Traffic Laws and YOU

HOW TO PASS A BIG TRUCK

Big truck-trailer combinations have both a blind and a deaf spot, the American Automobile Association revealed today, and urged drivers of passenger cars to give extra safety toots on their horns as they overtake the huge freighters on the highway.

"The blind spot is caused by the high placement of many rear-view mirrors," Harry I Kirk, AAA president said. "When the mirror is seven or eight feet above the roadway — about three feet higher than the top of a modern passenger car — and focused far back, the truck driver cannot see an automobile traveling close beside his truck," he explained.

"The deaf spot on the larger trucks is directly to the rear," the AAA official stated. "It is created by the partial vacuum which exists for a length of fifty or sixty feet behind a moving truck. An automobile horn blown within that area is not likely to be heard by the truck driver above other noises."

Mr. Kirk claimed both the situations can be overcome by the motorist, and he can pass a truck safely if he develops the habit of tooting his horn just as he comes abreast of the rear of the truck.

The motor club officer suggested the following procedure for safe overtaking of highway freighters:

1. Stay well back of the truck before attempting a passing maneuver — about one car length for each ten miles per hour of your speed.

2. Signal for a left turn, check your own rear-view mirror and sound your horn or flash your headlights.

3. As you draw abreast of the rear of the truck, sound your horn or flash your lights again.

4. When you are well ahead of the truck signal for a right turn and pull back into the right lane.

VEHICLE DIMENSIONS, LOAD EXTENSIONS AND TOWING

No single vehicle can exceed 35 feet in length, except a motor bus, which may be 40 feet. No combination of vehicles can exceed 50 feet, except a combination including a house trailer, which may be 55 feet. Provisions as to length do not apply within the limits of an incorporated city or town.

The load on any passenger vehicle shall not extend more than 3 inches to the left or more than 6 inches to the right of the vehicle.

The load on any vehicle shall not extend more than 3 feet to the front or more than 4 feet to the rear of the vehicle. When a load (under special permit) extends 4 feet or more to the rear, a red flag shall be displayed at night and a red flag at least 12 inches square shall be displayed during the daytime on the end of the load. When one vehicle is towing another, the drawbar or other connection shall not be longer than 15 feet. When the towing connection is a chain, rope, or cable, a white flag at least 12 inches square shall be

Names of Recent Graduates Needed By Ex-Student Assn

The names and addresses of graduates of the Santa Anna High School since 1953 are needed by the Ex-Student Association. Someone from each class is urged to contact M. L. Guthrie, Jr., at the post office and make plans with him to get the names and addresses of your former classmates.

Plans are progressing nicely for the annual homecoming, which will be held Friday and Saturday, October 11 and 12. All former students of the Santa Anna schools are invited to attend.

Everyone is urged to invite all your former class mates and friends to Santa Anna for the two-day affair.

Vacation Bible School Program Sunday At Methodist Church

The Vacation Bible School in progress at the First Methodist Church will put on a program at the church Sunday night, beginning at 7:00 p. m.

The school began Monday and will close Friday. A good attendance is being enjoyed each day. After the planned program, the union service of the Methodist Church, the Presbyterian Church and the First Christian Church, will be held at the Methodist Church. The service was to have been at the First Christian Church. The three churches are participating in the church Bible School.

Rev. Frank L. Turner will deliver the message with Rev. Jim Henderson being in charge.

All members of the three churches are urged to attend and visitors are welcome.

Three-Church Union Service Has Good Attendance

There was a fine attendance Sunday night at the First Christian Church when pastors and members of the Presbyterian and Methodist Churches met with them, in the third of a series of six union services.

Jim Henderson, pastor, was in charge and his brother, Pat, led the singing in a fine way. A part of the Junior Choir of the church sang several choruses, under the direction of the pastor.

Dr. Ben-H. Moore, of the Presbyterian Church, offered prayer. Rev. Frank L. Turner, pastor of the Methodist Church, brought the message. The subject was, "Faith is Essential." Hebrews 11:1 was used as a basis. Turner said, "The God who delivered Daniel is our God and all things are possible to him that believe." These and other assurances were brought out in the message.

On next Sunday night the union service will be held in the First Christian Church again and Rev. Turner will again bring the message.

