituted for the Civil Works lineup now being demobilized.

Federal efforts of the future will be classified as for distressed families in rural areas, for stranded populations in communities where industries have died, and for unemployed in large cities.

The President showed confidence that the recent $950,000,000 relief appropriation would be sufficient to carry out the new program until next spring.

He has stipulated that federal funds would be confined almost 100 per cent to wages in absolutely needy cases.

The President's program also provides for continuing of working opportunities for professional groups in need, including teachers, engineers, architects, artists, nurses, and others.

The states will be aided by the Federal government in financing the new enterprise.

City Commission In Quiet Session

City commissioners held a comparatively quiet regular session Tuesday evening.

One item of major importance came before the commission. It was a resolution accepting the offer of the First National Bank in Big Spring to pledge United States government bonds and city of Big Spring warrants to "secure" funds on deposit with said bank until the end of the fiscal year, March 31, 1934.

No other business of importance was acted upon. There was a reference to the airport project, but no action was taken.

Only one commissioner, R. V. Jones, was absent. He was out of the city on business.

Dr. Wynkoop To Deny She Killed Rheta

Defendant To Appeal Friday; Character Witnesses Heard

CHICAGO (AP)—Dr. Alice Wynkoop, her slight figure robed in black, came to court Thursday ready to take the stand, and deny she killed her daughter-in-law, Rheta.

The defense indicated, however, that the defendant might not be placed on the stand until Friday.

Numerous character witnesses might delay her appearance.

Three children of Mr. and Mrs. James Wintinger of Carthage, Mo., all of different ages, were born on February 4.

Governor Signs Two Relief Bills

AUSTIN (AP)—Governor Ferguson Thursday signed bills to issue additional state bonds for relief of unemployment distress, and to declare a moratorium against the forced sales of real estate in worthy cases.

Both bills became effective on signature by the governor.

Relief officials announced they would proceed without delay to sell the bonds to replenish relief coffers, which now virtually are empty.

The bond law provides for issuance of $7,775,000 in bonds.

The Texas bond commission has started discussions to arrange details preliminary to the sale.

Attorneys are working on forms for bonds and the state board of control is ready to order printing to be started at once.

Sale of the bonds may be effected on a week's notice.

Under terms of the moratorium law, district judges are empowered to stay execution of sales until February 1, 1935.

Man, Captured In Los Angeles, Is Wanted Here

Ed Davis, desperado captured Wednesday evening in Los Angeles and who was wanted in connection with the Kansas City Union depot massacre, is wanted here for the robbery of Collins Bros. drug store in 1929.

A companion of Davis, Frank Shelton, was taken here in connection with the robbery but Davis eluded arrest. Shelton has since escaped from the Texas penitentiary.

Davis was subsequently arrested in Oklahoma and sentenced for life to the state prison at McAlester. He escaped May 25, 1932 and a year four days later figured in the sensational prison break at Lansing, Kansas.

He has long been suspected as one of the perpetrators of the Kansas City union station shooting in which four officers and a prisoner, Frank Nash, were brutally murdered.

Police who conducted the raid on an apartment where Davis, two men and two women were taken said they discovered things which led them to believe that Charles "Pretty Boy" Floyd was in Los Angeles. Floyd fell under suspicion immediately after the Kansas City tragedy.

When arrested, Davis gave his name as Charles F. Joe. He carried two guns and was injured by an accidental discharge of a detective pistol when he sought to resist arrest. The desperado refused to make a statement, although he did admit killing an officer in Duncan, Okla. He denied any connection with the Kansas City massacre.

James B. Ford Succumbs Here

Engineer For California Concern Dies In Local Hospital

James B. Ford, 41, of Wilmington, California, engineer for the Vapor Treating Process, Inc., who has been in Big Spring since early in December, died at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning at a local hospital, following an illness lasting about a week. Mr. Ford, who, with his fellow-worker, Wallace A. Craig, lived at the Settles Hotel. Mr. Ford was removed to a hospital several days ago when his illness became serious. He died of a mesenteric thrombosis which produced peritonitis, causing his death.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. James B. Ford, of Wilmington, California, who was at his bedside when death came. She arrived early Wednesday morning by plane from Los Angeles. Three children, two sons and a daughter, of Wilmington, also survive. His parents reside in Philadelphia.

Mr. Ford was sent to Big Spring early in December by his company to oversee installation of a Lachman treater at the Cosden Refinery. He has been here since that time. He was assisted in the work here by his fellow-worker, Wallace Craig. Prior to his entering the oil refining business, Mr. Ford was a member of the Newark, N. J., baseball team of the Eastern League, and is said to have made an enviable record as a pitcher on that team.

Funeral arrangements are pending upon receipt of messages from relatives. Eberly Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

AP Asks Herald Of Whereabouts Of Mary Brian

The Big Spring Herald was asked by the Associated Press late Wednesday to trace the whereabouts of Mary Brian, beautiful Texas-born movie actress, who was expected in Dallas Wednesday by plane.

