HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN - The political melo-drama known as Texas redistricting has both the players and audience on the edge of their seats.

Last week, a three-judge federal panel threw out Democrat-drawn maps for House and Senate seats, and ordered the state to proceed with primary elections using court-drawn maps.

Coming the day before Christmas, the ruling was a welcome stocking stuffer for minorities and the Texas Republican Party.

"It sounds like Santa may have come a day early for the Republicans," said Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock.

The judges closely followed the plan favored by the House leadership, but re-drew the Senate plan so extensively that some political analysts were predicting Republicans might win a majority of the 31 seats.

The judges, all Republicans, will allow the primary elections to proceed on schedule March 10, but their decision called into question the need for a Jan. 2 special session that the governor called earlier this month.

Appeal, Special Session
Gov. Ann Richards, however, said: "The special session will proceed as called...and I feel sure that the Legislature will move quickly to establish a plan that will receive pre-clearance by the U.S. Justice Department."

Justice Will Garwood, who also sits on the Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, said the court ruling should be set aside if lawmakers finally draw an acceptable plan.

Political experts predicted that sometime this week, Attorney General Dan Morales would appeal to the Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals to overturn the court ruling and let the Legislature draw new boundaries.

In The Texas House
Early signals indicated that Speaker Gib Lewis and the House leadership were at odds with the court-ordered plan.

After all, the court's plan, except for fine-tuning in El Paso, San Antonio, Dallas and South Texas, was essentially the one crafted by the House redistricting committee.

Perhaps credit should go to redistricting chairman State Rep. Tom Uher, D-Bay City, who continued to hold public hearings and stuck to the Voting Rights Act.

When Uher didn't bend the rules to protect Democratic incumbents, caucus leaders took it into their own hands to draw up a "renegade" plan signed by 76 Democrats, a majority.

No one but the 76 ever took it seriously; now that Uher's plan has essentially been court-approved as legitimate, it should easily win approval in the special session.

In The Texas Senate
If the court found no real problem with Uher and the House plan, it found plenty of fault with the Senate's maps.

The Senate plan protected liberals, shafted conservatives and 4

Community Builder Award

"The Community Builder Award" was presented to Thelma Brooker on December 6, 1991 during the Christmas opening parade in downtown Santa Anna. Presenting the award on behalf of Mountain Lodge 661 is Dean Bass, Master of the lodge. The award was recently implemented by the Masonic Grand Lodge of Texas to provide local lodges a means of recognizing outstanding individuals for their contributions to communities. The presentation was made to Mrs. Brooker for her untiring efforts for the community of Santa Anna. She served as the first woman mayor of Santa Anna, and has been a tireless worker with the Chamber of Commerce in promoting Santa Anna and helping with many jobs concerning Frontier Days each year. She is also a member of the Park Board and is instrumental in much of the fundraising for upkeep and new equipment for the park. She was selected by the Chamber of Commerce as Santa Anna's Citizen of the Year for 1991.

While Others Had Visions Of Christmas Gifts, These Students Were Thinking Of The Homeless

While most children had "visions of sugar plums dancing in their heads" and thoughts of Christmas presents and writing letters to Santa, some Santa Anna third grade students of Sharon Greenlee were thinking about ways to help the homeless. The following are some of their thoughts.

I know there are homeless people all over the United States. We need to help these people with care, food and homes. Maybe you could help find a building to fix up. Maybe I can share my home. I could collect some money to buy food or medicine. I will never forget the homeless people.

Casey Herring

We can help the homeless people by giving them some clothes and if we had any extra beds, we could give the beds to them. We could help by building shelters and we could turn empty buildings into shelters. We could share school lessons with them. We could help by raising money. All of us can help the homeless and remember we have homes, they don't!

Austin Voss

We can give the homeless people food baskets with apples, oranges and canned food. I can give a girl some of my clothes that I can't wear. I can give the shelter beds and food for the homeless. I can share with the homeless.

