COLEMAN COUNTY STORY

Small Pox Takes Lives Of Fiveash Family In Early Days At Trickham

Editor's note: This week we continue with the story of the Trickham Community.

The first post office in the county outside of the army was at Trickham. Bill Franks sent in the petition for its establishment. He was a man much given to playing pranks, and in a day when life was necessarily more or less harsh, his jokes were not always tempered. When the name for the new post office was sent in, the cowboys selected "Trick'em", and so it was sent in, but it came back "Trickham" and thus remained.

It is fortunate that Mr. Dick Fiveash told the story of his life to Mrs. Gay before his passing away, and that she recorded it in her book, "Into The Setting Sun." In it he says, "I was born in Erath County in 1862 and moved to Coleman County when I was two years old. We settled on Mukewater about a mile south of where Trickham is now. My father built a log cabin to live in. There were very few people in the county at that time, and my Uncle Bill Williams and his family, who came with us, were our only neighbors. My Uncle Bill, who was a real pioneer, became known all over the country as Mukewater Bill. He had lots of fights with the Indians and owned a bridge which was made out of the hide of an Indian he had killed.

There was lots of wild game in the county when we first came, and a long while after, I've seen the valleys of the creek black with buffalo plenty of times, and we could always find deer and turkeys. We had to go to Austin after our flour and it cost us $20 a barrel. It generally took us two weeks to make the trip.

John and Jeff Chisum had a cattle ranch somewhere south of where we lived. They had come from Denton and were there when we came. They had a little store and saloon run by Emory Peters and Bill Franks.

My cousin, Lot Ellington, had come to live with us and help with the cattle. We also had a man named Tom Moss. My father sent Lot Ellington to Fort Worth after supplies, and somewhere on the trip he was exposed to small pox. Soon after he got back he took it and died. Then all the family took it from him. My mother and father both died and so did Tom Moss. Everyone was afraid to come near enough to do anything for us, since in those days in 1876 doctors didn't know much about treating small pox or vaccinating against it. Dr. Edwards at Brownwood was the only doctor we knew. He came and looked in the door and when he saw how terribly bad it was, he turned and went back home without doing anything at all for us.

There was a young Dr. Page at Brownwood then who had been there only a short time, a friend of the Grady and Cheatham families, who had all come from Kentucky. When Dr. Page heard what Dr. Edwards had done, he got on his horse and came out to see about us and stayed with us until the disease had run its course. Dr. Page had been vaccinated and had a light case of varioloid, but soon got over it. When my father and mother died, no one could be found to help the doctor prepare them for burial. They were wrapped in blankets and buried at night. The people did dig the graves, but they would not help fill them up. Charlie Shield, brother of Lee Shield, helped dig the graves and kept them from digging one for me, as I was not expected to live."

Continuing, Mr. Fiveash said: "I saw three men who were killed by Indians at Trickham; Dave Upton, Jake Doffleyer and Charlie McCain. They were all scalped and a green mesquite stick was thrust through their noses. These men were buried where the town of Trickham grew up around them, the first and last buried at that place. The graves are unmarked but a wall about 1½ feet high of flat sand rocks is built over each. The Fiveash family was buried out to the west of Trickham about a half mile."

Trickham could boast of a doctor during the 70's. Dr. James had come in with his family. J. J. Burge came at the same time. They married daughters of Lem Batton, who lived in Brown County. They established a gin and mill at Trickham, the first in the county. In 1880 they sold out to M. R. Cheatham, who operated both for many years. Mr. Cheatham was the man who first put flour in sacks in Central Texas. Before that it had always been put up in barrels and sold from $8.00 to $20.00 per barrel. It was quite a distinction in those days to have a flour sack around the house with the name, "Cheatham's Best."

Next week we will have more from Mrs. Gay's book, about the early life around Santa Anna.

Rites For Mrs. W. A. Standley Held June 17th

Funeral services were held at the First Methodist Church on Tuesday, June 17, for Mrs. W. A. Standley, at 3:00 p. m., with the pastor, Rev. Frank L. Turner, Jr., officiating.

Mrs. Standley died at her home Monday at 2:00 p. m., following a long illness. Her health became steadily worse after the death of her husband in November, last year.

Mrs. Standley was born Laura Dorsett November 13, 1876, at Chapel Hill, Texas, being 81 years, 7 months and 3 days old at the time of death.

