

State Capitol NEWS

Austin — The hundreds of candidates running for places in the Texas House of Representatives and the Texas Senate have plenty of problems. But when the victors get to Austin they'll have a new one. Big question will be "where to park their cars?"

MEL SAYS...

This service has spoiled me.

That's the way we treat our customers. But, even more important, we KNOW HOW to care for your CAR. Get the habit of driving in regularly.

If You Can't Stop Wave As You Go By

Lack of parking facilities on the Capitol grounds causes a maddening game of musical chairs — or musical cars — at each legislative session. Speaker of the House James A. Turman says the problem is "growing more acute each day."

So, Turman appointed a committee which may have the latest title in the history of the statehouse: The Interim Committee To Study State Owned Lands Around the Capitol Concerning the Possibility of Converting Such Into Parking Lots.

Rep. Obie Jones of Austin was named chairman. Two other Austin members, Reps. Wilson Foreman and Charles Sandahl, will serve on the interim committee.

CUT THE PROPERTY TAX

For three years now a legislator-citizen study committee—the Texas Commission on State and Local Tax Policy—has been mulling the possibility of state abandonment of the property tax. Texas Research League has helped with the study.

The committee should have recommendations ready for legislative action in the January session. Outcome may rest on voter pressure between now and the November general election.

Under the current system, schools get 42 percent of the property tax dollar; cities take 29 percent; counties, 18 percent; and the state government and special districts only get five percent each.

Texas Municipal League has urged the state to abandon the ad valorem tax and let the cities increase their property taxes.

Hale-Aikin committee asked the state to abandon the tax and let the schools levy it.

Tax experts often have declared that county assessors might place higher values on property, if they felt more of the ad valorem tax dollar would stay in the county.

COLLEGE FUNDS SHORT

Presidents and business managers of Texas' 19 state-supported colleges and universities were stunned this week when Texas Commission on Higher Education reported they will get only 54 percent of the funds they requested to meet increased enrollment in 1963.

Administrators had set their future needs at $2,770,951. But the legislature only appropriated $1,500,000 to supplement teaching salaries for enrollment increases. So the commission's staff prorated the fund among the 19 schools.

Dr. F. L. McDonald, president of Lamar State College of Technology in Beaumont, didn't take the news quietly. "This is one of the reasons why we are never able to raise salaries," he protested. He said the colleges are never allotted enough money, and "have to dig it up."

While the 19 presidents are trying to balance their budgets, Commission on Higher Education will be studying requests from three more colleges which want to join the state system: Odessa, San Angelo and Laredo junior colleges.

Recommendations will be made when the 58th Legislature convenes.

NEW SHELL GAME

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler predicts that Texas never will yield control over any part of Padre Island to the federal government. He charged that some Texans have been "deceived" by talk of an 88-mile-long national park there.

He said the U. S. Senate did not approve a PARK, but a "National Seashore Area."

"This status," says Sadler, "would keep Padre Island and Laguna Madre in an undeveloped state."

Sadler urged Attorney General Will Wilson to push recovery of Laguna Madre acreage from private owners before they convey their rights to the U. S. Department of the Interior.

Meanwhile, U. S. Congressman Joe Kilgore of McAllen said the House National Parks Subcommittee will make an on-the-ground survey of the island from May 11 through May 13. They will return to Washington, D. C., to consider legislation on May 14.

REV. R. H. HARPER
RESURRECTION

TOLSTOY wrote a book about a beautiful servant girl who belonged to the estate of a nobleman, whom the young son of the home betrayed when he came for a visit to the home after wild life in the Russian army. After a time the vile young soldier sat as a juror in a justice court, honestly to do his duty. He was shocked to recognize the beautiful but broken woman in the prisoners box. She was the sweetheart of his youth. Conscience in him awoke. He followed the condemned woman to Siberia and did all he could to lighten the load of a Russian convict in the days of the Czars. And Tolstoy called the book Resurrection. And a resurrection it was, as great as that which would lift a dead body from the level of mortality to the living perpendicular of endless life.

And this is the wondrous blessing that the risen Lord brings to those who look to him that they might have life abundantly. To make a black heart white is a resurrection—as great as that which brought the slain in Ezekiel's vision, bone to his bone, to live and stand an exceeding mighty army.

If you then be risen with Christ, as the apostle writes, "seek those things which are above" and live the new life of the redeemed.

the biggest this year. Low bids are expected to total some $28,600,000.

The April 24-25 letting will involve 952 miles of Texas highways and cover contracts for 422 miles of U. S. and State highways; 148 miles of farm-to-market roads and 389 miles of seal-coat work.

"We are leading the nation in miles of interstate, primary and secondary highways," Greer stated, "and we want to keep that lead."

