

COTTON PRODUCTION IS ESTIMATED AT 11,825,000 BALES

Indicated Outturn 163,000 Bales Under Last Month; Prices Advance Slightly

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (AP)— Cotton responded with slight advances today to a government estimate for a cotton crop of 11,825,000 bales, which was 163,000 below its August estimate although about equal to the average of recent private reports.

Dec. advanced from 8.08 to 8.17 and was within a point of the best in mid-afternoon, when the list was 4 to 6 points net higher.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8 (AP)— The agriculture department estimated this year's cotton crop today at 11,825,000 bales.

The estimate based on September 1 conditions, compared with 11,988,000 bales forecast a month ago, 18,946,000 bales produced last year, and an average production of 13,201,000 bales during the ten years 1927-36.

Defense Seeks Dismissal Of Hines Suit

Attorney Argues That Tammany Man Not The 'Master Mind'

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (AP)— Defense counsel today urged dismissal of conspiracy charges against James J. Hines, 61-year-old Tammany district leader, asserting that even on the basis of the state's accusations, Hines was only "one of the players on the team"—not a "master mind" of the $20,000,000-a-year Dutch Schultz policy racket.

By this legal strategy, Lloyd Paul Stryker, Hines' attorney, sought to prevent the four-week-old trial from reaching the "blue ribbon" jury.

Stryker asked Justice Ferdinand Pecora for dismissal of the indictment in a 27-page typewritten brief. He cited three major legal points in moving that the 13 counts in the indictment against Hines be thrown out.

He also cited 30 cases in support of his thesis, and in a pre-emptive move, the booming-voiced chief defense lawyer was emphatic in stating that it was no mere "defense tactic" of a routine, formal nature, but that he sincerely believed the case should be quashed "on the law and the facts."

The state rested late yesterday after climaxed its maze of circumstantial evidence with testimony that Hines, as alleged political "fixer" for the Schultz mob, attempted to save "the Dutchman" from being "pushed around" by police in Troy, N. Y., and that Hines agreed to look into the pending appointment of Dewey as a special rackets prosecutor in 1935.

'LOST MINE' LEGEND MAY COME TRUE

CROCKETT, Sept. 8 (AP)— One of Texas' "lost mine" legends may come true. Valuable ore has been found at the legend's locale, only 6.5 W. Hulbert has leased 1,500 acres of land surrounding a ledge, known as "Rocky Mound" with an old shaft, thought for years to be a natural cave, about 40 feet up its face. Hulbert said he re-discovered the mine by following an old map obtained from a Mexican.

While taking soil from the face of the rock yesterday, workmen discovered a drawing of three arrows, but their significance has not been interpreted.

Henry Smith, Hulbert's assistant, said ore obtained assayed lead, silver and platinum, the latter running nine ounces to the ton.

That Corrigan Smile Never Fades And The Corrigan Wit Never Fails As Thousands Greet Wrong-Way Flier On Big Spring Visit

Douglas Groce Corrigan—or just plain Doug Corrigan—who won the heart of the nation by his wrong-way flight to Ireland, smiled his way into and out of Big Spring today amid the plaudits of thousands.

From the time he landed his now historic "crate" at the municipal airport until he winged away toward El Paso, he was a much besieged young Irishman, continually smiling under a pressure that would have wilted a lesser spirit.

"I get a lot of fun out of people who see me," the "most kidded man in the world" told a banquet gathering in his honor at the Settles. "Of course they're laughing at me, but then I'm laughing at them—I happen to think they believe this story I'm telling."

Fully 2,000 people were on hand at the airport here before Corrigan landed the 3000 plane in which he crossed the Atlantic. When he taxied up to the administration building, the crowd rushed in, all but bowling over more people—most of them school children—cheered him as he made another impromptu address.

At the Settles 350 persons crowded into the Settles banquet hall where the Kivants club honored Corrigan. Again the autograph hunt-ers made such demands on him that he could hardly eat. But Doug kept smiling.

Introduced by Dorsey B. Hardeman, San Angelo, representative-elect who presided as toastmaster, Corrigan, 31-year-old native Texan, received a brisk ovation although he tried to wave the applause aside.

"It's good to get back among the homestage folks," he said. "I'm glad to be in Big Spring—'if only just to eat lunch.'"

Then he launched into an impromptu speech, studded with clever Irish wit.

Referring to descriptions of his exploits, he argued that "most of it has been stretched out a lot. All those clouds over the ocean were under me, I myself was in a fog for the whole trip. I've been in a fog ever since I got back.

"Why I almost said some other town than Big Spring (in responding) although I don't know why. They ought to put a sign on a building telling what town it is for I get confused with 30 or 40 visits to towns a week."

Alluding to the many presentations to him since his return to America, Corrigan said he only took a commission from Governor Allred as lieutenant colonel on the gubernatorial staff because there was no uniform attached.

"If there is no uniform, O. K. I'll take it, and if there is no fighting, that's all right."

There was probably more than jesting in his remarks, for he still wore his regalia of a leather jacket and ordinary street clothes.

Promotions are rapid, observed. See CORRIGAN, Page 5, Col. 1

BRITAIN SET TO MEET HITLER'S NEXT MOVE

Arrest Of Pickets Heightens Tension In Frisco's Strike

300 Policemen Patrol Area Where Workers Walk Out Of 27 Stores

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8 (AP)—Tension heightened in the strike of several thousand department store clerks here today as five pickets were arrested on charges of refusal to move on at police command.

More than 300 policemen patrolled the retail area where 27 of the city's largest department stores and branches were struck yesterday, and where picket lines, skittolized overnight were again at full strength, with feminine strikers predominating.

Larry Vail, union secretary, said the marching girls: "Keep on talking it up—unfair!"

One employer spokesman said "the stores will stay open. We have not yielded, we do not yield and we will not yield to any group of union officials the control of who our employees will be."

The AFL-affiliated strikers received pledges of AFL and CIO union support, and set up a committee to conduct their campaign. Larry Vail, union secretary, said 7,000 workers responded to yesterday's strike call. Store executives set the number at 4,000.

No peace overtures had been made today by strikers, retailers or third parties in the dispute which centered around a union demand for a registered list of both union and non-union clerks from which employees would be chosen, and a store-wide seniority plan.

An employer statement said store wages and working conditions were the best in the country, but the union is "attempting to force upon employees the outrageous conception of store management by union officials."

Police precautions brought extra patrolmen into the retail section where a flurry of trouble broke out yesterday in front of two Market street stores. The officers said flying fists and feminine hair pulling marked the passage of women employees through picket line. Only arrests were two spee...ors who assertedly balked at officers' orders to "move on."

May Chart His Policy In Talk On Monday

English Cabinet Is Summoned To Meet On The Same Day

LONDON, Sept. 8 (AP)—The British cabinet was summoned today to meet next Monday, a few hours before Reichsfuehrer Hitler is expected to make at Nurnberg, Germany, a speech which may tell Europe whether there will be war or peace over Czechoslovakia.

Speech Awaited

The German chancellor's speech (about noon CDT) is scheduled as the climax of the 10th annual Nazi party congress, now in progress. European statesmen have expressed belief that by then he will have made up his mind how far he will go as "protector" of the Sudeten German minority of Czechoslovakia.

Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain issued the call for the cabinet meeting after a series of conferences with key ministers on the suspension of negotiations between the Prague government and the Sudeten Germans.

Informed quarters believed that Monday's session—at 11 a. m. (6 a. m. EST)—was called to reach a decision on what Britain should do if the Fuehrer heralded aggressive German action.

Hitler had ordered Sudeten German leaders to renew negotiations with the Czechoslovak government after a break in the autonomy talks had given Europe its sharpest war scare in weeks of tension.

Hitler, self-styled protector of the Sudeten Germans, had ordered the negotiations suspended yesterday. His change of mind, it was said, was because of his desire to convince the world he was leaving nothing undone to find a peaceful solution of the crisis.

There was evidence, however, that German patience both with the Czechoslovaks and with British peace-making efforts was near its end.

WHERE ARMIES WATCH CRISIS

Here's a close-up map of the area where the eyes of a worried world are focused—both sides of the Franco-German frontier where both France and Germany began a rigorous "anti-espionage" campaign to cloak their extensive military activities. Reports leaked through indicating that Germany's Siegfried line at the border is only her first defense—last her second or Hindenburg line, backs up the Siegfried line, and that a third and nameless defense line is believed to be under construction on the northern banks of the Rhine. The lines of question marks indicate what is believed to be the approximate location of such defenses. French reports indicated that both the Siegfried and Hindenburg lines are designed to be little more than temporary blocks against invasion.

Crusade Fund Is Growing

Firms Contributing To Financing Of Sales Campaign

Response of business concerns to support the Sales Crusade with subscriptions was growing by the hour, Mrs. Harvey Williamson, crusade executive, reported Thursday.

Big Borrowing Program Set

Treasury Calls For 700 Million From U. S. Investors

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8 (AP)—The treasury asked the nation's investors today to lend it $700,000,000 in "new money" to help pay for the administration's spending program and to build up a huge temporary cash reserve.

At the same time, Secretary Morgenthau offered new securities to refund $483,460,900 worth of notes maturing December 15, bringing the total of the financing operation to $1,133,460,900.

Treasury officials said they anticipated little difficulty in borrowing the money because the banks alone have $3,000,000,000 of idle cash reserves.

ONIONS REALLY DO HELP CURE COLDS

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 8 (AP)—Grandma was right when she insisted that onions help cure a cold.

'Law West Of The Pecos' To Function Here

Better examine your conscience, your soul and your character and be ready to answer for any real—or otherwise—transgressions, because "The Law" will be here Saturday.

"The Law" (in capital letters) is none other, of course, than The Law West of the Pecos. Judge Roy Bean will come to town, set up a tribunal on a downtown street, and see to it that the man who is brought before him and fails to answer satisfactorily to an accusation, or who fails to meet the penalty assessed.

The "court" will be one of the features of a day of slightly daffy goings-on, in which the 40 and 5, fun unit of the American Legion, stages an initiation ceremony. Some 25 members of the local unit, organized here at the recent regional Legion convention, will be put through the paces—outfit and serious—by 40 and 5 members from San Angelo. Angelo is sending a big delegation, and there will also be men from Midland and Odessa to partake of the initiation.

These prospective items for the slaughter are called "F.O.'s"—Prisoner Du Garo—or perhaps just plain "poor govt." Anyway, the boys in charge are asserting, it will be a memorable day for the poor govt.

