Fire Department Answers Four Alarms In Week

The Santa Anna Fire Department was called out four times last week. Only one fire was a major one.

The first call was to Mrs. Dorothy Clark's to a small fire in the back yard; the second was to a grass fire at the Boy Scout hut; the third to a small fire at the Densman Service Station; and the fourth to the C. D. Bruce farm west of town.

They were unable to save the house on the Bruce farm. They were called out about 3:10 p. m. The man living in the house had gone to work early that day and presumably the fire had been smoldering for several hours when discovered, as the house burned to the ground in a short time.

Built many years ago, the Bruces had put extensive remodeling and repairs into the house after they purchased the place from the other Banister heirs. A small insurance policy was carried on the house, but none on the household effects and farm equipment, all of which were a total loss.

roadway or a shoulder of a roadway. (A city ordinance can alter this regulation for cities.)

6. A vehicle must not be parked in an intersection and must be parked at least 20 feet from a crosswalk.

7. A vehicle must be at least 30 feet (on the approach side) from any traffic control signal or sign located at the side of the roadway.

8. A vehicle must not be parked on a sidewalk, a crosswalk in front of a public or private driveway, in a roadway, within 50 feet of a railroad crossing, on a bridge or in a tunnel, within 15 feet of a fire hydrant, opposite a street excavation, in a block where fire trucks are working, or at any other place where official signs prohibit stopping.

9. A vehicle must be parked completely off the pavement on a rural highway.

10. It is unlawful to move another person's vehicle into any prohibited parking area.

The "old men" were credited with 11 runs, 6 hits and 3 errors while the teenagers were credited with 15 runs, 9 hits and 2 errors.

Hosch Grocery Robbed Monday

The Hosch Grocery store was robbed of about $70 at 4:20 p. m. Monday. Two Negro men and a Negro woman were involved. The men actually participated in the robbery and apparently made good their escape. At least they had not been caught Wednesday morning.

The two entered the grocery store, one purchasing some plums and getting change for a $20.00 bill, the other wanting some cigarettes. While Roscoe Hosch was getting the cigarettes one of the Negroes went to the cash register and took most of the money in bills from it.

Mr. Hosch noticed the money being gone and challenged the man, asking him to empty his pockets. The man gave him back $30 in $5 bills and Hosch told him to wait while he checked his register to see how much was gone. While the register was being checked, the Negro ran out of the store and across the street, to their car that was parked between the bank and hotel. Hosch ran after him, but by the time he got there the Negroes were going around the corner to the left at the intersection of Avenue B and North 2nd Street, at a high rate of speed.

Hosch said the car was a light colored two-tone car. He thought it was a 1953 or 1954 Chevrolet.

Mrs. Pat Hosch was the only other person in the store at the time and did not realize what was taking place.

The boys completed their three week course with several progressing well also.

No plans have been made to have a seventh week of lessons as was held last year.

Swimming Lessons Will Be Completed This Week

This is the final week of swimming lessons for an average of about 50 school age girls of Santa Anna. Most of the students have learned well during the three week period and several have made excellent progress.

The boys completed their three week course with several progressing well also.

No plans have been made to have a seventh week of lessons as was held last year.

Spotted Rains Cover Wide Area

Spotted rains fell in most sections of this part of the county Tuesday, some measuring as much as 1.4 inches, while other places only got a light shower. The gauge at the Coleman Gas Company office in Santa Anna showed a total of 1.3 inches.

Mrs. W. R. Brown of the Buffalo Community said they received 2-inch at her home but that on north of them the rain was heavier. Mrs. Lester McClellan of the Liberty Community said they got a shower, about enough to wet the top of the ground, but hardly enough to measure. Mrs. M. F. Blanton of the Cleveland Community said they received a very light shower at her home, but her son, Sid Blanton, said they had a good shower on the lease. Mrs. Carson Horner said they only received a light shower, about .5-inch but Mrs. Richard Horner told her they received about 1-inch. Luther McCrary said he got 1.4-inch on his farm north of town.

Some reports indicate that over an inch fell at Trickham. Jim Riley said he did not get any rain on his place three miles west of Trickham.

So, throughout the area, the rains were very spotted, but very much welcomed in the places where it did fall. Let's hope all areas will get good rains during this opportunity.

