POWER LAWN MOWERS CAN BE DANGEROUS

The job of keeping lawns neatly trimmed and mowed will become more time consuming with the advent of warm weather. Power tools for doing the job are readily available and power mowers are regular equipment around most homes. These mowers, improperly used, can run up the cost of lawn mowing, cautions the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, by being accident hazards.

The rotary type mower can become a lethal machine, warns the Council, if it is used to mow lawns or weeds where rocks, bones, pieces of wire, nails or other debris can be found. The cutting blade can be broken by striking a hard object and hurled through the air. Wire can be cut into short pieces and hurled at bullet speed. Be sure, advises the Council, that the area being mowed is free of such objects and that the mower is constructed so as to prevent objects being hurled toward the operator.

Furthermore, the Council suggests a few additional rules of safety which, if followed, could prevent many accidents involving lawn mowers or other power tools. "Never," they warn, "try to make adjustments to a mower with the engine running. It's just good business to remove the wire from the sparkplug before attempting to repair or adjust the cutting blade or remove accumulations of grass or weeds from under the mower."

Children should not be allowed to operate nor should a person who is barefooted or wearing open toed shoes. The engine should be cool when refueling is done and if an electric mower is used be sure the extension cord is in perfect shape or you may be in for a shock, warns the Council.

It's a good idea, say the Councilmen, to once again read the operator's manual which came with the mower or other tools before taking them out for another season. The folks who made the equipment are concerned about the user's safety and have made recommendations to insure a long and useful life for the machine and operator, concludes the Safety group.

DAYS OF JUNE

THE poet writes, "What is so rare as a day in June?" That may be true of the place where the poet lived but in the lands farther south June has often brought days and weeks that dispute the rhymster's words. As a boy, I heard my elders speak of the "June rise" in the old Mississippi.

An old circuit rider headed across Darbonnes swamp in time of high water. Soon he came to a point where the wagon tracks he had been following ended in water ahead. He thought he could ride where a wagon had gone and in he went. Soon his horse seemed to be swimming, but he drew up his feet and the horse struggled on. Greatly relieved to ride out at last on a stretch of land, he saw a man coming poling a flat boat.

He called to the boatman and asked if he could ferry him on through the swamp. The boatman looked at him quizzically and asked where he had come from. When he was told, he said, "You don't need me, you've already come through water twenty feet deep." Not knowing that the wagon tracks had ended when the wagon was driven upon the ferry, the preacher had ridden confidently in.

So appearances can be deceiving. Be careful along the way, as you might not be able to get out of water twenty feet deep.

EYE CARE

Cataracts:

Years ago it was thought that those with cataracts would have to postpone an operation until the cataract had "ripened". This is not true today. Modern surgical techniques have made this operation safe and effective 95 times out of 100. The decision to operate is usually made by the doctor when the cataract has affected the vision enough to interfere with the following of one's profession.

Surgery is the only known effective cure for a cataract condition. Don't be misled by "cure-all" claims of curing this condition through the use of salves, eye drops, or other such means.

Cataracts, the most important single cause of blindness among adults, occurs when the normally clear lens within the eye becomes clouded, blocking some or all the light rays entering the eye. If the cloudiness is slight and the vision is not interfered with, an operation may not be necessary. However, if the cloudiness is extensive enough to obscure vision, the doctor will, no doubt, recommend an operation. A person operated on for cataracts must wear corrective lenses for the rest of his life. A pair of special glasses or, in some cases, contact lenses, are necessary to replace the clouded lens removed from the eye.

Cataract sufferers can be assured that, thanks to today's modern methods, the surgical treatment is safe and highly effective.

THE Liz-Taylor-Richard Burton affair had everyone buzzing for a time but actually it is nothing new for a star to fall in love in the midst of making a picture. . . . What more appropriate time is there to be cast under someone's spell than when acting? Actually Liz had known Burton for 13 years and apparently found no appeal there until she had to play love scenes with him in "Cleopatra" . . . That, plus boredom with her fourth marriage, seemed to spell the difference.

Going back to the silents, the Garbo-John Gilbert love affair was the talk of grandmother's day, though it never ended in marriage. . . . Then, in later days there was Ingrid Bergman who fell for her director (Roberto Rossellini, remember?); Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall; Bobby Darin and Sandra Dee (they also felt the rays of Rome's sunshine) and Janet Leigh and Tony Curtis. . . . Love, that has not yet terminated in marriage developed during movie-making by Sinatra and Juliet Prowse, Marilyn Monroe and Yves Montand (which ended her marriage to Arthur Miller and Warren Beatty and Natalie Wood.

