THE APPEAL TO YOUTH

News from Moscow often reveals fresh evidence of Communist dependence upon the party's appeal to enough young people to provide sufficient leadership to insure the future of their system. (The security of any system is in its youth; this is true even of America.) An example of this news was a recent New York Times News Service dispatch to the effect that Sergei Pavlov had urged the Congress of Komsomol (Young Communist League) which he heads to step up atheistic propaganda in the struggle for young minds. Russian guarantees of religious freedom, he insisted, do not apply to children but only to adults "who can answer for their actions."

The same concern for children is being shown wherever Communism hopes to make gains in the struggle for world dominion. (This also is true even in America.) According to Herbert Romerstein in his book "Communism and Your Child," (New York 16, N. Y.: The Bookmailer, Inc., $1.), Pavlov is a vice president of World Federation of Democratic Youth. This organization has an Italian president and a French general secretary, and according to Romerstein "a vice president's position is also being saved for an American young Communist," whose name when he is appointed will probably be kept secret.

Follows Youth Activity
Herbert Romerstein keeps up with these Communist youth activities. As a lad of 15 in Brooklyn, N. Y., interested in politics, he joined the Communist Party and was put into youth activities. Now 30 years old and having long since broken with the party, he spends much of his time following the intricate mazes of front activity where youth are enlisted for Red dirty work. His erstwhile friends in the party look upon him as an informer, possibly because he has assisted the F.B.I. and testified before investigating committees of Congress.

Mr. Romerstein has written his book to show how the Communist world conspiracy has been exploiting and manipulating young people to further its interests. Establishing this as an important current goal of the Communists, he quotes the American Communist official, Gus Hall, who reported to American Communists the result of the big Moscow conventions of November 1960 and January 1961.

New Directives
Hall told U. S. comrades that Moscow policy now requires a new "grassroots movement for peace and disarmament" involving literally millions of Americans, including youth and even children. Hall pointed to an increased Communist activity in the colleges and then ordered "higher priority for work among youth in all fields of endeavor." One is amazed to find Romerstein's account how much already has been done. If the Communists are allowed to proceed under these new directives, there is going to be plenty of mischief afoot.

Interesting also are Romerstein's descriptions of his experiences with American Youth for Democracy, a vehicle for carrying the "line" to young people. In fact, it was in AYD that he served his apprenticeship before being admitted to the Communist Party. He was then assigned to work with Young Progressives for America, as it supported Henry Wallace for president. After a couple of years he was kicked out of the party for "asking too many questions."

Activity Can Be Stopped
Romerstein's book spotlights the youth front, "Advance," set up in 1960 in New York City for "peace" activity. This organization apparently had some success in drawing from both Young Republicans and Young Democrats of New York. As time went on, it capitalized on anti-HUAC activity arising from the San Francisco incident, on "sit-ins" and "freedom riders," on peace marches and disarmament demonstrations, and on pro-Castro sentiment. Romerstein wants Americans to stop these front activities wherever they are found.

He has attended some of the European youth festivals as an anti-Communist, despite Communist attempts to bar him as an unfriendly delegate and to control everything else to their advantage. Red indoctrination of children in summer camps and in public schools, as revealed by Romerstein, suggests that parents cannot be too careful in following the influences upon their children. Communists have tried every avenue in the past, and they will step up their efforts again under their new and higher priorities if we let them.

Mailbox Improvement Program

Postmaster Lee Strother announced this week the period from May 21 through May 26 has been designated as Mailbox Improvement Week. Mailboxes on mounted city routes, rural and star routes with delivery and collection service are to receive attention. Postmaster Strother said all patrons on the local mail routes should furnish mail receptacles which are convenient and safe to use, neat appearing and that will furnish protection for the mail. Boxes that are properly erected and maintained contribute to efficient and speedy delivery of the mail.

Rural route patrons are required to provide mail boxes of the standard approved type. Patrons who are still using boxes of the top-opening type are not required to discard them, provided they have been in use by the same owner and at the same location for many years. However, they are required to be kept in good serviceable condition and can easily be serviced by the carrier from his vehicle.

Names of owners should be on the side of the box, visible to the carrier as he approaches, or on the door if the boxes are grouped. Boxes and supports should be kept painted. Patrons are requested to group their mail boxes where practicable, particularly where adequate turnouts can be provided.

Boxes that are not properly installed or not kept in good serviceable condition retard mail delivery and may expose the mail to the weather. Unserviceable boxes must be replaced.

Mail boxes on both rural and star routes must be located on the right side of the road in the direction of travel of the carriers. On star routes with box delivery and collection service, where a box is newly installed or a present box is replaced, an approved rural box must be provided.

