Breast Cancer Detection Unit Re-scheduled

The Breast Cancer Detection Unit which was to have been in Santa Anna on Wednesday, Jan. 8 has re-scheduled their visit for Monday, Jan. 27th. The unit is from Transamerican Diagnostic Services of Odessa, Tex. and is accredited by the American College of Radiology and the American College of Radiology Mammography Accreditation Program.

Mammography is an x-ray examination of the breasts, which the American Cancer Society and other medical experts see as the best means for early detection of breast cancer.

Breast cancer will strike one in nine American women. The American Cancer Society predicts that about 41,000 women will die of breast cancer this year. As there is no way to prevent the disease, early detection and treatment offer the greatest hope for survival.

Call 348-3403 for an appointment for your mammogram.

Band Gets New Uniforms

Pictured here are SAHS band members, junior drum major Jeannie Patterson and senior band president Ray Jones, modeling the new uniforms which the band has recently received. The new 1992 uniforms were approved by the school board and ordered at the beginning of the 1991-92 school year and were delivered during the Christmas break. The hats and feathers were purchased in 1989, and the shoes and gloves are also a part of the recent uniform purchase and were received in time to be used during the recent marching season. The first performance in which the band will officially wear these new uniforms, without hats for concert season, will be at the U.I.L. concert and sight-reading contest on April 14, in Coleman.

Mike Gainor took the command literally, "Take up the cross and follow me."

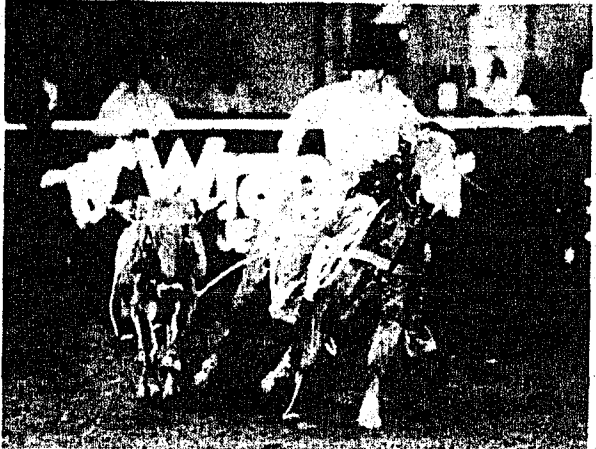

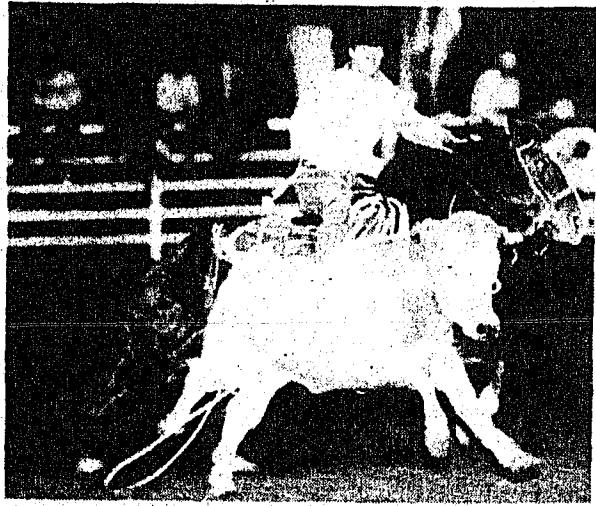

"Take Up Thy Cross And Follow Me"

