Mountain Echoes

By Barbara Kingsbery

We don't know if the Cross Plains kids say more clever things than the local youngsters, but Jack Scott of the Cross Plains-Review told of two incidents in his Home Town column recently.

Carla Strength, who began the first grade there this month, had obviously been warned of the temptations and pitfalls which confront school children. Her guard was up.

She heard classmates talking about taking p. e. Carla didn't know about physical education. To her p. e. had a sinister sound.

"You can count me out," she announced defiantly, "I don't intend to take p. e. or any kind of dope or drugs."

The second interesting incident is about John Hanke, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hanke, Jr., of Cross Plains. The child experienced his young life's most disappointing ordeal, and his comment is worth quoting.

He accompanied his older sister, Paula Kay, and their mother to school. Paula Kay was enrolled in kindergarten, assigned to a seat and allowed to remain as John and his mother headed home. The boy didn't want to leave, and his mother was forced to take his hand and pull him along.

"I don't see why I can't start to school," John protested, "my bottom exactly fits one of those little chairs."

Scattered showers fell over the community during the weekend, leaving as much as 1.3 inches of rain in the Buffalo community. Other areas in the community had varied amounts of moisture—and all welcome.

Many farmers are beginning to plant grain and the cotton harvest will begin right away.

A real treat is in store for those who have yet to see the new Mountaineer drill team in action. The group of SAHS coeds gave their first performance at halftime of the Friday night football game and were really a "crowd pleaser." Our congratulations to the drill team members, leaders and sponsors for having such an attractive, talented group. We feel the girls will be a real asset to the school and community.

CCTC OFFICERS ALL RE-ELECTED

All officers of the Coleman County Telephone Cooperative were re-elected at the last Thursday meeting of the board of directors. Tom Kingsbery is president; Grady McIver, vice-president, and Frank Gillespie, secretary. Rob O'Hair of Coleman is attorney for the cooperative.

Other directors of the organization are Gordon Monsey, Hilton Wise, Tippy Beaver, and Glen Copeland.

BRENDA CLINCH CALDER
In Nursing Training

Santa Anna Girl In RN Training

Brenda Clinch Calder, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Clinch of Santa Anna, received her first year stripe on Monday, Sept. 14, for the completion of her first year of nurse training. Brenda is in Denver, Colo., for the training and worked in a Cleburn hospital while attending the Southwestern College at Keene. She will be at Denver for the next nine months, then transfer to Lincoln, Neb., for the final year of training.

Mrs. Calder is attending school on a scholarship and grant for the nursing training.

S. A. Teachers To Bronte Mon. For Workshop

Santa Anna school students will have a holiday Monday while faculty members attend a training workshop in Bronte. The one-day session is planned through the Texas Small Schools Association, of which Santa Anna is a member, and will have work sessions for teachers of all levels.

The Texas Education Agency requires in-service training for all teachers, and the Monday workshop is one of five scheduled through the year. Schools taking part will be Bronte, Santa Anna, Mozelle, Robert Lee, Talpa-Centennial, Zola, Melvin, Rochelle, Water Valley, Novice and others.

Workshop topics will be on three levels and include equipment utilization methods of using research materials, evaluating uses of equipment and materials, and study of elementary learning center.

All teachers, teacher aids, counselors, and school nurses will attend the meeting which will get underway at 9:00 a. m. and end at 3:00 p. m.

Saturday schedule will begin with coffee and registration and continue through noon when the Band Booster Club will serve a buffet luncheon at the school cafeteria.

The afternoon will be free for visitation and class reunions and the Homecoming dance will be held at 8:00 p. m. at the Community Civic Center. Game tables and chairs will be set up in one of the meeting rooms at the center for those who wish to visit or play dominoes, 42, or bridge. All those attending the dance must be registered as ex-students or guests.

Other Ex-student Assn. officers helping with the 1970 homecoming are Suzanne Renegar Smith, first vice-president; Dayton Jackson, second vice-president; Janice Donham Cozart, secretary-treasurer; and Stanley Hartman and Gale Collier Allen, directors.

Two Markers For Dedication On Saturday

Plans are completed for the dedication of two Historical Markers at Valera on Saturday, September 19, sponsored by the Coleman County Historical Survey Committee.