Kristi Morris

We can help the homeless people by getting some food for them. I would help homeless people get a job. They will need supplies like beds and money. Now they also need clothes and shelters. They need a home to protect them from the cold winter. I care about the homeless people.

Michael Padilla

Some homeless people live in the parks, on sidewalks or on park benches. I know how we can save the homeless. We can save the homeless by giving them some food to eat. I know how we can help the homeless by giving them some clothes. It is always good to help people that have less things than we have.

Charlene Johnson

Here is one or two ways to help the homeless. You can help by giving them clothes, food and money. Some homeless need medicine. But if they do drugs, it should be doctor recommended. Homeless people are poor people and should be treated just like anyone else. I feel sorry for the

Cancer Detection Unit To Visit Next Wednesday

In an effort to find cancers at the earliest possible stage and prevent unnecessary deaths, a mobile breast cancer detection unit will be made available to local women Wednesday, Jan. 8, when a unit will be set up inside the Mountain City Community Center.

According to statistics from the American Cancer Society, one out of every 10 women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime during her lifetime.

Every year more than 37,000 women die as a result of breast cancer.

"The death rate from breast cancer could be drastically reduced if women would have mammograms done before a problem exists," said a spokesman from the Regional Breast Care Center at Women's & Children's Hospital in Odessa. "By using modern state-of-the-art x-ray equipment breast cancers can be found when they are about the size of a grain of rice and well before the cancer can be felt. A woman who is diagnosed with breast cancer at this early stage has a 90-97 percent survival rate."

A woman who is not diagnosed until a lump can be felt has approximately a 50 percent survival rate in five years, the spokesman said.

Appointments may be made with the mobile unit by calling 348-3403.

The Boy Scouts are getting food baskets for people to give to the homeless. I will give apples, oranges and canned food. I will share my old clothes with the children. I will give them money to help buy things. I think everybody should have a home.

Bennie Bible

There are many homeless people and here are some ways to help them. The shelters might be crowded so you could try to build some more. Sometimes you might not be able to build a shelter. Then you could find an empty building and clean it up and put a few mattresses in it. You might find some old clothes that you don't need and give them to the homeless people. Try to help homeless people!

Bobby Hale

If I could help a homeless person, I would give them some food. I would give them meat that is juicy and tender. I could give them some of my old clothes like pants and sweaters and tee shirts. I could help them build shelters. If there was an empty building I would fix it up and put a bed in it. I was born doing that.

Cawlye Luera

There are many ways to help the homeless. We can provide food and help build shelters. We could provide clothes and empty buildings. Then we could raise money for a house and help clean it up. I would go in my closet and look for clothes. I might let them stay in my house for a week. I hope we never forget the homeless.

Elena Balderas

Many people are homeless, so I could give them some money. I could also give them a home or let them stay at my house. I would help them find a job to make money. I would feed them until they get paid. It is good to help the homeless.

Kim Rogers

We could help the homeless people by putting food in baskets. I could get oranges, apples, grapes and pears then I would give it to them. Girl Scouts will collect money and clothes. Girl Scouts were organized to help. I belong to this group so I can help others.

Thoughts From Our Pastors

Jasper McClellan Presbyterian Church

GIFT EXCHANGE

By the time you read this, Christmas 1991 will have come and gone. Many gifts will have been given and received. Even as you read this, may gifts are being EXCHANGED. The color, size, style, quality, etc. just didn't seem yours. So one gift item (or several) is EXCHANGED for another (or more).

Gift giving implies EXCHANGE in many ways. You EXCHANGED "X" hours of your time for "Y" dollars. Then you EXCHANGED "X" dollars for "Y" gifts. You may have taken special care to give gifts only to those from whom you expected to receive a gift. You and they literally EXCHANGED GIFTS.

But Christmas is really about THE gift that God gave. Is EXCHANGE involved? Absolutely.

