Hal Woodard Is Chairman THC

AUSTIN — Hal Woodard of Coleman was sworn in August 1st, as chairman of the Texas Highway Commission. Herbert C. Petry Jr., of Carrizo Springs took the oath marking the beginning of an unprecedented third six-year term on the Commission.

During the ceremonies State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer received a 40-year service award.

The oaths of office were administered by Judge Joe R. Greenhill, associate justice of the Texas Supreme Court. Also participating in the ceremonies was the Rev. Reimold King, pastor of the Tarrytown Baptist Church in Austin, who delivered the invocation.

Greer, top administrative officer of the Texas Highway Department for the past 27 years, joined the Department as an assistant resident engineer in the Tyler District in 1927.

Woodard, the new chairman, is a practicing attorney in Coleman. He first was appointed to the Highway Commission in 1959. He was appointed to a second term in 1965, and was designated chairman of the Commission by Gov. Connally on July 18.

Woodard during World War II served as an officer in the U. S. Navy. A senior partner in the Coleman law firm of Woodward and Johnson, he served as Coleman city attorney from 1951-58.

In addition, he is past president of trustees of Overall - Morris Memorial Hospital in Coleman, former director of Coleman County State Bank.

In 1958 Woodard was named to the Texas Law Enforcement Foundation board of directors. He is a member of the Methodist Church, the American Bar Association and the State Bar of Texas.

He is married to the former Dawn Blair of Austin and they have two sons: Hal Jr. and Ben.

Woodard succeeds Petry as chairman of the three member policy making body for the activities of the Highway Department. Petry first was appointed to the Commission in 1955. He was named chairman in 1959. He was reappointed in 1961 and this year, Governor Connally reappointed him to a third term as a member of the Commission.

J. H. Kuitgen of Waco is the third member of the Commission. He was appointed in 1963.

Coleman Gets Federal Grant

A $124,810.00 Federal grant has been approved for the city of Coleman under the Land and Water Conservation Fund Program, according to Will Odum, Chairman of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission.

These funds will be matched by the city of Coleman by a $249,620 plan to acquire 139.05 acres at Coleman Lake, 14 miles north of the city.

Plans for development include design layout and landscaping of the park and boat ramps, picnic units, camping sites, trailer camping units, playground, swimming beach, fishing piers, concession building, bath house, restroom and necessary utilities.

The Federal Land and Water Conservation Fund Program is administered on the Federal level by the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, U. S. Department of the Interior. Its funds are derived from the sale of the $7 Golden Eagle Passport and other outdoor recreation fees, the Federal Motorboat fuels tax and proceeds from the sale of surplus property.

Odum, who is State Liaison Officer for the fund and responsible for reviewing projects and proposals submitted for Federal assistance, said the original application was made by Mayor Foster Miller and City Manager Jim Snodgrass.

ACCEPTS AWARD — Capt. Billy J. Harvey of Santa Anna, accepts the 36th Infantry Division Adviser's Trophy from Maj. Gen. Seiden Simpson, left, commanding general from Amarillo. The award is made annually during field training to the outstanding rifle company of the division. Harvey is commanding officer of Company A, 1st Battalion, 142nd Infantry.

Capt. Billy Joe Harvey Accepts Adviser's Trophy

Company A, First Battalion, 142nd Infantry of Coleman was awarded the 36th Division adviser's trophy Saturday at the division annual review and parade, at North Fort Hood, for being the top rifle company of the 1967 field training.

Capt. Billy Joe Harvey of Santa Anna, company Commander, was awarded the trophy denoting the honor and marking the completion of the first half of summer camp.

The Guardsmen, approximately 5,300 strong, and 1,250 Army reservists assigned to train with the division, had a short weekend break after the parade.

Infantry units of the division got an inside look at the type of war being fought by fellow soldiers in Viet Nam. Fort Hood has its own Viet Nam Village, which was built to train troops for the kind of war that is being waged in Southeast Asia.

Several units spent time in the field bivouacked during last week with other units, due to go out Sunday afternoon and early Monday.

Cool weather so far has been a bright spot in the training as showers have kept the temperatures below the July normal last week.

The division commander is Maj. Gen. Everett S. Simpson of Amarillo.

Also honored at the ceremony was Brig. Gen. (Ret.) Ralph Krieger of Abilene, to whom the 1967 edition of the 36th Division yearbook was dedicated. Gen. Krieger was unable to attend the parade at which he was to be honored.

W. T. Stewardson Re-named Director Of Santa Anna

Much tighter restrictions are likely to come against use of Texas underground water as competition for this water increases. That was the gist of a prediction given ranchmen at the 52nd annual Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association convention in San Antonio.

Frank Booth, executive director of the Texas Water Rights Commission, said stockmen and farmers cannot be complacent that they will always enjoy in the future the same unrestricted use of water under their land. Oil companies, industry and municipalities all want the same water. Some curbing of present - day rights is almost certain. Landowners must be vigilant in the Legislature to keep their share, Booth warned.