New First Graders Invited To Visit School Tuesday

James A. Harris, principal of the Santa Anna Ward School, invites all the children of the school district who will be in the First Grade during the next term of school to visit the class Tuesday, May 22.

Mr. Harris said he would like to have all the students and their mothers present for about one hour, beginning at 2:00 p. m. Purpose is to give the students an idea of what they have to look forward to, and to inform the parents as to their responsibilities. All are urged to attend.

Jo Ann Wallace Receives First Crisco Award

JO ANN WALLACE

Jo Ann Wallace, junior student at Santa Anna High School, has been awarded the Crisco Trophy for outstanding work in Homemaking.

The coveted gold trophy was presented Miss Wallace at the Graduates' Tea May 7, by the high school principal, Mr. Roy B. Mathews. In awarding the trophy Mr. Mathews congratulated her on the excellence she has shown in her work and said that he "felt certain that her achievement in homemaking would be an inspiration to other students for many years."

Miss Wallace is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wallace.

The presentation of the award is to become an annual event at Santa Anna High School. Mrs. Winnie McQueen, Homemaking instructor, reports it provides "needed recognition for outstanding work in this important field."

Open House Set At Highway Dept. In Brownwood

How does the Texas Highway Department use tiny beads to make your driving safer? Why do highway engineers cut circular holes in brand-new highways?

These are only two of the many fascinating aspects of highway engineering and maintenance that local citizens may explore on Friday, May 25.

On that day the Highway Department will hold "Open House" at the District Office as part of National Highway Week (May 20-26), announced District Engineer E. M. Pritchard.

Any interested resident of the area may visit the District office at 500 West Commerce and District Warehouse & Shop on the Cisco Highway (U. S. 183) in Brownwood, during the hours 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. and observe the daily functions of the public agency which is responsible for the care of a complex highway network of 2,183 miles in this district.

District Engineer E. M. Pritchard said the Open House will show the public how the Highway Department operates on a normal working day.

"I would like to extend a most cordial invitation to the citizens of this area to visit our Open House," he said. "Your neighbors who work for the Highway Department would like to show you through our facilities and demonstrate a few of the many tests and operations we conduct daily to care for the highways."

Visitors to the Open House will see examples of two-way radio communications; shops where new highway signs are made and old signs repaired; and the various machinery and laboratory testing apparatus used to determine the quality of new highways being constructed and to maintain existing roads in smooth riding condition.

EASTERN STAR TO MEET MONDAY NIGHT

The regular meeting of the Santa Anna Eastern Star Chapter will be held in the Masonic Hall Monday, May 21, at 7:30 p. m. All members are requested to be present.

Mrs. Lucy Price and Mrs. R. B. Archer spent the weekend in Abilene with Mrs. Archer's daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hughie Williams.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY.

Eighth Grade Takes Trip To Lake Brownwood Friday

The Eighth Grade of the Elementary School enjoyed an outing at Lake Brownwood Friday of last week. They left the school about 11 a. m. and went directly to the lake.

Mothers served sandwiches, cold drinks, cookies and cake at the noon hour.

During the afternoon most of the class went swimming, boating and fishing. A game of baseball was enjoyed, along with a number of other games. All reported having a real nice time.

Mr. Harris and Mr. Gray also accompanied the class.

Dr. Gordon Bennett To Address Three Senior Groups

The president's office of McMurry College announced this week that Dr. Gordon Bennett, McMurry president, will make three commencement addresses in the Abilene area this month.

On Friday, May 18, he will appear before the student body at Hawley High School. On Friday the 25th, he will address the seniors at Santa Anna High School. And on Monday the 28th, he will speak to the graduating class at Ballinger High School.

Dr. Bennett has been president of McMurry College since 1958. He is the first layman to be president of the Methodist college. He is a former high school principal and superintendent of schools at Hamlin.

Top of Building Being Removed

The top false front on the two city-owned buildings just west of the post office is in the process of being removed. A salvage firm is removing the red brick without charge and is to keep the salvaged brick.

The buildings were built to accommodate a second story if the need arose. Since the buildings have not been in use in some time, it was decided to remove the top part of the structure in order to prevent it from being blown over by a high wind.

The top level of the building fronts will be lowered to the same level as the other buildings on the east.

National Beta Club Organized At Local High School

A local chapter of the National Beta Club, a leadership-service organization for high school students of America, was established on Monday, May 7, at the Santa Anna High School, according to Roy B. Mathews, principal.

The National Beta Club, with over 2800 local chapters and approximately 85,000 members in high schools of 23 states, is now in its 27th year.

Objectives of this non-secret, leadership - service organization are: to encourage effort, to promote character, to stimulate achievement among its members, and to encourage and assist students to continue their education after high school graduation.

