Jr. Mountaineers To Complete Season Tuesday

The Junior Mountaineers of the Santa Anna Ward School will complete their football season Tuesday night at Bangs, unless something happens between now and that time to cause another postponement of the game. The Juniors have had the regular schedule interrupted three times this season due to illness.

The final game will be played at Bangs, beginning at 7:00 p. m. Tuesday, Nov. 19. This game was postponed from October 15, due to illness of several of the Bangs boys.

A game will be played Thursday night of this week between the local Juniors and the Early Juniors. This game was postponed from Nov. 5, because of illness on the Early team. The game will be played at Early and begins at 7:00 p. m.

The other interruption in the regular schedule was the Blanket game, but it has already been made up.

The Juniors are leading their little league. They have two ties to their record. Early, second in the standing at the present time, has one loss, a forfeit to May, and a tie to mar their record.

The game Thursday night will likely determine the title. In the first game between Santa Anna and Early, the game ended in a 6-6 tie.

Robert Perry Has Emergency Operation Monday

Robert Perry of the Niwot Community, became ill Saturday afternoon and on Monday was taken to the Coleman Hospital where he was operated on for appendicitis soon after arriving at the hospital. He was reported to have been pretty sick Monday night but is improving at this time.

Robert, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Perry, is one of six seniors who would have been playing his last high school football game Friday night. One of the outstanding Mountaineers this year, Robert has been on the regular line-up at right end. He is a good pass receiver and plays a good defensive game. He will be sorely missed in the Friday night game.

It is because of his illness that we do not have the regular Niwot News column this week. The News wishes to express our sincere hopes that he will soon be up and around again.

P-TA Bazaar Has Good Attendance

The bazaar put on by the P-TA Saturday night drew a large attendance and articles in wide variety were arranged attractively for sale.

Financial returns were good. The Trickham - Cleveland booth got the prize. The Elementary pupils put on an interesting variety program at eight o'clock.

W. A. Standly, Longtime Resident Buried Saturday

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday, November 10, at the First Methodist Church for W. A. Standly, who died Saturday morning at 3:00 o'clock in the Santa Anna Hospital. He had been a patient there since October 18. Rev. Frank L. Turner, Jr., pastor, officiated.

Mr. Standly had been in failing health for quite sometime.

He was born at Giddings, Texas, November 28, 1876, being 80 years, 11 months and 9 days old at the time of death. He was married to Laura Dorrset in 1894.

They came to Coleman County 53 years ago and have remained with the business life of Santa Anna most of that time. At first he operated a variety store, and later a blacksmith shop. He retired several years ago.

Standly had been a member of the Methodist Church 34 years. He was also a member of the WOW and Odd Fellows Lodges.

He is survived by the wife of Santa Anna; two daughters, Mrs. George Ralston of Placerville, Calif., and Mrs. Boyd Rainbolt of Fort Worth; one sister, Mrs. R. A. Byran of Houston; five grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Dan Blake, Joe Harvey, Norval Wylie, Oscar Chaney, Bill Griffin and Jim Daniell.

Flower bearers were Mrs. Clifford Stephenson, Mrs. Doug Moore, Mrs. Louis Zachary, Mrs. Ione Caton, Mrs. Tom Hays and Mrs. Norval Wylie.

Burial was in the Santa Anna Cemetery with Hosch Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Local Taxpayers Making 4 Common Errors In Returns

Taxpayers in the Santa Anna area are making the four "all-too-common" errors in their tax returns, according to Jim Cheatham, of Internal Revenue Service at Brownwood. These are: "Failure to print or write legibly, forgetting to sign, not reporting all income, and mistakes in arithmetic."

Mr. Cheatham continues, "Three out of ten taxpayers who make major arithmetic errors pay too much tax, or select the wrong tax from the tax table."

"Unreported income often stems from bank bearing interest," taxpayers with time deposits frequently overlook the bank credits to their account. Also, we find taxpayers forgetting that some of the money received when they cash E bonds is interest income, if the bond has reached interest-bearing life."

Dependency errors, especially those involving working wives, are "all-too-common" on 1957 returns. According to IRS, some working wives earning less than $600 file separate returns to get a refund on their withholding tax. This separate filing actually costs the couple money, because the husband cannot claim the wife's exemption.

"These couples," Mr. Cheatham said, "should file joint returns, and when joint returns are filed both parties must sign the joint return."

Mr. and Mrs. John William Burden and their three children of Abilene, visited here Saturday night with his uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Burden.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Lovelady of Texas City and Mr. and Mrs. Ceell King and family of Brownwood, visited here over the week end with Mrs. Kate Holmes and other relatives.

Mountaineers To Play Final Game Here Friday Night

The Mountaineers will entertain the Mason Cowpunchers on the local field Friday night, beginning at 7:30 p. m. This will be the final game of the season for both teams, so far as conference play is concerned. Mason will continue on in post-season play as champions of District 9-A, regardless of the outcome of the game.

In district competition Mason has scored a total of 119 points in four games while allowing their opposition only 19 points. No team thus far has scored more than one touchdown against the Cowpunchers. In season play the Mason eleven has scored a total of 202 points while allowing the only 34 points to nine foes.