All are welcome to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kingsbery, Sue and Carol and Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bruce spent the weekend on the Frío River, near Leaky. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kingsbery and children of Crystal City, were staying at the same tourist court for the weekend.

attached to it. Maximum width for any vehicle, including load, is 96 inches. (Wider loads require special permits. Farm implements are not included.)

Revival Started Wednesday At 1st Baptist Church

The annual summer revival at the First Baptist Church began Wednesday night and will continue through Sunday, August 25th. Services are being held twice daily; the morning services at 10:00 a. m., evening prayer services at 7:30 p. m. and the evening worship services begin at 8:00 p. m. The church is air conditioned and they extend a cordial invitation to everyone to attend each service.

J. O. Folkes, pastor of the McNeil Baptist Church of Luling, Texas, is the evangelist. Charles Wooten, local music director of the church, has charge of the song service. A. G. Purvis is pastor of the church.

School Elections Carry Without Discontenting Vote

The two school elections held here Saturday did not receive a vote against either proposition. It was held at the City Hall and all qualified voters of the school district were urged to vote.

However, a very light vote was cast. Only 28 persons went to the polls. In the tax election, the vote was 26 for and none against with two falling to mark their ballots properly. In the bond assumption election, the vote was 25 for and none against with three failing to mark their ballots properly.

The election returns were canvassed at the meeting of the school board Tuesday night and the elections were declared official.

Wreck Friday At Highway Junction

Two cars were involved in a collision Friday afternoon at the junction of U. S. Highways 84 and 67 just west of town. Considerable damage was done to both vehicles and one woman was injured, but was not considered as serious.

Max Lee Price, driving the family 1957 Ford, was traveling east in the junction and Levi W. Horne of Richland Springs was traveling west and turned south on the new Highway 67. Horne failed to yield the right-of-way and Price crashed into the right front of the Horne car.

Raymond Greaves, investigating the accident, said he would estimate the damage to the 1950 Horne Chevrolet at $250 and the damage on the Price car at from $350 to $400.

Mrs. Horne was taken to the Santa Anna Hospital and admitted for treatment. She suffered a number of bruises and other injuries.

Both drivers were given traffic tickets. Price for speeding and Horne for failure to yield right-of-way.

No Unusual Names In VA Records

No name is unusual in the 30,000,000 names carried in the central file of Veterans Administration. Even the most unique are duplicated — some of them many times over.

So, says Dr. George T. McMahan, manager of the VA Center in Waco, when you write to the agency about your benefit claim or your GI insurance policy be sure you give your benefit claim ("C") number or the number of your policy, whichever applies. While there may be names like yours in VA's files, your "C" or your GI insurance policy number is yours and yours alone, Dr. McMahan said.

Dr. McMahan made the plea today in an attempt to cut down on "mystery mail" which is costly and time-consuming to handle.

Dr. McMahan said "mystery mail" makes up 10 percent of all letters received by the agency. This one letter in 10 is the "clunker." It requires additional correspondence checking to track down the veteran to whom it applies.

Not only is such mail costly to handle, Dr. McMahan says, it also means the writer will not receive a prompt reply.

Mrs. E. B. Lindsey and Mrs. W. A. Schawe of Waco, were here Tuesday, visiting with Miss Kathryn Baxter. They were en route to Ft. Davis.

Herbert H. Busse Resigns As Assistant Coach

Cullen N. Perry, Superintendent of the Santa Anna Schools, received a letter of resignation last week from Herbert H. Busse, assistant coach and teacher in the high school. Busse was on the local faculty two years. He resigned to accept a position in another school.

His resignation was accepted by the school board at their meeting Tuesday night. Two applicants were on hand for the job.

One applicant was tentatively accepted, pending study of his major and minor degrees, to see if they can be worked into the school system satisfactorily.

It is likely that the board will make a definite decision before the end of the week.

Schools to Open September 3rd

City Increases Tax Rate And Garbage Collection Fee

The City Council, in their regular meeting last week, increased the tax rate for Santa Anna and also increased the garbage collection fee. They considered 35 applications for the job of city secretary, but as of Wednesday, have not employed anyone.

