The recent rains in the area have wrought their usual miracles -- the countryside is green and pretty, with the change made almost overnight. Many areas have not yet received enough heavy rainfall to fill tanks and lakes, so more precipitation is needed before the long hot summer.

During the extra-dry spring when local yards and gardens looked like a desert, one plant thrived in the arid climate. An ornamental cactus, standing four or five feet high, was in full bloom at the Sy Burden rent house at the corner of South Third and Willis Street.

Several Santa Anna people were among the Coleman County delegation in Austin yesterday for the Texas Water Commission hearing concerning the proposed Stacy Dam on the Colorado River in south Coleman County. The proposed lake would be of great benefit to the central and west Texas area, with several cities seeking permits for water from the lake, if approved.

Mission Service The Goal For Couple Known Here

(The following article is from the May 17 issue of The Baptist Standard)

By Debbie Stewart
Texas Baptist Public Relations

Mr. and Mrs. David Wilson, appointed as Southern Baptist missionary nurses in Fort Worth in April, will be less than 30 years old when they arrive in Colombia, South America.

The destination of foreign mission service is an old one for the young couple from Texas. As the son of missionaries to Brazil, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wilson, David began as a boy to learn about missions in South America. He was born in Waxahachie, and returned to the area as a young man to study nursing at Dallas Baptist College.

David met Sue at college, where she was a nursing student. They worked as nursing students and graduates at the same hospitals in Dallas and Fort Worth. Before their marriage in 1970, Sue and David discovered another common interest besides nursing -- missions.

After a foreign missions meeting eight years ago, the couple wrote the Southern Baptist Foreign Missions Board about their commitment to missios careers.

Personal experience prepared Sue and David for missions before they met. David saw the human and spiritual aspects of day-to-day missionary life. As an MK, or 'missionary kid', he understands that missionaries are as capable of mistakes and achievements as other Christians. David elected to continue his lifelong affiliation with the foreign missionary 'family.'

Sue also appreciates the practical and inspirational nature of missionary work. She was born

DAVID AND SUE WILSON

With sons Aaron and Joseph in Robert Lee near San Angelo, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Copple, formerly of Santa Anna and now of Arlington. She 'felt at home for the first time' when her family moved to a New Mexico town near an Indian reservation. She loved working with Southern Baptist home missionaries in vacation Bible schools and other ministries with the Indians.

'I saw missions first hand, the joys, heartbreaks, and just plain hard work,' Sue recalled. 'I remember riding with missionary Lousie Nelson, making roads where there weren't any, and loving every minute of it.'

The experience that 'sealed my commitment to missions' for Sue was working in summer missions with emeritus missionary Orvil Reid in Guadalajara, Mexico.

Foreign missions sometimes seemed to the Wilsons as far in the future as South America is distant in miles. Sue and David took one step at a time toward appointment as missionaries last month in Fort Worth. After they graduated from Dalas Baptist College, David completed a master's degree in nursing at Texas Women's University.

Another step was becoming accustomed to each other. They worked together as nurses at Fort Worth Children's Hospital. Helping premature and sick infants and their families solidified the Wilsons' belief in the difference that Christian nurses make in crises.

Sue and David will complete 14 weeks of missionary orientation in Georgia and a year of language school in Costa Rica before moving to Colombia. They are ready and 'excited' about counting themselves among the 25 million people in Colombia.

Mrs. Wilson is the granddaughter of Mrs. C. C. Gilbert of Santa Anna.

Information Sought On Danish Culture

The Institute of Texan Cultures, The University of Texas at San Antonio, has sent an appeal to the Coleman Historical Commission for information.

John L. Davis, Head of Research Department, is gathering material on the Danes in Texas for a future publication. He needs material on Danish settlement areas and individuals both of the past and contemporary times -- first, second and third generations. A descendent's name and address would be of great assistance to Mr. Davis.

Contact Doris Miller, 1216 Colorado Street, Coleman, Texas 76834 with any information that may be forwarded to Mr. Davis.

Land Registry Seeking Names For Recognition

The Texas Department of Agriculture has sent a notice to the Coleman County Historical Commission that for the fifth year it will honor families who have farmed and ranched the same land for 100 years. The registration period began May 1 and will continue to August 15, 1978.

It is thought that some land in Coleman County has been in constant use by the same family for 100 years which could qualify and be included in the registry. The McIver property near Trickham was listed last year.

Anyone wishing additional information on how to qualify for this recognition or wanting an application blank, contact Doris Miller, 1216 Colorado Street, Coleman, Texas 76834.

If anyone would like to see what the 'registry' looks like and examine the material, there is a copy of the 'Family Land Heritage Registry' in the Mrs. J. A. B. Miller Public Library in Coleman.