The Mountaineers will lose six seniors this year. These include Robert Perry, Donald Fellers, Bobby Densman, Gary Floyd, Eugene White and Lyndon Haynes. There will be 12 Juniors returning next year and four Sophomores are out for practice this year. Six Freshmen are making good showings this year and possibly others will be out next year.

Local Piano Pupils Presented in Recital

The Brownwood District Music Teachers Association presented their pupils in the first of a series of piano recitals on Monday night at 7:30 in the Walker Memorial Library Building.

The 26 pupils who played were from the first through the fourth grades and each played two selections. Reggie Tryon and Beth Irick were presented by Mrs. Arthur Turner. Most all of the pupils showed ability and talent and their numbers were well received.

Those attending from Santa Anna were Mrs. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ipick, Jr., Mrs. Melvin Lamb, Dr. and Mrs. William Tryoff and sons, and Mrs. W. V. Priddy.

Good Rains Continue To Fall In This Area

Good, slow rains have continued to fall throughout this area. This makes about four weeks that we have received moisture that has an unestimable value to this part of the state. Lots of small grain is beginning to come up all over the county. Some of this is volunteered and some of it has been sowed. Pastures look better than they have in years.

Forecasts seem to indicate that the rains are likely to stop and the weather will warm up beginning on Thursday or Friday. If this happens, lots of growth in the fields and pastures will be noticed within a few days.

Most all the cotton farmers of this area still have some cotton in their fields. This has been damaged considerably from the rain and the two frosts this area has had. Some say the damage will amount to 25 percent or more. Others say the cotton will not be worth gathering.

As one cotton farmer told your editor this week, he had lost ten crops to the drought, and didn't guess it would hurt much more to lose one to the rain. In fact he kindly liked the idea.

The rains are the finest thing that could happen to this area. Even though there is bound to be some loss on the cotton, the good will far offset this loss. It appears the ground is getting a winter seasoning that we have not had in ten years. We need it and everyone should get down on their knees and express your thanks to the Giver of all good things.

Lions Club Pancake Tickets Are Now On Sale

All members of the Santa Anna Lions Club now have admission tickets to the annual Pancake Sale to be held in the Kelley Building, Friday, December 6. Admission prices are 50 cents for everyone.

Funds derived from the Pancake Sale will go into the Lions Club Charity Fund and will be used for the benefit of underprivileged families in this area.

Pancakes will be served from about 11:00 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. and from 3:00 p. m. to 8:00 p. m. A complete meal will be served. This will include all the pancakes, you can eat along with bacon, syrup, butter and coffee or milk.

Make plans now to eat a couple of meals with the Lions Club on December 6th.

John Hunter of Rockwood Ill In Brady Hospital

A postal card from our Rockwood Correspondent, Mrs. John C. Hunter, states she had to take Mr. Hunter to the Brady Hospital early Monday morning and that she would not be able to get her news column in this week. She stated that Mr. Hunter was very ill.

We have not received any further report on Mr. Hunter's condition, but hope he is now recuperating and will soon be able to be up and around again.

Mrs. Georgia Teagle Dies After Illness Of Several Days

After a stay of two weeks in a Brownwood hospital, Mrs. Georgia Teagle of Santa Anna, died Saturday at 9:35 p. m. Her daughter, Mrs. Ernestine Blacklock of Washington, D. C., was with her.

The body was brought to the Hosch Funeral Home and lay in state, awaiting the arrival of her son-in-law and grandson, Col. Ward T. Blacklock and son. They came by car.

Services are tentatively set for 2:00 p. m. Thursday, Nov. 14.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bruce left Sunday for a visit at Couthatta, La. They plan to be gone about a week and will visit some points in Texas before returning.

Misses Linda Riley and Patricia Bryan spent the weekend in Austin and attended the Texas-Baylor football game.

Christmas Opening Plans Being Completed

Plans for the annual Christmas Opening in Santa Anna are rapidly being completed. The big day has been set for Friday, December 6 and plans are being made to furnish entertainment for the entire family throughout the day. The Lions Club will have their annual Pancake Sale that day and a big parade will be held in the afternoon.

Over $200 in prize money will be awarded to floats and window decorators during the day. The first prize float will be awarded $50.00; second place float will receive $25.00; and the third place float will receive $15.00. The next seven places will be awarded $10.00 each.

Every organization in the Santa Anna area is invited to enter a float in the parade. Floats should be made with the Christmas theme in mind. All who plan to enter a float in the parade are requested to notify Ford Barnes at the Chamber of Commerce office as soon as possible, in order that plans for the parade may be completed.

Window prizes will be awarded as follows: First prize, $5.00; second prize, $3.00; the next eight prizes will be $2.00 each. All who plan to decorate windows are requested to contact Ford Barnes and make reservations for a window. It is hoped that all the windows in town can be decorated for the Christmas season.

Children will come in for several prizes during the parade also. In this part of the parade children will be judged on the most unique costume. First prize will be $3.00, second $2.00; and the next six places will receive $1.00 each. All the young children of this area are invited to participate in the parade.

The local merchants also enter a contest during the Christmas Opening. Each merchant is to decorate their show windows in the Christmas Theme and the one judged the best receives a bronze plaque to display in his store for the coming year.