The Association re-elected W. T. Stewardson of Santa Anna a director of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association. Also elected at the 52nd annual TS&GRA convention in San Antonio were: Worth Durham, Sterling City, president; Gene Whitehead of Menard, first vice - president; Jimmie Rieck of Roosevelt, second vice - president.

The association questioned the size of the price discount taken against mohair which has defects such as burrs. Sometimes this discount runs to 40 per cent of the price. The stockmen asked that proper state agencies and colleges investigate to see if such a large deduction is justified.

Alarmed by recent widespread outbreaks of screw-worm infestation, the convention urged stockmen to be particularly alert and to treat their livestock to curb this spread.

They asked immediate compliance by drillers of new oilwells with the Railroad Commission's statewide no-pit order which forbids open salt - water pits after January, 1969. These pits often are the source of fresh - water pollution. The stockmen maintain that if all new wells comply now, the transition will be easier.

A South African mohair expert told Texans they need a drastic improvement in the manner in which they package and sell their mohair if Texas mohair is to survive. Dr. C. C. Kritzinger said the Texas one-price system is archaic, ignores the needs of the market and discourages improvement of the clip.

(See Inside Page for Correct Answer)

Texas State Association

ADJUSTER Den — State Supreme Court has ruled that the constitutional amendment regarding annual voter registration in Texas is valid.

AFL-CIO challenged the amendment. They contended that voters did not get their notice and that amendments provided for annual registration.

State labor officials pledged to take the issue to the highest federal court.

State Supreme Court agreed with ruling of the Third Court of Civil Appeals that the amendment — approved by Texans last year — to abolish the poll tax as a requirement for voting and substitute annual sign-up should stand. There was an opinion. Appellate judges had reversed the trial court finding.

Austin District Judge Herman Jones agreed that the full purpose of the amendment was not adequately described in the proposition on the ballot. It stated only that the poll tax would be repealed. The full purpose was not stated in the proposition.

Boy Evans Secretary-Treasurer of Texas AFL-CIO says the State Supreme Court will be asked for a rehearing. If that is rejected, a hearing will be requested before the U. S. Supreme Court.

Menards Texas department and water restrictions for the 1968 fiscal year will proceed under normal state-of-law or emergency law.

All waters including those who live in cities under 10,000 population must register between October and January.

In other cases the State Supreme Court.

Left standing lower court decisions refusing to grant injunctions to two parties to the collapse of Billie 50. Eberly's former case originated in Fort Worth District Court.

Reversed Amarillo Court of Civil Appeals and sustaining district court in holding that all miners applying for the Shalaker Oil and Gas Corporation in 1964 would draw unemployment benefits due to circumstances of their joblessness. Shalaker had offered to return to work.

Reheld Third Court of Civil Appeals ruling that State Savings and Loan Commissioner was required in setting a branch office application for downtown Houston of the Commercial Savings Association.

ATTORNEY GENERAL BULLER — On Aug. 28, 1967, he produced an order at Corpus Christi, Texas. All State employees to make production and provide taxes. (Special 1967 per cent payable at 1967 in the U. S. Army Gen. Crawford Martin has been).

In other opinions Martin has concluded that:

A $1,500,000 appropriation to construct protective devices at railroad grade crossings is constitutional.

If a county commissioner is a director and stockholder in a bank desiring to receive bond issue funds, the county commissioners court does not have authority to designate that bank as a county depository.

HIGHWAYS — As July 1, 1967, the State Highway Department had $53,849,824 worth of highway construction under contract. During June construction was paid $35,802,146 for work completed.

In 1964 over $27,000,000 was spent for road construction. WELFARE — An audit of the State money was used in Texas during the two years ending June 30, 1967, was completed.

State was $28,000,000. Last year it was $28,000,000. The audit was in direct effect to the needy need blind children and disabled plus $4,500,000 for medical care for the needy blind. While aid to dependent children and those who are permanently disabled continues to rise, training programs are reducing the amount of aid needed by blind persons.

Distribution of surplus commodities also is handled by this department. In 1966, 45,000,000 pounds of flour, 15,000,000 pounds of corn meal and 17,000,000 pounds of dry milk were distributed to needy families from federal surpluses. However, the amount distributed is declining as the government stockpiles are used up and high employment is reducing the number of needy families.

Payroll and other administrative costs for giving away $11,900,000 came to $13,000,000.

SCREWDRIVER REPORT — Between May 21 and July 1, some 14 cases of screwdrivers were purchased in Texas.

HIGHER RATES AUTHORIZED — Texas Railroad Commission has authorized higher rates for shipments of household goods by special-rate carriers. No increase was allowed in packing charges, which had been requested by the carriers.

Rate changes based on a average of 1966 shipments came to 17.5 per cent higher than present rates.