Mike Gainor, took the command seriously when he felt Jesus told him to "take up the cross." He has been carrying the cross on his shoulders for 5-1/2 years, walking across the country, staying mostly near the larger cities along the borders. He began his ministry of witnessing for Jesus in this fashion after becoming one of the casualties of the oil bust in 1986. He was living in Oklahoma at the time and working on drilling rigs after having moved there from his home in Pennsylvania. Gainor is seen here visiting with a local man, Tom Niell, who noticed him passing with his load and was interested enough to stop his farm tractor and visit. Gainor took his first walk in 1986 after feeling a calling from God to do so, starting in Oklahoma, walking to El Paso, around the border to Houston and on around the border of Texas and back to Oklahoma. Since that time he has walked the same route to Houston again but then on across the southern border of the gulf states and up into the northeastern states. He has continued his journey around the country taking off only parts of two winters when he happened to be in the northern states. He has a R.V. trailer pulled by a pickup which he parks in a central location and walks in several directions from it each day, returning there at night and for shelter in extremely bad weather. In explaining why he prefers to stay near the larger cities, he said that people there were more prone to stop and visit with him than in rural neighborhoods and also there are more people there to witness to. Gainor says finances are no problem. "When God asks you to do something, he provides a way for you to accomplish the task. The Lord meets my needs as I go," he said. He is often invited to speak at churches along his walk. In fact only this past weekend he spoke at a church in Lometa and one at Brownwood. He says he carries the cross on his shoulders the fifteen or twenty miles a day that he travels each day. The weight on his shoulders is about 40 to 45 pounds. Actually the whole cross and pack bag at the foot weighs about 80 pounds he says, but since the foot of the cross rests on a set of wheels, it takes about half the load off him. When this reporter visited with Gainor Monday afternoon just outside of the western city limits of Santa Anna, he was heading toward Abilene and from there to Aspermont and on up to Oklahoma again. From there he will map out another journey of walking and carrying his load while witnessing for Jesus.

Guy Allen Nails 6th World Steer Roping Title

Santa Anna native, Guy Allen of Vinita, OK, became only the second cowboy ever to nail down six PCRA World Steer Roping titles at the recent National Finals Steer Roping at the Lazy E Arena in Guthrie, OK.

(photos by Rex Deal, Bartlesville, OK)

The world title came down to the tenth and final go-round when only a half-dozen seconds separated Allen from Shaun Burchett and Tee Woolman. Allen roped his final steer in 17.5 seconds to win the average and the 1991 world title. The veteran cowboy roped ten head in 160 seconds.

Burchett ended up third in the average (170.9 seconds) and picked up his third reserve world title while Woolman won second in the average (161.1 seconds) and third overall.

The title capped a $46,131.94 season for Allen and earned a place for him in the record books alongside the late Everett Shaw of Stonewall, OK, who is the only other cowboy to ever win six steer roping titles. Shaw established the record in 1962, 15 years before Allen won his first title at the age of 19.

That first title for Guy came in September of 1977 after he had graduated Santa Anna High School in May of that year. He has been in the finals every year since 1977.

His brother, Gip Allen of Pawhuska, OK won a go-round in the finals this year and ended up in 12th place in the years standings. Both will be in Odessa this weekend starting a new year of competition.

Guy's 8-year-old daughter, Cigi, won her first saddle competing in pole bending in October of 1991. Looks like the rodeo tradition will continue for a while in the Allen family.

Guy and Gip are the sons of James and Ann (Tatum) Allen, formerly of Santa Anna, now also living in Oklahoma.

Thoughts From Our Pastors

Aaron Lemond Northside Church of Christ

This being the first article not only for me but also for the New Year, I would like to reflect on what do we want to accomplish in 1992. The first and foremost thoughts should be our service to God. Are we truly seeking Him? Matt. 6:33 says "Seek first His kingdom and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you."

The majority of our time and energy goes into trying to please ourselves or someone else. We rarely consider how pleasing we are to God. If our attendance is occasional, its OK, after all we are not judged about how much we attend. This is true, but our attendance shows how much we really are seeking His kingdom and His righteousness. By our faithful attendance, we are drawn closer to God, and we are right examples for those brethren who are weaker.

