FUNERAL SERVICES FOR CLIFF MEADOR

Funeral services were held in the Stephens Funeral Chapel in Coleman for Cliff Meador, former long time resident of Santa Anna, on Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. Burial followed in the Santa Anna Cemetery.

Mr. Meador died Sunday, Mar. 10, at 11:30 p. m. in Harlingen, where he and wife moved six years ago. He was 56 years old.

His wife, who survives, is a sister of Mrs. Paul Arnold.

Mrs. Belle Holmes of Coleman, Mrs. Bessie Morris and Mrs. Roy Stockard of Santa Anna attended the District 16 Graduate Nurses meeting in San Angelo Tuesday night. After the business meeting they heard a book report on "The Plague and I".

Outstanding Christian High School Student

(Editor's note: This is another in a series of articles concerning outstanding young Christian students in the Santa Anna High School. The program is sponsored by the ladies of the WSCS of the First Methodist Church and is not a school sponsored project.)

JAMES ROBERT CREWS

James Robert Crews, better known as Jimmie, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crews. On May 8, 1942 he was born in Talpa, Texas.

He is a member of the Methodist Church and attends regularly. Jimmie attends the Methodist Youth Fellowship and occasionally plays the organ at Sunday night services. Also, he plays the piano for his Sunday school class.

Jimmie does not participate in sports but belongs to the Science Club. He holds the first chair in the alto saxophone section in the senior band. He entered in the Interscholastic League spelling contest in 1956-57.

He was formerly a Cub Scout and Boy Scout member and held the rank of Star in the Boy Scouts.

Besides playing the piano, he enjoys collecting coins.

He has not fully decided his future vocation, since only a freshman, but he would like something in the field of music.

Time Growing Short To Buy License Plates

Just over two weeks are left for vehicle owners to purchase their 1957 license plates, and early this week far less than half of the county vehicles had been registered.

Dick Bass, operating a sub-station in Santa Anna, said he had sold about 300 farm and commercial tags thus far, and he expected to sell about 800. He said sales had picked up during the past few days, but urged more people to get their tags early and avoid having to wait in line during the last few days.

Bass said some people were still of the opinion they must have the auto inspection sticker on their vehicle before they can get their license plates, but this is not the case. You do not have to have the vehicle inspected before you get your license plates.

The vehicle inspection sticker is due to be on all vehicles by April 15, and this is running far short. Arlie Welch said it looks as if a lot of folks are going to have to stand in line to get their vehicles inspected before the April 15 deadline.

Bass urged those who have not rendered their state and county taxes to do so as soon as possible. He has all the supplies and needed information for this area of the county at his location in the Phillips Shoe Shop. All state and county taxes should be rendered by April 1.

Oddities

Although we have not received any new kinds of eggs this week, we have run across a few other rather odd incidents.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Harlowe and children of Dallas, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Erick, Sr. Sunday afternoon Donnie Harlowe was out in the Erick pasture looking for rocks to put in their fish pond at home and he found a very unusual rock.

Just a small rock, but imbedded in it was the perfect outline of a heart measuring about 3/4-inch in size. The heart looked as if it had been cut from some other stone and embedded in the rock, but upon close examination, it proved to be just formed in the small rock. Mr. Erick kept the stone and will return it to the lad on his next visit.

Another incident that seldom happens to anyone, happened to your editor Monday afternoon. Roy Bible and a friend of Brownwood were visiting in Santa Anna and during the course of the afternoon, visited in The News office. He introduced his friend saying, "John Gregg meet John Gregg."

During the course of time we have met many people by the name of Gregg that we never knew existed, but this is the first time to ever meet someone with the same name. Mr. Gregg said he was related to the Greggs at San Saba (of whom we have known of for some time) and had been living in Brownwood the past several years.

Although we did not determine where we might be related to each other, there is some possibility that we could be. It would stem from three brothers that came to America from Scotland in the 18th Century.

We have known for sometime that installment plans were very popular all over the country, but we noted one item in one of our exchanges (The East Texas Light, published by R. E. Burns in Teneha, Texas) last week that was rather amusing to us. It was a notice in the classified section, reading as follows: "Notice: There will be no more paying of fines assessed in the County Court on the installment plan", and was signed by the County Judge, Sheriff and County Attorney. "Maybe the installment plan is going out as we would hope the Elvis Presley fad might before much longer."