However, larger shipments are still less and smaller shipments are more.

New rates will take effect on August 3.

POST SAFETY TIPS — Police officers who allow swimming in their ponds should post safety instructions according to the Texas Safety Association and the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council. Also, mark safe swimming areas and provide lifesaving devices, such as ring buoys, ropes, or ring poles.

Santa Anna Missionary Is Homesick For India

Miss Lena Boyd Santa Anna, a young missionary, has spent 45 years in India as a missionary for the Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Boyd said that she never got homesick for America, but when she was here she always got homesick for India. Miss Boyd said that she had acquired a number of children during the 45 years. The missionary said she was one of those unweaned mothers.

Since her graduation from the Trinity University in Waco, Texas in 1912 Miss Boyd's road has been filled with children. After the graduation she went to India and after learning the language began teaching school.

Miss Boyd had several homes in India but the one she remembers most is Popper where she worked with the "unweaned" children of Lepers. From there she moved to a house in the Mountains in Amara where she kept two boys and four girls for six years. These youngsters were sent and daughters of children she had "adopted" during her years as a missionary.

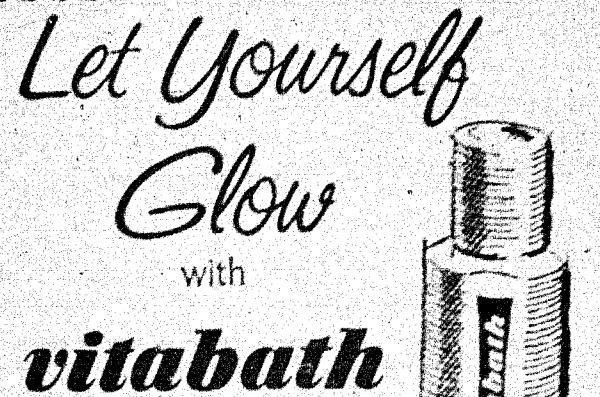

Miss Boyd said she kept in close touch with her "children" through the mail. She said that she would be in India because there is a terrible drought going on. Looking back on India she said she departed from 45 years ago. Miss Boyd remembers it as a land where she "lived" in the northern part of India.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Speeding along a gravel road, a motorist drove over a little pile of loose stones. One of the stones squirted sideways, crashed through the windshield of an oncoming car and injured the other driver.

After litigation, the first motorist was held liable for the mishap. The court said that, in view of his speed and the conditions of the road, he should have foreseen the likelihood of hurling "shrapnel" from his tires.

The case illustrates an important principle: a motorist must be alert not only to the general danger of collisions but also to the special dangers that arise from the speed, weight, and make-up of the car.

Here is how legal liability resulted when a car became:

1) A Booby Trap—A man left his old jalopy, with gasoline still in the tank, on a vacant lot where children often played. One day a boy clashed two rocks near the opening of the tank, causing a spark that set off an explosion. For the resulting injury to the boy, the car owner had to pay damages.

2) A Battering Ram—A man parked his automobile on a slope, pulling his brakes only half tight. In his absence the car began rolling downhill, and finally crashed through the plate glass window of a store. Here too the motorist was held responsible.

3) A Bone Crusher—Picking up a neighbor's small son, a motorist slammed the door shut without warning—and without giving the child enough time to get his hand out of the door's way. Result: broken bones, and legal liability imposed on the motorist.

4) A Heart Stopper—Rounding a corner, a man drove straight at a woman who was crossing the street. Although he did manage to stop just in time, the woman fell down in sheer panic, suffering painful injuries. Again liability for the motorist. As judge warned, in describing the rights of the pedestrian:

"His right-of-way is not to be measured in fractions of an inch nor tested by split seconds. He is entitled not to just as much space as his body, clothes and buttons require, but to as much as will afford him a safe passage. The pedestrian's heart as well as his body, should be free from attack."

In short, today's automobile can play many roles in inflicting harm. The car owner bears a heavy but diversified as well as responsibility. It is the law's way of facing up to the less pleasant realities of the automobile age.

A public service feature of the American Bar Association and the State Bar of Texas. Written by Will Bernard.

Law Enforcement Can No Longer Be Ignored

Often we hear the charge that law enforcement lives in a world of its own, out of touch with reality and the mainstream of our society. This is a baseless charge and should be refuted each time it is heard.

The truth is that law enforcement, by the very nature of its responsibilities, is in much closer touch with the public than are most other professions. The officer on the beat, the patrolman in the cruiser, and the sergeant at the desk know far more about people and what they are thinking than do the sophisticated theorists who is eye "authoritative" appraisals of criminality from within ivory-tower offices.

It has also been suggested that law enforcement remains dormant while other professions forge ahead to new realms of achievement and growth. Some critics say that law enforcement is satisfied to mark time, insulate itself from change, and turn its back on progress. They imply that law enforcement is largely responsible for the Nation's crime problem. This may be an easy hypothesis to accept if a person is looking for a scapegoat. However, it is an erroneous conclusion, and it reflects the shallow reasoning of some who have little, if any, practical experience in or knowledge of enforcing the law.