Mrs. Beth Manning, teacher of English, was appointed as faculty sponsor for the local chapter.

Permanent officers for this year are: President, Sherman Stearns; Vice President, Les Guthrie; Secretary, Karen McCluskey; Treasurer, Barbara Bacon.

The local organization is composed of the following students who have fulfilled the requirements necessary for membership in the National Beta Club: Clayton Jackson, Patricia White, Jerry Ellis, Lawanda Horner and Frances Davenport.

CAMP MEETING OF ADVENTISTS SLATED IN JUNE

The annual camp meeting of the Texas Conference of Seventh-day Adventists will be held June 1-9 at Southwestern Junior College at Keene.

Between 3,500 and 4,500 persons are expected to attend the sessions.

Theme of the meeting will be "The Second Coming of Christ." The denomination believes in the biblical prediction of a return to earth of Jesus Christ.

Keynote speaker will be William A. Fagal of New York, a commentator on "Faith for Today" radio and television program.

Baccalaureate Services To Be Sunday Night

The annual Baccalaureate Services for the Class of 1962 will be held in the high school auditorium at 8:00 p. m. Sunday. The sermon will be delivered by Jim Rucker, minister of the Northside Church of Christ.

All the churches in Santa Anna will either dismiss their Sunday evening services, or hold early services, in favor of the program at the school.

Rev. Raymond Jones, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will give the invocation and Dr. Ben H. Moore, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, will give the benediction. Rev. Walter Allen, pastor of the Christian Church, will have the scripture reading.

The class this year will be one of the smallest to graduate here in a number of years. Only 22 students are listed on the class roll. Sponsors are Mrs. Winnie McQueen and Mr. A. D. Bowen.

NEW FAMILY MOVES HERE

O. B. Yarborough, who has been employed at Speck's Barber Shop for the past two months, moved his family from Brownwood to Santa Anna Monday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Yarborough have two children, a son that will start to school this fall and a 2½ year old daughter. They are living in the Jettie Kirkpatrick rent-house.

We welcome the new family to our community.

Social Security County Benefits Increase By 11.9%

Coleman County showed an increase of 11.9% in number and 17.5% in amount of monthly social security checks from December, 1960, to December, 1961, according to figures just released by R. R. Tuley, Jr., district manager for the Social Security Administration in Abilene.

973 persons received $59,151 in retirement checks for December, 1961, and 45 persons received $3,774 in disability payments.

380 wives and dependent husbands received $11,381 in retirement claims and 11 others received $352 from disability claims.

142 children received $6,010 from claims on a retired or deceased parent, and 19 children were paid $581 from claims on a disabled parent. 184 widows, dependent widowers, and parents received $10,261.

At the present time, social security benefits total over a billion dollars a month to just over seventeen million beneficiaries. Tuley gave these reasons for the rise in beneficiaries: (1) more persons in the aged group, (2) age qualifications now 62 instead of 65, and (3) less social security credit now needed for eligibility to retirement or survivors benefits.

New Barber Shop To Open Saturday

Fairy Williams announces he will open the Williams Barber Shop Saturday, May 19. The new business is located in the first building south of the Harvey Grocery.

The building is in the process of being completely remodeled, with a new front and modern fixtures added. Mr. Williams invites all his friends and former customers to visit him in the new location.

Visitors in the W. L. Campbell home over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. A. L. McGahey, Jr. and Lyndella of Victoria, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Carroll of Bangs, Mr. and Mrs. John Monroe of Stamford, Joe Riley of Austin, Mrs. Tennie Campbell, A. L. McGahey, Sr., and the S. K. Merdocks.

Mrs. C. D. Bruce and her aunt, Mrs. John Cox of Fort Worth, are on a sight-seeing trip in Mexico. Going from Presidio by train, they are traveling on the new railroad across the mountains to the Pacific Ocean. They plan to return at the weekend.

Mrs. Mattie Ellis recently moved into Mrs. R. B. Archer's apartment. Her daughter, Mrs. Irene Buckley of Marietta, Tex., is here visiting Mrs. Ellis.

National Guard To Be Discussed Thursday Night

Lt. Billy Joe Harvey, Commander of the local unit of the Texas National Guard, extends an urgent invitation to everyone in this area who is interested in the National Guard to be present at the Armory Building at 8:00 p. m. Thursday, May 17.

At this time a number of officials of high rank will be here to explain the operation of the National Guard and possibly to determine whether this Guard Company will be continued or not. The meeting is very important and the better representation of people from this area, the better the chances of this unit being continued here.

