

Loans Are Available For College Education

High school juniors and seniors are able to obtain financial help to go to college under one of four Federally supported programs.

Dr. C. V. Galbreath, Director of Higher Education for Region VII of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, urges that seniors who are planning to attend college, this fall and to need financial assistance to meet education costs get in touch immediately with the financial aid officer at the college of their choice and apply for a job loan, grant or other assistance for which they may be eligible.

The four major Federal programs of financial aid to students, available to eligible students in any field of study, are: The National Defense Student Loan Program, the College Work-Study Program, the Educational Opportunity Grants Program, and the Guaranteed Loan Program.

During 1967-68 academic year it is expected that these four programs will assist over 1,175,000 undergraduate students throughout the nation to attend institutions of higher education, at a total cost of over $1.1 billion.

National Defense Student Loan Program

"Most colleges and universities in the United States take part in the National Defense Student Loan Program, the oldest major program of Federally supported student assistance," Dr. Galbreath said.

Under this program students borrow directly from their colleges. Repayment and interest do not begin until after the student has ended his studies, and may be extended over a 10-year period. An undergraduate student may borrow up to $1,000 each academic year to a total of $5,000. Graduate students may borrow as much as $2,500 per year to a maximum of $10,000. There is a special cancellation provision for student borrowers who become teachers.

For the academic year beginning this fall, an estimated 16,500 students in Texas, in attendance at 84 institutions of higher education, will borrow an estimated $11,600,000.

College Work-Study Program
The College Work-Study Program provides jobs on campus or off campus for the student who needs employment to help pay for college expenses. During the present school year it is estimated that more than 184,000 undergraduate students are employed in this program, earning an average total salary of about $700 a year.

During the present school year an estimated 9,980 students attending 77 colleges in Texas were employed in College Work-Study programs, at an approximate Federal cost of $6,550,000.

Educational Opportunity Grants

"Educational Opportunity Grants," Dr. Galbreath said, "is a new program that began operation in the fall of 1966. It is intended for undergraduate students in such extreme financial need that without the grants they could not attend college."

In its first year of operation, $58 million in Federal grants enabled 134,000 students to attend college. These students, so long as they remain in good standing, are eligible to apply for grants for each year of undergraduate study. These grants range from $200 to $800 a year.

During this school year 5,037 students are attending college in Texas with the help of Educational Opportunity Grants.

Guaranteed Loan Program

The Guaranteed Loan Program, which began operation in the summer of 1965, provides a means "for students to borrow directly from their bank, credit union, savings and loan association or other eligible lender. While any student may borrow, the program is intended primarily to ease the heavy burden of educational costs for middle-income families. For students whose adjusted family income is less than $15,000 a year the Federal government pays the entire interest (6 per cent) during the school years, and half the interest (3 per cent) during the repayment period, which begins when studies are terminated. The loans are "guaranteed" by a State agency, or a private nonprofit agency designated by the State.

"In spite of the tight money market" which existed as the program got underway, and still exists," Dr. Galbreath said, "between July 1, 1966 and February 28, 1967, throughout the Nation more than 260,000 students borrowed a total of more than $206 million in loans. During this time, 7,725 students in Texas borrowed $5,167,299 for their college expenses."

"A few years ago a college education was a luxury reserved for the child of affluent parents or youngsters with outstanding scholastic ability or athletic skills," Dr. Galbreath said. "But fortunately for our young people and for our country's future, this situation has changed."

Dr. Galbreath urged citizens throughout Texas to look for talented young people who might not know of these opportunities for higher education and to encourage them to finish high school and go on to college.

New Outpatient Program for Vet Medical Care

A new program to reduce costs and improve service in outpatient care is being inaugurated by the Veterans Administration following a successful test program in three states.

Since World War II, the Veterans Administration has authorized outpatient care by private doctors, at government expense, for certain qualified veterans. Most of these patients have service-connected disabilities. Home-town medical care is authorized in such cases when the treatment at a VA medical facility would involve a long trip or other hardship. Under the old rules, VA estimated how much care each such veteran would need during the coming year and issued an authorization to a specific doctor to give treatment at government expense.

Under the new program, VA will issue an identification card to veterans who require this type of treatment, and each patient will be permitted to select a doctor of his choice for treatment of the medical condition stated on his card.