The same program of home decoration as has been held in the past, will be repeated again this year. Out of town judges will make regular trips over the residential area of the town. The home judged to have the most beautiful Christmas decorations during the month of December will receive a first prize of $5.00; second prize will be $3.00 and the third prize will be $2.00. Just three prizes will be awarded in this group.

These prizes will be awarded at the annual Christmas party to be held on December 24, when over $1,000 in merchandise will be given away. Your local merchants will be happy to tell you how you may participate in the big Christmas party planned for December 24th.

Amos Caldwell of Dallas and Mrs. Octavia Timmins of Marshall, spent the weekend with Mrs. Mena Shuford in Rockwood.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health.
HENRY A. HOLLE, M.D., Commissioner

Austin — Now that school days are routine and winter is starting to push fall aside, there will probably be the usual increase in communicable diseases common to children.

Thousands of unnecessary cases of communicable diseases — and deaths — could be prevented every year in Texas. If all parents would only realize the danger of the common cold.

Colds, especially a child's cold, should never be neglected.

But how many times have you heard a parent mention that Junior or Susie "have the sniffles" but they "seemed" well enough to go to school.

And what's more they will continue to go to school as long as they're able to walk, and only when they become seriously ill does the careless parent call the family physician.

But by that time a good many children in Junior or Susie's classroom have become exposed, thus setting up a chain of sickness and time lost from school.

And with the threat of the Asian flu hanging over the state, the common sense protection of keeping a child home when he

IT WILL take a long time for either official or unofficial Washington to get back to norm after the short but electrifying visit of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II, and her Royal Consort, Prince Phillip with their retinue of British officialdom.

For Britain's Queen, young in years and experience, most certainly possesses the qualifications for her position as the reigning monarch of the United Kingdom and the British Commonwealth of nations—poise, beauty, tact and a wisdom beyond her years; regal in bearing, but with a wistful smile and a democracy of action which quickly captured the hearts of a million people who saw her and the thousands who were privileged to greet her at a round of state dinners, receptions and visits from childrens hospital to the Maryland-North Carolina football game, and two churches—The Washington Cathedral, her own Episcopal Church of England and the National Presbyterian church, the church of President Eisenhower and his First Lady, and of Her Majesty's Scotch forebears.

About 2,400 newspaper, radio and TV representatives and press photographers were privileged to shake her hand at the tremendous press reception which jam-packed the Presidential Rooms of the Statler Hotel. And these hard-bitten gatherers of the News Media were completely captured by her graciousness and democracy and cheered her time and again.

It is said the British Queen reigns, but does not rule. Of course no one knows what her majesty and the President talked about behind the snowy walls of the White House, but that there was grim talk behind the glittering facade of a social whirl must be supposed, for immediately these things happened.

The British Foreign Secretary Mr. Selwyn Lloyd, and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had a long private meeting after which it was announced that the British Prime Minister Mr. Harold Macmillan would come to Washington for official discussions. It was announced by our Ambassador to the United Nations, Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., that debate over the serious Syrian question would be taken up on the floor of the General Assembly of the United Nations; Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy, although briefly in office, announced that he was taking personal charge of this country's ballistic missile program and would require weekly progress reports from the Army, Navy and Air Force, and on Project Vanguard, our Satellite program; Announcement was made that the nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization would immediately discuss undertaking a pool of scientific and military projects, to be formed for a "crash program" much on the line of the old Manhattan Project which delivered the first Atomic Bomb during World War II; it appeared that at long last the Allied nations might close ranks over the Middle East powder keg and that despite the bubbling of oil out of the sands of Arabia and other Middle East nations, it might be better to patch up our fences among the democratic nations of the world—Turkey, Greece, Israel, Italy, France, West Germany and the United Kingdom—than to keep trying to satisfy the insatiable demands of the dictators in Saudi Arabia, Egypt and others in the Arab world.

or she is not feeling up to par makes more sense than ever.

A child who is sent to school feeling tired, perhaps because of inadequate meals, is handicapped. He not only lacks the aptitude for learning, but he is running the chance of falling prey to disease germs.

A youngster who is allowed to go to school suffering from a cold or the flu, runs the risk of serious complications. These troubles may develop into pneumonia, or if his resistance is low, signs of tuberculosis may appear.

However, when a slight illness is promptly and properly cared for, the child is usually well in a day or so.

The teacher can also be alert to notice if a child isn't feeling well. Of course, she is not expected to diagnose disease, nor is it her province to give health examinations, but she can recognize the common signs of pallor, a cold and fever.

For his own protection and of other children in the classroom, a sick child should not be allowed to stay in school.

TRIBUTES AT TRUSCOTT FOR MRS. ALBERT HAYNIE

Funeral services were held at Truscott Monday, Nov. 4, for Mrs. Albert Haynie, who passed away in her home there on Saturday night.

Among the local survivors are a brother, Mr. W. E. Vanderford and several nieces.

Mrs. Haynie lived here many years ago, with her family.

Mrs. D. A. Seale and Archie and Pat Taylor, left Monday night for Cheyenne, Wyoming, to bring Wilbur Seale home from an Air Force Base there. He will be on leave for several weeks and then will be transferred.

Deer Hides Wanted At TB Hospitals

San Antonio — Mr. Hunter, when you bag that buck, tag the hide for a TB patient!