TWO MORE JOIN QUARTERBACK CLUB
Membership in the Santa Anna Quarterback Club increased to 115 members this week when W. B. (Byron) Gilbreath and E. E. Story paid their dues.

If the membership is to reach the goal of 150 members by the end of the summer, more are going to have to get their dues paid. The Quarterback Club is a big help in the athletic department of the schools and to the boys in their summer program. Your $3.00 membership dues will help put these programs over better.

School Board Will Employ Head Coach This Week

The Trustees of the Santa Anna Independent School District met in a called meeting Thursday night and took care of a large amount of business that needed attending to.

They employed all the same bus drivers as drove last year. Some changes will be made in routes the buses will follow, and announcement as to the exact routes will not be made until a later date. The routes will be made to serve the greatest number of students in the best manner possible and with the least inconvenience to all.

They also employed the same four ladies in the lunchroom as has operated it for the past several years.

The Bond Assumption and Tax Rate elections in connection with the consolidation of the Rockwood School District with the Santa Anna District was set for Saturday, August 10. All qualified voters in the district will have the opportunity to vote in this election. The district includes all of the former Rockwood District.

The school board received a number of applications for the position as head coach. After giving all of them careful consideration, the number of application was dropped to five to be considered. During the past few days members of the board and the superintendent have been making inquiries into the capabilities of these five applicants.

Mr. Perry, Superintendent, said the board would meet in another called meeting sometime this week for the purpose of employing the coach. The coach is the only teacher lacking in the school system at the present time.

The Perrys plan to leave on a vacation on July 30th. They will attend the Philmont National Boy Scout Encampment at Cimmaron, New Mexico, for one week. They plan to be gone about ten days.

Northside Church of Christ To Have Bible School and Revival

A Vacation Bible School will begin at the Northside Church of Christ August 19 and continue through August 23. Jack Horton, minister, will be in charge of the school and classes will be taught by ladies of the church.

Classes will be held from 9:00 a. m. to 11:00 a. m. each of the five days. Boys and girls from age 4 years up are invited to attend the school.

A gospel meeting will begin at the church Friday evening, July 23 and continue through Sunday, September 1. Dan Fogarty of Longview, a former minister of the Church of Christ in Coleman, will be the evangelist. Horton will be in charge of the song services.

Mrs. Hardy Blue, Mrs. Bill Griffin, Mrs. Roy Horne and Mrs. J. L. Harris went to Stephenville Tuesday to attend sessions through the day of a District School of Instruction for the W. S. C. S. of the Methodist Church. The school continues through the week.

SCANNING THE NEWS

MOST important on the news horizon at the moment is the combined opinion of economists that there will be continued increased spending and more inflation on tap for the coming months. This increase will include more government spending.

Congressional circles believe, following the June 15 report of the Bureau of Labor Statistics that showed a new high in living costs and the recent announcement of U. S. Steel for another boost in steel prices, that a new economic probe may be in the making. Senator Estes Kefauver has announced that he will start a broad inquiry into prices and pricing policies in his Senate Anti-monopoly Committee. At the present time Senator Harry Byrd, head of the Senate Finance Committee, is conducting a fiscal policy probe.

President Eisenhower, who in February announced that if business and labor did not cooperate in holding prices down, the government might have to adopt control measures to do the job, apparently has softened somewhat on this question. His most recent pronouncement is that he could not go along with involving wage and price controls as a solution to the inflation problem.

He did, however, again urge business and labor to practice restraint in holding the price line.

which was answered the next day by U. S. Steel announcement of a price boost.

Today steel prices are up $14.50 per ton over a year ago... a commodity which goes into everything from bobby pins to battle-ships.

Congressional leaders are not in agreement either over the causes or the remedies of inflation. One point of view, held by Senator Byrd, blames tight credit and increased interest rates as one of the inflationary causes. On the other hand, Congressman Wilbur D. Mills, head of the Joint Economic Committee, recommends the government keep money tight and resist a temptation to cut taxes. Byrd insists that taxes must be cut in the lower income brackets.

It is an inescapable fact, whatever view is held by Congressional leaders, that prices will surely increase when demand increases as in the case of credit, meat, steel and other commodities.