Miss Brian did not arrive in Big Spring on any of the planes she should have taken to make the Dallas connection. Big Spring people who have known her believe that she might have gone to visit her uncle, Scott Green, on his ranch between Snyder and Haskell.

Miss Brian was a playmate of a Big Spring citizen, Charles Kelsey, nephew of Mrs. E. L. Barrick of this city, when both were youngsters in Snyder.

Mrs. Barrick remembers well the child's long curls and beautiful face, as well as her sweet ways.

Her real name is Berta Louise Danzler. Her father is dead. Her mother is her constant companion. Rumor has it that she was born in Big Spring. It is known that her father worked for the Mitchell-Park Jewelry store several years ago. Uncle Alec Mitchell, now deceased, told Mrs. Blanche Richardson one day that Berta Louise made her debut to the world during her parents' residence here.

At any rate the Danzlers did not reside in Big Spring long, going from here to Snyder. Berta Louise became a favorite of her mother's uncle, Scott Green and he helped her with her movie career. From Snyder the family moved to Dallas and Dallas is still called home by the famous actress, since she went from this city to Hollywood.

In as much as the house generally supports the committee report in such matters the news gives rise to hopes here, recently C. T. Watson, Chamber of Commerce manager, went to Washington and appeared before the appropriations sub-committee in interest of continuing dry land experiment farms over the nation.

Broken Water Meters Cause Rush For City

Cold weather has brought a re-occurrence of broken water meter boxes and rush calls to the city water department.

It has also provoked city officials to recall an ordinance which holds that the responsibility rests on the private property owner beyond the meter box.

Each private property owner should have his private cut off if he wishes to protect his own piping.

Cold water has caused much piling to break and it has been impossible for members of the water department to answer all requests to shut off water while pipe is fixed.

Many meter box tops have been broken and they will be charged to the person holding the connection.

It will be the policy of the city not to install meters henceforth unless there is a private cut off on the connection, it was announced.

Dr. G. L. Yates Gives Opening Talk Monday

Baptist Revival To Continue For Two Week Period Here

Dr. G. L. Yates, conducting a revival at the First Baptist church, laid a foundation for the church's efforts during the next two weeks as he delivered his opening sermon Monday evening.

C. T. Hodges of Sweetwater led the song services.

The minister, an eloquent speaker, recalled from the scriptures the things which Christian people would have to do in order to experience a successful revival here during the two weeks in which he is to be here.

Prayerful Christian cooperation will be necessary for the maximum good to come out of the meeting, he said, and the preacher alone can not make the revival a success.

A good crowd heard Dr. Yates in his first sermon and with the weather moderating, increasingly larger audiences are expected to participate in the revival.

Spence Back From Capital

Gets Encouragement For Self-Liquidating Loan From Government

Encouraged over the prospects of obtaining a self liquidating loan with which to construct a modern natatorium here, City Manager E. V. Spence returned Tuesday morning from Washington.

He had been authorized by the city commission to present the city's revised application for the loan, which, if granted, will be repaid by revenues from the pool.

Spence was granted an interview the afternoon of February 22 and talked before the board of review for about an hour.

February 22 being a holiday, Spence was surprised when informed that the board, engaged until March 12 with appointments, had convened to hear the Big Spring application.

Although making no prediction as to the outcome of the application, Spence appeared to be cheered over his interview with the board.

Solons Mark Time Waiting On Committees

Clock Could Be Turned Back So Sessions Might Continue

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas legislature marked time Tuesday while it waited for conference committees to adjust differences between both houses on bills which would provide for additional unemployment relief money and a moratorium for debt-ridden real estate owners.

The special session, called by the governor to enact emergency legislation to tide over hard-hit Texans, expired automatically at midnight.

It is possible the clock could be turned back and the session could last hours after it technically would terminate.

The main trouble is on the moratorium bill.

A group is attempting to draft a bill agreeable to both houses.

The committee conferred during the morning but reached no agreement.

Senator Hopkins, Gonzales, said he and Senator Poage, Waco, were considering resigning from the committee because of "our apparent inability to agree."

He said an announcement on the fate of the project would be issued within thirty days.

While in Washington, Spence set in on a conference between Federal Relief Director Harry L. Hopkins and Adam Johnson, Texas director. According to Spence, a sort of work relief may be developed to care for those unable to get any sort of work when dismissed from CWA. Tendancy, he believes, will be away from the practice of paying wages as under CWA. Work relief would be paid by means of groceries.

AMERICAN AIRWAYS AGAIN PLAYS PART IN AN EMERGENCY

American Airways again played their part in an emergency Wednesday morning, this time to rush a lady passenger to the bedside of her dying husband.

When Mrs. James E. Ford of Wilmington, California, was notified late Tuesday afternoon that her husband, James H. Ford, was critically ill in the Big Spring hospital, she boarded an eastbound American Airways plane for Big Spring. The ship was scheduled to arrive here at 4:48 Wednesday morning, but due to bad weather, the ship did not make scheduled time. At El Paso the plane took off for Big Spring, but was forced to return after the weather had closed in on them, making visibility difficult.

