SMOKE

FROM THE MOUNTAIN

One snake hunter, while searching for a reptile, accidentally kicked one, and he has been shaking ever since. It didn't take him long to get a long, long way off and for the time being Jim Harris is off of the snake business.

Talley got his share of digging last week he thinks, but here's another one. He ran into a bug with the bumper of his Plymouth coming back from the mechanics convention in Brownwood Thursday night and when Bill Ford came home about three the next morning he saw Talley out there polishing up the bumper. Just the same, we'll bet for all the razzing he gets, Talley will have a good car longer than most of us.

The News has about decided to start a collection of double hen eggs which our subscribers give us. The last large egg was brought in by Mrs. E. McDaniel, who counts on one every morning from her faithful hen and gets it. Thanks, for the breakfast, Mrs. McDaniel.

Several Santa Anna folks got their eyes filled with plenty of smoke Saturday night, but a generous streak on our part prevents us from passing the choice bits of gossip on to you. Anyway if you want some first hand smokings just plan to attend the Firemen's Ball at Brownwood next year.

One of our readers and a prominent member of the Golf association and other organizations in the city wrote a sample of his opinion about civic pride and the lack of it in Santa Anna. We want to pass it to you as something to think about.

"At this time Santa Anna is the weakest club in point of number of players in the Association and has fewer players than any year since golf was first started here; the main reason for this is that a number of former good players have turned so fat and lazy, that they can't take it anymore and in themselves in 'feet rest' let the fat accumulate and that is a short and degenerate life. It is not the only thing above holds civic activities. A person that any of his city activities, other than, and you one that will this community grow over that is not to print the ab because it is a of many that something sadly our citizens in of community pride. I'm glad to encourage to bring in opinions such matters so we can on to the public.

Construction Begins on New Variety Store

Construction on the new Reid Variety Store, which will be located in the Ralph Mathews building, formerly occupied by the Smith Fruit and Grocery Store and the Modern Beauty Shop, began Monday. Roy F. Reid of Merkel will move with his family in a few weeks to make their home in Santa Anna, where Mr. Reid will operate the store.

The building will have an entire new front and work on that has begun with the tearing out of bricks from the top of the front of the building. New roof will also be built. The store will have large windows in the new front. The building will be ready for occupancy in about three weeks, according to Mr. Reid.

One Alice Newman spent the day with her parents, Mrs. J. L. Newman, and Mrs. E. Newman, in Brownwood.

Local Golfers Beat Brady on Strange Course

Thirteen Players Bring Back 9 to 4 Team Win Following Tournament Sunday

The Santa Anna Golf Association came back home Sunday from Brady with a win to its credit, after defeating Brady Club in a team win of 9 to 4 on the Brady Club's own home course.

Out of the 15 players in the local team, 13 were present at Brady. Two weeks ago the team tied the Coleman team here 6 to 6 and the match will probably be played off here at some future date.

The team has no match next Sunday, but on May 2, Brady team comes here and it is hoped to recruit some more "niblic swingers" and be able to give more Brady players a contest.

At the present time Santa Anna has the smallest number of players of any club in the Association and has the fewest number this year that it has ever had. However it has made an excellent showing and really showed their ability in the Brady tournament.

Nine local players won in the recent tournament, four losing to the Brady players.

Participants were Virgil Newman, J. T. Garrett, C. L. Peterson, Dr. L. O. Garrett, Woodrow Newman, Sparks Whetstone, Lynn May, Neal Oakes, E. R. Purdy, J. K. McClain, Simms Johnson, Rex Golston, and W. H. Ragsdale.

Leaders Urge More Horses and Mules

Stockmen and farmers of Texas, after careful study, have learned that Texas will have to breed and produce the horses and mules needed on Texas farms. So the leaders in this important industry have organized the Texas Horse, Jack and Mule Breeders' Association and are determined to restore the horse and mule industry from its present alarming condition. Three principal speakers at a big meeting in Fort Worth are, left to right, John W. Carpenter, Dallas; C. W. Green, Sedalia, Mo., and B. A. Skipper, Jr., of Encino. Skipper is president and Carpenter vice president of the association. Carpenter said: "I have imported 200 jacks into Texas during the past four years and the demand continues. But there are no more where these came from. If we are to supply the demand, we must breed them here in Texas. As I see things now, there will continue to be a shortage of mules for at least 10 years." Carpenter, who was born and raised on a Navarro county farm, operates a big stock ranch in Dallas county as well as farms in other parts of the state.