Mr. and Mrs. Standley came to Santa Anna over 50 years ago, where he established a business and they remained. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church, and the 20th Century Club. For a number of years she was the official "Mother" of the club. The club members provided dinner for members of the family, they sang in the choir at the services and were in charge of the flowers. Others also assisted in these features.

Mrs. Standley is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Ora Rainbolt of Fort Worth and Mrs. Thula Ralstin of Placerville, Calif.; five grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

The daughters and most members of their families were here for the services. Boyd Rainbolt could not attend from Ft. Worth because of illness and Mrs. Ralstin's daughter, Chiquita, of California, could not be present. Pallbearers were Jim Daniell, Joe Harvey, O. L. Cheaney, Bill Griffin, D. D. Blake and Norval Wylie.

Burial was in the Santa Anna Cemetery with Hosch Funeral Home in charge.

Mrs. D. J. Barnes Dies In Her Sleep Burial In Waco

Mrs. D. J. Barnes, formerly a longtime resident of Santa Anna, died in her sleep about 5:00 p. m. Wednesday, June 18, at her home in Coleman. She was 86 years of age.

Rev. Maurice Smith, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Santa Anna, where she formerly held membership, conducted the services. Rev. Ted Cotton, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Coleman assisted. Services were held at 9:00 a. m. Friday in the Stephens Memorial Chapel in Coleman.

Mrs. Barnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bonner, was born at Durango, in Falls County, March 11, 1872. She was married to D. J. Barnes in 1889 at Lott. They came to Coleman County 50 years ago.

She is survived by four sons, W. Ford Barnes of Santa Anna, James Q. Barnes of Hatch, N. M., Bonner H. Barnes of Pittsburg, Pa., and Dr. Maurice Barnes of Waco; four daughters, Mrs. J. W. Pool of Coleman, Mrs. N. A. Collier of Houston, Mrs. J. C. Lister of Lovington, N. M., and Mrs. Carol Kingsbery of Santa Anna, fourteen grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren. Other survivors include one brother, Bruce Bonner of Sweetwater and two sisters, Mrs. W. F. Templeton of Ennis and Mrs. Otto Boshliert of Mart.

Graveside services for Mrs. Barnes were held in Waco and the body was laid to rest beside her husband, D. J. Barnes, who died in 1930.

Miss Fannie Traver of Dallas is here this week visiting with friends and attending to business.

Centennial Stickers And Button Sales Going Very Slow

Not much time remains between now and time for the Coleman County Centennial observance, and the sale of buttons and stickers, advertising the affair, is going rather slow.

The novelty advertisements are on sale at all the local service stations and cafes and other places in town. Everyone is urged to get yours now and put the stickers on your car and wear your buttons.

The profits from the sale of these buttons and stickers will go to pay for expenses of the local observance. First, the material must be paid for, which amounts to about $60.00 and this amount has not been raised as yet.

Tom Todd Breaks Hip In Fall Friday

Tom Todd of the Buffalo community, fell Friday morning while putting water out for his turkeys and broke his right hip. Mrs. Todd said he was pouring water in a barrel over his head and while reaching up high his footing slipped and he fell.

He was brought to the local hospital and after examination, was transferred to an Abilene hospital for treatment by a bone specialist.

Mrs. Todd said he was apparently getting along fine and was expected to be moved back to the local hospital within a few days.

Mrs. Olin Horton Resigns From Local School

Mrs. Olin Horton, first grade teacher in the local school system for the past three years, resigned last week to accept a position in the elementary schools at Midland. Mr. Horton, a this year graduate of Howard Payne College, has also accepted a position in the Midland schools as a math instructor in the Junior High School.

C. N. Perry, Superintendent, said a replacement for Mrs. Horton would not be employed until the final results of the average daily attendance of the past school term, is determined. It could be that the local school will lose one teacher because of a drop in average daily attendance. The figures are before the State Board of Education at this time.

Rev. Whitefield To Speak At Methodist Church Sunday

Rev. J. W. Whitefield, Brownwood District Superintendent of the Methodist Church, will be the pulpiti guest Sunday morning at 10:50 a. m. at the First Methodist Church. After the morning worship service, lunch will be served in the church basement with each family bringing a covered dish. The drink will be furnished.

Mr. Kenneth Bowker, Church Lay Leader, will speak at the evening services, which begin at 7:45 p. m.