That is the word from volunteers who work in the state tuberculosis hospitals and who will have the hides tanned into buckskin for use in occupational therapy.

Joseph Hennessy of San Antonio, chairman of the State Volunteer Council for the TB Hospitals, says the hides should be salted, drained, tied and turned over to the motor freight lines for shipment to the Austin Taxidermist Studio, 2708 Fredericksburg Road, Austin, where the owner, L. M. Rathbone will handle them for consignment to the tannery.

The salt is necessary to help the drainage and to prevent spoilage, Rathbone says. The tag should read "for TB patients", so the motor freight lines can haul them without charge. The volunteers will take it from there.

"That buckskin can mean a lot to a guy in the TB hospital who won't be going hunting for some time to come," Hennessy says.

The deer hide collection has the endorsement of the Game and Fish Commission and the Sportsman's Clubs of Texas. Last year, Air Force Reserve members took training mission time to fly the hides to the California tannery. It is hoped they will again be able to provide this service, Hennessy said.

Second Sunday Singing Held At Christian Church

Because of much sorrow, sickness and continuing rain, attendance at the Second Sunday Singing at the First Christian Church was rather small. However, some unusually fine singing was enjoyed.

Because so many people from out of town usually attend these singings, they are not called off for any reason. The past Sunday there were more from Brownwood present than were present from Santa Anna.

The next regular Second Sunday Singing will be held at the North Side Baptist Church on Sunday, December 8 at 2:00 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Haynes visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs.

Elmer Haynes, in Santa Anna Sunday.

The rains we're having are sure nice, and anyone getting off the pavement is in for some mud, which makes it kinda bad in getting around. But if anyone has any news items I would appreciate it very much if you will drop it in my mail box or leave it at either store, please.

Mr. and Mrs. John Whetstone left Sunday for a visit among relatives around Fredericksburg. He will do some deer hunting. He goes every year and last year brought back a deer. This year he plans to bring a deer and a wild turkey, which would be fine for a man in his late eighties.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to pay a personal tribute of love and thanks to the many friends of my dad, the late Mr. William Albert Standly. I have never needed to be reminded of his goodness, his wholesome wisdom nor his kindness toward his family. That did not end in that small circle, it swept out and on to whomever needed his help. These things I knew of him well, but in his illness and passing I was raised higher spiritually when I heard others speak these things aloud. To him who God had blest with a long and full life, filled to the brim with the fulfilling of His purposes.
A most loving tribute to Rev. Turner of the Methodist Church of which my dad was a member. He was a faithful steward. His message in the service helped to lift the veil of sorrow for us all.
Another loving tribute to the entire staff of the Santa Anna Hospital. No where in this free world could my dad have had more constant nor skillful care. His nurses and Dr. Kollwitz were more than nurses and physicians and I only wish every sufferer could feel their warm reflection and tenderness. This tenderness shown my mother too, will never be erased to me and my family.
Santa Anna was my home town too. It isn't the largest town, but it has the largest heart in the world. My husband, J. B. Rainbolt, Sr., and our three children and six great grandchildren, thank you!
Ora Standly Rainbolt, Fort Worth.
Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rainbolt, Jr., and two daughters, Fort Worth.
Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Disheroon and two daughters, Irving.

SENT FOR—COULDN'T GO

MANY years ago, the writer was asked to be the representative of his alma mater at some educational meeting in a section of our country that he had never seen. But he did not go because of previous engagements at his church. It was a bitter disappointment. Now, having been in the section a number of times, the time when he was sent for and couldn't go brings not even painful recollection.

But how often in life a man has been sent for and could not go when the failure meant a life-long loss to him! And brought sad memories in the after years! Think of the dismal case of a man to whom a great opportunity came but which he could not undertake because he was not prepared. Manifestly, the time for preparation is not the time when the opportunity comes.

Worst of all, will be his lot if he is invited to the great wedding feast and cannot go because he is not prepared or if, venturing brazenly in, is found without a wedding garment. Now is the time by right living to prepare for the time when you will be sent for to go into the presence of the great King.

CHICKEN salad takes on nice flavor when you add a bit of grated cheese to it along with chili sauce.

Cauliflower is such a pretty vegetable when it comes to the table graced with cheese sauce (made by adding some processed cheese to white sauce and letting it melt). Add even more sparkle with colorful bits of pimiento scattered on the sauce.
Corned beef hash needs a bit of onion for flavor and some tomato juice or cream of mushroom soup for a moistening agent. Fry in a heavy skillet until both sides are crisp and golden brown.

Stuff parboiled halves of green pepper with hominy heated in bacon fat. Finish it off by covering with cheese slices and bake until cheese melts.

Ground veal patties take on flavor when wrapped in bacon. Place a spoonful of catsup on top, then bake them until done.

Here's a new twist for chill con carne: Before chill is ready, bake a pan of cornbread biscuits, then serve them riding on top of chill placed in a casserole.

TELLTALE PICTURE

By Grace Scott

DANA RALSTON tidily brushed the jacket that Vincent had worn on his weekend trip to Trevittown. Though his territory selling tractors was no longer nor his work harder, he had lately stayed the whole weekend when he went to report to the main office instead of coming home on Saturday as usual. Brushing over the breast pocket she heard a small crackling sound. Unhappily but determined, Dana fished in the pocket with chilled fingers. A picture of a young, pretty woman!

