Singing Group Raises $250 From Buffet

A large crowd attended the buffet supper Saturday night, sponsored by the Singing Americans, the local 4-H talent group. About $250.00 was made from the fund-raising project, which will help pay transportation to the National Extension Agents meeting in Louisville, Ky., where the group will entertain. Many local people donated prepared food for the meal, and others made donations or bought tickets although unable to attend. The youngsters and their parents appreciate all the help given them.

Present plans call for the group of 11 4-Hers and their sponsors to go by car to Dallas, then fly to Louisville. School activities make a longer trip impossible. The group will be in Louisville on Sunday, October 13, for rehearsals, and give their performance on Monday night, the 14th. Lodging and meals for the group will be paid, so the transportation cost is being raised locally, or by any means available.

Other performances for the group will be at the Homecoming program on September 28, and on the Harry Holt TV Show in Abilene on October 1.

Mrs. Barnes Named "Woman Of The Year"

A clever novel by a Coleman County woman was re-reviewed by Mrs. Charles Lockwood when the Self Culture Club began this year's meeting Friday, Sept. 13. Janice Martin Shows Grand Champion Jersey

Miss Janice Martin, the 14 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Martin of Trickham, won the Grand Champion award with her 3-year-old Jersey cow at the Abilene West Texas Fair last week. Janice also showed Mari-mare Jest to second place in her class in the open show there. The young cow also won the Milking Derby at the Fair, which is sponsored by the Dairy producers association. In the milking contest, cows are milked five times during a two-and-one-half day period, with the milk weighed and the butterfat tested. The actual market value of the milk produced determines the winner.

Mari-mare Jest is now in Albuquerque, N. M., at a show, and will be taken to Lubbock, Tulsa, Okla., and Columbus, Ohio, before being returned to the Martin Dairy.

Gay Rutherford Selected As Homecoming Rep.

Gay Rutherford was chosen as representative of the Sophomore Class for the Homecoming Queen, when the class met Tuesday, Sept. 17.

Gay will represent her class Friday night, September 27, in homecoming activities.

The Santa Anna Mountaineers lost their season opener to Baird in a game that was a lot closer than the score indicated.

Scoring first in the ball game was Baird with a pass into the right flat and then fumbling the ball into the end zone from the 5 yard line. This was a bad call by the officials as it should have been the Mountaineers ball on the 20 yard line instead of six points for the Bears. The Bears conversion attempt was no good.

The Mountaineers then took the ball sixty yards to pay-dirt. Ricky Abernathy plunged over from the two-yard line to tie the score. Abernathy then scored a two-pointer, on a pass, to put the Mountaineers out in front 8-6, ending the scoring for the first half.

In the third quarter Johnny Rowe scampered 85 yards to make the score 12-8. Again in the same quarter, Rowe received the ball and went 70 yards for a TD. The Bears made the extra point putting the Bears out in front 19-8.

In the fourth quarter Rowe intercepted a Santa Anna pass and ran for pay-dirt again. The Bears kicked the extra point making the final score 26-8.

The Mountaineers played an excellent ball game and with a little experience could very well be a great ball club.

The Mountaineers play Junction Friday night at Junction and if you want to see a good ball game, be there.

By VERN SANFORD

Austin, Tex. — A new land war is raging. Land developers and Texas Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler are in disagreement over the recently revised $400 million state Veterans Land Program.

Mindful of the VLP scan-ing the program by low ceiling land value appraisals and limiting sales to 10 per cent of large sub-divisions.

Under Sadler's limits, developers with tracts of 1,000 acres can sell only 100 acres through the state bond financed program. The Commissioner argues that the state should not spend all its authorized bond funds in a few areas.

Central Texas developers counter that land values already are soaring and that veterans held out of the market now eventually will pay higher rates.

Sadler says land already is selling at prices beyond reason in Travis, Kerr, Bastrop and Hidalgo Counties. Realtors say Sadler's 25 appraisers are putting price tags on property $40 to $100 an acre too low right now. They claim qualified veterans are lining up to buy land at prevailing prices and the program is a "flop."

"Trying to make a fast buck at state expense," reprimands Sadler, who staunchly maintains he is having none of that kind of business.

One realtor is seeking a legislative investigation.

WATER PLAN

Texas' monumental water program — to move surplus water from the Mississippi River and Northeast Texas to the drier areas of South and West Texas — is not to be released until later October or early November.

But the Texas Water Development Board, which is working up the plan, let some details slip out when it approved its budget to be submitted to the Legislature for the two-year period beginning September 1, 1969.