Jesus, His only begotten son, our Saviour, EXCHANGED glory, honor and riches in heaven for humility, service and poverty on earth. He EXCHANGED close fellowship with God the Father for a time, so that He might minister on earth. He literally gave Himself to us as the perfect gift. He gave Himself to us as the perfect sacrifice in EXCHANGE for our sins and rebellion. He gave His all for us and it cost Him His life on the cross.

What have we given Him in EXCHANGE for what He gave us? The Bible says that Jesus laid down His life for the church and we should do the same. That is, we are to give a life of service in His name, for His glory, to the betterment of mankind. The Bible also makes it clear that Earth will pass away; it will melt with a fervent heat, only three things will survive the great fire: God; God's Word; and people.

Each and every day we are involved in EXCHANGING our lives for many things that will NOT make it into eternity.

With the beginning of a new year so close at hand, I challenge you to do more than make a few resolutions that you have no intention of keeping. Make a commitment to EXCHANGE. For the honor and glory of the Christ of Christmas, EXCHANGE your own stubborn, selfish will, for God's holy and perfect will. By so doing, you will have not only the best Christmas possible, the best possible new year, but more importantly, the best possible eternity.

Maranatha!

Jasper

N.B. What gift have you given to the church this year? In light of all that God in Christ has given you, is the tithe too much to ask? Uncle Sam has given you much less, and asks for much more. If you have not at least brought the tithe, than you have GIVEN Him nothing, for the tithe is required.

Around & About

Christmas visitors with Pete and Winnie Rutherford were their sons and families: Mr. and Mrs. Don Rutherford, Kevin and Holly of Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rutherford, Julie and Shanna of San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Rutherford, Jackie and Stacie of Anson.

Ann and Joe and children also visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Omer Cullins.

Christmas visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Derrel Warnock were Marty and Cathy Warnock of Mesquite and Stephanie Warnock of Quanah. Mr. and Mrs. James Keeney of Coleman and Mrs. Vera Wells of Santa Anna were in Breckenridge the day after Christmas to have a delayed Christmas celebration and dinner with James Lyndon and Janis Wells and daughter Erica Dawn. Vera reports that all had a very enjoyable time.

At least one in our community learned first hand about the ravages of a flood last week. Erica Pearce was a volunteer with the Red Cross when they set up an emergency shelter at Lake Brownwood United Methodist Church. Erica is the teenaged daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Pearce.

Jewell Lee is back at home in Santa Anna after having spent the last couple of months visiting with her granddaughter Janie Houston and family in El Paso.

Steve and Kelly Malear and Bobby were in Albany on Thursday of last week visiting with Steve's mother and her husband, June and Ray Hawkins. Also visiting were his brother Jerry Malear and family of El Paso. A member of the U.S. Army, Jerry has asked for overseas assignment and is awaiting word as to where he and his family will be sent. He was involved last year in Desert Storm.

Jeanine (Stockard) Sawyer was in the NEWS office on Monday. She reports that she had 27 inches of water in her home at Lake Haven on Lake Brownwood last week during the flooding. She quipped that at least it wasn't as bad as last year when she had 29 inches.

Thank You

We want to express our thanks and deep appreciation for all the concern shown while our Daddy was in the hospital and for the flowers, food, visits and prayers offered at the time of his passing. We especially thank Donnie Henderson and his staff for all the wonderful services rendered.

A very special 'Thank You' goes to David Strickland and Ross Bradley for their putting out the fire when Daddy was burned and for notifying the family immediately. They were indeed Angels of Mercy.

Eubank, Martelli Vows Exchanged In Hawaii

The Maui Prince Hotel, located at the Makena Resort in Maui, Hawaii was the setting for the November 29 wedding of Dena Delane Martelli and Don Windel Eubank.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Andronis Martelli of San Antonio, Texas, and Mr. & Mrs. Alfred A. Hester of Houston, Texas. Mr. Max Eubank of Abilene and the late Shirley Eubank, are parents of the bridegroom.