Other disturbing facts about the picture is that the Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that purchasing power is down; inventories are up; steel is operating only at a rate of 70 to 80 per cent of capacity; and increased sales are attributed to increases in price and not to increases in unit sales.

All in all, it is a disturbing picture.

VACATION COMES TO SUBURBIA

$500 REWARD . . . Harry A. Newton and wife leave New York home on city-to-city search for son Victor, 27, missing since 1953. They'll live in trailer and tour south first.

From the Warren Record, Warren, North Carolina: "Congressional tax experts have secretly concluded that the government will collect more tax revenue in the fiscal year starting July 1 than President Eisenhower anticipated," said a press dispatch earlier in the week.

"Their report," the dispatch continued, "is likely to give a new push to congressional drives for an early tax cut."

The news article tends to point up something that has disturbed us for some time. This is the apparent indifference of congress to the desirability or reducing the public indebtedness of the United States, which has long ago reached alarming proportions.

We do not like to pay Federal income tax anymore than does the next person, and we trust that not too many will find it any more burdensome than do we. And yet we feel that in times of peace and prosperity that the federal debt should be reduced, if for no other reason than to improve our position in times of emergency. For this reason we have long felt that in making up the federal budget each year, that a provision of several billions should be included, towards reducing the federal debt. Certainly it seems to us that any unexpected surplus should be used to this end, rather than for a tax cut.

And while we are on this subject, and while we can not pose as a money expert, it seems to us that the way to control inflation is not by increasing interest rates, which add to the income of money lenders, and only serves to penalize small business, but through increasing and decreasing the tax rate. It seems to us that when prosperity is heading us into an inflation, that a boost in the tax rate would serve to drain off surplus funds which could be used to decrease the debt. When the wheel turns and we head into a deflation a lower tax rate would leave more spending money in the hands of the consumers and thus tend to halt that trend.

Texas State Fair To Have Special Free Attraction

One of the world's most remarkable spectacles will be featured as a free attraction at the 1957 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 5-20.

The mysterious rituals of the Aztecs and Mayans of ancient Mexico will be faithfully recreated by actual descendants of those long-vanished races.

The Aztec-Mayan Spectacular will be presented twice daily on the Magnolia Stage, climaxed by the dangerous "ceremony of the flying pole."

This awe-inspiring ritual is performed by "The Birdmen of Teotihuacan." Dressed in feathered, birdlike costumes, these "flying Indians" climb to the top of a 100-foot pole. To the weird music of a flute and drum, the four fliers one by one go through an intricate dance on a tiny platform atop the pole.

They then leap into space, spinning head down, hanging by their heels from ropes wound around the pole. As they glide gracefully to earth, the ropes unwind in ever-widening circles.

Seldom seen outside a few remote villages in the jungles of Mexico, the strange ceremonial of the flying pole is among the oldest of the surviving native rites of that country, dating from the times before the Spanish Conquest. Fliers are trained from the age of 9 for this daring feat.

The colorful dances of the Aztec-Mayan Spectacular are performed by a troupe of 20, attired in authentic costumes. In addition to the daily appearances on the Magnolia Stage, they will be featured in three big free Cotton Bowl shows during the fair. The first will be on Mexico Day, Oct. 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Stephenson and daughter, Mrs. Charles Scarbrough attended funeral services in Bangs Sunday afternoon for Mrs. N. T. Bruton. Mrs. W. A. Brandon and daughter, Mrs. Elton McDonald, went to Brownwood Sunday morning to view the body, in a funeral home there.

Apply For Birth Certificate Photostat Now

AUSTIN — "School days, school days, all around the state," may stray somewhat from the original song, but it means that come September, around 203,000 little Texans will be going off to school for the first time.

In anticipation of this the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the Texas State Department of Health is girding itself for the annual last minute onslaught of thousands of requests for birth certificate photostats.

It seems that each year the situation repeats itself. Most school districts require proof of birth in the form of a birth certificate or photostat for students entering school for the first time in the first grade.

Harried mothers all too often forget about this requirement until middle August. By then the Bureau of Vital Statistics is flooded with thousands of similar requests for photostat copies resulting in a delay in the receiving of the copy for two weeks or more.

In efforts to speed up the process, the bureau each year hires extra help and works overtime, in addition to using certain speed-up techniques to aid in the location of the original certificates kept on permanent file at the Department of Health.