Board's budget requests a more than 50 per cent increase in appropriations for the agency so it can get the plan into operation before Texas faces economic disaster from a lack of water.

A time schedule for the project — estimated to cost around $10 billion — will be presented to the Legislature, outlining what needs to be done in the next six years.

First step is gathering the surplus Northeast Texas water for the Trans-Texas Canal, which will move water west to supply Dallas — Fort Worth, then on through the concrete lined canal to the South Plains and other areas of West Texas and the Trans-Pecos, all the way to El Paso.

Then by the end of 1971, negotiations must be completed to bring surplus water from the lower Mississippi, below New Orleans, across Southern Louisiana, then into either the Sabine River or up the Red River to the Sulphur and Cypress Rivers.

By the middle of 1974, federal, state and private sources need to agree on the construction of nuclear energy generating plants to produce the electricity necessary to run the hundreds of pumps which will actually move the water.

South Texas will be served by a South Texas Canal, which will run from the lower Sabine River near Orange down the coast to the Lower Rio Grande Valley. This project will need to be approved by Congress by mid-1972.

The state will probably have to pay 25-30 per cent of the cost of the project. This means that the $400 million borrowing power the board now has will have to be expanded to at least $2.5 billion. Legislature would have to approve this in January, with the people voting on it in 1970.

NEW LIQUOR PROBE

A House committee probing influence of vending machine operators on tavern keepers will hold hearings in Austin, Fort Worth, Houston and probably two smaller cities.

Dallas Attorney David Witt was named chief counsel and investigator of the committee by the five-member panel headed by Rep. R. H. Cory of Victoria, in conference with the Texas Liquor Control Board Acting Administrator O. N. Humphreys Jr.

Panel, armed with sworn statements from tavern operators, will look into rumors of Mafia and crime syndicate activity. Only witness heard to date said he knew of no such outside influences in his area. But he testified that vending machine operators should be prohibited from lending money to taverns and drinking clubs.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED

Donald R. Fishel is new chief of Texas Liquor Control Board enforcement division. Sherman McBeath of Wichita Falls will replace Fishel as assistant enforcement chief, and Leonard J. Lono of Poteet will be LCB supervisor of investigations.

Gov. John Connally named Bryan Beck Jr. of Beaumont and H. J. (Bubba) Shands Jr. of Lufkin to Lamar State College of Technology board of regents. He re-appointed Pat Peyton Jr. and Otto Plummer of Beaumont to new terms on the same board.

William A. Wroe, Austin banker, has been appointed treasurer of the Republican Party of Texas.

Dr. Richard Tozer of Dallas is executive director of the Texas Nixon for President finance committee.

Previously, rates were simply agreed on by the dairyman and the transporter.

New rates will be based on a mileage scale from 10 to 200 miles and are different for Grade A and ungraded milk and according to the size of the shipments in four brackets from fewer than 5,000 pounds up to 10,000 pounds and more.

Company plans to install a powerful amplifier and 55 speakers around the chamber — specifically attuned so that deep throated Senators and high pitched ones, too, will be heard by all in the chamber.

Each senator will have an individual desk microphone, and a central panel at the president's desk will allow the Senators to be turned off and on by the Senate secretary.

Cost of the system will be from $20,000 to $25,000.

ATTORNEY GENERAL SPEAKS

A write in vote for President and Vice President is valid and must be counted, regardless of whether the political party of the candidates "written in" has qualified to have names printed on the ballot, Attorney Gen. Crawford Martin held. Martin said if the Secretary of State has not been notified as to identity of the slate of presidential electors for write in candidates, inquiry may be made by him as to the electors' names.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

* A county judge performing duties of county school superintendent (where office of superintendent is abolished) is not entitled to office and travel pay or salary of an assistant in addition to his $2,650 annual compensation for extra duty.

* Palo Duro Canyon State Park revenues collected since last November 28 must be deposited in state parks fund with state treasurer.

* Texas State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers may pay temporary employee to help handle its examination papers.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

Rep. Vernon Stewart of Wichita Falls, chairman of the House Committee on Juvenile Crime, offers a new approach to juvenile-crime problems.

Stewart wants to pay Texas' 254 counties to "keep their young people out of trouble." This would involve a state program of paying the counties $2,000 a year for each juvenile they keep out of the state reformatories.

The proposal is based on the fact that not only is the state planning to spend $10 million in the next three or four years on building new Texas Youth Council facilities, but will also spend $2,000 per year per "student" to keep them in the "schools."

Stewart said that his plan "would save the state taxpayers the cost of the buildings to house them and the county taxpayers the cost of the losses they create by delinquency."