It has been said that Santa Anna is the smallest town in the United States that has a National Guard Company. We are not positive about this, but the information comes from a good source. There is the possibility that the higher officials may see fit to disband this company unless they are sure the people are behind it.

If at all possible, be present at 8:00 p. m. tonight (Thursday).

Two New Farm Roads Authorized For Coleman Co.

Two new Farm-to-Market roads for Coleman County were designated by the Texas Highway Commission at its meeting last week, according to E. M. Pritchard, District Engineer. One from State 206, 4.5 miles southwest of Burkett, 5.2 miles north to the road intersection at Webb Store; and another from FM Road 53 at Glen Cove, south 8 miles to U. S. 67. A new bridge across Pecan Bayou is contemplated near Webb Store. Funds for the grading and drainage structure only were authorized at this time, with money for the base and surface to be provided next year.

Location and planning work will begin in the near future under the supervision of Earla Mayo, Resident Engineer for Coleman County.

This is part of the State 1962 Farm-to-Market Road Program, which authorized expenditure of $23½ million for over 1200 miles of new Farm to Market roads in the State.

Normally, about 1,000 miles of new FM roads are added to the highway system each year, but the 1962 program represents an increase of more than 200 miles, because of the new FM Road Bill (S.B.1) passed by the third called session of the 57th Legislature and signed into law this past January.

This bill established a long range maintenance program for farm roads. Thus, with adequate maintenance funds assured for these roads, the design standards have been lowered to get more miles with fewer dollars.

State Capital NEWS

Austin — Eight weary candidates who fought their ways into the finals of the democratic primaries now have June 2 as their immediate target.

John Connally and Don Yarborough, two men who never have held an elective office, battled their way into the runoff for governor.

Gov. Price Daniel ran third and Atty. Gen. Will Wilson ran fourth. Marshal Formby, former chairman of the Highway Commission, was next and ex-Gen. Edwin A. Walker came in last.

It was clear that Texas Democrats were ready for a change, and that they felt experience in state government was not the most important factor.

Jack Cox won the Republican primary and will take on the Democratic nominee on November 6.

Speaker Jimmy Turman of the Texas House of Representatives led five candidates in the race for lieutenant governor. State Senator Preston Smith of Lubbock faces Turman in the runoff.

Bill Hays of Temple won the Republican nomination for this important office.

The GOP will have no runoff for state office on June 2nd.

County Judge Woodrow Bean of El Paso and former Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas went into the runoff for Congressman-at-Large on the Democratic ticket.

Former Speaker Waggoner Carr of Lubbock and Tom Reavley of Austin are in the runoff for attorney general.

No matter how the top races come out — Texas will have an entirely new set of top officials starting next January.

Some 114,000 Texans felt it was time to change parties and cast their ballots in the Republican Primary. State Republican officials were "amazed and delighted" at the vote, and felt it will grow to many times that by November 6.

TEXTBOOKS BACK IN LIMELIGHT

After seven months of hot controversy in Board of Education and House Investigating committee hearings over textbooks recommended by the 1961 State Textbook Committee, a new cycle of interest began Friday as the newly-appointed 1962 committee held its first meeting.

The committee, made up of 15 educators from various congressional districts in Texas, has the awesome task of studying every book offered by textbook publishers. Five books on each public school course due for new material will be submitted to local school boards for selection.

Committeemen will study the books with the aid of some 700 advisors and readers during the summer months. Hearings on objections from organizations and individuals are set for Sept.

According to adoption procedures, anyone may protest a book. But no one can defend a protested book, except the publisher. He can file a written rebuttal after applications for hearing objections are received in Aug.

One step toward blanket censorship was taken by the Board itself when it refused to accept Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar's recommendation to re-adopt five high school economics texts. Some board members felt the books were anti-capitalist.

Rev. ROBERT H. HARPER
From Zone to Zone

IN RECENT weeks my sister and I went to Washington for a visit with my son and family. When we left home, the azaleas were coming into full bloom, then as the train sped through the Carolinas, my Sister called my attention to something white along the track. It was snow. The next morning we looked out upon patches of snow in a small park in front of my son's home in Georgetown.

JUST A THOUGHT:
Quite often the route which appears to be the "easy way" looks quite different on the other side of the hill and the road which now is rocky and difficult may become straight as a ribbon around the next bend. The "right" way is always easiest in the long run.

It is a great trip that we make at intervals. But I remember that migratory birds have been making comparable trips through the ages, spending their summers in the north and their winters in the south. One of the thrills of boyhood was to see the long V line of wild geese high overhead, and I remember how a modern poet has written of the "wild geese sailing high."

What wondrous power guides the wild creatures through the boundless skies? It is indeed a mystery of things that we have seen from childhood.

