Filing Deadline Draws Near

CITY COUNCIL

The deadline for persons who would like an opportunity to serve as members of the City Council is Saturday, March 1, at 12 o'clock noon. This date is Saturday of this week.

In order for a person to have their name printed on the regular City Election ballot, the name must be filed with the City Secretary within the time limit established by the Council.

No one had filed their name Tuesday evening late. At the same time it was still not known what the three men whose term expires are going to do.

The three places on the Council must be filled. If you are one who would like to serve on the City Council or feel that it is your duty to seek a place on the Council, file your name with the City Secretary before noon Saturday at the City Hall.

Next Week Is Public Schools Week In Texas

The need for public school never changes, but times and conditions may change or require to be changed methods and practices of public education. This is inherent with anything that grows, for growth is the result of change.

Our Texas public schools were created 104 years ago. In 1854 the first law passed establishing the public school.

It is a healthy thing in our democratic way of life to have intelligent understanding of the important functions of our basic institutions. This is especially true of the schools. The initiative and resourcefulness and the wisdom and leadership that our schools are inculcating in the youth of today are the answer of the problems of citizenship in the years ahead.

Yes, "bring me men to match my mountains." That is the need of our times and must come from the public schools—schools that are strong in virtues required for building strong men and women.

We can be assured of this and do our part in understanding and helping the public schools to fulfill their great obligation to our times by being a participant in the annual Public Schools Week, March 3 through 7. Schools will hold open house, accept their hospitality, and you will enjoy the experience of going back to school—if but for a day.

Mrs. May Sharp was quite ill at her home for several days at the weekend. Her daughter, Mrs. G. K. Stearns and son, Sherman, of Trickham, stayed with her three nights.

Mrs. Ben Smith was moved to the Santa Anna Hospital Sunday, from a San Angelo hospital, where she had been since Friday, Feb. 14, having broken a hip a few days earlier. It is thought a few days earlier. It is thought several weeks.

SCHOOL BOARD

Two names have been filed for places on the school board ballot. The deadline for filing is Wednesday, March 5th.

Dick Baugh, whose term expires this year, along with the unexpired term of Jesses K. Barton.

At the February meeting of the school board, Jesse K. Barton resigned. After consideration of several persons, Add T. Walker was appointed to serve out the unexpired term of Barton. However, because Walker is related to one of the teachers, Mrs. J. W. Taylor, a legal decision was asked for before he committed himself. The decision was requested from the Texas Education Agency.

The legal department of the Texas Education Agency stated: "Article 432 does not forbid or prohibit the appointment or election to your board of a person who is closely related to a teacher employee of your district. Mrs. Taylor's nephew legally may serve as trustee of the district by appointment or election, even though Mrs. Taylor is serving as a teacher therein."

Asked whether the board could continue to employ and re-employ Mrs. Taylor, the legal department stated: "Under the two-year exception proviso of Article 432, and Mrs. Taylor having been employed as teacher in the district for two or more years immediately prior to the appointment of her close kin to the board, Mrs. Taylor may legally continue to teach in the district and legally may be re-employed to teach in the district without violation of the nepotism law—even though her close kin serves as a trustee of the district."

This information was received early this week, and immediately upon being advised of the decision, Walker accepted the appointment to the board, and filed his name for re-election to a full three-year term on the local school board.

Mrs. Robert L. Markland has also filed for a place on the ballot.

Anyone else who desires a place on the ballot must file their names not later than Wednesday, March 5th. The filing may be done at the school office.

64 Percent Of State Vehicles Have Not Been Inspected Yet!

With less than two months left in which to have motor vehicles inspected, Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, urged motorists to obtain their 1958 inspection stickers immediately. In doing so, he said that 64 percent of the registered vehicles in Texas have not been inspected for the current year.

"At the present rate of inspection it looks as though the usual ten percent who wait until the deadline for inspections will be waiting in line on April 15. With crowded inspection stations on this deadline date immediate service cannot be rendered and car owners will suffer an unnecessary loss of time and inconvenience."

Nearly half of the vehicles already inspected have required some adjustments or repairs which require more time for both the owner and the inspection station and can be handled better when not rushed.

The state police director said much time can be saved if car owners obtain their 1958 inspection stickers early.