ICKES AGREEABLE TO AUTHORITY'S BUYING UTILITY PROPERTY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8 (AP)—Secretary Ickes said today he saw no reason why the Lower Colorado River Authority should not purchase facilities of the Texas Power & Light company in 14 cities.

The company offered its properties for sale to the authority to distribute power generated at new dams constructed on the Colorado river near Austin.

"We are interested only in seeing the interests of the authority are protected," he remarked. "If they can purchase the properties at the best interest of the district, then that's the thing to do."

MENARD, Sept. 8 (AP)—Ranchman Willie Wilkerson said last night he would consider any requests from scientists to dig for a meteor which fell on his ranch Aug. 24, slashing a crater 27 feet wide and 23 feet deep.

Wilkerson returned from a trip to Hawaii this week to find his ranch foreman, Monroe White, had fenced the huge hole to protect hundreds of spectators.

White told how he saw a flash across the sky the night of August 24. He rode to the crater six hours after the meteor roared to the earth.

INSURGENTS CLAIM SLIGHT ADVANCES

BENDAYE, France (At the Spanish Frontier) Sept. 8 (AP)—Spanish insurgents reported today they had made slight advances north of Viver in a shift of warfare in eastern Spain from the Ebro river to the Castellan front.

The new fighting along the highway from Teruel to Valencia, 24 miles southeast of Viver, centered in the Caballos mountains where the insurgents have been attacking for several days.

The insurgents cautiously described the operation as "rectification of the front lines."

Farmers Soon To Vote Again On Crop Plan

Cotton, Tobacco Balloting Probably In December

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8 (AP)—Cotton and tobacco farmers will get an opportunity soon to vote on continuing for another year the crop control programs approved last spring for the 1939 yields.

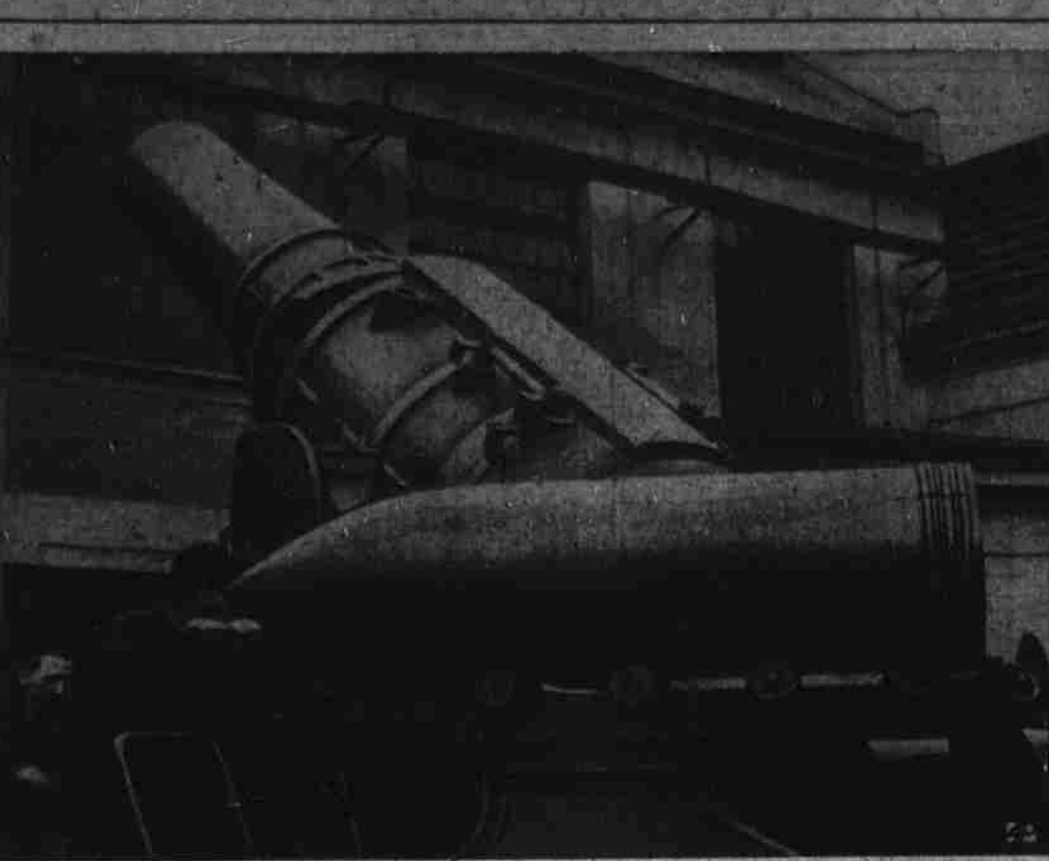

Federal farm officials said today they had begun arrangements for submitting the question at new referenda, probably in December, since there was little doubt that cotton and tobacco supplies would be excessive.

Officials said they regarded the forthcoming referenda as an important test of the farm legislation. It will be the first opportunity for farmers who have tried out the control provisions to express themselves.

Some farmers have expressed dissatisfaction with the operation of the act, particularly with respect to the provisions giving the government authority to regulate crop sales and levy penalties on those exceeding their quotas.

RAILROAD APPEALS FOR FINANCING OF LOCOMOTIVES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8 (AP)—The Texas Mexican Railway company

asked the Interstate Commerce Commission today for permission to issue $200,000 of equipment trust certificates to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in connection with the purchase of seven Diesel electric locomotives costing $218,513. The company has headquarters at Laredo, Texas. It operates only in Texas. It proposes to buy the locomotives from the Baldwin Locomotive Works at Philadelphia. These new in use, the petition said, have "excessive maintenance costs" because of their age.

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF BIG SPRING, TEXAS, AUTHORIZING AND ORDERING AN ELECTION FOR THE PURPOSE OF SUBMITTING TO THE PROPERTY TAX PAYING VOTERS OF THE CITY OF BIG SPRING WHO HAVE DULY RENDERED PROPERTY FOR TAXATION A PROPOSITION AS TO WHETHER THE CITY OF BIG SPRING SHALL ISSUE BONDS FOR CONSTRUCTION OF WATER WORKS EXTENSIONS AND IMPROVEMENTS AND BUILDING STORAGE RESERVOIRS, PURCHASE OF LANDS TO BE USED FOR SUCH PURPOSES, AND SUCH OTHER PURPOSES AS MAY BE INCIDENTAL TO OR CONNECTED WITH WATER WORKS IMPROVEMENTS OR EXTENSIONS, AND LEVYING TAXES SUFFICIENT TO PAY THE INTEREST THEREON AND CREATING THE NECESSARY SINKING FUND WITH WHICH TO PAY THE PRINCIPAL THEREOF AT MATURITY, AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

WHEREAS, the City Commission of the City of Big Spring, Texas, is of the opinion and finds that it is for the best interest of the City of Big Spring that water works extensions and improvements be constructed, and that bonds of the City of Big Spring be issued for the purpose of financing the construction of such extensions and improvements, purchase of lands for such purposes, and other purposes incidental to and connected with such water works improvements and extensions; THEREFORE,

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF BIG SPRING, TEXAS: Section 1. An election shall be held on the 27th day of September, A. D. 1938, at which election the following proposition shall be submitted to the resident, qualified property tax paying voters of said city who have duly rendered property for taxation, for their action thereon, viz:

PROPOSITION "Shall the City Commission of the City of Big Spring, Texas, be authorized to issue bonds of the City of Big Spring, Texas, in the sum of Two Hundred Seventy-Five Thousand ($275,000.00) Dollars, to mature serially within thirty (30) years from their date, bearing interest at a rate not to exceed five per centum per annum from date until paid, interest payable semi-annually, for the purpose of constructing water works extensions and improvements, building storage reservoirs, purchasing of lands to be used for such purposes, and such other purposes as may be incidental to or connected with water works improvements and extensions; and to levy a tax sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds and creating a sinking fund sufficient to pay the principal thereof at maturity, as authorized by the Constitution and Laws of the State of Texas, and in conformity with the requirements of this law regulating the issuance of bonds by cities."

Section 2. Said election shall be held at the Fire Station in the City of Big Spring, Texas, and the following named persons are hereby appointed officers at said election: W. R. PURSER, Presiding Judge; ROBERT STRIFLING, Judge; MRS. CHAS. KOBERG, Clerk; MRS. E. D. MERRILL, Clerk.

Section 3. Said election shall be held under the provisions of the Constitution and Laws of the State of Texas, including Chapters one to seven of Title 22, of the Revised Civil Statutes; and only qualified electors who own taxable property in the City of Big Spring and who have duly rendered the same for taxation shall be qualified to vote at said election.

Section 4. All voters desiring to support the proposition to issue said bonds shall have written or printed on their ballots the words: "FOR THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS FOR WATER WORKS EXTENSIONS AND IMPROVEMENTS AND PURCHASE OF LANDS FOR SUCH PURPOSES." And those opposing said proposition shall have written or printed on their ballots the words: "AGAINST THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS FOR WATER WORKS EXTENSIONS AND IMPROVEMENTS AND PURCHASE OF LANDS FOR SUCH PURPOSES."

Section 5. A copy of this ordinance, signed by the Mayor and attested by the City Secretary of the City of Big Spring with the seal of the city impressed thereon, shall serve as proper notice of said election.

Mrs. L. Wasson To Head Sunday School Class

New Officers Of Philanthia Class Are Selected

Mrs. Lloyd Wasson is to succeed Mrs. Albert Smith as president of the Philanthia class of the First Methodist church according to an election of officers at a meeting in the basement of the church at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday.

Following a business meeting, a covered dish luncheon was served with Mrs. Preston R. Sanders, Mrs. Wayne Campbell and Mrs. Pat Harrison acting as hostesses.

The class decided to have its annual get-together this year in the form of a basket picnic at the city park Thursday, Sept. 15. Clothes for two children the class is supporting at the Methodist orphan's home in Waco were discussed by the members. During the month of September, each group in the class is to make $2.00 for the general fund.

Other officers selected were Mrs. Preston R. Sanders, vice-president; Mrs. Royce Satterwhite, secretary; Mrs. Tom Buckner, treasurer; Mrs. W. S. Satterwhite, pianist; Mrs. John Davis, assistant pianist; Mrs. Herbert Keaton, re-elected teacher; Mrs. Bert Trice, assistant teacher; Frances Ferguson, group major; Mrs. B. C. Barron, co-major; Mrs. Bernice Freeman, song leader; Mrs. O. M. Waters, assistant leader; Mrs. Pat Harrison, orphan chairman.

