Breeder-Feeder Auxiliary In Called Session

After dinner with the committeemen of the Breeder-Feeder Association the Auxiliary met in a called session at the Rodeo building.

Since the nominating committee had no report for a name for president for the ensuing year, nominations from the floor were called for. Mrs. Theo Griffiths was nominated by Mrs. Raymond McElrath, second by Mrs. Edgerton and she was elected by acclamation.

The construction committee member for this next quarter were Mrs. Weldon Davis, Mrs. David Watson, Mrs. W. F. Fenton, Mrs. Tom Kingsbery and Mrs. Cecil Horne.

Mrs. E. W. Scott, assisting Mr. Scott who is new president of the Breeder-Feeder, passed out slips for drawing as hosts each month of next year.

Mrs. Newman told of the 4-H group — "The Singing Americans"—having been invited to the extension agents meeting in Louisville, Ky., in October and made a motion that the Auxiliary donate $25.00 toward their expenses on this trip. They voted to do so and wish for the group a very enjoyable and informative trip. We had two new members at the meeting and some twenty paid dues.

Let's keep our organization going by being present at as many meetings as possible and trying to get other new members.

Methodist Men To Meet For Program, Supper

The Methodist men will meet for supper and program on Thursday, August 29, in the Fellowship Hall at the Church.

Rev. Frank Leach will speak on the "Ministry of the Laity." All young men are invited to the meeting.

Outdoors In Texas

Probably the first fish a youngster catches is the so-called perch or bream, or if you want to be more formal, the sunfish.

Some anglers never graduate from this stage, continuing to catch these diminutive batters right on through life . . . an understandable and admirable thing to do. Catching perch, anyway you take it, is just plain, wholesome fun. Trouble is, most anglers approach the sport with the wrong idea. They use heavy tackle that soon aborts any notions the perch may have about putting up a protest.

Secret is to catch them on light tackle, the lighter the better, something like an ultra-light spinning outfit with two-pound-test line or maybe a fly rod. Ounce for ounce, the perch is the fightiest fish that swims. It even puts the black bass to shame. Show me a perch and a bass the identical size and it will be no contest in a tugging match. The sunfish will win every time.

Only regrettable thing is that the sunfish doesn't grow very large. Get one a half pound or larger and you've got a BIG ONE. But even one the size of your hand can put a healthy bend in an ultra-light spinning rod or a fly rod.

In some places, like Caddo Lake and Lakes O' the Pines in Northeast Texas, Dam B Lake in Southeast Texas, and Marble Falls Lake in Central Texas, catching sunfish is popular sport.

On Lake O' the Pines, one of the favorite baits is the gray cricket. Most anglers fish along the trees standing in the lake. They lower the cricket down deep where the sunfish hang out.

There are many members of the sunfish family in Texas. True identification of your catch is compounded because of hybrids and inter-breeding between the species. Some of them are truly colorful characters, being spotted and touched with bright colors.

One of the most popular members of the family in Texas is the so-called goggle-eyed perch. This actually is the warmouth. It is sort of an olive green all over with a large mouth, looking off-hand something like a black bass.

Another favorite is the bluegill. Since the overall coloration will vary, the best identifying marks, universally, are the several black spots visible at the rear part of the top fin when the fin is spread open.

Other important Texas species are the yellow-breasted sunfish. These can really be confused. Actually the yellow-breast has longer ears than the long-ear and the long-ear has a more vivid yellow breast than the yellow-breasted.

The common sunfish also is quite common and can best be identified by a bright red spot on the gill cover and light blue stripes on its cheeks.

Another important one is the green sunfish, which as its name implies is generally green all over.

Actually, identification is something most fishermen could care less about. They just like to catch and eat the perch, its nationality be-hanged. No elaborate tackle is needed to catch perch. An ordinary cane pole will suffice. But it is more fun on sporting tackle like an ultra-light spinning outfit or fly-rod.

Most perch are taken on bait. But this is because the fishermen never have learned the greater pleasure they can get from catching them on artificial baits. Tiny spinner baits and wet flies will take almost as many in number, and usually the average size taken on artificials will run larger than those on comparable natural baits.