EDITOR AND FAMILY VISIT IN EAST TEXAS

Your editor and family visited several towns and some of the wives relatives in deep East Texas last week, and enjoyed the few days vacation very much. We saw a lot of interesting sights and visited places neither of us had seen before. We arrived home Saturday afternoon just in time to enjoy the fine rain that fell throughout this area.

Mrs. Evie Cole of Orange, Texas, step-mother of Mrs. Gregg, came home with us for a two weeks visit.

METHODIST MEN TO MEET THURSDAY NIGHT

The men of the Methodist Church will meet in regular session Thursday night, June 26, at 7:30 p. m. New officers will be elected and all the men of the church are urged to be present.

Brenda Sue Ellis of Brownwood came Sunday and is visiting this week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hodges.

WADING POOL NOW OPEN

Mrs. Robert Smith, chairman of the Wading Pool Committee, announces the pool is now in use and will be open each Friday and Tuesday afternoon, from 4:00 to 6:00 p. m. throughout the summer months.

Children from infants through age 10 years are invited to use the wading pool on the afternoons it is open. There will be an adult in charge of the pool each day and an adult should accompany the children to the pool.

The women of the summer recreation program would like to express their appreciation to the Junior Chamber of Commerce for the shade they erected over the wading pool, and to Walter Holt and his employees for the work they did in repairing the bottom of the pool.

Mrs. Smith said about 20 children were in the pool the first day and that the attendance would likely increase rapidly for the next few weeks.

Dr. Tidwell To Speak To First Baptist Sun.

Dr. D. D. Tidwell, Chairman of the Bible Department at Howard Payne College, will be the guest speaker at the First Baptist Church Sunday, June 29.

The pastor, Maurice Smith, is attending a Sunday School conference at Glorieta Baptist Assembly at Glorieta, New Mexico.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spence of Dallas came Monday for a visit of several days with Mrs. W. A. Featherston, his mother, and her sister, Mrs. Preston West. All went fishing Tuesday.

Mrs. Irving Dean received word early Sunday morning that her brother, Murphey Cottrell of Camino, Calif., had passed away suddenly during the night, from a heart attack. This brother had visited with the Dean family here during the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. James Van Huss and her two daughters, Sharon and Tanya, of El Paso, came Tuesday morning for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Othar Owen, and Mr. Owen. They are also visiting the grandmother of Mrs. Van Huss, Mrs. K. G. Gore.

Mrs. David Carthouser of Albuquerque, N. M., and her three children are here on the farm with her mother, Mrs. Ted McCaughan, while her husband is in Detroit, Michigan for two weeks. Mrs. R. G. Henderson and children of Sweetwater were here last week with Mrs. McCaughan.

Mr. and Mrs. Bartow Boylston have returned to their home at Aiken, S. C., after a visit of several weeks here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McClellan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Harris returned home Tuesday afternoon from a weekend visit with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Medlin at Odessa. Noll Vance Medlin, one of the grandsons, came with them for an indefinite visit.

Nat'l. Guardmen Return To Homes Sunday Morning

The Santa Anna Unit of the Texas National Guard returned home Sunday, having just completed their annual two-week summer encampment at North Fort Hood. Most of the men returned by motor convoy and arrived here before noon.

Our Citizen - Soldiers were somewhat tired and weary as they completed the final stages of their training. For most of the men it has been a trying two weeks, practically every man had to perform double duties. Even though the duties were doubled the men as a whole seemed to have enjoyed this camp more than any previous one.

For the first time since reorganization, the men have had an opportunity to participate in live fire situations with their individual infantry weapons. Every man, excepting those with prior service, participated in the combat training courses. These courses included the close combat course wherein the men were required to cross barbed wire obstacles, fire live rounds at moving targets, cross logs over eight foot trenches half filled with water, throw hand grenades and finally assault dummies with their bayonets. In other courses they were required to crawl on their bellies under live machine gun fire and on their backs under wire obstacles no more than six inches from the ground, all this plus live dynamite charges exploding within a few feet.

The recent rains and the hot sun didn't assist the comforts of the men who for 50 weeks out of the year work in various other occupations. After a day or night in the field, long lines of troops took their turns to be hosed down, fully clothed, on the vehicle wash racks, because they were too dirty to go to their living quarters. Skinned knees and elbows were grossly pampered.