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Herring and Lucretia came from Dallas Saturday and were in their home here and visiting with her mother, Mrs. Preston West, over the weekend. They returned to Dallas early Monday morning, where Lucretia will continue to have cobalt treatments for a week or two more. Mrs. Ben Herring is taking care of the Herring baby this week.

Methodist To Have Revival Meeting March 29 - April 7th

REV. FRANK L. TURNER

Rev. Frank L. Turner, Jr., pastor of the First Methodist Church announced this week that his congregation would engage in a revival meeting Friday, March 29 through Sunday, April 7, with services each evening at 7:30 o'clock. He has secured the services of his father, Dr. Frank L. Turner, General Evangelist of Fort Worth, who will bring the messages and direct the visitation evangelist effort.

People of Santa Anna will remember the Rev. Mr. Turner as having conducted a meeting here last March. He is a native of Brown and Coleman Counties, having grown to young manhood in the Buffalo Community. He first attended high school at Santa Anna and is a graduate of Southern University. He held some of the leading pastorates in this conference including Hamilton, Matthews Memorial, Cisco and Ballinger, where he was serving when elected to the presidency of McMurry College.

During his tenure of office at this Methodist school, he entirely freed the institution from indebtedness and laid the foundation for the splendid progress made by the school in later years.

Resigning the presidency of McMurry, he entered the field of Evangelism and was appointed a General Evangelist of the Methodist Church. Since that time, he has conducted 225 meetings in nine states and 14 annual conferences. More than 3,000 people have been won for Christ and the church through his labors and other thousands have re-secrated their lives to Christ under the inspiration of his messages. The people of Santa Anna and surrounding area are most cordially invited to attend these services.

George Johnson Becomes Member Of City Council

George Johnson, former owner and operator of the Santa Anna Telephone Company, and a former mayor of Santa Anna, became a member of the City Council last Thursday night, when he took the oath of office and replaced F. C. Williams on the council.

Williams offered his resignation because of business reasons, several weeks ago, but the council did not immediately accept it. Johnson was asked to serve on the council and because of his knowledge of the city affairs agreed to serve out Williams' unexpired term.

Johnson served as mayor of Santa Anna for about 10 years under the old Commission type of city government. At that time the City Council was composed of a mayor and two commissioners. The type of city government was changed after World War II, to what is known as the City Manager and Alderman form of government. The council is now composed of a mayor and five aldermen.

W. M. Morgan and son, E. B. Morgan, both of whom are employed at Pasadena, Texas, were here at the weekend, visiting with the home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kinney of Abilene, visited Saturday night and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Lewellen. On Sunday night, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Crump of Lubbock, were overnight guests with them. The women are sisters.

Free Chest X-ray In Santa Anna All Day Friday

Every person in this area over the age of 15 is urged to get a free chest x-ray during the time the State Department of Health Chest X-ray machine is located in Coleman County. The machine will be in Santa Anna all day Friday, March 15, and will operate from 8:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. It will be located in the former Hunter Brothers Grocery Store building.

There will be no charge for the x-ray.

In an effort to completely stamp out tuberculosis, the State Health Department has for several years been using this method and results have been very gratifying. Many cases of TB have been found and successfully treated. The disease is definitely on the decrease and in order that it might be completely wiped out, the cooperation of every individual is needed.

Physicians urge 100 percent participation in the program. All reports are confidential between you and your doctor.

Getting the x-ray will take a very few minutes of your time. You do not have to undress, but are requested not to wear any metal objects on your chest. The machine has been in Santa Anna previously, and the number who have their x-rays made Friday will determine whether it will return to Santa Anna again.

A large number of school children have been handing out cards urging you to get the free x-ray. Each of these cards are worth five points to the student whose name is signed to the card toward a $25.00 saving bond that will be presented by the Delta Omicron Sorority. The class in school getting the most points will also be treated to a "pop party" for their efforts in getting people out for the x-ray.