The bride was attired in a formal suit of candlelight satin overlaid with antiqued lace of candlelight that was elegantly fashioned by a jeweled neckline and peplum jacket with a softly scalloped skirt. The jacket was enhanced by satin embroidered trim with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. She wore a head piece braided of pearls and sequins to which a shoulder length tiered veil was attached. Her jewelry was a single pair of diamond-pearl drop earrings.

The bride's bouquet was a flowing cascade of white orchids, white roses, and an assorted mixture of tropical island flowers entwined with dark green ivy and candlelight ribbon.

The couple's reception took place on December 14 at the Historical Tremont House Hotel in Galveston, Texas. Guests were seated at round tables laid with white linen cloths and overlaid with dark green. The center pieces were made of one single candle surrounded by fresh greenery and white roses. Fresh live nobil wrapped with red and green velvet ribbon was used for garland, which was draped elegantly from the ceilings. Piano music was played by the bride's great aunt, Kate Martelli, of Galveston.

A buffet of imported and domestic cheeses, seasonal fruit and wafer crackers, garden vegetables and dip, assorted canapes, mushroom caps filled with spinach souffle, and Calzones, were served with champagne, coffee, and fruit punch. The bride's table was laid with white linen cloth and centered by a three layer cake decorated in white with fresh greenery and white roses flowing between the layers, surrounding the base, and on top.

The groom's table was covered with white linen and centered with a round chocolate cake covered in white icing. The top of the cake was inscribed with the Texas A&M logo in burgundy and white icing, and fresh greenery was placed around the base of the cake.

The couple reside in Midland, Texas where the groom is employed as an Engineer with Conoco, Inc. He is a graduate of Santa Anna High School and holds a BS degree in Engineering Geology from Abilene Christian University and a BS degree in Petroleum Engineering from Texas A&M University. Turner Announces New Hours For District Office

State Representative Bob Turner announces the extension of office hours for his district office. Effective 1-1-92, the district office will be open from 8:30 to 12:00 and 2:00 to 4:30, Monday thru Friday.

The district office is located at 211 West Pecan in Coleman. The phone number is (915) 625-3596.

Executive Director of the Coleman County Economic Development Company. He is a retired Lt. Col. in the Army Reserve, with 35 years total service, and a 17 year veteran on the local school board, past president of both the Coleman Chamber of Commerce and the Coleman County Farm Bureau. Turner served 5 years on the Board of Directors and one year as Vice President of the Texas Farm Bureau.

He was named outstanding Rural Citizen by the Coleman Chamber of Commerce in 1990. Turner is currently a member of Governor Richard's newly formed Health Care Task Force, and presently chairs the National Animal Damage Control Advisory Committee for the U. S. Secretary of Agriculture.

Turner states, "I am extremely concerned about rural Texas, the unique problems that are ours, the lack of representation and voice rural residents have. Further, I am very interested in seeking the understanding and assistance of urban legislators in finding solutions to our problems. Lack of understanding of our rural problems is an element that needs to be overcome if rural Texas is to survive. There generally is a willingness on the part of urban legislators to cooperate, if they are educated in the needs and concerns of rural Texans," Turner concludes.

Dear Editor

On November 24th of this year the Ministerial Alliance invited the community to worship together in a service of worship, praise, and Thanksgiving. As the custom has been for several years, the opportunity to worship God with an offering was extended. Many of you responded to that opportunity and for that, thanks is given. At least on congregation received a special Thanksgiving offering in their services at their particular church and later gave that to the Ministerial Alliance Fund. This fund exists to help those who are travelling through town and find themselves in need. On December 25th of this year, Christmas Day, such a need surfaced. A mother and three children were headed to Midland from Louisiana. A horrible automobile collision in the West end of town left her with a virtually totaled automobile and three very frightened children. Thankfully, there seemingly were no serious bodily injuries. We were not able to establish contact with their family or friends either in Midland or Louisiana. Their car was wrecked and it was Christmas.