My Trip To Cuba

Editor's Note: The following is a description of the recent trip to Cuba by Mrs. Ollie Pearce Weaver, who returned only recently from her trip.

We left Houston on Sunday, March 21 and after two days of hard traveling arrived at Miami, Florida, which is one of the great show places of the United States. Billions of dollars have been spent on beautifying it. Many of the multimillionaires have homes here. Miami Beach is the most beautiful of the residential sections.

There are many avenues of royal palms and rows and rows of flaming hibiscus. Bougainvillea both purple and brilliant red are in full bloom all over the city.

Miami proper has a population of 130,000 and depends largely on tourists' trade for its subsistence. Coral Gables and Miami Beach are suburbs of Miami but have their own city government.

Citrus fruits are grown extensively around Miami, but we found the prices higher than they are here.

We spent two days sight seeing in Miami, then embarked on the ship S. S. Florida for Havana, Cuba, which is a distance of 100 miles from Miami. We arrived in Havana the next morning. We were met at the wharf by the American Express agent who took charge of us and sent us to the Hotel Regina, an all Spanish hotel.

Cuba, the queen of the Antilles is 700 miles long and 130 wide in its widest place. It has

Trade-At-Home Campaign

The merchants and business men of Santa Anna are beginning a Trade at Home Campaign through the columns of this newspaper and hope to reach every individual reader through advertisements and stories which the News will run from time to time.

These merchants, who have given much time and money in serving you with equipment for their stores and stocks of goods, are inviting you to patronize them. The News is urging that you do patronize them with your business, since without your cooperation this town cannot continue to grow.

The merchants here pay taxes; they contribute to schools and churches; they bring business into this town, which in turn gives its citizens opportunities of making a living, of giving the children an education and giving all religious advantages.

Read the advertisements on this Trade At Home Page and all other advertising in the News. Spend your money in Santa Anna. The merchants deserve your support and they will sincerely appreciate your cooperation.

Here you will find real bargains, and courteous service. Trade in Santa Anna and build your home town. Watch this page each week for changes.

State Officials Must Consent to Cemetery Plans

J. T. Garrett Appointed to Contact Attorney General, Prescott and Davis Regarding Legality

J. T. Garrett has been appointed by the Lions Club to negotiate with the Attorney General, Rep. Ross K. Prescott, and Sen. E. M. Davis in regard to the creation of a district composed of several local school districts for the purpose of Cemetery Improvement.

Santa Anna and several outlying communities are anxious to hold an election to vote a small tax for the purpose of improving and enlarging the Santa Anna Cemetery and it is hoped that these districts may be created into one for this purpose. However, the law does not provide for the creation of such a district and the legality of the proposal will have to be learned before more can be done.

The plan, if approved by authorities, will create one Cemetery District from the territory included in the Santa Anna, Mayo, Liberty, Leaday, Line, Plainview, and Junction school districts. Each will elect a director who will be a member of the Cemetery Board. A small tax will be levied to be collected by the county tax collector, funds to go for the improvement and upkeep of the cemetery grounds.

Beginning A Trade-At-Home Campaign

Business men and many other citizens are cooperating for the next several weeks in carrying on a Trade-At-Home Campaign, for the purpose of increasing the trading in our own home town.

It has been noticeable that many of our citizens are going out of town to do their buying, yet they receive their incomes and salaries from this community. The merchants here have spent time and money to build their stores, stock them and are ready to serve you with the best merchandise.

Out of town concerns contribute nothing to the welfare of the city. They do not pay taxes, they do not pay our citizens their salaries, they give nothing to our churches and schools.

Our local merchants and business houses have always given unselfishly to the local organizations, particularly the schools, for advertisements on programs, for prizes for contests, etc. The merchants give to churches; they donate money and time to all projects of community interest.

But the merchants cannot keep Santa Anna a growing town without the cooperation of every resident. You owe it to your town which gives its citizens their livelihood, which educates the children and furnishes it with religious opportunities the support of your trade.

TRADE IN SANTA ANNA. Build up a pride in your community. Support the home town merchant and keep prosperity with us. You will find it pays.

POPULAR PLAN

Oregon's Senator Steiwer has proposed a constitutional amendment for which some very cogent arguments might easily be made. His amendment would provide for the nomination of presidential and vice presidential candidates by popular vote.