On learning of the seaplane illness of Mrs. Ford's husband, in Big Spring, Airways officials ordered the plane to proceed that Mrs. Ford might reach the bedside of her husband.

The plane took off again, and though the weather was not so good, the ship arrived here at 4:30, about thirty minutes before Mr. Ford succumbed.

Homer Rader, veteran American Airways pilot, and considered one of the most experienced and cautious, was at the controls.

Scanty Yield Nets Farmers More Profits

Short Crop In 1933 Brings More Than Bumper Production In 1932

In 1933 farmers of Howard county produced about one-third the amount of cotton ginned here the previous year, yet they received $108,084.45 more for skimpy yield.

One of the wettest years in the history of this county was instrumental in causing a bumper yield of 30,451 bales in 1932.

Last year, one of the driest seasons the county has experienced, only 11,295 bales were ginned from the cotton crop.

Figuring on the basis of $25 per bale for the 1933 crop, it brought $761,275. Some of it went for more than five cents, but plenty went for three and four cents as bolly stuff.

Most of 1933 crop ran near $50 a bale and there is much of it that is still being held. But on the $50 per bale basis farmers of this county reaped $564,750 outright for their cotton.

In addition to this, 709 farmers received $219,836.50 in benefit payments for participation in the plough up campaign.

Profits from option cotton in connection with the plough up campaign poured $84,723.95 more into the hands of farmers.

The sale price, plus benefit payments and option cotton profits netted an increase of $108,084.45 for 1933 over 1932.

County Agent O. P. Griffin said that two-fifths of the county did not raise any cotton whatsoever the past year, one-fifth has some crops, and two-fifths had good crops.

His estimate of 12,000 ginned bales this year will not be far wrong when the season is entirely over.

"Had we had a good year all over the county," said Griffin, "we would be experiencing the equivalent of a boom here."

Rev. Burnside To Hold Revival At Tabernacle

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y. (UP)—John Joseph McGraw, pugnaucious "Little Napoleon" of many a baseball war, died peacefully Sunday in New Rochelle hospital after a critical illness of 10 days.

Believed to be well on the road to recovery from a severe attack of uremic poisoning, the famed sports leader suffered a sudden relapse early Saturday night, slipped into a state of coma from which he never recovered, and died at 11:50 o'clock Sunday morning.

The primary cause of death was the intestinal hemorrhage which caused his relapse. Contributing factors were cancer of the prostate gland and uremia. He would have been 61 on April 7.

At the bedside when the end came was Mrs. McGraw, Charles A. Stoneham, president of the New York Giants, and other friends and relatives.

McGraw's death came as a tremendous shock to baseball men here. Air Liner Is Found In Pass Near Salt Lake

Passengers And Crew Die Instantly As Ship Hits Ground In Pass

PLANE MAKES VERTICAL DIVE

Detailed Investigation Of Crash Under Way By Airline Officials

SALT LAKE CITY (UP)—Wrecking of the giant United Airline transport plane Friday was so swift and sudden, line officials said Monday, that the eight persons who died never knew what happened.

The plane fell vertically, like a great ball of steel and struck the ground with such force that the engine was imbedded in the ground up to the cabin.

An official said after an investigation: "All bodies were pushed forward. The ship did not move after it struck the ground. There was no evidence of fire. Death must have been instantaneous to all."

Seven men and one woman were found Sunday in the plane, which was wrecked in a snow-covered pass twenty miles from here.

Except for the wings, every part of the plane was smashed. Air line officials expressed belief the pilots were trying to climb out of a storm when the ship did a half back turn and nosed into the ground.

Investigation revealed the throttle of the plane was wide open.

Body of Miss Mary Carter, stewardess, was the only one intact. The rest were badly mangled.

Miss Carter was engaged and was soon to have been married. Identification of the victims was made possible only by jewelry and clothing.

Detailed investigation of the crash has been started.

Pure 14 Chalk New Producer In Howard Co.

Merrick & Lamb 10 Chalk Gets Pay; Two Test After Acid

Pure Oil Co.'s No. 14 Chalk in Howard county was completed last week at 1,708 feet in shale, pumping 4.39 barrels of oil during the second hour of a proration gauge, a rate of 105.36 barrels daily.

Settled production probably will be considerably below that figure.

The well showed oil from 1,638 (top of pay) to 1,828 feet and had an increase from 1,666-69 feet. Location is 1,650 feet from the north line and 2,310 feet from the east line of section 125, block 29, W. & N. W. Co. survey.

Other developments in the county during the week included the drilling of pay by Merrick & Lamb No. 10 Chalk and tests by two producers that had been treated with acid.

Merrick & Lamb No. 10 Chalk, in section 125, block 29, W. & N. W. Ry. Co. survey, showed oil from 1,664-85 feet, from 1,734-58 feet and had an increase from 1,758-64 feet in drilling to 1,819 feet in red sand. It was awaiting testing. Humble No. 2 Settles, in section 132, block 29, W. & N. W. Ry. Co. survey, had drilled to 1,813 feet in anhydrite and redrock.