Tests of the new system, conducted in Indiana, Colorado, and Alabama, demonstrated that administrative costs of providing this treatment were reduced significantly.

Both the patient and the doctor also benefit by the new plan. The patient can visit the doctor of his choice as often as his doctor considers necessary. The doctor is relieved of much of the paperwork associated with the old system.

Instead of preparing a medical report and a claim form, he merely files an itemized bill on his own letterhead just as he does for his other patients. Medical reports to the VA are filed by the doctor only when there is a significant change in the veteran's service-connected condition.

In the three-state test program conducted by VA before the system was adopted nationwide, both veterans and doctors cooperated with the program. Doctors provided care consistent with sound judgment and ethical medical practice, and there was no evidence that veterans abused the greater freedom of choice and the reduced controls. In fact, there was a slight decrease in the average number of visits per veteran. Additional details on the program which might be needed by doctors, veterans and veterans organizations can be obtained from directors of VA clinics.

DR. HENNER IS SPEAKER AT SYMPOSIUM

Dr. Charles M. Henner, local physician and surgeon, was the speaker at the Educational Symposium held in the Brownwood Motor Hotel in Brownwood Sunday. The Symposium was sponsored by the Medical Assistants Society of Brown, Mills, San Saba, and Comanche Counties.

Miss Inez Tucker of Santa Anna is president of the organization. Topic of Dr. Henner's discussion was "Legal Responsibility To Our Patients" in addition to being one of the top surgeons in the West Texas area, Dr. Henner is a graduate of the law school of Baylor University.

Other topics on the program included "Medical Ethics" by Dr. Braswell Looker and "Ministry of Medicine" by the Rev. James Calhoun.

UNIFORM VEHICLE CODE
Texas needs to "get with it" and revise its traffic laws on accidents and accident reporting, equipment on vehicle and "Rules of the Road" to bring them into conformity with the Uniform Vehicle Code, says "Texans for Traffic Safety."

Vacationers In Parks Need Reservations

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department said vacation interest in state park screened shelters and cabins has reached such a fast pace follow routine making reservations.

Interested inquirers are advised to write directly to the park, enclosing a personal check or money order made payable to the park to cover the fee for the desired space. The writer also should clearly state name, address, date, time of arrival and date of departure.

Reservations will be confirmed by return mail, if space is available.

The Department said refunds cannot be honored without 24-hour notice of cancellation.

It also reminded there are check-out times and a limit to the number of days in some areas.

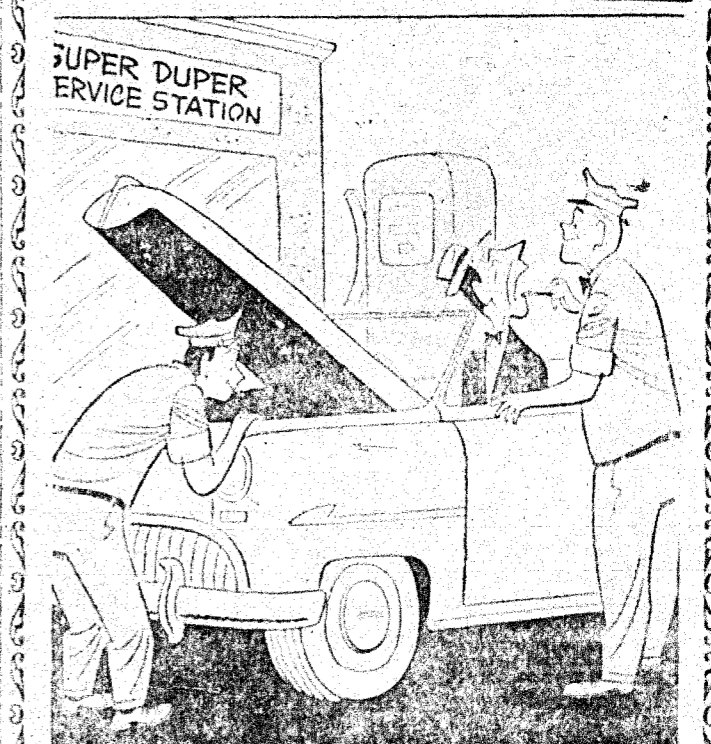

Thanksgiving day has been proclaimed every year since Abraham Lincoln began the custom.