It is wise to remember, however, that the wet flies should be small, about No. 10 in size. Also good at times are small popping bugs.

The list of baits that will tempt perch is almost endless. Favorite, of course, is the earthworm. Also good are small grasshoppers, crickets, tiny bits of frozen shrimp, and grubs.

Believe it or not, the perch belongs to the same family as the black bass. Actually, the black bass isn't a true bass at all. It's a member of the sun-fish family. For this reason you'll find sunfish in about the same place you'll find bass. Surprisingly true . . . perch rate high on the bass' everyday diet.

Look for perch around submerged stumps and rocks, along moss beds and around weeds, generally in water from about a foot to ten feet deep. Work your bait slowly to catch them.

As for preparing them for eating, just scale, dress and cut off the heads. Fry richly brown in a deep skillet of grease where the many bones become brittle and you can eat fins, bones and all.

Fried perch make a delicious meal!

The traditional range for varmints is 175 yards and up—the traditional upper limit being 400 yards. To a very few specialists in rock chuck country, "up" means as much as 1000 yards, but they employ larger-caliber rifles than the traditional varmint weapon.

A traditional sight is an 8X scope, but sights ranging from 6X big game scopes to 24X target scopes have been used successfully.

The cartridge? The traditional, and currently popular, is the .22-250. The history of this cartridge goes back to the 1920s, when wildcatters made a 22-250 by taking the .250-3000 Savage case and blowing it out, squeezing it down, changing the shoulder angle, cutting it off and necking it down. In the 1930s manufacturers followed, and the first rifles chambered for this cartridge were produced. Now Remington makes a 22-250 cartridge, and practically every arms factory that turns out varmint rifles chambers for it.

The second most popular varmint cartridge, though it has a slightly lower muzzle velocity, is the .222 Remington; in third place is the .243 Winchester.

So we have heavy varmint rifles and light varmint rifles, light varmint bullets and the heavier varmint bullets. Is this because we have heavy varmints like the lobo wolf and light varmints like the ground squirrel and prairie dog? The size of the varmint, says Pete Brown, Arms Editor of Sports Afield Magazine, is seldom the reason for selecting the size of the rifle or bullet. The 22 bullets traveling at high speed are devastating; they can flatten varmints of any size—the big ones as well as the little sod puppies. Why would anyone select the less powerful of the two most popular .22 cartridges?

First, the higher the velocity, the greater the barrel wear. Second, the higher the power the greater the noise. Third, some shooters don't want or need the high velocity; conditions perhaps do not warrant it.

On the other hand, if a 22 high-powered bullet will undo any varmint, why go to a larger caliber and more powerful cartridge? First, the hunter in this case is probably seeking a compromise cartridge—one that will serve for both varmints and deer-size game. Second, the larger bullet will be less sensitive to wind and perform better out at the longer ranges.

Of course, any big-game rifle can be used for varmint shooting. But tradition favors the smaller calibers. In fact, a new tradition in a varmint caliber may be just over the horizon: the .17!

Mrs. Bill Lowry had her son, Bascom Lowry and Bill Killam of Austin visiting this week.

Almost One Million Fish For Amistad

Del Rio — If a fisherman dreamed of an angler's paradise, huge, new Amistad Reservoir nearing completion and straddling the Texas-Mexico line might emerge in technicolor.

The lake at the confluence of the Rio Grande and Devil's River is being heavily stocked by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Supt. Wallace Clary of the No. 2 San Angelo Fish Hatchery has delivered large numbers of bass and channel catfish to the lake that will inundate Devil's Lake and Lake Walk.

To date Clary has stocked 787,750 bass fry, 70,000 advanced fry up to 1 1/4 inches long, 39,475 fingerling bass, as well as 16,800 fingerling catfish. Additional releases of game fish are planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Burleson of Abilene spent Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Drake.