The new year should bring new challenges to each of us. Living for Christ should be our main goal. If your life has not been what it should be maybe its because the most important part has been neglected, that being our Saviour and Redeemer. Matt. 11:28-30 - "Come to me all who are weary and heavy laden, and I will give you rest. (29) Take my yoke upon you and learn from me, for I am gentle and humble in heart; and you shall find rest for your souls. (30) For my yoke is easy and my load is light."

May your life be enriched this coming year by our Lord and Saviour. In His Service, Aaron Lemond

By Alice Anna Spillman

Do you wonder if our family gives and receives books as gifts. This column does advise that often enough. This Christmas each of us gave and received. Monique's favorite is "Treasury of Art and Literature - Medicine." This very large book is also very attractive and educational, a special for the coffee table. Jim's "Rage of Angles" by Sydney Sheldon is fiction about lawyers, courts and organized crime. Mine is "A Southern Belle Primer" by Marilyn Schwartz. We all have shared many laughs over these tales, but there is so much truth. If your mother ever told you never to wear white shoes before Easter or after Labor Day, you will enjoy this book. The author is a write for the Dallas Morning News and a native of Mobile, Alabama. She knows Southern women.

Other books received here were "Scarlett", "Christmas Cats", and various science fiction - happy reading for our house.

Scientists have told us for years that men who marry live longer, more healthy lives. "The Healing Power of Doing Good" studied 3,000 volunteers. Ninety-five percent experienced feeling good - like a runners high.

Another 9 year study found that people with fewer social contacts have 2 to 3 more chances of dying. Indeed, bad feelings can make you sick, according to a San Francisco psychologist.

Have you seen a pair of the Levis Naturals? Since non were sold in Texas, there probably are few around. J.T. Smith, farm editor for the Abilene Reporter News, had an interesting story about receiving a pair all the way from San SEE LIBRARY, PAGE 5

Federal And State Programs Are Available For Flood Victims

AUSTIN—The number of people applying for disaster recovery help continued to mount this week, while the list of counties covered under a federal disaster declaration expanded, according to officials of the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).

As a result of severe thunderstorms and flooding beginning December 20, 1991, President George Bush on December 26, 1991 signed a declaration naming five Texas counties disaster areas. On December 31, eight counties were added to the list, and on January 2, 1992, six more counties were added, making a total of 19 counties listed to date.

Counties now declared disaster areas include: Bastrop, Bell, Bosque, Brown, Burnet, Coleman, Dallas, Fayette, Fort Bend, Liberty, Limestone, Llano, McLennan, Parker, Tarrant, Trinity, Travis, Walker and Wharton.

Under the disaster declaration, several federal and state programs are put into effect to afford disaster recovery assistance to those who suffered losses in the recent storms.

"Residents and businesses who suffered damages in the recent storms and flooding may apply for help by using the toll-free disaster application number -- 1-800-462-9029," said Brad Harris, Federal coordinating officer, FEMA. "There is also a Telecommunication Device for the Deaf (TDD) number -- 1-800-462-7585."

On New Year's day, only three days after some applicants applied for disaster recovery assistance, and just six days after the presidential declaration of December 26, the first checks for temporary housing were presented to five applicants who had been driven from their homes by the flooding.

The initial aid checks may be used to rent temporary quarters if homes are flooded out. Alternatively, applicants may seek funds for necessary work and temporary repairs to make the dwelling livable pending permanent rebuilding.

"Additional checks will be mailed daily until the recovery program is complete" said Harris.

Superintendent To Begin Working Half-Time In Feb.

The regular monthly meeting of the Santa Anna School Board was held on Monday, December 16 with the following board members present: Ruth Wise, Roy Joe Harvey, Sharon Guthrie, Marty Donham, Gary Absher, Roddy Dean and Barbara Simmons. Also present were Supt. Gerald Brister, business manager Judy Hartman and secretary Carole Voss.

Mr. Brister reviewed the Academic Excellence Indicators District Report from TEA. Motion was made by Dean and seconded by Absher, to accept the report. Motion passed unanimously.

Accounts payable were reviewed and accepted for payment. Budget amendments for the 1991-91 school year were approved as presented by business manager Judy Hartman.