For years, responsible law enforcement leaders have been waging a relentless, although often futile, battle to modernize and professionalize law enforcement. Their pleas, warnings, and exhortations for the most part have fallen on deaf ears. Only recently has the voice of law enforcement received any appreciable recognition—and this has reached such proportions that it can no longer be ignored if our Nation is to survive.

The annals of law enforcement are replete with examples of achievements which show that progressive, effective enforcement, keyed to human relations, has been a continuing goal of career officials. While struggling with out adequate funds and without public support, law enforcement has always been receptive to, and where possible has applied, all scientific developments and technological breakthroughs which would enable it to do a better job and to improve its standards.

Police officials know from experience and enforcement of the law are a bit more complicated than the supervision of a church picnic. Sociological dreamers notwithstanding, crime cannot be explained away. It can be given aliases, but by any other name it is still crime—violations of the laws of our land. And it is still increasing.

It is not surprising, therefore, to note that many who in the past chose to minimize the danger of crime and to ignore police pleas for help now quite charitably choose to place much of the blame for soaring criminality at the door of law enforcement. While law enforcement has its shortcomings, to charge that it is by choice out of step with progress is an admission of ignorance.

SMV EMBLEM WARNS DRIVERS

Many farmers are now using the new Slow Moving Vehicle emblem on the rear of farm vehicles to warn motorists of their presence. The emblem, a 14-inch high triangle, glows orange by day, red by night and is visible in most cases for at least 500 feet. The Texas Safety Association and the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council warn drivers to slow down when they see the emblem. It indicates the equipment ahead is traveling at less than 25 miles per hour.

AMA Health And Safety Tips

Skin diving enthusiasts are gaining thousands of new recruits each summer. Thousands of Americans of all ages and both sexes are spending summer weekends exploring lakes and streams from the vantage of the fishes.

From the medical standpoint, physicians say that diving makes demands on the body which are unlike those met above the surface.

Navigating under water is heavy exertion and those with respiratory problems are heart and blood vessel disease should not attempt it. Says Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association, diving is ruled out for those with perforated ear drums. Ear plugs are for surface swimming only and should not be used for diving because of water pressure. The depth changes also require that sinuses and ears be in good shape to equalize the pressure.

Asking your doctor to evaluate your fitness for diving is a precaution that will pay dividends. Along with good health, the potential diver should be a better than average swimmer. A moderately skilled swimmer can dive with SCUBA equipment, but in an emergency the swimming skills born of long practice and good physical conditioning may mean the difference between survival and death.

Never dive alone, the AMA advises. Use a buddy system and be certain that your buddy is competent and trustworthy. Learn to use artificial respiration and see that your buddy knows it. Plan your dives. Know where you are going, how deep and how long you can stay under. Work out a system of underwater communication signals for emergencies. Never dive when you are overly tired. Have a cold are just not feeling well.

Use quick release buckles on weight belts or SCUBA harness. You may need to cut loose and surface quickly. Don't indulge in horseplay and take needless risks. Watch out for boats while in the water. The power boat skipper may not know you're there.

Watch your depth. Pressures mount rapidly as you descend. Don't hold your breath while ascending. Air will expand inside your lungs and should be allowed to bubble out as you are coming up.

TODAY'S Meditation

Chelipper Room
 THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Read Psalm 8; Philippians 4:4-9

Whatever things are true, whatever things are lovely, whatever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things. (Philippians 4:8)

About a year ago, Mrs. Ward and I spent an afternoon in the home of Bishop and Mrs. Friedrich Wunderlich in Frankfort, Germany. Though the day was rainy and cold, we found an abundance of warmth and comfort inside this friendly home.

We talked of many matters—issues of the day, concerns of the church, family interests. I noticed in one corner a telescope, though it did not get into the conversation.

The next day when the bishop's name was mentioned a pastor said, "Oh, yes, our bishop; he's a friend of the stars." I remembered the telescope, and understood the unique compliment.

God has made each of us a little lower than the angels and endowed us with capacity for the upward look. It is our destiny to be friends with noble thoughts, captives of exalted experiences, persons rooted in worship and prayer, disciples of the living Christ.

PRAYER: Father, we ask that our minds and hearts may be filled with thoughts of Thee and things holy and divine as we walk the common way. We pray in the Master's name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
 "Be ye therefore perfect, even as your father which is in heaven perfect."
 W. Ralph Ward

HANDLE AGRICULTURAL CHEMICALS CAREFULLY

Most agricultural chemicals are highly toxic and can be dangerous. But, the Texas Safety Association and the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, point out mishaps with chemicals do not occur where directions on the label are strictly followed. Careful storage and disposal are equally important, especially to ensure the safety of children and animals around chemicals, the two groups report.