Mrs. Frankie McCarthy, Mrs. Ida Mae Wamsley and Mrs. Charm Cullum of Dallas spent Wednesday and Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Caldwell. The occasion was their mother, Mrs. Tina Steward's birthday anniversary. She was a luncheon guest both days with the group.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wington Mr. and Mrs. Otto Wojtek from Robert Lee, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Oakes and son, Robert, of Brownwood and Mr. and Mrs. Welton Holt of Coleman were in Santa Anna Sunday for the funeral of Charles A. Walters.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting)

As rich in tradition as major-league baseball is the sport of varmint shooting.

The traditional varmint weapon is a bolt-action or single-shot lever-action rifle chambered for a high-velocity, highly accurate center-fire cartridge. Traditionally, the gun has a heavy barrel and weighs in the area of 8 to 9 1/2 pounds. Most manufacturers, however, are also offering the varmint shooter in standard weight, bolt action high powered rifles, in the 6 1/2 to 8 pound bracket. Some hunters who do a lot of walking are inclined to prefer the lighter weight.

Federal Tax Questions And Answers

This column of questions and answers on Federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—I got married several months ago. If I keep on working should my husband claim my exemption or should I continue to take it?

A—If you plan to file a joint return at the end of the year as most married couples do, it won't make too much difference who claims your exemptions for income tax withholding purposes. However, if you think separate returns would be to your advantage then you should continue to claim your own exemption.

Q—Which ever you decide, remember if your husband claims your withholding exemption then you will no longer be entitled to claim it. To make a change in the number of exemptions claimed, a new withholding certificate, Form W-4, Employee's Withholding Exemption Certificate, should be filed with your employer.

Q—I have a fellowship that will help pay my way through graduate school. Will I have to pay tax on it? A—Income from a fellowship is usually tax exempt. If you are a candidate for a degree there is no limit on the amount of tax free income you may receive from a fellowship or scholarship grant.

However, if you teach or perform other services in connection with the award, you may not exclude that portion of the award that represents payment for this work. The exception to this rule would be if all candidates for the degree, whether they have a fellowship or not, are also required to perform these services.

Q—I have a little antique shop that I operate part-time. Can I put what I make from this business into a tax-free retirement plan?

A—Up to 10 per cent of your net earnings from the shop, up to a maximum of $2,500, may be invested in a self-employed retirement plan. Your contributions to such a plan can be deducted.

For details on retirement plans for self-employed individuals, send a post card to your district office and ask for Document No. 5592, Retirement Plans for Self-Employed Individuals.

Q—I finally got my refund. Shouldn't I get interest on it? I have to pay interest to the government when I'm late in paying.

A—The government does pay interest on refunds that are not issued within 45 days of the due date of the return or the date the return is filed, whichever is later. The interest rate is 6 per cent per annum, the same rate taxpayers are charged who are late in paying their taxes.

Q—We sold some of our furniture for practically nothing when we moved. Is that a tax loss?

THEY'RE WILD ABOUT TEXAS! Literally, they are Texas wildlife—everything, or everybody, from ocelots and armadillos to sunfish and snakes will be on exhibit in the Agriculture Building during the 1968 State Fair of Texas Oct. 5-20 in Dallas. The wildlife exhibit, presented by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, is made up of the many birds, mammals, fishes and reptiles from the various geographical sections of Texas—all live.

Star-spangled sheepskin.

How do you put aside enough money to put a child through college? Like this: join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or Bond-a-Month Plan where you bank. When graduation day comes, you may not see the stars spangled over the sheepskin, but you'll know they are there. Because the Bonds that grew enough in interest to pay for college also helped your Uncle Sam.

Buy Bonds—help your country as you help yourself.

NOW—Higher Rates!

Savings Bonds now pay 4.25% when held to maturity—and Freedom Shares (sold in combination with E Bonds) pay a full 5%. The extra interest will be added as a bonus at maturity.

And now you can buy the Bond/Freedom Share combination any time—no monthly commitment necessary. Get the facts where you work or bank.

U.S. Savings Bonds,
new Freedom Shares

A—No. The law does not allow a deduction for losses on the sale of personal property.

Q—How far can IRS go back in checking a person's tax return?

A—The basic statute of limitations is three years from the date the return was filed or the date it was due, whichever is later. In fraud cases or where no return is filed there is no limitation.