Most of the requests will be for six-year-old children. Knowing this, vital statistics personnel arrange the record books containing the 217,470 certificates of birth for the year 1951 and part of the "stacks" for 1950 so that access will be easier and quicker.

The removal and replacement of the certificates for photostating is done at the "stacks" by the extra personnel instead of at the photostat machine by the technicians in the usual manner.

In this way a staggering pile-up of record books is avoided and the issuance of birth certificate photostats is greatly speeded. State Registrar Don Carroll asks that requests for photostat copies be made as soon as possible to avoid the rush. Contact your local health department or send the request to the Bureau of Vital Statistics, State Health Department, Austin, Texas.

Be certain to include the child's name, name of both parents, and the date and place of birth. Enclose one dollar ($1.00) with your request. Cash is requested.

Write tonight to be sure to get your photostat on time.

Swimming is good exercise. Visit The Pool 2 miles west of Coleman. Swim with the family and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scarbrough and Carol Ann will be leaving this week for their home in Chickasha, Okla., after a visit of two weeks with the home folks here and with members of the family in Abilene.

Rev. and Mrs. Aubrey Smith of Port Hueneme, Calif., arrived for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Smith, on Friday of last week. In the late afternoon then went to Breckenridge, where they attended a reunion of her people on Saturday, and returned to Santa Anna, where other members of the family are coming in. On Wednesday morning visitors left for Glorieta, N. M., to attend a Baptist Home Mission encampment.

PARK OF THE WEEK

BLANCO STATE PARK on Blanco River at U. S. Highway 281 has a series of picturesque rock dams on the swift flowing stream that was named for the clearness of its water. The park extends along both sides of the river with many good sites for picnicking. A stone recreation building, rest rooms and playgrounds make it an attractive day-use park.—Photo Courtesy Texas Highway Department.

BLANCO STATE PARK at the crossing of the Blanco River by U. S. Highway 281 preserves the attractiveness of a typical hill country stream with just enough development to meet the needs of picnickers who find it an enjoyable day-time park.

Six masonry dams on park land along the river provide a series of waterfalls so skillfully built that some of them seem to be natural. Rock work in the park is attractive, including a narrow rock arch bridge, the rock building at the park entrance and a rock and timber pavilion. There is good rock work to be seen also in the private homes separated from the park by rock walls.

Low water crossings below some of the dams make both sides of the river accessible. Small groups can use tables and grills and larger groups can arrange long tables in the pavilion at the first dam with a low water crossing. Restrooms are located at this pavilion.

The park is in rodeo country and a rodeo area and livestock display is an important part of the park activity handled through a local organization.

Cottonwoods, pecan and live oak trees provide most of the shade. There is a wading area below the place where Coke Creek flows into the Blanco River and fishing pools below most of the dams. Recent floods have washed out the fish and until restocking it is not profitable to take along a rod and reel.

Travelers using U. S. 281 will find a pleasing and short detour by turning into the park and following the park road through the first low water crossing and continuing up-stream to the next low water crossing just below the Blanco City water supply dam. By continuing on, the park can be re-entered or some of the attractive parts of Blanco can be seen by following the County road back to the town square where it rejoins U. S. 281.

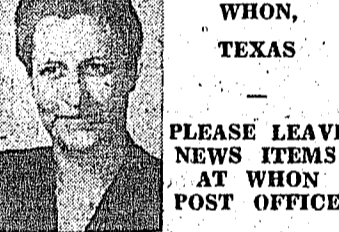

At the square there is a County hospital occupying what once was the County Court House. This became available for its new use when Johnson City became the new County seat.

Numerous peaks are in the vicinity of the park. Persons wishing to climb them should first get permission from the land-owners.

Not available this season, but appropriated for by the 1957 session of the State Legislature, are park improvements that will include nine overnight shelters.

Fly, Mosquito Pose Most Serious Threat

Fifth in a series on bug control prepared by the Home Insect Control Bureau for the Real-Kill Company.

Fly

The most common, the most annoying, the filthiest and yet the most tolerated of all insects are flies and mosquitoes.