FIRE DAMAGE GREATER ON RURAL PROPERTY

When fire occurs on rural property, damage is three to six times greater than in the average city fire, the Texas Safety Association and the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council report. Two-fifths of all damage is to dwellings and their contents, another third to barns and their contents. The remainder of losses is to outbuildings, machinery and equipment, livestock and produce. The economic loss of the nation's rural residents from fire is approximately $193 million a year.

TRACTOR UPSETS ON LEVEL GROUND OCCUR FREQUENTLY

The Texas Safety Association and the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council report that tractor upsets on level ground occur much more frequently than many farmers realize. Speed "too fast for conditions" is the chief factor in most cases. Tractors have been known to tip on level ground at only eight miles per hour — just half the top speed of most tractors in use today. High hitching and hidden obstacles also rank high on the list of tractor upset-causes.

HOSPITALS AND YOU

BY SANTA ANNA HOSPITAL MERL ROLLER, ADM.
At this very minute in Texas there are several thousand hospital related career vacancies that cannot be filled because qualified people are not available.
Almost without exception, every one of the 559-member hospitals of the Texas Hospital Association have openings on their staffs for paramedical personnel including professional nurses, pharmacists, medical technologists, medical records librarians, dietitians, physical therapists, occupational therapists, social service workers, x-ray technicians and vocational nurses.

This represents millions of dollars in salaries annually which could be bolstering the economy of Texas if the positions were filled. Even more important, it would enable the hospitals of Texas to improve and upgrade the quality of patient care.
This critical shortage of paramedical personnel is not unique in Texas alone. It is nationwide. Once a young person has completed an education program in any one of the paramedical specialties and becomes licensed, he may find employment in almost any city in the nation and in some foreign countries. The quality paramedical education in the United States is recognized throughout the world for its excellence. In Texas there are hundreds of paramedical education programs offered including pharmacy, physical therapy, occupational therapy, professional nursing, medical technologists, medical records librarians, social worker, dietitian, x-ray technologist, vocational nurse, surgical technician and psychiatric nursing technician. The basic entrance requirements for paramedical programs offered by various institutions are generally the same throughout the State, however, each school may have a few local pre-requisites. Young people interested in hospital careers are invited to send inquiries to the Director of Health Careers are invited to send inquiries to the Director of Health Careers Program, Texas Hospital Association, P. O. Box 4553, Austin, Texas 78751. Detailed information will be forwarded by return mail.

In addition to being a stimulating and rewarding experience in service to mankind, a paramedical career offers satisfaction almost unequalled in other fields of endeavor. Members of the hospital team work in pleasant surroundings in which a hundred human dramas are unfolded daily.
As our national health needs grow, so will career opportunities in hospital related careers. The future never looked brighter for young people who may qualify for any one of these prestige positions.

Foam-Backed Draperies Are Taking Market

Foam backed draperies are being added to nearly every manufacturer's line in the market, says Bonny Lay, Extension home furnishings specialist at Texas A&M University.

The foam backings, first introduced last season, now appear on the fiberglass fabrics, linen and wool. The jacquard weave takes the primary position, but the backing appears on plain weaves, including prints and solids.

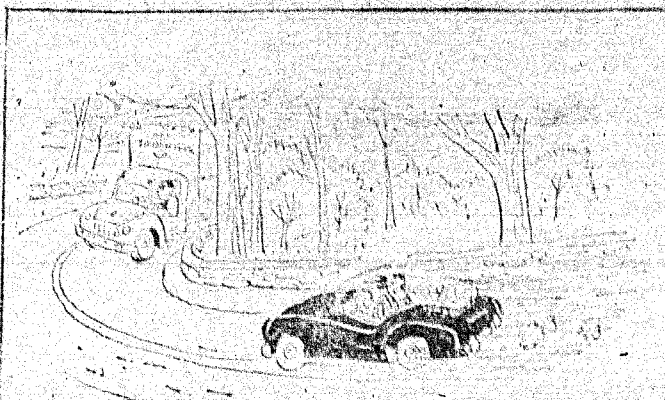

The backings will penetrate the retail scene in many variations during the rest of the year, says the specialist. The Home Curtain Company will introduce this fall the first Milium elastomer foam backing for draperies on the market. These Milium insulated draperies will be available in white, eggshell and pastels.

Burlington House, which introduced the aerocellular acrylic lining, Sheffield 600, last year will also introduce this fall a crushed foam backing for draperies in the moderate priced range. It will offer complete opacity by removing the "spongy air bubbles" that give the present foam backings a kidskin effect.

