VOLUME 52

SANTA ANNA, COLEMAN COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY OCTOBER 15, 1937

NUMBER 42

"He Profits Most Who Serves Best"

SMOKE FROM THE MOUNTAIN

Miss Kasmeler, here last week for the state board of nurse examiners, said that the Sealy Hospital has the best bunch of good looking nurses she had ever seen and offered that as a reason why several of the nurses have gotten married lately. We would venture to say that that being the case, the hospital authorities would just as soon the girls wouldn't be quite so pretty, but still it was a fine compliment to the nurses and we all agree with Miss Kasmeler.

We got a jacking up by several readers this week because we left out the continued story last issue, but it was a case of having to. We just didn't have room for it on a four page without leaving out local news and we didn't have enough advertisements to run a six page and still keep our bank account out of the red, so we are doubling up this week.

We are working over our classified column so that it looks more like the name implies and we hope to build it up until we have a much larger section. If you have a plow, cow, bicycle, car, farm or home you want to dispose of and think it is worth 25c to get rid of it, bring the ad to the News. We might even put in such things as a swap ad—now's a good time to trade your fan for a pair of red flannels.

Santa Anna folks started rummaging in closets for last year's stoves and clothes this week with the return of winter. The way everyone is shivering now makes us wonder what will happen when some cold really does get here. If it will not rain any more, it's a grand time for the football game tonight. Be there. The Mountaineers need you.

One young lady, who is leaving for Comanche soon asked us to be sure and emphasize the fact that she was leaving for that city. She said she had been hounded with questions about whether she was going to live in Brownwood. Wonder why they thought that?

LOCAL GIRL NAMED ON COSTUME COMMITTEE AT MARY HARDIN-BAYLOR

Miss Armenta Ragsdale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ragsdale of Santa Anna, has been selected as a member of the costume committee for the Historical-Phila Literary Society reception at Mary Hardin-Baylor. The date for this reception has been set for Nov. 13, and definite plans are being formulated.

MORE COTTON GINNED IN COUNTY FOR 1937 THAN LAST YEAR

Reports from the department of commerce, bureau of census at Washington state that 13,052 bales of cotton, counting round bales as half bales, were ginned in Coleman County in 1937 prior to Oct. 1 as compared to 8,400 bales ginned by Oct. 1, 1936.

Local Mountain Pleasure Spot of Young People Here Years Ago

By Miss Luella Chambers
The mountain has always been a place of interest to visitors all anxious to climb and view the surrounding country. We can see the Brady mountain on the south. The young people would have group pictures made on Sunday afternoons there. I have two of these groups of 45 years ago. We used to go up on the mountain with a lot of fireworks in a dark night and the people in town said our fireworks against the dark background was a beautiful sight. On Sunday evening we would go up on the side and wait for the bell to ring and 4 or 5 couples would go to church. One fifth Sunday we had no one to preach when suddenly the bell rang and away we went to the school house and found only Mr. Miles Wofford

Last Rites for C. H. M. Brannan Held on Monday

Resident Here Many Years
Dies Sunday; One Son
Survives

Funeral services for C. H. M. Brannan, who died Sunday, Oct. 10, were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. at the Methodist Church with the Rev. J. Virgil Davis officiating. Out-of-town relatives here for the funeral were B. M. Dixon and daughters, Mrs. Charles Collins and Mrs. Will Tallant, of Corsicana; Claud Dixon and Frank Dixon, both of Emhouse; and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Johnson and son Louis, of Powell.

Rockwood Group to Study Staple Experiments

Showing much interest in a plan to better cotton staple, members of a committee from the Rockwood community plan to visit Rannels county communities within the next few days to study methods being used in those communities to improve cotton staple.

Since Rockwood has a farmer's gin cooperative Extension Service officials and County Agent C. V. Robinson have selected that community for an experiment for staple improvement.

If all the cotton producers in the Rockwood area will agree to grow the same brand of cotton and if the gin at that place will agree to gin only the brand decided upon the experiment will be tried.

Mrs. W. T. Wheeler and Miss Eunice Wheeler spent last weekend with Mr. and Mrs. William Wheeler in Colorado City.

Dr. Paul Board Now Located in Clinic Office

Dr. J. Paul Board, formerly of Dallas, and since last May assistant to Dr. T. Richard Sealy at the hospital, has begun the general practice of medicine in this city in the office formerly occupied by Dr. E. D. McDonald.

Dr. Board with his wife and small son have decided to make this their permanent home and are now living at the Judge Woodruff residence.

Dr. Board comes highly recommended and, according to hospital authorities, his work at the hospital has been most satisfactory.

Citizens of Santa Anna will be pleased to know that the Boards have decided to locate here.

Rockwood-Eden Game Ends 0-0

By Special Sports Writer

Frank McCreary's Rockwood Yellow Jackets met Jimmy Jack's Eden Bulldogs on their home field Saturday afternoon and battled them to a scoreless tie.

Rockwood and Eden are dogged as the favorites in Class 8-C and they proved this Saturday by holding each other to a scoreless tie.

Both teams played a good clean game. Although the Bulldogs were the largest of the two teams, they did not prove to be the strongest. Both teams are undefeated and the Rockwood club has not been scored on this season.

Rockwood threatened in the first half by carrying the ball to the eight yard line in a long pass, but drew a clipping penalty which put them back out of scoring distance. Both teams got one penetration in the last half.

In spite of the weather, Rockwood had the largest crowd of the season. They are host to Paint Rock Saturday, Oct. 16 in their fourth conference game.

The Rockwood football team, school and community wish to express their appreciation to the Santa Anna band for assisting in the game by furnishing music.

College Praises Local Band Work

(Special to the News)

Brownwood, Oct. 12 — Tom Wallis, a graduate of Daniel Baker College, Brownwood, is making an excellent showing with his Santa Anna high school band this year, according to announcements made by the members of the Daniel Baker Hill Billie band who heard the direction of Wallis in Cross Plains last Friday night.

Students of Daniel Baker were present at the game as the guests of the Cross Plains schools and the school athletic officials. Alvis O. Lively, director of the Daniel Baker Band, was a former band director in Cross Plains and has only recently resumed his work in that city.