Lt. Garland Schrader and wife of Travis AFB, California, came on Thursday of last week for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schrader. A get acquainted shower was given for them on Tuesday night in the Carl Benton home. The visitors left for their home Wednesday. En route they will visit her people in Oklahoma, and his sister, Mrs. Herbert Bankhead at Borger.

Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Penny visited on Friday and Saturday at Olton, with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Priest and family Jimmy Ray Priest, a student at the Eastern New Mexico University, was home for the weekend.

ACROSS the DESK

ideas from other editors

From The Wildwood Independent Record, Wildwood, N. J.: When the word "chicken" is used it might mean to some people the product of that popular feathered producer, the egg.

But to others it is a frightful word. It has come to be distorted to mean lack of courage; lack of ability; lack of daring.

The use of the word chicken in that sense is a tragic distortion among the unthinking youth, and even some adults.

Those who taunt others with the word "chicken" are usually, without exception, the morons of the group, the loud mouths, the braggarts, the wise guys, who goad others into situations that they avoid themselves.

Only a sucker falls for that trap, the bait of showing some half wit that he is not a "chicken." The youngster with guts and brains stands out in any crowd, because he is the one who laughs loud and clear at the mouthy braggarts who cry "chicken." The user of the term "chicken" ends up digging a ditch and the user of his brains looks down from the top and laughs.

From The Suburban List, Essex

Junction, Vt.: Democracy offers its citizens one important thing—choice. They have a choice of laws, a choice of candidates, a choice between parties. But so long as voters can choose among individuals to run for any office, it is essential that there also be two parties?

And of course the only possible answer, in a democracy, is "yes." Because wherever one party runs a government of whatever size, and has things all its own way, it will eventually deteriorate no matter how good its intentions. But if there is another party, or several others, they serve to keep each other on their toes. Two parties "keep each other honest." When a party is aware that if it doesn't run things to the public's satisfaction, not only a few individuals but the entire party can be swept out of office, it's going to be a lot more conscientious about its work.

That isn't criticism. It's human nature. That's why in the days of past history even the best kings sometimes did some pretty terrible things. Absolute power isn't good for people—it encourages laziness in the best of them, viciousness in the worst.

Joe B. Dibrell, Jr. Announces For District Attorney

JOE B. DIBRELL, JR.

In announcing my candidacy for District Attorney, 35th Judicial District, I am aware of the duties, responsibilities and authority that go with the office. In these trying times we have all noted the effects of the economic stress and moral lassitude in the rising crime rate all over the nation particularly in certain areas in the State of Texas, principally in and around our metropolitan areas. As these trends increase, the importance and responsibility of the District Attorneys throughout the nation, the State and in our own district increases. The people expect and have a right to demand that their District Attorney, at all times, administer his office with a high degree of reason, justice and common sense. This being the case, the people have learned that a vigorous and sincere District Attorney is good insurance for honest government and the proper and swift administration of justice.

Coleman County honored me in 1954 by electing me as County Attorney and I have served in that office since that date. I am sure that all of you are familiar with my history, but for the record I briefly review my background and qualifications: I am a native of Coleman County, the son of the late J. B. Dibrell, who practiced law from 1905 to 1950, and the former Jewel, Martin, who taught school in Coleman for a number of years. I attended the Coleman Public Schools,

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health.
HENRY A. HOLLE, M.D., Commissioner

A South Texas woman recently called the State Health Department's bedding division about a mattress she had purchased from an itinerant peddler. She had reason to suspect she had been defrauded.

When a bedding inspector checked the mattress, he found it unlabeled and filled with unacceptable material in violation of the State Bedding Law. The peddler was located in Houston, and given the choice of facing court action or refunding the woman's money. He chose to surrender the money.

The next time you buy an item of bedding — a pillow, mattress, or comfort — notice the attached label. It's a window, through which you can see what is in the product and how it has been handled. Once attached, no tag may be removed.

If the product is made of all new materials, the label will tell you so. If it is made entirely or partly from second hand goods, the label will be printed in red ink and will clearly state its second hand status. If it has been used by someone else, traded in, and offered for resale, it will carry a "germicidal treatment" tag, certifying that it has been sanitized.

Even when you send a mattress out to be renovated, it will be returned with a label certifying that it has been repaired.