The tax rate was increased 10 cents on the $100 valuation, from $1.25 to $1.35. The increase was necessary because of the big increase in operation cost of the city. George Johnson, one of the City Councilmen, was appointed as a committee to submit a budget for the city for the next year. In this budget will be a 15-cent street fund budget that the city has not had previously. Money for street improvement and maintenance has been being paid out of the general fund.

Garbage collection was reduced to 75 cents on a trial basis sometime ago, but the council decided it should be increased back to $1.00 monthly as it was when the garbage collection was started several years ago. The increase will be billed with the September 1st billing.

Garbage collection in the business district was increased from $1.25 per month to $1.50 per month.

Ford Barnes, mayor, said they were still working on employing a city secretary. He did not know when the job would be filled.

Football Stadium About Complete

The new football stadium is just about complete. The fire department boys and several others put in a good night's work Monday and then a large group was scheduled to be there Wednesday night to try to finish the job.

Putting the seats on the stands was a Quarterback Club project and a large number of people have helped to get the job done. The field should be ready for use by the time the first game is scheduled, September 6 with Clyde.

Composers and Singers Attend Regular Singing

The regular Second Sunday Singing held in the North Side Baptist Church Sunday afternoon was well attended and much fine singing was enjoyed. New books were on hand.

There was plenty of good leaders and pianists present. Homer Goodgion was in charge and kept things moving.

J. B. F. Wright of Brownwood was present. He is the author of "Precious Memories" and led in the singing of this beloved song. He said he wrote the song the night of October 18, 1923.

Mr. Wright is also a good speaker and gave from memory an interesting reading, "Immortality." F. E. Meek, also of Brownwood, was present and songs he composed were used.

Ministers leading songs were the pastor of the church, Rev. Charles G. Thompson, who invited those present to attend the revival meeting now in progress. Jim Henderson, pastor of the First Christian Church and his brother, Pat, of Fort Worth, led numbers and a minister of a Nazarine Church in Brownwood was another leader of songs.

The next regular Second Sunday Singing will be held at 2:00 p. m. September 8th at the First Christian Church. Everyone is invited to these singings.

Mrs. Annie Brannan returned home from Altus, Okla., Monday night, where she had been at the bedside of her son, W. N. Cullpepper. He came with her. He had been injured in collision in July, and will go back in a few days for further treatments.

Dr. and Mrs. Max Woodward of Sherman were weekend visitors with his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kingsbery and his brother, F. C. Woodward, visiting here from El Paso.

The Santa Anna School Board, meeting Tuesday night, set the opening of school for Tuesday, September 3. The faculty is complete except for the assistant coach and a selection has been made for this position. A study is being made to see if teacher assignments can be worked out. It is likely that the board will decide before the end of the week on this applicant.

Holidays were set with November 11 being the first one, followed by Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays. The end of the first semester will be January 18, unless some school days are lost due to weather or some other unforeseen difficulty.

The board also re-adjusted some salaries, authorized the paying of regular bills and authorized the final payment to the construction company building the new football stadium.

Graveside Rites For Miss Mollie Rainey

Graveside services and burial was held in the Mukewater Cemetery Saturday, August 10, at 10:00 a. m. for Miss Mollie Rainey, who died on Thursday at San Angelo at the age of 96 years.

She was well and favorably known in this area, having lived in the Longview Community, north of Santa Anna, for many years. She moved to San Angelo several years ago.

She was a charter member of the Eureka Baptist Church. A Baptist minister from San Angelo officiated at the rites.

Mrs. Hattie McKowan is visiting in Chickasha, Okla., with two of her sisters.

Football Practice Starts Aug. 26th

Jack Rucker, new head coach, spent most of the weekend here, then went back to his home in McAllen. He said he would be back in Santa Anna Monday, August 19, and would be at the school gym most of the time during next week. During this time he would like for all the boys who plan to come out for football and their parents to come by and get acquainted.

Rucker said beginning Monday, August 26, football practice would get underway with 2 workouts per day. The morning workout will be from 9:00 a. m. to 10:30 a. m. and the afternoon workout will be from 4:00 to 5:30 p. m. There is a possibility the club will have a scrimmage during the latter part of the first week. The first game of the season is scheduled for September 6 with Clyde on the home field.

The coach wants any boys who might be interested in being managers to come by and see him. He said he would like to have two boys as managers for the season.