Under that system, the job of a national political party convention would consist merely of writing a platform and rubber stamping the nominations made by the voters.

The amount of horse-trading, thimble-rigging, and plain and fancy conniving which such a system would abolish is something to think about. So, too, is the way in which it would compel each candidate to declare himself, well in advance, on the issues of the day.

It would end the old game of playing it safe, keeping quiet, and refusing to make enemies, and it ought to make the nomination of presidential candidates much more responsive to the popular will. It looks, in short, like an exceedingly sensible amendment. —Abilene Reporter-News

Choral Club, Band Featured at PTA Program

Mrs. J. T. Garrett and Mrs. E. D. McDonald Lead Discussions

The Ward School Choral Club, under the direction of Miss Mary Nell McClendon, and the Santa Anna Band, directed by Tom Wallis, were special guests of the Ward School Parent Teachers Association at their regular meeting April 20. Both musical organizations presented several numbers.

Presiding over the meeting was Mrs. Glen Williamson, president. The discussion topic in Our Neighborhood "Keith and Ray are Not Respectful" was led in an interesting manner by Mrs. J. T. Garrett.

Mrs. E. D. McDonald gave an educational talk on "The Place of Art in Family and Community Life." Training in art implies learning how to draw or paint and developing the ability to judge between what is good and what is poor in all types of art, interior decoration, garden design, photography, and other practical subjects.

"Drawing and painting are merely other ways of expressing experiences so people of all ages from childhood to old age can and do enjoy this form of expression. Any community can make use of its resources to develop aesthetic appreciation. There is no age at which art ceases to be important to the individual."

Some plans were discussed for continuing the band through the summer. However, since so few were present no definite conclusions were made.

Miss Grady's room won the banner for having the greatest percentage of mothers present.

After the usual routine of business the meeting adjourned until the next meeting on May 17.

4,000,000 inhabitants. Havana, its largest city, has a population of 600,000. There are many fine buildings. All buildings are built either of stone or stucco in Havana. The termites are so bad but little wood is used. All modern buildings have walls 15 feet high and tiled floors. There are no mosquitoes or flies and no buildings are screened. I did not see a fly while there. All buildings are highly decorated in bright blues, reds and yellows. Many of the buildings are frescoed. Everything has a foreign aspect. In the old Havana there are barred windows, heavy doors and narrow streets which reminded me of Italy. There are many cafes on the open streets. Beggars in rags are everywhere. There are also many peddlers selling various articles. They are noisy people and talk with their hands and feet, as well as with their tongues.

The Cuban capitol is a very fine building. It cost $7,000,000. It is built of the finest Italian marble. There are sixty-seven different kinds of marble used. The ceilings overhead were done by Italian artists and are very dainty and delicate in coloring. The reception hall extends the entire length of the building, a distance of 400 feet and is 45 feet wide. It is furnished very elaborately in mahogany furniture. A diamond is placed in the center of the hall in the form of six pointed star, each points to a highway leading to the six provinces of the Republic. The workmen paid $30,000 for the diamond and had it put there. The government of Cuba is patterned after our government. One room in the capitol is dedicated to the Cuban women who gave their money and lives for Cuban independence.

There are many Catholic churches. The most beautiful is our Lady of Mercy Cathedral which we visited just before Easter. All of the altars were covered with gorgeous flowers and evergreens. We also visited the old Christobal Cathedral where Columbus was buried.

There are many fine schools and hospitals in Havana with grounds all beautifully landscaped.

Havana is noted for its fine cigars. We visited the largest cigar factory. Many women are employed here. The tobacco is first stemmed and sorted. All work is done by hand.

The best leaves are saved for wrapping the outside of the cigars and the refuse is placed on the inside. The cigars are rolled by hand and glued together and then sorted and placed in cedar boxes and labeled for market.

There are many historical buildings. One of particular interest to me was the old palace of Ferdinand Desoto built in 1538. It was from here he started

TRIBUTE PAID TO MRS. WRIGHT BY A FRIEND

Mrs. Mina G. Wright, wife of the late Rev. J. E. Wright, Cumberland Presbyterian minister, and a resident of McCulloch Co. near Waldrip for more than fifty years, passed away April 7, 1937.

The last few weeks she spent with her daughter, Mrs. Stella Fowden in San Angelo.

She was 82 years of age and was a charter member of the Cumberland Presbyterian Missionary Society at Santa Anna. She rendered valuable service with her writings and financial support.