Continental 4 Rumsey Deepens Abrams & Frasier, which the week before was treated with 1,000 gallons of acid under a 255-barrel oil load and 100 pounds pressure, swabbed 114 barrels of oil at 2,412 feet and at 2,434 feet, the total depth, swabbed 47 barrels of oil after the head was removed.

Deepening, the well had 1,250 feet of oil in the hole at 2,440 feet and drilled ahead below 2,488 in lime. It was estimated good for 200 barrels. Location is in the northeast quarter of section 13, block 33, township 2 south, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey.

In same section, Schermehorn No. 8 Rumsey, Abrams & Frasier showed more oil from 2,151-85 feet, from 2,182-92, at 2,195 and from 2,210-24 feet in drilling with rotary to 2,225 feet in lime. It cemented 8 1-4-inch pipe at 2,175 feet and was waiting for the cement to set.

Sun 6 Rumsey, Abrams & Frasier, in section 14, block 33, was replacing cable tools with rotary to fish out tools lost at 805 feet in redrock and drill ahead.

Joe Rush No. 2 Dodge, in section 9, block 30, township 1 south, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey, swabbed 50 barrels of oil daily and prepared to go on the pump at 2,863 feet.

Work before it was treated with 1,000 gallons of heated acid with a 92-barrel oil load and a maximum pressure of 1,000 pounds. Sinclair-Prairie No. 1 Percy Jones, also in section 9, block 30, had drilled to 185 feet in redrock.

Sinclair-Prairie No. 2 Denman in section 10, block 30, was going on the pump, having cleaned out following a 300-quart shot from 2,650 to 2,812 feet, the total depth. Sinclair-Prairie No. 10 Dodge, in section 11, block 30, was standing with 6 5-8-inch pipe cemented at 2,360 feet in lime. A location was staked for Sinclair-Prairie No. 11 Dodge, 330 feet from the north line and 990 feet from the west line of section 11, block 30. It will be a south offset to A. J. Frazier and others.

No. 1 Magnolia, Davis, which recently was completed at 2,819 feet, pumping 87 1-2 barrels of oil in 24 hours.

In Glascock county, Continental No. 1 Gulbreath, in section 24, block 33, township 2 south, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey, was preparing to pump. It recently ran 2,500 gallon of heated acid under a 300-barrel oil load at 250 pounds pressure after showing no improvement from a 200-quart shot from 2,301 to a plugged back depth of 2,467 feet.

Empire No. 1 Hall, in section 21, block 33, township 2 south, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey, lost a string of tools at 1,675 feet and skidded the rig 75 feet and 40 feet north from the old location, which was 330 feet out of the northwest corner of the section. The first test penetrated a cave in drilling to 1,675 feet and plugged back first to 1,485 feet and later to 1,190 feet and re-drilled without success.

Other Glascock Operations Simms No. 5-A Coffee, in the southwest quarter of section 15, block 33, township 2 south, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey, had drilled to 1,570 feet in shale and anhydrite. Shell No. 3-A Rumsey, Abrams & Frasier, in section 13, block 33, had drilled to 2,196 feet in lime.

Urges Cleaning Up Of Accumulated Trash Before Spring Comes

AUSTIN—The warm days of spring will soon be here and the Texas State Department of Health urges everyone to see that their property is cleaned of the winter's accumulation of trash. It is only through individual responsibility and effort that one can have a clean and neat appearing city.

In planning your spring cleaning start with the house itself in the attic and work down, not forgetting the basement. Attics and basements are the greatest collectors of refuse and therefore of dust and dirt that the house possesses, and their neglect often constitutes a serious fire hazard.

Do not forget to screen against flies and mosquitoes. The better the job of cleaning, and with a garbage pail kept tightly covered, the fewer flies there will be, because flies love dirt and filth and breed in garbage and other filth.

Under the C.W.A. sanitary project pit privies and septic tanks may be installed at no cost for labor, also private water, supplies may be sanitized. This will be a great improvement in rural sections and towns that do not have a city water supply or sewer system.

We are prone to judge people in no small measure by the kind of yard keepers we think they are. Many times you have heard some one say, "No, I don't know the people next door but they cannot amount to much because their yard is cluttered with cans and papers and leaves the road and sidewalks open." Do not let your neighbors be able to pass judgment on you on such grounds.

Winn Plans To Poison Ravens By Doping Eggs

Walter Winn is planning to poison ravens here the latter part of the week.

Winn is awaiting word from laboratories in San Antonio as to what poison to use.

He will inject the poison into eggs by means of hypodermic needles and will place the eggs in raven roosts so as to catch the attention of birds as they come to and leave the roost.

It was suggested by Winn that farmers having dogs find the habit of sucking eggs keep the dogs up.