LICENSE UNDER NEW EGG LAW EXPLAINED

College Station — The Texas Egg Law, which becomes effective August 22, provides that no person can buy or sell eggs within this state for subsequent resale without first obtaining a license from the Commissioner of Agriculture.

The exception to this, says F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist, are those who sell from their own flock and claim no grade; hatcheries which buy eggs for hatching; public eating places where all eggs purchased are served by the establishment; food manufacturers purchasing eggs to be used only in their products; agents employed and carried on the payroll on a salary basis by persons licensed under this act; and any retailer, as defined by law — that is, any person selling or offering for sale, eggs to consumers in this state.

In order to create a fund for the enforcement of the provisions of this act, each licensee shall pay a license fee. The annual fee for dealers, wholesalers, and processors shall be determined according to the average weekly volume of the month in which the licensee handled the most eggs in the preceding twelve months ending on May 31. The proceeds of such license fees shall be paid into the State Treasury by the Commissioner of Agriculture in a fund known as the Egg Law Enforcement Fund. The deadline for obtaining licenses is October 20. Actual enforcement of the law will start February 17, 1958.

Clinton Horne is attending the Senior Camp this week at Glen Lake Methodist Camp, at Glen Rose.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Houdek and children, Shelley and Robbie, are spending their vacation at Fort Stockton this week.

'WEEDY' MILK ON ITS WAY OUT?

A headache of long-standing to the dairy industry may be nearing permanent relief through virtue of a new machine said to remove off-flavors from milk. The new device, which uses steam and high temperatures to destroy and carry away grass, onion and other bad flavors, is actually an Australian flavor-removing machine which was perfected and further developed at North Carolina State College.

Although very expensive as an addition to a dairy plant, the machine is believed fully justified by dairy farmers who in recent years have had to install proportionately expensive equipment such as bulk cooling tanks themselves. The flavor-saver would prevent these farmers from heavy losses due to rejections for off-flavor, which nowadays could amount to entire storage tanks of milk being wasted.

What the machine will not do is to disguise inferior milk, and for that the public can be grateful.

BAMBOO — A NEW 'SPECIALTY' CROP FOR TEXAS
Bamboo can be used for something more than oriental-looking shades and fishing poles. And as a new money crop possibility for Texas' lumber-growing sections, bamboo is a natural.

As a source for pulp for fiber, bamboo has a potentially bright future because: it grows faster than soft wood and yields four to six times as much pulp per acre; it could be harvested mechanically, eliminating the saw and the ax; it would be cheaper to handle at the pulp mill; it will grow almost anywhere that the average minimum temperature doesn't go below five degrees — ready-made for East Texas' climate.

Also, bamboo fiber has proved to be better for certain specialty papers — such as facial tissue and fine writing papers — than other soft wood pulp.

Bamboo could never replace the reliable pulp-producers we have today. But in our time of crop restrictions, allotments, curbs and controls, it certainly shows promise as a possibility for idle Texas acres.

A son named Alvin Eugene, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Gene Anderson of Brownwood, in a hospital there Saturday, August 3rd. The little one weighed 7 1/2 pounds. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Moss of Santa Anna. Mrs. Moss was with the parents and baby several days at the weekend.

Mrs. Jimmy Kimmey of Abilene came Saturday to visit a part of this week with her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Lewellen, while on vacation.

NEW FISHING LAW TO BENEFIT TEXAS FISHERMEN

College Station — A new sports Fishing Law which increases fishing license fees becomes effective September 1, 1957. The additional revenue will enable the Game and Fish Commission to increase its work program by about 25 percent and will generally benefit Texans interested in better fishing.

The new law states, in effect, that it shall be unlawful for any person to fish in any waters of this state without first obtaining a fishing license, according to Ed Cooper, wildlife conservation specialist.

The exceptions to this law, says Cooper, are persons under 17 and over 65 years of age; any person, or member of such persons' immediate family when fishing upon property he owns or upon which he resides; and persons fishing with trotline, throw line, or ordinary pole or line having no reel or other winding device when fishing in the county of his residence. No other fishing license shall be required of a person who holds a commercial license issued in this state, adds the specialist.

The new law differs from the old one in ways besides fee charge, points out Cooper. Unlike the old law, the new one is not concerned with the type of bait to be used. Another difference is that the license fee is the same for Texans and out-of-state residents. The new law which requires salt water anglers to be licensed and charges a lower fee to non-residents, paves the way for a reciprocal licensing program with some of our neighboring states, concludes Cooper.

