Community Thanksgiving Service At Methodist Church November 25

The community Thanksgiving service will be held on Wednesday night, Nov. 25, at the United Methodist Church at 7:00 p. m. The program was planned by ministers of local churches and will be held for all residents of the area.

Rev. Louis Shambeck will be speaker and there will be music by an interdenominational choir. Other pastors who will take part in the service include Rev. James Ford, Rev. Bill Weeks, Rev. Vernon Parnell and Rev. Bill Brewer.

Jimmy Benton will be organist and Mrs. Tom Kingsbery will direct the music.

A special invitation is extended all people in the community to attend the service. The ministers are planning to make the service an annual affair, with host churches and speakers to be alternated each year.

The only practice of the choir will be held on Sunday night at the Methodist Church at 5:00 p. m. Singers from all local churches are urged to attend.

Mountain Echoes

By Barbara Kingsbery

Although there were reports that deer hunters in Brown County area were not very successful during the first days of the season, many local hunters bagged deer during the first few days.

We still find it hard to believe that there is so much wild game in the county in recent years. Only a few years ago deer and turkey were known to be only in the southern part of the county along the river, and in the northern most part where it was less populated.

Pretty Sandra Hosch, a SAHS sophomore, was one of the successful hunters, killing her first buck, (8 points) with her first shot from a new rifle. Sandra is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hosch.

Local people are interested in the success of the Coleman High School football team as they won the District championship last Friday night by defeating Eastland. The Bluecats meet Haskell this week for the bi-district tilt.

Perhaps many of us are interested because one of the team's coaches is Pete Simmons, a Santa Anna native.

Another local boy who has done well as a football coach is Bill Jennings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Paul Voss. Bill, who is head coach at Kress, won the class A championship Friday night, defeating Sudan High School, 13-12.

But that's not all the successful mentors from our area. Jimmy Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Marshall, is coach of the Jourdan High School football team which won a district championship last week.

Most people joke about dishonest automobile traders—and often are expected to misrepresent used vehicles. Not so with three local people. Louise Purdy is the proud owner of a car which was previously owned by Arlie Welch and originally owned by John Gregg. What is so unusual about the multi-trade is that the three people are all neighbors on Avenue A.

Some people are slow learners, and count us as one. Just last week we learned that the Methodist minister's given name is spelled LOUIS. Our apologies to Mr. Shambeck for misspelling his name for the past several months.

The chapter teams competed for places in the leadership contests in which the top two teams will be entered in the Area IV competition. From the Area contests the top entries go to the State meet.

The only Santa Anna winners were fourth place in the junior chapter conducting contest, and sixth in the radio team contest.

Santa Anna Band To UIL Contests Next Saturday

The Santa Anna senior band, composed of about 50 students in the 7th through 12th grades, will be competing in the annual Interscholastic League marching contest at Brady Saturday. The local band will be in the Class B competition.

The Santa Anna group will perform at 9:20 a. m., presenting a seven minute precision marching routine. The bands are judged by professional bandmen and given ratings. There are only three bands entered in the Class B division this year, according to Aubrey Edwards, band director. The judging is on marching, playing, and general appearance and performance.

During the afternoon there will be twirling contests in which three Santa Anna majorettes are entered. Competing for ratings in the solo twirling competition will be Nancy Baugh, Carol Kingsbery, and Janice Martin.

All the marching contests will be held at the Brady Bulldog stadium with judges to be Miss Barbara Sperberg of Seymour, G. T. Gilligan of Kermit, and W. A. Anderson of Abilene.

Turkey Limits Clarified By Game Warden

In last week's issue of the NEWS, we stated that the limit on turkeys was one. Game Warden Roy Winburne of Coleman clarified the ruling for us, and the limit is two.

Mr. Winburne also said that in order to be legal a turkey hen is required to have a beard protruding through the breast feathers. That is not required on a gobbler.

He suggested that hunters pick up a copy of the game laws at any place that sells licenses.