One of the poets in his "lines to a Waterfowl" wrote thus—"O Thou who from zone to zone guides thy certain flight, In the long way that I must tread alone will lead my steps aright."

R. W. Byram of Austin ignored Rep. W. T. Dungan's request to hold action on the matter until the House Textbook Investigating Committee, which he leads, has time to evaluate the disputed books more carefully.

64 BILLION QUESTION
Officials of the Texas Highway Department started tossing statistics around like confetti as Governor Daniel proclaimed the week of May 20-26 as "Highway Week."

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer called Highway Week "an appropriate time to pose the 64-billion-mile question," which means he's worried about meeting expected needs of Texas motorists who will travel 64 billion miles over state highways in 1970.

Today owners of Texas' five million vehicles drive about 43 billion miles a year. Ten years ago, they traveled only 27 billion miles.

The department began paving the way for the anticipated increase this week as Highway Commissioner Herb Petry Jr. announced approval of the 1962

Farm-to-Market Road program.

A total of 1,216 miles of new FM roads will be built at a cost of $23,500,000. Bids were received on 889 miles of highway repair which will run about $16,700,000.

COSTLY CARELESSNESS
Highway Department figures it could build a lot more road mileage — 72 miles of farm-to-market roads or 24 miles of two-lane primary highways — if the $2,000,000 that was spent to remove highway litter and repair vandalism damage last year was available for construction.

Motorists toss everything from beer cans, to watermelon rinds, to milk cartons and cigarette packages along the state's 63,000-mile road system. Then the highway workers have to do the pick up job.

Department officials compare this to a man throwing trash in his own yard and then paying someone else to pick it up. Damage to road signs accounted for $385,900 of the super cleaning bill.

INDIAN CARE TAKES WAMPUM

Texas spent $78,104 during the fiscal year ending August 31 to keep up the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation at Livingston. The reservation is managed under the direction of the State Hospitals and Special Schools Board.

The advent of eight papooses during the year helped increase the number of reservation dwellers in the tribes from 572 in 1960 to 585 in 1961. It's impossible to keep an accurate count of the number of Indians who are eligible to live on the 4,351-acre reservation, since the Alabamas and Coushattas are free to leave and return as will and many choose to live off the allotted land.

In spite of an annual legislative appropriation, the Indians are self-sustaining to a considerable degree.

The first residents of The White House were President and Mrs. John Adams in November, 1800.

A message from the Treasury of a free people

How to speak out for Freedom today

Free men have never gone in much for silence. Even before the first thirteen States became United States, men were speaking for freedom loud and clear.

Today millions of Americans speak out for freedom every time they buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Every Savings Bond you buy is an investment in freedom. While you're saving money for your own family's future, you're helping Uncle Sam tend to the business of keeping men free today.

Why not speak out for freedom now? Buy Bonds at the bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Keep freedom in your future with

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY.

It's Time For... EYE CARE

Dr. Newton K. Wesley

Here are some questions about eye care with my answers:

"Can too much reading or close work injure the eyes?"

With an occasional rest, no permanent damage can be done to the eyes through such activity.

"Is television viewing harmful to the eyes?"

Not if the room is properly lighted; a mild indirect light should be moved around occasionally; and, for the average size screen, the viewer should sit from six to ten feet away from the screen.

"Can a child outgrow crossed eyes?"

No, a child cannot. Crossed eyes can be corrected through surgery, eye exercises. Contact lenses may also be utilized, however there may be some discomfort until the wearer is fully adapted.

"What determines whether one is able to wear contact lenses?"

Your desire, your determination, your ability to fully adapt to the lenses, plus the skill of your contact lens practitioner are the important factors in determining your ability to wear contact lenses, although some people never can wear them.

"Do contact lenses require changes in prescription as often as regular spectacle lenses?"

No, they do not. According to the National Eye Research Foundation in many cases, prescriptions in contact lenses rarely change. It is safe to assume that such a change is not necessary until several years have passed.

SAVINGS BONDS: INVESTMENT IN FREEDOM

By Ed Gossett, State Chairman Texas Savings Bonds Committee

The U. S. Treasury's Freedom Bond Drive in May and June is the first nation-wide drive for Savings Bonds since 1951, during the fight against communist aggression in Korea. Why have one now?

Certainly it isn't due to any lag in bond buying or holding. In 1961, sales were up, redemptions down compared to 1960. Holding of Series E and H bonds rose by over a billion dollars. The amount outstanding — some $44½ billion — is at an all-time high. But the threat to the free world needs no spelling out today. More Savings Bond sales are needed to help meet the heavy cost of strengthening our defenses, military and economic.