Miss Ann Stiles of Amarillo visited here in the home of her mother, Mrs. Ella Stiles, at the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Gilbreath and family visited his mother, Mrs. Clara Gilbreath, at Gulfport, Miss. recently.

Be happy! Live Better—Electrically

Who takes over when Mother takes off

We bet it's Father and we bet he leans heavily on the family's Electric Servants.

And why not? Electric servants draw mighty low wages. Lower, even, than they were 25 years ago. For instance, if yours is the typical American home, you're getting twice as much electricity for your dollar today as you did in 1932. Your electric bill may be higher, but that's because electricity is doing so much more for you now.

• Actually in homes served by WTU, the average cost of a kilowatt-hour of electric service is 20% LESS than it was 10 years ago!

Think about it for a minute. Don't you agree that electricity is the biggest bargain in your budget?

AN AURA of foreboding hangs over Washington, the Federal City. The annual influx of visitors and tourists, particularly the thousands of school children who flock to the city just before the summer vacation, take the sight-seeing tours and see the world's most beautiful city . . . snow white, classic government buildings, historic shrines, wide, clean tree-lined streets, beautiful parks, rank with flowers and blooming shrubs, a kaleidoscope of color.

Thousands of convention visitors—for Washington is today one of the leading convention cities—visit the Halls of Congress, romance over the beautiful embassies and churches of all the denominations of the world—the great Cathedrals and institutions of learning; the museums and art galleries; the megalom of people from every nation and clime; hotels are full, streets are full, traffic is terrific . . . all visitors.

These people don't see the real Washington, the Citizens who live here, have their homes and families here, pay taxes, pay the high est prices, go to and from work here, go to school here; they don't see the slums, the blighted areas, the areas that are slowly but irrevocably becoming new slums—they don't hear the mutterings, the open rebellion, the clash of opinions; they don't see the schools, vandalized, but integrated; they don't read the reports of health-center clinics that there have been 100 pregnancies among teen-age girls from Sept. 1956 to April 1957; that 178 are among negro girls, 12 among white, and that 129 of these were in junior high schools, 53 in high schools.

With population of the city proper, in the district of Columbia now crowding the million mark, the metropolitan area including the adjacent communities in Virginia and Maryland over 1,500,000, and still growing. Sincere efforts to eradicate slum areas under the Urban Renewal Federal program are hamstrung by Congress and a multiple of governing bodies over which the Board of Commissioners have no control; Citizens watch other areas day-by-day irrevocably becoming more slum areas. But all a visitor has to do is drive out 13th street in Washington to see it happening. For Sale signs litter the once fashionable 10th St. and it will not be long until the same pattern will show up there.

ACROSS THE DESK

From the Canton Independent-Sentinel, Canton, Penna.: Every citizen should ask himself, from time to time, where he is headed and exactly what he is doing with his life. We do not pose as one who knows it all, or as a great moralizer who can tell everyone else how to live his life or her life.

On the other hand, we are admittedly idealistic enough to feel that the human race was put on the earth for some purpose. And, likewise, we believe that every citizen has an obligation to contribute something as he travels the road of life.

In small towns, large towns and in rural areas, there are many who spend one hundred per cent of their time seeking pleasure, self-indulgence and self-entertainment. Too often, money and a good time are the only goals that amount to much in the lives of many of us.

If you can show nothing for your life, if you have dedicated it to nothing in particular, and if you have not sincerely tried to leave just a little mark on your community, to create just a little good, to help your fellowmen in some small way, then we suspect that the life hereafter will be an empty one. The happiest people we have known, and the richest, are those who have done something for their fellowmen, and who have stood for something in their community.

We are here for a purpose and we must answer the test and decide what we will do with our lives.

From the P. P. News and Courier, Luray, Virginia: A lot of complainant individuals in the U. S. were set on their ears recently when a top Russian official in a TV interview said our grandchildren would enjoy the blessings of socialism.

Instead of the Russians bringing us state socialism (communism) it will come from within our own country, if it comes. We have already accepted the fore-runners of the socialist state—government in many lines of business. Elected public officials are seeking to extend its field of activity. They attack our capitalistic system (private enterprise) and promise the people their God-given rights under non-profit government enterprise. A lot of people fall for that baloney and cast another vote for the promoters of socialism.