DEBBIE HORTON

Debbie Horton FFA Sweetheart Of SA Chapter

Debbie Horton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rondoe Horton, has been selected sweetheart of the Santa Anna Future Farmers of America Chapter. Miss Horton is a senior student at Santa Anna High School.

Debbie is active in many school organizations including vice-president of the Student Council, secretary of the senior class, a member of the Future Homemakers of America, and a member of the basketball and volleyball teams. She is also a cheerleader this year.

Miss Horton will represent the Santa Anna FFA chapter at the district FFA sweetheart contest later this year.

Mounties Defeat Coyotes, Could Represent District

The Santa Anna Mountaineers came on the field facing a strong, cold north wind last Friday night and defeated the Richland Springs Coyotes 30-13. The Mountaineer victory puts district 18-B in a three-way tie for first place between these two teams and the Rising Star Wildcats. Each team has lost one district game.

The Mounties received the Coyote kickoff. Roddy Dean picked up two first downs before the Mounties were forced to punt. The ball was fumbled on a high snap from center, but Rocky Dean managed to get it off against the strong wind. Richland Springs got the ball on their own 45. The Coyotes made four first downs and in 14 plays got on the scoreboard. The PAT was good, and the Coyotes led 7-0.

Rocky Dean started things rolling for the Mountaineers with a 28-yard kick-off return. Roddy Dean, Ricky Beal each picked up first-down yardage. On the next series Joe Johnson for the Coyotes dropped Horner for a loss, and the Mounties were forced to punt for a second time. A fumble was recovered on the Mountaineer 42-yard line by the Coyotes, who took the ball for four plays but did not make first down-yardage. The ball went over on downs on the Mountaineer 35.

Quarter David Horner took over and threw a pass to wingback Raymond Holland which was good for 31 yards and a first down. Horner then made a mix-up in the back field good with a 22-yard run and another first. Roddy Dean picked up short yardage, and Horner broke for 9 more yards and another first down on the Coyote 4 yard line. Roddy Dean plowed through for the TD, and Rocky Dean ran across for the 2-point conversion. The Mounties then led by a score of 8-7.

Ronnie kicked off after the TD for the Mountaineers: The Coyotes fumbled, recovered, and were driven back to their own 8 yard line by Ronnie Walton and Raymond Holland. Teal picked up 28 yards and a first down for the Coyotes. Gibson picked up another, and a Mountaineer penalty gave them another. The Coyotes were on the Mountaineer 15 and threatening. A tough Mountaineer defense led by Roddy Dean, Ricky Beal, and Walton forced the Coyotes back to the 20; and the ball went over on downs.

Rocky Dean broke for 22 yards and a first; then on an intended pass which failed to materialize, Dean found 30 more yards toward the goal line. On the next series, a

RELATIVE OF LOCAL PEOPLE CRITICALLY INJURED IN FIRE

Mrs. John Pool of Coleman, a sister of Ford Barnes and Mrs. C. E. Kingsbery, is in critical condition at Scott and White Hospital in Temple, suffering from burns and injuries she received in a fire at her home in Coleman on Wednesday night of last week. Mrs. Pool who lives alone was burned about the face, shoulders and arms in the fire. She is also being treated for lung damage caused by smoke inhalation and eye damage.

According to reports, the fire started with an explosion in the kitchen, apparently caused by gas accumulation in the wall behind the cookstove. The fire spread rapidly, and the newly decorated house was extensively damaged by the explosion, fire and smoke.

Two young men from Santa Anna, Edward Anderson and Gordon Copeland, are credited with getting Mrs. Pool out of the burning house alive. The two, who were passing the neighborhood and saw the fire, insisted on returning to the smoke-filled bedroom to search for Mrs. Pool. They broke a window of the bedroom and after several attempts located the victim on the floor near the bed. Coleman firemen, had not found her in the dense smoke.

At the last report, Mrs. Pool was in intensive care at the Temple hospital, and not showing any improvement.

In Our Opinion

By W. T. HAYS

SENATOR-ELECT Lloyd Bentsen has formed the administration and the nation that he will not be a "yes man" when he gets to Congress.