"For more than a year," said Winn, "farmers have been after me to try and kill some of these ravens. We wanted eggs to do the work with but thus far a farmer has given any." Texas Electric, Club Cafe, and Douglas Hotel have given eggs, he said.

Status Of Airport Project Is Same

Status of the airport project remained unchanged Saturday after city commissioners had balked at signing Thursday afternoon.

Commissioners instructed the city attorney to prepare a lease releasing the city from any financial responsibility except the $1 per year rental fee.

City officials said they feared a clause in the application might force the city to maintain the airport in event American Airways did not release in July.

Meantime American Airways continue to operate through here and officials of that company said the line will not be abandoned so long as passenger and express business warrant operation.

SHE ATE ALL-BRAN TWELVE YEARS WITH FINE RESULTS

Delicious Cereal Relieves Constipation

Read this very enthusiastic letter: "Something like eleven or twelve years ago, I began eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. When I started, it was called simply Kellogg's Bran, and I believe it was one of the first products of the kind on the market.

"My friends often laugh at my fondness for ALL-BRAN. It gives such a clean taste in the mouth, and I do not feel satisfied until I have had my ALL-BRAN.

"If the Kellogg Company should ever stop manufacturing ALL-BRAN, here is one who would be greatly disappointed."—Miss Amy Person, University Park, Iowa.

Science says that ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regularity. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. How much safer than taking patent medicines—often harmful. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily for most types of constipation. For serious cases, try it three times daily. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Sold in the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Golden Voiced Star

Possession of a golden voice, as well as of a handsome appearance and striking personality, gained for John Boles an opportunity on the screen. As had many Texans before him and not a few since, Boles made good. More than good, in fact, in those pictures in which he sang, such as "The Desert Song," "Rio Rita," "The King Of Jazz." After which musical pictures ceased to be—until "42nd Street" brought about their revival.

Meanwhile Mr. Boles appeared in several non-musical pictures, each time improving his performance. Among the several were two which required of the handsome Texan that he portray a transition from youth to middle age. These were "Back Street" and "Only Yesterday." And he did the thing convincingly. A more ambitious production than either of these is the Universal epic romance, "Beloved," in which Boles and Gloria Stuart are co-starred, which requires the subject of this sketch to advance from early youth to ripe old age. The story encompasses three generations, with Boles starting as a youth in love, becoming a father, then grandfather. The evolutions are gradual and the portrayal said to be a marvel of make-up as well as a triumph of acting on the part of John Boles. Incidentally John Boles has opportunity to use his golden voice. He sings again in "Beloved," which is to be seen at Ritz Theatre as feature unit of a new R & R Super Road Show opening Saturday night at 11:30, Sunday and Monday.

"Beloved," Feature Unit Of R&R Road Show Here Sunday

When the screen productions of 1934 are subjected to review next New Year, it is highly probable that among "The Ten Best" will be found the Universal epic romance, "Beloved," now the feature unit of a new R & R Road Show program which opens at the Ritz Theater Saturday at 11:30, Sunday and Monday.

This is a picture which literally has everything, according to the R & R reviewer. It has a tensely dramatic story, its sweeping background in a kaleidoscope of action such as has never before been seen in any other screenplay. It has beautiful music and songs sung by John Boles, the screen's outstanding singer; also a song sung by Bobby Arnet and still another, a Negro spiritual, sung by a double quartette of dusky Southerners. And a symphonic climax of unprecedented grandeur.

And it has a splendid cast, with Gladys Stuart opposite John Boles and supporting parts played by Albert Conti, Dorothy Peterson, Holmes Herbert, Lucille Laverne, Edmund Bryson, Max Busch, Richard Caris, Bobby Arnet, Morgan Farley, Ruth Hall, Lucille Gleason, Escala Barricade, that wonderful kid from "Only Yesterday," Jimmy Butler and many others. Victor Schertzinger, himself a composer, directed "Beloved" from a script by Paul Gangelin.

Airways Traffic Man Helps Cupid With Honeymooners

NEW ORLEANS-Although he's single himself, Ike Sewell, New Orleans traffic manager for American Airways, feels he is qualified as an expert on honeymoons and honeymooners.

During the past year, according to his own figures, Sewell has served as counsellor and guide to approximately 35 newly married couples who elected to fly here for their honeymoons. This, he explained, isn't a part of his routine duties but just a specially sideline resulting from his intimate knowledge of the city.

publicans have put on a first-class gaffety act. They get their Democratic brethren all tangled up in snarls of legislative procedure, ruffe tempers and force premature adjournments to head off some similar piece of devilment.

Majority Leader Joe Byrns, of Tenn., has been doing a nice piece of shepherding. Unfortunately for the Democrats, demands upon him are so heavy he is frequently absent from the floor when some dominant hand is needed to crack the whip.

Asleep

Speaker Rainey frequently is caught snapping in the chair. He doesn't seem to be abreast of the many intricacies of procedure. Without Parliamentary Lewis Deschler at his elbow he has been led into making more than a few rulings which later had to be reversed.