No points will be counted unless the person receiving the x-ray is 21 years of age or older. Be sure to bring this card with you when you come to get the x-ray.

Approximately 75 percent of all TB cases are found in people past 50 years of age, and this group are especially urged to take advantage of the free chest x-ray. A large number of persons with heart trouble and lung cancer are also found during the examination of the x-ray. Your doctor is also notified of this.

From the standpoint of your health, everything is to your advantage to get the free service. Be sure to get yours.

Special Election To Be Held With City Election

A special election will be held on the same day as the city election, on Tuesday, April 2, for the purpose of electing a United States Senator, to serve out the unexpired term of Price Daniel, who became Governor of Texas on January 15. Twenty-two names will be on the ballot.

There will be two polling places in Santa Anna for the special election and only one for the city election. Jesse K. Barton has been named election judge for the North Ward and City Election. Jim Daniell is election judge for the South Ward.

All persons voting in the North Ward will have only one polling place, which will be the City Hall. Persons voting in the South Ward and living in the City Limits will have two polling places. They will vote on the Senator in the South Ward and then go to the City Hall to vote in the City Election. Persons living outside the City Limits will go to their usual voting places to vote in the Senator Election.

Mrs. M. A. Pritchard, who has been staying for some time with her daughter, Rhonda, at Temple, came last week and has been staying with members of her family here. On Sunday her daughter, Mrs. Bettie Gilbert and children of San Angelo, came and visited with them. Mrs. Pritchard returned home with them for a visit of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Bowman of Portales, New Mexico, visited here during last week with her mother, Mrs. Clarence Gray, and with her sister, Mrs. Roy Francis.

School Trustee Election To Be Held April 6th

Cullen N. Perry, Superintendent of the Santa Anna Schools, announced this week the annual Santa Anna Independent School District trustee election will be held on Saturday, April 6, in the Stockard building on Wallis Ave. The polls will be open from 7:00 a. m. to 7:00 p. m.

Leroy Stockard has been named Election Judge and Mrs. W. V. Priddy an Mrs. Hardy Blue will be clerks.

The terms of Oscar Boenicke and William Brown expire this year. Boenicke, of Trickham, was elected in 1954 and Brown was appointed to fill out the unexpired term of Tony Rehm, who resigned. New trustees will take office effective as of May 1st.

Brown or Boenicke have not indicated their intentions as to whether they will seek re-election. Filing deadline is 10 days prior to the election and all who are interested may file their names with Supt. Perry at the high school.

Correction

It seems every time we publish a long list of names, there is always at least one name omitted through errors on our part or the one that furnishes us with the names. The same thing happened again last week in the list of names who are members of the Community Chamber of Commerce. We assure you no name has ever been left out on purpose, but it is just something that (it seems) cannot be helped.

Inadvertently we omitted the name of Sam H. Collier, local insurance agent. Mr. Collier has been a member in good standing with the organization since its organization in 1946. We regret his name was left off the list.

NEW MEMBER

A new member has been added to the membership of the organization since last week's news was published and that is the Gandy's Creamery. Welcome into the organization.

Sunday Rain Is Good One

A good rain fell in this area Sunday night, and considering the conditions, it was very timely. Just under a half inch fell in Santa Anna and some surrounding areas report up to one inch fell.

A large number of farmers and ranchers have been working in their fields since the good rains a few weeks ago, and lots of crops are planted. The Sunday night rain should be a big boost to the crops just planted as well as the small grain crops that are looking so good all over the county.

Tom Bailey of Snyder visited from Friday until Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Bailey.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Wallace and children, Lillian, Nancy, Terry and Charles, visited on Sunday night with her mother, Mrs. Nancy L. Watson in Brownwood.

Civil Defense Organization About Complete

With the appointment of Area Wardens and compiling of a manual for Civil Defense workers in Santa Anna, the plans for the Civil Defense organization here are nearing completion.

Area Wardens will be Albin Houdek, John Gregg, D. H. Moore, Rev. Frank Turner and Walker Tatum, and they will appoint a block warden for each block in their respective areas. Instructions to the wardens are included in the manuals, and block wardens will be given booklets of instructions.