Contrary to popular opinion, heart disease is not an exclusive liability of the aged. Of the 810,000 deaths of heart and blood vessel disease in 1955, about 232,000 were under the so-called "retirement" age of 65.

1/2 cup grated Cheddar cheese
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1/2 teaspoon salt

Brass pipes and fixtures can be polished to brilliance if you rub a cut piece of lemon over them. Rinse off with hot water and then polish until they shine.

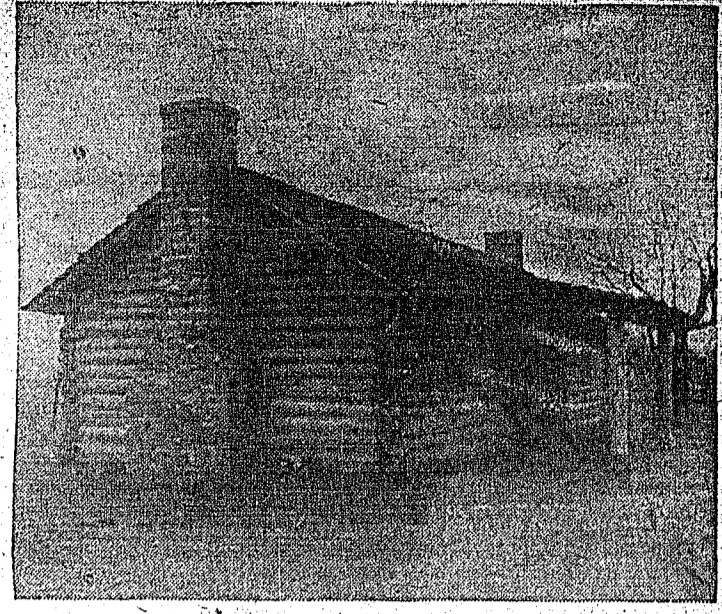

Clothes are much easier to iron if your board is well padded and the cover stretched taut over it. Have the cover damp when you place it on the board for best results.

Never iron over buttons, hooks, snaps or fasteners. These will scratch the bottom of the iron. Zippers should always be closed before ironing.

Toss your plastic clothes line in warm water and suds either in the tub or washing machine to clean it easily. Rinse before using.

PARK OF THE WEEK

STEPHEN F. AUSTIN STATE PARK has many reminders of the "Father of Texas," including this pictured replica of his home at San Felipe. The original was on the bank of Bollinger's Creek, which flows through the park. To reach the park turn off U. S. Highway 90 three miles east of Sealy and take a paved spur road which crosses the Katy railroad tracks.—Photo courtesy Texas Highway Department.

Stephen F. Austin State Park at San Felipe occupies 664 acres of the site selected for the great colonization project that ended in the creation of the Republic of Texas.

The land to be settled had been picked between the Colorado and the Brazos rivers by Moses Austin. Upon the death in Missouri of Moses Austin, his son, Stephen Fuller Austin, took up the project and carried it through with such success that he is called "Father of Texas."

The park has three distinct parts. One area is on the waterfront of San Felipe, headquarters of the colony. There is a larger picnic and recreation section in a beautiful grove on the bed of the Brazos River toward Sealy. Between them is a smaller historic area. In this middle area is Sculptor John Angel's bronze monument of Stephen F. Austin and a replica of the log cabin in which Austin lived. The hand-dug well that supplied San Felipe, with drinking water is also here, a memorial financed by school children of the County and a marker where John Brickner was killed by a cannon ball in the skirmish at San Felipe between an advanced party of Mexicans and Sam Houston's little army.

In the river bed off the small park in what was once known as Commerico Plaza of San Felipe lies the frame of a ferry boat that was in operation until a few years ago. It is a reminder of the days when San Felipe was a port for the Yellowstone, the Lively, the Cayuga and the San Felipe, vessels that plied the Brazos River.

Many things of interest are to be seen at San Felipe. There is the old frame church in the upper story of which the meetings of the Masonic Lodge of the colony were held. City officials still meet in the old town hall. A marker shows the site of Con-vention Hall where the colonists gathered for consultations in 1832, 1833 and 1835 and made decisions that shaped the way for the later Declaration of Independence.

