Collide With Cross Plains Friday Night

The Santa Anna Mountaineers lost to the Ranger Bulldogs 28-0. The Bulldogs put 13 points on the scoreboard in the first quarter.

The Mountaineers just couldn't get their offense rolling but their defense looked terrific all night. Time after time Ricky Abernathy was in the backfield rushing the passer and most of the time getting there.

Raymond Valdez was another defensive standout for the Mountaineers making it almost impossible for the Bulldogs to penetrate the line of scrimmage on the ground.

It was the third period before the Bulldogs scored again and it was on a 22-yard pass play. The Bulldogs scored again in the fourth quarter with 3 second left on the scoreboard clock on a 45 yard pass play.

It was the best effort that the Mountaineers have put forth so far this year. Every player on the field put forth his best effort and they all looked great.

The Mountaineers collide with the Cross Plains Buffaloes Friday night in a conference game and if we get the effort that we did against Ranger we just might win our first ball game of the season.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Medical Costs You Can Deduct

Filing his income tax return, Johnny's father took a deduction for the cost of the boy's clarinet lessons. When the government challenged this item, the father explained:

"Johnny has a severe bite problem, and his orthodontist said playing the clarinet would be a great help. Therefore I consider these lessons a medical expense."

After a court test, this argument was upheld and the deduction accepted.

The case illustrates that "medical expenses," which are allowed (within limits) as a tax deduction, may take in a wide variety of costs. Deductions have been permitted for everything from the upkeep of a seeing eye dog to a wig prescribed for the mental health of a girl who had lost her hair.

But the expense must be closely related to a specific medical problem—not just vaguely "good for you."

So accordingly, deductions have been denied for diaper service, tooth paste, and bottled water. In each case, although there was a healthful aspect to the expenditure, no particular ailment was involved.

Nor can you deduct expenses in which the medical benefit is merely secondary to the non-medical benefit.

Thus a deduction was denied for a telephone which had been installed in a sick woman's home. True, the telephone did enable her to summon her doctor in an emergency. But it was also available for everyday household use.

What about travel? An alling taxpayer who took a trip to Florida, just to perk up his morale, was held not entitled to deduct his expenses. The court ruled that the tax laws were not intended to subsidize vacations taken simply to make a taxpayer feel more cheerful.

On the other hand, a man was allowed to deduct the money he spent getting to and from meetings of Alcoholics Anonymous. Noting that he had joined the organization on the advice of a doctor, the court commented:

"Membership was necessary for the treatment of a disease."

Federal Tax Questions And Answers

This column of questions and answers on Federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—I'm not sure what I'm supposed to do with the letter I got from the service center. Can anyone in the local office help me?

A—Yes, call your local IRS office about the letter. When you do, have the letter handy for reference purposes.

If the letter was sent from the service center, the requested information should be sent there unless other instructions are given.

Q—Are life insurance benefits taxable?

A—Death benefits from life, accident and health policies are not considered taxable income.

However, if the benefits are paid in regular installments instead of one lump sum then a portion of the payments may be taxable as interest. This is explained in IRS Document 5045, "Taxable Income and Nontaxable Income." Send a post card to your district director for a free copy.

Q—Can we start taking a withholding deduction for a child we adopted?

A—Yes. A legally adopted child is considered to be your child for dependency purposes.

"Now that 'back to school' time is here students receiving social security benefits should review their individual situations" R. R. Tuley, Jr., manager of the Abilene Social Security Office announced today.

"A child who is receiving social security benefits on the record of a retired, deceased or disabled parent may receive benefits after age 18 and up to age 22 if he is a full-time student, or if he is a resumes his education after a summer vacation. This last point is what we are empha-

"Plans have a way of changing over the summer," Tuley explained. "A student might decide not to go back to school at all—many girls will marry and a boy may have found a job he likes and wants to keep. Or the student might decide to go back to school on a part-time basis, or an employer might offer to help a student with his education. There are other possibilities as well. The student could decide to go to a different school other than the one he first planned to attend. When we attempt to verify attendance the school will have no record. We then have a time-consuming job on our hands re-contacting the student to see if he or she is at another school or not attending school at all. All of these are possibilities, so we want the student to be sure and report any change from the plan originally reported to Social Security."

"School time is here," Mr. Tuley concluded. "The student and his payee should take time to review school actions and report promptly to Social Security any change in the original plan."

Austin, Texas—Presidential candidates wooing Texas voters and the state's 25 electoral votes, are becoming familiar visitors in the Lone Star State.