THERE ARE TWO Sides TO THIS STORY

This story is about newspaper advertising and how it serves TWO ways. It begins in the home where the lady-in-a-mood to buy starts her shopping by studying the ads in this newspaper to see where the best buys are.

The story continues in the advertiser's store where the lady comes to buy what she saw advertised.

Newspaper advertising helps the shopper to buy more wisely — helps the advertiser to sell more successfully. Yes, there are two sides to this story... and BOTH are good!

FLOOD WATER UNDER CONTROL is emphasized in this picture, taken at Site 15 on Home Creek of a Soil Conservation Service Flood Prevention Dam functioning. The dam is located on the Frank Crum place on Highway 283, just east of Home Creek. Work Unit Conservationist Bob Pearson is observing the flood water emerging from the drawdown tube and flowing into the creek channel. The draw down tube on this dam is 30 inches in diameter and the flood waters were being discharged at the rate of 45,000 gallons per minute. The picture was taken following the heavy rains the night of May 12.

Home Creek Structures Prevent Flood Damage

Flood prevention dams on the Home Creek watershed prevented extensive flood damage during heavy rains the weekend of May 12-14, according to the Soil Conservation Service and reports of ranchers in the area that received up to about 5 inches of rain.

Most of the rain fell in a short period of time May 12, causing several of the dam's drain-down tubes to function. Runoff, which otherwise would have taken out fences, roads and endangered livestock plus flooding Highway 283, were held within stream banks by the dams.

Only minor damage resulted in some low-water crossings, according to Bob F. Pearson, work unit conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service.

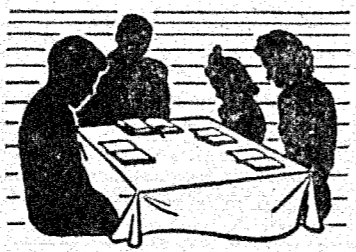

Most spectacular was the Home Creek Dam Site No. 19, with backed up flood water to U.S. Highway 283. This site, located on the Robert Stewardson and J. B. Turner ranches, backed floodwaters over about 100 acres of rangeland. The water level has returned to normal now.

Flooding of U.S. Highway 283 was reported on the crossing below the location of proposed dam Site No. 16, which has not yet been built. The Soil Conservation Service will build this and other remaining projects as soon as easements are acquired.

Flood prevention dams are built by the Soil Conservation Service, in cooperation with the local sponsors, who are the Central Colorado Soil and Water Conservation District and the Coleman County Commissioners Court. All easements and other land rights must be acquired by the district or county. After construction is completed, local sponsors assume full responsibility for operating and maintaining the dams.

Today's MEDITATION from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

Read John 15:10-17 "This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you." (John 15:12, RSV)

On a radio program the speaker was talking about the spiritual man underneath the mortal exterior of each person we meet. In making his point clear, he used the illustration of the children who come to our homes on Halloween. They dress as pirates, witches, or ghosts, but we know that underneath the masks they are little boys and girls. His conclusion was that as Christians we should learn to look with spiritual eyes for this spiritual man in persons.

Shortly after I heard this program, a man to whom I had paid scant attention gave the invocation at a Kiwanis Club meeting. It was a beautiful prayer, and I thought as I listened that this is the way we see the spiritual man — with our spiritual eyes. I looked upon him as a child of God.

As I look for Godlike qualities in the people I deal with day by day, I find it easier to follow Christ's command to love others as He loves them.

PRAYER:
Dear Lord, we would be Thine ambassadors. Help us to remember that the people we deal with day by day are persons for whom Thou didst die and in whom the divine image lives. This we ask in Thy name, Amen.
THOUGHT FOR THE DAY:
Ambassadors of Christ find Godlike qualities in others.

Warning Issued On DDT Residues

DDT residues in excess of recently established tolerance in milk have been reported in some areas of Texas. Improper application and/or the application of DDT in the proximity of dairy farms and forage crops that are to be used as feed for dairy animals may be responsible for the trouble, explains Chas. W. Neeb, area Extension entomologist.

The protection of crops, in the proximity of dairy farms and/or forage crops, from insect damage with insecticide applications should not include DDT, advises Neeb. DDT should not be applied nor allowed to drift into forage crops that are to be fed to dairy animals or to animals being finished for slaughter, he adds.