Just two miles off the busy traffic of U. S. Highway 90, San Felipe's quietude contrasts with the bustling life of modern Texas. Annually on November 3, the birthday of Stephen F. Austin, there is an observance of "Father of Texas Day."

A nine hole golf course, available to park visitors on payment of greens fees, is operated by a local golf association. The detour to San Felipe from U. S. Highway 90 is marked a short distance East of Sealy.

PUPPY LOVE IN COURT

By Don Wood

AMES COLDWELL ran his fingers through his hair and tried to ignore the chill as his secretary thumped the criminal file folder on his desk.

He flashed a pleading smile at her, and was handed back a speak-to-me-only-on-business stare.

Miss June Smith's silence said more clearly than words that she did not approve of the way he was handling this case.

Funny, he told the water cooler at the door. Funny how a full-grown Prosecuting Attorney could be made to feel like a little boy caught in a cookie jar just by the silence of one girl.

Automatically opening his morning mail, his mind wandered to the case that had brought the chill to his office. Two weeks ago old Jim Smathers, the town's favorite gardener, had been arrested. The evidence in the case was all here in the file.

Jim had worked at the home of a local couple on the afternoon that the lady of the house had aired her fur coat on the clothesline. When Jim left, the coat was missed. Neighbor children, who always gathered around the cheerful old gardener, had informed police that no strangers had been seen in the area. On the basis of the evidence, Ames had little choice but to prosecute.

"What can I do?" Ames had shouted at his frigid office girl. "You've read the evidence."

"Circumstantial evidence," was her reply. They had spoken only when necessary since that time. Until now Ames had not realized how much June's approval meant to him. He had hardly eaten in the past two weeks.

He threw the remainder of his unopened mail into the wire "out" box and grabbed the Smathers file.

"I will be in court, Miss Smith."

"Take this along to read in your spare time," answered his pert secretary, handing him a new file marked "Dog Damage."

During the routine opening of the Smathers case, Ames found time to glance at the dog folder. What he saw brought him out of his slumped position in the court room chair.

The testimony was as Ames had anticipated. Little appeared that he did not already have in his file. Then Smathers was called to the stand in his own defense.

Gnarled hands knotted in his lap, old Jim Smathers denied that he had taken the coat.

Ames rose to cross-examine.

"Did you see anyone near you on the afternoon in question, Mr. Smathers?"

"Only some kiddies."

"And some puppies?"

"That's right."

Ames approached the judge's desk. "Your honor, I think this case should be dismissed. New evidence handed me this morning indicates that the coat has been found. Puppies in the area are reported to have accumulated a lot of articles in a cache under a tree back of the home. Undoubtedly the fur coat was playfully pulled from the line by the pups."

The judge placed his glasses on his nose and read the dog file. Removing his glasses he asked, "Mr. Smathers, why didn't you tell the court that dogs might be responsible for this act?"

"I . . . I couldn't say for sure. I didn't want to get any of my young friends in trouble."

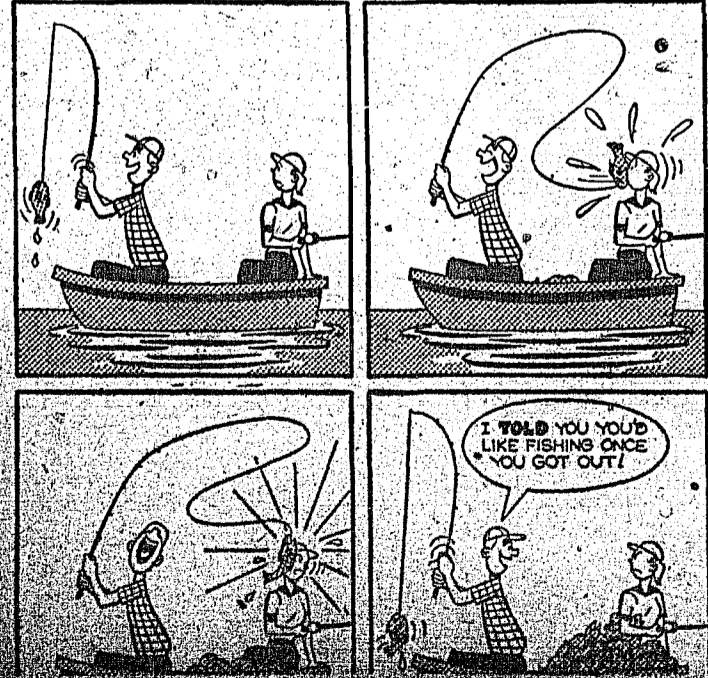

"Case dismissed," smiled the judge.