Mrs. Halle Jernigan accompanied by the children of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Lyon, who are Lana Kay, Mike, Junior and Timothy Lyon. All from Buchanan Lake vicinity were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Morris last Tuesday. Lana Kay is in the 8th grade and 12 years ago Mike was born in Santa Anna.

Sunday afternoon Tom and I decided to drive around a while, and headed toward San Angelo and visited with Tom's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Langer and son in San Angelo. But must say we didn't feel so good about our crops after our drive. We think when looking at Farm magazines and see pictures of feed that just can't be real, but we saw feed as pretty as any picture.

The feed around Eola is making about 4000 pounds per acre on unirrigated land. The combines are really running, but good to say on Sunday afternoon with feed everywhere combines were stopped. But with 3 or 4 combines in each field it won't be many days before it is harvested.

Jack Allen, a patient in V. A. Hospital in Temple, was at home for the weekend with Mrs. Allen and Sammy.

"How much is a hospital worth?" asks Merl Roller, secretary of the Santa Anna Hospital board. "It's priceless."

In a hospital one finds the dignity of birth and death—and many happenings in between. For all ages and all people there is a most urgent need for services available only in a hospital, Roller emphasized.

There is the beginning of life when the doctor spans the first breath of life from the newborn baby. And what exacting care this baby receives from devoted nurses. When he wants something, he just howls for it—and he gets it!

What new mother will ever forget that first trip to the hospital when her friends came to see the new arrival in his crib. At this time the hospital takes on an almost sacred air—the miracle of the creation of life.

The youth approaches his school age and is very likely to visit a hospital at this time, probably to give up his tonsils. Not even the promise of all the ice cream he can eat makes this trip very enjoyable. He learns at this young age that is the hospital—even though he is sick-attentive, gentle nurses and kindly, understanding doctors will soon make him feel better.

The young boy develops almost overnight into a game-happy teenager. Here again it is very likely that he will be visiting a hospital. A foot broken on the basketball court needs mending, or a nose broken in that last varsity football game needs medical attention.

The young boy now has grown into a mature young man. What a red-letter day—to be 21! Now he can vote, he can marry, he can be independent of his parents, he can choose his own way of life, his own career. But here too, the young adult may have need for the services of the hospital. A serious car accident, an injury on his new job, an emergency appendectomy.

All too soon the man approaches middle age. The pressures of raising his family and working hard for their security and happiness have taken their toll. One day at the office he collapses. A quick trip to the hospital and the emergency care may save his life.

And so finally, the man goes on to reach the golden age, the twilight time of his life. He looks back and he thinks that life has been pretty good. Even with all the troubles, sorrow and disappointments he probably wouldn't have it any other way.

Now perhaps, for the last time, he may have to visit a familiar place again—the hospital. He knows that he will receive tender care and that everything humanly possible will be done for him. Even the minister will be brought in to comfort him. "Yes, from the newborn baby to the elderly gentleman, no other institution will ever be needed or so appreciated by a family," Mr. Roller said.

PROTECTION OF LANDSCAPE TREES

Damaging existing trees on property under construction can be costly. A large healthy tree is a valuable and often irreplaceable asset to any property, and often it is killed or damaged beyond repair because construction crews, supervisors or property owners are careless in excavation and construction activities, says Everett E. Janne, landscape horticulturist.

Mrs. T. B. Hallford and son, Lloyd, of San Antonio spent last week with Mrs. John Kemp. They all attended the Hallford family reunion at Abilene Saturday.

Mrs. Norman Cash, Jay and Julle of Detroit, Mich., spent Monday night with the Harper girls and visited other relatives.

Austin, Texas — Tradition-ly Austin has been the head-quarters site for Texas cam-paigns of presidential candi-dates. But George Wallace's official campaign headquar-ters now is located 49 miles to the south in New Braun-fels.

It was moved from the capitol city to within 30 min-utes drive of the office of the party's state chairman, Bard Logan of San Antonio. This move is significant — espe-cially to those 600,000 Texans who are expected to vote for Wallace in November.