He suggests that cotton growers in close proximity to dairy farms and forage crop fields use carbaryl (Sevin) spray applications for pink bollworms and cotton bollworms; however, it may be necessary to add methyl parathion to the carbaryl spray. Methyl parathion should be used with caution where there is danger of direct drift onto animals, warns the entomologist.

As a general guide to the limitations of using insecticides containing DDT for crop protection, DDT sprays should not be applied within one-fourth mile of forage crops and dairy farms. Cotton producers are urged to keep the use limitations of DDT in mind when considering the purchase of insecticides to be used in their crops.

A Change May Be In Order

If your wiring is protected with ordinary fuses, you may want to replace them with fuses of the time-delay type, says W. S. Allen, Extension agricultural engineer, Texas A&M University.

The superiority of the time-delay fuse has been recognized by the National Electrical Code. Ordinary plug fuses are now permitted only as replacements in existing installations.

Allen says the ordinary fuse has a single element that melts when there is a short circuit or overload. The time-delay fuse is similar, but has two elements instead of one—a short circuit element and one to protect against overloads. The delay feature is built into the overload element.

The time-delay fuse is a good choice for protecting circuits with motor-operated equipment, according to the engineer. That is because electric motors require

Patrol Cuts Boat Deaths; Others Surge

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department reported apparent effectiveness of the reinvigorated water safety law enforcement has curbed boating deaths but that other outdoor recreational drownings continue to skyrocket.

Game wardens now are patrolling Texas waterways both inland and on the coast, checking boat occupants for regulation life preservers and checking boats for proper lighting, fire extinguishing and other equipment.

Ticket returns to date indicate, according to the Department, considerable failure to meet safety standards. Seven additional fatalities raised the season's water sports toll to 69, according to unofficial Department statistics.

This tragic trend is far ahead of the comparable 1966 death count for the date, but last year 19 persons perished in one late May week, boosting the total to 73 by May 25, 1966.

Then the toll continued to mount as the summer vacation season developed and the year concluded with 236 deaths by the Department's unofficial record, an increase of 36 over 1965.

At the present rate, however, 1967 will far exceed last year's drownings.

Heroism marked some of the latest water accidents. A 25-year-old man saved a 10-year-old boy who fell from a fishing barge and then sank to his death from exhaustion.

Two men seining in coastal bay water were saved when another stepped into a deep hole and drowned. None had life preservers.

Three of the latest victims were swimming. One teenage boy drowned when his call for help was misinterpreted as a prank.

URGE SAFER DRIVING

Over 50 per cent of all rural fatal accidents involve only one vehicle, says "Texans for Traffic Safety" and almost one-half of these are caused by a car running off the roadway. Whether the driver falls asleep, is drunk or loses control through carelessness, the end result may well be the same—tragedy.

Space Age Food Needs Concern Of 4-H Youth

Special—Food for astronauts, food for the world, food for parties, food for teens, food for babies, food for the elderly, food for invalids, food for picnics, food for experiment, food for the armed forces. Knowledge of all these, and more, makes a career in the food-nutrition field one of the most challenging.

Already well aware of career possibilities and the need to know more about the nutritional values of food for growth, health and vitality are 4-H Club members engaged in food projects.

Teenage nutrition is their main concern because 6 of every 10 girls and 4 of every 10 boys have inadequate diets. They get two-thirds or less of the nutrients recommended for their age by the National Research Council.

The study was made of 800 boys and girls aged 13 to 15 years. Skipping breakfast (the much needed starter meal) was given as one of the reasons teens are not well fed.

The national 4-H Food-Nutrition program enrolls some 700,000 girls and boys from 9 to 19 years of age in 50 states, according to the Cooperative Extension Service which supervises the program. They are involved in a wide range of projects.

The axiom: "You are what you eat" is the basis for studies in dietary needs. Members learn to plan, cook and serve well-balanced, tasty meals. Problems of underweight and overweight as well as poor complexion, are tackled and often resolved through correct diet.

Guided by county extension specialists and local 4-H leaders, members complete individual projects. Incentives for best achievement are offered by the food-nutrition program sponsor, General Foods Corporation.

Awards are presented on an annual basis as follows: Four top members per county receive "honor medals"; one member per state wins an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, and has a chance to have his or her 4-H Club record judged for national honors and a $500 scholarship. A total of six scholarships are awarded.