Wallis and Lively, with their bands separated by sections of the bleachers along the sidelines, directed their charges in playing one selection simultaneously during the game. The novel arrangement was presented twice during the game for the benefit of the spectators. Two bands playing one selection directed by two leaders was a novelty that won the praise of a number of the spectators.

Comments heard on the streets of Cross Plains following the game were complimentary to the work of Wallis, and students of Daniel Baker were free with their praise of the industry that he has shown.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Eppler of Eunice, N. M. visited her mother, Mrs. J. S. Jones Tuesday. Miss Margaret Jones accompanied them home for a visit.

Mrs. H. L. Lackey and H. L. Lackey, Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lackey of Coleman went to the singing convention at Mozelle Sunday.

Oldest Resident Celebrates 96th Birthday Thurs.

Mrs. M. E. Chambers, Citizen Here Over Fifty Years, Has Seen Texas History Made

Mrs. Mattie Elizabeth Chambers, Santa Anna's oldest resident celebrated her 96th birthday quietly at her home Thursday, Oct. 14 with several of her friends and neighbors calling to wish her well. Ill health prevented any further celebration, but she was cheered by the flowers and gifts which came to her.

Growing to womanhood in the days of Indian raids and pioneer struggles, Mrs. Chambers has seen some of Texas' most romantic events, which have gone down in history and has a home furnished with priceless antiques which have been in the family at least fifty years.

Born in Marengo County, Alabama on Oct. 14, 1841, she moved with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Watts to Palestine, Texas, in 1850. She numbered among her friends and girlhood playmates Orlene Parker, sister of the famous Cynthia Ann Parker, who was captured by the Indians and who spent much of her life with them.

In a courthouse surrounded by guns as protection from Indians, she was married May 21, 1860 to Lemuel Chambers of Weatherford. The couple went to Waco in 1862 where Mr. Chambers was in the mercantile business. Here their five children were born and attended Baylor University. Mrs. Chambers only living daughter, Miss Luella of Santa Anna, still has several of the beautiful dresses which she wore as a student at Baylor and which she wore to the social functions of that day.

The family moved to Santa Anna in March 1887 and lived in town for 2 years before moving to a ranch near here. They lived there forty years, but now Mrs. Chambers and her daughter live in town.

Her husband died in 1906. One son, J. B. Chambers of Harlingen and Miss Luella are living.

The home, to a visitor, is a very museum of the past with its antique clock which was brought from Alabama in 1850 and which still ticks off the time of day; with its large piano shipped many years ago from New York City via the Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico; a set of books, published in 1777 and a family Bible dating back to 1834 are in the collection of fine literature.

Beautiful dresses of former years, fine chinaware over fifty years old are also included in the family treasures.

Mrs. Chambers, despite her years, is always happy to have her friends call upon her.

Highway 7 to Be Opened On November 15

With workmen completing the first base course on the Coleman-Santa Anna road last week, motorists can feel confident now that the road will be thrown open for traffic completion on or about November 15, Wesley. Hall, Brownwood, county resident engineer, declared.

Work of placing the second base course on the four miles of road being improved by Bucy and Son and Childs, Rising Star contractor, began Thursday. After the two base courses are placed there will be two topping courses to be put on the road, stated Mr. Hall. The project is about 75 percent completed.

Opening of the road to traffic by November 15 will depend to a great extent on the weather.

COLORED SCHOOL BEGINS OCT. 25

The Santa Anna Colored School will begin Monday, Oct. 25th with Miss Gladys Cooney of San Angelo as teacher. She holds the bachelor's degree from Sam Houston School of Austin, Texas, and taught in the Coleman system last year.

Iron Lung Will Be for Free Use; Fund Increases

The Iron Lung Fund is steadily mounting up toward the goal of $1650 required and citizens hope to have the lung here in the Sealy Hospital soon for use. The lung will be free for the use of paralysis victims.

This statement is particularly important since we have learned this week that a couple who purchased a lung in a Texas city and wished to donate it to one of the city hospitals were refused acceptance of the gift by the private hospitals because they did not care to be out the expense of donating the services and a room which the lung patients would require. Finally the lung was given to the city charity hospital.

The Sealy Hospital will permit any paralysis patient to use the lung, free of charge.

Bus Lines Are Discontinued at 4 Schools

Some four school bus routes have been discontinued and two or three more may meet the same fate in the effort of Coleman County school leaders to slash expenses, County Supt. J. L. P. Baker announced last week.

Agreements have been reached between Supt. Baker and the heads of the four schools in regard to discontinuing the bus lines. Other lines in the same school districts will be extended in an effort to care for as many of the pupils as possible.

One line has been discontinued at each of the following schools: Buffalo, Cross Roads, Centennial, and Silver Valley. The move was made when it was learned some of the school districts could not operate all of their buses on the income being received and because the Texas Legislature has slashed school appropriations to much less than was anticipated last year.

An audit of the county's school books by Nolan C. Phillips of Waco was approved by members of the County School Board in session Monday.

Schools that were given a five grade classification last week are Oak Grove, Viets, Mayo and Featherston.

Compulsory School Attendance

Every child in the state who has reached his seventh birthday and not his sixteenth by Sept. 1, 1937 is required to attend school at least 120 days, or six months during the school year. In Santa Anna district this period begins Oct. 31, time having been given at first of school years for gathering of crops. Very few exemptions from the law are granted and rigid penalties are provided for its violation.

Miss Eva Dean Bledsoe of Santa Anna has entered Draughon's Business College at Abilene for a course in bookkeeping.

Mrs. Roy Stockard attended the County P. T. A. Council meeting last Saturday afternoon at Coleman.

Mountaineers Play Winters Eleven In Home Conference Game Tonight

Home Team Prepared to Fight Visitors,
Defeated Only Once This Season

By News Sport Writer

Friday night at 8 o'clock the Santa Anna Mountaineers swing back into conference play by meeting the powerful Winters team on the local gridiron. The Winters team have suffered only one defeat in the current conference race and that being at the hands of the conference leaders, the Brady Bulldogs. Last week the Mozelle team held the Winters club to a 9-0 score. The dopsters predict the Winters club to take the local club by a wide margin, but as has been said before anything can happen in a football game. There is one thing certain, and that is the local club will have eleven men on the field that will be able to play and fight for sixty minutes.