ESTIMATED INCOME TAX

Taxpayers paying estimated federal income tax are, according to District Director, Ellis Campbell, Jr., of Internal Revenue Service in Dallas, required to pay their second installment of tax due on 1962 estimated income by Friday, June 15, 1962.

If the income expected to be earned during 1962 has changed, taxpayers should file an amended declaration of Estimated Tax. A blank form for use as an amended return is printed on the back of the bill which taxpayers receive for an installment of Estimated Tax, the IRS representative explained.

ROCKWOOD QUILTING CLUB MEETING

The Rockwood Quilting Club met last Thursday, May 24, at the Community Center.

A beloved mother in our community, Mrs. J. W. Wise, whose fingers were never still for her children, pieced this Ocean Wave Quilt for her son-in-law, Frank Bryan and now quilted today. Mrs. Wise is quite ill at this time.

Visiting the group for a time during the day were Mrs. I. O. Smith, a former resident, and son, Jerry of Iraan. Then Mrs. Lon Gray, home from teaching in the Lohn School, came by.

Greeting cards were mailed to Mrs. Eula Williams of Brownwood and Mrs. Pearl Grimm.

Those attending were: Mmes. Frank McCreary, Kate McIlvain, Henry Smith, Era Blackwell, Fannie Bryan, Bill Bryan, Ray Caldwell, Jack Cooper, Earl Cozart, J. P. Hodges and Miss Bernice Johnson.

DAIRY FOODS HEAD JUNE PLENTIFULS

College Station — Joys of summer eating are wrapped up in the June list of plentiful foods, according to the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Light and refreshing dairy foods head the list, as milk production is at its peak for the year. Traditionally, June is Dairy Month. So look for an abundance of whole milk, skim milk, butter-milk, ice cream, sour cream, cheeses of all kinds, and all other nourishing dairy products.

Frozen orange juice, mostly from Florida, is another June plentiful. Its sparkling flavor and invaluable nutrition make it especially adapted to summer meals and snacks.

Broiler-fryers also remain plentiful at low, low prices — almost as low as last June when farm prices reached record-low levels. These tender, meaty birds are ideal for formal or informal meals, in the dining room, on the patio or on a picnic.

Vegetable fats and oils complete the June list. Commercial stocks of crude and semi-refined soybean and cottonseed oils have been running at an all-time high. Salad and cooking oil stocks are about four times higher than a year ago.

These four foods have been given the official "plentiful" tag by USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service because supplies of each exceed expected demand. Producers, processors and the food trade in general are cooperating to give consumers the advantage of this abundance. Watch for retail specials; serve plentiful foods often, advises the Service.

Lykins Family Reunion Held Sunday

The Lykins family, relatives and friends met Sunday, May 27, at the Coleman City Park for their second annual reunion. A very pleasant day was enjoyed by the 75 present. The oldest member of the family, R. M. Lykins, who is 86-years of age, was on hand to greet the youngest, a great-grandson, Christ, about six weeks old. Christ is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Lykins of San Angelo.

A granddaughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Newton of Lubbock, brought a beautiful birthday cake to Mr. Lykins. On it was the inscription, "Happy Birthday Grand Daddy." Their thoughtfulness was enjoyed by all.

Earnest Lykins of San Angelo was elected president and Myrtle Lykins Summers of San Antonio, secretary, for the second year.

Elder Mitchell Lykins and wife were new additions to the group. They have been attending a Lykins reunion at Lampasas the third Sunday in May each year. He made the suggestion that the two groups be combined. They will decide by next May.

Those present were from Fort Worth, Hurst, Brownwood, San Angelo, Hobbs, N. M., Inglesides, Coleman, Rock Springs, Hamilton, Killeen, Lubbock, Santa Anna and San Antonio.

RADIATION

Natural atomic radiation in underground formations enables oil well technicians to pinpoint the level at which a deep shaft should be perforated for oil. Each formation, such as shale, sandstone and limestone, contains a certain amount of radioactivity, according to experts at PGAC in Houston, Texas. By taking radiation counts at various points in the shaft, then can detect formations most likely to yield oil.

It was the tiny town of Chirenowhere oil was first discovered in Texas.