Republican Richard Nixon swooped into Dallas for a rally Friday. He's likely to return, as is his running mate, Spiro T. Agnew, who also was here earlier.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey will try to breathe new life into the late-starting Democratic drive with a barnstorming tour starting on October 22. Ed Muskie, Humphrey's No. 2 man, is supposed to drop in around the 30th.

Third party candidate Geo. Wallace made plans to return to Texas this week. He scheduled a high-noon rally for Fort Worth for Thursday, October 17. Both Wallace and vice-presidential candidate Gen. Curtis E. LeMay are being encouraged by backers to make repeat performances before November 5.

While waiting for the candidates to make their personal appeals, their supporters fought the battle of the polls.

Humphrey's national headquarters claimed a Belden sampling showed 35 per cent of the Texans interviewed favored Humphreys; 33 per cent were for Nixon; and 28 per cent for Wallace; with just six per cent undecided.

"Strange," retorted Nixon's state camp, since its Merrill-Wirthlin poll showed: Nixon 34 per cent; Humphrey 27 per cent; Wallace 22 per cent; and undecided 17 per cent.

Houston Chronicle interviews concluded Nixon is leading with 40 per cent of the vote. Humphrey ran second in the Chronicle's poll with 33 per cent; and Wallace third with 28 per cent.

Activity in the Humphrey camps definitely is on the upswing. Texas Citizens for Humphrey-Muskie — headed by Sen. Ralph Yarborough — and Texas Democrats for Humphrey-Muskie — led by Congressman Jim Wright of Fort Worth and Will D. Davis of Austin — are battling against time to rally the traditional Democratic strength.

Former Gov. Allen Shivers, who emerged as national chairman of Democrats for Nixon, is actively encouraging "splitting the ticket" — for the GOP national nominee and the Democratic state and local candidates.

APPOINTMENTS

Austin District Judge Tom Reavley replaced retiring Judge James R. Norvell of San Antonio as an associate justice of the State Supreme Court.

Gov. John Connally promptly tapped Norvell as a special judge to review the complex, 12-year-old Lower Rio Grande Valley water rights controversy now on appeal Civil Appeals in Corpus Christi.

Connally named former Corporation Court Judge Jerome Chamberlain as judge of Criminal District Court No. 1 in Dallas County to succeed Judge J. Frank Wilson, resigned.

W. Astor Kirk of Austin, who has been deputy director of the Southwest Regional Office of Economic Opportunity, now is regional director of the Mid-Atlantic OES in Washington, D. C.

P. C. Naylor, Jr. of San Antonio will serve as chairman of the Texas Real Estate Commission next year.

State Board of Education requests information before November 11 on Texans eligible for appointment to a board vacancy in the district covered by Bastrop, Blanco, Burnson, Burnet, Caldwell, Hays, Lee, Travis, Washington, and Williamson Counties.

COURTS SPEAK

Awards totaling $477,900 to seven persons injured in a truck and Greyhound bus wreck three years ago was upheld by the State Supreme Court.

High Court, while declining to annual an order appointing Houston attorney Leon Jaworski to the board of trustees of the Robert A. Welch charitable foundation, agreed that the appointment should be given full court hearing.

Tight of Temple to retain 549.9 acres of land annexed five years ago was upheld by the Supreme Court, even tho the city had not provided water or sewer service to the territory.

The same court backed a trial court decision in holding that no vacancy existed with regard to 155.1 acres of land in Upton County and that the property belongs to Atlantic Refining Company.

Court of Criminal Appeals stuck by its reversal of a seven-year sentence given a Houston tobaccoist Mair J. Schepps charged as an accomplice in printing counterfeit cigarette tax stamps. State motion for rehearing was overruled.

ELECTION SUIT FAILS

Laurel N. Dunn, an independent candidate for the 11th District congressional seat held by the U. S. Rep. W. R. Poag, lost in his lawsuit before the Texas Supreme Court to challenge state election regulations.

Dunn wanted to force Secretary of State Roy Barrera to change his election handbook because it requires the "check" method of marking ballots, and Dunn insisted that the "scratch" method should have equal sanction.

Under state law, ballots may be marked either way, so long as the voter is consistent all through his ballot.

SALES-TAX CHALLENGE

The Texas Supreme Court will hear an appeal from a lower court's ruling that transportation of material between the seller and the buyer is subject to the state sales tax if the transporting is part of the sale.

High court will review a holding by the Third Court of Civil Appeals at Austin, which overturned a ruling by a district court and ordered Gifford-Hill & Co. to pay the state $15,232 in taxes, penalties and interest.

Gifford - Hill sells sand, gravel and crushed stone, hires trucking companies to transport it to the buyer, pays the carrier itself and bills the buyer for the transportation costs.