Local Store Moves Stock to Big Springs

Walker's Pharmacy, in Business Here for 12 Years, Leaves

Walker's Pharmacy, in business here for the past 12 years, will complete moving stock this week-end to the new location in Big Springs.

Much of the cases and stock has already been moved by train and the remainder will leave soon. The new store at Big Springs will be the same as it is here and will be located at Main and 2nd.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker will go to Big Springs this week-end and complete the moving. Mrs. Walker returning the latter part of next week to make arrangements for their home and for moving the household furniture.

Lions to Assist Iron Lung Drive

The Lions Club president, A. D. Pettit, appointed a committee to make plans for the club to assist in the Iron Lung Fund at the meeting Tuesday. Report and plans of the committee, composed of W. H. Thate, chairman, J. T. Garrett and Jim Bob Gregg, will be made at the next meeting.

The membership also voted to invite the highest ranking student in each grade of the public schools, after the completion of the six weeks averages, to be the guests of the club at its noonday program each Tuesday.

Those present at the meeting were A. D. Pettit, J. T. Garrett, W. H. Thate, R. R. Lovelady, O. A. Etheredge, W. R. Mulroy, Chas. Berry, W. H. Ragsdale, J. W. Riley, D. L. Pieratt, Roy F. Reid, R. L. Hunter, M. L. Womack, Hardy Blue, J. B. Gregg, C. A. Walker, Rex Goltson, F. C. Woodward, J. C. Scarborough, J. Virgil Davis, John P. Turner.

MISS KASMEIER PRAISES WORK AT SEALY HOSPITAL

Miss Julia Kasmeler, R. N., Executive Educational Secretary of State Board of Nurse Examiners, was here last week for her fifth annual inspection at the Sealy School of Nursing. She congratulated the management and the teaching staff on the fine work done and on the addition of a new class room recently finished.

She also spoke appreciatively of the high class of students in the school.

WALDRIP BRIDGE OPENED MONDAY

For the first time in more than a year, traffic again is using the Waldrip bridge across the Colorado River.

The bridge was badly damaged by flood waters in the middle of September, 1936, and it was several months before the Coleman County and McCulloch County commissioner's courts reached an agreement on repairing the structure. The bridge connects the two counties and affords another crossing of the river for the persons who reside in the south part of Coleman County and the north part of McCulloch County.

Motorists from Coleman to Fear Valley can now cross the bridge at Waldrip.

The replacement of the bridge cost each of the two counties $3,500.

So far this year the Mountaineers haven't been able to do much with their running game, and the game Friday night is likely to develop into an aerial display on the part of the local team. All of their scores this season have been via the air route, and this seems to be their only shot against much heavier teams.

The Winters club boasts a hard running attack led by their crushing fullback, Hodges. They make a specialty of power plays with Hodges in the tailback, and if the Mountaineers forward wall can withstand the terrific power drives that this boy puts out, they are liable to upset all hope and down the powerful Winters eleven.

All of the local teams injured men have returned to fine physical shape, and barring injuries that might be received in the rough and tumble practice sessions that coaches Little and Jackson are putting their charges through this week, the Mountaineers should be in top playing form. Most of the week has been spent in perfecting their pass offense, and building up a defense to stop the powerful off tackle slants by this boy Hodges, he seems to be the man to stop in this game.

This game promises to be a thriller from start to finish as both teams are cocked and primed for this tilt. The home club will be out to defeat this strong eleven and raise their standing and prestige in the conference, while the visiting eleven will be out to avenge the close call that they had at Mozelle last week. This should be a game packed with thrills, and one that will be the spectators delight.

The W. O. W. lodge sponsored an Iron Lung Benefit Dance last night, Thursday, Oct. 14 with a large crowd attending. Proceeds, after expenses were paid, went to the Iron Lung Fund to be donated to the Sealy Hospital.

 Six carloads of men of the Brotherhood will attend the Association meeting at Camp Colorado this week.

Tried, Convicted, Sentenced
 The Men's Brotherhood last Wednesday night put on an unusual program to emphasize State Missions. Twenty-two men participated in a Trial of Texas Baptists for Defaulting on their State Mission Obligations. L. J. Smith as president of the Brotherhood, was in charge of the program. Roy Reid was prosecutor and Louis Newman defense attorney. V. L. Grady presided as judge while the sheriff was J. A. Early. After many witnesses had been presented the defense called on the judge for mercy, admitting most of the prosecution claims. It was decided by the jury, which was the audience, that Texas Baptists here in Santa Anna should pay in $100 for State missions in a special offering, and $87.50 of that amount was raised in cash and pledges at once. The whole month of October was allowed for completing the offering and it is reasonably certain that the offering will go beyond the goal set. The matter will be presented to the whole church on Sunday morning soon.

Two Good Services
 In spite of the rain that was pouring down at time to begin Sunday school the attendance was good under the circumstances and the offering almost as much as on the same day a year ago with more in attendance. A good crowd came again for the evening service. It is most gratifying to see such loyalty when the weather is bad.

Budget Recommendations Adopted
 The Deacons of the church met Thursday evening, along with the heads of all church organizations as a Budget planning committee for the new year. V. L. Grady was re-elected chairman of the Board and Emzy Brown as Secretary of the Board. The Budget as recommended will be presented to the church Sunday morning.

Training Course Date Set
 The Sunday School will begin training classes in Departmental Books for those who have not yet had them, and for those who have, the book "The Church Using Its Sunday School" will be taught. This school is to begin the 31st of October and will run through

Please take notice to the following: On Friday evening at 7:30 our Fourth Quarterly Conference for the year will be held at the church. Presiding Elder J. T. McClure will preside. Money for Moving Missionaries

From the war zones of China, many missionaries must be moved to safety. The President's policy seems to be wise if the United States is to remain neutral, and all citizens remaining do so at their own risk. It will cost Southern Baptists $100,000 to move their workers, and that amount has been borrowed. In connection with the customary Lottie Moon Memorial offering, the churches of Texas are asked to give an extra offering for this much needed cause. We will join in with the plans a little later on the week following.

son-Davis Nuptials Performed In Quiet Ceremony at Bailey Home

Miss Edrine Tyson, daughter of the late Dr. Jason Tyson, became the bride of John D. Davis of Illinois and Pittsburgh, Pa., in a quiet ceremony at the home of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Bailey, Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The Rev. Alan Lynch of El Paso performed the rite.