Bentsen said there is room for differences of opinion and that he plans to represent the people of Texas when Congress convenes in January.

The question has been asked, with the diverse political fractions in Texas, how will one man represent all factions?

But Bentsen believes that Texans want a man who will vote them as he sees them, and that is what he intends to do. "I don't believe that anyone expects a Senator or a Representative to vote 100 per cent as they would."

He has expressed the opinion that the 92nd Congress will be responsive to the people, and that they will insist on fiscal responsibility.

The present economic situation in the nation is certainly not one to be desired. Industry faces many cuts in contracts and at the same time labor faces many layoffs. The combination of the two will cut the income from taxes and consequently the nation feels the effect of it. The stock market is lower than it has been in years, and it is a good barometer of the nation's economy.

Let us hope that the new Congress can do something to get us back on the upswing.

ONE THING WE CAN EXPECT in the 92nd Congress will be the playing of politics. Both parties are looking two years ahead and both want to be on the winning side. Consequently, the public is going to be bombarded with political propaganda and unless we are able to read between the lines, we are going to wonder what is right and what is wrong.

That is the sad thing about political parties. Too many of our politicians put party before nation, and that is not what they agree to do when they are sworn in.

Of course we will never have the ideal as long as human beings are elected to office, but wouldn't it be nice if our law-makers would sit back, study proposed legislation and then vote for what would benefit the nation as a whole?

That is the way our founding fathers planned it, but maybe they didn't stop to consider that some of those men wanted to get re-elected, and for some reason or other it colors their thinking.

Congress reconvenes Monday and we will have our famous lame-duck session. Several Congressmen and Senators are serving in their last session, unless they can get re-elected in a campaign later. Texas has one of the group, Senator Ralph Yarborough, who was defeated in the primary by Lloyd Bentsen.

Majority Leader Mike Mansfield said he hoped the session could be "mercifully short" and that is about the opinion of many others, because the lame-duck has no pressure on him would even help his choice when a vote arises, but many times, the reverse is the thing that happens.

One bill that many times up is the President's family assistance bill, which is just another version of the guaranteed annual income. It will probably be tied in with the bill to increase social security which will give it a better chance of coming before Congress.

The Senate is expected to act also on the once-vetoed bill to restrict campaign spending on radio and television.

It seems to take a long time for our law-makers to get a bill introduced, in and out of committee and on the floor. But considering that the hopper is filled to overflowing at the beginning of every session, maybe they do pretty good. It would seem almost impossible for a man to study every bill that is introduced and still have time to eat and sleep. Maybe even if he didn't eat and sleep, he couldn't do it.

STATE Capital NEWS

Austin — Freshman state legislators received some sobering news in their first orientation conference before the legislative halls open on January 12.

About 30 legislative newcomers turned out for the two-day schooling in the capitol city. Major state officials and agency heads functioned in the role of professors.

In addition to warnings that money and legislative redistricting problems lie ahead, young lawmakers got word that welfare cuts are virtually certain early next year.

Welfare Commissioner Burton Hackney reported this grim news on the plight of his agency. He announced "unless an emergency appropriation is made early in the upcoming legislative session, we still face the prospect of cuts in Aid to Families with Dependent Children and medical assistance in the first few months of 1971."

Commissioner Hackney added that "even with an appropriation that would take us up to the annual ceiling on state money for public assistance, we can predict the need for a cut in AFDC grants by June if the rolls continue to grow as they have."

Texas' constitution sets a ceiling of $80 million for financial assistance to welfare beneficiaries. Hackney said he has asked $96 million for fiscal 1972 just to cover the present level of public assistance checks.

House Speaker Gus Mutscher urged the freshmen to utilize the formula of "knowledge, cooperation and understanding" in the work ahead. Further schooling for lawmakers is ahead at a University of Texas special orientation program.