An official marker at the grave of Dick Pauley, Coleman County sheriff who was killed during his term of office, will be dedicated at 4:30. Rev. Johnny Halford will give the invocation, Warnock Simmons will tell of the life of Pauley, Glenn Mitchell will make the dedication and Wade Hemphill will give the benediction.

The second ceremony will be at the pioneer Cleveland house, later owned by Billy Anson and now owned by Mrs. Nettie Hoover. This house was a show-place in the 1880's and 1890's and has been well kept and maintained. Meeting there at 5 p. m., the introductions will be given by Bill Sneed, Hurschel Dun will tell the history of the house, and Milton Autrey will dedicate the marker. Others on the program will be Frank Lewis and Rev. Ray Martin, and conducting visitors over the house will be a number of girls from the neighborhood. An orchestra will play old-time fiddle and guitar music, and refreshments will be served on the lawn.

Mrs. C. D. Bruce, who is the chairman of the Coleman County Historical Committee, is in charge of arrangements, and the public is invited to attend.

Sgt. Dean Bass In Viet Nam

U. S. Air Force Technical Sergeant Richard Dean Bass, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Bass of Santa Anna, is on duty at Bien Hoa AB, Vietnam.

Sgt. Bass is a telephone repairman with a unit of the Air Force Communications Service which provides global communications and air traffic control for the USAF.

The sergeant, who previously served at Tinker AFB, Okla., is a 1954 graduate of Santa Anna High School. His wife, Faye, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Parks, also of Santa Anna.

SAHS Graduate New Principal At Dyess School

Don Simmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Simmons of Lampasas, formerly of Santa Anna, has a new assignment as principal of Dyess Elementary School in Abilene. The new assignment is at the largest of the 22 elementary schools in Abilene with an enrollment of 854 students, all children of Air Force families. There are 35 teachers in the school.

A graduate of Santa Anna High School and Howard Payne College, Simmons taught in Coleman for two years before going to Abilene in 1959. He became an elementary principal in 1965 and has also served with the Texas Education Agency and as vocational adjustment co-ordinator. His former assignment was as principal at Central-Fair Park Elementary School.

Since moving to Abilene, Mr. Simmons has completed his masters degree at McMurray College.

Mrs. Simmons, the former Carol McClellan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McClellan, is also a teacher in the Abilene school system.

Budget Approved By School Board At Last Meeting

Jesse Williams, president of the Santa Anna Independent School District board of trustees, led the meeting of the group on Tuesday night, September 8.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved and bills approved for payment.

The new budget for the 1970-71 school year was approved by the board. Henry Colyer of Brownwood was approved as auditor for the school district.

Supt. Cullen Perry was named as a joint committee member of the regional service center, which serves the local schools.

Lengthy discussion was held on the construction of a vocational agriculture building for the local school. Although the new building was planned for this year, it is hoped that finances will warrant the construction of the building next year without need of a bond issue for the district.

Mrs. Sybil Dean and Mrs. Aubrey Edwards were elected teacher aides for the elementary school under Title I program.

The next meeting of the board will be held on Tuesday, October 6, at the high school office.

S. A. Jr. Team Defeated 32-6 By Cross Plains

Coach Dwight Hudson's Junior High football team lost their season opener Tuesday night when they were defeated by the Cross Plains Juniors 32-6. The junior Buffaloes ran wild in the first quarter, running the opening kickoff back for a touchdown.

The Mounties held the Buff to one TD during each of the second and third quarters and scored their only TD in the last quarter.

The juniors will go to Blanco next week for a game on Tuesday, Sept. 22.

Mounties Lose Season Opener; Meet Cross Plains Friday Night

Friday night marked the beginning of the 1970 football season for the Santa Anna Mountaineers with a home game with the Baird Bears. The Mountaineers won the toss, elected to receive, and Ricky Beal made the first down on the second play of the game. The Mounties ran another series of downs and failed to get the needed yardage. Rocky Dean punted for 38 yards, only Mountaineer punt of the first half. Baird took the ball for four plays and gained only one yard against the rugged Mountaineer defense.