She will be remembered by her Santa Anna friends, who will regret her departure. A Friend.

ed on his ill fated expedition to North America. A window overlooking the sea was pointed out to us as the one where his sad-faced wife stood and looked in vain for his return. She drowned herself when she learned of his death.

Morro Castle stands at the entrance to Havana harbor and is across the bay from the city. We went over by boat. It was built for a fortress in 598. Two sides of it face the water; the other sides are surrounded by a moat 73 feet deep. There is a light house in front. The old dungeon where the prisoners were placed before being executed was shown to us. It was walled up like a well and dark as night. There is a military school located in the castle now. (This is not the Morro Castle of Spanish American War fame. It is located at Santiago de Cuba.)

We also visited Colon Cemetery which is beautifully landscaped and has many fine mausoleums. The bodies of the dead after they are placed in coffins are covered with quick lime, then placed in vaults. After five years the remains are taken from the coffin and placed in a large urn in the center of the mausoleum, thus leaving a vacant vault where the next member of the family to die is placed. The poor have to rent their vaults and if they fail to pay the rent, the bodies are taken up and piled outside.

The trip I enjoyed most was a thirty-mile trip into rural Cuba. Our first stop was the Tropical Gardens. There were all kinds of plants and flowers from all parts of the world. It is much prettier than Shaw's Garden in St. Louis. Farming is done in a very primitive manner. All plowing that I saw was with oxen. There were no large farms, and most of the work is done by hand. The soil is very rich and the rainfall plentiful. Sugar cane, tobacco and tropical fruits are the main crops. Sugar cane is planted every fifteen years. Bananas grow wild; so do mangoes and many other fruits. Poinsettias and royal palms are growing wild in abundance.

We visited the experimental farm. The government is testing several plants, pineapples and many other strange plants. They also gave poultry. The chickens were all game. Cock fighting is one of their national sports. I did not see any cotton. The Cuban ball game is called jai alai (pronounced hi-ah-lah.) It is played with long-handled baskets attached to the wrists of the players. It is played indoors and the ball is thrown against a wall and has to be caught in the basket. There is much gambling and betting on the game. I judge from what I saw that the Cubans are great gamblers. We visited the casino and watched them play roulette. Many women were playing. Some were American. It always makes me sad to see people gamble. They are so serious and solemn. I believe some of them go insane because many of them commit suicide after they lose all they have.

The Cubans impressed me as a carefree, pleasure loving race. There are many pretty señoritas in Havana. They have bright black eyes and hair and fair skin and dress in the brightest colors that can be had.

The Malecon, a driveway along the seashore is one of the chief promenades. It has two magnificent monuments, one erected in memory of General Antonio Maceo, great hero of the Cuban war of independence. The other is the Maine Memorial Monument, erected by the Cuban government in memory of the 266 American seamen who lost their lives on the battle ship Maine.

Mrs. Cundiff of Bangs Honored on 86th Birthday Sun.

Mrs. L. F. Cundiff of Bangs celebrated her 86th birthday Sunday at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Brinson at Bangs. Her children from Rockwood and other Texas towns were present to wish her a happy birthday.

During the afternoon her picture was taken with her birthday cake which contained 86 green, yellow, and pink candles, and then group pictures of Mrs. Cundiff with her relatives were taken.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Blair and children, Martha, Ware and Nila of Mercury; Mrs. W. W. Cooper and children, Ethel, Ernest, George, Mary, Iria and Arrie of Rockwood; Mr. and Mrs. Lee McMullan of Rockwood; Mrs. Delma Butry and daughter, Elton; Dean Ward, Dock Ellis, Pearl Drury, Darwin Stacy, and Mary Cooper, all of Bangs, the honoree, and the host and hostess and their children, Horace, Frank, and Oleta of Bangs.

BIRTHDAY DINNER HONORS C. T. OWEN

Honoring C. T. Owen, who observed his 77th birthday last Tuesday, April 20, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Owen gave a private birthday dinner at their home at noon on that day.

Mr. Owen had been invited to the house at noon and was surprised on seeing the delicious birthday dinner prepared for him. Present were only the honored guest, Mr. and Mrs. Owen, and Reginald Owen, Jr.

Miss Baxter Entertains H. D. Club and Health Class Recently at Home

Miss Josie Baxter was hostess Tuesday afternoon, April 13 in a joint meeting of the local Home Demonstration Club and Health Class.