MILK FREIGHT RATES

For the first time, Texas Railroad Commission has established rates, rules and regulations on the shipping of milk in relatively small quantities.

AIN'T NECESSARILY SO

A dab of paint or the addition of a little padding may be all that's needed to salvage a lure that is not producing fish.

Color and size are extremely important in influencing the decision of a fish to smash a certain plug, say the fishing authorities at Mercury outboards. But, the lure in your hand may appear entirely different when scanned by the critical eye of a roving largemouth. He may not be impressed by either its size or color.

Instead of disposing of an ineffective plug, try changing its apparent size by painting it a different shade.

Skin divers have noted that lures painted yellow appear much larger when viewed from beneath the surface. This aberration is apparently caused by reflection, plus the magnifying effect of water. The same model in a different light-absorbing color might appear nearly normal.

Yellow and white-and-red combinations have long been favorite topwater choices; their effectiveness probably derives from the reflective qualities of these colors, not the colors themselves.

But color is not the only way to achieve a false dimension. There are other ways to pad out the girth of a lure without actually adding bulk.

Ordinary flyrod bugs with stiff hackles attached so that they stick out at right angles can create the effect of a larger apparition. The same feathers placed on the tail give the appearance of a longer lure. Neither alteration affects the casting or fishing abilities to any degree, but both create an entirely different impression on fish.

So heed the hues and pad the plugs — a phoney line has been the downfall of many a tunker.

NEW FEATURES ARE ENACTED BY FARMERS HOME ADMINISTRATION

L. J. Cappleman, Texas State Director of the Farmers Home Administration, said today he had been notified by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman of the rural housing and rural community planning features of the newly enacted 1968 Housing Act.

The Act was signed into law on August 1 by President Johnson.

Secretary Freeman's statement pointed out the new housing program is part of the President's drive to remove all substandard housing in the nation within a decade, including 3 million substandard houses that exist today in rural America.

Mr. Freeman announced that benefits of the new Housing and Urban Development Act will be channeled into Texas rural areas thru the 138 local county offices of the Farmer's Home Administration, and through the rural system of Technical Action Panels.

The Farmers Home Administration, a Department of Agriculture supervised credit agency for housing, farming and community facilities, carries on rural housing programs, established by the new act and previous legislation, for farmers and for other people in the countryside and in rural towns of up to 5,000 population.

New housing services under the act will include—

* Housing loan interest supplement payments for families with incomes too low to meet full the amortized loan payments on individual rural housing loans.

* Interest supplements on loans to develop non-profit rental and cooperative housing for low-income people.

* Financial support for "self-help" housing projects for low-income families including grants to non-profit organizations for the development and supervision of "self-help" housing projects and loans to non profit organizations to buy and develop land to be used as building sites.

* Housing and training facilities for rural job trainees and their families.

* Expanded housing credit for city people who work in rural areas.

* Loans for the purchase of building sites for farm-labor housing.

Mr. Freeman announced that the interest-supplement program for individual borrowers under the FHA authority (Title X of the Act) will be placed in effect immediately. Individual loans may be made for up to 33 years, loans for rental and cooperative housing may be made payable over periods up to 50 years.

The interest - supplement program for rural non-profit families will take effect when administrative arrangements are completed. The new provisions for job trainees and self help housing assistance will not take effect until funds are appropriated.

The interest - supplement plan seeks to put adequate housing within reach of low-FHA financed rental or co-op units.

Technical Action Panels, which include top local representatives of USDA agencies that have local offices in rural areas, will help rural communities gain access to all provisions of the new housing legislation that can be adopted for use in small towns.

A minimum requirement is that home ownership borrower who does not have enough income to pay his loan installments in full will pay at least the amount that would be due if the interest rate were one per cent.

The actual amount that a low income family will need to pay will depend on its income and the size of the family.

Freeman said the new act will facilitate a back to the country movement by city dwellers who work in rural areas. They no longer will be required to own rural homesites in order to be eligible for FHA rural housing loans to build homes where they work. They also will now be able to buy existing homes in a rural area.

The Act also eliminates an old provision that any tenant admitted to a FHA financed rental unit, or any new member of a rural housing co-op, must already be a rural resident. In the future, low-income city dwellers who work in rural localities may move directly from the city into the actual amount that a low income family will need to pay will depend on its income and the size of the family.

For further information regarding the new housing authorizations of the FHA, please contact Foy I. Brown Coleman County Supervisor at Box 788, Coleman, Texas.