The nuptials were performed before an improvised altar in the living room which was decorated with baskets of yellow daisies and yellow roses. A large basket of beautiful dahlias decorated the low altar and at either side white cathedral tapers burned in tall candelabras.

Miss Jewell Furr of Breckenridge lighted the tapers while Mrs. E. H. Easley of Brownwood played Schubert's "Serenade."

Mrs. A. W. Anderson of Brownwood, sang "O Promise Me" as a pre-nuptial solo. She was accompanied by Mrs. Easley.

The bride and groom entered together to the strains of Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus, played by Mrs. C. A. Walker. During the ceremony Mrs. Easley played softly "Traumerel" by Schumann.

The bride was gowned in a sapphire blue velvet dress in floor length style and wore a corsage of white gardenias. Gossages of Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Easley were of yellow and white chrysanthemums.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held at the home. Guests were met at the door by Mrs. Bailey and registered in the bride's book presided over by Miss Josie Baxter, aunt of the bride. Refreshments of coffee, sandwiches, and individual bride's cake led in white and yellow were served.

Immediately following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Davis left for a wedding trip to Hot Springs, Ark. and the Ozark Mountains. The bride's going away costume was a brown tulle, fox trimmed, with match-accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis will be home at 1205 West Main, Mt. Vernon, Ill., where Mr. Davis is in charge of the Benedictum-Trees oil interests in that state.

Mrs. Davis, who was reared here, is a graduate of Texas Christian University in Fort Worth and has taught for the past several years in Breckenridge.

The groom, son of Mrs. Catherine B. Davis of Pittsburgh, Pa., is a graduate of the University at Pittsburgh.

Among the out of town guests for the wedding were Mrs. Nora Gee, El Paso; A. B. Bailey, El Dorado; Mrs. E. B. Maxwell, Breckenridge; Mrs. C. M. Hall, Breckenridge; Miss Kathryn Baxter, Waco; Rev. and Mrs. Alan Lynch, Llano; Mrs. Alfred Chastain, Misses Jewell Furr, Floy Branum and Vina Craddock, all of Breckenridge.

Miss Leady Marries William Alken in Quiet Ceremony

Miss Ruth Leady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leady of Santa Anna, became the bride of William O. Alken of Santa Anna at a quiet ceremony Wednesday, Oct. 13 at the Baptist parsonage. Rev. R. Elmer Dunham performed the ceremony, which took place at 4:30 o'clock.

Only a few friends of the young couple were present. Mr. and Mrs. Alken will reside on a ranch at Owen. The bride is a graduate of the local high school. The groom has lived here about a year, having lived on the Tom Newman place.

Luncheon Honors Mrs. McDonald

Honoring Mrs. E. D. McDonald, who is leaving soon to make her home in San Angelo, Mrs. T. Richard Sealy invited a group of friends for luncheon at her home Tuesday at 12:30.

The table was decorated with a centerpiece of beautiful water lilies in a flat white bowl. The honoree's plate was marked with a gift from the hostess.

A four course luncheon was served to Mrs. R. R. Lovelady, Mrs. Loyd Burris, Mrs. Archie Hunter, Mrs. McDonald and Mrs. Sealy.

Buffet Supper in Breckenridge for Miss Tyson

A lovely buffet supper was given in Breckenridge recently at the home of Mrs. Mac Smith as a pre-nuptial courtesy honoring Miss Edrine Tyson, who became the bride of John D. Davis Friday, Oct. 8. Hostesses for the occasion besides Mrs. Smith were Mrs. Alfred Chastain, Miss Frances Henderson and Miss Jewell Furr.

The dining table was laid with a cloth of beautiful florentine lace and linen. The centerpiece was a huge wedding ring decorated at the base with fern and yellow chrysanthemums. Yellow tapers in gold candle-bra burned on either side of the table.

Places were marked at the small tables with place cards bearing a gold wedding ring. The bride-blest was presented with a piece of her chosen silver in the Virginia Caval pattern.

Among the guests invited to this lovely courtesy from Santa Anna was Mrs. Preston Bailey, sister of the honoree.

Coffee and Shower Given Recently for Miss Edrine Tyson

As a pre-nuptial courtesy for Miss Edrine Tyson, a coffee and linen shower was given recently in Breckenridge at the Petroleum club room with Mesdames John Ward, D. T. Bowles, R. H. Quinn and Misses Eska Branum, Floy Branum and Vina Craddock as hostesses.

Mrs. E. R. Maxwell and Jewel Furr poured coffee at the table covered with mosaic banquet cloth centered with a silver bowl filled with pink roses and lilies.

Miss Billy Ratliff presided at the bride's book. Those from Santa Anna included in the guest list were Mesdames Preston Bailey, Andrew Schreiber, N. D. Wylie, W. E. Baxter and C. A. Walker.

AT SUNSET

The timbered blue across the west, With shadows hung in the hazy crest

Is always there, a misty way, With softest folds of blue and gray.

A score of miles from me there lies This border strip of old surprise, With shadowed beauty like a dream

Of misty, timbered sunset gleam.

And often when I go my way With homely task at close of day, I wonder what will sunset hold

When I have reached the misty fold.

Will the trial hours which I have won Be calling when my work is done,

And shadows clear the hazy crest

When I shall go beyond the west? —Annie C. Shipley, Prosper

ATAVISM

My Grand sire called the bounding main Through wind and wave and drenching rain—

While thunders rolled and lightning cracked He crossed with joy the ways untracked.

My Father was a quiet man, For whom adventure only ran To songs of birds in quiet nooks And childhood friends and tattered books.

Now—I am, Their female child, With quiet ways But wishes wild. —Robert Neblett Molloy, Corsicana

FROM WHENCE GREATNESS SPRINGS

How good it is to find That those who most achieve Always, in heart and mind, Are those who most believe

In nature and its beauty, In simple God-like things, In happiness and duty From whence their greatness springs.