Plans are being made for a city-wide Civil Defense meeting, tentatively set for Thursday, April 11, at which time State Defense Coordinator, William L. McGill of Austin, and Inspector C. O. Layne of the Texas Highway Patrol, will be invited to speak. Pat Warren of Coleman, Director for Coleman County and Judge Walter K. Boyd will also be present, if possible.

W. F. Barnes, Administration Chairman, has appointed Miss Patricia Davis, Glen Copeland and Kenneth Bowker as his assistants. John Gregg is head of the Public Relations panel, and Mrs. John Gregg, Mrs. Tom Kingsbery and Mrs. C. D. Bruce have places on the panel. Dawson See has been named Vice-Chairman on both of the two panels.

The panel of Schools is in charge of Supt. Cullen N. Perry, and his Section Chiefs are A. D. Donham, Joe Van Breemen and Roy Mathews.

Instructions to the panel chiefs will be given at an early date, and they will inform their Vice Chairmen as to their duties. The Area Wardens will give information to the Block Wardens, who will soon begin distributing to any interested persons the Civil Defense booklets now on hand. Much of the work on these is finished, Mrs. Maurice Mallow having done the mimeographing and Virgil Priddy assembling them.

A comprehensive defense and disaster plan for Santa Anna is the aim of the local organization, and the meeting now scheduled for April 11 will be timely and interesting and will be open to the public.

• For the second time in two months the House last week gave solid backing to this country's warning against the threatened take-over of the oil-rich strategic Mid-East. The whopping vote also served as an answer to the protest leveled at the Resolution by Russia's Khrushchev and Red China's Chou. Observers see this move as a declaration of war on Communism in all areas.

Chances for cuts in the budget seem to improve by the day. Last week President Eisenhower did the unusual thing of suggesting that the Congress should see about some triaming of his own $71.8 billion budget and the House Appropriations committee fired back a request that the President be more specific.

Then, the House G. O. P. Policy Committee, in an attempt to grab away some of the thunder from the Democrats, called for a substantial cut. That is a good sign because it adds to the tempo of the case for budget-cutting.

The question is — where should the ax fall?

First, upwards of a billion can be saved by cutting the proposed federal school construction aid bill. The mammoth highway construction program, which is largely self-financing, can easily be trimmed a bit. Two or three billion can be whacked from foreign aid. The expensive and unnecessary public housing program can be eliminated. And so on. I shall support all of these moves. We should be able to reduce the budget by from three to five billion dollars.

Former Vice President John Nance Garner, in a featured interview in the U. S. News & World Report, plugged for reduced spending. That stand, coming from one of America's foremost authorities on common sense financing, should help us in our current economy drive.

JERRY BRUCE SNODGRASS YOUNGEST SENIOR AT KILLEEN

Jerry Snodgrass, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Hyatt Moore of Rockwood, is only 16 years of age, but he is a senior at Killeen High School and the youngest member of the class.

A story in the Killeen newspaper says Jerry is above average in more things than one: "Jerry has maintained a 93 grade average and has been in the National Honor Society for two years. He was born in Santa Anna in June 1940 and attended grade school there. After his freshman year at Santa Anna he moved to Killeen.

"Jerry intends to enroll at Texas A & M, where he will try to fulfill his ambition to become a petroleum engineer. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Snodgrass, he has been in the band for four years and has put in lots of hard work. This year he has been selected from a large number of students to participate in the All-State Band in Dallas."

ANOTHER debate is on in Congress on the question of whether we face a depression or whether we face inflation, which in the opinion of many amounts to the same thing.

It is the age-old difference in looking at the nation's economy. Republicans, including President Eisenhower and his advisors, look at the economy through a telescope which shows huge production and big business expansion. Many of the more responsible Democrats look at the economy through the telescope which sees big consumption, purchasing power and small business prosperity as the measure of the nation's economy.

Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey told a press conference recently that unless Government cuts expenditures, this country would find itself in a depression "that will curl your hair." A few days later former President Herbert Hoover chimed in with an agreement, and who should know better than Mr. Hoover.