Film maintained that this amounted to transportation after the sale, which would make the shipping non-taxable. The district court agreed, but the civil appeals court did not.

TRUCKERS' SUIT

Three vegetable truckers have sued the Texas Railroad Commission for granting three other truckers permits to carry fresh vegetables for hire around the state.

Charles Long of Rusk, Alvin Land and his Land Trucking Co. of Raymondville and Rio Grande Truckers Inc. the plaintiffs, are each authorized to transport "fresh fruits and vegetables" from and to any point in the state.

L. T. Waldrop of Seminole, V. E. Nelson of Dimmitt and W. A. Jobs of Saragosa got Commission approval to begin trucking vegetables from within 200 miles of their home towns to any point in Texas.

The three contestant claim that the Commission's granting of the permits amounts to unfair competition for them. Their lawsuits are pending in Travis County districts courts.

AIRLINE HEARING PUT OFF

Texas Aeronautics Commission Director Charles Murphy ordered a 10-day postponement of the application of Air Texas to provide commuter plane service linking Austin, Houston, Fort Worth and San Antonio.

Postponement came when Air Southwest Company, which is waging a court fight to serve Dallas - Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio, urged dismissal of the competing application.

Air Texas dropped its original application to fly between Fort Worth and Wichita Falls. It proposes back-and-forth service between Fort Worth and Austin, Houston and San Antonio in Beechcraft Queen Airliners.

GAS REGULATION HIT

Gov. John Connally lambasted as "unrealistic and discriminatory" a Federal Power Commission rollback on natural gas sold to interstate lines but said the policy could benefit Texas.

Regulation, said the governor, may dry up supplies, put many small producers out of the search for gas and drive new gas discoveries into intrastate market.

On the other hand, Connally contended, Texas may be benefitted, since industries requiring natural gas will be "forced to locate in gas-producing areas."

committee of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission, Chairman Jim C. Langdon spoke out against a Maine petroleum producer's application for a special oil import quota, warning it would hurt production in Texas, Louisiana and Alaska.

SDEC TO MEET

New State Democratic Executive Committee will hold its first meeting in Dallas on October 21.

Purpose of the session, said SDEC chairman Dr. Elmer C. Baum of Austin, is to "review the challenges facing the Texas Democratic Party and to analyze methods which will continue to strengthen" it.

To be more specific SDEC projects a massive get-out-the vote drive, aimed primarily at making the state safe for Democratic incumbents and newcomer candidates at the state and local level.

DRAFT QUOTA UP AGAIN

December draft call for Texas increased to 869 (from 523 in November), according to Col. Morris S. Schwarz, state Selective Service chief. Inductions will occur between December 1-14.

Quotas for October and September were 774 and 683. Highest monthly call in 1968 was in May, when quota of 2,223 was issued. Monthly calls for 1967 ranged from 674 to 1,421. Schwartz said 1,928 men will be sent to pre-induction mental-physical exams during November, compared to 6,697 in October.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

For a number of years the withholding tax system has worked well. Wage earners find that it is a lot easier to pay their tax throughout the year than to try to save enough to make a big payment at the end of the year. Changes such as this year's surtax charge perturb many taxpayers when they think of coming down to April 15 and having to pay additional tax. While most employers do an excellent job of withholding income and social security taxes for and paying these taxes to Uncle Sam, there is a small group who misunderstand the law. These employers feel that they are not required to withhold on a student working during the summer, or a housewife who will work at Christmas, since the employee will not earn $600 and will not be required to file an income tax return. IRS points out that this is wrong, since the housewife would ordinarily be liable for tax on community income here in Texas, and that the student might well have income from other sources that would require him to file and pay taxes—

WOULD YOUR CONGRESSMAN VOTE FOR GEORGE WALLACE?

Some fine Texans are tempted to vote for the 3rd party candidate because they admire his stand and his statements on some of the major campaign issues . . .

STOP AND THINK WHAT WILL ACTUALLY HAPPEN . . .

The best that Wallace supporters can hope for is enough strength to throw the election into the turmoil of a Congressional election by the House of Representatives . . .

THEN WHAT HAPPENS?

The answer is certain and simple. Wallace supporters are at the mercy of Washington Politicians! Every vote for George Wallace automatically becomes a vote for Hubert Humphrey!

THERE IS A BETTER CHOICE . . .

A vote for the NIXON-AGNEW ticket is a positive vote for "change" with the definite promise that our National Affairs will take a new direction . . . the direction you want it to take!

YOU CAN TAKE OUR WORD FOR IT!

Honorable Strom Thurmond