Selling Savings Bonds helps our Treasury meet the mounting costs of keeping the peace in a way that also braces our economy against the strains that defense puts upon it. In its job of managing the debt, the Government needs flexibility, and it needs the stability provided by widespread individual holdings of its securities. Series E and H bond holdings represent some 15 percent of the total debt — a portion which is anti-inflationary, working to preserve the buying power of all our dollars.

Buying these bonds also helps morale by giving Americans who are asking how they can help our country, the opportunity to do something effective in the cause of freedom. The bond drives of 1942-45 certainly helped to strengthen us in all these ways.

The billions of dollars put into Savings Bonds in the past 21 years have greatly helped to prevent the boom and bust consequences produced by past wars. Fed into the economy since 1946, bond savings have benefited our people beyond measuring in dollars and in other uncounted ways.

In the 1962 Freedom Bond campaign, the Treasury and its bond volunteers who have carried on this program through war, uneasy peace and cold war are calling upon every medium of advertising, publicity and promotion to bring these facts home to our people. There are millions of Americans up to the age of 20 or 21 who have no recollection of World War II and the part bond drives played in saving our freedom then. When the need for more bond buying now, expressed by the campaign slogans, "Underwrite Your Country's Might," and "Keep Freedom in Your Future," are brought home to them emphatically, it is hoped they will respond to this challenge to action.

This kind of patriotic action really costs us nothing — but it profits us, individually and collectively. What we are doing for our country and the free world we are doing for ourselves and the communities in which we live and bring up our families. Bond money stays in the community as reserve buying power for the future, most of it to be spent for really important things, "the big things in our lives," or in real emergencies.

In putting savings into these safe, sure securities, no one is giving away any money or taking any risks. Principal and interest are guaranteed with the full faith and credit of the United States behind them. Lost, stolen, damaged or destroyed bonds the Treasury will replace free of charge. For safety, flexibility, and guaranteed return, Savings Bonds are hard to beat.

Freedom is cheap at any price. People who have lost it know it is priceless. It would be hard to think of a greater bargain than these shares in freedom, United States Savings Bonds. The American public will be given a chance to show its appreciation of that bargain — and of their personal stake in the present world issues — in the 1962 Freedom Bond Drive.

Our WASHINGTON Letter By Congressman O. C. FISHER

BY A MARGIN OF 53 to 43 the Senate voted against cutting the debate on a bill to outlaw literacy tests for voters by the various states. It is considered likely that will end the fight for this "civil rights" measure at this session.

The literacy test bill (a brainchild of Bobby Kennedy) was bad for two reasons. First, it was of very doubtful constitutionality because the Constitution says the States determine the qualification of voters. Secondly, even if constitutional it proposed to establish the 6th grade as the test, which would be highly speculative. Some 6th graders would be well qualified as voters, others might not be.

ALREADY THIS YEAR the Senate has killed a month debating "civil rights" measures, and this may mean a long, weary session, which could and should end in July this year. But the politicians are prone to develop election-year jitters when they see a chance to capture a batch of gullible colored and liberal votes by grabbing the "civil rights" torch and trying to start a parade. They exploit that old issue to the limit. Last year — not being an election year — there was little said or done on the subject. But this year — being an election year — it's a different story.

SPEED IS STILL THE No. 1 killer on the Nation's highways, according to an analysis of 1961 traffic accidents. Fast driving caused 33.3% of the deaths and 37.5% of the injuries last year. And approximately 83% of the accidents were the result of driver recklessness, carelessness or mistakes. Thus, the human factor in highway safety remains the big problem to be reckoned with.

A total of 10,260 men, women and children met violent deaths last year in crashes directly attributable to excessive speed. And 946,000 persons were crippled or otherwise injured in speeding accidents during the year. The death list from all causes included 37,600 names while 3 million others were injured.

This is a sad and sordid record — and one that calls for more than a casual glance from those who drive automobiles. Would it help if each morning every driver should resolve: "ON THIS DAY there will be no traffic accident, so far as I am concerned"?

A $180-A-WEEK MAN SEES RETIREMENT AS A CRISIS

FIFTEEN months from now he'll be retired. He'll be two months beyond the age of 65. His wife will be 61, a year short of collecting her own Social Security.

He will have a company pension and Social Security totaling $235 a month. He will have two paid-up life insurance policies with a total face value of $11,000.

Here are his other assets: A house that is clear and in joint ownership with his wife; U.S. Savings Bonds, also in joint ownership, with a face value of $3,400; A savings account in the bank, also joint, that amounts to $766; A two-year-old car;

Six rooms of medium-priced furniture with a freezer, range, refrigerator, TV set and a piano. This man is deeply concerned about his retirement. His salary is $9,360 a year ($180 a week). Taxes and upkeep on his house, which he thinks he could sell for $16,000, are running around $500 a year. Living costs are running right up to his salary—he has been able to add only $800 to his U.S. Bonds in the last two years.