The schedule was ran at a rapid pace. The troops were rushed to the field to receive their combat training, and then rushed back to their respective jobs, as radio operators, clerks, medics and many other duties. The morale and attitudes of the citizen-soldier has been unsurpassed. Most of the men felt that in the event a combat situation arose, they are qualified to defend themselves and their country.

The tent city of North Fort Hood is quite a contrast from their homes. The whistling of artillery shells, the rattle of machine guns, the pops of rifles, the roars of heavy tanks will have been memories within a few days, but instilled in the minds and hearts of every participant of this training is the thought and confidence that he is better qualified to defend his country and that Uncle Sam has spent his money wisely by sending him through this rigorous training.

All candidates are invited to be present to present their platforms and the public is invited to come out and hear the candidates.

Both men, 81 years old, are in the Coleman Hospital and their condition is described as "fair". Mr. Blount's condition seems to be rather serious at this time.

The accident was investigated by the Highway Patrol and a charge of "failure to control speed to avoid accident" was filed against Mr. Simmons.

Would you like for your name to be published on your birthday? If so, please be sure to let us know when it is. Next week we will publish names of those having birthdays between July 4th and July 10th.

Mrs. Wanda Campbell, chairman of the local Centennial Committee, asks everyone to participate in the local observance by wearing one of the Centennial buttons, a beard, derby hat, apron, long dress, bonnet or any other item of clothing that will stress the Centennial theme. The wearing of the Centennial clothes is to begin Monday, June 30th, and continue through the week.

Plans are progressing nicely for the observance to be held in Santa Anna on Saturday, July 5th. On the docket at the present time is a barber shop quartet, poker players in the street with women singing hymns to them, a saloon where women break the liquor and various other scene will be re-enacted, portraying old time scene in this area.

The Centennial observance in the county will actually get underway with an Old Settlers Reunion at the Coleman Park Friday morning, July 4th.

Prizes and refreshments are also on the program as well as a chance to visit with your neighbors and friends. Admission is free.

Hound Dog Show To Be A Part Of Local Centennial

A hound dog show is to be a feature of the Santa Anna Day of the Coleman County Centennial on Saturday, July 5th. The show will be held in the late afternoon and every boy and girl in this area with a dog is invited to enter the dog in the show. It does not have to be a hound dog, just a dog of any kind.

All dogs entered in the show must be on a leash at all times. First, second and third place winners will be selected. Clifford Morris will do the judging.

The dog show time will be announced next week, along with a complete line up on all the events for the local observance.

Caseorama Starlite Review To Be In Coleman June 26th

The 1958 version of the Caseorama Starlite Review, a night of entertainment for farmers, ranchers and their families, will be presented at the Mead Farm in South Coleman Thursday evening, June 26, beginning at 8:00 p. m. The two hour show will be staged under the stars and floodlights.

Prizes and refreshments are also on the program as well as a chance to visit with your neighbors and friends. Admission is free.

QUARTERBACK CLUB MEMBERSHIP NOW 113

Four new members in the Quarterback Club this week brings the membership to 113 members. New members are Mr. and Mrs. Tomison Grand and Mrs. and Mrs. Blossom Owen.

LARGE FIG

Mrs. K. G. Gore presented your editor with a very large fig the first of this week. The fig measured 9½ inches around and weighed 6½ ounces.

The fig was raised at Mrs. Gore's home just north of the City Hall.

Patsy and Jamie Mayfield of Abilene, daughters of the former Alice Jane Lovelady, are visiting here this week with their great-aunt, Miss Alta Lovelady.

DESPITE the heavy Anti-monopoly campaign against mergers in the field of business, the Chamber of Commerce reports that there were about 950 planned mergers of "newsworthy" significance last year. This figure reflects little change since 1952, when the number was 822 and, as well, points out the fact that mergers go up and down with economic activity.

If the 950 merger plans last year had been limited to medium-sized or big businesses, they wouldn't have indicated a major monopolistic trend. There are more than 90,000 corporations with assets over $1 million.

The figure 950 is even less significant when compared with the total number of businesses—more than four million. Not much turns up either in restricting the comparison to the 300,000 total for the number of manufacturers.

Studies show that companies usually become big through internal growth. One survey disclosed that only about 20 per cent of their growth resulted from mergers.

A recent Federal Reserve report, "Financing Small Business," concludes that "the taxes falling directly on investors . . . made venture investment inappropriate for small and even medium-sized investors."