The State Bedding Law was written into the statute book in 1939 for two prime purposes: to prohibit the sale of soiled or contaminated bedding materials, and to safeguard purchasers against fraud or misrepresentation. District inspectors cover every bedding manufacturing plant in the state to see that the law is complied with.

All manufacturers must be licensed before their products can be sold in this state. Some 1200 factories in Texas, and 400 outside the state, are currently licensed.

Well over four million items of bedding are sold in Texas every year. Every one carries a stamp on the label, which in effect says to the buyer, "As far as the law is concerned, you are getting what you paid for." Stamps are sold by the bedding division for one cent apiece, which goes toward supporting the division.

Second hand items of bedding may not be sold in this state until they have undergone germicidal treatment, and sterilization permits must be obtained from the bedding division; after plants have been checked for conformity with the law.

Most germicidal plants use the "dry heat" method. Bedding is placed in a large oven and literally baked for one hour at 230 degrees. Ovens must be checked every 90 days by a representative of the bedding division to insure proper operation.

Other health safeguards are requirements that factories meet high standards of sanitation, and that filling materials in new bedding be of an acceptable quality.

TAX-MAN SAM SEZ:

By this time of the year a lot of folks are wearing out the lid to their mail box looking for their tax refund check. Some folks start looking for the refund check a few days after they have filed their tax return. The tax folks in Dallas have to be pretty fast in figuring tax returns and getting out refund checks because it takes several months — at the rate of 10,000 checks per day to get out over 700,000 refund checks. You have to remember that there are millions of taxpayers and there are a lot of steps required by law in checking your return before Internal Revenue can send you your refund check. If you move, tell Uncle Sam your new address and give him a little time and your check will probably be along within a couple of months. Don't write and ask for it before July 1.

WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman
O. C. FISHER

Weather had the news spotlight all to itself in Washington last week where for three days the Capitol city moved at a snail's pace, shut down and zeroed-in under a 14-inch snow. It was the coldest in two decades and the snow was the heaviest since 1936, described as "classic" by the Weather Bureau.

In fact, the Weather Bureau put out a special bulletin trying to explain what happened. "The storm developed as two centers of low pressure moved across the Gulf of Mexico area and combined into one center in Alabama and then moved along the East Coast intensifying rapidly as it passed north."

Scientists got into the act. Baffled by a 14-inch snow that fell within a few hours, they came forth with an explanation. When the air pressure in a given area is low, the air has a tendency to rise, they explained. Higher-pressure air comes rushing in to take its place and pushes the old air further up. That's how a storm is born.

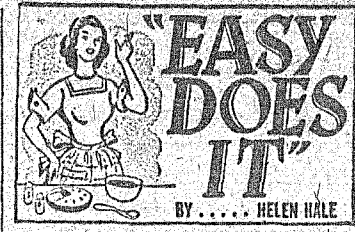

As the old air rises, it gets cooler and cooler, and the moisture in it begins to condense, turning into clouds. The faster it rises, the more condensation there is.

If too much moisture condenses, the clouds can't hold it all, and it begins to fall. Whether as rain or snow depends on the temperature. And that's what happened on the weather front.

THE NEW CONGRESSMAN from Tennessee, Robert Everett, just elected to succeed the late Jere Cooper, knows and likes the Texas hill country. A cousin of Mrs. Martin Wright of San Antonio, he has visited on her ranch in Bandera County several times. "That's wonderful country," he says, "and you're lucky to live in those hills."

Mrs. R. L. Todd, who has not been well of late, and for awhile was a hospital patient, has grown more afflicted the past few days and on Monday suffered a stroke at her home, where her condition seems serious.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mills are visiting their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold White and children at Lovington, N. M.

TO DRY mittens quickly, place them over glass jars and stand the open ends on the radiator. They'll dry in half the time it takes ordinarily.

After washing boots, let them hang upside down so that all the water will run out of them. Then turn around to hang by the cuffs until dry. Nap or trimming can be brushed to fluff it out. You'll save your hallway rugs

When youngsters split or tear their rubbers, mend them with material from a plastic or inner tube repair kit, depending upon the material from which the boots are made.

The World's Most Widely Used
Devotional Guide

The Upper Room
© THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read Psalm 103:1-11.