Registration List Registering were Mrs. Cecil Colina, Mrs. Waters, Mrs. Hugh Duncan, Mrs. Keaton, Mrs. Royce Satterwhite, Mrs. Buckner, Mrs. H. R. Crocker, Mrs. Robert Stripling, Frances Ferguson, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Merle Stewart, Mrs. Wasson, Mrs. M. E. Opley, Mrs. Jake Bishop.

Don't Let Constipation Drag On!

Do you often have days when you wake up tired—when you feel dull, sunk, "all bogged down"? It's time you did something about it. And something more than just taking a physic! You should get at the cause of the trouble!

If you eat what most people do—just bread, meat, potatoes—chances are that just this fact is responsible: you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It means a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines that helps a bowel movement.

Midland Chosen As Next Host To Baptist Meeting

Committees Make Reports On Final Day Of Session

Annual two-day meeting of the Big Spring Baptist association came to a close here Wednesday afternoon at the First Baptist church with Midland being selected as the next host Sept. 5-6 of 1938.

Upon recommendation of a nominating committee, N. W. Pitts of Chahona is to preach the annual sermon at the next meeting and the Rev. Bruce, pastor of the First Baptist church at Midland, will deliver the missionary address.

A new executive board was elected consisting of pastors from each church in the association and one layman from each organization. The Rev. W. C. Harrison, Odessa, is chairman of the board with Dr. C. E. Lancaster as vice-president. Wednesday morning W. A. Nicholas, superintendent of the Child Welfare association of Abilene, spoke on hospitals and benevolences and the Rev. Bruce presented the pastor's retirement plan. Mr. Arent, representing Hardin-Simmons university talked on christian education; Geo. Rickles, Big Spring, reported on state and district missions; H. C. Reddock, Goldsmith, talked on home missions and J. W. Patterson, Garden City, told about the foreign missions.

Women of the church served lunch in the basement to more than 300 representatives from the 24 churches represented at the association.

In the afternoon session E. G. Richbourg reported on the obituaries, R. W. Smith, Smith Chapel, reported on the associational treasury and Dr. Lancaster gave the budget committee report.

Have You A Little Fascist In Your Home? Psychologist Says There's Too Much 'Authoritarianism'

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Editor

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 8.—Little fascists, instead of democrat-minded children are being reared in the majority of American homes and schools, the American Psychological association was told today.

This assertion came out of an experiment at the Yale University institute of human relations, made and reported by Dr. O. H. Mowrer. The average home and school, he concluded, has too much "authoritarianism" and too little self-government among children.

He tried self-government among children from two to 14 years old at the New Haven children's center. Infractions, he said, decreased at a remarkable rate. When small boys made holes in window screens, mosquitoes drove home to the children the idea of cooperation.

Critics said he was making tatters, destroying proper respect for adults and making the children egotistic. He claimed it worked the other way and that adults got more of the children's respect.

"Democratic self-government for children," Dr. Mowrer reported, "effectively encourages real independence of a kind that probably makes for the development of individuals who are less susceptible of being exploited than those who as children were intimidated, and rendered submissive by autocratic authority."

"If the modern democratic forms of government have not been found to function as efficiently and smoothly as might have been wished, at least some of the diffi-

READING AND WRITING

"LETTERS OF HENRY ADAMS," Edited by Washington Chaucery Ford; (Houghton Mifflin: $4.50).

There are hundreds of reasons why the second volume of Henry Adams' letters should be read, but the most important will be, inevitably, their honesty. It is true that they also are almost unique, for letter writing as a practice is dying in our day, and these superb productions are as lonely as those people on Wake Island. But honesty is more important than rarity.

Adams was, as everybody knows, a member of a family secure in financial, social and political circles. There was literally no man Adams needed to fear, and no reason for him to swallow his opinions. He had in addition leisure, although not perhaps as much as a superficial survey of his life would lead one to think. Finally he had friends worth corresponding with, and the result is the book published this week.

These caustic letters originate in all sorts of odd corners—Mont St. Michel one day, Egypt a little later. In an atmosphere of constant physical change, Adams himself remained as nearly a fixed quantity as a man can, and this is important. One knows he is intelligent, untrammelled except in family matters, anti-Semitic, a genuine liberal politically though with string drawing him toward his friends, an amazing keen observer. So one can evaluate his opinions almost at once.

They are most brilliant. Kipling, for example: "I imagine Kipling to be rather a Bohemian and wanderer of the second or third social order, but he has behaved well about his young woman and has run in the face of family and friends who think him a kind of Shakespeare, and wanted him to marry the Queen or the Duchess of Westminster."

And this odd bit, for an Adams: "With a communism I could exist tolerable well, for the commune is rather favorable to social consideration apart from wealth; but in a society of Jews and brokers, a world made up of maniacs wild for gold, I have no place. In the coming rows, you will know where to find me. Probably I shall be helping the London mob to pull up Harcourt and Rothschild on a lamp-post in Piccadilly."

PLANS A NON-STOP FLIGHT TO MADRID

DEWITT, Ark., Sept. 8 (AP)—Frank G. Tinker, Jr., Arkansas soldier of fortune, said today he was planning a non-stop flight from the United States to Madrid to resume fighting for the loyalist forces in the Spanish civil war.

He reported he would be accompanied by six other American pilots whose names were not disclosed. The flight "sometime before Christmas" would be made in three planes and would start from an unannounced point on Long Island.

Corrigan

Corrigan, "Three days later in New Orleans the governor of Louisiana commended me brigadier general. I'm waiting now for some one to promote me to full general—general instance."

The bushy haired wrong-way artist looked upon his achievement as a "mission." He said it "looks like now that I may get back where I started for" (he was supposed to be going to California when he flew to Ireland).

"You see, the runway at Los Angeles heads east and I guess I just forgot to turn or I didn't think to or have the strength to pull the stick."

"It's lucky Ireland just popped up in front of me."

Corrigan said he wanted to go to France but that "I couldn't get a passport because I couldn't prove where I was born. I still don't prove where I was born, but I was somewhere in Texas." (He is a native of California.)

There was more than sheer chance in his flight to Ireland, if Corrigan remarks are any indication of his intentions.

"About two years ago," he recalled, "I really did want to go to Ireland. Last year I applied to the government for a passport, but my equipment was not what it ought to have been—or something—for such a flight."

"In the meantime I read books by some pilots who had flown across the ocean. From the way they wrote it must have been a terrifying experience—you nearly go to sleep, ice forms on the wings, you are above the clouds one minute and the waves lapping at you the next, and all the while the plane is about to fall to pieces."

"It must have been terrifying. Why it was enough to scare anybody to death, even if they didn't have any money then?"

He said he was not at all, explained the young man. "I had read it wrong. And he got a big laugh, especially when he broke in to say perhaps his intention was "why I got back to Texas, too."

Touring the country might be a lot of trouble to anyone else, but to Corrigan, "it's a lot of fun."

"It takes 'em as long as invitations hold out."

People wonder why he doesn't take advantage of the many contracts given him, Corrigan believed, and then explained that contracts are not as big as lots of folks think. Besides, what's the use of making money when you can't spend it. I haven't been able to spend a dime since I got back from Ireland. Everywhere they pay for my lunch, my hotel, put free gas in my plane and even have my shirts washed.

There's going to have to be an end to it sometime, and I guess it is to work a little to obtain paying that I'll walk my two-footed children."

Corrigan spoke a good word for flying, declaring that "flying isn't so tough—even the people who put on the regulations are not so tough, either."

He had reference, he said, to the suspension of his license which occurred in mid-Atlantic where "there wasn't even an airplane on deck and you couldn't fly if you wanted to," and was lifted the day before he docked in New York on August 4.

Presented with a beautiful floral airplane designed by Phillips and given by Mrs. Esther Williams with the remark that it "won't fly wrong," Corrigan responded "that it won't fly at all because I don't have room to take it with me. Please give it to some hospital or somebody who would appreciate the flowers. Thanks for the thought."

Dr. Hardy, president of the Elvans club, opened the banquet session. W. C. Blankenship pronounced the invocation, and Cal Boykin, program chairman, turned the meeting over to Hardefunds available for investments and loan.

The proceeds of the financing and of quarterly income tax payments, due next week, will give the treasury a cash working balance of about $2,500,000,000—one of the largest in history and five times what is considered necessary in normal times.

With this much cash on hand, the treasury would be able to go for many months without new borrowing if an emergency upset the money markets.

There was no official indication, however, that "it had been a factor in the decision on the fiscal program."

On the contrary, Morgenthau denied flatly that the size of the borrowing was influenced by the possibility of a European war—an event which might paralyze capital markets temporarily.

French And German Forces On Border

SARREGUEMINES, On the French-German frontier, Sept. 8 (AP)—France's air and land armies in the Maginot zone watched movements of German troops across the frontier today and awaited developments in Czechoslovakia.

Citizens of Metz awoke today to see a large army observation balloon floating from a cable high above the city. Two observers in the basket scanned the northern horizon with field glasses and kept in constant touch by telephone with a ground crew.

French observation and pursuit planes roared over valleys of the Maginot line of fortifications long before the morning fog had lifted.

During the night troops in the fortresses were strengthened by thousands of trained reserves. Constant watch was kept in the garisons and at entrances to the underground fortifications.

By the time the night watch was relieved the drone of airplanes overhead told the land force that the air army also had taken their posts.

Throughout Alsace and Lorraine—areas that felt the full brunt of the World war—for the last few days thousands of women of the frontier zone have flocked into Metz and Strasbourg cathedrals and hundreds of parish churches. They said many a prayer for peace and burned many a candle.

"Since Jan. 2, 1938, Bioff has been the paid agent for the producers while purporting to act for President Browne," the complaint said. Bioff recently resigned his I.A.T.S.E. post.

"RIDICULOUS," HE SAYS

CHICAGO, Sept. 8 (AP)—Joseph M. Schenck, president of the Association of Motion Picture Producers, Inc., denounced as "ridiculous" today a charge he paid a union official $100,000 to "sell out" 12,000 workers.

A complaint was filed with the national labor relations board at Los Angeles alleging Schenck paid the sum to a representative of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees.

"This is the first I've heard about it," Schenck said, "but it looks like a factional fight of the unions."

THREATENS TO BLOW UP BANK, WOULD-BE ROBBER ARRESTED

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (AP)—A man who threatened to blow up a branch of the Emigrant Industrial Savings bank with 24 sticks of dynamite was arrested in the building today.