The ordinary house fly transmits many kinds of disease and parasites. It feeds on almost every kind of filth and lives in close association with man. Flies breed in moist places such as over-ripe fruits, garbage pails and animal refuse. And they multiply at an astonishing rate.

A single pair of flies, if all their descendants lived and reproduced normally, would in one year multiply to cover the entire land surface of the earth to a depth of 47 feet.

After World War II millions of people purchased DDT for controlling flies. Results were spectacular, and there was talk of eradicating the house fly entirely. But by 1948 reports began to filter in that DDT-resistant flies had begun to emerge in many areas. Even though entomologists have since developed new materials to overcome the resistance mechanism of the fly, the fight continues.

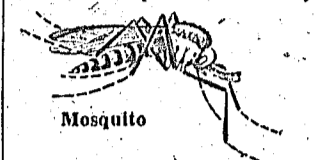

How To Control Flies

Control of flies lies in good sanitation practices and the destroying of all breeding places. Inside the home, flies can be killed by spraying them directly with an aerosol-type space spray containing effective killing agents such as pyrethrins and methoxychlor. For best results spray upwards at an angle so that the fine particles of the spray will tend to hang in the room like a fog. Close off the room for five or ten minutes. Spray breeding places, windows and screens, garbage and other refuse containers, with a residual surface spray containing Dieldrin. This is the type generally used for crawling bugs and will protect for weeks.

The Mosquito Threat

Mosquitoes have annoyed man and undermined his health for centuries. They have prevented industrial and agricultural development in many parts of the world. But more serious than that, they have been the carrier of such dread diseases as malaria, yellow fever, dengue fever, encephalitis, and sleeping sickness.

Mosquitoes breed only in water and great swarms can be produced in extremely small quantities of water, whether foul or clean, salt or fresh. They also breed in empty cans, tree holes, rain gutters, and under eaves.

How To Control Mosquitoes

Inside the house, spray with an aerosol insecticide. Fog the room completely by spraying upward into each corner. Also spray the curtains, under beds, tables and other furniture. Close off the room for five or ten minutes.

Outside, spray a residual spray, containing Dieldrin, around window and door frames and screens, under eaves and porch roofs. Repeat these applications whenever mosquitoes are seen.

NEXT: BEDBUGS AND SILVERFISH.

Today's MEDITATION from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

Read Mathew 25: 34-40. As he thinketh in his heart, so is he. (Proverbs 23:7.) A few friends, known as the Quaker Group, visit a certain prison each month. Each of us is assigned one or more men to see. One of the men is frank to admit he spends much time planning ways for another holdup when he is released. His present term is for highway robbery. My plea with this young man, twenty-four years of age, is to replace his thinking of crime with thoughts as to how he can help others and also go straight himself when he goes free again. All of us do well to check ourselves daily as to our thinking. When we realize evil thoughts are slipping in, then quickly we need strength to banish them. Just to decide we will think only of things free from sin will not accomplish desired results. We need to pray for strength. Through prayer we can seek divine guidance to replace evil thoughts with ones fully acceptable to our heavenly Father. The complete answer of how to overcome evil with good is given in the Bible.

PRAYER

Our Father, forgive us our sins. We thank Thee that Thou hast provided a way of escape from sin; from evil thoughts. That we may find help, teach us to come to Thee in prayer and to read Thy Holy Word. In Jesus' name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Thinking right will make this a happier day. —Paul S. Lippincott (New Jersey)

FARM SAFETY

A fall on the farm or ranch can cost a rural family more money than a fall in prices on the agricultural commodities markets, according to the Texas Safety Association. The Association points out that falls are the leading source of all injuries to farmers and ranchers in Texas. However, injuries from all mishaps are expensive. In fact, a recent study shows that the average medical costs of such injuries runs $105 per accident. Piled on top of this is, in many cases, the necessity of hiring extra labor or suffer a serious loss of production, besides pain and discomfort. Common sense and good house keeping can substantially reduce hazards according to the Texas Safety Association. Around the yards and corrals, pick up loose wires, boards and scrap metal. Don't allow nails or hangers to protrude unnecessarily. Keep hand tools in safe racks. In the home, keep stairways clear of objects and well lighted. Have a step-ladder or kitchen stool handy for reaching high places. And, don't carry a "lazy man's load" that will block your walking view.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Morgan of Hearne came Friday night for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Morgan. On Sunday their son, Wayne Morgan, came from the National Guard Camp at Fort Hood and returned home with them that afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Dee Freeman of Guthrie, Okla., visited here during last week with his mother, Mrs. J. H. Freeman and his brother, Lester Freeman and wife.