Miss Alice Glenn Young, county home demonstration agent, was present and in her introductory remarks she stressed the fact that the principal aim of each club is to make the home pleasant and comfortable. Properly balanced diet and tempting menus were also given due consideration in making healthy and happy individuals.

The chief purpose of Miss Young's visit at this time was to discuss the background of a bedroom. Natural colors in both paint and wall paper are the best selections. Pictures, showing both proper and improper backgrounds for the bedroom were exhibited.

The hostess then served a well-cooked and properly balanced one-dish-meal consisting of baked beef liver with a delicious sauce and the special fresh vegetables that go with this particular meat to make a well balanced meal. The food was attractively arranged on a large platter placed in the center of the table and served cafeteria style.

Mrs. Alan Lynch gave a very interesting analysis of the foods served.

Those present to enjoy this interesting and instructive meeting were Mesdames John Lowe, J. W. Kirkpatrick, S. W. Childers, Jim Scott, A. R. Brown, D. W. Nickens, Carl Ashmore, Daniels, Alan Lynch, J. L. Burden, Roy Stockard, C. T. Malone, Will Bell, N. D. Wyllie, Miss Alice Glenn Young, and the hostess, Miss Josie Baxter.

The next regular meeting of the Home Demonstration Club will be at the club room April 23 at 2:30 p. m.

A Winner Never Quits and a Quitter Never Wins

As the school year comes to a close, students begin to become weaker in their studies. A quitter thinks of the last days and also of the vacation instead of the present day.

If one's grades are low, that is the more reason a person should study for often times the last six weeks determine whether a student passes or not.

Senior Day Is Observed
Friday morning, April 16, at ter a few scuffles and a lot of fun the senior class left for Brownwood to spend the day. The first thing they did was to go skating. There were many laughs and falls. Then they went to Coggin Park and ate. That afternoon they skated again, went swimming and boat riding.

Class Spirit

Class spirit is one of the best assets to school. There is nothing better than class spirit in its place. Such spirit brings about cooperation. It not only promotes cooperation but it causes the members of the class to understand each other better.

Class spirit is not always a good thing. It can be carried too far as well as other things. It can be dangerous to a school and destructive to a class.

Let us make class spirit in our school an asset and not a liability.

TRUE BLUE

What is True Blue? True Blue is being genuine. It is very much like sterling silver. Some silver pieces are lovely to look at and seem to be as good as sterling, but the wear of years reveals their true nature.

Not so with the genuine. The test of the wear of the years only enhances its beauty, for it is solid within and without. True blue, then, must be a state of being dependable, sincere, and true from within one's heart; being in reality what one appears to be.

Would it be too much to say that right thinking is the key to being true blue? It is so easy to let the crowd do our thinking for us and be swept into situations which call for a compromise in ideals.

SAHS is glad to report that Stuart Williams, an industrious senior, will represent the school in the discus contest at the Regional Meet, to be held at Abilene April 23 and 24.

PRACTICAL HOME ECONOMICS COOKERY

DENTON, April 22.—From the standpoint of economy home grown crops take the lead. In the height of their season they almost entirely take the place of bought fruits on the menu, except in so far as others must be drawn upon occasionally for variety.

While it is often doubtful as to whether it pays to buy fruit for canning, there is no doubt but that the surplus of home products should be conserved by canning or by other methods of preservation.

The juices left from canned salad fruits can be combined with a little lemon juice, diluted with water, sweetened to taste and served as a beverage with a simple dessert.

Peach Tapioca Pudding: 1/2 c. tapioca, 1-4 c. sugar, 1-4 t. salt, 1-2 can peaches, 2 T. powdered sugar, and boiling water.

Molded Fruit Salad: 1 level T. of gelatin, 1-4 c. cold water, 1-4 c. boiling water, 1-4 c. sugar, few grains salt, 1-4 c. mild vinegar, 2-3 c. syrup from canned fruit, 1 T. lemon juice, 2 c. mixed fruit.

FRUIT PUNCH: 1 pt. pineapple juice, juice of 1 orange, juice of 2 lemons, 1-2 c. crushed strawberries, 1 pt. water. Make a syrup with 1-2 to 2-3 cup of sugar. Cool before mixing with the fresh fruit juices.