Upon recommendation of Mr. Brister, motion was made by Donham, seconded by Dean, to purchase a 71-passenger forward-control bus and a 19-passenger bus. Motion passed with one opposing vote. Motion was made by Harvey, seconded by Donham, that the larger bus be paid out of the 1991-92 operating budget and the smaller bus to be paid for from the 1992-93 budget. Motion passed unanimously.

A discussion was held concerning the retirement proposal presented by Supt. Gerald Brister. Motion was made by Absher, seconded by Harvey, that in the agreement between the Santa Anna ISD Board and Mr. Brister, Mr. Brister will forego the last six months of his full time contract as Superintendent. He will be employed as Superintendent from Feb. 1, 1992 through June 30, 1992, on a half time basis at half his regular salary.

Following the discussion of information items, the meeting was adjourned.

Moore Says WTU Bill Has New Look Beginning This Month

Customers of West Texas Utilities may notice two new items on their electric bill beginning in January. Both result from changes required by state officials and affect every investor-owned utility in Texas. One item will not cost customers any more money but the second item will slightly increase bills according to Charles Moore, WTU's area manager.

The first item involves the customer charge which has been part of the electric bill for several years. By order of the Public Utility Commission (PUC) of Texas it now must be listed as a separate item. The charge includes basic costs such as reading meters and processing the bills. It does not change each month and is currently set at $6.50 for residential customers. The customer charge has not increased and this change does not affect the amount of a customers bill. The second new item involves the tax increase bill passed by the Texas Legislature in 1991. The PUC recently decided how utilities should collect the new state tax. The tax will be collected for each kilowatt hour a customer uses. The total tax for a month will be listed as a separate item on the bill.

A typical WTU residential customer who uses 600 kilowatt hours will see about a 30 cent increase on their monthly electric bill as a result of the new tax. The factors used to collect the tax will vary according to the type of customer. For example the amount of tax a commercial and a residential customer pays will be different.

These recent actions cap off a year of activity involving the PUC and WTU. Most of the activity was initiated by WTU and centered around reducing customer's bills or

Shayla Hosch, Shane Green Wed In Abilene

Shayla Ann Hosch and Shane Cason Green exchanged marriage vows Saturday, December 21, 1991, in Abilene, Texas at Pioneer Drive Baptist Church. Rev. Jack Riddlchover and Rev. Oscar Fanning performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Hosch. She is the granddaughter of Katherine Horner and the late Norman and Edyth Hosch. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Steve Green.

For her wedding, the bride wore an original gown by Phyliss for Bianchi of Silk Shantung and lace in white. The fitted bodice and long puffed sleeves were of re-embroidered Alencon lace from France. Her bodice had a sweetheart neckline that plunged to a-V in the back. The entire bodice and sleeves were embellished with tiny seed pearls and paillettes. Bias folds of silk shantung enhanced the neckline and hipline. Two silk roses with pearls and long streamers defined the waistline and the long full skirt fell into a chapel train. A wreath of matching lace and silk roses held the long sheer veil of English illusion.

Shannon Hosch was her sister's maid of honor. Kristen Berry, Misty Taylor, Kristi Eoff and Lyn Shelton were bridesmaids. They wore identical dresses from Bianchi of velvet and brocade. The off shoulder fitted bodice was of gold, red, and green brocade. The straight skirts were of evergreen velvet.

Brent Green was his brother's best man. Derek Northys, Jason Brigman, Matt Welch, and Jimmy Jimmy Shaeffer were groomsmen. Carson Horner, Keith Gilbreath, Chris Lauderback, and Jimmy Shaeffer were ushers.

The bride and groom both graduated from Wylie High School, Abilene. The bride attended Texas and will attend Louisiana Tech in the spring. The groom attends Louisiana Tech.

Mrs. Shane Cason Green

After a honeymoon to Monaco, on the French Riviera, the couple will live in Ruston, Louisiana.