The full significance of this report becomes apparent in light of the fact that about two-thirds of the nation's shareholders have incomes under $7,500 a year. The shortage of "risk capital" for small business can be attributed to the fact that the small investor is hesitant to take the risk in financing new ventures for a return made insignificant by taxes.

Experienced Washington observers say, election year notwithstanding, Congress will be unable to adjourn before August.

A heavy work load of "must" legislation is the reason. Relatively few important measures have been signed into law this year. Of the half dozen or so bills sent to the White House, two of the most important — the price support freeze and the rivers and harbors bill—were vetoed by the President.

Observers also believe Congress will set up two new space development agencies. They suggest that the Pentagon's Advanced Research Products Agency, or a similar organization under another name, will emerge as part of the Defense Department reorganization asked for by President Eisenhower.

This unit, for which more than $500 million has been asked for next year, would handle military missiles projects while also continuing ARPA work on reconnaissance satellites, moon vehicles, and non-military programs.

The civilian agency would concentrate on development of rockets to other planets, manned space ships, huge rocket engines, the stone." One might want to qualify that statement a bit, but consider also the seed.

The seed falls on a bit of soil in a crevice of a rock. It is a tiny seed. What chance has it for growth in that unlikely place? But life and purpose are within the seed, and in time it bursts its bonds. A stem grows toward the sun, and a root makes its way into the bit of soil. Time passes, a tree grows, and the rock is split asunder. Yes, movement wins — purposeful, God-given movement.

I am very small until I remember that it is always God and I. With Him, my weakness becomes strength, my faltering steps become purposeful, my feeble efforts become victory.

It is a glorious experience to work with God. He works in us and through us. We cannot fail!

PRAYER

Thou great and almighty God, we humbly thank Thee for the opportunity to work with Thee. Keep us aware of Thy nearness. Guide us when ways are sunny and when paths are dark. Thou art our strength. We seek no credit for ourselves as we work in Thy kingdom. Thine is the power and the glory forever. Amen.

Trickham News

BY EDNA R. DEAN

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stearns of Trickham announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Frances, to Mr. Charlie Ray Fleming of Cleveland, on Saturday, June 28, at 8:00 o'clock at the Trickham Union Church. Rev. Glenn Brigran, who came Sunday night to officiate at the Moore-Gilbert wedding, remained until Tuesday noon and then left for Big Sandy, to get his wife, who has been there visiting with her people for several weeks.

Vernon Herring came early Saturday morning from Dallas, and took his mother-in-law, Mrs. Preston West and the little Herring daughter, Lisa, to be with the Harrings. Lucretia had surgery again last Friday, this time on the spine, and is reported to be doing very well. Mrs. West returned home on Monday.

Mrs. Clara Gilbreath of Gulfport, Miss., who has been here about two weeks, visiting with her son, Byron Gilbreath and family, plans to leave for home Thursday of this week.

Hardy Blue was able to come down town Tuesday morning. He is getting along fine and looks ever so well, following surgery in Abilene two weeks ago. Ora Beth Henderson of Snyder, is here visiting with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Blue.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stockard went to Abilene Friday. He returned home the same day but she remained until Sunday night, visiting with their daughter, Mrs. Beverly McFadden and family.

FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS

Teens, Parents Each Have Problems

By Clare D. Smith

A teenage friend in New Jersey writes that she is fifteen but her parents will not let her date on Saturday nights. She also says her parents listen to her telephone conversations and if she talks 15 minutes makes her get "off the telephone."

Dates and telephones! I can't think of two greater teenage problems. But let's take them in order.

Dates: Many parents allow their children to date at the age of fifteen. Some do not. Our young friend has indicated that when she is 16 she will be allowed to go to Saturday night dances. At the moment that seems like a long time in the future, but actually it is only a few months away. Be patient.

One thing disturbs me, however. Our friend says she knows many girls who are dating at the age of 12 and 13. This is entirely too young.

Telephone: Our young friend also resents her parents listening to her conversations on the telephone. This, I think, is justified. Parents should respect the privacy of their children's conversations the same as they would other individuals.

I must, however, agree with the parents that a 15 minute telephone conversation is long enough. Telephones are not instruments for visiting. If a teenager has many friends and they call often the telephone can be tied up for hours and days.