COURTS SPEAK — State Supreme Court has agreed with the federal court's finding that three key sections of Texas' obscenity law are constitutional. But it skipped ruling on two other sections and ordered the Wichita Falls court to move ahead with its case against a theater showing "stag" movies.

In other rulings last week, the high court held that:

• In spite of mandatory retirement provisions of the constitution, retired judges over 75 may be assigned to hear special litigation and be paid as "visiting judges."

• Appeal of an Abilene attorney whose license was suspended after conviction for conspiracy to defraud should be turned down.

• Judgement of $600,000 favoring a Dallas bank in a loan dispute with a Denton County man is valid.

• It should hear on January 13 the Getty Oil Company appeal from a lower court finding that the firm must lower its pumping units which are interfering with the irrigation system of a Gaines County farmer.

• A Garland widow should get a hearing on December 16 on her suit to collect $20,000 in life insurance on her deceased husband.

• Court of Criminal Appeals refused to lower the 99-year prison sentence given a San Angelo man in a car-bomb killing.

• A Dallas woman should not be jailed for contempt for not complying with a court order to deliver obscene film over which she had no control.

COURT APPOINTMENTS DUE — Governor Preston Smith soon will have two appointments to make to the state's highest courts.

Judge Clyde E. Smith, 73, of Woodville has announced that he will resign his seat on the State Supreme Court on December 31.

In his letter of resignation, Judge Smith urged state constitutional revision of the judiciary system — or at least thorough overhaul — to make it possible for a central authority to force under worked judges to go where they are needed to equalize caseloads.

After January 1, the governor also must name a successor to Judge John F. Onion Jr. of the Court of Criminal Appeals. Next year the San Antonio judge moves up to presiding judge of the Appeals Court, vacating the seat he held as a regular court member since 1967.

Two years remain in the terms of both these judges.

ATTORNEY GENERAL ELES — Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin has held that person calling for a local option wet-dry election in a subdivision that has not held one in a year is not required to make a deposit with the county clerk and any such deposit collected should be refunded.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

• Banking corporation stock, in a firm not doing business in the state on January 1, 1970, is not taxable for ad valorem tax purposes for 1970.

• Texarkana is not disqualified for an airport building grant from Texas Aeronautics Commission because it owns an airport facility jointly with Texarkana, Arkansas.

• Current Texas Tourist Development Board chairman remains in office until the expiration of his term as a board member. Board will then elect

• A corporation doing business as a detective agency must file a surety bond or insurance policy with the Secretary of State. DRAFT CALL — A December draft call of 489 was announced by Col. Charles M. Duncan, acting state Selective Service director.

Local boards will fill the call with men having random sequence numbers one through 160 — as far possible. Some with higher numbers may get called by some local boards.

Quota is Texas' share of the national total of 7,000 men, all for the Army. Inductions are set for December 1-17.

On December 31, all men in 1-A, 1-A-O or 1-O with numbers lower than the highest reached during the year by their own local boards will be assigned to an extended priority selection group for call during the first quarter of 1971. Those with a higher number than the highest reached will be assigned to the second priority group for 1971.

SCHOOL FOOD PROGRAMS NOTED — Governor Smith notified 1,182 school superintendents that he wants all Texas pupils to have full access to food programs.

He called attention to food services and equipment made available through the National School Lunch Act as mandatory on January 1, 1971. Smith said that hungry children are vulnerable to malnutrition's effect on growth, ability to learn and general intellectual performance.

NEW JOBS ASSIGNED — Marvin F. London was named by the Governor as district judge of the 97th judicial district, succeeding Louis T. Holland, resigned.

David Smith appointed Dr. David Wade of Austin, commissioner of the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, as administrator of Interstate Compact on Mental Health.

SHORT SNORTS

Outgoing Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler, who banned miniskirts and long bedspreads, gave his official endorsement to pants suits as women's office attire.

This year's cost of the minimum school foundation school program will top $1 billion, an increase of $233.7 million over last year.

Texas' personal income rose three per cent in September, University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

ASC News . . .

by Joe K. Taylor

The ASCS suggests that now is a good time for farmers to bring up to date farm records which are maintained in their county ASCS office.