SAHS vs Wylie High On KTXS Academic Challenge

Students from Santa Anna High School will go up against students from Wylie High School on Sunday, January 12 for the Round 1 Match on the KTXS-TV Academic Challenge for a meeting of the minds.

Sponsored by Coca-Cola and 7-Up, the Academic Challenge will feature 29 high schools from around the Big Country vying for the championship title and trophy. The show airs every Sunday at 5:30 p.m. and started in November.

Even though there will be only one championship team, every school participating is a winner. Each team receives a $100 check every time it appears on the Academic Challenge. The money is put toward book replenishment for their school libraries.

"We at KTXS hope that the Academic Challenge will become a vehicle through which we can recognize the academic success of our area students," says Clay Milstead, KTXS-TV General manager.

Students Take Advantage Of College Hotline This Weekend

The Texas Association of College Admission Counselors (TACAC) and First City, Texas toll-free HOTLINE. 1-800-253-8989, available to all Texas Students and their parents On Saturday, January 11 and Sunday, January 12, 1992, from 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

Parents and Students will be able to call in questions about college selection, admission, testing and financial aid. The phones will be answered by college admission directors, high school guidance counselors and financial aid personnel. Spanish-Speaking counselors will be available to answer questions.

Please take advantage of this free Opportunity to get your questions answered.

The College Information Hotline (available to any Texan via a toll-free call) provides timely information concerning post secondary educational opportunities to Texas students and families. One week-end in January is set aside for Hotline operation each year.

The toll-free number (1-800-253-8989) is publicized statewide through radio, television, newspapers and every high school guidance office in the state. A Hotline information packet is distributed in December and early January.

Teams of high school and college admission counselors will man 10 incoming WATTS phone lines. Each year, about 75 professional counselors from schools across Texas volunteer to take calls. Spanish-speaking counselors will be available on each shift. Hotline is operated from the Freshman Admission Center at the University of Texas at Austin. Volunteers taking the calls are members of the Texas Association of College Admission Counselors.

The Hotline is directed to anyone in the state who has questions about any aspect of college admission, financial aid, degree programs, housing, student activities or special programs.

Callers are predominantly high school students and their parents, but an increasing number of information requests are coming from middle school students, current college students, adults who did not complete college or who have never attended college and veterans with questions about their education benefits.

The 1992 Hotline is the seventh year the project has been in operation.

Funding is provided by First City, Texas. The Texas Hotline is the largest project of its type in the nation. Last year, over 1300 calls about college admission and financial aid were handled by the counselors.

Counselors spend much of the time during calls counseling students and their parents on planning for college and careers. Callers may also request that catalogs and other materials from specific colleges and universities be mailed to them. If the counselors are unable to answer a caller's question, they will research the answer and provide the information within the week.

Admissions representatives from about 25 public and private Texas colleges will be on duty over the week-end. Although it is impossible to guarantee that a counselor from a school in which you are interested will be present when you call, we are often able to let you talk directly to someone from that school.

Hotline operators also field questions about vocational and technical schools, and community colleges. Information available from the Hotline is not limited to Texas schools.

Counselor's sources of information include college publications, computerized information systems and the collective experience of the 75 admissions professionals who are manning the phones. Members of the Texas Association of School Financial Aid Administrators assist with some of the detailed aid questions.

Typical questions posed by callers include: What colleges should I consider if I am interested in majoring in journalism? I am a freshman in high school. What can I do now to prepare for college? What are the college entrance examinations and when should I take them? Are there schools in the Southwest that will consider a child with a learning disability for admission?

What if I don't meet the entrance requirements for the college of my choice? What are my options?

How do I apply for financial aid and scholarships to attend Baylor? I don't understand the terms "semester

People Who Had Flu Can Get It Again

HOUSTON--(January 6, 1992) Flu season came early in much of North America, and a second surge may be on the way.

"People who caught influenza earlier in the season could get it again, especially if a different strain hits," said Dr. W.