Tag On Planting Seed Carries Valuable Information

College Station — Top crop yields are dependent upon several factors but among the most important is the selection of planting seed. L.C. Coffey, extension agronomist who specializes in seed, places major emphasis on the selection of an adaptable variety of hybrid of the best possible quality.

He points out the Texas Seed Act requires that all seed sold in Texas must meet certain standards. The one exemption is the farmer who sells seed to his neighbor; hence, the seed does not enter the channels of trade. All other sellers of seed must have a Texas Tested Seed Label attached to the seed container.

This seed label must list the kind of crop, the variety if it is known, germination, number of noxious weed seed per pound, percentage of pure seed, inert matter and weed seed.

The information carried on the seed analysis tag is important. No farmer, Coffey believes, would knowingly buy weed seed, especially the noxious kinds, in planting seed. Neither would he buy seed containing other crop seed and inert matter when highgerminating, weed-free seed of high purity are available at very little extra cost.

The percentage of weed seed is frequently important, points out Coffey, but the farmer may not realize it from reading the tag. For example, if the tag states there is .11 percent (eleven hundredths) weed seed in some grass or forage crop, this could mean several thousand seed because weed seeds are frequently small and weigh very little, says Coffey.

Coffey not only suggests that farmers read the analysis tag but that they understand the information it carries. County agents can supply additional information on the adaptability of both varieties and hybrids.

of 13 public libraries in Texas and more than a quarter of a million books on library shelves throughout the state.

He said library service has improved to the point where there are now 106 branch libraries, in comparison to 97 in 1960. More than $4,400,000 was spent for library construction last year, "possibly the biggest library-building year in more than three decades."

Dr. Winfrey gave much of the credit for library development to Rural Library Service Division of the Texas State Library. It operates bookmobile service throughout the state; furnishes books for libraries in cities and communities of less than 10,000 population; and provides consultants without charge.

But many of the achievements can be claimed by communities — like Taylor, Rockdale, Navasota and Alvin — where citizens get out and raise the money for library building funds.

Requirements For Barbecued Meat Unchanged

College Station — The U. S. Department of Agriculture said no to a proposal which would have permitted the use of the term "barbecued" on labels for meat cooked by infra-red heat from an electronic source.

continue to be limited to products cooked by dry heat from burning hardwood or hot coals formed by burning hardwood.

The decision to make no change in present Federal requirements followed a 60-day review of all pertinent information, including comments and views received by the Director of the Meat Inspection Division.

In addition to specifying the sources of heat for cooking, Federal Meat Inspection requires that meats labeled as "barbecued" must be cooked for a sufficient period of time to permit the product to assume the usual characteristics of meat cooked over burning hardwood or hot coals from burning hardwood. These characteristics include the formation of a brown crust and the rendering of surface fat.

Also, meat prepared in this manner cannot weigh more than 70 percent of the weight of fresh, uncooked meat.

Bacterial Blight of Cotton Subject of New Publication

College Station — Bacterial blight occurs throughout the world wherever cotton is grown. It is one of the most damaging plant diseases in Texas, and during recent years has caused an estimated $38 million yearly loss to Texas growers.

Bacterial blight can be controlled by a combination of four practices: rotating cotton with other crops, planting disease-free seed, growing resistant varieties and fertilizing with nitrogen.

No chemical control for bacterial blight is now known, so cultural practices are very important to the grower. For more information on this disease and on preventive cultural practices, ask your county agent for a copy of MP-534, "Bacterial Blight of Cotton."

LEAVE YOUNG WILDLIFE ALONE

Austin — Leave the wildlife young where you find it. This is the perennial warning of the Game and Fish Commission to persons who feel the urge to pick up young of the wilds, in an attempt to make pets.

It is also dangerous, because many times the animal reverts to nature and will bite the hand that feeds it.

It's Time For... EYE CARE

Dr. Newton K. Wesley

Here are some questions about eye care with my answers:

"Can too much reading or close work injure the eyes?"

With an occasional rest, no permanent damage can be done to the eyes through such activity.

"Is television viewing harmful to the eyes?"

Not if the room is properly lighted; a mild indirect light should be moved around occasionally; and, for the average size screen, the viewer should sit from six to ten feet away from the screen.

"Can a child outgrow crossed eyes?"

No, a child cannot. Crossed eyes can be corrected through surgery, eye exercises. Contact lenses may also be utilized, however there may be some discomfort until the wearer is fully adapted.

"What determines whether one is able to wear contact lenses?"

Your desire, your determination, your ability to fully adapt to the lenses, plus the skill of your contact lens practitioner are the important factors in determining your ability to wear contact lenses, although some people never can wear them.

"Do contact lenses require changes in prescription as often as regular spectacle lenses?"

No, they do not. According to the National Eye Research Foundation in many cases, prescriptions in contact lenses rarely change. It is safe to assume that such a change is not necessary until several years have passed.