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as the result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate.

A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, even before it can be felt.

Guidelines For Screening Mammography Established by the American Cancer Society.

- I. 35-40 years of age - One baseline mammogram.
- II. 40-50 years of age - A mammogram every 1-2 years depending on breast type and risk factor.
- III. 50 years of age and over - An annual physical examination and annual mammogram.
- IV. Asymptomatic women under 50 years of age with significant high risk factors should be examined at appropriate intervals. These risk factors include previous breast cancer and family history of cancer.

V. A symptomatic woman should have a mammogram at any age when she experiences a mass, nipple discharge, skin changes or unexplained breast pain.

A screening mammogram is an x-ray of the breast using extremely low dosages of radiation (usually comparable to dental x-rays) and is designed to find very early cancers.

A female technologist who is highly trained in mammography will perform the examination.

The charge for the screening mammogram is $62.00. The Unit accepts cash, check, Visa, Mastercard and American Express.

vided some 80 counties.

The court-drawn replacement has no split counties and forces several incumbents to run against each other in some pretty unbelievable match-ups.

Perhaps the most interesting pits Senate dean Chet Brooks, D-Pasadena, against Rodney Ellis, a black freshman from Houston, in a predominately black district.

Senate agriculture leader Bill Sims, D-San Angelo, is matched against trial lawyer Temple Dickson, D-Sweetwater, in a duel many experts think Sims can win.

Depending on who's talking, Republicans were strengthened in four to seven districts, including two held by Sens. Bob Glasgow, D-Stephenville, and Ted Lyon, D-Rockwall.

Quick Turn-Around

How quickly things have turned about: for more than 11 months this year, Democrats completely excluded Republicans from meaningful participation; now in the end-game they are in jeopardy of losing their majority for the first time in 140 years.

And last month Gov. Richards vowed she would not call an "expensive" special session; now she must, if only to redeem one or two Democratic seats.

Quite likely the court may postpone ruling on the appeal until it sees what the Senate will draw for itself, but time is running out.

Democrats must use their simple majority to adopt a plan, and then hope the appeals court orders immediate enactment.

Ellis, Hill Debate

State Sen. Rodney Ellis and John Hill, former chief justice of the Texas Supreme Court, had a polite debate on the editorial page last week.

Ellis wants single-member, partisan elections of Texas judges for a number of reasons, among them odds for minority judges.

Hill agreed with Ellis that "defects in our judicial election system made Texas the laughingstock of the nation," but advocates the "Texas Plan for Merit Election."

Hill said under the plan, Texas voters would still elect judges, but only well-qualified candidates who have been screened by the legal profession would appear on the ballot.

Other Highlights

Starting Jan. 1, Texas employers can buy workers' compensation insurance with a variety of deductibles, from $1,000 to $25,000, which may lower premiums.

One day after he drew an opponent, Congressman Jim Chapman, D-Sulphur Springs, announced for re-election. Robert Swede Lee, president of the Texarkana Chamber of Commerce, will oppose Chapman.

SAHS at Lohn Tournament Starting Thursday. Junior High at Eula Monday, with games beginning at 4:00. SAHS and Lometa here Tuesday night, JV & Varsity beginning at 4:00.

Osteoporosis May Begin in Childhood

HOUSTON—A researcher at the Children's Nutrition Research Center (CNRC) in Houston suspects osteoporosis, a crippling bone disease, may begin in childhood.

"Most of an adult's skeleton is built and enlarged during adolescence. Being shortchanged on calcium at this stage of life could be especially damaging," said Dr. Steve Abrams, assistant professor of pediatrics at Baylor College of Medicine.

Little is known about how growing children absorb calcium from foods and deposit it into healthy bones. Previous studies were performed more than 40 years ago and do not represent growth or dietary patterns of American children today.

Abrams is working on a study that will help fill this "calcium gap" by measuring calcium absorption and skeletal formation of young girls. Girls were chosen for the study because women are more susceptible to bone loss in later years.