Jeanette Suzanne Weathers and Billy Joe Whaley Jr. exchanged marriage vows Saturday, June 3 at 7 p.m. in the Santa Anna United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Richard Chaffin of Fabens officiated in the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Ellis Holden of Santa Anna.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Weathers of Santa Anna. The bridegroom is the son of Bill Whaley Sr. and Jo Whaley of Brownwood.

Decorations for the wedding included an arch-shaped candelabra holding 15 tapers and candelabra entwined with greenery. A large spray of orchid mums and gladioli was placed in front of the candelabra with greenery on either side. White bows and greenery marked the family pews.

Donnie Neff was organist and Mrs. Montie Guthrie III was pianist. Mrs. Terry McIver, soloist, sang "You Light Up My Life", the "Wedding Prayer", and with the father of the bride sang a duet "Let It Be Me".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of sheer organza featuring empire bodice, long, straight sleeves and petal V-shaped neckline. Bodice and sleeves were overlaid with peau d ange lace. The sleeves were further accented by a singular narrow sheer organza ruffle which extended from the elbow to compliment the wrist. Matching lace bordered the ruffled flounce which encircled the A-line skirt and attached chapel train. A beaded peau d ange lace covered bandeau held her fingertip veil which was bordered in matching scalloped lace. She carried a white Cymbidium orchid with feathered carnations.

Maid of honor was Kim Bray of Rockwood. Bridesmaids were Joni Weathers, sister of the bride, Jennifer Rutherford of Rockwood, and Jolyn Whaley, sister of the groom.

Their floor-length gowns of orchid knit were fashioned with empire waistlines and shoe string straps over the shoulders. Their capotes were floral silk organza. Their headpieces featured Baby's Breath.

Bill Whaley Sr. was his son's best man. Groomsmen were Ricky Barnes and Monte Jones of Brownwood and Jay Weathers, brothers, brother of the bride.

Scotty Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Anderson, served as ring bearer. Candelighters were Jani's and Jackie Weathers, sisters of the bride, and Jill Weathers, sister of the bride, was flower girl.

Their dresses of orchid floral pongee were floor-length, designed with scooped necklines and gathered skirts.

The bride's mother was attired in a floor-length dress of blue crepe with flowing chiffon cape attached to the bodice. She chose beige accessories. The groom's mother wore a long dress of silver chiffon featuring long sleeves and mandarin neckline bordered in silver trim.

Immediately after the ceremony, a reception was held in the church annex. The bride's table was laid with white lace over orchid. Her bouquet centered the table. The four-tiered cake was topped with a miniature bridal couple.

The groom's table, also laid with white lace over orchid, was centered with silk flowers in shades of purple and orchid. Chocolate cake was served with coffee from silver appointments.

House party members included Pam Anderson, Cindy Cozart, Tammy Bengel and Sandra Harris.

Rhonda Rhoades registered the guests. Ushers were Randy Beene, Mike Bullard and Jeff Whaley, brother of the groom, all of Brownwood, and Paul Martin.

For going away, the bride wore an ice blue Qiana knit knee-length sundress with the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

After a trip to San Angelo, the couple will reside at 1707 Stewart St., Brownwood.

Adventists Send Aid To Flood Victims

Following the flood in Mexico, the Seventh-day Adventist World Service (SAWS) sent to their aid $12,000 in cash and 10,000 pounds of clothing. Also a shipment of 400 bales of clothing was sent to war-torn Lebanon, and 780 bales of clothing for the African states of Rwanda and Burundi.

SAWS is the disaster and famine relief arm of the Seventh-day Adventist church. This organization provided $6.5 million in aid during 1977. This aid is given regardless of race or religion. Its work is supported by Adventist members and by matching funds from government and private sources.

The local Adventist church took up a collection to help in SAWS activities recently.

W. F. Barnes To Aid With Service Group

Mr. W.F. Barnes of the Santa Anna Housing Authority has announced that he will add the responsibilities of Camp Chairman to his duties as Chairman of the Santa Anna Salvation Army Service Unit.

As Camp Chairman, Mr. Barnes is in charge of selecting 2 boys from ages 8 to 14 to attend the Salvation Army's Camp Hoblitzelle at Midlothian July 9-16.

All Texas communities are invited to send selected youths who would not otherwise get a chance to attend a summer camp. The Camp Chairman is responsible for selecting the boys. The Service Unit furnishes them with any clothing, toiletries or other items they need, arranging medical examinations and providing them with $5.00 in cash. It also arranges transportation to and from the camp for them.

The Santa Anna Service Unit guarantees local expenses in getting the boys ready. The Texas division of The Salvation Army pays all costs of the camp itself, which offers swimming, hiking, athletic contests and many group activities in each of four one-week sessions.

God in His infinite mercy, will Bless you for helping carry the load;