Dana sank down on the trimly made bed because her knees refused to hold her.

Not Vince! Vince was big, and intense, and truthful. To bolster her faith she remembered the beginning of their acquaintance. Vince Ralston had come to the ranch to sell Dad a tractor.

"A fine young man," Mr. Harman had told Dana's mother. "I've invited him to dinner. Something tells me that young man has never tasted cooking like yours."

Dad was right. Vince was an orphan and his life had been a long story of orphanages and foster homes, and at eighteen he had been sent out to make his way. Finding a job with Macklin-James Tractors, he had been first an errand boy, but he had worked hard. Then he was selling, and now he was in line to manage the territory.

And then they had planned their wedding and found this little home in Donnsville just right for his territory. They had been so happy. Oh... Dana shivered as memory slid to a halt before the funny little things that happened. She had been happy, but had Vince?

Mrs. Harman had cautioned Dana about rushing into marriage. After all, Dana, we know little of Vince, his family or his friends.

"I don't have to," Dana had declared then. "But just the same Mother had often been right. Had she been right this time? Unwelcome tears welled up into Dana's eyes. Oh, Vince, I've been so proud of being Mrs. Vincent Ralston!

But more and more he sat up late going over his books. Once after she had gone to bed early, she woke to find him still at work in the living room. She had urged him to stop, and he had hastily hidden some papers as she came near.

And then there was that unexpected long distance telephone call. Thinking of the telephone made Dana start. She usually called her mother to chat before she started dinner, but today time was short. Vince would soon be home. Preparing dinner, she thought sadly, "Maybe our last one." The aroma of meatloaf and apple pie filled the house and soon she heard Vince drive up in front. As always she thrilled with joy at the thought of him, but now she stifled it.

"Hi, Dana," he called, and as he came in the door he looked unusually happy. "I want you to meet..." he turned and held out his hand to someone outside. Dana's eyes widened and her heart pounded painfully. Oh, Vince, oh, my darling! Have you come to ask me to free you?

The lovely young stranger smiled, but she had an appraising look in her eyes. Dana stepped back falteringly.

"Dana," Vince's voice was gentle, vibrant. "I want you to meet Betty, my long-lost sister. I've been searching to find my family, but everything seemed to stop me. Now, at last Betty called me and I went to see her. She's told me about how Mom died when I was a baby during the depression, and Dad gave us kids to people who could take care of us."

"Oh, Vince," Dana's throat choked with tears. "I've always wanted a sister. Now our baby can have an aunt..." She broke off, embarrassed as Vince's laughing shout. "Now we're really a family!" Yes, a real family, she thought happily.

HIS TYPE OF TYPIST

By Georgia C. Nicholas

MR. GARDINA thought he was smart when he hired a typist to help him in his stationery store. She could keep busy when business was slow. So he ordered a girl from the local business college and she wasn't much of a looker which disappointed him only slightly because he figured maybe she was a better worker. Maybe she wouldn't always be thinking about her hair-do and her make-up and all the new clothes she would buy with her next pay check.

He soon found out that her curves were her error curves. Mr. Gardina had never done any dictating but it was a relief not to have to type his own letters, punch by forefinger punch. At least that's what he thought before he tried to read that first letter. The girl pleaded nervousness because she had never taken dictation from a man before. In the school their teachers were women. She did the letter over and it took her nearly an hour to get a copy he was willing to send out.

"Please don't give up on me, Mr. Gardina," she begged. "I want to learn to be a steno, then I want to learn to be a secretary. A secretary can make wonderful money."

"What's the difference between a steno and a secretary?" Mr. Gardina asked, just to show the girl he could be patient and friendly.

"Oh, Mr. Gardina, don't you know? They told us at the school that a stenographer takes dictation but a secretary takes over. Isn't that cute?"

"Very cute," Mr. Gardina replied and thought about it. He even laughed a little to pamper her. He found out in the course of time that the young lady knew everything. If you didn't believe it, you only had to ask her.

Yes, she knew all the answers but she couldn't spell them. She blamed it on either the typewriter or the dictionary. Mr. Gardina told her one day, "Don't forget that the dictionary is on the house, and you're welcome to anything you find in it. Don't hesitate to help yourself."

One day after lunch Mr. Gardina came back and found the store locked. This was puzzling until he realized that he had gone four and a half minutes over his allotted noon hour. When he unlocked the door and stepped inside, he saw a note on the typewriter. "Mr. Gardina," it read. At least she had learned how to spell his name. "Your wife phoned that you're to pick her up at the clinic."