The Lord is merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and plentiful in mercy. (Psalm 103:8.)

I was in a hospital with a broken leg, and so was the man in the bed next to me. We were both in severe pain. Each of us could be heard saying, "Lord have mercy on me." When our pain subsided, we started talking to each other.

The fact that we were both Christians gave us something in common and we became friends. Our prayers changed; we prayed that God would have mercy on both of us. When we became stronger, our prayers were for all the men in the ward. This eventually led to our praying for the suffering people all over the world.

Our common suffering and simple faith created a bond of genuine fellowship that became contagious. When we were able to get around in wheel chairs, we went to the bed patients with prayers and Bible readings. These acts of compassion did much toward their recovery. They called us the "wheel-chair preachers," but we were not preachers at all. We were just two people who believed in prayer and the goodness and mercy of God.

PRAYER

Our father, we know how unworthy we are of Thy love and help, of Thy mercy and forgiveness. Yet without Thee we are nothing; by Thy mercy we are blessed. Strengthen us in love and fellowship, through Christ our Saviour. Amen.

A TICKET FOR KATHLEEN

By G. Edward Brown

FROM the editorial room of the Daily Stan Kelley surveyed the sports scene with keen interest while looking upon the rest of the world with suspicion.

He was the chief story man for the sports played by men, women and children in the community of over 15,000. Keeper of the vital statistics he was as important to the community and as respected as a judge in his court. His light hair was beginning to thin a little on top. His eyes gazed beyond the galley sheet in his typewriter seeing more than statistics of a football game.

A man among men and a little something which also attracted the opposite sex.

Stan was seated behind the Royal at the sports center when Kathleen Bucher entered the office walked past her desk and stopped in front of Stan. She was holding a red card of some sort.

Kathleen was an attractive blonde about a head shorter than the six foot Stan. A bit on the shy side, she was unhurried in her ways, always smartly and conservatively dressed.

"Yeah," Stan inquired looking up from the papers in his lap.

"Was wondering if you could help me out with this ticket." She asked, her skin tingled like it always did when he noticed her. "Is the ticket any good?"

Stan took it and examined the strip of pasteboard with a critical eye. "Reserved section D, that would be about in the middle of the gym," Stan smiled. "That's a good seat."

"It's good then," she exclaimed. "Oh, it's good all right, about the best seat you'll find for the game tonight. Where did you pick it up?"

"I-I got it from a fellow." "Do I know him?"

Kathleen shook her head. "At least I don't think so. He's not from around here." "Where did you meet him?" "Here in the plant. He came in the ad room to see about some advertising."

"Who is he?" "I really don't know his name," Kathleen admitted.

Stan gave the ticket another glance. A perfectly good ticket for one of the best seats in the house that will be jammed to see the important hardwood contest. He must have connections to get such a good seat for this game.

"You haven't had much to do with sharpies?" Stan asked.

"No," she admitted.

"Give the gent back his ticket. Tell him you already got a date."

"But Stan!"

"Tell him you got a date with me," he interrupted. "After the game we can go to Johnnie's pizza place for a snack and a drink before we go home."

"Okay,—sure!"

"I'll call for you at 7 o'clock," Stan said.

"Fine," Kathleen smiled turning toward the office door impressed with the way Stan overwhelmed her.

Stan watched her go. He really surprised himself with his boldness and was pleased that he finally asked her out. She was too nice and too cute to get mixed up with a slicker.

Kathleen walked into the ad room, stopping beside a tall good looking man with grey around his temples. She extended the basketball ticket to him as he turned.

"Mr. Kelley said that the ticket is good sir," she said.

The old gentleman took the ticket and placed it in his coat pocket.

"Thank you Miss."

"Thanks to you," Kathleen said with a sparkle in her eyes.

"I don't understand," he said softly. Kathleen just smiled as she left the room.

World Day of Prayer
Observed Around
The World On Friday

The World Day of Prayer services is held each year on the first Friday in Lent, and this year it fell on February 21st.

Many Christians around the world are united on this great day in a common service of prayer and praise.

Services began on the Tonga Islands, where Queen Salotte leads her devout subjects in prayer. Services continue throughout the day, closing with the observance on St. Lawrence Islands, Alaska.