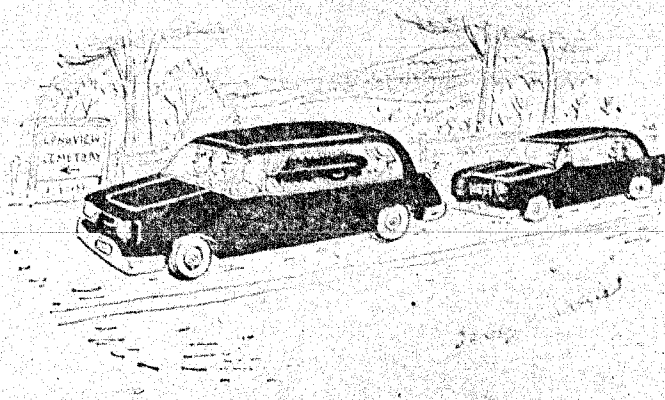

There are several advantages to having foam backed draperies. The lining foam helps insulate against heat and cold, possesses some acoustical qualities, protects the fabric from sun fading and gives the drapery body, depth and dimension. The backing is permanently bonded to the fabric by a machine, but it may be picked loose. Most are guaranteed not to crack or peel under normal wear. If the foam is bonded to a washable drapery fabric, it too is machine washable, but otherwise it should be drycleaned. Be sure to read the label to determine the correct method of cleaning.

Kitchen Carpeting Saves Nerves

Carpeting in the kitchen isn't just a status symbol. It can be a nerve saver, too, says Mrs. Jane Berry, Extension housing and home furnishings specialist with Texas A&M University.

The specialist explains that carpeting soaks up kitchen noises that come with everyday work and automation. Noises are softened and nervous tension is eased.

Curtains are another noise softener, she says. The more cloth, folds and pleats, the better the sound absorption.

Wood cupboards will absorb more sound than metal. Acoustical tile both on the ceiling and under the upper cupboards also helps. Asbestos liners under the stainless steel counter tops and undercoated stainless steel sinks will muffle sounds from the metal.

Kitchen equipment should be sound tested before purchase. Some dishwashers food disposals and exhaust fans make twice as much noise as others. Insulation also helps to reduce noise. Some manufacturers are using insulation in equipment where it has never been used before.

Planned placing of closets around the work area can be a natural sound barrier for the rest of the house.

Hardin - Simmon's Bands Will Appear At HemisFair

Hardin-Simmons University Cowboy Band, Concert Band and Concert Choir will appear at the International Exposition HemisFair '68, Dr. W. O. Beasley, coordinator of University relations, announced today.

Photographs and tape recordings have been sent to Mac Martin, manager of on-grounds entertainment, so that an exact schedule can be worked out. Dr. Beasley explained the H-SU's will probably appear April 8 or 9. Rehearsals will begin as soon as possible. Dr. T. W. Dean, dean of the school of music, said the three groups will be ready to perform almost any kind of music. The Cowboy Band often presents a stage-show type performance in their typical western regalia of gold shirts, faded Levi's, cowboy boots and hats, and purple neckerchiefs. Among the most recent appearances of the Cowboy

Band is the Stamford Rodeo and the world premiere at Fort Worth-Dallas of "War Wagon."

The theme of the HemisFair, the 1968 Texas World's Fair, is "the confluence of civilizations in the Americas." Bands and choirs from throughout the United States will participate in the entertainment programs.

Veteran band director Marlon McClure will direct the Cowboy and Concert Bands and Edward H. Hamilton will direct the Concert Choir.

Federal Tax Questions And Answers

This column of questions and answers on Federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q - My son graduated from high school in June and has started work. If he stays home with us can we still claim him as a dependent?
A - Generally, you may not claim as a dependent anyone who earns $600 or more during the year. However, the earnings test does not apply to your child if he is under 19 years of age or is a full-time student during any part of five calendar months of the year.

Q - You must, of course, meet the other dependency tests, this includes the requirement that you provide more than half his total support for the entire year.

Q - If I take a course in shorthand as my boss wants me to, will that be deductible? He hasn't said he would pay for it.

A - If your employer expressly requires you to take the course to retain your present position then the cost would be a deductible expense. Even if the course is not required by your employer, the cost would still be deductible if it is necessary to improve or maintain the skills needed for your job.

Q - Books, supplies, laboratory fees and tuition fees are covered by the course. Can we deduct this loss?
A - No. The law does not allow losses on the sale of personal property to be deductible.

Q - I've got asthma and the doctor says I should air condition our house. Can I deduct the cost as a medical expense?

A - If air conditioning is recommended by a physician for the treatment of a specific condition or illness and the air conditioning is installed primarily for this reason, it is an allowable medical expense. However, only the excess of the cost over the increase in value of your house resulting from the installation of the air conditioning is an allowable expense.

To avoid any question about this expense, be sure to obtain a statement from your doctor explaining why he recommends air conditioning for you.

Q - I'm a student and am banking my summer earnings. The bank wants my tax account number. What is that?

A - This is your Social Security number. The law requires financial institutions to ask the depositor for his number and to use it when reporting to IRS the interest payments on all savings earning $10 or more during the calendar year.