The Mounties, led by quarterback Rocky Dean, drove to the four yard line with the help of an offensive line, and the running of Ricky Beal, David Horner, and Dean. A fumble in the backfield recovered by Baird ended the drive. Baird took over again making 6 yards, but an offside penalty assessed to the Mountaineers gave Baird their first first down at the end of the quarter. The Bears picked up steam and completed a 9-yard pass making another first down, but the drive was quickly stopped by the tough Mountaineer defense led by Ricky Beal, Ronnie Walton, Billy Diaz, Randy Long and Mark Wise. With excellent team work and three beautiful blocks by David Horner, Tommy Lewis, and Tony Beal, Ricky Beal evaded the last Bear defender and raced 93 yards for a touchdown. Luck was not with the Mounties, however, as a clipping penalty brought the ball back to the 35 yard line of Baird and nullified the TD. Again the Mounties had trouble—a fumble in the backfield; but this time an alert Mountaineer, center Ronnie Daniel, grabbed the flying pigskin and plowed through for 8 yards. Rocky Dean and Ricky Beal carried making a first down on each of the next two plays. Seconds later Ricky Beal shoved through from the 2 yard line for the TD. Ronnie Walton kicked the PAT, and the Mounties led 7-0.

Baird took over making three first downs, but the half ended with the Mountaineers leading 7-0 with 168 yards rushing to Baird's 39.

The first half undoubtedly belonged to the fighting Mountaineers; the second half belonged to the Baird Bears who seemed to come alive while the Mounties slowly lost momentum.

Although neither team scored in the third quarter, Baird was driving hard, making 4 first downs to the Mountaineers' 1. An interference call gave Baird a first down deep in Mountaineer territory. On a pass for 25 yards, Baird made their first TD of the game. The PAT was no good and the Mounties remained ahead 7-6. The Mounties took the kick-off and made a first down after 4 plays, but penalties and fumbles plagued the team, and the bears captured the pigskin for practically the remainder of the game, passing for 128 yards and four more touchdowns. The Bears did not punt the second half. The Mountaineers never seemed to pick up steam the last half, having only 37 yards rushing and 2 first downs. The final score was Baird 34-Santa Anna 7.

The Mounties opened the 1969's season by breaking a 10-game losing streak and defeating Baird by 27 points. Ironically, the 1970 season opened with Baird breaking a 19-game losing streak and defeating the Mountaineers by 27 points.

The Fighting Mountaineers travel to Cross Plains, next Friday night to try to avenge last year's loss to the Buffaloes, 28-7. Cross Plains was defeated by Wylie in their season opener 14-0.

90th Anniversary Observance Planned By First Baptists

The First Baptist Church of Santa Anna, will observe its 90th anniversary of service with special services on Sunday, Sept. 27, at the church. Former pastors will be featured in the morning worship service and special recognitions will be given. "Dinner on the grounds" will follow the morning service and a short afternoon program afterwards. All members, former members, former pastors and friends of the church are invited to attend.

First Baptist Church began in 1880 with seven charter members. It grew gradually until a membership of 831 was reached in 1942. The first pastor was Rev. John Crumpler Averitt who led in the organization of the church. He was a well educated, hard working frontier Baptist preacher who not only organized the church at Santa Anna Mountain but numerous others in this area. The church began in the log cabin of the W. C. Brooks family. It later met in the local school house until a church house was built in 1889. This first building was torn down in 1921 to make way for the present house of worship.

During the past 90 years many missionaries, preachers, teachers, and Christian educators have gone out from the First Baptist Church. The church has given thousands of dollars to the cause of missions, education, and benevolence during these past 90 years. This concern for the needs of people continues today among the present membership.

The church has had 31 pastors in its history. The two pastors with the longest tenure are, Rev. S. R. Smith, and Rev. Hal C. Wingo. Rev. Smith is deceased. Rev. Wingo lives in San Antonio. Rev. W. B. Holland was the first full time pastor, coming to Santa Anna in 1906. The most recent former pastor is Rev. Raymond Jones, now the pastor of First Baptist Church of Cotton Center, Texas.

Co-Op Gin Meet Held Saturday

Only a small number of members of the Santa Anna Co-op Gin were present for the annual membership meeting last Saturday night at the school cafeteria. About 15 of the 160 members were represented, although the total number of family members and guests at the supper and meeting totaled 43. William Brown and Dick Baugh were re-elected directors.