Records are kept on farms participating in Government programs administered by the ASCS. A farmer who was in any program in 1970 and who has bought, sold, leased, rented, or otherwise acquired or disposed of farmland should visit his County ASCS office to report the transactions.

Previous farm legislation is expiring and Congress is expected to take up proposed new farm legislation when it reconvenes in November. Whatever farm programs we Visitors Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Eppler and Dwight, were Mr. and Mrs. Al Oppinger, Mike, Kirk, Vikkie and Scott of Arlington, and Mr. and Mrs. Glendon Eppler and Eric of Austin.

Mrs. Yancy and Mary came home Tuesday of last week, Mary having had therapy several days in Hendrick Hospital. Mary is learning to walk. Sunday Mr. Ellis Densman and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Densman and children of Brownwood visited with them.

Mr. and Mrs. David Zirkle and Don, of Austin, visited Mrs. Lillian Lewellen and in Santa Anna with Mrs. Bessie Stewardson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Farley of Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Williams, Gaylon and Debbie, visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Grady Williams and Johnny.

have, farmers will want to be sure their farm records are accurate and complete when the programs go into effect.

Proclamations of national marketing quotas and acreage allotments for the 1971 crops of upland cotton and extra long staple cotton has been made by Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin.

He reported that, although a national marketing quota of 14,200,000 bales and an allotment of 16 million acres had been set for upland cotton, if new farm legislation is enacted by Congress when it reconvenes in mid-November, marketing quotas would not be in effect for the 1971 through 1973 crops of cotton.

County ASCS offices are required to keep records on acreage of all farms where owners or operators participate in any ASCS-administered program. These include programs for feed grain, cotton, wheat, peanuts, rice, tobacco, sugarcane, and sugarbeets in years when proportionate shares are in effect.

In addition, ASCS-administered farm programs include price-support on several commodities such as barley, oats, grain sorghums, wheat and cotton.

If a farm is constituted differently now than it was when the farmer began program participation, and if he hasn't reported the change, he should do so as soon as possible. Also, if a farm has changed owners or operators in that period, a report should be made to the County ASCS office.

A number of wool and lamb growers have been notified to sign their wool incentive. As others receive their notices, they are requested to come in promptly to the ASCS office and sign their applications.

Persons marketing shorn wool and unshorn lambs should make sure the sale is fully documented. They will need the sales document in applying for incentive payments for 1970 marketings.

All sales made from the same family must be entered on the same application. The persons whose name is on the sales receipt must sign the application. In a lot of instances several members of the same family will sign the same application.

It is necessary that we know the number of head shorn representing the sales of the wool and whether or not any unshorn lambs were purchased on the sale of unshorn lambs.

Producers may apply for wool incentive payment as soon as the sales are completed. The producer must own the shorn animals and the unshorn lambs for at least 30 days in order to receive incentive payment.

The County Committee has formulated a new policy on building new ponds. This policy is that the construction of pit type ponds will be made by the use of a scraper or buggy. No straight dozer work will be used in this type pond. Any exceptions to this policy must first be approved by the County Committee.

The ACP handbook states that four inches of topsoil must be spread on the dam or on the spoils of pit type ponds.

Farmers with ACP cost-share practices which have not been completed are reminded that cost-share will be paid only on practices substantially completed this year. Farmers are urged to report completion of the practice as soon as they are completed.

We do not anticipate any additional funds for ACP cost share this year.

Driving Without a License

When Jeff's car knocked down a pedestrian he felt no great sense of guilt. After all, he had been driving properly, well within the speed limit. Clearly it was not his fault that the man had stepped out suddenly from behind a parked car.

Then Jeff remembered, with a sinking feeling, that his driver's license had expired. Sure enough, the pedestrian seized upon this point in suing for damages.

"Anyone without a driver's license," he argued at a court hearing, "has no business driving a car in the first place."

Nevertheless, the court decided Jeff could not be held legally liable. The judge said this lack of a license, even though wrongful, had no connection at all with the accident.