Q - Will I get any "tax breaks" when I reach 65?

A - Yes, there are several changes which could reduce your Federal tax liability. You are entitled to an additional $600 exemption when you become 65 and you may be entitled to a retirement income credit.

"Tax benefits for Older Americans," IRS Document No. 5569, describes these and other benefits for persons 65 and over. A free copy may be obtained by sending a post card to your IRS District Director.

Q - I paid a lawyer to fight a speeding ticket I got. Are his fees deductible?

A - No, legal fees for this purpose are considered a personal expense and not deductible.

Water Deaths Continue Upward Trend

Austin - Drownings have soared upward at an unprecedented rate during the past three weeks with 38 deaths recorded from that cause during the period, according to Robert G. Mauer-mann, Deputy Director Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Unofficial records kept by the Department show 63 drowning deaths occurred in the past six weeks while 69 persons drowned previously in 1967.

The total now stands at 132 drownings so far in 1967. The total for all of 1966, as registered by the Department was 236.

Records indicate that the drownings are more numerous during the peak outdoor recreation period from Memorial Day to Labor Day.

With two long holiday weekends and 10 weeks of prime outdoor recreation time left the total drownings could reach the 300 mark for the year, Department sources say.

The Department cites carelessness and exceeding one's limitations in swimming as being the greatest causes of drownings.

Young children on family outings make up a high percentage of the drowning death list. In most cases, a youngster ventures too far from shallow water, steps into a deep hole or off an underwater ledge and drowns.

Maner-mann classed drowning deaths "a useless waste of human life and resources compounded by the fact that most could have been prevented with a small amount of precaution."

He also urged all persons who plan to use our waters for outdoor recreation and pleasure to be extremely cautious, abide by the rules of water safety and take no unnecessary chances.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Blivens of San Angelo visited Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. John Gregg and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Pirrello and Kevin of Rochester N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Radle spent Saturday night and Sunday at Sterling City with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Alsop.

Scholarship Honors Late Cap Shelton

Brownwood - A memorial to the late J. H. (Cap) Shelton, long time track and field coach at Howard Payne College has been established.

According to Dr. Guy D. Newman, president of the Brownwood school, it will be known as Cap Shelton Memorial Scholarship.

Shelton, who died here recently, was one of the oldest college coaches in the nation in tenure. He has been associated with HPC for 52 of his last 55 years. He had been track coach since 1920. Fourteen of his 17 championship teams were in the old Texas Conference, which he once served as president.

He was a member of the Helms Hall of Fame, and the NAIA Hall of Fame. A special award bearing his name is given annually to the running entry judged most outstanding at the Lone Star Conference meet.

"When you think of Howard Payne," Dr. Newman said "it is only natural to think of Cap Shelton."

"His contributions to this institution were numerous," Newman said, "and I know that all of his many friends will be delighted to know that we are carrying on some of Cap's work, made possible by friends of athletics, his church and his other endeavors."

Contributions can be made by sending checks to HPC marked for the Cap Shelton Memorial Scholarship Fund.

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

Omar Bureson, M. C.
 17th District, Texas

Washington, D. C. - About everybody with a pencil has been writing about the riots occurring in our larger cities. About every politician is talking about it. There are about as many ideas as there are talkers and writers. Here is another.

It seems that one of the most singular and obvious facts in all these disturbances is that they have not been confined to the poverty stricken. There is definite proof that those in what is commonly called the middle class, and fairly prosperous circumstances, have joined in mob action.

The President's Commission will attempt to analyze the cause and supposedly recommend remedies.

More than likely their recommendations will repeat those which have been made numerous times by other groups, the theorists and reformers. The line invariably taken by those thumping the tub on this issue is more housing, more schools, more medical care - just more of everything. There are already proposals to provide entertainment for the idle, at government expense, and sporting events to keep them occupied. A resolution of this nature is before Congress. Here in Washington, five movie houses are to provide free pictures in the afternoon the Romans tried it with free circuses, but it did not work very well for them.

What will not likely be said by the President's Commission, and not admitted in official circles, is that too many people have mistaken Civil Rights legislation as a conferment of privilege. And many of those who are supposed to be benefitted by the Civil Rights legislation have found that they can not enjoy it. They have felt that with the passage of the several measures guaranteeing the "rights" they would suddenly come into the possession of all good things.

In addition to these misconceptions is another rather obvious fact not admitted by those who honestly believe they are about to cure all social ills by the passage of laws. This factor is the decline of chances of detection and punishment for crime. Fear of prison has long been a natural deterrent to criminal actions, but much of this has been removed by the courts.

Mobs of rioters and pillagers in cities across the land would not take the risk against officers of the law if police had not been deprived of their principal weapons of law enforcement.

Officers of the law trained to pull no punches when they see lawlessness have become hesitant to act. They are accused of brutality when they do their duty. Mobs have a way of taking advantage of this situation. A minority creates instant anarchy.