All teenagers should remember that other members of the family have telephone privileges also.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, NATIONAL WEEKLY NEWSPAPER SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

"I REMEMBER"
BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Muriel Bjerknes Myhrum, Tarawa Terrace, N. C.: I remember when they gave tap dancing lessons for 25 cents a lesson in the waiting room of the depot; my first Sunday School teacher and how she sang "The Old Rugged Cross." I still think of her when I hear that song: the old man with the whiskers who made all the bridges and odd things across the river below his place and how much fun we had ice skating there every winter from the railroad bridge up to his swimming hole. He'd dug it so there would be a place deep enough to swim in the summer. It was O. K. if you didn't mind a foot of gobey mud at the bottom, other parts were nice and sandy. I always thought Old Steve reminded me of Moses in the Bible.

I remember the nice old man who was our shoemaker . . . the smell of leather and polish in his shop and the little scraps of leather he gave to us . . . We got shoe laces for our ice skates at his shop. He rode a bike everywhere and everybody called him "Shoemaker." Pederson. I don't think I ever heard his other name.

I remember the fun of good Norwegian food we had at our Christmas party at the Sons of Norway Cabin every year—in that small town of mine of Minnesota.

Linda Moore and Daniel Gilbert Exchange Vows In Double Ring Ceremony Monday

MRS. DANIEL GILBERT

On Monday night at 7:30 o'clock, June 23, at the Christian Church, Miss Linda Beth Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Moore, became the bride of Mr. Daniel Gilbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Gilbert.

The candlelight, double-ring ceremony was read by Rev. Glenn Brigman of Corpus Christi, a former pastor of the church, before the altar decorated by a palm covered archway and flanked by arrangements of white candelabra.

Donald Ray and Doynne McIver lighted candles. Miss Patsy Moore, cousin of the bride, was pianist and accompanied Sharon Hoke, who sang, "For You Alone" and at the close of the ceremony, "Wedding Prayer".

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a floor length dress of white lace, tulle and net. The lace bodice was made in a deep V, with long tapering sleeves. The bouffant skirt was tiers of gathered net with edging of lace.

Her elbow length veil was attached to a tiny crown of white pearls and sequins, and she wore a single strand of pearls as her only jewelry.

The bride's bouquet was lilies of the valley, centered with an orchid, and carried on a white Bible.

Miss Diane Moss was maid of honor and brides maids were Jean Smith and Judy Ford.

Sandra and Cindy Hartman, cousins of the bride, served as Junior brides maids and flower girls.

The attendants were attired in pastel dresses of organdy over cotton satin, made princess style with V necklines, cap sleeves and large organdy bows at the back waist line.

Jackie Box, cousin of the bride was ring bearer.

Maynard Brown served the groom as best man, and groomsmen were Larry Donham, Morris Straughan and Harold Walker. Bobby Joe Densman and Eugene White ushered.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Moore wore an afternoon dress of dusty rose lace with matching accessories. Mrs. Gilbert was attired in a dress of blue lace. Both wore white corsages.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the annex with the wedding party in the receiving line. The rooms were decorated with white and colored gladioli and wedding bells.

The refreshment table was laid with a hand made cloth of pink net over pink taffeta, centered with a crystal epergne, holding the bride's bouquet and surrounded by ivory fans, which were carried by the bride's attendants.

Patsy Moore, Lanita Benge and Sharon Hoke served the cake and punch. The white four-tiered cake was decorated with pink sugar roses and topped with a white wedding bell.

Carolyn Fletcher and Elaine White were also in the house party.

For going away, the bride wore a pink linen sheath with empire waist line and all-over embroidery. Her ensemble was completed with pink and white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Following their wedding trip to West Texas and New Mexico, the couple will be at home in Santa Anna, where the groom is employed at the Sand Co.

Both bride and groom are graduates of Santa Anna High School, the bride with the Class of 1958 and the groom with the Class of 1957.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY.

Linda Moore Honored At Gift Shower

The Women of the Christian Church entertained with a gift tea for Miss Linda Moore Tuesday, June 17, from 7:00 to 9:00 p. m. The pleasant affair was held in the home of Mrs. George Richardson, and was a courtesy given in view of the honoree's approaching marriage to Daniel Gilbert.

Mrs. Clifford Stephenson was at the door and Judy Ford at the register.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Doug Moore, mother of the honoree, Miss Moore, and Mrs. Clarence Gilbert, mother of the groom-to-be. Seated near the line were the two grandmothers, Mrs. Sam Moore and Mrs. Sid Knox.