Information regarding 4-H Clubs can be obtained by calling the county extension office.

Austin — Final minutes are ticking away in the biennial legislative game of "beat the clock."

Obviously, the wind-up of the 60th session will be a cliff-hanger.

As lawmakers move toward the May 29 finish line, the major jobs they came to Austin to accomplish remain unfinished.

● THE BUDGET—It went to conference committee, following an unsuccessful attempt by Gov. John Connally and Speaker Ben Barnes to sell the Senate on accepting the House Appropriations bill without the traditional conference to adjust differences. House bill calls for $448,300,000 in general revenue; Senate Bill, $437,700,000.

● REDISTRICTING — A Senate Congressional Redistricting Bill would save all incumbent congressmen the agony of having to run against a colleague. But the House Judicial Districts Committee has drawn different lines. So this issue must go to conference committee for an 11th hour compromise. State House of Representatives districts also must be redrawn. But the Senate has little interest in that. Judicial redistricting appears to be impossibly snarled once more.

● SCHOOL TEACHER PAY — Both houses agree there must be a raise. Major problem is to determine the amount.

Although revenue in sight from the Comptroller's last official estimate won't cover the budgets drawn by either house, plus a teacher pay raise of the magnitude being sought, legislative leaders still insist adjustments will make the money possible without a tax bill.

Speculation is widespread that the lawmakers can't finish the job on schedule but top leaders are hopeful they can avoid a special session by covering the clock for a few days.

● DRIVERS LICENSING CHANGE DUE
Major changes in Texas drivers license laws have been approved by both houses.

Bill increases minimum age for license from 15 to 16 for those who complete approved driver training courses and to 18 for those without such training. Hardship licenses are permitted for 15-year-olds where there is a licensed adult driver in the front seat. Motor scooter and motorcycle operators must be at least 15, and for commercial licenses, 17.

Present licenses will be replaced by a plastic card with a color photograph of the driver. New ones will be good for four instead of two years and will cost $6 instead of $3. Drivers may be required to take a new competency examination when they apply for a new license. However, re-examination is not compulsory, as proposed in the original bill.

License suspension period for violations was increased from six to 12 months for the first offense and from 12 to 18 months for repeat offenses, subject to the court's discretion. Driving while license is suspended will be punishable by fines up to $500 and a maximum of six months in jail.

● HORSE RACING
Voters will be given an opportunity to express their opinion on whether Texas should legalize horse-race betting, if the House agrees with the Senate to put the question on the ballot in the Democratic and Republican primaries next May.

Senate passed the bill by Sen. V. E. Berry of San Antonio, long an advocate of horse-race betting, and sent it to the House for its concurrence. Actually the bill, as passed by the Senate, would not require the parties to put the question on the ballot but would permit and encourage them to.

● PURCHASE O.K.'D
Both houses have agreed that James Connally Air Force Base at Waco should be purchased by the state for $5,200,000. The 2,100-acre base with 1,141 buildings is now under lease for a state vocational and technical

4-H Tractor Work Demands Skill

An obstacle course to test tractor driving skills is part of the annual 4-H Tractor Operators contest held in conjunction with the national 4-H tractor program supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service. Here a contestant backs a tricycle-type tractor and a two-wheel trailer in the narrow lanes marked by white posts. A top of the posts are golf balls. If he touches the posts with any part of the tractor or trailer, the balls fall off, costing him penalty points.

training institute. Money for its purchase is expected to be written into the final version of the 1968 appropriations bill.

● ELECTION CODE CLEANED UP
Although the Legislature approved general terms of a major election code overhaul, the two houses differed over provision to permit the counties to employ low-cost electronic vote recording-counting devices.

Senate struck the electronic machine section from the original bill, but the House put it back in and returned amended measures to the Senate. Major features of the re-drawn code will standardize the ballot form; change city election dates to the first Saturday in April; raise maximum pay for election judges and clerks to $125 an hour; permit new state residents to vote in presidential elections before they have resided in Texas a year; allow consolidation of election precincts for minor elections; and substitute senatorial district conventions for county conventions in counties having multiple districts extending beyond their own boundaries.