Mrs. Roze Genz and her daughter, Mrs. Otto Mendel of Houston, visited a son and brother recently at Leonard, Kansas. From there they went to Albuquerque, N. M. and visited a daughter and sister, Mrs. Leon Hellman and family. They then came to Santa Anna and visited with other members of the family, Mrs. S. E. Blanton and Mrs. R. W. Cupps. Mrs. Genz, formerly a longtime resident of this area, is looking real well. She and daughter left for Houston Saturday.

Even discounting home fires, another 4,000 farm people die each year from accidents inside the house. Thus, home safety is a prime starting point in eliminating accidents which rob families of their livelihood.

THREE OF A KIND . . . More than 50 sets of triplets attend 12th annual triplet convention at Pallsades Amusement Park, N. J. Representing them are: Lynn, Carol and Bernadette Slota, 5; Ellen, Nancy and Lynn Nudelman, 9; and Robert, Joseph and Douglas Murtagh, 9.

FARM SAFETY WEEK

The element of risk is an occupational hazard of farming. And there are two types — financial and physical. Vast armies of statisticians and farm economic experts have worked for years to lessen the effect of the first type. But reduction of the physical risk is largely up to the individual farmer. National Farm Safety Week is being observed between July 21 and 27th. It is designed to focus attention on and help reduce the tragic toll or agricultural accidents.

If 1957 holds true to the average, then some 15,000 U. S. Farm residents will die of farm mishaps. Another 1,300,000 persons will be injured. And many of these accidents could have been avoided.

Most mishaps occur during peak work seasons when hired help is apt to be short, causing the farmer to work longer hours and become tired long before the job is done. As a result, he is tempted to take risky short cuts or postpone needed repairs on machinery and buildings. This sets the stage for crippling accidents. Farm machinery is a big killer. Careless handling of equipment causes many accidents but even a careful operator may be hurt if he is running broken or worn machines. A good maintenance program for machinery could do much to keep down farm tragedies.

Farm animals are another common cause of injuries and death. Some accidents with animals are unavoidable. Still, many result from impatience on the farmer's part or an underestimation of the animal's dangerous traits. Fires take an annual toll of about 3,500 persons — not counting the millions of dollars lost in valuable food, domestic animals, clothing, buildings and equipment. These fires occur at the rate of 300 per day and most can be traced to defective heating units, overloaded electrical wires, lack of protection from lightning, etc.

Even discounting home fires, another 4,000 farm people die each year from accidents inside the house. Thus, home safety is a prime starting point in eliminating accidents which rob families of their livelihood.

A LITTLE BIT HUMAN

By Ona F. Lathrop

MADGE ELLIS glanced up and down the corridor once more before entering the Children's Ward. She straightened her cap and apron and tucked a stray blonde curl behind her ear, but it was no use—there was no young Doctor Lantz in sight. Oh well, surely he would be along soon, and today—today she would try to impress on him she wasn't just another nurse in uniform—she wanted him to think she was someone special, because she thought HE was special.

She set the tray of tempting little dishes of food in front of her little patient. "See? A little egg hiding in its shell—milk that says, 'Please drink me, Hoppy.' Which one first?" The dull eyes turned away uninterested, but Madge drew forth her newest wheedler, a jumping-jack from the five-and-ten. It might not be good child psychology, but is worked and it would keep the two-year-old occupied until Dr. Larry could get in to make his examination. Maybe it would even bring a smile to Larry's tired eyes.

"If she gets him home," Madge sighed. "No measures are too strenuous to get some food into that thin little body. I'd even jump over the string myself to get that trayful of food down him." "Don't worry. He's coming along. Kids bounce back. Another week and he'll be eating the flowers off the plate, thanks to your good care. By the way, you must like children. You seem to be taking on more and more of these little patients."