Paul Glezen of the Influenza Research Center at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston. "But people who have been vaccinated are likely to be protected. The two influenza 'A' viruses circulating are similar to those included in the current vaccine." Flu season generally peaks in late January or early February, but an unusually early round peaked in November.

Those most at risk for potentially fatal flu complications are the elderly and people with heart disease, lung disease, asthma, chronic bronchitis, diabetes, chronic kidney disease, chronic anemia, sickle cell anemia and immune-system disorders.

"It is still not too late for people in the high-risk groups to get flu shots," Glezen said. "Such patients can be protected by taking the prescription drug amantadine during the 14 days it takes for the vaccine to provide full protection." Most of the influenza this season has been type 'A', and the symptoms and duration of an influenza 'A' attack can be minimized by amantadine.

Influenza usually strikes suddenly and brings fever, generalized muscle pain, weakness and a dry, hacking cough.

Flu sufferers should get plenty of rest and drink lots of liquids, Glezen said.

Adults may take aspirin or an aspirin substitute to reduce fever and pain, but people younger than 21 should use only aspirin-free products.

Aspirin has been associated with Reye's syndrome, a flu and chicken pox complication that can cause vomiting, convulsions, brain damage and even death in children, said Glezen, an epidemiologist and pediatrician.

As bad as this current season has been, it pales by comparison with the 1918 worldwide flu epidemic that afflicted 500 million people and killed 20 million. More than half a million died in the U.S.

The 1918 epidemic killed more people in less time than any other disease in modern history. It ranks with the Black Death of the 14th Century as one of the few events in recorded history to reduce the earth's population by as much as 1 percent.

Francisco. Were any of you that lucky?

A study called "Over the Edge" by Martha Burt, covered data on 147 U.S. cities. Eighty-two percent of the homeless households were a single person; 10 percent included children; 2 percent were married couples without children; 6 percent were two adults with no spouses or children. These facts are so sad during this joyful season. The only glimmer was the smaller percent with children.

The foods that contain the most sodium are: salt, baking soda (so bread is usually high), monosodium glutamate (MSG - check food labels for this) soy sauce, bullion, pickles, olives, cured meats including lunch meats and wieners, canned vegetables and frozen dinners, most cheeses, sauces, soups, and salad dressing. If you have been told to cut back on salt, either cut down on these or buy the low sodium varieties. This tip might help you plan a new years resolution for better diet and health in 1992.

Another good resolution would be to read a book every week during the year. Happy New Year! to all the readers of this column.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

EDITOR'S NOTE: Some of this may be history by the time you read it, but most readers will appreciate the comments anyway.

AUSTIN - Using fancy footwork, Democrats in the Texas Legislature battled the clock with a series of trick plays, hoping to move the redistricting football past three federal justice linebreakers.

Gov. Ann Richards' special session has until Jan. 10 to substitute new political boundaries for the court-drawn maps.

Basically, the session is a last-ditch effort by Democrats to regain control of the redistricting football which they fumbled away on Christmas eve.

After the Texas Supreme Court threw out the senate plan, federal judges drew their own maps since none legally existed, and ordered primaries to be held on schedule.

Alarmed that the court's plan might elect a Republican majority in the Texas Senate, Democrats unveiled some creative play-making, including a ploy to create more time.

Postpone Election

Senate Democrats threatened to withdraw Texas from the March 10 presidential primary unless federal judges allow them to protect white incumbents.

A bill by state Sen. Bob Glasgow, D-Stephenville, would postpone all state elections for this year only to April 11, if the Legislature fails to adopt a plan in time.

Texas Secretary of State John Hannah has said Jan. 10 is the last day candidates can file if Texas is to participate in the March 10 Super Tuesday primaries across the South. Glasgow has a special interest in changing the court's plan, which added several GOP precincts to his district.

Less Than The Alamo

Outnumbered Senate Republicans prepared to stall a Senate vote with a series of parliamentary maneuvers.