Generally speaking, the mere fact that a motorist has no license does not make him automatically responsible for accidents. For this would be imposing an extra penalty upon him, in addition to the regular penalty the law already imposes for driving without a license.

Furthermore, an unlicensed driver is himself entitled to collect damages, if someone else negligently injures him. Otherwise, noted one court, he would become a helpless target for any other driver on the road.

On the other hand, there is no doubt that the state does have a right not only to require a license but also to enforce that requirement rigorously.

In one case a citizen became incensed at the idea of police roadblocks, which were used from time to time to check up on the licenses of passing motorists. Finally he went to court for an injunction demanding an end to this practice.

Until a motorist has done something wrong," he said, "the police have no authority to stop him. He has a right to use the public streets without any interference."

But the court rejected his demand, saying that the right to use the public street is subject to restrictions necessary for the public safety. A roadblock, said the court, is a logical and practical method for weeding out drivers not fit to drive.

How to build a family nest egg with U.S. Savings Bonds.

It takes money to feed a family. It takes money to clothe a family. It takes money to house a family.

It takes money to send the kids to school, buy a car, give birthday presents, make insurance payments and pay the doctor.

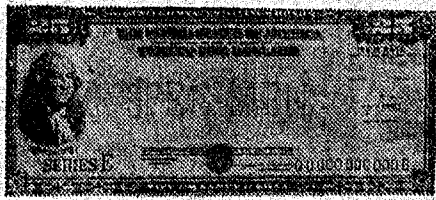

With all the dues it takes just to make it from one day to the next, how's a man going to find a buck to tuck away? How's he going to sock away enough to make tomorrow a better day? How's a man going to build a family nest egg?

It might be easier than you think. All you have to do is sign up for the Payroll-Savings Plan where you work. That way you can have a small amount taken from your paycheck, before you receive it, and invested in U.S. Savings Bonds. Your nest egg grows automatically each and every payday.

And now, U.S. Savings Bonds pay 5% interest when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year; 5.20% thereafter to maturity). That's the highest rate ever.

Join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Before you know it, those small deductions and the new interest rate will have grown into a comfortable kitty, a respectable family nest egg, a better tomorrow.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.

PHLOX FROM THE GARDEN

The phlox is a common garden flower that first came from right here in North America. The Drummond phlox still grows wild in abundance in the state of Texas.

It received its name from the Greek word meaning flame. It ranges in showy colors, but the blossoms are never flame colored.

Annuals are grown from seed, but perennials always from stem and root cuttings. The flowers will grow in clusters sometimes two or three feet high.

Our flowers are the freshest, our special attention given to their arrangement makes them even lovelier. Whenever you need flowers, remember we are just as close as your telephone. Call 348-3301.

Youth Today

(by Bill Weeks)

The first part of this is a follow-up on the article last week on the Agape singers. We already have an active Christian youth group in Santa Anna and I think it would be a very good thing to form a singing group of our own with the young people of this present group forming the nucleus.

We have several capable leaders for this type of group in our own community and I'm sure some of them would be more than willing to assist in this type of program.

Besides singing in the various churches of our own community, I'm sure transportation can be arranged to have them perform elsewhere. I'm also sure that other churches in other communities would be more than happy to have this group perform.

Some of the radio stations would also broadcast the performances of such a group as this. The Agape singers from Louisville have had several TV appearances and this would also be a possibility for our group.

I would appreciate as many responses to this suggestion as possible—both from the youth who would be willing to participate and from the parents concerned. These responses may be made to me or the Santa Anna News—Attn. Barbara Kingsbery.

Next I would like to use an article taken from "Messenger of Peace" which expresses the point very well:

"A mother asked J. Edgar Hoover, 'Should I force my child to go to Sunday school?' Mr. Hoover answered, 'Yes, and that with no further discussion about the matter.'"