The study will follow 50 white and 50 black volunteers between the ages of 5 and 15. Abrams will look at the amount of calcium absorbed from the diet, how it is distributed and how rapidly that calcium forms bones in relationship to age, the onset of puberty, diet and race.

Current Recommended Daily Allowances (RDAs) of calcium range from 800 milligrams for children ages 1-10 and 1,200 milligrams for children 11 and older. Abrams suspects the RDA may not be adequate for the skeletal needs of all children.

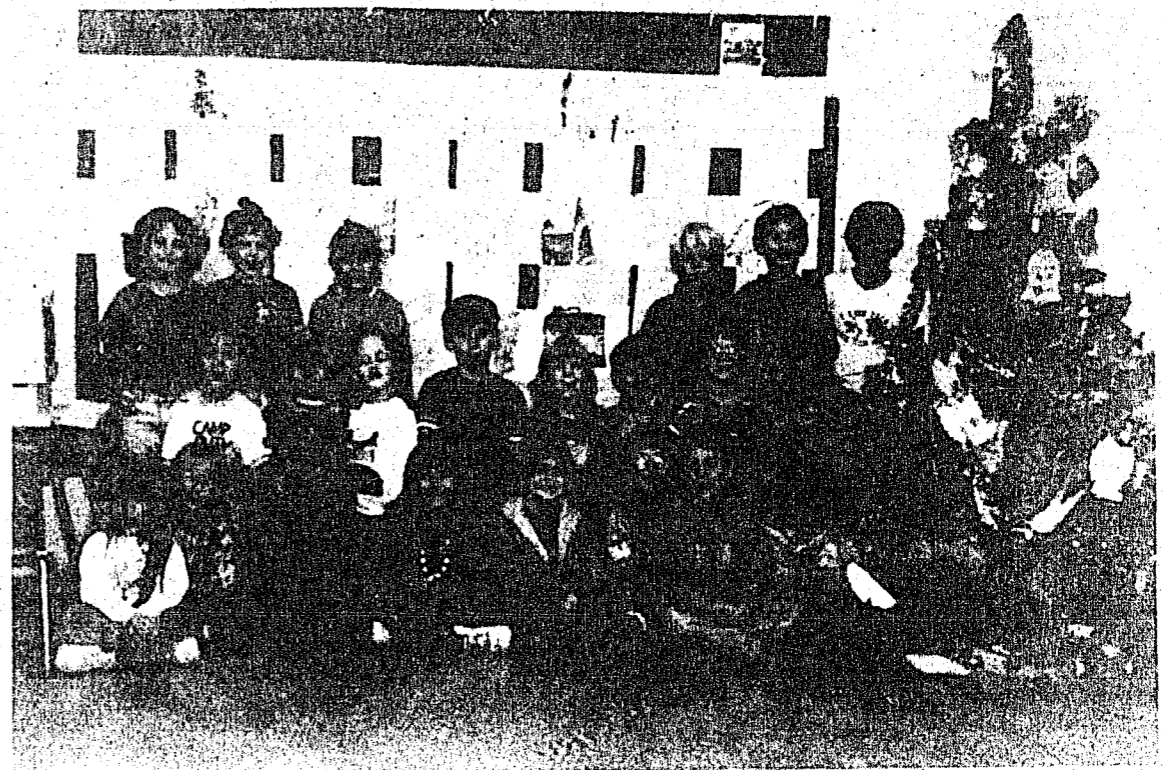

Abrams believes that many children do not receive enough calcium. He also expects to find a significant difference in calcium distribution and bone density among ethnic groups.

Caucasians appear to be at higher risk for developing osteoporosis than blacks.

Osteoporosis, a disease that causes bones to break easily, leads to hip fractures and crushed vertebrae as well as "dowager's hump," a telltale sign of a collapsing spine.

Osteoporosis affects an estimated 20 million Americans -- most of them elderly women.