Mrs. Richardson's antique dining table was covered with Mrs. Oscar Boenke's handmade cut work linen cloth. A lime green and pink color was carried out.

Sharon Hoke and Dianne Moss laded the lime sherbet punch. Linda Suddereth served the cake squares, iced with pink rosebuds. Mints and nuts were placed for self serving. At the rear of the table a tall doll in bridal array stood under an arch, entwined with greenery, a pink bow and pink flowers. Surrounding the doll's bonfant skirt was a wreath of pink sweet peas.

Jean Smith directed to the gift room as she had to the refreshment table. Room decorations were of gladioli and shasta daisies.

Elaine White displayed the gifts in great number, and wide variety, many of them being in the selections of the bride-to-be.

Forty-five signed the register. Mrs. B. L. Parks said the good-byes.

Self Culture Club Holds Called Meeting Tuesday Afternoon

At 4:00 p. m. Tuesday, the Self Culture Club had a called meeting in the City Library with Mrs. Cullen Perry, president, presiding. Mrs. Norval Wylie read the programs for next year and year books were decided upon.

The primary purpose of the meeting was to discuss the coming Centennial. Santa Anna's day is Saturday, July 5th.

The Club will have a window in the building formerly occupied by the Ladies Shop. Mrs. Preston Bailey, Mrs. J. C. Mathews and Miss Bettie Blue were appointed a committee on window arrangement. Members will furnish antiques. Further plans will be announced later.

EASTERN STAR HAS REGULAR MEETING

The Santa Anna Chapter No. 247, Order of the Eastern Star, met June 23 in their regular stated meeting.

Twenty members and two visitors were present.

The next meeting will be July 21, at which time all P. Ms and P. P. s will be honored, and all members are urged to be present. Meeting time will be 8:00 o'clock.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Interested persons are reminded of the regular 5th Monday meeting of the Santa Anna Council of Church Women. The meeting will be held in the First Christian Church next Monday, June 30th, at 3:00 p. m. with the women of the church as hosts.

Women of all churches are invited to attend.

Pink and Blue Shower Honors Mrs. Dyer

A pink and blue shower was given for Mrs. Tommy Dyer, who before her marriage was Miss Kay Owen. This pleasant affair was held in the Community Room of the Santa Anna National Bank on Saturday.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Roy Haynes, Mrs. O. E. Owen and Mrs. Albert Lee Dyer.

The shower was well attended, considering the heavy rains that fell in the afternoon.

The honoree received many beautiful and useful gifts. The hostesses served a variety of cookies and plenty of punch.

20th Century Club Makes Plans For Centennial Window

The 20th Century Club met with Mrs. Arthur Talley at two o'clock Friday, June 20th.

Most of those attending brought antiques. Mrs. Talley had an oil lamp burning on a very old hand carved table. Others brought very interesting things.

Mrs. Vanderford brought her elaborate Centennial outfit, consisting of bonnet, dress and handbag, which she tried on. It was agreed to arrange the club's Centennial window on Thursday of this week.

The club is meeting just once a month during the summer. There will be a family night in July and a regular meeting in August.

The hostess served refreshments of pop corn, freshly popped, a variety of cookies, minis

EASY DOES IT
 BY HELEN HALE
 RAISIN bread makes a charming tea snack when it's sliced thin, buttered, rolled and toasted in the oven until just golden. Fasten with toothpick before toasting. For a quick cookie treat blend together miniature marshmallows, chopped walnuts, raisins and melted bittersweet chocolate. Spread over graham crackers or vanilla wafers and let stand until cool.

THIS WEEK'S RECIPE
Yummy Squares
 (Serves 8)
 1 No. 2½ size can fruit cocktail
 ½ cup undiluted frozen orange juice concentrate
 2 cups miniature marshmallows
 ¼ teaspoon salt
 1 cup heavy cream, whipped
 1 cup graham cracker crumbs
 Drain fruit cocktail thoroughly. Combine orange juice concentrate, marshmallows and salt; stir over low heat until marshmallows melt. Cool. Fold whipped cream into marshmallow mixture. Fold in 2 cups fruit, reserving remainder for garnish. Sprinkle crumbs over bottom of 8-inch square pan and spoon creamy mixture over them. Chill overnight. Cut into squares and serve topped with remaining fruit cocktail.