THE STORY

Terriss interposed before Rachel could answer. "It was his trying to borrow money of Miss Vincent that gave her the hot tip. And he's borrowed of your servants till they won't lend him any more."

"Mr. Terriss—you shouldn't—"

"Oh God!" groaned Peter Cayne. "He tried to borrow from you, Miss Vincent? Did you lend him anything?"

"No—and I wouldn't have told you—"

"Better I should know it. I don't want to be shielded by outsiders from what's going on in my own family. This'll kill his mother if she finds it out, she's so wrapped up in him."

"Mr. Cayne," said Rachel, "I'll go up and get my clothes and tell Mrs. Cayne that I've found another job, or that I've been called away by sickness in my family, I'll make some excuse and I'll leave at once, if you don't mind. And please forget about the bonus. I couldn't take it."

"That's very irregular, Miss Vincent," snapped Terriss. "You can't afford to be sympathetic. You're earning your living."

"I'll never earn it in this way again," said Rachel, fervently. She rose, eager to end the miserable interview.

"Don't take it that way, Miss Vincent," said Peter Cayne, dully. "It's better for me to know the whole thing. You did what I wanted, you found the thief. Just don't let Mrs. Cayne suspect anything queer, will you? I'll take care of the rest of it."

"I'll take care," promised Rachel. "Mr. Cayne, please—I don't want to be impertinent, but don't be too hard with Holbrook. Many young people—get strange ideas—and don't consider their—parents. I know—I've done it myself."

He did not answer, but made a slight movement of the hand in acknowledgment. Outside the door Terriss spoke severely. "You'd ought to have taken that bonus, Miss Vincent, that's a foolish way to act. He offered it and you earned it. It's not your fault he's got a bad egg for a son."

"I don't want to be melodramatic," said Rachel, "but that money would have seemed a little like the 30 pieces of silver to me."

"I don't get you," said Terriss. "What 30 pieces of silver? It was 36 silver spoons in that lot the boy took."

"Never mind," said Rachel. "Oh, but I'm glad this is over."

"You're one of those young ladies who let your feelings run away with you and you can't do that in this business. I hope you didn't mean what you said about never taking another job of this kind. I'll be glad to turn something else your way. I misjudged you, Miss Vincent, at the first, but now I believe you might develop into a good operator, with training, of course, and experience. The way you got yourself up like a maid, and did a maid's work and got in with the servants shows you've a talent for this kind of work."

"I'd hate to think so. No, Mr. Terriss, I'm through playing detective and that means I'm through. I'll go back to posing thankfully."

"Well, Louis Vinco'll be thankful, too, I expect. He's been giving me an awful razz about taking you off his work. But look at the profit you might've made. That bonus—"

They had reached the street. "Good-by, Mr. Terriss," said Rachel, shaking hands with him. "You've been awfully nice. I'm sorry to be such a disappointment, but nothing will change my mind."

"Never speak too final," said Terriss. "Circumstances alter cases, I always say. You got my phone number and if you should reconsider, give me a buzz, that's all."

"Not to ask for a job, Mr. Terriss." As she went on Rachel felt unhappy, yet relieved in spirit. At least this was over. Now there was nothing left to do but get out of the house and forget the whole wretched affair. "I shall have to forget a great deal," she thought, "but most of all I want to forget about her. I don't want to think of her again, I shall try not to remember how she looks or how she acts. I shan't even remember her name if I can help it. If I ever see her again I'll avoid her. It serves me right for going this behind Anna's back, and for wanting someone different from Anna. I'll just get away as quickly as I can."

She began to wonder what she could tell Lena and Towers, who had been so good. It might be best to say that she had another place, as she said anything else they would get suspicious and perhaps over-curious as well. She devised a possible announcement but she had no chance even to begin it for Towers met her at the servants' entrance fairly wringing his hands, Lena with him in tears.

"Rachel, Rachel, where've you been? The madame's been carrying on like a wildcat. Something's happened. I don't know what, the boy's mixed up in it, too. Something about your cleaning his room, they asked me who'd been in there and I told 'em. But look—Lena and I'll stand by you, don't you let the little brat scare you. We know you're all right. Go on in."

As she started down the hall Lena caught her arm. "You better put on your uniform. She'll be madder if she sees you dressed up."

"It doesn't matter," Rachel told them. "I was out looking for another place and I've found one. It doesn't matter how she sees me or what she says."

She went on to the drawing room where she had seen Elinor Cayne and Holbrook for the first time, but today they were not sitting at the tea table. The whole room as she came in seemed filled with their suspense and terror and anger, they themselves were so wrenched and driven by these furies. They pounced at her.

"Did you clean my son's room?" said Elinor. "Did you clean his closet? I know you did. Don't lie to me."

"Yes," said Rachel, slowly. "I cleaned the room and the closet."

"You took a paper out of my overcoat pocket!" shrieked Holbrook. "Where is it? Give it back to me this minute!"

Elinor Cayne came close to the girl, she was haggard and desperate. "I'll pay you for it, I'll give you anything you want, I can get money, or I'll give you some of my jewelry. This is very important, Rachel, it may make a lot of trouble for Holbrook—be still, let me handle it, son. Quick, we've got to get this settled before Mr. Cayne comes home, he may be in any moment—quick, Rachel—you must have taken the paper. Give it to me at once—"

"It was a little slip of white paper with some penciled figures on it, in my inside pocket!" wailed Holbrook.

Rachel put her hands up to her head, trying to think what to do, what to say. "Why—why do you think—I took anything?" she gasped. "Maybe you lost the paper."

"Towers says you cleaned my room, he saw you in the closet, he told us so. And the paper was there when I went out, I'd just looked at it and the only reason I didn't take it with me is because there isn't any good inside pocket in my camel's-hair coat." Holbrook was sobbing now. "I came in and put on my other coat and then the paper was gone. Mother, make her tell us!"

Elinor flung her arms protectively around the boy. "Don't, don't, darling," she begged. "It'll be all right. This girl's got to tell or else I'll have her arrested."

"You'll have me arrested?" said Rachel. "You will have me arrested?"

Nobody heard the door open behind them, but they heard Peter Cayne's voice booming over what. "What's going on here? What's all this?"