There is no cure, but Abrams believes that understanding calcium needs and bone growth during childhood can lead to its prevention.

A Mural For Ranger Park Inn

The two first grade classes of Santa Anna Elementary School are shown here with a mural they presented to Ranger Park Inn Nursing Home just before Christmas. It is a mural to brighten everyone's day and the whole year through. (A special meaning of Christmas is giving to someone not expecting a gift in return.) The children's color photo is attached to the mural that is made up of messages written by the children and pictures colored by them. Teachers of the two classes are Betty Smith and Sandra Stith, not pictured.

Trickham News

By Anna York

The main topic of conversation with folks has been the rains and "I wonder when it will stop." I suppose that is natural with all of us, but I am sure the Good Lord knows what we need and in time He will stop it, then we can gripe again. The week before Christmas and on through the 25th here at my place I recorded six inches, bringing it up to fifty one inches and three tenths for the year, so that is a lot of rain for this area.

Reba and Elvis Cozart of Round Rock spent all of Christmas week at their farm. Their daughter and family, Linda and Preston Gray and Carly of Georgetown spent part of the week with them. He mother, Ilene Haynes of Hermleigh came on the 22nd and visited with them and her other daughter, Lois and Frank Wallace in Santa Anna. On the 23rd Lois and Frank were to celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary so the group met at the farm for cake, punch and picture taking. They all went to dinner at Brownwood and Annie Lou Vaughn joined them. Robert Haynes of Brownwood and his granddaughter Lisa Haynes and her fiancé of West Stockridge, Ma visited with them for a while. On Christmas Reba and Elvis took Ilene home after having lunch with Lois and Frank and their guests Billy and Darla Wallace of Lake Whitney.

The four of us went to their travel trailer on the Rio Grande River where we relaxed and watched the beautiful river flow by. On Sunday we drove to Eagle Pass where we went here and there looking around, then on to Crystal City to tour the rather small town around eight thousand population. Donnie and Sherrie taught school there from the years of 1970 to 1974 and in driving around the town found several new businesses and a large new school. Some of you may not know that Crystal City is called the spinach capital of the world. They grow and can more spinach there than anywhere in the United States. And, by the way, we saw several large fields of spinach, cabbage and carrots that were almost ready to be harvested. There is a whimsical statue of Popeye standing on the town square that depicts the cartoon sailor man who eats his spinach and fights to the finish. That is the favorite spot for people to bring their children for a snapshot with Popeye.

From there we went to Uvalde for a tour of some of the lovely old homes then on to Bracketville where we saw where the film "The Alamo" was made starring John Wayne as well as several other movies. It was very interesting. Then back to Del Rio for a nights rest and then a long ride along the shores of Amistad Reservoir where there is miles and miles of water. On the 24th Donnie and Sherry went to Bronte to spend some time with her folks and Nikki and I returned to our home, so we had a real nice Christmas.

Whitney Gunter of Glen Cove spent a couple of days with her grandparents, Billy and Mary Lou Jones during the holidays. Billy and Mary Lou spent the 24th and 25th at Holiday with Barbara and Jerry Horner and boys and Allen Jones and Debbie. Mrs. Katherine Horner of Santa Anna also visited.

Mrs. Scottie James of Fort Worth and her mother, Mrs. Doris Stearns of Brownwood visited Novella Stearns Saturday night. Christmas visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stacy were Martin and Nancy Stacy of Cleburne, Zonell and Bill Hultz of Garland, Sammie LaDouceur of Brownwood and Robert, Patricia, Brent and David Perry of Jacksonville.