When the state executive committee of the American Party decided to replace Miss Jane Sumner of Austin with Jack Zengler of New Braun-fels, named Sam Rains of Austin as treasurer, replac-ing Mrs. Margaret Bacon of Austin; and demoted Mrs. Jewell Lemons of San Antonio from the committee, charges of "Birch-ism" were hurled. Miss Sumner ran for Con-gress on the Republican tick-et in 1966 and Mrs. Bacon had served as secretary to Liberal Democrat Franklin Spears of San Antonio during Spears' 1966 bid for State At-torney General.

"It's not the Birch people that are causing the trou-ble," Chairman Logan says, "It's the anti-Birch people. They were all looking for Birchers when they were get-ting signatures to get Wal-lace on the ballot. Now that the job has been done, they seem to want to fight."

Logan said he didn't think the internecine battle would harm Wallace's Texas cam-paign, and Mrs. Bacon said she still intends to work for votes for Wallace.

Wallace will be in the state Sept. 16 to speak at a $25-a-plate fund-raising dinner in Dallas on the eve of the American party's Sept. 17 state convention there. He's also scheduled to speak to the convention.

GUBERNATORIAL CAMPAIGNS HEAT UP

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith's announcement that he would not go to the National Demo-cratic Convention in Chicago because he would rather use that time to get better ac-quainted with delegates to the State Democratic Con-vention, to be held in Austin on Sept. 17, came as something

But it's not the first time Smith instinctively has steer-ed clear of battle within the party—as the Chicago scene was sure to be. He has gain-ed some wide-spread and rather unexpected support from liberal Texas Democrats be-cause he refused to go with Gov. John Connally, then Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and Speaker Ben Barnes to head off a migrant workers' march to Austin two years ago.

Smith, however, says he is serious about wanting to meet and talk to state con-vention delegates because he wants to command the con-vention. The September state convention is known as the "governor's convention." It will be interesting to see who wins control—the man who is governor now or the man who is the Democratic nomi-nee.

There's no doubt among Republicans that the star of their state convention in Fr. Worth on Sept. 17 will be GOP gubernatorial candidate Paul Eggers. Eggers is run-ning a hard race against Mr. Smith.

CONSTITUTIONAL REVISION RECOMMENDATIONS

While Texas Democrats are taking a stormy role in nomi-nating a presidential candi-date in Chicago, a poten-tially historic event will be unfolding on the home front.

In a three-day Austin meeting this week, State Con-stitutional Revision Commis-sion is wrapping up its final recommendations for a new Texas constitution.

Sub-committees completed their year - long studies last month.

Fireworks are anticipated on these proposals:

- * Four year terms for gov-ernor and all other state-wide officials who now have two year terms.

- * Constitutional change that would also give the governor power to remove and replace appointees to boards and commissions.

- * A requirement that state senate closed-door sessions on appointments by the governor be abolished.

- * Authority for the legisla-ture to instruct courts as to how they will handle appeals from state administrative agency actions.

- * Provisions for county home rule and optional plans for consolidation of political subdivisions and functions within a county.

- * Appointment of Supreme Court and Court of Criminal Appeals judges by the gov-ernor from a nominating commission slate of three.

MOBILE BIKINI MARTINI — Scientists have dis-covered a way to package cocktails in cans so that they will remain fresh for more than a year. The secret is in the inner plastic coating of the aluminum cans used by the new Club Cocktails, developed by research-ers at Heublein, Inc. The convenience product and package were designed to meet the needs of an increas-ingly mobile society. Canned cocktails now go any-where beer cans do — at the beach, at poolside, or picnics, in boats, at football games. They need only be chilled before serving. An 8-ounce can contains enough for three drinks and generally retails for under a dol-lar. There are six varieties — martinis, whiskey sours, daiquiris, margaritas, manhattans and screwdrivers.

* Easier access to courts for taxpayers protesting as-sessments.

Recommendations agreed on by the revision commis-sion must go to the legisla-ture next year. Legislature then can submit all or any part of the recommendations to the voters — or reject them entirely.