How can he cut down to the $235 a month? This will be about $54 a week. If he can save no money on $180 a week how can he possibly live on $54?

For this man, and for all those others beset with a similar kind of problem, here is some advice:

In the first place a $180-a-week man doesn't make $180. It's more like $135 after income taxes. Then the costs of working—bus fare, lunches, coffee breaks, Social Security, charity, and what next?—will cut it another $10. Clothes befitting the $180 job can cut it another $10. Then the incidentals. The $180-a-week man is probably netting about $110 a week. A retirement income of $235 a month is about half, and a man with a house can manage.

It will be embarrassing if he stays where he is. Because $56 a week, or $3 a day, must come out of his way of living. And the cut-back will show. Still he can manage.

But if he cringes from what his neighbors are thinking, then there is an out—moving—moving to where people don't know, or care, how he used to live.

A house a man thinks is worth $16,000 will probably sell for $14,000. Then the real estate commission and the fiddle-faddle will take another $1,000. So he walks out with $13,000 in his pocket.

In small towns all over the South—but not in the resort areas—a retired couple can buy a little frame house with a plot of garden ground for $9,000. This leaves $4,000, plus the $3,400 in U.S. Bonds. The total of $7,400 in a bank or savings and loan association at 4 per cent will be extra income of about $25 a month . . . added to the $235 pension.

This could be wealth in a small community of little money, while it could be near-poverty in a $180-a-week community in the North.

It's not the same dish of life, for sure. But it's not necessarily bad. And a man and his wife can adjust to it, even at age 65.

Some Girls Think Only About Boys

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I am twelve years old and have a boyfriend in the eighth grade. I'm crazy about him and he says he feels the same way about me. He calls me every once in a while and mother 'flips her lid' about it. I only see him at ball games, and at school. My parents said that if I didn't get my mind off him I won't be allowed to go to ball games, or any place, for that matter. I make good grades in school and always get my homework. Do you think they are right?"

OUR REPLY: "Certainly your parents are right to be concerned. Some girls of twelve get 'carried away' with 'boys, boys, boys,' and everything else is forgotten. Oh, yes, some girls do forget all about schoolwork and some lose all interest in school. This is what concerns your parents. They are afraid you may come to look upon school as just an unwelcome interruption between the hours when you are 'free' to concern yourself with 'boys, boys, boys.' A girl of twelve should show interest in boys. It is a sign that she is 'growing up.' In this corner's opinion, girls of twelve should be permitted to go to parties and other affairs where there are boys and adult chaperones. (Don't please, all you teenagers write in and tell us we are old-fashioned. Don't waste the stamp. We know we are. We have been told so, many many times . . . by both girls and boys—eleven, twelve and thirteen year olds, who all have the same problem: old fashioned parents who won't let them go 'steady' or even date as all the friends their own age are doing.)

Our advice to teenagers and those about to enter the teens: Get that chip off your shoulder. Forego the foolish idea that everyone is trying to hold you back, to treat you like a child forever. Prove the stuff you're made of; act like an adult and you'll be surprised at the difference that will come about in your relations with those about you.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, NATIONAL WEEKLY NEWSPAPER SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

Every Girl Wants To Be Popular

THE WEEK'S LETTER: I hope you can help me with my problems. 1.) Should beer be served at a party with boys 16-18 and girls 15-16-17? Maybe I can convince my parents with your help. I have not approached them with the subject. 2.) How does a girl get to be popular? I am popular, but in the wrong way. (Every date I go on I hear it a week later by a boy who is a very good friend. Also, I hear his view on the subject. I ask him how he knows and he says it is all over school. I go to an all-girl school, not be served at a party attended by 15 to 18 year old boys and girls. We don't know about the laws in your state, but in many cities across the land you can go to jail for making beer or any other alcoholic beverage available to anyone under 18 years of age. You do not need beer to make a party a success—and if you follow a crowd that believes in "drinking," you are most likely headed for trouble.

Girls have the reputation for being "talkers," but boys talk just as much, especially about girls. A girl becomes popular by making the boys say the right kind of things about her. What are the right things? "She is friendly, intelligent, a good dancer, fun on a date—and she's a 'lady' and lets you know it."

There is no one "sharp" remark that would take care of any situation. The best thing a girl can do is maintain her composure and shrug it off with some remark such as, "I am sorry. Someone told me that you could dance."