Brownwood — Miss Joyce Ann Townsley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Dockery of 1005 Santa Clara, Brownwood, became the bride of Alton L. Wyatt, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Wyatt, of Route 4, Brownwood, Sunday, Sept. 1, at 3 p.m.

Clarence Eager, minister, officiated for the wedding in the Brady Avenue Church of Christ before a 15-branch white wrought iron candelabra, entwined with greenery and flowers, flanked by palm trees. Pink satin bows and feathered carnations marked family pews.

Recorded organ music was played.

A-Line Gown

The bride was given in marriage by her stepfather, H. B. Dockery. Her A-line peau de soie gown featured bell-shaped sleeves, scalloped neckline and a detachable train of peau de soie appliqued with lace. The bodice was of imported Alencon lace and the skirt was appliqued with lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade of feathered carnations and two off-white Cymbidium orchids on a Bible. Her illusion veil fell from a crown of pearls.

The bride's attendants, Mrs. Larry Corner, sister of the bride, and Rebecca Stewart, wore pink lace dresses with white accessories. Their illusion veils were attached to floral headpieces. They carried colonial bouquets of pompon chrysanthemums in two shade of pink.

Honor Attendants

The bridegroom's attendants were his brothers, Leonard Wyatt of Fort Worth and C. M. Wyatt of Garland.

Ushers were Larry Conner, brother-in-law of the bride, and Lloyd Wyatt, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother wore a turquoise crepe dress with black patent accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a green crepe dress with white accessories.

A reception was held in the Holiday Room at Holiday Inn following the wedding. The bride's table, laid with white satin, was centered with a floral arrangement in two shades of pink. The three-tiered cake was served with punch, nuts and mints. Appointments were crystal.

Dessa Rushing of Brownwood Inn, presided at the bride's book. Others in the house party included Mrs. Clarence Eager, Mrs. Bill Kirksey of Fort Worth and Mrs. C. M. Wyatt of Garland.

For going away, the bride chose an A-line dress of pink crepe with black patent accessories and the orchids from her wedding bouquet.

After a trip to Del Rio and Mexico, the couple will reside at 1638 Austin Ave., in Brownwood.

The bride, a graduate of Santa Anna High School, is employed by the General Telephone Company of the Southwest. Her husband, a graduate of Early High School, is employed by the Herman Bennett Co.

Federal Tax Questions And Answers

This column of questions and answers on Federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—I didn't receive my estimated tax bill for the third quarter. What should I do?

A—You should make your third quarter estimated tax payment by the due date, on Monday, Sept. 16, even if your installment notice has not arrived by then. To make sure your payment is properly credited, put your social security number on your check or money order and indicate what the payment covers.

With the new tax surcharge in effect, you may have to adjust your 1968 estimated tax. The surcharge will increase this year's tax by 7½ per cent for many individual taxpayers. A worksheet to help taxpayers make this adjustment is available at local IRS offices and was included with the third quarter estimated tax notices.

Q—I did not have to file an estimated tax declaration this year because enough was taken out of my paycheck to cover my taxes. Does the new surtax change that and must I file an estimated declaration now?

A—In July employers started withholding income taxes at a higher rate to keep taxpayers on a current, pay-as-you-go basis. The additional amounts withheld should approximate the final tax liability for most taxpayers.

If you did not file an estimated tax declaration for 1968 because withholding was expected to amount to 80 per cent or more of your tax liability for the year, you may want to review your tax situation. It is possible that the tax surcharge which can increase your tax by 7½ per cent, will make you liable to a penalty for underpayment of estimated taxes.

Local IRS offices have copies of estimated tax forms and worksheets taxpayers can use to figure their 1968 tax liability under the new tax law.

Q—I joined a country club this summer so that I'd have a place to take my customers to play golf. Can I deduct my country club expenses as business expense?

If you use the country club more than 50 per cent of the time for business purposes then you can also deduct that portion of your annual dues which is directly related to the active conduct of your business. Membership or initiation fees paid once for membership privileges are generally considered a capital expense and are not deductible.

To show you use the club more than half the time for business purposes keep a record of the days you and your family use the club's facilities, and indicate whether for business or personal purposes. You do not count the days the club is not used in determining whether it was used more than 50 per cent for business.

Q—Tips are a good part of my weekly earnings. Do I have to keep a record of them for tax purposes?

A—Tips are income and must be reported on your tax return. They should also be reported to your employer when they amount to $20 or more a month. Based on these reports, your employer will withhold the necessary Income and Social Security taxes from your regular wages.

Use Form 4070, Employee's Report on Tips, available at IRS offices, to report tip income to your employer.