Undersecretary of the Treasury Randolph Burgess along with the U. S. Chamber of Commerce says that inflation is the "great danger" and that "financial stability" under the Hamiltonian theory is at "the very head of the list of economic and social virtues."

The so-called Hard-Money Policy with its rise in interest rates together with present high taxes, personal, corporate and excise, are the means the administration is using to achieve "stability and a balanced budget." In the meantime Labor Unions are being blamed for their wage increases as the cause for higher prices. As a matter of fact, however the figures show that in industries like iron and steel, non-ferrous metals, fabricated metal products, non-electric machinery and in stone, clay and glass products, profits after taxes shows increases in the second quarter of 1956 over the first quarter of 1955 of from 20 to 70%, or an average of about 40%, while in contrast, the average hourly earnings of production workers in manufacturing and construction rose only 6 per cent in 1956.

The President's 1957 Economic Report seeks to put this blame on Labor by declaring that the improvement in output per man in 1956 was less than the increase in 1955 and less than the average recorded in the average post war period and the report makes the flat statement that "the smallness of the 1955 gain contributed to the rise in unit labor costs and in turn to increases in prices." However the profit comparisons with the labor increases do not bear out that statement.

George Meany, President of the AFL-CIO points out that the present economy is not marked by inflationary pressures across-the-board. He points to what he calls "an investment boom, accompanied by drops in home building and automobile output, a decline in farm equipment and relatively soft markets for many lines of household goods." He further points out that this investment boom is now leveling off and that there is danger that investment and plant and equipment may drop in 1957 if consumer markets are not strong enough.

Mrs. Paul Vercher and son, Paul Edward, returned to their home in Fort Worth Monday, after a two weeks visit here in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Priddy, Martha Priddy, who teaches at Snyder, was home for the weekend.

Jasper McClellan and daughter, Carol, from McMurry College and Jean Stewardson, went to Austin Saturday morning and returned home Sunday afternoon. They visited in the home of the Ralph Brisbin's and others of the McClellan family. Mrs. McClellan, who has been here since March 3, with the Brisbins, and getting acquainted with her new grandson, plans to return home this Thursday.

Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Carroll were here Sunday and he filled the pulpit of the North Side Baptist Church, of which he was formerly pastor. Friends of the Carrolls will be glad to know they have moved back to their home at Talpa, from Harlingen, where he established a mission.

Self Culture Club Met With Mrs. Harris Friday Afternoon

The pioneers of Coleman County had considerable trouble with the Indians. The Chisholm Trail led through the gap of the mountain and multiplied thousands of cattle from the west were driven through each year, enroute to market at Abilene, Kansas. Springs in the gap provided water. After Santa Anna was founded, it was considered a health resort and many people came here for that purpose.

Trickham, being the oldest village with the first school, the first cemetery and other features, received major interest in the book. To mention just a few of the early day settlers, there were the Shields, Walters, Hunters, Mathews, Lancaesters and Cheathams.

The Cheatham's flour mill at Trickham was the first in this area.

World Day Of Prayer Well Attended

The World Day of Prayer, sponsored by the Santa Anna Council of Church Women, was quite well attended when it met in the First Presbyterian Church last Friday afternoon at 2:30.

Mrs. Roy Horne, president of the group, took an active part. Mrs. Kenneth Bowker was leader and did well as she led the responsive readings and with the other features.

Mrs. Tilden Jones was in charge of the music, and played appropriate selections before the program and for most of the singing.

The responsive reading was based on "What Shall Separate Us From the Love of Christ." The responses led to the belief that nothing can.

Those having special reading parts were: Mrs. Horne, who read the opening prayer; Mrs. Paula Robinett, who read the article by Serena Vassady, formerly of Hungary, who arranged the service; and Mrs. L. O. Garrett, Mrs. Clifford Stephenson, Mrs. Add Walker and Mrs. Pearl Wilson.

Suggested songs were used and fervent prayers offered. Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Peggy Gray sang, "Breathe on Me," "Breath of God", with Mrs. Robinett accompanying.

Mrs. Robert Markland explained the purpose of the offering and the many good uses to which it is put. She, Mrs. Kathryn Bray and Mrs. Earl Irick, took the offering for which the leader gave thanks.