State Capital NEWS

Austin — Eight tired men will sit down Saturday night — but not to relax.

Probably it will be well into Sunday before four know that they have won and four know that they have lost the Democratic runoff primary for four important statewide offices.

John Connally and Don Yarbrough have battled it out for governor. James A. Turman and Preston Smith are the two tired men in the race for lieutenant governor, possibly the most important job in state government. Waggoner Carr and Tom Reavley competed for attorney general. Woodrow Bean and Joe Pool were busy men seeking nomination for Congressman-at-Large, a statewide seat in Congress which likely will be abolished within two to four years.

Following Saturday, they can rest a bit before taking up their campaigns against the Republican nominees who are expected to make the strongest bids since 1874 in the General Election on November 5.

But no matter how the democratic primary and the General Election turn out, Texas will have new men in the three top state offices beginning next January.

STATE AND SYMPHONIES CLASH

A new order from the State Comptroller's office struck a discordant note with supporters of Texas' 13 symphony orchestras when they were informed that their productions will no longer be considered exempt from the 10 percent admission tax.

The Dallas Symphony society was first to be taxed. They paid $12,999 back admission taxes under protest.

Now symphony groups in Houston, San Antonio, Abilene, Amarillo, Austin, Corpus Christi, El Paso, Fort Worth, Lubbock, San Angelo, Tyler and Wichita Falls are under surveillance of the Comptroller's staff.

Actually, no one ever told the symphonies that they were exempt from the ticket tax. But they so considered themselves under a clause in the law passed in 1936 exempting "charitable" and "educational" organizations. They never were informed otherwise.

With the advent of the new sales tax law, an enlarged staff in the State Comptroller's office was mandatory. Interpretations and rulings were necessary. One rule defined "charitable" and "educational" organizations in such a manner that collectors started hitting the symphonies for back admission taxes.

Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas said he thinks exemption of symphonies and similar organizations was "the intent of the 1936 law." He has promised to support redrafting of the state amusements tax law to exempt non-profit cultural institutions.

The Dallas society's payment "under protest" may pave the way for a court decision. State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert said he'll welcome one. "Frankly, I don't know if symphonies should pay an admission tax," he admitted, "but I don't think they can be called a charity."

WATER PROGRAM ACCELERATED
Speed with which federal water projects are coming into final

About Your Health

A person can live three weeks without food, three days without water, but only three minutes without air.

Would you know what to do if a member of your family or neighbor became unconscious stages is shown by the fact that the Texas Water Commission has reviewed 17 federal projects since September 1, with two more coming up for hearing June 11.

Chief Engineer John Vandertulip said that projects already reviewed by the commission have a total first cost of $325,366,000 of which $192,052,000 is federal.

Those projects are up for congressional authorization or financing this year, so odds are fair that work by federal agencies in Texas will be accelerating greatly in the next two or three years.

Water Commission will hold hearings on June 11 on two U. S. Corps of Engineers' projects — Plum Creek and the Sabine-Neches Waterway improvements. The latter project, which calls for deepening of existing channels to accommodate super-tankers, totals $20,330,000 federal cost and $1,543,000 non-federal.

LIVESTOCK CONTROL FUNDS SUPPLEMENTED

R. G. Garrett, executive director of the Texas Animal Health Commission, notified Gov. Price Daniel that nearly $9,000 of a $10,000 appropriation for livestock tuberculosis control program has been spent. Remaining funds virtually are exhausted.

So the governor approved a $5,000 emergency grant to boost the commission's program to August 31.

Animal Health Commission now has 69 herds of cattle under quarantine due to tuberculosis. Plans call for completion of testing in 15 counties as well as additional testing in 19 more counties.

36TH COMMANDERS PROMOTED

Gov. Price Daniel announced the promotion of the Texas' 36th Infantry Division's two top commanders. Amarillo Attorney Everett E. Simpson, commander of the division, was promoted to major general, and Ralph M. Krieger, an Abilene businessman, was named to the rank of brigadier general.

Simpson, one of Texas' most-decorated soldiers, participated in every major engagement that in World War II. In the same campaign, Krieger won the Combat Infantryman's Badge, Bronze Star and Legion of Merit.

SHORT SNORTS
Billie R. McElroy of Austin, firearms training specialist for the Texas Department of Public Safety, won the Elihu Root medal for marksmanship for training civilian marksmen.