"That startled me," the mother said. To which Mr. Hoover replied, "How do you answer Junior when he comes to the breakfast table Monday morning and says rebelliously, 'I'm not going to school today?' You know—he goes! How do you answer when Junior comes in from play, dirty, and says, 'I'm not going to take a bath!' You know—he bathes! How do you answer him when, threatened with illness, he says 'I'll not take that medicine?' Why, he may blubber and fuss a little, but he takes it!"

"Now, why all this timidity, then, in the realm of his spiritual growth. You say you are going to let him wait until he is old enough to decide for himself about school, his bath, and his medicine?"

"Or are you afraid he'll succumb to the old wives' story about too much religion when he was young—the parents made me go' sort of gag? Look about you: the story is obviously false, despite its popularity. Do you suppose that, just because you insist in no uncertain tones that Junior takes his bath tonight, he will become a bathless Groggins?"

"What shall we say then, when Junior announces he doesn't like Sunday School or church? That's an easy one! Just be consistent; Junior, in our home we all attend Sunday School and Church—and that includes you!"

Proper Handling of Deer Can Improve The Venison

Austin—So the fun is over. You've shot your buck deer. What now?

Proper handling of a deer carcass can mean the difference between an assortment of tasty chops in the freezer or a total loss of valuable meat.

So with the deer season's opening, prospective deer-slayers should bone up on deer skinning and processing procedures.

Two Texas Parks and Wildlife Department publications are available to help deer hunters. The 1970-71 Hunting Guide will tell what the seasons and bag limits are in all 254 counties, and the illustrated "Now That You've Killed It" leaflet written by game management officer Grover Simpson tells how to go about the field dressing job.

Simpson says the first thing the successful hunter should do after shooting a deer and making sure it's dead is to tag the animal. Then, without delay, the deer should be field-dressed.

One important note: Contrary to popular belief, there is no need to cut the deer's throat to bleed it. The bleeding will be accomplished during the field dressing process.

The deer is propped on its back and an incision is made from its pelvic bone clear thru the rib cage and as far up the neck as possible, with care taken not to puncture the entrails. The windpipe is cut as high up the neck as possible and is pulled downward.

The carcass is then rolled on its side, and the layer of meat which is holding the entrails to the ribs is cut all the way down to the backbone. The deer is rolled over and the process is repeated on the other side. The entrails then can be pulled from the body cavity.

Then the deer is lifted by the hind legs and propped up on its back with rocks or some other suitable object, so a knife can be used to separate the bones of the pelvis. Then the carcass should be hung by the antlers or head for about 20 minutes to allow the blood to drain. If no tree is handy, turn the deer with the chest cavity down in a clean place and allow it to drain.

The skinning can begin at once. If the deer is to be mounted it should be hung by its hind legs). The skin comes off more easily while the deer is still warm, so the animal should be skinned within two hours.

To remove the skin, cut it down the inside of each leg to the middle of the body. Then the skin is cut around the neck. A knife must be used to separate the skin from the legs and other places the skin sticks tightly to the meat.

The deer should be taken to camp and hung in a tree by the hind legs for four or five hours. This allows the tiny blood vessels to drain back and out toward the heart region.

The carcass should be wrapped in a sheet or cheesecloth and kept hanging up until cool. It may then be cut up as desired.

A fuller explanation of the process, with accompanying illustrations, may be obtained from the department's headquarters at the John H. Reagan Building, Austin, Texas, 78701.

Turkey Roosts Scarce In Many West-Tex Areas

Tank batteries, power substations and power line poles may be considered eyesores by residents of the rolling plains areas of West Central Texas.

But to a growing population of wild turkeys, these man-made objects are a key to survival.

The brushy grasslands of Howard, Mitchell, Sterling, Glasscock and Reagan Counties are supporting a remarkably large crop of turkeys—but to survive, the birds need to roost out of the reach of predators.

The problem? No trees.

Falling to find enough height for protection in the mesquite and cedar thickets, turkeys by the hundreds flock to high line poles and oil well sites each night.