Mrs. Bray, accompanied by soft music, read the recessionary hymn, "The Day Thou Gavest," as those attending were quietly departing.

The sanctuary for this nice occasion was attractively decorated with cut flowers and pot plants.

Santa Anna pupils getting honorable mention were Gayla McIver, Clayton Ray Jackson, Mary Ford and Pete Simmons.

Essays have been forwarded to the Fort Worth Press, for the state-wide contest.

SECOND SUNDAY SINGING WELL ATTENDED

The regular Second Sunday Singing, which met at the First Christian Church last Sunday afternoon, was well attended with quite a number being present for the first time.

The next Sunday Singing will be at the North Side Baptist Church on April 14th, Palm Sunday, when it is hoped a large crowd will attend.

ments and is greatly in demand by church groups of various beliefs, civic and cultural organizations.

BWARE OF BOGUS HYBRIDS

An attempt to capitalize on a still-unperfected but potentially great agricultural advance — the Sudan-Johnson Grass Hybrid — is posing a threat of serious eradication problems to unwary Texas farmers.

Sudan-Johnson Grass Hybrids, still in experimental stages, are being falsely promoted as true varieties by people who somehow acquire seed from experimental crops. The product they are trying to sell is most likely a mixture of undesirable strains, containing Johnson Grass mixtures, Johnson Grass Hybrids and segregates from Johnson Grass.

These so-called hybrids, if planted, could be as difficult to eradicate as Johnson Grass itself.

One such "hybrid" seed, being promoted as "Perennial Sweet Sudan," is of very doubtful value since "Perennial Sweet Sudan" has not been formally released to farmers or seedmen by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The Texas Department of Agriculture Seed Laboratory has been unable to determine any difference between true Johnson Grass seed and some of the seed in question.

The Extension Service, which is working hard on the Sudan-Johnson Grass Hybrid program, hopes to have some true variety developed after this year's crop is in. Preliminary results indicate that the new hybrids will be very beneficial for grazing and hay, having uniform juiciness, sweetness and structure. However, until such time as they are perfected and released,

TODAY'S meditation

The Upper Room
THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Read John 6:32-40.

Him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out. (John 6:37).

When I was a child, a photographer took my picture. He had put out a captivating advertisement, "Come as you please." So my mother took me just as I was. I still have the photograph. There were no frills or fancy garments, no dressing up for that photograph. It was I, just as I was.

There is something to be said for looking one's best in a photograph. People used to say the camera could not lie; but the camera can be used to prove almost anything.

How we appear to other people depends on the people. There is a cheap view of human life that never sees much in us.

There is also the danger of a too optimistic view of human nature. But Jesus knew what was in man — the best as well as the worst.

"Come as you please," said the photographer. "Come unto me," said Jesus. That means, come — just as we are.

PRAYER
Unworthy though we are, O God, we come to Thee: for we have faith that just as we are, Thou wilt receive. Cleanse us of sin, fill us with the Holy Spirit, and use us for Thy Glory; through Jesus, Christ our Lord. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
God will receive me just as I am.

LOVE AND THE FLAW

By June Reed Ruff

THE narrow room was dim and still, severely styled, and subdued in color. At first, Edith could only make out blurred images, the impersonal dresser across from the foot of her high, white bed, and the fuzzy, pinkish-green blur of the roses Joe had brought for her.

Joe was in the room too. She couldn't see him, but she knew he was there, sitting in the hard wooden chair beside her bed. Dear Joe, sober and silent, watching her with hurt, pleading eyes.

She wanted to reassure him, to tell him that she was all right, but the lethargy of anesthesia held her captive in its silent prison.

The operation was over. She was aware of bulky bandages and tight adhesive tape. And somewhere deep inside, her body was screaming in agony, but medical science had muted the tortured protest, shutting it away from her conscious mind with drugs, so that she heard, it only vaguely, and without concern.

Joe's lean fingers edged across the plain, white bedspread to clasp her cold hand. If she opened her eyes, she could see his anxious face. She could see his face even if she didn't open her eyes.

Her sophisticated friends never understood why she married Joe, and she couldn't explain to them, because she wasn't quite sure herself. Edith Arvell, glamorous, talented actress, married to a rancher. A dull, slow-witted cowboy.