Elinor Cayne pushed Holbrook behind her and stood up defiantly. "Peter," she cried, "I want you to send for a policeman. Rachel has stolen my bracelet, the one you gave me a long time ago, the big gold one with the four square sapphires." Her voice faltered, changed into fear. "Peter—what's the matter with you?"

For he was staring at her as if he had never seen her before. He repeated her words, almost whispered them: "Rachel has stolen your bracelet, the big gold one. Oh Elinor, my poor darling—"

"But she stole it," persisted Elinor. "I don't know what she's done with it, she won't tell me. You ought to send for a policeman—at once."

"No," said Peter Cayne, "we—can't do that. Rachel didn't steal your bracelet, my dear."

"But she did, she did! She's been prying into things ever since she came, she's a horrible person, Peter, she's been impertinent—and—and lazy—and now—she's stolen my bracelet!"

"No," said Peter Cayne again, "Rachel didn't take your bracelet. Don't bother about Rachel, she's leaving. And don't bother about the bracelet, my dear, I know where it is, you're going to get it back. I know all about it."

He had spoken very gently, very tenderly, but his words threw Elinor into utter panic. She turned and caught Holbrook in her arms, her lovely face was all hatred and despair, she screamed out her own betrayal: "I don't care—I don't care—it's all your fault—you're to blame—you make me tell about everything I spend—you're so cruel—so mean—if you bring the bracelet back I'll sell it again—I'll sell every piece of jewelry I've got if I want to—you can't stop me—I'll tell everyone what an old miser you are—I hate you—I loathe you—Holbrook's the only person in the world who loves me and understands me—"

"Elinor!" cried Peter Cayne, "stop—you don't know what you're saying! Don't try to shield the boy, I know he did it, I didn't want you to know it—"

"Don't be an old idiot—listen to me! I took the bracelet, I took ever so many more things, rings and old spoons and pins, anything I thought you wouldn't miss, and I sold them to have a little money of my own that I didn't have to tell you about—something to make my life endurable—parties with young people—people I loved being with—I am so sick—so sick of being shut up with an old man like you—it's not fair to me—"

"Let me get this straight," said Peter Cayne. "You and Holbrook got together and decided that I was a miser because I wouldn't let you spend my money on parties for Holbrook's friends. Every time you've gone out without telling me, his friends were giving a party, you were paying for it. Is that it? You looked around and took what wasn't likely to be missed and then he sold it to a disreputable fence and you had a good time on the money. My wife and my son!"

His voice was cold now, his eyes hard, but Rachel knew that something within him was dying. "Don't make it sound so dreadful, Mr. Cayne," she begged, shakily. "They didn't realize—"

But Elinor Cayne cut across the plea for pity. "What's this girl got to do with it? What's she doing here anyway? You've banded the servants to spy on us, they all hate me, Towers and Lena and Yates and now this girl."

Cayne went on as if he had heard neither woman. "I wouldn't have believed this unless I'd heard you say so. I—I can't believe it yet. I think you're shielding Holbrook. It was bad enough when I thought he was to blame, but you—Elinor, I don't know, I don't know! You must be crazy."

"It's a wonder I'm not crazy! I'm like a prisoner, everything must be your way, wherever we go and whatever we see it's because you want it! Holbrook, too—never any freedom, never any rights of his own, you force him to do the things he loathes—"

"Well," said Peter Cayne, "if he feels like that and has any guts, why don't he get out and dig for himself? I'd never have put up with being bossed as you say he is when he was his age. But of course you've babied him and spoiled him. He's more like a girl than a boy. I never thought I'd have a sissy for a son."

"Don't dare talk like that!" shrieked Elinor. "Holbrook's a genius, he's like me, he's sensitive, he must have understanding and sympathy and care! What do you know about anything except your hard old business? You ought to be proud of Holbrook—"

Rachel looked at the disheveled Holbrook, clutching his mother's hands, cowering before his father. She trembled with something worse than fear. It was the realization that this was her mother, this was her brother and that she innocently had brought them to this pass. "I am watching death," she thought, appalled. "Everything that seemed decent in them is dying and everything Peter Cayne lived for is dying too. And there's nothing I can do, nothing." She went out of the room and down the hall blind with tears she could not hold back.

Elinor's voice was shrilling on, higher and higher, bitter, venomous, mad!

Towers and Lena were down the hall trying to hear what was going on. They wanted to question her but she waved them away. "I can't tell you, it wouldn't be right," she said. "It's all between them now."

"I knew he'd catch her in something sometime," said Lena. "The poor dear man, working day after day to pile fine things on her and she with a heart like a block of ice—"

Rachel went into her own room, shut the door. She wanted to get away quickly, quickly. Her suitcase was under the bed, she pulled it out and began throwing her clothes into it, but even her will to escape failed her and she sat down on the one chair and rested her head on the dresser, sobbing.

Miss Kathryn Baxter spent the week-end in Santa Anna visiting relatives and friends. She came to attend the wedding of her niece, Miss Edrine Tyson to John Davis on Friday evening. Miss Baxter returned to Waco Sunday, where she is a teacher in the public schools.

Students Take First Tests

This week being the end of the first six weeks of school, students are taking six weeks' tests. We are hoping each student will make good; for if one makes good on the first test, he never looks to lower his average.

If you do not make as much as you think you should, do not be discouraged but work harder next time; for after all, the student who climbs from a low to a high degree is the best.

Dorothy Pettit Gives Party

Dorothy Pettit gave a football party at her home Saturday night, Oct. 9. Many games were played including table tennis. Refreshments consisting of punch and cookies were served to the following:

Billie Burk Pope, Jo Mae Payne, Glenda Williamson, Katherine Williamson, Loraine Parsons, Mace Blanton, Elsie Haynes, M. L. Guthrie, Buddy Lovelady, J. W. Davis, Oscar Hill, Leroy Nichols, Arnold Richards, Elizabeth Morris, H. L. Lackey, Henry Lee Ashmore, Bill Early, J. S. Brewer, Virgil Lancaster, Ara Belle Ragsdale, Gale Collier, Lee Schattel, Walter Schattel, Merle Wolfe, Ben Parker, Mary Louise Curry, Jack Ogle, Frank McGonigal, Charles Hensley, Burton Gregg, Dorothy Sumner, Alice Anna Guthrie, Mrs. Guthrie, A. D. Pettit, Ila Pettit, J. E. Little, Virginia Pettit and the hostess, Dorothy Pettit.