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, NATIONAL WEEKLY NEWSPAPER SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

he goes to a public high school with most of the boys I go out with.) 3.) I go to quite a few dances with and without dates. This has not happened but there is always a first time. What if it's "ladies' choice" and you ask a boy to dance and he gives some silly excuse—what is a real sharp answer to throw back at him if he's in a crowd and starts laughing (it happened to my girlfriend and I was very annoyed at them for it because she is shy.)"

OUR REPLY: Beer, nor any other alcoholic beverage should

More than a million dollars! That was the cost last year of removing litter from highway rights-of-way. Vandalism of signs and other highway property cost another $450,000. The Texas Highway Department urges Texans this year to help keep the state's "front yards" clean by disposing of travel trash in the proper receptacles.

DOUBLED EFFICIENCY

Teaching machines doubled the efficiency of a class of medical students at Dartmouth College, reports the school's psychiatry department. Learning efficiency was measured by comparing test scores with time spent studying. On material covered by the machine, average efficiency was 1.85 times as great as the score on material presented in the traditional way.

© THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read Ruth 1:14-18; Matthew 7:15-20.

By their fruits ye shall know them. (Matthew 7:20.)

The above saying is ideally illustrated in the Apostle Paul's remembrance that Timothy's unfeigned faith dwelt first in his grandmother Lois and in his mother Eunice. To my continuing wonder, I note regularly in my own church, and in others I visit from time to time, that there are generally two women to one man in the regular Sunday congregation.

Like the women of the Bible, women of the present day are, as a rule, more earnest in spiritual outlook. Like "waiting Mary" and "bustling Martha," they energetically use their talents in many ways to serve God and their fellowmen.

Ruth's devotion to God shines eternally bright in the lives of David and her other famous descendants. Esther exhibited greatness in relieving the distress of her fellow Jews through her influence on a great king of Persia. The devotion of the women mentioned in the New Testament is well illustrated by the going of "Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre" on the first Easter morning.

PRAYER:

Father in heaven, we are inspired by the works of faith of famous women mentioned in the Bible. May their examples serve to strengthen our faith. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Profits Depend On Resource Use

College Station — Many Texas farmers and ranchers are asking how they can make a profit. Cecil Parker, extension farm management specialist, points out that before a profit can be made, something must be produced. This production requires land, labor, capital and management.

Since any one producer has a fixed supply of one or more of these resources, the amount he can produce over a short period of time is limited. Over a longer period, however, the supply of resources may be increased, thus increasing potential crop and livestock production.

Profits now and in the future depend on how well the producer uses his available resources, says Parker. Maximum utilization of resources requires careful study and analysis, and thus a complete inventory of each resource.

An inventory of all the land you control is a good place to start, says Parker. A knowledge of the various types, capabilities and acreage of each is necessary in planning cropping systems. Make and keep a yearly plan for each field, showing rotations, crops grown, fertilizer used, cultural practices and yields. This will prove to be very valuable.

It is also important to study your labor requirements for the year's operation. Know the capabilities of both family and hired labor. Once labor is committed to the farming operation for a year the cost will remain the same whether it is used to the best advantage or not. Make an inventory of available money to carry out the year's operation and consider the need for capital investments, suggests Parker. It is important to study carefully your capital needs and plan how to use available capital to the best advantage.

What is the condition of your machinery and equipment? Are your building facilities adequate? Inventory all these items and evaluate them for optimum use, advises the specialist.

Contact your local county agent for ideas on the use of your resources for maximum profits from your farming operations. The trouble taken to complete this analysis will pay dividends, concludes Parker.

Mayor Proclaims Highway Week

WHEREAS, one of the best-known and well-regarded qualities of the State of Texas is its soundly built and carefully maintained highway system; and

WHEREAS, a consistent program of highway construction and modernization has in recent years brought about a reduction of more than 25 percent in the fatality rate on all Federal and State highways in Texas; but

WHEREAS, heavy increases in traffic endanger these advances in highway safety, since the state's population has increased by one-fourth since 1950, the state now has more than five million registered motor vehicles, and the miles traveled by these vehicles now totals 43 billion miles a year; and

WHEREAS, due to this flood of traffic some 22,000 miles of the state's 25,000-mile system of U. S. and State-numbered highways are already obsolete for the loads of traffic they carry;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, as the Nation at large observes National Highway Week during the period May 20-26, 1962, that the Texas Highway Department be commended for its achievement in building today's fine highway system in the face of mounting traffic problems; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the citizens of Texas be urged to view with concern the adverse economic effects and the cost in human lives that will result if highway traffic overwhelms the capacity of our roads, and to support a sustained program of highway improvement and modernization to keep Texas growing.

THEREFORE, I, W. Ford Barnes, do hereby designate the period May 20-26, 1962 as Highway Week and urge that special attention be directed to the needs of our highway system.