At first she said, she married him for his money, and for the security it promised. She wasn't getting any younger, and all too often, fame tarnishes with time. In her heart of hearts, Edith knew that money was not all that bound her to Joe. . . . But what else was there?

Joe was so humble and unsophisticated. Sometimes Edith thought that was the most trying part of their relationship. Her many and varied interests in combat with his lack of general knowledge. She once told her friends that she and Joe hadn't shared an intelligent conversation in the entire two years of their marriage.

But with Joe, she didn't really need conversation, the deep, important things between them were beyond words anyway. Why had it taken her so long to realize that?

When Edith opened her eyes again sunlight was pouring across her bed, and she didn't recognize the blinding white hospital world, with its heavy, antiseptic and ether air. Finally, her eyes found a familiar, big-knuckled hand closed protectively around her own pale fingers, and memory came back to her. She was in the hospital, and Joe was still sitting there on the hard white chair beside her bed.

The huge diamond engagement ring he had bought for her sparkled in the sunlight, or was it the tears in her eyes that gave the effect of shattered light? She knew, at last, why she loved Joe, and the knowledge was as brilliant as the ring on her finger.

She had been a fool, thinking she loved Joe in spite of his flaws, when all the time she loved him BECAUSE of them! His lack of cultural perfection was the precious flaw that magnified and made radiant the illusion of her own perfection!

"You all right, Eddie?" He bent over her anxiously. His clothes were wrinkled and untidy, and his face was haggard from the long vigil at her bedside.

She smiled and nodded weakly. "And Joe," Edith carressed his cheek with gentle fingers, "I love you."

His tired face seemed to glow with new vigor, and again she was reminded of the diamond. For as a diamond is dull without light, so is a man without a woman's love to illumine the many facets of his life.

After a century of trial and error, scientists have found the secret of making diamonds: Subject carbon to heat of 5,000 degrees Fahrenheit in a press with a punch of 1,500,000 pounds a square inch. Earth exerts roughly the same pressure 240 miles below the surface.

Largest single user of coal for generation of electric power is the Tennessee Valley Authority network of steam generating plants. TVA used nearly 15.25 million tons of coal in 1955.

The University of Michigan is the oldest state university in the country and was also the first state university to admit coeds.

1957 will mark the 76th anniversary of the first pure nickel coin. It was a 20-centime piece issued by Switzerland in 1881.

Cottage cheese is highly perishable and should be kept covered, in the coldest part of the refrigerator. Glass containers are best.

Africa's most deadly and vindictive animals are cape buffaloes. Wounded, they have been known to ambush hunters and trample them with their ax-sharp hoofs.

ROCKWOOD POST OFFICE RATED EXCELLENT

The Postal Inspector, W. A. Foster of Abilene, recently visited the Rockwood Post Office and gave it a rating of excellent.

The Rockwood office has an unusually interesting history. The first office was opened in the home of Mrs. W. L. Faulk about 1891, near the present school building, when the community was called Discord. The second postmaster, J. A. Woods, had it in a corner of his house, the site of the present M. D. Bryan home.

The present Postmaster, Mrs. W. G. Williams, has been serving since June, 1929. Her father, Mr. B. T. Sullivan was Postmaster from 1910 to his death in June 1929. He had served at Camp Colorado as Postmaster for 33 years before coming to Rockwood, making 52 years in the Postal Service. Barney Williams, assistant Postmaster, has been connected with the local office since 1934.

Fred Epps was first rural letter carrier out of this office, beginning in 1909. He made three trips a week delivering mail to rural patrons with a motor cycle.

The motto: "Neither snow nor rain nor heat nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds" still stands with the present carrier, Jack Bostick, who has been giving "service with a smile" since he and Mrs. Bostick and small son, Alvin, moved from San Angelo in March 1929.

John Hunter has been substitute carrier for Mr. Bostick since February, 1937.

A fine record for our Home Town!

—Mrs. John C. Hunter

Mr. and Mrs. James Clett and Molly of Hurst, were here at the weekend, visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Neely Evans.