Texas Education Agency revealed that more than 100,000 Texans now have completed the Civil Defense "Education for Survival" course, leading the nation in adult participation in this program.

Miss Ruth LaVerne Gallman of Temple, education coordinator at Scott and White Hospital School of Nursing, was named to the State Board of Nurse Examiners.

Gov. Daniel appointed C. D. Acker of Jacksonville, H. T. Latham of Stephenville, and Paul D. Lindsey of Dallas to the Texas Finance Commission.

In just a few minutes anyone can learn the technique known as mouth to mouth breathing. This method has been known to man since biblical times but has recently been proven much more popular than any other method of artificial respiration.

This technique may be used to revive all unconscious and non-breathing victims of drowning, electric shock, smoke or gas inhalation, drug or chemical poisoning, injuries to head, chest, neck and abdomen, convulsions, cardiac arrest, and other causes.

Mouth to mouth rescue breathing starts with clearing the mouth of any foreign objects such as tobacco, food, seaweed, toys, loose teeth or other small objects.

Then, with one hand grasp the victim's chin, placing the other hand on top of the head and with a rotating motion tilt the head backward. A roll of clothing or blanket placed under the victim's shoulders will help keep the neck in favorable position.

Insert the thumb of one hand between the victim's jaws. Grasp the lower teeth and pull the jaw forward. Never let the victim's chin sag or let his head return to normal, relaxed position. Stop air leakage through the nose by pinching the nostrils closed with the thumb and index finger of the other hand.

Next, take a deep breath and place your mouth over the victim's mouth as firmly as possible in order to prevent air leakage. Keeping the mouth open wide breath deeply into the victim's lungs.

As soon as you see the victim's chest rise you have delivered adequate breath. You must then remove your mouth so that the victim may exhale naturally. Repeat rescue breathing about once every three or four seconds, about 12 to 20 times a minute, until the victim breathes naturally or until a doctor arrives. If the victim is an infant or small child, breathe gently using only small puffs from the cheeks and throat.

MEDICAL: The clinical thermometer has been used for many years as an indicator of illness. It is simple to use and almost everyone is familiar with it. Since temperature readings are useful in detecting disease it is helpful to know some of the conditions that affect temperature, but don't indicate anything serious.

Normal temperature, as measured by the oral mercury thermometer, is about 98.6 degrees. Rectal readings (these should be taken with a rectal thermometer) are about one degree higher and underarm readings are about one degree lower.

Variations in temperature normally occur throughout the day and there can be a difference of one-half to one degree between the high point (late afternoon or early evening) and the low point (4 to 5 A.M.). It is important to remember this, for I find many people confuse this daily fluctuation with an actual fever.

High outdoor temperatures or exercise may also cause a body temperature elevation of from one to four degrees. Some persons routinely have readings slightly higher or lower than the average and these people should be aware of it in order to avoid misinterpretation.

When measuring temperature, then, be sure to consider the time of day, previous physical activity, outside temperature and method of taking it. If the temperature is up, i.e. a fever, you can be fairly sure that an infection of some sort is present. Although we look for fever mostly, you should not forget that low temperature readings can also be important. In both cases you should inform your family doctor of the finding and let him decide what further action is needed.

DORSEY HARDEMAN
Senator, 25th District
SAN ANGELO, TEXAS

May 30, 1962
I am respectfully asking the people of my district to vote for Preston Smith for Lieutenant Governor in the Democratic runoff June 2.

Having served with him in the Texas Senate, I am in a position to say that Preston Smith is a man of ability and integrity who can be counted on to do the right and fair thing. He is the only candidate who has had experience in the Senate. He is the only candidate who has served in both Houses of the Texas Legislature. In my opinion, he will be an outstanding presiding officer of the Senate.

Preston Smith is the man with whom I can work, closely and with mutual confidence, for the benefit of our district. I recommend his candidacy to you without reservation.

Sincerely yours,
s/DORSEY HARDEMAN

PRESTON SMITH
for Lieutenant Governor

(Paid Pol. Adv.)

To The Voters Of Precinct No. 2:

Again, I wish to express my deep gratitude to each of you and to say Thank You for making me the leading candidate in the May 5 election for the office of Commissioner of Precinct No. 2. I am now asking you to re-elect me for another term as your Commissioner, and I will appreciate your vote and continued support on June 2.

Although my record as your Commissioner is known to you and speaks for itself, I would like to take this opportunity to review a part of what has been accomplished during my term as your Commissioner.