Our local service was held at 7:00 p. m. at the First Methodist Church.

ist Church. The theme this year, "The Bread of Life," was used by everyone.

The offering taken at this service is divided between projects of the Divisions of Foreign and Home Missions.

Were it not for the World Day of Prayer offerings, the interdenominational ministers in the U. S., Alaska, and Puerto Rico, could not continue.

About 50 percent of their budgets come from women united in prayer on the World Day of Prayer.

The Presbyterian, Methodist, Christian, Seventh-day Adventist and New Hope Baptist Churches participated locally, and one of the highlights of the program was a rendition of the hymn, "Guide Me O Thou Great Jehovah," by the chorus from the New Hope Baptist Church.

This day is observed in 145 geographical areas abroad and in over 2,000 communities in the United States.

"EASY DOES IT"
 BY... HELEN HALE

LET the house be merry and gay for the holidays with decorations you've made yourself. A couple of evenings spent at home by the family can net enough decor to give you real cheer.

On a wide strip of cardboard or wood (1 x 12 inches) place three red ribbon rosettes, decorate with tinsel and baubles. Fasten against an evergreen branch and place on the door for cheery welcome.

THIS WEEK'S RECIPE
Raisin Peanut Clusters

1/2 cup dark molasses
 1/2 cup corn syrup
 1 teaspoon vinegar
 3 tablespoons butter
 2 cups shelled peanuts
 1 cup raisins

Cook molasses, corn syrup, vinegar to a hard-boil stage (250°F.). Remove from heat; add butter. Stir until combined with syrup; then add nuts and raisins. Drop by spoonfuls on greased pan. If candy hardens while you work, stir vigorously over warm water to soften it.

Make a metal cornucopia, paint it red and white. In it place greens and Christmas balls to use as wall or door decoration.

A three panel door looks pretty with greens attached to each section. On top of these place glittering stars, angels or Santa Claus.

The same kind of star which is used for the top of the tree can be placed against a wreath of evergreen and used as a mantle or door decoration.

A plain wall in the hall or living room? Hang wide strips of red or green felt down from the ceiling and pin the Christmas cards on these.

Let the youngsters make rings of different colored paper and overlap them into a long string. These will fill in spaces on the Christmas tree nicely.

THIS WEEK'S RECIPE
Skillet Potatoes with Vegetables
 (Serves 4)

6 medium potatoes
 3 tablespoon fat
 2 large onions, sliced
 1 1/2 cups cooked green beans
 1/2 cup vegetable cooking water
 Salt and pepper

Scrubbed unpeeled potatoes but do not peel. Cut in thin slices. Heat fat in large skillet. Add potatoes and onion. Cook slowly, turning carefully as vegetables brown slightly. When cooked, add beans and water. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Simmer for 5 minutes, stirring gently to prevent sticking.

run under the broiler until this melts. It makes a wonderful party snack for adults or teen agers.

Want an easy party dessert? Roll scoops of vanilla ice cream in finely chopped nuts. Pass these with fudge sauce which has been kept hot in your table warmer.

Heat cooked, de-veined shrimp in slightly diluted mushroom soup and serve on toast or crackers for a mighty quick and easy supper.

It's a satisfying main dish: large baked potatoes pressed open and served with creamed dried beef mixed with green peas and sliced egg.

THE Department of Justice recently closed the book on a story of war-time intrigue with the deportation to Germany of Hans Max Haupt.

Haupt was born in Germany in 1894 and came to this country in 1923. He was naturalized seven years later, lost his citizenship in 1944 when he was convicted of treason in the United States District Court in Chicago.

The dramatic events which led to the voiding of Hans Haupt's citizenship began in Germany. The story picked up in this country off the coast of Florida in 1942 when a German submarine landed four saboteurs—one of them Herbert Haupt, a son of Hans Haupt, of Chicago.

Herbert Haupt made his way directly to Chicago. Hans Haupt harbored his son, also purchased an automobile which the son proposed to use in his plans to carry out the sabotage assignment given him and the others by the German high command.

But Herbert Haupt, along with the three saboteurs landed with him in Florida (and four others landed elsewhere) were captured, tried and convicted by a Military Commission. Six of them, including Herbert Haupt, were electrocuted in 1942. The two others were given long prison sentences, later contingent upon their return to Germany. The same fate awaited Hans Haupt.