Former Local Resident Writes Home of Trip to Washington As Guest At White House Presentation

Editor's Note: The following is a copy of a letter recently received from Miss Edna McDaniel, Dean of Women of The University of Oklahoma. Miss Edna is a former Santa Anna girl.

Dear Family: It seems to me that you might enjoy an account of my recent visit to Washington, D. C. as an invited guest for the presentation at the White House of the National Achievement Award made this year to Katherine Cornell, our greatest American actress.

The award is made each year, and has been made for the past six years, by the national fraternity known as Chi Omega to the woman in any field who in their opinion has made so outstanding a contribution as to deserve the honor before all others.

Dr. Florence Sabin, whose sister, by the way Stella knew in Denver, was the first recipient (1931) for her work in the field of science.

Miss Edna McDaniel, now Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, and to Miss Frances Perkins in the field of Art. Miss Cornell received it of course for outstanding work in theatrical production.

The affair was marvelous in its setting and air of gracious hospitality extended by the First Lady, our hostess. I must say though that the occasion seemed a bit unreal coming as it did after I had gone by way of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad through what was beyond doubt the worst of the flooded area this way from Cincinnati.

No newspaper account could possibly make an outsider realize the ravages of the flood. I myself could see scarcely anything left worth rebuilding and carrying on in homes and places of business.

I arrived in Washington on Monday in time to be an on-looker at the Easter egg rolling on the lawn of the White House. The turnout of young Americans was amazing and their enthusiasm, whether they represented rags or riches, did not fail to kindle the great number of grown-up observers.

Society. The bishops of our church say that the need is tremendous. They must be met if the church is to hold the moral leadership of the world. That the thin line of overworked missionaries in the ends of the earth deserve and must have reinforcement. If on April the 23 to 25 we can announce success, the news will run like an electric wire current around the world bringing fresh hope and courage. The hour in which we find ourselves is gracious in opportunity but terrible in responsibility. Let us all see that we do our part. We greatly appreciate the fine cooperation our people have given in this "Crusade."

The highest, most important aim of the Bishops' Crusade was the deepening of the Spiritual life of our people, so Santa Anna Methodists are planning to follow with our revival beginning the first Sunday in May. We cannot command a revival. The wind of the Spirit bloweth where it listeth. But does not our knowledge and experience reveal that whenever certain conditions are met and Spiritual attitudes maintained then the outflowing of the Spirit of God comes to the church. Let us as Christians be as loyal to this as we have been to the other part of the campaign. At the suggestion of the Board of Stewards the pastor will try to do the preaching in the revival and will be assisted in the personal work, choir directing, young people's work and children's services by Rev. and Mrs. Crawford from May. May we all begin now to pray for the lost in our midst that we will have a great awakening.

Our Young People's service Sunday night was a success. We greatly appreciate the services of our band and of our District Director, Miss Coppie. Twenty-six young people enjoyed the Zone Meeting at Valera Monday night.

Rev. J. W. McClure, our Presiding Elder, was with us Tuesday night for a successful second quarterly conference.

Rev. J. A. Hall, pastor at Bangs brought the evening message in a fine way last Sunday. The young son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert made a profession of faith in Christ at the close.

Brother Hall has just been called to Sterling City and leaves for there next week. The local pastor and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Lightfoot are conducting a B. T. U. Revival this week for Brother Hall and the Bangs Church, hence the exchange of pulpits.

Glad to Have These New Members

At the morning service Sunday we were happy to welcome Mr. Dennis Smith and Mr. Bill Howard into the fellowship of the church. Let us keep looking forward each week to conversions and additions. God is surely leading us, and we are thankful to Him indeed.

Talpa Has the Brotherhood

Thursday night of this week the Talpa Men's Brotherhood is host to the Associational organization. A large delegation from here will attend. Our local meeting was rained out Tuesday night and we are counting on this to take the place of ours.

Workers Conference Well Attended

With the incentive of a new church building and the return of Rev. Hal C. Wingo to the association, the attendance at the Worker's Conference Tuesday was unusually large in spite of rain and bad roads. Brother Wingo brought a fine message at the eleven o'clock hour, and the Burkett people just outdid themselves in serving a splendid meal. Those attending from here were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Newman, Mr. W. E. Ragsdale, Mr. Ingram and the pastor. Many of the churches reported conversions and baptisms.