Make a delicious vegetable casserole by lining a buttered baking dish with strips of cooked carrots, covered with cooked or canned green beans and topping with mashed potato. Bake at 400° F. for 30 minutes.
 For something new in desserts try a combination of crushed strawberries, sliced peaches sweetened with powdered sugar. Spoon over warm buttered shortcake.
 Sponge cake fingers made from leftover cake take an appeal when they're dipped in melted semi-sweet chocolate, then rolled in chopped nuts.

LOGAN'S GUN COURTING
 By Katy Baker

WHEN the door opened and Matt Jones walked into the saloon, Johnny Logan laid his paper aside and glanced toward the back room where his bartender was cleaning up. No one else was around.

"Matt," Johnny spoke, "I've already warned you to stay away from my girl, Rosie Hall. This is the second warning. There will only be one more."

Matt's startled look faded from his eyes and he smiled contemptuously. He walked across the room and sat down while Johnny watched him balefully. A minute later he laid his gun on the bar and began counting the notches on the handle in a voice loud enough to reach Matt. "One—two—three—four," he intoned.

Matt's eyes grew hard for a moment, then his lips twisted with another smile. "Is the count correct?" he asked, amused.

"Yes. And I've still got room for another."

Matt shrugged.

"These are for men I've met in old Texas," Johnny said, frostily. "Didn't want to do it, but had to. Came to Oklahoma in hopes of outliving the rep it gave me. Want to be respectable, if I can."

"I see," Matt responded dryly.

Silence settled over the saloon and lasted for several minutes. Then Matt went to the bar, ordered a drink, tossed it off, and went to the street.

An hour later he re-entered the place with Rosie Hall clinging to his arm. Matt ordered whiskey and Rosie ginger ale. They stood silent for several minutes watching the anger building up in Johnny's face, then went to the street laughing.

Matt returned to the bar room a few minutes later. The saloon was beginning to fill up, and Johnny didn't see him until he stepped to the bar and ordered a drink. Johnny leaned toward him.

Oak Ridge—Atomic Energy Center

MODERN SCHOOL—Oak Ridge, Tenn.

Pearl Buck, the noted authoress, recently visited Oak Ridge, Tennessee to absorb atmosphere for a coming book about the early days of the Manhattan District—the wartime atomic bomb project...

It is, of course, because of the famed bomb project that Oak Ridge exists today as a new and modern community not only including an "aggregation of interesting people and wonderful brains" but many other unique features.

As recently as the summer of 1942, what is now the Oak Ridge reservation was a rural area of Eastern Tennessee, mostly open country, but including three small villages.

The Army Engineers, searching for a site for the prime atomic bomb installations, settled on Oak Ridge because it was in the power-rich TVA area, offered a favorable labor supply and terrain suitable to the unpredictable plant operations planned. In those days, no one could be certain what would take place as nuclear experimentation got underway.

"Boom Town" From late 1942 through most of 1945, Oak Ridge "boomed." In recent years it has undergone a remarkable transition—from a city built expediently for a wartime project and completely owned and operated by federal fiat to one with the highest percentage of home ownership in the nation...

Visitors in the J. W. Price home and with other relatives, are Mrs. Price's sister, Miss Alma Hardin of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Woodard and Larry of Cache, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Audie Woodard and Kenny of Bakersfield, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Audie Wayne Woodard of Wichita Falls, The Woodards attended the Woodard reunion on Saturday and Sunday in Coleman.

FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS

Teenage Views on Going 'Steady'

A young lady from Detroit, Michigan, writes: "I am 15 and my boy friend is fifteen. We are not going steady, but I would like to. My mother doesn't approve. She says I will miss out on a lot of fun."

Admittedly, this is true. But wouldn't she meet many more teenagers if she didn't confine her dates to a "steady." She would also meet the girl friends of these boys and their friends.

I can't agree that going steady widens one's circle of friends. This young lady has a very important point, however, that I think parents should consider. She writes: "Many teenagers are going steady. Their parents don't like the idea so the kids do it behind their parent's backs."

It would seem to me much better to allow your son or daughter to go steady, then have them doing so "behind your back," as your young friend says.

Above all else, it is important that parents and teenagers have complete confidence in each other. This is never accomplished if one or the other is not completely frank and honest.

It is very difficult for parents and teenagers to agree; there are too many reasons to discuss here. But it is important for each to at least try to understand the other's point of view.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, NATIONAL WEEKLY NEWSPAPER SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.