More than 50 miles of Highway and Farm-to-Market roads have been built. The cost of right-of-ways and fencing on these roads has amounted to many thousands of dollars which was all paid with county funds.

Many miles of lateral roads have been graveled, especially school bus and mail routes, and more are to be graveled in the future.

When I took office as your Commissioner, the funds of Precinct 2 were very low and the equipment worn and in poor condition. Now the Precinct has fair equipment which is all paid for.

Precinct 2 is debt free and has ample funds to continue future programs of road repairs and rebuilding projects. In this connection I would like to state that the county finances are handled by the Commissioner's Court rather than by County Court as has been indicated in this runoff campaign.

I have worked with the Texas Highway Department in the building of the above mentioned roads, and feel that with my experience and knowledge of the procedures used I can serve to the best interest of the Precinct in this respect.

Also, I would like to say that Coleman County as a whole does not have any outstanding indebtedness except the bonded indebtedness against the Court House which was remodeled several years prior to the term of the present Commissioner's Court, and the County is now operating on its tax income.

I appreciate your past cooperation, and if re-elected I promise the same courteous service as in the past and promise to continue to work for the betterment of the Precinct. I feel that with my experience in the building and maintaining roads and my knowledge of the procedures of Commissioner's Court I am well qualified to serve you and I am asking your vote and support Saturday.

Sincerely,
s/WALTER C. HOLT

Preston Smith Seeks Office Of Lt. Governor

Austin — Preston Smith, Democratic runoff candidate for Lieutenant Governor, has come out squarely for retaining the Texas "Right to Work" law which provides that Texans can't be forced to join a labor union in order to get or keep a job.

At the same time he defends their right to join voluntarily

The News, Santa Anna, Texas, June 1, 1962

"any organization which has legitimate, worthwhile purposes." This would include a legitimate labor union.

Senator Smith already has called attention to the fact that his runoff opponent is the endorsed candidate of organized labor leaders and several other special interest groups. Smith has not sought any such endorsements, he pointed out.

In a small campaign folder, under the heading "Senator Preston Smith's views on Freedom," the businessman-candidate from Lubbock County says:

"All Texans have the inherent right to defend their freedom of choice and their dignity as individuals.

"And I do not believe any person should be forced to join any group or organization in order to get or hold a job. That is why I will work to retain the Right to Work law.

"In the same spirit of freedom, I believe that voluntary membership in any organization which has legitimate worth-while purposes is an admirable freedom we must protect.

"I believe that Texans are completely capable of running their own government, without unnecessary interference from federal administration. Texas should be free from harmful desires of out-of-state labor leaders, or anyone else who might seek to use our state as a playground for any selfish special interest group.

"If I am elected Lieutenant Governor, I will work hard to help begin a program of progress whereby Texas can attract new industry, new tourists and new income that will mean better jobs, and more jobs for all Texans."

The examination will be offered at several convenient locations throughout Texas on September 19 and 20, 1962. Applicants should contact M. O. Tesson, Post Office Box 594, Dallas, Texas, for additional information and application for enrolling. Applicants must pay an enrollment fee of $25.00 upon submitting an official application for the examination.

What this country needs is a good nickel cup of coffee!

A nickel goes a long way (like in the good ole' days) when you make your coffee the modern way — with clean, safe, flameless electricity.

Approximately 100* generous, delicious cups for a nickel! And this is only one example for the economy of electricity in your modern living. As a matter of fact, between the years of 1950 and 1960, the average cost of a kilowatt hour of electric service to residential customers served by West Texas Utilities Company went down 21%.

Fishing Arrests Top Violations In April Report

Austin — Three South Texas telephone fishermen last month dialed the wrong number. One was fined $160, and lost his fishing license, and two more were fined $83 each and lost their fishing license. They were charged with using an electric device to take fish, a practice commonly known as "telephoning."

Game wardens during April made 251 arrests, and court fines and costs amounted to $7,049.50, according to the monthly report of J. B. Phillips, coordinator of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission.

Most of the month's violations were made by persons fishing without a license. There were 141 sports fishing violations, seven fish dealer violations, one commercial fisherman and one oyster dredging violation.

Night hunters also continued to plague game wardens, and 19 persons were arrested for hunting at night and headlighting game. Eleven persons were arrested for possession of poisons. Ten oyster fishermen were fined for possession of small oysters.