Aside from its recommen-dations of minor controver-sial nature, commission has made a good-faith effort to tighten and streamline the constitution and chop out the long-recognized dead wood.

APPOINTMENTS

Governor Connally reap-pointed three members of the Pan American College Board of Regents to terms expiring in 1973. They are Lou Has-sell of Houston, Leonel Garza of Brownsville, and Mc-Allen Attorney Morris Atlas.

Then the governor named Dan Eddy of Dallas to the Good Neighbor Commission to serve out the term of the sen-ate Walter McBee of Dal-las. Eddy, a Salvation Army official, has been credited with establishing the Salva-tion Army in Mexico, and served there previously as Army field representative.

House Speaker Barnes has named these committees:

- * To study election law:—Reps. Ronald Bridges of Cor-pus Christi, James D. Cale of Greenville, Russell Commings of Houston, Rayford Price of Palestine and J. W. Stroud of Dallas.

- * To study recreational wa-ter safety—Reps. Ben Atwell of Dallas, J. D. Weldon of Port Arthur, Gerhardt A. Schulle of San Marcos, Bill T. Swanson of Houston and Leroy Wieting of Portland.

- * To assist in a study to determine the feasibility of creating a Texas stock ex-change—Reps. David Finney of Fort Worth, Don Cavness of Austin and Dick McKis-sack of Dallas.

C. R. Baskin is the new acting chief engineer of the Tex-as Water Development Board, succeeding John J. Vander-tulp, who is joining the In-ternational Boundary and Water Commission in El Paso as principal engineer.

Texas Department of Men-tal Retardation has trans-ferred Wichita Falls State Hospital Supt. Dr. Willard Segerson to that post at the Austin State Hospital.

WILDLIFE PLANS

Parks and Wildlife Com-mission adopted a $17.5 mil-lion operating budget for the next fiscal year.

The Commission will ask the 1969 Legislature to ap-propriate money to reopen the fish and water-exchange pass between Corpus Christi Bay and the Gulf across Mus-tang Island.

Commission also set Texas Duck season for December 14—January 1. Daily bag limit was set as four and posses-sion limit at eight. Goose season will be Oct. 20-Jan-uary 12, with daily bag and possession limit of five.

Studies of the ecology of prairie chickens and ways to increase their population—perhaps enough to hunt for them someday—have been authorized by the Commis-sion for the year beginning Sept. 1.

Open season was set for November 16—November 21 for deer in Devil's pocket unit of the Angellina Management area.

CITY WATER PRICES VARY

"Water Service in Texas Cities," new publication by the Texas Municipal League, indicates a wide spread in water prices throughout the state of Texas.

Lowest city rate is Uvalde's $2.50 per 10,000 gallons; the highest is Terrell's $10.25. League said average water prices charged by 61 cities of populations between 10,000 and 25,000 is $6.00 per 10,000 gallons.

TIDELANDS ARGUMENTS AGAIN

The U. S. Supreme Court has granted Atty. Gen. Craw-ford C. Martin an Oct. 14 re-quested hearing on location of Texas shoreline or the point from which Texas mea-sures its submerged land boundaries.

Last December a decision granting Texas ownership of tidelands to 10.3 miles into the Gulf of Mexico held that where shoreline has reced-ed, Texas cannot claim the 1845 historic boundary (which would give Texas more acre-age). Federal government also would deny Texas its 10.3-mile area where the shore has built out into the Gulf.

At stake is about 36,000 acres. Since 1950 the dis-puted acreage has yielded more than $100 million in oil-gas leasing for permanent school fund.

SHORT SNORTS

Texas Education agency estimates 123,855 profession-al educators will be needed to instruct 2,661,454 pupils who will be reporting to class-es in September; and con-cludes that language improve-ment is the most important educational need to serve children from low income families.

The State Banking Com-mission rejected an applica-tion for new American Bank of Commerce, Harlingen.

Attorney General Martin has been in Washington to study how Texas can admin-ister its portion of more than $100 million appropri-ated by Congress for crime fighting in 1968.