A report was given by the auditor which shows the gin to be completely paid for and operating in the black.

Gin manager Pierre Rowe gave his report which included information on the recent repair and renovation of the gin in preparation for the ginning season which is expected to begin about October 1.

The local gin employs from one to seven people, depending on the seasons, and serves the community with both a cotton gin and a grain elevator.

In Our Opinion

By W. T. HAYS

SEVEN CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS will face the voters again on November 3 this year. As is usual, some of minor importance, but some are very important.

One we would like to call your attention to is Proposition No. 2. Again the wet forces are trying to get through their "open saloon bill." It is somewhat disguised as something else in that it says it "will authorize the legislature to enact a mixed beverage law regulating the sale of mixed alcoholic beverages on a local option basis."

Proponents claim that this would perform many "miracles" even to the point of reducing the crime rate and cutting traffic accidents. Their arguments are about as logical in every aspect.

How making liquor more readily available would accomplish those things, we are not able to understand, but that is their argument.

In previous elections 41 per cent of the wet vote came from just seven Texas cities, and Dallas and Houston alone accounted for one fourth.

Although, geographically, two-thirds of the state oppose liquor sales, the vast region has only a third of the vote.

It will be "country versus city" when we go to the polls on November 3, so let's get the vote out.

PLANE HIJACKINGS have gotten to the point that something must be done about them. We can now compare them with piracy on the high seas as it was in the old days.

President Nixon has come up with what he hopes will be a solution. Armed guards riding "shotgun" on the planes like the old stage coach days might help.

Whatever the solution, one thing we will have to do, and that is refuse to give in to the hijackers. Some way must be devised to stop them by force, even if it means taking a chance on the safety of the passengers and crew.

What has never been done except in a very few cases, is to call their bluff. We wonder if they would stand and take the consequences if their own life is threatened.

One thing is for sure—if they are given in to on every occasion the hijackings will increase, not decrease.

We can't help but wonder if the Arab nations and Israel really want peace in the Middle East. No doubt Egypt is being encouraged by the Soviet Union to not live up to the agreements of the cease fire, and the Arab revolutionists are not helping the situation. We must, however, see that Israel is protected.

Capital NEWS
By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN—Just when highway construction in the state is at an all-time high, the Texas Highway Commission has cancelled the regular December lettings of highway contracts.

Commission blames the contract moratorium on the recent backslide of part of Texas' appointment from the Federal Highway Trust Fund. Action came at a time when, because of favorable weather, highway construction was at its highest.

Contractors were paid $42.6 million in July for work completed in June and $46.3 million in August for work completed in July. Payments represented work on 501 contracts in June and 593 contracts in July.

Federal Aid Highway Act of 1968, as approved by Congress, provides that states should receive $5.4 billion for the 1971 fiscal year from the Highway Trust Fund. Amount allocated, however, was reduced by the Administration. Highway Commission Chairman Dewitt Greer said, to $4.6 billion nationally and resulted in a reduction of the Texas share from $275 million to $210 million — $65 million less than was expected.

Proceeds in the Federal Highway Trust Fund are derived from special taxes levied on motor vehicle users. Fund was set up in 1956 to provide a stable source of revenue for the construction of National System of Interstate and Defense Highways.

Cancellation of the December bid listing is the first since World War II, Greer said. The Commission Chairman said the reduction has come because the condition of the finances of the Federal Government has required that it borrow money from the Federal Highway Trust Fund for government operation even though the trust fund was established for the specific purpose of building the highway system from highway user revenues.

Greer said the "motor vehicle users of this country, who pay these dedicated taxes, have every right to expect that the Federal Government return to the highway system these revenues, in accordance with agreements made 15 years ago."

HOSPITAL TROUBLES IN TEXAS — State Rep. R. H. "Dick" Cory and House Speaker Gus Mutscher made a trip to Washington seeking better interpretation of recent Social Security regulations which threaten to close 158 of the state's hospitals.

Most are in rural areas and are having extreme difficulty complying with new regulations such as the one requiring them to have registered nurses on duty around the clock. A Texas nursing shortage of 10,000, plus the difficulty of finding nurses willing to live in smaller communities, contribute to the problem.