Mrs. Gertrude Martin visited with Betty and Felton Martin and all their family for Christmas Eve supper. On Saturday all the family came to Mrs. Martin's to help her celebrate her 87th birthday. Those present were Betty and Felton, Bill and Becky, Buffy and Brandi, Ann Nelson and Jhett of Houston, Jeannie and Fred Drienhoffer, Nicholas and Nathan of Lake Brownwood, Janice and Delbert Snow, Tiffany and Ryan of Brownwood, Meridee and Bob Anderson of Denton, Paul and Gay Martin, Sabrina and Colt of Santa Anna, Pete and Laverne McClatchy of Bangs and Mike and Susan McSwain and Mikey of Glen Allen, Alaska, James and Phillip McSwain of Colorado City and Patricia McPherson, Mindi and Chris of Tolar.

Mrs. Martin reports they had a wonderful day. On Sunday, Dec. 23rd those that were with Annie Lou Vaughn were Mary Ola and Elmer Woods of Bangs, Mrs. Byrdie Miller of Santa Anna, Lynn and Jason Dillard of Stephenville, Tinker and Barbara Dockery and girls of Eden, Rodney and son of Brownwood, John and Earlene Docker and Wesley, and Julie Dean of Santa Anna. On Saturday Mrs. Joyce Kirk and Tona Holland and Johnson visited.

Christmas visitors with Hilburn and Leona Henderson were Naoma and Brent Nicholas and boys Wesley and Ted of Plano and Clarissa, Rodney and Candice Henderson.

My family enjoyed three days of being together during the holidays. Nikki and I met Donnie and Sherry at Del Rio on Saturday the 21st and then Mary Lea Mitchell had her family with her for Christmas. They were Lea and Loyd Mock of Post, Greg and Jennie Stitt and children of Colorado Springs, Colo., Betty and Damon Miller, Angelia and Darrel Swan and boys of Austin, and Pamela and Richard Garrett and Leslie of Buda, James Mock of Abilene and Damon's mother, Mrs. Miller of Early.

Winnie Haynes and Doyle and Laverne Evans of Santa Anna spent Christmas Day at Kemper with Dana and LaVonda Evans and girls. Linda Evans of Austin came for the day.

Those with their mother and grandmother, Edna Laughlin, for Christmas were Billy Roy and Mildred Laughlin, Sherrill and Alby Campbell and Brian, DArla Kay and Donnie Barnum and two children all of Brownwood and Shirley Campbell of Austin.

Novella Stearns spent the day Christmas with her family at McGregor, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Stearns, Sabrina and Clint and Missy Stearns and Tatia. Mrs. Thelma Grammons of Temple was also present. Sherman Stearns spent Friday night with his mother and John Eufebio of McGregor came and spent Saturday with Novella and Sherman.

Rankin McIver and Sherry Blake and Megan were in Austin Monday visiting relatives. Sherrie's aunt, Letha LewAllen of Sweetwater spent one night with Sherrie and Jim Blake. She was on her way to visit a daughter and family in Waco and could not get through the high water at Gatesville. Christmas Day dinner guests with the Blakes were Rankin and Natalie and Terry and Darla and Ben.

The Cen-Tex cattlemen met at the home of Mrs. Margaret Barton on Dec. 19 for their Christmas party. Seventeen ladies were present. Guests of the Bartons during the Christmas season have been Mr. and Mrs. Karl Bilbrey and Mr. and Mrs. Todd Bilbrey of Burleson, Kelley Bilbrey Kieth Bilbrey and friend Rebecca of Waco, and Kathy Bull and Dwight Nixon of Goldthwaite who all visited the 21st and 22nd. Also visiting on the 22nd were Albert Ruggles of Santa

Forever Free

"... All persons held as slaves within any state or designated part of a state, the people whereof shall then be in rebellion against the United States, shall be then, thenceforward, and forever, free. ..."

These words are from one of the most important presidential proclamations in American history — the Emancipation Proclamation. Issued by President Abraham Lincoln on Jan. 1, 1863 — in the midst of the Civil War — the proclamation abolished slavery in the states that had seceded from the Union.

Although the Emancipation Proclamation only freed slaves in the states that had seceded, it was the precursor of the 13th Amendment to the U.S.
Constitution, which on Dec. 18, 1865, outlawed slavery in every part of the United States. M