After he was seized, police said they found the explosives in a satchel the man carried. The prisoner said he was Louis Friedman, 35, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

He went to a teller's cage and demanded $20,000 immediately, threatening a blast that would wreck the whole block if he were not paid.

The teller talked to him quietly, signaling an alarm to another employe.

KILLS CHILDREN AND THEN SHOTS SELF

TOPEKA, Kas., Sept. 8 (AP)—Mrs. Doris Ackerman, socially prominent, shot her two children, killing one, then turned the weapon upon herself at their home here today, Captain S. R. Perdue of the police department said.

Duane, Jr., 17, died shortly after reaching a hospital, and Virginia, 15, shot through the chest, was described by physicians as being in a critical condition.

Mrs. Ackerman, with a bullet wound in her head, was not expected to survive.

Movie Player Greeted Here

Charles Starrett, Cowboy Actor, At Colorado Fete

A celebrity preceding Doug Corrigan by a day into Big Spring got a welcome of his own at the local airport Wednesday afternoon.

He was Charles Starrett, big, handsome and affable player of cowboy roles for the movies, who stopped here en route to Colorado, where he is participating in the neighboring town's Frontier Roundup.

Starrett, foregoing western garb with the exception of a white ten-gallon hat, alighted from an American Airlines plane to be welcomed by a crowd of Coloradans and a group of Big Spring folk. He posed smilingly for photographers, met all requests for autographs.

He was escorted to the city, where, in front of the Lyric theatre he was presented on a KEST broadcast. Crowds swarming around him there all but blocked traffic on Third street. Starrett was whisked by car to Colorado for appearances there. The time of his return here for a plane trip back to Hollywood was not known Thursday. One of his pictures, "The Cattle Raiders," is at the Queen here Friday and Saturday.

HWY. BRIDGE OPENED AT PORT ARTHUR

PORT ARTHUR, Sept. 8 (AP)—Nearly 10,000 persons crowded Yellow Jacket stadium this morning for the speech-making part of the dedication ceremonies in connection with the opening of the $3,000,000 highway bridge over the Neches river.

Following welcome addresses, G. C. Street, acting regional PWA director, said:

"Let us be proud of the fact that we are an integral part of a government which makes such projects possible."

Robert Lee Bobbitt, chairman of the Texas highway commission, accepted the span, the highest in the south, for the state.

"We should not overlook the fact that under existing law less than two cents out of the five-cent gasoline tax ever reach the highway department for all construction and maintenance purposes," Bobbitt said, "and unfortunately it is true that many, not understanding the problems, are making efforts to further reduce that two cents."

PAYMENT ORDERED ON RELIEF BONDS

AUSTIN, Sept. 8 (AP)—The bond commission today ordered payment on Oct. 15 of $300,000 in Texas relief bonds, first series, which mature Oct. 15, 1939.

An announcement said the board exercised its option to call in the bonds in order to save approximately $12,000 interest.

The four series of relief bonds issued beginning in 1935 totaled $20,000,000, of which $6,460,250 have matured. By Oct. 15 the treasury will have paid an additional $1,000,000, excluding the $300,000 called for advance payment on that date.

NO 'MORAL' ISSUES AT DEMO CONVENTION

DALLAS, Sept. 8 (AP)—Pears hopes for the state democratic convention that convenes Tuesday at Beaumont brightened considerably today as Maury Hughes, leader of the liberal element of the state's democracy, predicted there would be no fighting over horse racing, or any other issue.

Hughes, a supporter of W. Lee O'Daniel, democratic gubernatorial nominee, said that an agreement had been entered between his faction and the anti-liberal group among the O'Daniel forces under which there would be no resolutions on horse racing, or any other so-called "moral" issue.

ITEMS FROM MOORE

Word was received last week of the death of William Murphy, father of Mrs. Jack Edwards, former teacher in the school here. Mr. Murphy, 55, farmer of Dimmitt, suffered fatal injuries when he fell from a plow and the frightened team pulling the implement dragged it over him. He was pulled for a mile and a half before Mrs. Murphy, seeing the mishap, could stop the team. She summoned passers-by to lift the plow off Mr. Murphy. He died about 30 minutes later in a hospital.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at Westbrook, a former home. Mr. Murphy is survived by his wife and 12 children. He was a nephew of J. W. Phillips and a brother-in-law of Verdie Phillips of Moore.

Mrs. Opal Miller, formerly Opal Lawley of Texas Tech, visited Mrs. Haskell Grant Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Miller will again be professor of mathematics in Tech this term, having been there the past three years.

Jack Rice and Evelyn Stallings were visitors in the more community Thursday evening.

Audrey Louis of the Luther community visited Asa D. Couch part of last week.

The Moore and Fairview club met in the home of Mrs. Willard Smith last Thursday.

The topic of the group was laying plans for the new yearbooks. Those present were: Mrs. G. J. Hammack, Mrs. Wooten, Mrs. W. H. Ward, Dick Hatch, Edd Johnson, C. J. Hammack, Jr., and the hostess, Mrs. Willard Smith.

Mrs. W. A. Langley underwent minor surgery Monday morning at Abilene, returning home Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Lomax were visitors at the teachers' Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Hill and daughter, Tommie Ann, returned Tuesday from Ardmore, Okla., where they visited Mr. Hill's sister, Mrs. Ed Newton.

Misses Anna Smith, Twila Lomax and Arab Phillips were guests at a chicken barbecue at the city park Labor Day evening. Others enjoying the feast were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Stallings and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Lomax and daughter, Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Stallings and family, Mrs. Raymond Stallings and children, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Stallings and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lem Stallings and Cliff Wiley.

Mrs. Louise Douglas Groff was called home Monday afternoon by the death of a friend. Her husband came for her, accompanying her home by automobile.

Next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock the auditorium will be open for another community singing. The president, M. L. Rowland, issues an invitation to all lovers of singing to come and bring their books.

The opening exercises for the new school year were held Monday morning. Every seat in the gymnasium was filled with students and visitors.

The principal address was given by Mrs. C. E. Thomas of Big Spring who spoke on "Those Things Essential to a Good School." Mrs. Thomas stressed "fellowship, goodwill, and cooperation" as the three most important things for a good school.

Miss Arab Phillips, principal of the school, spoke briefly on school plans for the year and introduced other teachers of the staff.

Fairview News

A gift shower was given Friday for Mrs. H. A. Davis at the Cletta Langley home, with Mrs. Fred Thomas, Mrs. Gabra Hammack and Mrs. Knight as hostesses. Members of Mrs. Davis' Sunday school class and of the home demonstration club entertained with games, after which refreshments were passed to Mrs. W. H. Yator, Mrs. Charles Creighton, Mrs. Fred Thomas, Mrs. Stewart Thomas, Mrs. J. N. Grant, Miss Lucille Grant, Miss Ermanee Wooten, Mrs. Edgar Johnson, Mrs. D. L. Knight, Mrs. Greenwood, Mrs. J. G. Hammack, Mrs. Lester Newton, Mrs. J. W. Wooten, Mrs. Rachal and Mrs. J. W. Denton.

Twenty-four pupils were present at the opening session of the Fairview school Monday. Several patrons were on hand for the opening formalities.

Grandmother Morrow of Big Spring has been spending the past week with her daughter, Mrs. J. G. Hammack.

Mr. and Mrs. Gabra Hammack were weekend visitors in Roscoe.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wooten have returned from a trip to Spur and Lubbock, where they visited friends.

Murphy McClanahan of Carlsbad, N. M., is here to visit relatives.

A talk on poultry culling was given by Mrs. H. W. Wooten at last week's meeting of the Fairview home demonstration club, held at the home of Mrs. Willard Smith. During the business session, members were asked to select subjects for study during the next year, and a final decision on yearbook topics was delayed until a later date. Attending the meeting were Mrs. W. H. Ward, Mrs. Edgar Johnson, Mrs. Gabra Hammack, Mrs. J. G. Hammack, Mrs. Roy Smith, Mrs. Dick Hatch, Mrs. Wooten and Mrs. Smith. The next meeting will be Sept. 15 at the home of Mrs. Cletta Langley.

Misses Margaret and Callie Wheeler were co-hostesses at a party in their home last Thursday night. Many interesting games were played on the lawn after which refreshments of lemonade and cookies were served to the following: Misses Lora Lee Couch, May, Pauline, Viola and Ruby Petty, Dorothy Bugg, Roberts, Dora Lee Wheeler, Ella Ruth Thomas, Bonnie McNew, Lenora Todd, John Couch, J. W. Hull, Luther Anderson, Edward Ernest, John Taylor, O. A. and Junior Goodman, Max Wheeler, Mose Williams, Olan Miles and Ada D. Couch.

Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Wheeler and family were Mrs. W. P. Petty, Mrs. T. J. Williams, Misses Billye Todd, Alene Hull, Mary, Ruby, Viola Petty, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Nance, Mr. Medlin, and Wayne Nance.

Miss Lora Lee Couch entertained with a party at her home last Friday night. Rev. Joe Hull left for Brownwood Monday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Rawleigh Rowland and daughter of Big Spring visited Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Rowland Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rainey of Big Spring were visitors in the Edd Hull home last week.

Misses Robbie Jackson, Bessie and Earlene Miller spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Heller at Sweetwater.

Jack Magee and Everett Lane of Sweetwater were visitors in the E. M. Miller home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Miller and family attended a Baptist association in San Angelo this week.

Record Enrollment At Vincent School

An enrollment of 71, indicated as the largest in several years, was recorded as the school term opened Monday at Vincent. Books have been issued to 69 pupils, and there were two absentees on the opening day.

The opening program included songs by the student group and a prayer and address by George Brown.

Paul Sweatt is principal of the Vincent school, Mrs. Sweatt is intermediate teacher and Mrs. Jim Hodnett is the primary teacher. Mr. and Mrs. Sweatt attended Sam Houston State Teachers college at Huntsville during the summer and Mr. Sweatt received his degree from the college at Canyon. Mrs. Hodnett attended Texas Tech.

New Term Opens At Hartwells School

An address by Melvin Wise, minister of the Church of Christ in Big Spring, marked the opening of the Hartwells school on Monday. Mr. Wise spoke on the topic, "Opportunity."

The school opened with an enrollment of 25. Mrs. C. H. Neely is the teacher. Trustees are G. H. Porch, W. J. Edwards and T. W. Huddleston.

CAUBLE NEWS

The Cauble school opened last Monday with an enrollment of 22. All of the trustees were present for the occasion and many patrons were on hand.