Singer Selected Sunday

Mr. Tommie Godfrey, assistant to the pastor of the First Baptist Church of Palestine, Texas, was selected Sunday morning to lead the singing for our Revival meeting to be held July 11 thru the 25. With Rev. A. F. Johnson to preach and such a splendid singer, we should pledge ourselves to definite service and hope for a wonderful meeting as God shall bless our efforts.

Still Another Class Added

The Primary Department added a class last week and now has passed up to such a high enrollment that still another is necessary and will be set up this week. Their growth is a constant joy and testimony of the value of an attractive room, a pleasing program each Sunday and continuous visitation. Leadership that is informed is the way to attain these fine points.

Head for 300 Sunday Morning

Although we slipped back a little in attendance last Sunday, we are still in striking distance of the 300 mark in attendance, and we hope every class will pull hard for a full attendance next Sunday. The Adults had a good increase Sunday, their total being seventy one. Visitors and new members are most heartily welcomed. "Come with us Sunday and we will do thee good."

Liberty H. D. C. Meets at Clubroom in Santa Anna Thursday

"Do not leave a salvage edge as a finished edge for a dresser scarf," Mrs. J. M. Duggins told the Liberty Home Demonstration Club when it met with Mrs. W. A. Standly in the Santa Anna, Club room, Thursday, April 15.

"Use durable materials in whites and cream white. Use few colors. Do not let the scarf hang off the dresser either in front or at the ends." A demonstration on "Dresser Scarfs" was given by the bedroom demonstrator, Mrs. J. M. Duggins. She also gave embroidery patterns for dresser scarfs to the ladies.

Mrs. Standly served a refreshment plate to eleven members and the following visitors from the Santa Anna Club: Mrs. Mae Blanton, Mrs. Carl Ashmore, Mrs. S. K. Moredock, Mrs. Virginia Burrough, Mrs. Lucille Malone, Mrs. Jim Scott, Mrs. John Lowe, Mrs. Roy Stockard, Mrs. D. W. Nickens, and Mrs. Boyd Rainbolt, and four other visitors, Mrs. W. O. Garrett, Mrs. P. D. Hughes, Mrs. Alan Lynch and Miss Gladys Rose.

A call meeting for the club will be at the home of Mrs. J. M. Duggins, Thursday, April 22. The purpose of the meeting is to select articles for a booth at the Democrat Voice Cooking School in Coleman April 26-27-28.

The next regular meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. Alvie Williams on April 29. The program will be "Fly Control" and Mrs. Richard Traylor, Miss Pearl Hughes and LaRue Curry are to give talks.

Chevrolet Truck Is Important in Stock Deliveries

The gentle art of driving cattle in to market has undergone an important and far-reaching change, according to a report recently made public by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The old way was for the rancher to take his cattle out on the road and ride herd on them with the aid of dogs and horses, driving them along the highway to the market center.

For larger markets, the ranchers would drive their cattle into town and load them on railroad cars. Any way you look at it, a cloud of dust was the almost inevitable accompaniment of the market.

But today the truck has shown itself to be so economical and so effective that it now transports a large percentage of all livestock. The Department of Agriculture report shows that during last year, 56 percent, or more than half of all cattle; and 67 per cent, or more than two-thirds of all calves, received at the principal markets of the country arrived by truck.

Truck deliveries of hogs represents a greater proportion of total hog receipts than did those for all other kinds of livestock, with more than 70 per cent of all hogs coming to market arriving by truck. The Chicago stockyards was the only major market in the Corn Belt where more hogs came in by rail than by truck in the last two years.

A little more than 30 per cent of the sheep and lambs arriving at major markets last year came by truck. The proportion of truck arrivals was smaller in these categories because of the longer hauls involved, the department's report stated. The vast majority of these shipments, however, originated in truck hauls from the ranch to the freight loading point.

The report declared that the increased use of trucks in moving livestock is the result of manufacturing developments whereby manufacturers have been able to improve their trucks so as to make them more economical and more suitable for hauling livestock than other methods. Improved highways and the greater flexibility of truck hauls is also cited.

Chevrolet has contributed greatly to this movement. More Chevrolet trucks were put into use in the cattle-raising districts last year than those of any other make, sales figures revealed. Approximately 10 per cent of the 205,000 Chevrolet trucks sold last year went into service in the cattle country.

Twenty years ago, arrivals of livestock at market by truck amounted to less than two per cent of the total received at the country's major markets. The gradual introduction of the light truck in special models peculiarly suitable for use by ranchers is credited with the rapid change in methods of cattle transportation that has occurred particularly during the last two years.