The emphasis on "Freedom of Speech" allows the agitators to turn listeners into a howling, lawless mob. In past decades our highest courts have affirmed the principle that public utterances which incite to crime are not immune from prosecution. Today the agitators receive publicity and become heroes and martyrs.

No less a person than former Associate Justice of the Supreme Court Charles E. Whitaker had this to say: "While all crime is not due to any one cause it can hardly be denied that a large part of our current rash and rapid spread of lawlessness has derived from planned and organized mass disrespect for, and defiance of, the law and the Courts, incited by the irresponsible and inflammatory preachments of some self-appointed leaders of minority groups to obey the good laws but to violate the bad ones . . . in other words, the taking of the law into their own hands."

The responsibility is broader than the courts alone. It is also the hesitancy of the politicians in government to use the powers of law enforcement promptly and intensively for fear of political backfires.

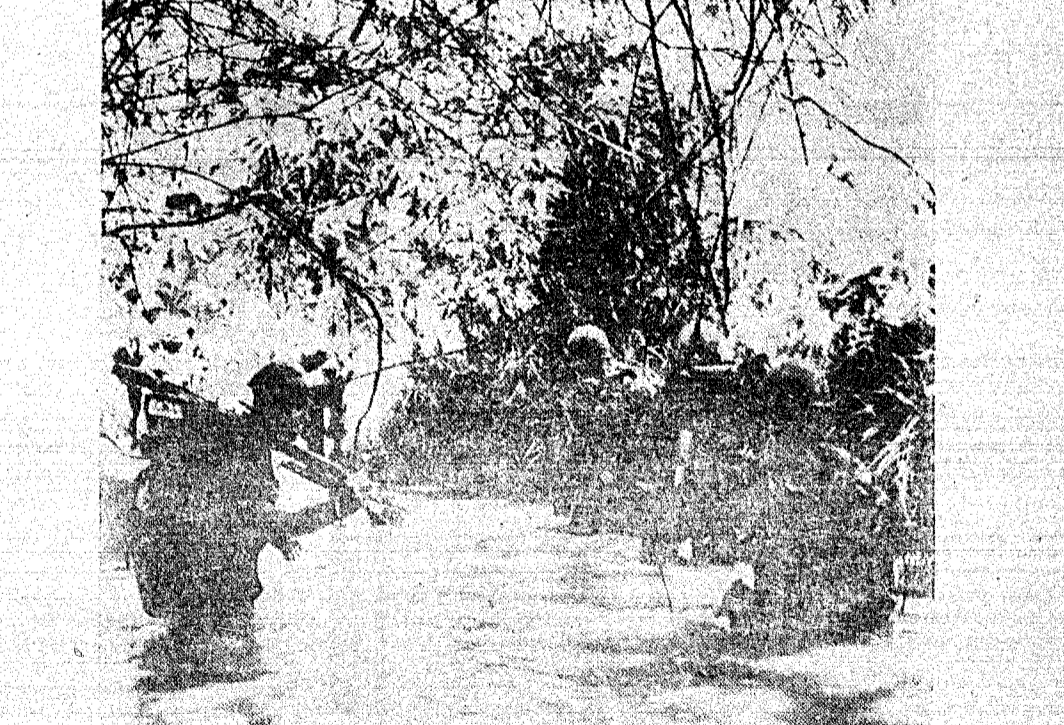

This brings to mind the passage in I Corinthians: "If the trumpet gives an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself for battle?" The trumpeters in high places have been giving off uncertain sounds as clear as they hoped the tone would be. The result has been the mob responding to the call of the drums.

Thomas Jefferson in his eighth Annual Message to Congress in 1808, said: "Love of liberty, obedience to law and support of the public authorities . . . a sure guarantee of the permanence of our republic."

Mrs. Pat Gilmore, Amelia and Steven of Mobile, Ala. are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Casey who met them in Jasper. Mrs. Gilmore is recuperating from a severe case of mumps.

Corn Is Summer Favorite

Corn is one of summer's most delightful treats, reminds Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

In selecting ears of corn, examine the husks and kernels. The husks should be green and fresh looking. The kernels should be well filled, bright, plump, milky and firm enough to give slight resistance to pressure. Kernels should also be free from worm or insect damage.

Immaturity is indicated by small, soft, undeveloped kernels which lack flavor when cooked. Overmaturity is indicated by large, excessively firm kernels, which are usually deeper in color than when at normal maturity.

Need a safe rod holder on your boat? Get a piece of plastic hose, like that used in sprinkler system—or a piece of radiator hose—large enough to take your rod handle. Fasten it to the side of the boat and place the rod handle inside. It works fine.

Always keep your stringer tied short enough so that it won't get in the way of the prop when you start your outboard motor, or when trolling. Many fine strings of fish have been lost because a stringer was severed by a prop.