Mrs. J. F. Sellers is principal and Miss Allene Long is the primary teacher. Patrons organized a Parent-Teacher association on the opening day by electing Mrs. John Coleman president, Mrs. Denver Yates vice-president and Miss Allene Long secretary. Meeting date was fixed as the second Friday in each month. A program of work is to be outlined soon.

Injured last week in an automobile accident, Garland Findley will not be able to attend school for several weeks.

Miss Mary Findley of Abilene is at home with her mother, Mrs. R. I. Findley, for a two weeks vacation.

Recommendations On Hwy. Projects Made

AUSTIN, Sept. 8 (AP)—Recommendations for award of highway contracts costing $2,222,945 were delivered by engineers to the state highway commission today.

Formal approval of contracts were expected within a few days and in some instances, engineers said, work orders probably would be issued this month.

Projects submitted to bids yesterday, with low bidders, by counties, included: Hutchins and Carson, 20.3 miles of flexible base and double asphalt surface treatment on Highway 152 from Borger to Gray county line, Austin Construction company, Dallas, $100,178.

Denton, Timber creek and Elm fork of the Trinity river relief bridges and roadway approaches on Highway 77 between Dallas county line and Lewisville, Austin Bridge & Road company, Dallas, $232,573; six miles roadside beautification on Highway 24 from G. C. & S. F. overpass to Denton, Baker Bros., Fort Worth, $15,120.

Preaching, Song Services Mark Annual Homecoming At Hartwells

Declared to be "the best yet" was the annual homecoming of the Hartwells community, held at the schoolhouse there last Sunday. The building was filled by the time the first service, at which Rev. Sam Horton of Big Spring preached on "The Resurrection," started.

At the close of the morning services, lunch was spread, and a bountiful meal was enjoyed. Each group had brought baskets and tea and punch were provided by the Sunday school.

The crowd gathered again at the school following lunch, for a general song session. Leaders for the program included R. M. Williams, Jr., H. Porch, R. M. Williams, Jr., H. Porch, Mrs. Miller, while pianists were Mrs. Millard Burchett, Mrs. G. H. Porch and Mrs. C. H. Neely. Rev. V. A. Masters was featured in the vocal solos. After the close of the song service, Rev. Pettus conducted the final service of a ten-day revival meeting, then the homecoming was concluded with the singing of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

Many former residents of the community assembled with those residing here now for a pleasant day of friendly chatting and reminiscing. Among those registering were: Mrs. Tennis Franklin, Billie Franklin, Joe Franklin, Mrs. Ray Franklin, Ray Franklin, Jr., Fredie Franklin, George Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. WPA Man Assails Proposals For Local Relief

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 8 (AP)—Neil Anderson, director of the section of labor relations of the federal WPA, charged today that proposals for local direct relief were "really part of a larger drive against any kind of federal participation for the welfare of the people."

Anderson made his statement in a speech prepared for the 27th annual conference of the governmental research association. He replied to a plea for local direct relief made by Carl P. Herbert of St. Paul, who presided, and signed by 18 member agencies of the GRA before the special U. S. senate committee to investigate relief and unemployment last March.

"In 1931 and 1932," Anderson said, "we heard the same voices cry against the dole, fearful lest the American worker be demoralized. When we got federal work relief, and less relief, and now they are calling for the dole, but it must be a local dole. We have heard the same voices in hue and cry against the social security act and the Wagner labor relations act."

He described the Herbert proposals as favoring more local and less federal responsibility in financing and administration of relief, and less relief. Similar proposals, he added, have been made by the U. S. chamber of commerce, industrial leaders, Senators Vandenberg (R-Mich) and King (D-Utah) and Alf M. Landon and Herbert Hoover.

'Moral Rearmament' Suggested By Oxford Group

INTERLAKEN, Switzerland, Sept. 8 (AP)—Delegates at a congress of the Oxford movement turned their attention today toward "the task of moral rearmament among minorities" after sessions devoted to individual problems of "moral rearmament."

Speaking at a women's session, Mrs. Emily Newell Blair of Washington, D. C., declared: "The women of early Christian days and women of the middle ages had more power than women of today in determining the civilization in which they live."

"We women, as we find the guidance of God and through this movement, have a great responsibility and opportunity to put women back into modern life."

W. Cleveland Hicks of New York City told a youth's session: "We all must begin before the guns go off. Every young man must take his part in God's plan."

DECLINE IN AUTO SALES REPORTED

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (AP)—The General Motors Corp., reported today its sales of automobiles and trucks to consumers in the United States last month totaled 64,925 against 78,758 in July and 159,322 in August, 1937.

The month-to-month drop was less than some automotive observers expected in view of the imminent shift to production of 1939 cars.

William E. Holler, sales manager of the Chevrolet division, said August retail deliveries of new and used cars in that division exceeded forecasts.

Better Demand Is Big Hope Of Oil Industry

Gasoline, Heating Oil Stocks Are High, But Crude Supply Low

AUSTIN, Sept. 8 (AP)—The oil industry began looking anxiously to national business indices today in the hope that the post-Labor Day upturn predicted by many persons would materialize.

An improved demand for petroleum products on the part of industry, and the general public appeared to be the main chance for oil men, particularly those in Oklahoma and Texas, to get relief from the sharp restrictions on production obtaining through most of 1938.

Gasoline stocks still were higher than a year ago and gasoline consumption was due to drop sharply with cooler weather. The heavy consuming season for heating oils was not far away but these stocks were about 30 per cent above their figure on the same date in 1937.

Crude Stocks Down On the optimistic side was the fact the quantity of crude oil in storage was at its lowest in 15 years. Crude stocks could stand some additions but material curtailment of refinery activity apparently will be necessary.

Saturday production shutdowns returned to Texas last week and operators felt they might continue much of the time unless the general business situation improved. Notwithstanding fairly heavy gasoline consumption in the late spring, Saturday closings were kept in effect seven weeks.

Sunday shut-ins, the Texas railroad commission's first unusual move to hold production within market demand, had been operative since January 15 and seemed almost a fixture.

There was considerable concern lest the Texas situation might be further aggravated by importations of Mexican oil and sales of oil confiscated by the state on the allegation it was produced in excess of the legal allowable. Some sentiment had developed against further disposal of confiscated oil at this time, particularly if the sale price was low.

BEN MILAM STATUE UNVEILED AT SANTONE

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 8 (AP)—Sen. Tom Connally was the principal speaker here last night at the unveiling of a statue of Ben Milam, Texas pioneer who led volunteers against the Mexican army when it occupied San Antonio in December, 1835.

Mrs. J. R. Privett of Birmingham, Ala., formerly of San Antonio, a great-grand niece of Milam, unveiled the statue, which was set up in Milam square here.

Trucks Guarded In Labor Dispute At San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 8 (AP)—Trucks of the Merchants Transfer and Storage company and of Scobey Fireproof Storage company were moving about the city under guard of deputy sheriffs and county highway patrolmen today as efforts were continued to settle a labor dispute between the two unions and striking members of the truck drivers' and helpers' American Federation of Labor union.

Other deputy sheriffs and city policemen patrolled the vicinities of the two establishments.

Since the strikes started, police have arrested ten men in connection with spurts of violence during which three trucks were allegedly stoned while making deliveries and in one of which a driver was alleged to have been attacked.

A two hour conference between V. L. Wolfenberger, business manager of the union; Howard LeBaron, investigator for the National Labor Relations Board; Theo Weiss and A. V. Knight, attorneys for the Scobey company, Wednesday afternoon brought a statement from LeBaron that a settlement of the dispute looms.

Security Act Changes Are Studied

Report Due To Be Submitted At Next Session Of Congress

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8 (AP)—The social security board disclosed today it is preparing for congress a detailed report on the feasibility of proposed changes in the security act.

President Roosevelt asked last April for a study of methods of liberalizing and extending of the old-age benefit system.

The social security advisory council subsequently asked the board to investigate the possibility of extending the old-age insurance benefits to about 16,000,000 domestic servants, farm hands and self-employed persons now excluded from the act.

The studies will touch on these additional proposals, a spokesman for the board said:

1. Starting payment of old-age benefits before Jan. 1, 1942, the date now fixed by law.

2. Payment of larger benefits than now provided for persons retiring during the earlier years of the program.

3. Distribution of benefits to children of insured persons who died before reaching retirement age.

4. Change in the present method of investing the accumulating security taxes in a reserve fund before old-age annuities begin.

5. Downward revision of the individual and employer tax rates until the program reaches the peak aged wives and widows and young of its operation in four or five years.

6. Change in the present method of investing the accumulating security taxes in a reserve fund before old-age annuities begin.

Modern Cooks Can't Improve On Grandmother's Recipes For Jam

Crystallized ginger and luscious ripe pears are a fine team for the jam pot.

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE to make it. Medley Pear Conserve goes like this:

Although newfangled cookery has supplanted many old-time methods and made possible saving many hours of labor, grandmother's recipes still are favorites in many families—and deservedly.

Especially choice are many of her recipes for canning, particularly jams and preserves.

Pears were one of her favorites. She spiced them, made them into all sorts of conserves, butters and jams—headliners among spreads.

A Pear Chutney She considered pear chutney just the thing to serve with chops, roasts, fowl or hot breads.

Here's how to prepare it: Cook together, until thick, eight cups of diced pears, two cups of raisins, half a cup of chopped onions, one tablespoon of celery seed, three tablespoons of salt, one cup of granulated sugar, a fourth of a teaspoon of pepper and three cups of vinegar. It will take an hour or more for it to thicken. Stir it frequently to prevent scorching. When it's done pour your chutney into sterilized jars and seal it at once.

Pear conserve is another leading spread. There are all sorts of ways to make it. Medley Pear Conserve goes like this:

GINGER AND RIPE PEAR JAM (Makes 11 six-ounce glasses) 2 cups prepared fruit. 1-2 to 1 cup diced crystallized ginger.

7-1-2 cups granulated sugar. 1 bottle fruit pectin. Peel, core and crush completely or grind—about three pounds fully ripe pears. Dice about half a pound of crystallized ginger. Measure sugar and prepared fruit, solidly packed, into a large kettle. Add ginger, mix well and bring to a full boil over a very hot fire. Stir constantly before and during boiling. Boil hard for one minute. Remove from fire and stir in the fruit pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for just five minutes to cool slightly and to prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once.

Mix together eight cups of sliced pears, six cups of sliced peaches and four cups of sliced quinces. Add half a cup of lemon juice, a third of a cup of orange juice, one tablespoon of grated orange rind and four cups of water. Cook slowly until the fruits are soft. Add 12 cups of granulated sugar. Boil gently until the conserve thickens. Pour into sterilized jars and seal when cold. (Hint for using Medley Pear Conserve: Mix it with cottage cheese—to use in filling Graham bread sandwiches.)