Texas Parks and Wildlife biologist Herb Kothmann, assigned to the Permian Basin Regulatory Area, said the lack of natural roosting sites is keeping turkeys out of areas which might otherwise support them. It also forces the birds to roost in dangerously heavy concentrations, making them easy prey for poachers.

Some game management officers have attempted to supplement roosting sites by nailing boards into tree limbs so the trees can support more birds.

Kothmann said the turkey population in the areas east and south of Big Spring came there in the past few years, mostly drifting northward from the Concho River area. Improved cover and feed conditions apparently contributed to the influx of birds, he said.

The birds apparently aren't particular where they roost. Kothmann said as many as 100 turkeys roost in a small grove of elm trees surrounding an abandoned Midland County farmhouse.

Another group of turkeys unfortunately chose an electrical power station as a roost, and one unlucky bird accidentally cut off electric service to a portion of nearby Big Spring when he came

Mounties . . .

Mountaineer penalty caused them to lack 3 yards of a first down. With 1:31 left in the half, Rocky Dean ran 16 yards for the first. Three plays later with 39 seconds left, Horner kept the pig skin and went in from the four for another Mountaineer TD. Horner also picked up 2 points on the conversion attempt. The halftime ended with the Mounties ahead 16-7.

Walton kicked off to open the second half of play. The Coyotes, under rush by Roddy Dean, Mark Wise, and Tommy Lewis couldn't make first down yardage; and the ball went over on downs. Roddy and Rocky Dean picked up yardage and first downs for the Mountaineers who drove to the 9 yard line of Richland Springs. Ricky Beal forced his way through the Coyote line for a Mountaineer TD. Rocky Dean made the 2-point conversion, and the Mounties led 24-7.

The Coyotes picked up three first downs after a 24-yard kick-off return. They drove to the Mountaineer 9-yard line. Attempts to pass were quickly broken up by Roddy Dean and Lewis. The Coyotes could not make another first, and the Mounties got the ball on their own 4 yard line on downs.

Beal and Rocky Dean picked up first down yardage. A Mountaineer fumble on the 32 yard line was recovered by the Coyotes who made one first down on the ground and another in the air. Then the Coyotes fumbled and Rocky Dean recovered for S. A.

The Mountaineers had had luck a second time when Coyote end Nelson Smith intercepted a Horner to Holland pass which set up the Coyote's second TD. Tommy Teal went over for the Coyote TD three plays later. A two-point conversion attempt was no good, and the score with 6:30 left in the game was 24-13.

The Coyotes kicked off from the Mountaineer 45 because of a 15-yard penalty assessed the Mountaineers. Roddy Dean ran the ball back to the 30 yard line. Rocky Dean broke for 26 yards and a first down. The Mounties drove into Coyote territory. On fourth and 6 the Mounties went for the yardage and got it. The ball rested on the Richland Springs 16. Fourth down found the Mounties lacking yardage again. Horner kept the ball and got the first down. Rocky and Roddy Dean picked up hard-earned yards and drove to the Coyote 2 yard line with 47 seconds left. A Mountaineer penalty put the ball back on the 7 yard line. With 44 seconds remaining in the game, Rocky Dean went over the goal for the TD. The PAT was fumbled and no good. The Coyotes last attempt to make points was ruined when Rocky Dean intercepted a pass and ran 35 yards as the clock ran out and the Mounties led by a score of 30-13.

The entire Mountaineer backfield was outstanding this week as each back, Beal, Roddy, Rocky and Horner each made touchdowns. Rocky Dean led in yards rushing with 211. Horner had 47; Roddy, 35; and Beal 30.

The Mountaineer defense was outstanding as it held the Coyotes to 13 points. Roddy Dean led in number of tackles with 26. Ricky Beal followed with 14; Horner and Rocky Dean 7; Walton 8, and Wise 7.

Next week the Mountaineers travel to Blanket for the last district game. If the Mounties win and Richland Springs wins over Eden, the Mounties will be Tri-Champs of District 18-B; and a coin toss between Richland Springs, Rising Star and Santa Anna will determine which team will play at bi-district.