Hospitals which do not comply with the regulations are in danger of having Medicare payments terminated, which would in turn force them to close their doors. Representative Cory, who is chairman of a special Speaker's Committee on Texas Health Care, noted that Texas, because of sparse population in wide areas of the state, has 40 per cent of the nation's Class 7C hospitals.

Another fear of the Committee is that if the small hospitals close their doors many physicians will move away due to lack of hospital facilities.

IMMUNIZATION LEGISLATION UPCOMING — Gov.

Preston Smith says he'll ask the 62nd Legislature, which convenes in January, to pass legislation requiring immunization against several communicable diseases before a child may enter Texas schools.

Governor proposes compulsory immunization against measles, polio, whooping cough, tetanus and — in the wake of the epidemic in San Antonio — protection against diphtheria.

Smith said figures available to him for 1968, the latest year for which complete data is available, indicate that Texas has the highest incidence rate in the nation for measles and polio, the second highest for diphtheria and the fourth highest for whooping cough. Tetanus is not an epidemic disease, but a single injection generally immunizes against diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus.

SHORT SNORTS

Dr. David Wade, Commissioner, Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, predicts that high hospital room rates, not enough doctors and the high cost of advanced medical technology will result in some form of national health insurance within two to five years.

Texas Railroads, the National Association of Railway Business Women and Railroad Workers Brotherhoods have presented the Texas Education Agency with 12,000 stickers—enough for all school buses in the state—reminding bus drivers to stop at railroad crossings.

Sex Education

(by Bill Weeks)

The following article is from a column for youths from a Louisville, Ky. newspaper.

One of our mother readers says she'd like to add her 2 cents "to this generation gap bit." Her advice to parents whose teens won't talk to them is . . . relax and enjoy yourselves. The teen years won't last forever. Any year now, your teen-ager is going to grow up, get married and start rearing a family.

"From here on out," Mom says, "the gap narrows. Once your own children become parents, you've got something in common. They find out that they don't know how to raise children either. At first, they'll ask you for advice. Then, they'll just bring the kids over to you. Suddenly, Mom's an expert. At any rate, it's any port in a storm.

"Comes dinner time, and you'll know where your children are. They're right there at the dining-table. All those meals they griped about when they were teen-agers are suddenly gourmet fare. Gourmet or not, it beats staying home and cooking.

"One of our daughters has been married a year, the other for three years. Believe me, we've seen more of them since their marriages than we saw of them throughout their teens.

"As for the generation gap, I can assure you worried parents that the best advice is leave them alone and they will come home, dragging their husbands and kids with them."

Well, now we all have something to look forward to. Or do we?

We also heard from the other side of the gap . . . a 14-year old who will be 15 in August. Her problem is Mom.

A few weeks ago Miss 14 met a boy "who seems interested enough." He's called and come by her house with a friend (a boyfriend, we assume). Now, he wants to come back and Mom says no. Daughter is too young to have male callers.

"The dumb thing about it is I've had friends over before and they were boys. I asked how come they could come over and not this guy and she said, 'Oh, they were just little school friends.'

"I now go to an all-girl school. How in the world can I meet boys? Most of the kids at school can date. All I'm asking is to just be able to have friends over. Boys, that is.

"Parents are just too hard to understand. One minute they say I can have anybody I want over. The next time I turn around boys are forbidden creatures."

And she asks for advice from our panel of teen-agers. In a nutshell, the kids are on her side.

"But, you can change history easier than you can change a mother's mind. So . . . adjust."

I must say first off I do not agree with the mother's advice to just wait them out. There is a lot more to raising children than that. Second, I do not agree with the girl that there is no difference between having boys over when she was a little girl and when she is a teen-ager, or hopefully, a young lady. I'm not saying boys shouldn't call on her but more parental supervision is required. At this point a lot depends upon just how well mother and father have communicated with the daughter.

Another point I would like to make about this article is the fact that the girl is going to an "all-girl" school, as a general rule I do not favor this. The average or "normal" (a word difficult to define) boy or girl, I believe, is better off in a co-educational school. They must learn to live together in our society someday and growing up in it is the best way to do it.

in my opinion, the best way to educate or rear our children. There is no substitute for proper education.

