New higher interest rates on Savings Bonds and Freedom Shares

Now U.S. Savings Bonds pay 41/4%, new Freedom Shares pay 5%.

Today, Savings Bonds are a better investment than ever. Now they pay 41/4 % when held to maturity. And new Freedom Shares pay a full 5% when held to maturity.

Freedom Shares are still sold on a one-for-one basis with Series E Bonds, but now you can buy the combination any time at your bank and not just on a regular monthly plan as before,

The higher interest rate on Savings Bonds applies not only to the new ones you buy, but to your older ones too for their remaining period to maturity—generally effective with the first full six-months interest period beginning on or after June 1. (Outstanding Freedom Shares are not affected).

Buy Bonds and New Freedom Shares—help yourself even more as you're helping your country.

New higher interest rates on Savings Bonds and Freedom Shares

Now U.S. Savings Bonds pay 41/4%, new Freedom Shares pay 5%.

Today, Savings Bonds are a better investment than ever. Now they pay 41/4 % when held to maturity. And new Freedom Shares pay a full 5% when held to maturity.

Freedom Shares are still sold on a one-for-one basis with Series E Bonds, but now you can buy the combination any time at your bank and not just on a regular monthly plan as before.

The higher interest rate on Savings Bonds applies not only to the new ones you buy, but to your older ones too for their remaining period to maturity—generally effective with the first full six-months interest period beginning on or after June 1. (Outstanding Freedom Shares are not affected).

Buy Bonds and New Freedom Shares—help yourself even more as you're helping your country.

"Don't Blame Me"

Startlingly simple was the defense offered by a young man accused of murdering his own father his own father.

"I'm a rough character," he conceded in court, "but it is because my father brought me up that way. He taught me to drink whiskey, use a gun, and run around with a gang. So don't blame me for what I did. Blame my

No doubt the slain father tise court held the son guilty anyhow, because he was old enough and rational enough to take responsibility for his own behavior.

To what degree should extenuating circumstances excuse what would otherwise be a crime? To what degree should a killer be allowed to blame his upbringing; a thief his poverty; a rapist his passion; a vandal his youthful-

In an earlier day, there was little of such talk in the countroom. Wrong brought retribution almost as a matter of course. Scarcely a century ago, a murderer was put to death in an American prison even though was only 12 years old.

But with greater insight into human motivations has come greater understanding in fixing blame.

Thus, mental deficiencies arè increasingly taken into account—not only in deciding on legal guilt but also in setting the punishment. And all states recognize a minimum age below which a person cannot be held to criminal liabilility, Nevertheless, while today's law avoids total responsibllity, it also avoids total irresponsibility. It holds that most people, in most situations, do indeed have freedom of choice between doing right and doing wrong,