Little of this shows up next day in the Congressional Record. It is almost always smoothed up in proof reading.

Rainey's colleagues say he should take one lesson from the late Nick Longworth. That is always to inquire of a member "for that purpose does the gentleman arise?" before recognizing him.

If the purpose didn't suit Nick he was apt not to give the man the floor—and certainly not if it was for the sole purpose of annoying the Republicans.

Weatherwise

The time was last August. The scene was Hyde Park. President Roosevelt was playing week-end host to the "Four Horsemen"—the four newspaper reporters who traveled with him "before Chicago." They were twitting the Executive about "Roosevelt luck."

The President threw back his head and predicted laughingly that they hadn't seen any luck to date. Still joking he assured them this winter would be the worst in years in the matter of snow. He foresaw hundreds of thousands of needy men almost constantly clearing streets, roads and railroads—thus affording otherwise impossible employment.

How true this summer just turned out to be those of you who have been snowbound and traffic paralyzed best can judge. Many thousands have shovelled themselves to some much needed dollars in recent weeks.

All the same the snows and blizzards came much suffering that is costing Uncle Sam millions of dollars to alleviate.

Unsugared

Quite a bit of vivisection is going to be committed on the sugar bill before it finally emerges from Congress. All this no doubt is very discouraging to Secretary of Agriculture Wallace who saw the measure get off to such a flying start.

Designed originally to declare sugar a basic commodity and permit the Agriculture Department to fix quotas based on any consecutive three-year period of production between 1925 and 1933, the measure is destined for radical changes.

Revelation is in the cards to carry specific quotas or a more definite rule for their measure. Further it appears the President's suggestion of a 1,450,000-ton quota for domestic beets will be raised to about 1,750,000. This means the Cuban and Philippine island quotas must be reduced in direct proportion.

Slip

A. J. S. Weaver, chief of the Sugar Division of AAA, let the cat out of the bag when he inadvertently answered "yes" to this question before the House Agriculture Committee: "Isn't this plan (the administration sugar bill) merely to give the domestic industry a shot in the arm and slide it out on a shutter while it's unconscious?"

Wallace has been busy since explaining Chief Weaver was tired when he acquiesced in such a premise. Senator Costigan, of Colo., who introduced the bill in the senate, had to make a statement he was unaware of any movement to exterminate the local beet sugar industry—and if so he would oppose his own measure.

Private

Watch the NRA hearings for further evidence that the government will encourage private industry. New Yorkers close to the New Deal picture predict General Johnson will be milder-mannered than usual and will accept brick-bats with unaccustomed grace. Government control will be toned down and the cooperative partnership between government and industry will be stressed.

The same sources also predict that complaints from the labor end will be sidetracked as diplomatically as possible. The only direction in which labor is likely to make immediate progress is toward a shorter week.

The shift isn't attributed here to any change in the President's long-term aims. Rather it's a practical question of absorbing the unemployed, promoting recovery and still keeping the government solvent.

Hours

New York looks for certain action on the 36-hour week before CWA tapers out of existence.

The step to be taken will virtually compel industry to swallow a much larger proportion of those still out of jobs. Concessions to industry will be made in other directions if necessary to achieve this end—peacefully.

Commodities

Wall Street commodity dealers are grinning at the frantic squirms of the Stock Exchange under Fletcher-Rayburn pressure. Not long ago they were expecting rougher treatment than the security boys. But the transfer of commodity regulations problems from a hostile Senate Banking Committee to the Agriculture Committee was a godsend. Senator Ellison Smith has shown himself a friendlier host than Senator Fletcher.

And they're having more fun than a basket of pops giving their property would be held in common— and individual land titles would be abolished. . . . Our Treasury high-ups say that the gold bloc is slowly breaking up. . . . It is believed that Holland may go off the gold even before France. . . . Switzerland will probably follow.

NEW YORK

By James McMillan

Britain

Britain has one last trick up her sleeve for recapturing the supremacy of sterling over the dollar in international exchange. Of course it's nothing so obvious as a currency war.

New York experts say current plans to establish a Canadian Central Bank are aimed at no less a goal. Bear in mind that the present Canadian system of chartered banks has withstood the depression with amazing success. There's no outward reason for a fundamental change.

Yet suddenly a project is introduced—authorized in England—to create a Canadian bank modelled closely on the Bank of England with note issue monopoly and final redoubt privileges. Why? Finally because such a bank would be much more susceptible of control from London than the chartered banks now ruling the Canadian roost.

If the experiment takes in Canada New York insiders expect to see it extended to Australia, New Zealand, South Africa—possibly even to India.

Grip

That would give Mother England a financial grip on her dominions she hasn't had in years. It's a subtle stunt—but it may be dished if the dominions catch on to the real motive. They might object to taking London's dust.

The President threw back his head and predicted laughingly that they hadn't seen any luck to date. Still joking he assured them this winter would be the worst in years in the matter of snow. He foresaw hundreds of thousands of needy men almost constantly clearing streets, roads and railroads—thus affording otherwise impossible employment.