In spite of increased in-come taxes and inflation, re-tail sales in Texas made a three per cent gain in July over June sales, reports UT's Bureau of Business Research.

Texas Adjutant General Thomas S. Bishop says the U. S. Defense Department's decision to close Nike-Hur-culese missile sites in Den-ton, Duncanville and Terrell will mean a $1.4 million an-nual loss to Texas' economy.

What's Your Social Security Cost? What's It Worth To A Family?

(This is the second of a series of three articles on the cost and value of today's social security prepared by R. R. Tuley, Jr., Abilene District Manager for the Social Security Administration)

The preceding article covered the person reaching 65 at the end of this year and retiring after minimum taxes. And what about the young person aged 22, just starting his career of 43 years of work or self-employment before reaching age 65. What will he invest in social security and what will it bring him in return.

Using the current and projected tax rates, the employee will pay in $16,490 toward his retirement benefit at age 65 (or $39,700 if you add 3 1/4% compound interest on the assumption he would otherwise have invested that $16,490 as the months went by). With the average male life expectancy of 13 years at age 65, and with a wife also 65 (81% of men reaching 65 are married), the retirement benefits due him and his wife would total $42,860—$3,160 more than the value of his social security contribution.

Actuaries state that under the schedule of contributions now in the law, the young worker will get social security retirement benefits worth from 15 to 20% more than their own contributions plus an interest allowance. It appears rather certain they will get even more, for as wage levels continue to rise income to the social security system increases at a rate faster than corresponding benefit liabilities. Future benefits can therefore be raised without further increasing the taxes.

What else do you buy with your social security taxes? See the third article, soon to appear in this newspaper.

TAX NEWS
The Texas Community Property law creates quite a few differences in the income tax you owe. One of the surprises is the fact that both halves of the community property estate are re-evaluated as of the date of death.

To illustrate how this works grandpaw and grandmaw bought a 1,000-acre ranch in 1920 for $1,000. Under the community property law of Texas, if they sold the ranch in -967, grandpaw had a $500 basis for his half and grandmaw had a $500 basis for her half. In 1948, they struck oil on the ranch, and shortly before grandpaw's death in 1968 an engineering appraisal placed a $1,000,000 value on the ranch. The Crude Oil Company offered them $1,000,000 for the property, but grandpaw decided not to sell; even though they could take a capital gain, they would owe about $250,000 taxes, since they only had a $1,000 basis. Grandpaw died on May 1, 1968. His half of the property went to their children, but grandmaw still owned her half. However, on December 1 grandmaw decided to take the Crude Oil offer of $500,000 for her property. She does not owe any income taxes. Naturally there will be an estate tax on the $500,000 value of grandpaw's property. The effects of the community property law have become far more important in recent years, since the value of most property has increased a great deal during the life span of the owner.

Game Arrests Up Over Last Years

Austin — Arrests for game, fish and water safety violations in July, 1968 totaled 1,332, a 3.9 per cent increase over the 1,282 citations issued in July, 1967.

The most numerous arrests were made for water safety violations. Of the 631 total, 375 citations were for failure to have a Coast Guard approved life saving device for each person in the boat. 112 citations were issued for operating a motor boat without registration on board.

Fishing violations totaled 614 with 574 of these being fishing without a license.

Hunting violations numbered 69 with the most numerous being for discharging a firearm on a public road, hunting without a license, killing or possession of deer in closed season, and hunting at night.

There were 18 commercial fishing violations. Fines and court cost accrued to the state were $19,820.92.

Miss Wanda James, a recent graduate of Southwest Texas State College in San Marcos, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. James and Donna. She will teach 3rd grade at Sinton this year.

Richard Walters of Hawthorne, Calif. attended the funeral of his uncle, Charles A. Walters, and visited in the Norman Walters home.

Mrs. Sid Knox went to San Angelo last Wednesday to visit her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Knox.

and Geneva visited in Early Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Travis Buse and Terry.

A good test for "doneness" of pork is to make small cuts next to the bone and into the thicker part of the meat. If the juice is still pink, it isn't done. For thick cuts, a meat thermometer helps eliminate guesswork.