Federal Tax
Questions And Answers

This column of questions and answers on Federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—The place where I eat lunch was closed recently for failing to pay taxes. Where do you get the authority to do something like that?

A—Congress has authorized various legal steps that can be taken when taxpayers do not meet their obligations. Drastic steps such as closing a business or levying on wages are taken only as a last resort after the taxpayer has repeatedly failed to make satisfactory arrangements to pay the tax.

Cases like the one you mentioned usually involve employers who fail to turn over to the government the money they have withheld from employees' wages for income and social security taxes.

Q—My son is working part-time in a gas station this summer. If he earns over $600 will we lose our exemption for him?

A—if he is under 19 at the year end or is a full-time student his earnings will not affect your dependency exemption. However, the other dependency tests such as furnishing over half his support must still be met.

Remind your son to keep records of the money he earns. If his total earnings reach $600 he will have to file a tax return. If his earnings are less than that but taxes were withheld from his wages, he will have to file a return to obtain a refund.

Q—My wife and I just sold our house and plan to move into retirement community. Is it true that people 65 and over don't have to pay tax on profits from home sales?

A—There are special tax benefits for those 65 and over on the profits from the sale of their home. In some circumstances the entire profit may be tax-free while in others only a portion of the profit is taxable.

For details on these and other tax-benefits, send a post card to your district office and ask for a free copy of Tax Benefits for Older Americans, Document No. 5569.

Q—My store has a booth at the county fair. Is the cost for this deductible?

A—Yes, expenses connected with a fair exhibit may be deducted as a business expense.

Q—My maid doesn't want me to report Social Security taxes on her wages. What should I do?

A—As her employer, you are legally responsible for paying the Social Security taxes due if you pay her cash wages of $50 or more in any one calendar quarter.

Explain to your maid that unless these taxes are paid she will not be receiving proper credit toward benefits provided under Social Security.

Q—I just bought a power boat and the man who sold it to me said I get a refund of 2 cents on every gallon of gas I buy for it. Is that right?

A—Yes. A credit of two cents for each gallon of gasoline you use in operating a motor boat, airplane or power lawn mower may be taken when you file your income tax return.

LAWYER

Sign Language

When Ed's car was stolen from a repair shop, he demanded damages for the loss. In a court hearing, he accused the management of negligence for leaving the car in a vacant lot, unattended, with the key in the ignition. But the company replied:

"We have a sign on our wall reading 'NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR THEFT.' That means exactly what it says."

Nevertheless, in spite of the sign, the court upheld Ed's claim. The judge said that, as a matter of public policy, the law usually will not let a garage escape liability for its own carelessness.

In other words, the law does not always accept signs at face value. Other factors may be taken into account in deciding on a sign's legal efficacy.

Thus, not only public policy but also the legibility and the position of a sign may effect its value. In one case the manufacturer of a powerful cleaning fluid was held liable for a customer's injury because the warning on the label was so small, and so obscure, that it was easily overlooked.

But that doesn't mean the public can disregard signs with impunity. For the most part, signs do serve an important purpose by putting people "on notice"—and are indeed entitled to be obeyed. Certainly if you disregard the "WET PAINT" sign on a park bench, you do so at your own peril.

In fact, it is possible that you might have to obey a sign that you cannot even see.

A motorist drove thru a stop street, colliding with an oncoming car. His excuse was that the stop sign was lying in a ditch, out of sight. Yet, the motorist admitted he knew the neighborhood, and knew it was a stop street. Under these circumstances, even with the sign missing, the court said he should have obeyed its command.

Not does a sign need elegance of phrasing to be effective. What counts is that it gets its message across. Once a farmer, pestered by trespassers, posted this sign as a warning:

NOTES

Trespassers will be persecuted to the full extent of 2 mean mungrel dogs which ant never ben overly soshbil with strangers.

No doubt any court would hold that the farmer's sign made its point abundantly clear.

A public service feature of the American Bar Association and the State Bar of Texas. Written by Will Bernard.

GUN SAFETY

Nearly all hunting accidents could be prevented if gun safety rules were followed. It's the "over-anxious" hunters who endangers the lives of fellow hunters and causes needless damage to wildlife.

Approximately two-thirds of all hunting accidents are caused by humans in the line of fire, humans mistaken for animals and hunters not using the safety catch on their guns.

Mr. and Mrs. John Franklin Turner of Fort Worth spent the weekend with Mrs. Frank Turner.

Mrs. Myrtie Milligan Gannaway of San Angelo spent the weekend with Mrs. Bessie Stewardson. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Milligan visited them Sunday afternoon.