Pear preserves, too, makes a tempting topping for breads—or gives a tasty finish to salads or desserts. Make it this way: Peel, quarter and slice pears until you have eight cups. Boil two cups of water and six cups of granulated sugar together for five minutes. Add the pears and cook them slowly for 15 minutes. Then add a fourth of a cup of bark cinnamon and 12 whole cloves—loosely tied in a white cotton bag. Allow to simmer for an hour. Remove spice bag and pour conserve into sterilized jars. Seal immediately.

Alabama Charges Discrimination In Cotton Procedure

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 8 (AP)—Protest of regulations for classifying and handling cotton which state Agriculture Commissioner R. J. Goode said "discriminated" against Alabama today was lodged with the federal Commodity Credit corporation.

Goode asserted a government requirement that cotton on which a federal loan is made be stored in warehouses bonded at $10,000 to $100,000 "eliminates practically all" Alabama's approximately 370 state-bonded warehouses.

The commissioner said the provision, which also demands net assets to the extent of $5 per bale storage capacity, "certainly" would eliminate warehouses in small towns from handling government-loan cotton.

Sixteen federal warehouses in the state, he added, "met the requirements."

Goode suggested new regulations

to make it. Medley Pear Conserve goes like this:

GINGER AND RIPE PEAR JAM (Makes 11 six-ounce glasses) 2 cups prepared fruit. 1-2 to 1 cup diced crystallized ginger.

7-1-2 cups granulated sugar. 1 bottle fruit pectin. Peel, core and crush completely or grind—about three pounds fully ripe pears. Dice about half a pound of crystallized ginger. TALENT SCHOOL MEN TO FACE SENTENCE

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8 (AP)—Convicted of misdemeanors in operating a movie "talent school," two officials face sentence next Monday.

I. C. Overdorff, president of the National Talent Pictures Corp., was found guilty of false advertising and petty theft in a non-jury trial before Municipal Judge Leo Freund yesterday.

Edward W. Rose, corporation vice-president and publisher of the magazine "Screen Juveniles," was convicted of false advertising but acquitted of petty theft.

The trio was prosecuted on a complaint by Mrs. Harry L. Gross, Wichita Falls, Tex., dance teacher, who claimed she paid the school tuition for one of her pupils on the promise she would be given movie work.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Bell and two children, Joyce and Joan, and Mrs. Helen Harrison of Owensboro, Ky., left Wednesday for their home after a 10-day visit with Mrs. E. N. Bell.

HELP 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

To Flush out Acids and Other Poisonous Waste Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 2 pints a day or about 2 pounds of waste. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the beginning of nagging backache, rheumatism, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Ruth Rubens In Moscow Prison Nine Months And Story Remains Secret

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8 (AP)—Soviet police took a young woman to a famous Butyrskaya prison in Moscow nine months ago today—and why she went to Russia, what she intended doing there and what happened to her remains a mystery to American officials. All they knew of her is that her name is Ruth Marie Rubens, born in Philadelphia; that she entered Russia under a false American passport in the name of Mrs. Ruth Norma Robinson, born in New York City, issued on the basis of a birth-certificate of a New York child who died at the age of six. She was accompanied by a man whose passport, in the name of Donald Louis Robinson, (also issued on presentation of a birth-certificate of a dead child) showed him to be her husband. He also was arrested. Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Newton visited Mr. and Mrs. Tom Scroggins Wednesday evening.

Air Program Is Drafted

Safety Procedure Is Adopted By Company Operators

CHICAGO, Sept. 8 (AP)—Air line operators, after conferring with the newly created civil aeronautics authority, set to work today drafting a program designed to promote safety in air transportation.

Ralph Damon, vice president in charge of operations of American Airlines, was named chairman of the committee to formulate the program outlined yesterday at the closing session of the aeronautics authority's two day meeting. It will be ratified by the safety board of the CAA before Sept. 25.

Damon said the program will include the following points:

- 1. Changes in flight schedules to allow flying at slower speeds.
2. Agreement on flying at reduced throttle—50 per cent instead of 85 per cent of available power—in order to provide a greater power reserve at all times, to reduce wear on engines, and to increase engine reliability.
3. Adoption of a set of field weather regulations so that one line will not operate trips in types of weather in which other operators refuse to fly.
4. Closer cooperation on weather reporting, engineering, radio, traffic, and advertising.
Air line representatives said they expected the new winter flying program to become effective on Sept. 25.

Warning Sent Out To 'Honky Tonks'

AUSTIN, Sept. 8 (AP)—Liquor Administrator Bert Ford served notices today retail beer establishments that have acquired the label of "honky tonks" or "joints" must change their tactics or go out of business.

In the mails were letters to 13,000 permit holders warning them the liquor board would revoke licenses of any on proof of improper practices.

A partial list of offenses which brought a large increase in permit cancellations in the fiscal year ended Aug. 31 and for which liquor inspectors will keep weather eyes peeled hereafter included selling to minors and persons showing evidence of intoxication and sponsoring indecent shows or immoral, lewd or offensive conduct.

Ford said most dealers know the type of conduct they should not tolerate and the board will not temper with any individual who thinks he can violate the law when he pleases.

THE SPORTS PARADE

By HANK HART

Just had a chat with T. A. Harris, district game warden, and he wants every sportsman, farmer and rancher—and anybody else who is interested in preserving wildlife—to be at a meeting at the courthouse at 2 p. m. Tuesday. It's an important meeting.

Harris, a jovial sort of fellow, is rigged up in new uniform which the state department now provides for its men. Nobody will argue the point with him now when he steps up to look at their string of fish or bag of game. Not that they argue with him anyhow, but hunters and fishermen are now warned on sight that the warden is at hand. It's no advantage to the outlay hunter, but it identifies the warden to those sportsmen who would like to talk with him.

He has had some talking to do to some thoughtful fishermen at Iatan lake this year. If you press the point, chances are he will admit that the Iatan lake is the most abused fishing spot in these parts. This season has already netted him 20 complaints for violation of fishing laws there. One of the most ignorant was by a Big Spring man who had 47 crappie and 38 bass, all underized, piled upon the bank when Harris came by. A little of that makes the game warden wonder if he was right in putting 25,000 fish there this year.

One other word for our hunting friends. Your attention is called to a calendar of bird hunting seasons and information carried on the sports page today. Clip it out and it may save you lots of unnecessary trouble.

Edmund Notestine, whose thinning hair is attributed in part to worries over school finances as a business manager of the institutions here, informs us that the boxes at Steer stadium will contain benches instead of chairs this year. The school hardly had enough chairs for the benches and the school buildings, and the presence of benches will obviate the need of moving seating apparatus before every game. From the fan's point of view, there's no advantage during dull interludes, we can whittle our initials on the seats.

Incidentally, a good turn out to watch the Steers in action here for the first time this season will be in order today. Pat Murphy and troupe have been down below Junction for the past 10 days taking some hard training hits.

Looks like we are going to be forced to defend our honor on the golf course (in which case it's good as lost). Red McMahon, Grandpa Glenn and tribe are flinging challenges. E. W. Whiskey, the inflationist golfer of the city hall, has flung us. Even Cecil Collings, with dignity added to his stance by virtue of an election win, once hinted he would like to get back on the links against us. That gives us an idea of our reputation.

Wonder how the football stadium turf is doing now? A month or so ago it was turning down and great patches could be lifted up like a carpet. Harold Akey, Munny golf manager and a turfman of experience, diagnosed the trouble as a peculiar sort of worm. The sod was treated and promised to rally strongly. Hope it did. It's had enough to be tackled on the grass.

STEERS RETURN FROM CAMP, START WORK AT HOME

Murphy Passes Out But Few Bouquets

Says the Boys Did Fairly Well in Mix With Junction

Brown and in good condition, Pat Murphy, his aides and 28 football boys returned Wednesday from a training camp near Junction.

For 10 days the group worked hard at the isolated spot 13 miles southeast of Junction—on the Kerrville road. Tuesday the boys performed in a scrimmage against Junction and left the coaching staff pleased but not enthusiastic.

"They looked pretty good defensively," said Murphy, "but they were ragged on the offensive. They got their assignments balled occasionally, but that might be expected."

The team was to work out here Thursday at 3:30 p. m., going to the school property east of Birdwell lake and west of Highland park.

On the camp Carmen Brandon, assistant coach, put the guards and tackles through their paces while John Daniel, new member of the staff, had charge of end coaching. Murphy concentrated on the center and backfield.

The first string, as it looked at the end of the training period, consisted of Choc Smith and Henry Bugg at ends, Clyde Smith and Burwood Dearing were at tackles, Dilly Hugh Fletcher and James Wheat were at guards. Wheat plays defensive guard and changes places with Clyde Smith on the offensive since his weight will not permit his pulling out fast enough to lead interference.

Winnett Nance and Paul Knack backed center duties. In the backfield were Ross Callahan and D. E. Gartman at half back posts, Choc Jones at fullback, and Alton Bostick at quarterback. However, the berths are not so well settled but what some likely reserve might oust one of the "regulars" by the time the season opens against Lamessa on Sept. 16.

Lowly Cats Take A 6-5 Victory Over Tulsa

By The Associated Press

The cellar-dwelling Fort Worth Cats had served notice today they were still in the league.

An eighth inning home run by left fielder Fred Frink, over the left field wall with one man on, gave the Cats a 6-5 victory over fourth-place Tulsa last night.

Beaumont fans were treated to an 11-inning game which the Esporters took 4-3 from Shreveport, making it two straight in their series with the Sports.

The San Antonio Missions won their second straight game of a home series with Houston, downing the Buffs 7-1.

Timely hitting brought the Oklahoma City Indians a 10-5 victory over Dallas.

Game Conservation Meeting Called Next Tuesday

State, District Officials To Be Here For Discussion Of Preserve

Every person interested in the preservation of wildlife resources, and particularly those of quail, is urged to attend a meeting called by County Agent O. F. Griffin for 2 p. m. Tuesday.

Organization of the county into a game preserve demonstration is object of the meeting. Similar meetings at Gail, Lamessa and Colorado have met with encouraging response.

Here for the meeting will be Charles E. Friley, regional director of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission of Texas; E. B. McElroy, Gail, Borden agent, and T. A. Harris, Lamessa, district game warden.

Each of these speakers will discuss the practicability of a game preserve and of quail raising.