"Of course I love children," she said. "I hope to specialize in that field as I go on up the ladder. You ought to understand. Don't you love them?" She let her grey eyes widen. "I like them all right—but most of all I like to see them improve and pull out of the dire things that hit kids. I like to do what has to be done, they are interesting cases to me—but taking care of them day in and day out as you do—that really takes patience that I wouldn't have." He was loosening the bandages on Hoppy's burned leg with deft tender hands and was able to do the dressing without a single crying spasm from Hoppy who was entranced by the jumping-jack. "You sound as if they are just cases to you. Well, I like them because they are children," she declared. "I hope to have a dozen of my own some day," she smiled shyly.

At that he looked up at her and grinned. "I hope I'm around to be their pediatrician. I could use a practice like that." "Oh, they won't need a pediatrician. Mine will be healthy brats and I mean to keep them that way. I'll handle most situations myself." This time he looked deep into her eyes. "I imagine you will, at that. You'd make a very competent mother, I'm sure." Then they both laughed, and he went on. "But you're the kind of nurse we need, top. Don't give up your career too soon."

Don't worry, I haven't spotted the eligible father yet," she lied. "Wow! You gals are really designing plotters, aren't you?" he frowned. "What chance has a mere man got?" And he picked up his bag and ran. "That's not it. I want to explain. I'm not a great doctor. I lost a very important case once — my own nephew. It got under my skin for a while, so then I decided never to let them touch me personally—I've tried to keep them just cases. But you are right. They are people. I must remember that. You've dealt me a good one beneath the belt tonight, but I should thank you for it. How about a coffee break down in the cafeteria? And maybe dinner tomorrow? I need someone like you to keep me human."

Our
WASHINGTON
Letter

By Congressman
O. C. FISHER

AFTER TRIMMING the foreign aid authorization by $750 million, the House last week approved a $3.1 billion bill, and left it to a Conference Committee to iron out the differences with the Senate.

I joined with all Texas Congressmen — except three — in voting against the bill on final passage. It contained too many spending items not vital or essential from the standpoint of our security or that of the Free World.

AS A DEFENSE LAWYER former prizefighter Joe Lewis proved last week in Washington that he carries quite a wallop. During the month-long trial here of Teamster Vice-President James R. Hoffa, Joe, idol of the Colored populace, was very much in evidence in the courtroom. With 8 of the 12 jurors Colored, the former champ was seen on more than one occasion back-slapping and in jovial conversation with the defendant in the presence of the jurors.

Hoffa allegedly delivered $2,000 to an FBI agent, posing as an investigator for the McClellan racket investigation committee, as a bribe to obtain secret files and other help during a time Hoffa was being investigated. Well, it happened that an FBI movie camera concealed across the street snapped Hoffa in the act of delivering the envelope with the money. And so there followed an indictment for conspiracy, bribery and corruptly attempting to obstruct the operation of the Senate committee.

But with the help of Joe Lewis the verdict was: Not Guilty!

Comedian Jimmy Durante was a guest of Speaker Rayburn at the weekly Texas delegation luncheon last week. He said he was confused a bit by so many people coming out of the House chamber, few going in. In fact, it reminded him of the tipsy miss stopped by a cop driving the wrong way on a one-way street. "Where are you going?" he thundered. "I don't know," she replied. "But I must be late because everybody else seems to be coming back from wherever I'm going!"

Tom Bailey, who had been attending the National Guard Camp at Fort Hood, came in Sunday and visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Bailey and then went on to Snyder, where he is employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Welch and Arlene, spent last week in Red River, New Mexico, while on vacation. They stopped at Dumas, Texas, and visited with the John Allen Tood family. On July 14 Mr. and Mrs. Welch and Arlene and Mrs. Gertrude Davls attended the Melton family reunion at Gatesville.

SAVED FROM DESERT . . . Mrs. Wilma White of Houston survived 6 days of desert heat when her car stalled in Big Bend National Park.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Bartlett spent the weekend at Placid, with his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Bartlett.

Scales which not only weigh out but mix the ingredients for a batch of cookies, explosives or cement have been developed.

Hippocrates is credited with being the first ophthalmologist. For the treatment of eye diseases he suggested restricted diet and hot foot baths.

Porcupines, contrary to popular belief, do not "shoot" their quills in self defense. The notion probably arises from the animal's habit of fighting back, when cornered, with lightning strokes of its dart-studded tail.