Former Resident Will Buy Dairy Bottles Here. A former Santa Anna man, now a resident of Cortez, Colo., is getting a thrill out of purchasing his dairy bottles from the old home town - bottles made in Santa Anna from Santa Anna sand.

The man is C. W. Rice, who with his wife and children were visiting in this city last weekend as guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Lightfoot.

While here he visited the Knape-Coleman Glass Co. and was very pleased with the bottles the plant puts out. He operates the only dairy in Cortez and plans to begin ordering bottles with the name of his dairy on them very soon.

He said it would "really be a treat to get my dairy bottles from the town where I grew up," and remarked that he would boost the home town industry.

All Cars On The Road Need Motor Oil Change. Every motor vehicle that has been in operation during the winter months should have its engine oil drained, the crankcase should be flushed, and refilled with new oil of the proper grade for the spring season, Mr. O. H. Carlisle, Division Manager for the Gulf Oil Corporation, has advised motorists.

"Engine oil in cars that have been running during the cold months is certain to be diluted and contaminated to the extent that its lubricating value is badly impaired, and in a good many engines this contamination has reached the point where damage to bearings, cylinders and pistons is likely to result if the oil is not changed," the Gulf official continued.

"During winter months considerable water gets into engine oil and contaminates it. Over a gallon of water is produced in an auto engine with the burning of a gallon of gasoline, and during warm weather most of this water is dissipated through the exhaust in the form of vapor or steam. Moisture in the crankcase is condensed to water much more rapidly in cold weather. Motor oil is further diluted by the action of automatic chokes. With cold engines, automatic chokes may remain in operation throughout the period of a short run and permit too rich a mixture, or even raw gasoline, to get into the cylinders and thereby cause dilution of the motor oil. Leakage of anti-freeze solutions, collection of dust and abrasives, and the chemical change that constantly is taking place in motor oil in an engine, in addition to water contamination, makes it very necessary that every car owner have his winter oil drained without delay." Mr. Carlisle concluded.

Campaign Made For Prevention of Diphtheria

Austin, Texas, April 22.—A health slogan applicable to May Day-Child Health Day, "Immunize Now - Stamp Out Diphtheria," is designed to intensify the campaign against one of the most deadly foes of children, diphtheria, according to Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer.

If parents would have their family physician administer toxoid to their child as soon after it reaches the age of six months as possible, much suffering and many deaths could be prevented.

The administering of toxoid is a very simple procedure and causes the child little or no discomfort. In approximately ninety per cent of the children receiving toxoid, there will be established a life long immunity to this disease.

TO BE SURE, four to six months after the final dose of toxoid, the child should be Schick tested so that parents will know definitely whether their child is immune. The test consists of just a few drops of diphtheria toxin between the layers of their skin. If the child is immune, no reaction will be noticed. If not, there will appear redness at the sight of the test that reaches its height the third or fourth day.

Although Texas' population density is only 22.2 per square mile — about half the United States figure of 41.2 — the All-South Development Council says the state's production of wealth from natural resources, principally oil, gas and sulphur, is greater per unit of area than that of the country as a whole.

Shield H. D. Club Meets Thursday at Mrs. McDonald's Home

A very interesting educational demonstration on "Dresser Scarfs" was given by Mrs. Norwood of Gouldbusk Thursday, April 15 to the Shield Home Demonstration Club at the home of Mrs. G. C. McDonald.

The club learned from the demonstration to not put lace on plain everyday use dresser scarfs. Use of Indian Head or natural linen for nice dresser scarfs is good. Put two or three rows of colored bias-tape to match the color scheme carried out in your bed room, around the Indian head dresser scarfs.

Use crochet edging or hem-stitch hems or linen scarfs. Do not have your dresser scarfs hanging off the dresser. Have them about two inches off the edge of the dresser. Make your vanity scarfs the shape of your vanity dresser.

The club will meet for a special program with Miss Young present on April 29 at the home of Mrs. E. S. Jones. The Concho Peak Club will also meet with us at this date.

Fourteen members and two visitors, Mrs. Luther Eden and Mrs. Norwood of the Gouldbusk Club were present. Coconut cake and lemonade was served as refreshment.

Eleven boys working on a National Youth Administration soil conservation work project in Donley county have assisted H. M. Breadlove, county agent, in running terrace lines on 10,000 acres of farm land according to Phil R. Wilson, district project supervisor.