Thinking back over his weeks of misery during the case, Ames felt he was entitled to a bit of revenge.

"Please come into my office, Miss Smith," he clipped. Then as an afterthought, "But first, you might like to brush your coat. June looked up in surprise.

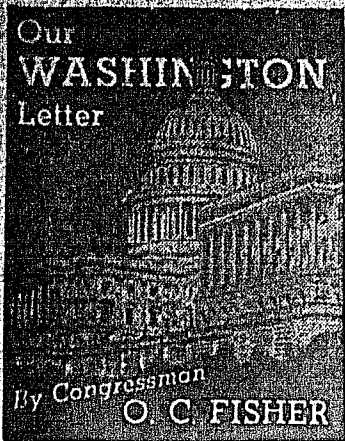

"Well, you see, Miss Smith, neither of us is married . . . yet . . . and it isn't too appropriate for our clients to see hair on your suit.

THE BAFFLES By Mahoney

'HEY, QUIT ROCKIN' TH' BOAT'

WHAT CAN BE DONE to improve the Supreme Court? This question has been asked by people everywhere in recent years, and a hundred suggestions have been advanced. Most of the proposals to improve the quality of the Nation's court of last resort deal with jurisdiction, limited terms, requirements for prior experience on the bench, etc.

Last week I introduced a resolution to improve the court in the future, and instead of treating the symptoms of the trouble I undertook to do something about the disease.

The disease springs from the political factors that so often enter into modern-day appointments. It happens too often that a President, regardless of how good his intentions may be, is influenced too much by political obligations, his own preconceived philosophy, the ideology of the appointee, his religion, his sectional interests, etc.

While the human element is inherent in all such appointments and always will be, the trouble has been that the considerations aside from real judicial qualifications too often control.

Take Chief Justice Warren as an example. He is undoubtedly a great man in many ways, an able administrator with strong convictions on many subjects. Yet many able critics who have studied his actions on the court find in his decisions a yen for carrying out his personal philosophies, his views of how things should be rather than what the Congress has enacted or what the founding fathers wrote into the Constitution. In doing so he often resorts to works on sociology, etc. to support his judgment.

MY RESOLUTION would amend the Constitution by providing that the Supreme Courts of each of the 48 States would, in case of a vacancy on the U. S. Supreme Court, select one from their respective courts, who would join with the other 47 from the other States, and that committee of 48 would, by majority vote, choose a man to fill the vacancy.

It seems to me that this plan should eliminate most of the politics from the appointment in the future. It should assure the nation high quality type of Judges, with judicial minds and temperaments. The plan would undertake to treat the disease rather than the symptoms.

Pennsylvania soft coal production in 1956 was 82,000,000 tons, or a little more than 18 per cent of the total national production of 500,000,000 tons for the year.

The world's largest mobile power shovel, "The Mountaineer," which is used in coal stripping operations, stands as high as a 16-story building. It cost $2,500,000 to build and has 117 tons of nickel alloyed steel castings in its stressed components. Two railroad hopper cars can be filled with one scoop of its bucket which has a capacity of 90 tons.

Walk while ye have light, lest darkness come upon you: for he that walketh in darkness knoweth not whither he goeth. (John 12:35.)

David, our little three-year-old son, suffered for nine months with leukemia. When my husband and I were told that our only child would soon die, our first thought was: "No! this cannot be true." But as the months went by, we knew that it was true. We prayed earnestly for strength to carry us through that trying time.

Then one day in May, just as the morning light was breaking, he left us to go to his heavenly Father. Our son had learned to love Him so much during his short life.

After my husband and I had prayed by our son's bed, we went out on our back porch. As we watched the sun come up, I thought how wonderful of God to give us the morning so that we can leave behind us the darkness of the night. As surely as night falls, God gives us a new day to walk in the light.