Aviation

Local aviation circles expect to learn the exact terms on which they can have their mail contracts back within a few days. The dope they get is that Washington prefers a speedy settlement to taking further chances of a public kick-back from the fatalities and inadequate service of Army operations.

They haven't much hope of saving their holding companies if the government wants them abolished despite the growth of popular sentiment in their favor. But they do expect a year of grace in which to complete adjustments—which would eliminate most of the shock.

Insiders here rated the House bill authorizing the Army to carry the mails for a year as so much window-dressing to strengthen the government's hand by going ahead as if they meant it.

Army

New Yorkers close to military sources say the Army hopes for one break from its unwelcome postman's job—a fund to construct experimental planes such as are freely donated by the comparatively impoverished governments of England, Germany and Italy. So far Congress has always balked at overtures in that direction. The Army boys privately claim that's why our military air service isn't up to European efficiency.

For some years American manufacturers used to build aircraft to experimental Army specifications on speculation—taking a chance that the government would buy them after they were built. But the government seldom did and the practice was too expensive a luxury for depression days. So the Army has been confined to ordering only machines it knows it can use with little opportunity to solve fresh problems.

Methodist Revival To Start Sunday

The First Methodist church revival will begin Sunday morning, March 4, at 11 o'clock, with Rev. C. A. Bickley, pastor, doing the preaching. He will be assisted by Rev. W. M. The public is cordially invited to attend services. Morning services will be held at 10 o'clock each weekday except Saturday, and at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Evening services will start at 7:30 o'clock.

At a meeting of the board of stewards held in the church basement Thursday evening, with Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Jones hosts for a banquet, plans were laid for the meeting. Much enthusiasm was displayed, and a large and profitable meeting is assured.

Leads Singing At Methodist Revival Here

Rev. W. M. Culwell, Stamford, Texas

Rev. Culwell will arrive in Big Spring in time to conduct singing services at the morning service Sunday morning at the First Methodist church, which will inaugurate the two-weeks revival. Rev. C. A. Bickley, pastor, of the local church, will do the preaching for the revival, which will continue through Sunday, March 18.

Large Crowds Attend Baptist Church Revival

The church is not reaching out where it should, Dr. G. L. Yates, leading in a revival at the First Baptist church, charged Thursday evening.

Reading his scriptures beginning from Mathews 18:19, Dr. Yates used as his text, "And He Saith unto them, Follow Me, and I will make you fishers of men."

"The world is an ocean," said Dr. Yates, "and it is the duty of the church to fish."

"Fishing for lost souls is the greatest sport in the world. The world is the ocean, the church the fishermen, and the bait the gospel of Christ. The gospel is one bait that will fill every need and will always work."

"The churches of today," declared Dr. Yates, "are not carrying the bait out to where the fish are. They expect the fish to come jump in the boat and be saved, and they won't do it."

"Too often all of the fishing that's done in a church is left to the pastor. The pastor is to train the Christian how to do the fishing. Many professed Christians have never had the thrill that comes from saving."

C. T. Hodges led in the song service. A good crowd attended.

Public Interest In Oil Industry Emphasizes Its Place In Modern Economic Structure Of Country

By ELMER H. JOHNSON, Regional Economist, Bureau of Business Research, U. of T.

Public interest in the oil problem as a whole and the close relationship of oil to so many important current problems, governmental and economic, serve to emphasize the fundamental place which the petroleum industry has attained in our modern economic structure. These current problems range from those of State allowances and "hot oil," and taxes on oil products, to those of international trade in these commodities and those of competition with other fuels. All of these problems are closely tied in with governmental policies. It is obvious that such problems are of importance to all, as citizens on the one hand and as consumers on the other.

The problems of the oil industry are, in a large sense, those of modern industry and are therefore intimately related to business recovery. Considered from a broad point of view, industrial progress in the past has been characterized by the production of more goods, new goods, and better adapted goods, which have been produced with increasing economies in their manufacture. Though numerous exceptions may be cited, the above generalization serves to emphasize the principle that increased industrialization is made possible through greater specialization; and that lower prices enable the industry to sell in wider markets.

The most important petroleum product in terms of money values is gasoline. The recent history of gasoline illustrates in a significant sense some of the principles mentioned above. In 1928 the domestic consumption of gasoline in the United States was 261,813,000 barrels; this figure increased gradually in the following years, reaching a peak of 401,011,000 barrels in 1931. In 1932 there was a decrease to 368,574,000 barrels, but for 1933 the estimated production of gasoline shows an increase to 372,010,000 barrels. In 1926 the retail cost of the 261,813,000 barrels of gasoline amounted to $2,560,000,000 and the average filling station price in 50 cities of the United States was 23.28 cents a gallon; in that year Federal and state taxes on gasoline amounted to $283,000,000. In 1933 the retail cost of the estimated 372,010,000 barrels of gasoline was $2,830,000,000 and the average filling station price in 50 cities was 18.17 cents a gallon. In 1933, however, Federal and state taxes on gasoline alone amounted to $843,000,000, the largest in the history of the gasoline industry. Thus in 1926 the cost to the public (taxes deducted) of 261,813,000 barrels of gasoline was $2,277,000,000; in 1933 the cost of 372,010,000 barrels was $1,987,000,000. In the same period, the quality of gasoline sold was materially improved. It is also of importance to note that technical improvements in refining are increasing very materially the quantity of gasoline which can be derived from crude oil. For instance, the actual crude runs to stills in 1930 amounted to 927,447,000 barrels; it has been stated that for 1930 without improved refining methods it would have required the vast amount of 1,806,474,000 barrels of crude to yield the gasoline produced that year. This is, obviously, a conservation factor of major importance.