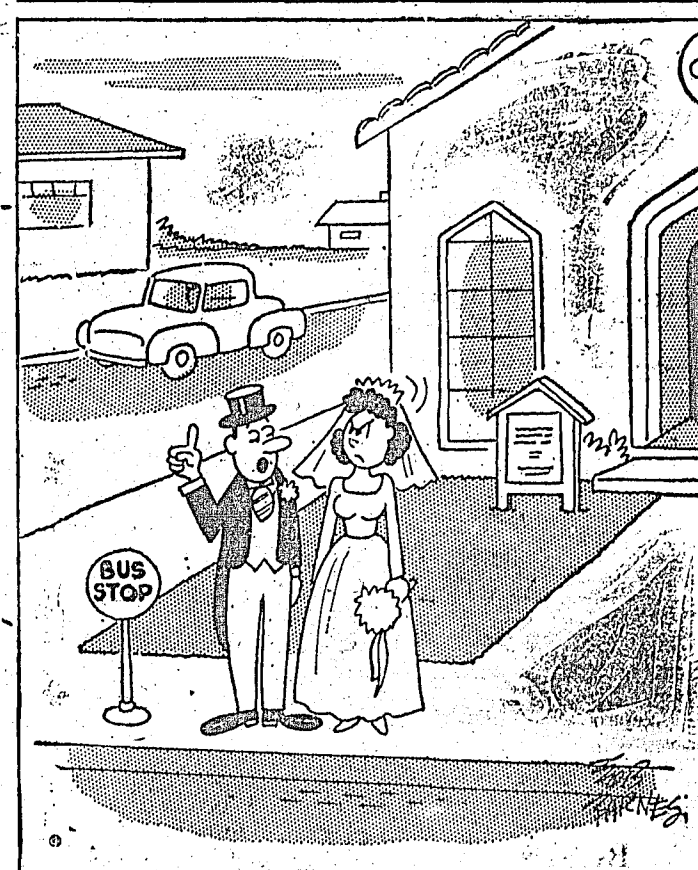

The girl didn't even know that the slang word for jail was spelled with a k at the end. He figured it was some kind of a gag and called up his friend, the sheriff. He gave him holy hades for locking up his wife without sufficient cause.

"You're crazy," the sheriff agreed. "I've got the note right here. It says my wife phoned that I am to pick her up at the C L I N C. Clinic."

The sheriff roared. Mr. Gardina had to hold the receiver a full foot away from his ear. "You dope, you stupe," the sheriff finally said. "All your typist did was to leave the letter 'i' out of the word 'clinic.' My wife's over there too. Didn't you read your paper last night? It's the day they have the blood bank at the clinic. In war and peace," he orated, "we've got to have plasma. And the way you've let your blood pressure rise, you'd better get over there and donate a pint yourself."

Which Mr. Gardina gladly did — when his typist-saleslady got back from a shopping spree.

"If we're both going to live on my salary, we'll have to start right now watching our pennies."

Mrs. Lola Stephens returned home Monday from San Antonio where she had gone on Wednesday of last week, to be with her sister, Mrs. Hal Wingo, who had major surgery there last Thursday. When she left for home Mrs. Wingo was doing about as well as could be expected. The Wingo's made many friends here in the long ago, when he was pastor of the First Baptist Church. All will wish for Mrs. Wingo a complete recovery.

Mrs. Lula Taylor has not been so well of late, but seemingly is holding her own. Her daughter, Mrs. Jack Brimberry of Odessa, visited with her recently and her son, I. O. Taylor of Brady, was here Friday.

Interesting Program On Safety At Self Culture Club Meeting

There was a fine attendance and interesting meeting Friday, Nov. 8, when the Self Culture Club met with Mrs. Hardy Blue, Mrs. Cullen Perry, president, was in charge.

Upon arriving, those attending were directed to the dining table, laid with white linen, and decorated with a cornucopia, filled with red berries and autumn flowers. Mrs. Nona Woodruff poured coffee, Mrs. Blue and Miss Bettie Blue, members, and Mrs. T. A. Mills, a guest, served cookies and pecan halves, and were otherwise hospitable.

Mrs. Norval Wylie reported Mrs. Stafford Baxter had given a dining table to the Santa Anna Library, which the club sponsors.

Roll call was answered with "Safety quotations", topic for the afternoon. Miss Eudora Hawkins of Abilene, with the West Texas Utilities Co., had been announced to bring a program on safety. She presented this in a fine way by giving a digest of the traffic laws of the state.

Literature from the Department of Public Safety was passed out to be studied. Accompanying Miss Hawkins at the meeting were: J. C. Wilson of Abilene and Milton House of Santa Anna, both with the WTU. All took part in the discussion and questions asked from the literature.

Mr. Wilson gave a demonstration on artificial respiration, using Mr. House as a subject.

Mr. House, face down on a blanket on the floor, was given "the works" very expertly. All present learned a lot.

The club is very thankful to have had these three fine workers on the Safety Program.

As a token of appreciation, the club presented Miss Hawkins with a pair of gloves.

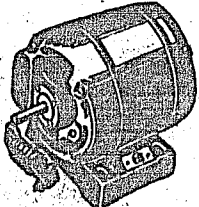

Others present were: Mrs. J. C. Mathews, Mrs. Tom Kingsberry, Mrs. Sam Collier, Mrs. Otis Blvins, Mrs. C. L. Eeds, Mrs. Frank L. Turner, Jr., Mrs. Chas. Evans, Mrs. W. B. Sparkman, Mrs. A. L. Oder and Misses Alta Lovelady and Dora Kirkpatrick.

You don't buy safety — you build it. DRIVE SAFELY.

Today's MEDITATION

From The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

© THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read John 14:27-31.

Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you. (John 14:27.)

Spending a few days with her relatives, a girl was impressed by the peaceful atmosphere of their Christian home. On returning to her home at the end of her vacation, she did not hesitate to ask, "Mother, why don't you and father live like Auntie and Uncle?"