Juniors to Erect Refreshment Booth

The junior class now has permission to sell drinks at all the football games and will have a permanent stand erected soon. The class sold drinks at the donkey baseball game recently.

The juniors also elected two girls as entries in the F. F. A. Sweetheart contest. They are Elsie Haynes and Dorothy Pettit. Junior class, let's support these two girls. Show your spirit!

Prowler Visits Laboratory

Last week-end a prowler broke in through a window in the breakfast room of the foods laboratory. Some articles of canned goods, canned by the Homemaking II girls of this year were stolen. There were several other articles reported missing after a general survey was made.

The prowler escaped by moving the table from the breakfast room and placing it near the main door of the cooking laboratory. He stacked stools on the table and removed the screen and broke the regulating chain of the transom over the door.

It would be hard for America to favor either side in those foreign rows without being ashamed of the company she was in.

Sophomore Class Enjoys Party

On last Saturday night, the sophomores enjoyed a party given at Betty Jo Reid's home. The group was entertained by playing various games.

After the games were played, Halloween whistles were given for souvenirs and refreshments of sandwiches, cookies, potato chips, and cocoa with marshmallows were served to the following:

Meeting Held by Spanish Club

All of the members, both old and new, met in the Spanish Room on Wednesday, Oct. 6. The president, Joyce Hensley, opened the meeting. Reading of the minutes and roll call was then read.

All new members left the room and old members made plans for their initiation to be held Friday, Oct. 22.

On the day of initiation all new members will wear Spanish costumes to school and on their backs will be a sign with the letters L. M. E. on it. These stand for the name of the club, Las Montañesas Espanoles, meaning in English, "The Spanish Mountaineers." There will also be initiation rites held in chapel.

Band Plays at Rockwood Saturday

Last Saturday afternoon the Santa Anna Mountaineer Band went to Rockwood to play for the game between the Rockwood Yellow Jackets and the Eden Bull Dogs.

Santa Anna Beats Talpa 26-0

The Santa Anna Mountaineers last Friday night completely swamped the Talpa High School team in a non-conference tilt on the local gridiron. The Talpa team was completely outclassed from start to finish, and at no time did the visiting team offer a serious scoring threat. The local club showed more power and speed than at any other time during the current season, and looked somewhat like a winning football club should look like.

The Mountaineers started the scoring spree off early in the first period when H. L. (one-yard) Lackey tossed a perfect aerial shot to Captain Bo Brewer who took the ball in on the thirty yard marker and sped the remaining distance for a touchdown. From then on the game was all the Mountaineers. The home team's second counter came in the second period when Brewer intercepted an enemy aerial shot on the forty-five and went to the three where he was chased out of bounds. On the next play Lackey carried the oval into pay dirt. The rest of the half was listless with the Mountaineers having possession of the ball the greater part of the time but were unable to score again.

The Mountaineers lost little time in getting started in the second half, with only a few minutes being spent the Mountaineers got possession of the ball and the mid stripe. Two plays at the line failed, and then Lackey dropped back and heaved a pass to Brewer who gathered the leather in on the forty and dashed over for the third score. The fourth and last score came in the last period when Lackey intercepted an enemy pass on his thirty yard line, and ran it back to the one yard line where he stumbled and fell, on the next play Brewer took the ball over for the final score of the evening.

The Mountaineers onslaught was led by Captain Bo Brewer at full back who only played a small portion of the game because of injuries, and H. Lackey, diminutive quarterback. These two boys play stood out, and it seemed that they were in every play of the game. The outstanding men in the Mountaineers forward wall were Arnold Richards, a senior guard, and Charlie Wristen, end.

This week the Mountaineers swing back into conference competition with the powerful Winters eleven.

"I Know About You Now," Said Elinor Cayne.

The Observance of Fire Prevention Week

EDITORIAL

The observance of fire prevention week throughout America in our schools is a commendable practice, because of this many lives are saved and property preserved. The basic hope that we might have, in seeing the ravages and destruction of fires lowered, lie in the fact that in our schools the students will be taught the fundamental rules of fire prevention.

It is the desire of all that students, after becoming educated on fire prevention, shall influence the home by putting to use that knowledge. And through this education we hope to join in a united effort to abolish the havoc of fire.

WORKS NAME CANDIDATES SWEETHEART CONTEST

senior class Monday elected two candidates for the F. A. Sweetheart contest to be held this week. The girls elected are Louise Oakes and Elizabeth Morris.

A financial committee for the year was also appointed. Members are Louise Oakes, chairman, Mace Blanton, Elizabeth Morris and Arnold Richards.

Seniors Have Six New Members

The senior class has the smallest number of new members this year of any other class, having only six who were not in attendance here last term. The six new members include Clara Ruth Mathews, Brooksmith; Virginia Holt, Liberty; Lucille Leady, Plainview; T. L. Reid, Merkel; Erwin and Verrill Selam, Blanket. Welcome, new seniors!

Juniors Elect Assistant Editor

In a class meeting Tuesday, Oct. 5 the juniors elected Emma Sue McCain to serve as assistant editor this year. Her duties are to assist the editor and to take charge of the articles and of the other duties of the editor the last six weeks of school.

Faculty and Students Enter Baseball Game

The Donkey Baseball Game which was held on the football field recently contained many teachers so if you were wondering why they all limped Tuesday (and all the rest of the week) you'll know it was caused by the donkeys.

Mr. Jackson looked sort of down and out Tuesday as he rode a donkey Monday (or was it ridden?) What's the matter, Mr. Jackson, can't you take it? Mr. Wallis, hurrah! He made a score. He said in History class not to wonder which was the donkey and which was he. Some people didn't know the difference.

Mr. Mathews legs were so long he just wrapped them around the donkey. But somehow he just couldn't get the donkey to go.

Mr. Pettit and Mr. Little were in the game. Just a little too far in, from the limps we saw.

Burton Gregg and Virgil Lancaster just couldn't convince the donkeys that they weren't scared.

First Call

Hotel Manager: Do you want the porter to call you?
 Mr. Wallis: No, thanks, I awake every morning at seven.
 Manager: Then do you mind calling the porter.