Convicted of treason in 1944, Hans Haupt was given a life sentence in the Danbury Federal Reformatory. Last October, he received a Presidential commutation which provided that his sentence expire "immediately upon his delivery by the Warden to Agents of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, duly authorized by the Attorney General, to receive him for the purpose of deportation."

The commutation provided that, should Haupt ever be found within the United States, or any Territory of place subject to its jurisdiction, he would be returned to prison for the completion of his sentence.

Thirty-five years after his arrival, Hans Haupt left American shores never to return again.

Washington observers believe that when its all over Congress will have voted a record amount of spending—way above and beyond the $74 billion budget outlined by the President.

With the successful launching of our first satellite, Congress is found in a mood to allocate more money for the type of defense spending that would be aimed at our getting a visible superiority over the Russians in both weapons and space achievements.

Ordinarily, an increase in defense spending might suggest a decrease in non-defense welfare allocations. But, observers indicate, this is an election year and during an election year welfare programs are more important than in other years.

IDLE ACRES AT HOME AND COTTON PROFITS ABROAD

Texas and other American cotton farmers face another in a series of hard knocks this year in the form of "home-made" competition — foreign competition brought about by short-sighted planning at the top level in Washington.

It is now apparent that, due to relentless insistances on holding down cotton allotments in our country, not enough top quality cotton will be produced to meet our own domestic needs this year. As a result, we will likely find ourselves in the ridiculous position of bringing cotton into this country from Mexico, Brazil and possibly even such countries friendly to communism as Egypt.

Current cotton acreage allotments are based on an estimated production of 11½ million bales. But what some of our government planners have failed to recognize is the fact that much of this land went into the soil bank and will not produce any cotton.

Last year, our upland cotton was lower in grade than at any time in the past twelve years. Middling and higher grade production was the smallest since 1949. And now our textile industries are facing a serious shortage of better quality cotton. But this shortage could be overcome if our farmers were allowed to take advantage of promising soil and weather conditions so they could have the crop when it is needed.

We need an immediate 25 percent increase in cotton allotments in order to meet our domestic demand. We can produce the desired grades this year if our farmers are given the opportunity.

The 1957 cotton story was a sad one in Texas — and practically everywhere else in the nation. Ginning of top grades was off drastically, and our farmers had to fight continued bad weather to produce what they did.

A sad epiphany to that story would be for "sidelined" farmers at home to stand idly by while cherished cotton profits wing their way abroad.

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER

MY COUNTRY 'TIS OF THEE

THE coming of February 22, birthday of George Washington, should lead us to think with emotion of the Father of our Country, to acknowledge our debt of gratitude to our great Country and to shoulder, willingly our responsibilities as citizens.

There is a place beyond which no man should go in criticism and complaint against our Government. Differences and expression of opinions are natural but no expression should be suggestive of disloyalty. And utterances about our Nation should not be of a kind that might give information to other nations of things that should not be divulged.

While all will doubtless agree to the foregoing statements let us give the more earnest heed to the good things in our Country. Recent years have brought us to compare our American way of life with that of many others and led us to the wholesome conclusion that we have many blessings in our land that blessed multitudes of the earth do not enjoy. Our Country has its faults, but the good outweighs the bad. So why not "Three Cheers for the Red, White and Blue?"

Reduce Delinquency

VIII

THE BIGGEST FACTOR

(A distinguished Texas judge offers pointers on combating our rapidly increasing juvenile delinquency problem.)

By JUDGE SARAH T. HUGHES

JUDGE HUGHES

What is the biggest factor in juvenile delinquency?

Every person, adult or child, needs most of all a sense of his own significance, his own individuality. An adult wants to be recognized in his home, his church, or his club, or he loses interest.

Most Important in Youth

It is even more important for boys and girls to have a sense of their own significance. Failing to get it starts many on the road to delinquency — doing things to be considered "smart" — to be recognized by someone.

I have had many cases where I thought the main reason the boy was there was that he had been given no recognition as an individual. There had been a failure in the home to make him feel that he "belonged," was valued.

Always Something Good

There is always something to praise a child for — to make him feel important and wanted — even if he's unusually faulty — always the chance to listen to him with interest and affection, to make him feel that he belongs, to give him the RIGHT KIND of attention, of affection, of KINDLY but FIRM DISCIPLINE and guidance.