The mother, finding herself unprepared for such a question, gave the answer, "You see, dear, they are Christians. Their way is different from ours."

Christianity is called the religion of peace. It is sad to think that many of us who profess to be Christians do not prove ourselves tolerant, loving, and forgiving. Ought we not to be more eager to spread peace than dissensions? To create love rather than express anger? The Bible tells us, "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee."

PRAYER
O God of Peace, help us so to live that we set an example of Christian love and unity in this world so divided and troubled. May we never lose that peace which Christ grants us, but in all our trials, remember His unfailing assurance, "I will not leave you comfortless." In His name we pray. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Man is kept in perfect peace when his mind is stayed on God.

TAX-MAN SAM SEZ:

Some folks get plumb excited about an income tax audit. The Internal Revenue Service examines thousands of taxpayers' returns each year. The Internal Revenue Agent has as much responsibility for establishing a refund for the taxpayer as he does for establishing additional tax for the government. He is required by law, regulations, and procedures to establish the correct tax due. The taxpayer is required by law to prove all of his deductions on his tax return. Failure to prove the deductions will result in additional tax, not a jail sentence. The government must prove an intent on the part of the taxpayer to defraud before he goes to jail. Relatively few of the many thousands of taxpayers audited are accused of fraud. When the Internal Revenue man calls you will save time if you calmly produce your records and work with him in determining the correct tax due.

TAX-MAN SAM SEZ:

Planning on the amount of self employment tax you owe can reap big dividends for a lot of farmers and small business men. Congress has provided very liberal benefits to a lot of old timers in the last few years. In many cases a farmer or a businessman in his 60s can substantially increase the amount of social security he will receive by making additional sales, on which self-employment tax is due. The Social Security Administration carefully checks the eligibility of applicants for social security payments. It pays to be careful in determining exactly how much employment tax you owe. The Farmers Tax Guide (Free), Your Federal Income Tax (35c), and the Small Business Tax Guide (35c) all give a clear explanation of how much self-employment tax you owe. These publications can be obtained from the Internal Revenue Service after about December 1. Many County Agents now have or will have a copy of the Farmers Tax Guide for local farmers.

TAX-MAN SAM SEZ:

Most folks don't worry about how much income tax they owe until it's too late to do something about it. Cash basis farmers, businessmen, and even individuals can affect the amount of tax they pay during the year on a small scale the same as a lot of big corporations do. The corporations simply plan their business to make a sale during this year or next, or on the other hand, to incur an expense for this tax year or the next. Since most taxpayers are on a cash basis, it may not cost you very much to pay the preacher a lot more for the rest of the year than you ordinarily would if you have a lot of income or are going to itemize your deductions for the year. On the other hand, you may want to wait until January 1 and just give the preacher enough to get by on until next year since you can better afford a tax contribution for the next tax year than you can for this one. It is certainly worth thinking about from not only paying the preacher angle, but from all income and expense angles. A study of your tax instructions may be advisable.

There are probably a million versions of the origin of the American expression, "O.K." Haitians insist this is the most authentic. When U. Your editor did not get to attend the game and thus we do not have our usual run down on the game.

OTHER GAMES

Cross Plains did not fair so well against the league leading Mason Cowpunchers either. The Punchers ran over the Buffaloes to the tune of 47-6 to maintain their top position. Mason has scored a total of 202 points thus far this season against 34 for their opposition. Sonora tied Mason about mid-season with a 7-7 score and that is the only blemish on their record.

Rising Star lost to Class B Gorman by a 6-26 score Friday night. It looks like the Wildcats will go through the season without winning a game. They had only a nine game schedule and will complete their season Friday night against Cross Plains. The Buffaloes should win this game without much trouble. Goldthwaite was idle over the weekend.

THIS WEEK

There is little doubt but what Mason will take the Mountaineers Friday night on the local field. This will give them the district championship, without any doubt. However, if the Mountaineers should upset the Cowpunchers, they would still be considered the district champions because they have already won over Goldthwaite and Llano, who will play for second place Friday night.

Llano goes to Goldthwaite for their final game of the season. We are going to pick Llano to win this game. They have scored the most points of any team in District 9-A. During the season they have scored a total of 282 points against 85 for their opposition. Goldthwaite has scored 137 points against 120 for their opposition.

Cross Plains will entertain the Rising Star Wildcats Friday night and should win by a wide margin. The Wildcats have scored only 56 points during the season and their opponents have scored 232 points. In conference play the Wildcats have scored only 18 points and their opposition has scored 141 points. Cross Plains has scored 106 points in season play and their opponents 201 points.

The season should end with each team having the following records: District, Mason, 5-0; Llano, 4-1; Goldthwaite, 3-2; Cross Plains, 2-3; Santa Anna, 1-4; and Rising Star 0-5. The season record should be: Mason, 9-0-1; Llano, 3-2; Goldthwaite, 5-5; Santa Anna, 4-6; Cross Plains, 4-6; and Rising Star 0-9.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McMinn were in Abilene a part of last week, for him to have a check-up where he has been a patient for about three weeks recently, and had surgery. He was reported to be improving satisfactorily. They visited with their daughter, Mrs. A. O. Richardson and Mrs. McMinn stayed with her while he was in the hospital.