In conjunction with this thought is the necessity for sex education in the schools: I was originally opposed to sex education in the schools but since working with youth I find that more and more parents are teaching less and less of the facts of life to their children. If the parents are unable (and many are) to teach their children the things they need to know, then I feel it is far better for them to receive it from the schools than not get it at all or, which is worse, from the experts' of their own age.

I realize that not all school "experts" of their own age, type of education but hopefully our school supervisors will place the responsibility on those who are best qualified.

When talking with parents of children who have got in "trouble" and with the children themselves, we often hear these remarks:

Our community only received a very little moisture over the weekend. We are thankful for the small amount that fell and are looking forward to more rain soon.

Jimmy Avants of Santa Anna spent Friday and Saturday night with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Avants. His father, James Avants came for him Sunday and spent the day.

Don Fitzpatrick of Tarleton College spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Greham Fitzpatrick and brother, Neil.

Mr. and Mrs. Etoile Cozart of San Angelo spent most of last week on their farm here, and visited Tuesday night with Mr. and Mrs. Cleburn Stanley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilary Rutherford and children, Rocky and Debra of Coleman visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rutherford Sunday.

Miss Linda Lee Abernathy of San Angelo spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Abernathy and brother, Rickey.

Lloyd Rutherford of Bangs visited his parents, the Tom Rutherfords, Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleburn Stanley were Sunday guests with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Brown and children in Brownwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Snowden of Lohn spent Thursday night with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Greham Fitzpatrick and son Neil.

Mrs. Aaron Avants' sister, Mr. and Mrs. Bean Radle of Santa Anna, spent the weekend with the ladies' sister, Mr. and Mrs. Gaines Smith of Rotan. Mrs. Smith had the misfortune several months back and broke her hip, spending quiet some time in Abilene hospital and in a rest home. Mrs. Smith is now in her home near Rotan. And doing very well.

Mr. and Mrs. Greham Fitzpatrick and sons, Don and Neil and Mr. and Mrs. Tim Snowden visited with their son and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Lovaghn Snowden and children in Brady Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Turney of Santa Anna were on their farm here Monday afternoon.

any. Statistics also show that children who have sex education are less apt to have an abnormal view on sex and also are less apt to get "in trouble." This even shows up in children who are raised in a family that breeds and raises animals.

SWEET BUNCH OF DAISIES

Daisy is a name given to many flowers. It means day's eye, because it seems like an eye (opening in morning, closing at night). The American daisy is actually a wild chrysanthemum.

Our American daisy has been improved by plant breeders and is the flower of the month of April. The large Shasta Daisy has four-inch blossoms and is one of our loveliest flowers. It was named by Luther Burbank who worked to develop it.

1909 ZEPHYR CYCLONE RECALLED

Sixty one years ago on May 29, 1909, tragedy struck the little town of Zephyr, east of Brownwood. A destructive cyclone dropped from the sky into the heart of the little community, taking the lives of 34 persons, injuring 50 others and totally destroying 37 homes and a dozen business houses. Many other buildings were damaged and the Baptist and Methodist churches and the tabernacle destroyed in the storm.

In addition to the human lives, there was a heavy toll of poultry and livestock. Dead animals by the score littered the countryside.

An impressive feature of the cyclone's work was the complete manner in which the wind tore the houses to pieces. There was barely a whole plank in the debris.

Besides the cyclone, the lightning which accompanied the storm caused fires that destroyed a livery stable, two blacksmith shops, a general store and warehouse, the Zephyr Mirror newspaper plant, and a lumber yard.

May 29, 1909, was still and sultry. Black clouds were lying low in the northwest. About 11:45 p. m. lightning was playing about the sky. Many of the Zephyr residents reported that they heard a defening roar as the cyclone dipped down from the clouds.

The roaring noise was a warning to many residents who sought shelter in storm houses. It was shortly before midnight when the storm tore a path from 70 to 100 feet wide right through the heart of the little town.

All news of the communications between Zephyr and Brownwood were severed by the storm, and the first word to the neighboring city was about two hours later when the Fort Worth Record called its Brownwood correspondent that the news had reached their office.

A special train with rescue workers, doctors, and supplies was dispatched to Zephyr at about 3:30 a. m.