Freshman Class Makes Money

The freshman class sold sandwiches last Friday and cleared about $15 for the class treasury. Freshman girls made them from chickens donated by class members.

The class wishes to thank the merchants and others for buying the sandwiches and we hope they enjoyed them.

Debate Club Starts Work

The subject for debate this year is "The Unicameral Legislature Plan for Texas." The following have turned in their names as members of the local debate club: O. L. Cheaney, Walter Verner, Talmadge Turner, Mary John Wade, Ara Belle Ragsdale and Billie Burk Pope. Officers have not been elected but will be in the near future.

Mr. Charles Mathews is sponsor of the debate club.

Tennis Club Elects Officers

The tennis club elected officers at their first meeting of the year, Oct. 1. Officers elected were: Ara Belle Ragsdale, president; Wendall Rowe, vice president; Lewis Evans, secretary and treasurer.

Each member is required to pay 25 cents, this fund to go for buying tennis balls and nets and to keep the courts in shape. We now have 25 members enrolled which is the largest tennis club that has ever been in Santa Anna High School.

Barbed Wire Fences I Have Met

By Mary John Wade

It was on a beautiful day in June that I met this particular fence. It wasn't very pleasant. The fence, I mean!

There was nothing to do, so Sue and I went down to draw upon the vivid imagination of Marcinnella, the colored cook. Now Marcinnella was behind in her work, which is rare, for often she drags in Sam-U-el, her colored husband, to help. (Please put the accent on the "u" or Sam might do something awful. Really awful!)

Being behind in her work, Marcinnella (that name sounds like ice cream sandwiches to me) was in a very bad humor. She thought that all girls were good for was to shell peas and I hate to shell the things! Sue's about as crazy about the job as I am! She slipped outside and I followed, sensing that something was up.

She whispered, "Run up stairs and put on your oldest pair of slacks!"

"But they're too short!" I objected.

"Go along, Midge, and do as I say! I'll beat you up the stairs," was her reply!

I did as I was told, Sue pushing me most of the way. Remember, this was Sue's idea, not mine!

When we got to the barn, Sue found two pieces of tin shaped like shields and two broomsticks for swords. Then she untied Roderick and Royal, the two prize lambs of Lake county!

She led them out and I mounted Roderick, while she did the same to the bewildered Royal!

Just as I got seated Royal charged and Roderick didn't stand still, either.

"Crack!" Sue passed me in a flash and the next thing I knew, there I was—bobbing about like a parachute jumper who forgot to pull the string—on top of a barbed wire fence!

In about three minutes, Sue recovered from laughing and let me down.

I recovered from the shock, but still I have a slight grudge against barbed wire fences!

P. S. Sue's laughing at me, yet!

The third year girls are planning to varnish everything in the Home Making laboratories.

Old Age Pensions Threatened Unless Money Is Raised

Discontinuance of old age assistance after October, or a prororation resulting in a sharp reduction in grants, was forecast this week by the Texas Board of Control in an official communication addressed to State Representative Harry N. Graves.

The official statement indicated the possibility that payments to the needy aged might not be made in November, December, January and probably in February. Cause of the crisis, as explained by the members of the Board of Control, which is the Old Age Assistance Commission, is that all, or nearly all, of the present available state assistance funds will have to be used to take care of a drastic reduction in the size of the average grant. Grants average about $14 per month.

Further, it was pointed out that the income from present state sources is $100,000 less each month than Texas funds paid to the needy aged, which necessitates a big country this is to be used to take care of a drastic reduction in the size of the average grant. Grants average about $14 per month.

Seal Bros.' Circus to Be in Coleman on Friday, Oct. 15

The blare of bands and the looting of the callope brings back memories when we were kids, and the circus came to town. So let's be kids again and turn time back. Seal Bros. Circus will give two grand performances, afternoon and night, with a grand free street parade at noon. Seal Bros. have spared no time or expense this season in meeting with the modern requirements. It has been several years since Seal Bros. has given a street parade, so this spring the managers agreed to again follow the old custom of a real treat to the kids. The parade is really gorgeous, glittering procession of Music, Horses, Wild Animals, Beautiful Ladies, Camels, Elephants, and Clowns. In fact, people and wild animals from all corners of the world take part in the parade, all free for your most hearty approval. There are fifty champion arenic stars to entertain you. Trained Elephants, Lions, Pumas, Tigers and Americas, most beautiful Horses. An army of famous funny clowns. A few of the featured performers with the Henry Duo, the dancing, somersaulting wizards of the tight wire; the Romie Rooney troupe of international bareback riders; Miss Vates Lola, the original girl on the flying trapeze; Jimmie Goodwin, thriller de luxe; Col. Fred Anderson's $10,000 troupe of Arabian Liberty Horses; and the Smith troupe with their Kentucky-bred dancing, gaited high school horses, featuring Golden Glow, the original Oriental Dancing Horse. A beautiful spectacular pageant is presented as a prelude to the circus proper, whereby every member of the circus takes part, headed by its Prima Donna, dainty Miss Dolores Gueteriez, entitled "SUNNY SPAIN." So come early; be on hand for the grand free street parade. Go to a big show at a special reduced price of admission for this day and date only.

Friday evening, Oct. 15, the Santa Anna Chapter of Future Farmers of America will be presented with a new Sweetheart.

The race opened Monday with each class nominating two candidates. Candidates were: freshmen, Annie Louise Stovall and Alice Louise Hays; sophomores, Bettie Jo Reid and Freda Simmons; juniors, Elsie Haynes and Dorothy Jane Pettit; seniors, Elizabeth Morris and Louise Oakes.

Price of a vote is one penny. At four o'clock Wednesday afternoon the ballot box was opened and the two leading candidates, Elizabeth Morris and Bettie Jo Reid, were placed into a thrilling campaign by their supporters to see which candidate and class or sweetheart will break the top first.

The boys who have sweethearts in this contest are really and truly working to get her in as F. F. A. Sweetheart. We suspect that one of the reasons is that the sweetheart gets her way paid to everything that the chapter goes to and probably it would save the boy whose sweetheart gets it some money if he would work hard enough and get his girl in. Anyway the boys are sure working.