● PROPERTY TAX VOTE SET
State of Texas will wipe out 37 cents of the 47 cents per $100 property tax by 1977 if Texas voters give their approval at a constitutional amendment election in November, 1968.

Proposed amendment received the necessary two-thirds vote of both houses for submission. This even though opponents warned that the $18,000,000 in lost revenue will have to be made up from other tax sources — and that local governmental units will snap up the additional leeway on property taxes.

● OIL PRODUCTION LINE HELD
Railroad Commission set June oil production allowable at 33.8 per cent. This is the same as May although demand for Texas crude is expected to increase next month.

June allowable factor will permit a maximum production of 3,046,218 barrels daily. Factor dropped four straight months before last week's hold-the-line order. Prior to the January peak of 37.5 per cent, it was increased four successive months.

● ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES
Legislation providing for cancellation of permits on dredge shell or mudshell in certain areas is constitutional, says Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin in a recent opinion.

Other opinions issued by Martin include the following:
● Calhoun County is not prohibited by law from withdrawing surplus funds from the county depository and investing the money in authorized U.S. government bonds and securities.
● A district clerk in Cass County may accept an appointment as a receiver in a civil case pending in the which he serves as a clerk without vacating his elective office.
● COURT SPEAKS
State Supreme Court refused to hear the insurance claim of a Dallas man found to have caused the fire in his restaurant where four firemen were killed. High court has held that

Apparel Main College Cost

Although tuition and living costs have increased this year at many colleges, much of the total college expense can be found in a girl's closet.

According to Rheba Boyles, Extension clothing specialist at Texas A&M University, wardrobe costs for women were estimated by a survey to range from $200 to $500. Incoming freshmen generally bought more than the returning upperclassmen, according to the Fairchild News Service study.

Most of freshmen shopped at home using the family charge accounts, and left fill-ins and fad items to be purchased in local college shops. Upper class women tended to wait until their return to campus because they were familiar with the local stores.

The survey further revealed that the longer a woman is in college, the less she buys. As she approaches her graduation, wardrobe content decreases and types of garments tend to be less campus oriented in favor of clothing which can be used for a job.

AFFIDAVIT OF DEPOSITORY OFFICER

THE STATE OF TEXAS, COUNTY OF COLEMAN

Before me, the undersigned authority, on this day personally appeared Glen Copeland, who, after being by me duly sworn, deposes, says, and certifies as true the following:

- That he is Cashier of Santa Anna National Bank, Santa Anna, Texas, the Depository named in the above notice.
- That the foregoing is a full and complete list of the names of all depositors and creditors for whom dormant deposits or inactive accounts have been held for more than seven (7) years and whose existence and whereabouts are unknown to the Depository.
- That such listed depositors and creditors have not asserted any claim or exercised any act of ownership with respect to their deposits or accounts during the past seven (7) years.

REDDY PREDICTS...

equal Electric Payments EVERY MONTH in the future...

IF you use WTU's Equal Payment Plan for electrical operating costs. Pay no more in August than you do in May—nor more in December than in September. Use WTU's budget plan for paying electric service bills. Here's how it works: WTU figures the amount of electricity your family would normally use in a year—then divides this figure by 12. You pay a budgeted even-dollar amount each month. Your service charge is reviewed monthly, and adjustment made either upward or downward if necessary to avoid any big lump payment. Like the idea? Then ask WTU for details...Reddy Kilowatt's people will be happy to plan Equal Payments for you.

Make a clean break with the past electrically...and budget it!

Survey of Colleges Shows 600 With Room For More Freshmen This Fall

Some 600 four-year accredited colleges report that they still have openings for the freshman class entering in the autumn of 1967.

This fact stands out in the special report released May 1, by Changing Times, the Kiplinger magazine. The report is based on Changing Times' ninth annual survey of four-year accredited colleges with room for students. The report points out that the large number of openings should not be taken to mean that there's no problem about getting in. Competition for admission is growing and a great many students have been turned down by their first choice and second choice colleges, according to the survey.

For the ninth consecutive year, however, the Kiplinger magazine shows that scores of accredited colleges still have room for more students. Openings are scattered around the country, with the fewest in New England and the most in the Midwest and South.

On the whole, fewer spaces for men than for women are available, and far more for day students than those who want to live in a dormitory. In many cases, the openings are for students headed for specific fields, such as education, business, music, nursing, engineering, pharmacy, home ec.