In all probability a set-up similar to those in other counties will be proposed. It calls for regulation of hunting by means of permits. Before a hunter may shoot on any place, he must get a permit, and then check back that permit together with a report of his kill. In this way an accurate count could be obtained on adherence to bag limits, of the amount of game killed annually in the county and in turn over the state.

Further regulation of game supply would be possible by means of flexible game limits within the county-wide preserve. In drought years and when birds are few, the limits could be reduced, then scaled back when the flocks have been replenished.

Harris, who was here Wednesday afternoon, said that the preserve idea was proving an effective weapon "against the outlaw hunter." In one neighboring county, officials of the preserve had announced refusal of permits to two hunters, both well known for disregard for limit and season regulations.

Howard county, he felt, ought to be particularly interested in the organization of a preserve since sportsmen have put in around $2,000 in the past few years in attempt to restore the county in quail and bob white.

Farmers, ranchers, sportsmen and other interested parties were urged to attend the meeting Tuesday.

Some Highlights On Hunting Laws

Hunters nervously awaiting the dawn of September 15 so that they can get in the field after dove are reminded of general information surrounding the hunting of game and migratory birds during 1938.

T. A. Harris, district game warden, called attention of sportsmen to federal regulations, with which state rules coincide.

Here are some highlights:

Dove
Season—September 15 to November 15, inclusive.
Bag limit—15 aggregate of either mourning or white-winged, and not possession of more than 15 aggregate at any one time.

Hours of hunting—7 a. m. to sunset (on doves only).
Method of shooting—Hunting must be done with shotgun not larger than 12 gauge, and capable of holding not more than three shells; it is a violation of the law to shoot game birds from an automobile.

Waterfowl
Season—November 15 to December 29, inclusive.
Bag limit—Ducks (except wood duck and swan) 10 per day in the aggregate of all kinds, of which not more than three of any one or more than three in the aggregate, may be of the following species: canvasback, redhead, buffhead, and ruddy; and any person at any time may not possess more than 20 ducks in the aggregate of all kinds, of which not more than six of any one, or more than six in the aggregate, may be of the following species: canvasback, redhead, buffhead, and ruddy. Geese more than 10 at one time.

Hours of hunting—7 a. m. to 4 p. m.
Methods of shooting—Shotgun not larger than 12 gauge, no more than three shells capacity; no live decoys or bait permitted; row boat may be used as blind if no motor is attached; each hunter over 16 years of age must have a federal duck hunting stamp (obtainable at the post office at cost of $1).

Quail
Season—December 1 to January 15, inclusive.
Bag limit—15 daily and 36 in one week.
Hours—Sunrise to sunset.
Method of shooting—Same as for doves.

General
It is unlawful to be in possession of any game or migratory bird 10 days after the close of the season.

Field Goals Give N.Y. Giants A Win Over Collegians

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (AP)—Put this one on the cuff. To be exact, credit it to Ward Cuff, one of football's great place-kickers, who booted the "foot" back into football last night.

Cuff, a lanky young man who labored unsung in the great Marquette backfield of 1936, kicked two terrific field goals, one from the 45-yard line in the second quarter and another from the same spot in the fourth, to whip the eastern college all-stars for the New York Giants, 6 to 0.

Cuff's two hoists dealt wholesale misery to most of the 40,382 on hand at the Polo Grounds to watch the third game sponsored by the New York Herald-Tribune's fresh air fund.

The all-stars gave it the old college try. They sent Al Heasberg of Yale and Andy Stopper of Villanova around the ends. They smacked the line with Pitt's big Bill Stapulka. But it was no use. They couldn't score and, although the Giants couldn't pierce one of the best of all-star lines, they could kick over it and win the ball game.

Lubbock Wins Second Game Over Clovis

Final Playoff Series To Be Resumed Tonight At Clovis

Lubbock's Hubbers, who finished far out in front in the regular schedule, had a firmer grasp on the West Texas-New Mexico League pennant today, after running up another victory over Clovis for a 2-0 lead in the Shaughnessy playoff finals.

Clovis, winner over Midland in the first Shaughnessy series, finished third in the season's standings.

The Pioneers carried the Hubbers to 13 innings last night, however, before bowing by a 7-6 count. In the final round, Manager Hack Miller of the Lubbockites singled, and three straight bunts sent him around for the winning tally.

The struggle was to be resumed tonight on the Clovis field. Lubbock copped Tuesday night's game by a score of 6-2.

HENDERSON, Sept. 8 (AP)—The Henderson Oilers, one down to Tyler in the East Texas league championship playoff, prepared for a second try here tonight in the second game of the series.

Before a home crowd last night the Trojans pounded Greg Lippold and Gib Williams for ten hits as they won 8-4.

The Trojans were continuing a brand of clouting which carried them to a first round Shaughnessy playoff victory over Marshall.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Sept. 8 (AP)—The Harlingen Hubs won the Texas Valley baseball league championship here last night, taking the fourth straight game of a series with Corpus Christi's Spudgers 7-1.

The Hubs scored three runs in the last two innings after Corpus Christi had tied the score in the seventh.

FIRE WRECKS PIER

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Sept. 8 (AP)—Fire early today wrecked a wooden truss-pier high above upper New York bay, burned through hundreds of tons of coal and caused damage estimated by Pennsylvania railroad officials at approximately $250,000.

Railroad officials believed the fire was started by sparks from a locomotive.

Nothing Definite About That Natl. Pennant Yet

Cubs Back In Second Place, And Giants, Reds Still In Running

By SID FEEBER
Associated Press Sports Writer

They've ordered the lumber and started to build at Forbes Field in expectation of a Pittsburgh halt to the 1938 world series, but—

The Cubs are coming to life and have climbed back to second place.

The Giants are taking strides along the road back.

The Reds can't be counted out.

And everything's all set for a wacky climax to this daffiest of seasons—something like a repetition of the 1911 affair, when the Cubs started the world series building additions while riding along on a six-game lead, then dropped five straight to the Giants, and were never heard from after that.

Still, the Pirates are five games in front of the pack today, as the result of the 7-1 whipping they handed Cincinnati behind Bob Klingler's six-hit performance yesterday. And with only 26 games to go, you can't sneeze at a five-game margin—particularly now that Rookie Klingler is definitely over his "pre-arm-itis."

The Reds, by losing to the Cubs, who are alternately blasting and frosted these days, dropped down to third place, and the Cubs took over the runner-up spot with a 7-5 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals. This was the Cubs' fourth straight success.

The Giants got some effective pitching from Rookie Johnny Wittig, recent importation from Baltimore, and made it two straight over the Boston Bees by a 6-3 margin.

The American League race, however, continues to be just a business of playing out the string. The Yanks, boasting a 13-game bulge, are due to arrive at the pennant clinching ceremonies in something less than two weeks, despite such interruptions on the way as the 11-4 kicking around they were handed by the Boston Red Sox yesterday.

The Sox remained deadlocked for second place as Cleveland's Indians stretched their undefeated string to ten games with a 1-0 pitching classic over the Detroit Tigers.

George Caster tossed a six-hitter and the Athletics whipped Washington's Senators, 5-2. Hugh (Long Picher) Mulcahy fooled the folks by handcuffing the Brooklyn Dodgers with three hits—an event in his young life—and pitching the Phillies to a 4-3 decision before a "tremendous" crowd of 500 fans.

Only the New Jersey state retirement system for teachers and four city plans pay average annual allowances of more than $1,000.

Pro Elevens Take To Air

More Passing Than Ever Likely To Boost Crowds

CHICAGO, Sept. 8 (AP)—Tune-up flights preparatory to the professional championship take-off brought six triumphs against college all-star elevens these past few days.

Aerial maneuvers played major roles in virtually all of them. Chicago's Bears won a pair and New York, Cleveland, Philadelphia and Chicago's Cardinals one apiece.

Indications that the 1938 season would be decided in the air were seen in the rival elevens' rush to streamline their offenses with plenty of passing power after the 1937 success of Sammy Baugh and the Redskins.

The wholesale turn to aerial combat was expected to send the attendance soaring. Last year around a million and a half paid to watch the money players.

Pittsburgh was one of the first to grease the turnstiles for 1938 by acquiring a star passer. The Pirates signed Colorado's Whizzer White, using $15,000 worth of persuasion to turn him from a Rhodes scholarship temporarily.

Whizzer will make his pro debut tomorrow night at Detroit against another favorite son of Colorado—Dutch Clark, the Lion's playing coach.

The game will officially open the pro season.

HOLLYWOOD—This is about Hedy Lamarr and it ought to be a poem.
It ought to be lyrical with slay-ing phrases. Midnight hair.
Scarlet lips. Marble skin. Eyes like blue-green fire glowing deep down in cool and secret beauty.
It ought to be a song, a whole symphony with a wash of awing because Hedy loves living and her chief exercise is the Big Applé.
So what can I say but: Gosh, here's Glamour!
But what Hedy can say is: "They want me to be a glam-our girl and I will not let it! I say again I will not! I see it naked in a paper—should Hedy Lamarr wear a minit coat over black? I laugh and say,
'Yes, Hedy should! Because she will not wear her personal life to be decreed from that which she is!'"
All you can say again, to that, is Gosh, Spito-gosh, because you're mainly just looking. Because there's slim voluptuous little Hedy—the neatest, little arch-

Chapter 25
A WARNING
By MAX SALIMARSH

Venger laid a wrinkled, trom-bling hand on my wrist, and looked sharply about him. The servant Amedeo had retired, but the big black dog had settled himself with a grunt of satisfaction at my feet, looking up at us through sleepy, half-closed eyes.
"Lock the door," he said sharply. "No, not that one, my fool, the outer one and leave the other open.
Well, you know that—if anyone's trying to overtake us."
I did as he bade me. "And I think if you don't mind, sir," said I, with a vivid recollection of the events of the morning, "we'll have this side-window closed, too." And I suited the action to the word.
He waited till I had repeated myself and then leaned forward, lowering his tone. "Young man," he said, "before I say what I have to say, I want you to remember that I'm your friend, and I should be sorry—very sorry indeed—if anything should happen to you;
but you've got to be frank with me. Tell me, what do you know of 'live Monet'?"
I stiffened. "Why do you want to know?"
"Because," said he, "I know that the police suspect you killed her."
The words were on the table with a vengeance, but I had to play my own hand with circumspection. "Look here, sir," I answered; "I don't know what right you have to question me, but I've nothing to conceal. Until that morning on the Carlton terrace I had never seen or heard of Eve Moore in my life before. Gosh, look me up the wrong way, when I told him I didn't know her from Eve, but if he hadn't made himself so objectionable I'd have disillusioned him right away. As it was, I played up to him, and it was then that he mentioned you and two fellows called Stahl and Rakowsky as being friends of hers."
"1924, was it?" I added thoughtfully, "since I've discovered that the police suspect me of her murder, I've naturally taken a certain interest in the case, and I'd like very much to hear what you, personally, know about her, sir, and why you think anyone should want to kill her."
He pondered that. "Well," he said at last, "here's the way of it.
I met the girl for the first time at Le Touquet this spring. Baron Stahl introduced us.
"She went to Paris and I called on her there. She would walk beside my chair in the Bois in the mornings; she would come to my apartment and read to me when my eyes were tired. Yes—when she'd been again, with a catch of the breath—she'd had a good heart!
But when Rakowsky came to see me one day and found her there, he got a shock. We had, you see, the three of us, been engaged in a financial transaction in which certain other people had lost some money, and he had got the idea into his head that this girl was a spy employed by them. It was, of course, nothing of the kind. I was ashamed of it, but there we stood, said she was a spy, and I wanted
no unpleasantness, so I let her go."
"Naturally," I agreed. "And you never saw her again?"
He shook his head. "Never," he said. "I missed her very much, but I never saw her again, and now she's dead!"
I couldn't tell whether to believe that he had known nothing beforehand of the murder, but his words seemed to confirm the supposition.