Invoking senatorial privilege, Sen. David Sibley, R-Waco, kept senators from considering the maps for four days.

The nine GOP senators, joined by two conservative Democrats, prepared to filibuster.

"The Alamo held out for 13 days. I don't know if we have it in us to hold out that long or not," Sibley commented.

House: Multiple Plans

House committee Democrats adopted the court-drawn plan for 1992 only, to be substituted with a plan favoring Democrats for 1994 and beyond.

House members appeared reluctant to delay the primary, and leaders predicted the roll call vote would not challenge the court.

Meanwhile, an East Texas lawmaker who is openly challenging House Speaker Gib Lewis said he will ask for an unusual vote to declare the speakership vacant.

Rep. Billy Clemons, D-Pollak, planned to ask members for a majority vote on his resolution declaring the speaker's post vacant, and installing Speaker Pro Tem Wilhelm Delco, D-Austin.

Lewis, who faces trial later this month on two misdemeanor ethics indictments, said he would announce before the end of the session whether he will seek reelection.

Colossal Waste of Money?

But despite the potential for upheaval, some lawmakers in both parties predicted the session was a tempest in a teapot.

Indeed, many observers' eyes are focused on the Legislature to see whether Gov. Richards' tactics will be a colossal waste of taxpayers' money.

Some leaders are already convinced that it is. "This is a joke," said Tom Craddick, House GOP leader. "We're not even voting on a bill that affects the 1992 elections. Lawmakers will return in 1993 to undo whatever is done now for the 1994 elections. So, we're just wasting time and tax money."

Hispanic leader Rep. Roman Martinez, D-Houston, said any change for this year would ultimately end up back in court before the same judges before the election.

House Democratic Caucus leader Sam Russell, D-Mt. Pleasant, said: "Quite frankly, I don't want (every elected official) in my district on my back saying, 'If it hadn't been for you legislators trying to save your skin for 1992, we would have had the elections when we thought we were going to have them.'"

Duke Files in Texas

As the economy tightened last year, state governments followed a trend of cutting welfare benefits and demanding more from welfare recipients. Texas was not among those leaders.

Meanwhile, the nation's top welfare-basher, presidential hopeful David Duke, filed last week on the Texas GOP primary ballot, paying a $5,000 filing fee.

Ed Martin, director of the Texas Democratic Party, jibed sanctimoniously: "If Duke's going to run in any party, I think the Republicans invited it...you've seen them play the race card over and over again."

Martin has conveniently forgotten all about black activist Jesse Jackson's presidential campaign four years ago, commented

Worth The Risk

Life carries with it so many wonderful opportunities but you will not be privileged to experience them if you do not take risks. As one anonymous author once wrote:

To laugh is to risk appearing the fool.

To weep is to risk appearing sentimental.

To reach out for another is to risk involvement.

To expose feelings is to risk exposing your true self.

To place your ideas and dreams before a crowd is to risk their loss.

To love is to risk not being loved in return.

To live is to risk dying.

To hope is to risk despair.

To try is to risk failure.

But risks must be taken, because the greatest hazard in life is to risk nothing.

The person who risks nothing, does nothing, has nothing, and is nothing.

They may avoid suffering and sorrow, but they cannot learn, feel, change, grow, love, or live.

Chained by their attitudes, they are a slave, they have forfeited their freedom.

Only a person who risks is free.

covered by renters insurance?

A. Yes, a Renters Policy generally includes Guest Medical Payments Coverage. If a guest is accidentally injured in your home, the insurer will pay the guest's medical expenses up to your policy limits. Most renters policies also cover legal liability resulting from accidents that are covered by the policy.

RENTERS INSURANCE ?

Q. Why would I need a renters policy if my landlord carries insurance?

A. The insurance your landlord carries covers the building structure, but does not cover your personal belongings—your furniture, wardrobe, appliances, television—anything that you've moved into the building. You need a renters policy to cover your personal possessions.