The Zephyr tornado will long be remembered by early-day residents for its destructive force, heavy loss of human life, property and livestock damage.

WASHINGTON AND SMALL BUSINESS

Peter Pays Paul

The old epigram concerning robbing Peter to pay Paul has usually been considered the epitome of futility, but yet in the present day United States of America this seems a common practice.

Before President Nixon took office, the Congress raised the presidential salary from $100,000 to $200,000 per year. Obviously, compared to the salaries of the chief executives of some lesser organizations, this is still below scale. And probably there is no way to determine what is a fair pay check for the American president, as there is no job in the world to compare with.

But then comes the silly part of this whole procedure. Newspapers immediately reported that out of this $200,000 the President will have a take home pay of some $78,000 per year, with the balance taxes.

Thus, for the President of the United States, as well as every other public employee at all levels, federal, state and local, the taxpayers who pay the salaries actually pay the income taxes for these employees.

Thus, the situation going on could be compared to some hypothetical employer saying to an employee "Look, I'm going to pay you a hundred dollars per week, but you are going to kick back to me twenty-five dollars per week." Of course, any employer who was found out operating in such a manner would be subjected understandably to a great hue and cry.

To further confuse the matter, in order for the tax collector to take back from public employees the tax money paid to them, millions of pieces of paper must be handled, sorted, filed, examined, and shuffled around. And bearing in mind that even people in the armed services, with the exception of the lowest pay grades, are subjected to income taxes, the procedure results in somewhat of a global paper chase.

Of course it can be said that the taxpayers who in this case, are the employers, get the full kickback from the public employees, but this is not accurate either. Obviously, this shuffling of the papers back and forth, the accounting procedures, and other work costs money so that the tax-payer-employers "kickback" are eroded by these costs which might be termed a service charge. In addition, when government goes into a deficit, part of money borrowed at current high interest rates pays these salaries including the "kickbacks."

An end to this financial sleight-of-hand could yield some interesting results such as possibly lower costs to the taxpayers, and a better chance of coming up with a balanced budget. An adjustment of public employee salaries to their present take-home pay level, with no taxes imposed would end the tweedlededee tweedlededum situation.

Less Pollution Urgently Needed

What the world needs now is love, sweet love—and a lot less pollution.

Automobile exhaust is the major cause of air pollution in this country. This year alone, the government predicts that cars will add to our already contaminated atmosphere an additional 61 million cubic tons of carbon monoxide. Plus seven million tons of nitrogen oxides. And 11 million tons of hydrocarbons.

Car exhaust in crammed cities is a critical problem. Study after study points to pollution as a direct cause of respiratory disorders. The problem is increasing alarmingly.

Every year Detroit produces millions more cars to jam the highways. More highways spring up to handle additional cars. The dizzying spiral whirls ever upward.

Unfortunately the government is willing to pay 90c on the dollar to help states build highways. But, in most cases, little or no money is allocated to develop mass transit, a way of shuffling people in and out of cities that is cheaper and less pollution-producing than automobiles. Cars take up 28 per cent of America's urban space. But on each passenger trip, the average car transports only one person.

Car manufacturers are beginning to feel the wrath of a public outraged about pollution. And the State of California and other groups have actually brought legal suit against major car manufacturers for deliberately suppressing the development of a pollution-free engine.

Public pressure can begin to turn the situation around. Find out from your local tuberculosis and respiratory disease association how you can add to the pressure. It's a matter of life and breath. Maybe even yours.

Marrying Soon? Notify the S. S.

"The father of the bride and social security have something in common. Both share in the wedding expense, even though social security's share is small change—only 44c in 1969," reports R. R. Tully, Jr., district manager in Abilene.

That's what it costs the Social Security Administration to change a bride's name on computerized records at the headquarters in Baltimore.

"And, since September is as popular as June for weddings, now is a good time to remind new brides of this important step," he added.

Last year, over 3,000,000 brides changed their names on social security records.

The forms for name change requests are available at social security offices, post offices, and sometimes at employer personnell offices. By completing it and mailing it in to the social security office, the bride will get a replacement card showing her new name, but with the same old number.

The new bride should also notify the payroll department where she works of her name change, Tuley points out. This is important since the social security computers will not credit earnings unless the name and the number agree with those in the master records.