Little-Cows Give Lots Of Milk

STILLWATER, Okla., Sept. 8
(CP)—Farmer Otto Gray raises midget cows but there's nothing small about the way they give milk.
"I've got one cow out here about three feet tall who milks five gallons a day," he said Monday. "And there's not one in my herd of Jersey who can equal that."
Gray said he set out two years ago to raise midget cows—he has several prize-winning ones and a bull named "Cudd" who has an idea they wouldn't cut much."
They don't apparently. He said two years of feeding showed they eat about half as much as the standard members of the herd, while all three midget cows were giving milk. He would cover his four-foot sisters.
The midgets stand from 30 to 35 inches high, he said, and weigh from 200 to 200 pounds, about half the size of his Jersey cows.
Gray said the first midget of the line was an Angus he found on Cherokee, Okla. He thought "midget" would, but being a breeding expert—that she would show nothing but midgets though crossed with a normal Hereford cow.
He was right. Midget and first had a midget calf and when Midget the second grew up she had a midget calf also.
Midget has suffered severely from the destructive Texas cow-pox. About 10,000, 10,000, 10,000, 10,000, 10,000, 10,000.

you hold your breath a little, and you don't expect it until the envelope is ripped open and you read what's inside.
I get lots of telegrams. Everybody in New York gets telegrams because everybody sends them.
And after awhile, it gets to be like the cry of "wolf." For most of them are from press-agents. All press-agents send telegrams here. The psychology behind it is that you may forget a telephone call, or a note, or a letter, but not a telegram.
A wire plunks into your imagination. It almost makes a sound, like throwing a rock from a height into a pool of water.
People send telegrams when they could communicate much more quickly with you by merely reaching for the telephone. But they don't want to say words into a telephone that probably would be forgotten. Many of them think I'm absent-minded. It certainly looks that way. They telegraph information across the street. In such instances it would require at least 30 minutes for the wire to be delivered. But a call by phone, or even in person, would take only two minutes.
For myself, I believe in being real—literally real. That is why I am here. The next time you see me on the screen as a gangster or a lawyer—watch and you'll probably note that I have incorporated in my technique many of the things
I've learned from the wire.
All this was in the telegram.
That is nearly a 300-word straight telegram. It was sent from an office

FLASHES OF LIFE

SAFETY LESSON
MIAMI, Fla.—"Dim your lights," commanded Patrolman John Thomson at an automobile inspection station here.
"I don't know how," the motorist confessed.
Patrolman Thomas said inquiry disclosed the man had been driving for 20 years and owned his present car four years. The name of the motorist was withheld.

I had spoken without thinking,
but as I finished I saw him stiffen slightly. His small pale eyes returned behind the party lids, becoming more dangerous slits. I had hit the bull on the head, that was evident, and it was still more evident that it had alarmed him;
but for the life of me I couldn't see why; and then a sudden memory came of Dunlik's big, booming voice telling a strange story of a Czechoslovak statesman shot down in cold blood as he left the opera-house in Prague. I knew in that instant, without the shadow of a doubt, that the killer of Dr.
Ketil stood before me, staring at me intently with those dangerous, slitted eyes.

RAIL COACH BURNS IN FRANCE; 17 DIE

PERPIGNAN, France, Sept. 8 (CP)—At least 17 persons were killed today in a fire which burned the wooden coaches of a railroad train on the outskirts of Geneva, Spain, last night after a collision with a gasoline-laden truck which exploded.
Many of the victims died fighting to escape the flames, which swiftly engulfed the gasoline passenger cars.

British Women Take The Lead In Curtis Cup Play

MANCHESTER, Mass., Sept. 3 (AP)—Bolstered by a commanding lead of two and a half points to a half-point, the British women's Curtis cup golf team appeared assured of gaining as many more out of today's six singles matches and relieving their American sisters of the trophy the latter hold since the international competition was inaugurated in 1922.

The visitors, undaunted by yesterday's rain at the Essex County club, won two and halved the third and final stretch foursomes match to almost clinch the team play. Mrs. Helen Blain, current British champion, and Clarrie Tierman gained the first point by defeating Mrs.

Estelle Lawson Pease, current national titleist, and Marjorie Orcutt; by two up, Jessie Anderson and Elsie Collett gave England its second marker by topping Mrs. Glenna Collett Vars and Patty Berg, one up, and the half-point was added when Mrs. J. H. Walker and Phyllis Wade won the last two holes to flash all square with Marjorie Miloy and Kathryn Br. Uphill.

The chief crops of Spain are wheat, rye, barley, oats, corn, rice, potatoes, sugar beets, olives and grapes.

Houston Softball Tourny Draws Record List

By EDDIE BRIEZE

NEW YORK, Sept. 3 (AP) — A love story authored by Henry Armstrong six months ago is being given the once over in the RED studios in Hollywood. Six men football is being considered seriously by some of the smaller schools down in Virginia. Al Hunsick may lay his middleweight title on the line against Fred Apostoli here in November, but we doubt it.

There may have been bigger softball tournaments in the country, but you name 'em. The Houston Chronicle put on a show which drew 126 teams and some 2,000 players and they had to clear down out-of-town entries. Glen Dick Porter a big hand for a small job of managing at Symposium. Burchell Allinson, letterman tackle, said he would drop football because of a heavy scholastic schedule and end Lewis Ford will not return to school.

place club and now has it on the second rung of the ladder...

Old Winnie Richards, who knows his tennis, thinks Adrian Quist was the victim of "over-officiousness" in the cup matches. The Yanks are the first club in many years to have five players with 20 honors or better. And with only 24 games remaining, the Ruppert Rifles must slant out only 23 more round trippers to shatter their own record of 12 made in 1938.

Coach Ray Morrison at Vanderbilt would like to trade a few high class backs for a couple of tackles and a center to replace Carl Hinkle. The Warren Harding high school footballers of Bridgeport, Conn., would like to coach a strong southern or mid-west high team for a post season game this fall.

Size Of Budge's Pay Check As A Professional May Be Determined By Outcome Of Forest Hills Play

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, Sept. 3 (AP)—Donald Budge, the eminent amateur, has a great deal more on his mind than a shock of red hair as he starts out after his fourth major tennis championship of the year tomorrow at the West Side club in Forest Hills.

If he wins this one, the Oakland swatter will become the first player in history to sweep the Australian, French, British and American championships in succession and the value of such a feat will be more than considerable when he gets down to talking turkey with the professional promoters this winter.

Conversely, a defeat would stamp him as something short of invincible and would be taken into due account when the contract is drawn up for his grand tour with Eddy Vines and Fred Perry.

A Worried Look?

That is why Big Red is carrying around a somewhat worried look—that and the fact that he hasn't been able to shake a sore throat he contracted in Australia six months ago, or bring his game to anything like its peak. An examination by a throat specialist here yesterday gave him little encouragement.

No one who has seen Budge at his flamboyant best could doubt he was sorely afflicted in the Davis cup matches at Germantown over the past weekend.

According to the draw sheet Budge should meet Adrian Quist of Australia in the semi-finals next week, and then come face to face either with the ambidexterous Jack Bromwich or tough Bobby Riggs in the final. Unless his throat and his game improve, he could lose to either of them. At least, observers are agreed the tournament isn't the cut and dried proposition it appeared to be even a week ago.

Game wardens in South Texas report the 1938 season was one of the best breeding seasons for birds in six years.

In 1932 a mint was established in Boston at which Pine Tree shillings were coined.

Granite Men Are Missing And Crowley At Fordham Has New Worries This Year

By BILL BONI

NEW YORK, Sept. 3 (AP)—Having discovered one outstanding replacement for his five graduated "blocks of granite," Sleepy Jim Crowley of Fordham today looked forward with a medium amount of early-season optimism to a 1938 football schedule that includes seven straight games with major rivals.

That single chip of the five old blocks is John Kuzman, 220-pound sophomore tackle who, with the assistance of some experienced reserves and two hold-over blocks, should give the Rams another of those durable lines that will be opening holes for a fast, if green, backfield.

Fant but green is the backfield keynote. Of the nine men mentioned as most likely starters in the first two backfields at this early stage, when the Rams barely have started contact work, four saw a good deal of duty as sophomores a year ago; one was a one-game sensation and spent the rest of the year nursing an injured knee; two are sophomores, and the other two 1937 reserves who were used sparingly.

Fordham will have to rely more than usual on its running attack because there isn't a passer of proved ability in the lot. Graduation took away Joe Woltkoski, who also did the best and most of the punting, and southpaw Joe Granish who, with Woltkoski, accounted for almost 50 per cent of the Rams' completed passes in 1937.

If Kuzman is the most promising prospect in the line, the key man among the ball carriers is likely to be Pete (Rabbit) Holovak, the youngster who lived up to his nickname in last year's opener with Franklin & Marshall and is back this fall raring to go after having a knee cartilage removed in the spring.

Holovak should be the starting right half in a four-man line with Bill (Kewy) Kelly, quarter; Steve Kacho, left half, and Don Principe, fullback. The last three, together with Butch Fortunato, second-string quarter, are the 1937 sophomores who had such a big hand in leading Fordham to an unbeaten season.