Unquestionably a feeling of hopefulness prevades the oil industry as a whole. Technical men are being added to the staffs of the larger companies. Scientific exploration is being carried on, with rather firm competition for acreage in various sections of the State. Recorded production in Texas for January, 1934, was slightly under that for December, 1933; but there was a considerable drop in East Texas production, whereas every other part of the State except North Texas and Coastal Texas registered a material percentage increase. In January, 1934, permits for new wells in Texas amounted to 817, a 44 per cent increase over December, and a 63 per cent increase over January a year ago.

Two And A Half Pound Naval Orange Vies With Champion Grape Fruit

MISSION, (UP)—While McAllen discovered what purports to be the biggest grapefruit grown in the Lower Rio Grande Valley this season, a Mission citrus grower displays what he claims is the Valley's biggest orange.

Oscar Perkins, who lives north of Mission, brought to the Mission Chamber of Commerce a naval orange weighing two and a half pounds and which measures 18 1/2 inches in circumference and 5 1/2 inches in diameter. The fruit is almost perfectly shaped. It will be sent to the Mission Citrus display at the Houston Fat Stock Show.

Tom Penkelos, McAllen lunch stand owner, has the season's biggest grapefruit which measures 25 1/2 inches in circumference.

CARLEBAD, N. M. (AP)—It's tourist time again in the southwest after a year of light registrations at the Carlebad Caverns.

For the third consecutive month, travel records at the Carlebad Caverns National park have broken. The February registrations at the caves totaled 2398, or more than double the number of visitors for the same month in 1933. An average of 23 persons a day, representing 60 states, three territories and eight foreign countries, entered the caverns last month.

Large Cotton Yield Turned Out In County More Than 135,000 Bales Produced Over Five Year Period

Howard county, once regarded as a desert hangout for Indians, is sufficiently fertile to have produced at least 135,000 bales of cotton within the past five years.

One of those five, a drought year, produced only slightly more than 11,000 bales.

Survey cards of 151 farmers and acreage reduction contracts signed by 773 more show that a once barren stretch of country now has 287,092 acres in farm lands, 160,547 of which are planted to crops.

An unusually dry year in 1933 cut cotton yield from more than 22,000 bales the preceding year to little more than 11,000.

Acreage planted to cotton in 1933 was the lowest it had been in five years. Cotton acreage for the past five years is as follows: 1923, 69,364; 1924, 62,901; 1931, 94,650; 1930, 91,393; 1929, 90,944; and 1928, 89,913.

Total lint produced for the five year period rests roughly somewhere between 62 and 77 million.

Regular cotton acreage contracts signed by 786 farmers show that these farmers produced 27,244 of the 32,000 bales ginned in Howard county in 1932, and 10,196 of the 11,000 for 1933.

Seven special contracts show that a similar number of farmers produced 65 bales in 1932 and 212 in 1933. On the face of these figures it appears that the acreage reduction campaign conducted here was almost unanimous from the standpoint of production.

The 151 farmers submitting survey cards but not signing contracts represent a production of 1,108 bales in 1932 and 8,150 bales in 1933. Their total acreage planted to cotton is also correspondingly small compared to the county cotton acreage total.

However, of the 151, 30 have contracts if they are approved and the margin not participating in the campaign may be further reduced.

Figures prepared by County Agent O. F. Griffin in his summary after conclusion of the acreage reduction campaign show that Howard county, planting little more than half of its farm acreage to cotton is an important cotton county nevertheless.

Local Men Attend Midland Meeting

Mayor Cliff Talbot, County Commissioner George White, Chamber of Commerce Manager C. T. Watson and City Manager E. V. Spence left Friday morning for Midland, where they were to participate in a conference of officials from fourteen drought stricken West Texas counties.

The conference was called in order to plan means of urging the government to maintain the present rate of employment by CWA in drought stricken areas instead of decreasing it in accordance with the national policy.

Outstanding loans, which rest on collateral, which in turn is affected by the day's trading, decidedly sensibly enough—that he must tighten up. So you don't get your loan, and the channels of trade goes unspent, and the improvements you had planned for your business don't get made.

Which, in turn, is why the proposed federal regulation of stock exchanges is not merely a thing which affects brokers, investors and speculators.