That is what these youngsters need — to be wanted by somebody, to be important to their friends and parents, to have guide-posts in a puzzling world.

TELEVISION shows are dying left and right with alarming rapidity and networks are paying good money to have surveys made on why this situation exists. Well, here's a few reasons they can have grails from this corner: WHY SO MANY HAS BEENS? In a frantic effort to lure an audience, producers are filling shows with people who had big, big names yesterday but who leave the public cold today. For instance, Perry Como has about the best variety show on the air today. He's an excellent emcee and showman and usually comes up with a tightly-knit, pleasant hour. But it won't last if he doesn't lose the obsession he has for 'Ginger Rogers.

Now 25 years ago, Ginger was breaking box office records. She was the dancing darling of the silver screen. When she parked her dancing slippers for straight dramatics, she was accepted and maintained her popularity for some time. But let's face it, this was 25 years ago!

All the networks fought over the services of Frank Sinatra and ABC finally won the battle. But Frankie's ratings are low. It was a gamble that didn't pay off. The kids that used to swoon over Frankie are now members of daughters who swoon over Pat Boone and Elvis Presley and their past fervor has simmered down to a standstill. Instead of learning a few lessons from all this, the networks continue their mad race by promising fabulous amounts of money to Clark Gable, Robert Taylor and other old timers who can hardly draw them into the movie houses anymore!

Mrs. Linnie Biggs, who has not been so well of late, became a patient in the Santa Anna Hospital Saturday.

Every teacher in Coleman County is a member of the organization. James A. Harris, Principal of the Santa Anna Ward School is President of the organization and Mrs. Ethel Horton of the Santa Anna School system is Secretary. The Vice President is Delbert Gibbs of Mozelle and Jewel Hibbs of Centennial is the Treasurer.

County Attorney Seeks District Attorney Position

Joe B. Dibrell, Jr., serving as the County Attorney of Coleman County, this week authorized The News to announce his candidacy for the office of District Attorney of the 35th Judicial District. The district includes Coleman, Brown and McCulloch Counties. A statement concerning his announcement will be found elsewhere in this issue of The News.

The office of District Attorney was vacated recently when Bill Allcorn was appointed as State Land Commissioner. David Morris of Brownwood was appointed to fill out the unexpired term.

Delta Omicron To Hold Style Show Saturday, Mar. 15th

The Delta Omicron Sorority presented Mrs. Frank Bryan of Rockwood with a 21-inch television about two weeks ago. Various projects have been undertaken by the group to finance this project. A Style Show is being planned for Saturday, March 15, at 7:30 p. m. in the Elementary School Cafeteria.

Admission tickets are now on sale by members of the Sorority at $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for students. There will be fashions shown for all ages and various "20's" styles. Prizes will be awarded.

When you purchase an admission ticket, put your name on the slip and return to a member of the Sorority to go in the box. You do not have to be present to win.

The Sorority appreciates all the help the public has given them. It would be impossible to undertake these philanthropic projects without your assistance. They ask your continued support with the Style Show.

When Rev. Jimmy Henderson came from Fort Worth at the weekend, to fill his appointment at the Christian Church, his wife and their three young children came with him. The week previous, the church had sent him the money for new tires his car had all the way around. He expressed his thanks to the congregation. He told of the plans for pre-Easter services. These services of an out of town minister for several days are being arranged for, and the minister will be in charge of other services, running through Easter.

Mrs. A. Holmans went to Seminole Saturday for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Cook. She will also visit her son, George Holmans at Kermit.

Mrs. G. L. Cline and children, Tommy and Belinda, returned to their home at Jal, N. M. at the weekend, after visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Seales and Archie. The Seales are enjoying their nice new three-bedroom home on the Trickham road in the south part of town. The house, modern in every respect, is about completed. The Seales hear from their son, Wilbur, now stationed at Williams AFB, Minnesota. The weather, very cold recently, has reached a low of 26 degrees below zero, and snow has been from four to six feet deep.

Mrs. Annie Taylor, who has been staying in the Santa Anna Hospital for sometime, fell as she was getting out of bed Tuesday morning, and broke her left hip. She was transferred to an Abilene Hospital.