Looking into costs for campus, day and out-of-state students at the 750 colleges reporting, Changing Times found that over 300 schools

WIVES EARN QUARTER OF INCOME

One in three, or about 15 million, wives earn a paycheck, according to Mrs. Wanda Meyer, Extension home management specialist with Texas A&M University.

Half of all working wives earn about a quarter of their family's total income. About 40 percent of total consumer spending is estimated to come from homes where the wife is employed. Nearly half of the employed wives are in clerical jobs or work in factories. Over half are between 35 and 54 years of age.

Employed-wife households spend fractionally less for food and medical care, but more for dressing up, home furnishings and equipment, and for recreation than the household in which the husband only is employed.

These and other significant characteristics of the employed-wife household are brought out in a recent study by the National Industrial Conference Board, says Mrs. Meyer.

6 Lambs Arrive In Bighorn Land

One of Texas' smallest wildlife restoration projects is following in the footsteps of its successful big brothers.

That is, a record crop of lambs has been born to the prized bighorn sheep herd on the Black Gap Management Area near Marfa.

A record in this case is only six (6) but that's rated by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department as successful reproduction for the tiny herd of 30 bighorns.

The, once abundant sheep disappeared from their last Sierra Diablo Mountains stronghold about ten years ago.

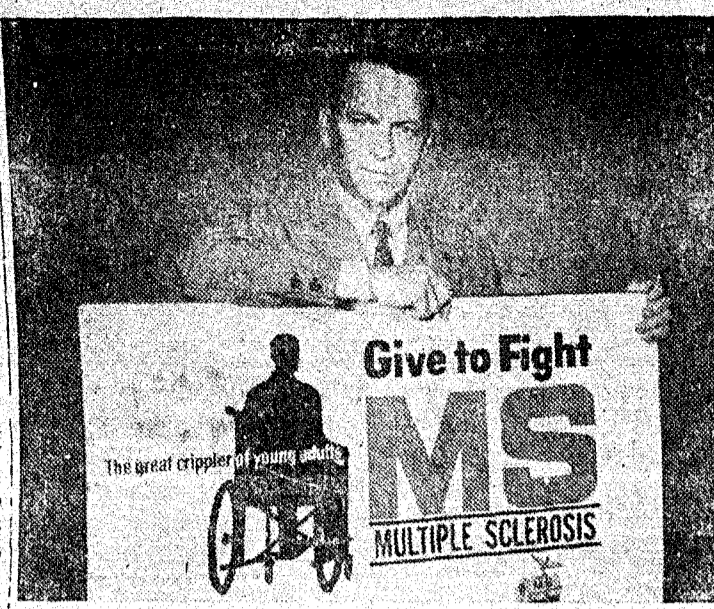

Now, the picturesque little herd is carefully protected in its 400-acre, lion-resistant pasture within the management area.

Wildlife biologists make constant studies of their various habits and even of the amount of water they require from their meter-monitored trough.

Most All Persons Past 65 Enrolled In Medicare

Figures just received by R. R. Tuley, Jr., Abilene district manager for the Social Security Administration, show that over 34,200 of the estimated 34,900 persons then over 65 enrolled for the hospital portion of Medicare as of July 1, 1966. The number enrolling for the supplemental medical insurance program came to 32,751 with 32,720 enrolling in both programs.

In the following 9 months, the ration of those just reaching age 65 who signed up for one or both parts of Medicare has continued at about that same rate.

BUCKLE SEAT BELT IN LOCAL TRAFFIC, TOO!

Even in slow, local traffic — play it safe and fasten your seat belt.

This is the advice of the American Insurance Association which points out that 80 per cent of all auto accidents occur within 25 miles from home, when traffic often slows down bumper to bumper.

An abrupt stop — even at a slow speed — can hurl the motorist against the wheel, windshield or dashboard, causing severe injuries.

Therefore, the Association cautions: "Don't take chances! Buckle your seat belt, whenever you drive!"

Gasoline Octane Ratings Continue Upward Climb

The octane rating of U.S. gasoline is at an all-time high. In 1966, regular gasoline averaged 94 octane, while premium fuel averaged 100. (Octane indicates a fuel's resistance to engine knock.) Although octane is important, it is only one indication of the improving quality of motor fuel.