Mrs. W. M. Morgan left Sunday for a visit until Friday at Tucumcari, N. M., with her nephew, Johnnie Duffee and family, former residents of Santa Anna.

C. E. Eeds went to Brownwood Friday afternoon and brought his grandson, D. Carroll Holt, to spend the weekend with him and Mrs. Eeds.

Answer to Puzzle No. 471 cartons containing eggs below the grade A. The board contends that certain types of descriptive advertising on the carton can make the customer think the eggs are something more than they actually are.

The board members do not intend to hamstring commerce by unfair prohibitive measures, but the consensus of the nine men was that a line should be drawn between harmless descriptive phrases and outright misleading wordage on the package.

The result was that a resolution was passed which gives the board the right to approve or disapprove cartons in which eggs are sold. This measure is aimed at protecting the consumer and the producer. The buyer will not be distracted by fancy claims on the package and the producer will be protected from unfair competition.

Egg packers and carton manufacturers are invited to submit their packages to the board for approval if they feel some inspection may be necessary.

Carton should be sent to: Texas Department of Agriculture, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas. The board will meet once a month to consider current business matters and approve or disapprove carton designs.

Members of the board are: Tom Booth, San Antonio; F. F. Seiber, Burton; Dewey Stringer, Houston; D. W. Reneau, Seguin; George Belk, Jr., Robstown; T. D. Craddock, Hamilton; Frank Ehrle, Childress; Marvin Gilbreath, Weimar; and Jim W. Whitaker of Paris.

SOIL TESTS ARE A MUST FOR HIGHEST PRODUCTION

College Station — High costs of farming necessitates higher yields for maximum profit, and to make the highest production soil should be tested for its needs for lime and fertilizer.

The only true way to determine the amount of fertilizer and lime a pasture or a field needs is in a laboratory. W. F. Bennett, agricultural chemist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said.

"A farmer or rancher gets more for the dollar spent having his soil tested and applying lime and fertilizer according to recommendations than for any other dollar spent producing a crop," he pointed out.

Without the proper nutrient balance, fertilizers will not be as profitable, plus the lack of other necessary practices such as weed, insect and disease control which also reduce the good results.

Too, in soil high in acid or low in lime content, the phosphates, potash and some of the nitrogen is lost to growing plants, Bennett added. But addition of agricultural limestone to such soils keeps fertilizers in good working condition, resulting in increases in crop yields.

Application of agricultural limestone to acid or low-lime soil produces other beneficial results such as providing calcium for plant food, and making phosphates more available to plant use. Other fertilizer nutrients behave the same way. Soil bacteria is stimulated with more

TEXAS EGG BOARD TO CHECK PACKAGE METHODS
The new Texas egg law which goes into effect late in February, 1958, will seek to check misleading advertising on cartons and containers.

A nine member board of directors was appointed by Governor Price Daniel to formulate and administer the rules and regulations of the law. At the board's first meeting in Austin recently, one of the first concerns was to protect the consumer from confusing claims on egg cartons in the market place.

Under the law, all egg cartons must be plainly labeled as to grade of the egg, or the word "ungraded" must be clearly visible. In addition, no misleading claims such as "fresh" or similar wording can be printed on

Mrs. T. G. McDonald is able to get about more now and was able to attend church Sunday. She had a serious injury to her left foot in a fall several months ago and had treatments from a specialist in Brownwood. Special shoes had to be made for both feet. She is glad to be almost normal again.

Rex Goston, who has not been well of late, and had not been away from home for a week, was able to be downtown Tuesday and to meet with the Lions Club.

Mrs. Dan Wristen returned home recently from Chicago, Ill., where she had visited several weeks with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Wristen.

BY LYN CONNELLY

MICKEY BRADDOCK never had any closer association with the big top than attending one as a spectator, but producers felt he was a "natural" for the role of the elephant boy in ABC-TV's "Circus Boy" series, which made its debut this fall. Mickey is the son of a film-TV actor and restaurant-owner and an actress-turned-housewife. With no special coaching, he was tested and chosen for his co-starring role with Noah Beery and Robert Lowry as the 12-year-old moppet who portrays Corky with a turn-of-the-century circus. He was cast over 300 other Hollywood film youngsters.

The young thespian was born in Los Angeles, March 8th, 1945 and traces his heritage back through Italian and Greek ancestors to a great-grandmother who was an Austrian countess on his father's side. . . a great-great-grandfather on the maternal side was the first full-blooded American Indian, a Chickasaw from Mississippi, to enter the United States Senate. . . Mickey's unruly crop of bright yellow hair is one of the characteristics that add appeal to his bubbling personality. . . His mother describes him aptly as "just a boy."

The Bradlocks live in a red-wood modern home in the San Fernando Valley where Mickey has a prescribed set routine of chores which includes lawn mowing and trash emptying. . . The house incorporates a playhouse and a backyard badminton court. . . the young actor claims himself the family champ with the racquet. . . Other off-camera interests include swimming, Cub scouting, Little League baseball and fishing. . . He is an ardent collector of everything from stamps to billfolds and an electric train enthusiast. . . When he is not attending the studio school during working days, he is in the eighth grade of Eunice Knight Sanders private school in Sherman Oaks, Calif.
