Mrs. Charles Bengé brought to the office a receipt from the W. R. Kelley & Co. for merchandise purchased by her late father, M. R. Cheatham of Rockwood, in 1896.

The receipt was apparently for school clothes for the family, with four pairs of shoes listed for a total of five dollars.

A separate receipt listed the family's groceries, with 36 pounds of sugar costing $2 and 50 pounds of flour for $1.15. Syrup was listed by the keg and corn meal was purchased by the bushel.

Rabies Outbreak In Bangs Area

Six people in the Bangs area are undergoing anti-rabies inoculations as a result of contact with rabid animals.

Mrs. O. C. Koch of Bangs was attacked and bitten by a cat that had been at her farm for a year.

New Assessment For ISD To Be Started This Year

The ratio for taxation of property in the Santa Anna Independent School District is being changed this year. Formerly assessed at forty percent of market value and taxed at a $2.05 rate, the change will be to 100 percent of market value and the rate lowered to 82 cents per $100 valuation.

The change is to be required by 1982, and the local district is going into the new system this year.

Supt. R. C. Smith stated this week that the taxes will not change with the new rate, but the method of reaching the figure will be changed.

Mr. Smith also noted the local school district is losing over one million dollars in taxable property with the new homestead exemptions, costing the school some $21,000 in taxes. However the State will be adding $12,000 to help make up the deficit.

Stacy Dam Project Slated For Further Court Action

As was expected, the proposed Stacy dam project is headed for the courts. The Lower Colorado River Authority, which has opposed the $60 million dam and reservoir, filed suit Friday in the 126th District State Court to block construction.

Larry Smith, an LCRA attorney, said Monday the suit is a "basic statute litigation" case. "We are making the same kind of arguments that we have been making," Smith said.

One of those arguments is the LCRA claim that the diversion of water from communities downstream of the reservoir will adversely affect hydroelectric generation and water supplies. Another LCRA attorney, Fred Werkenthin, has said more than 36 billion gallons of water a year will be diverted from those communities if the dam is built.

But officials of the Colorado Municipal Water District, which proposed the dam, have said the project would create a reservoir that would provide water supplies for domestic and municipal users for the next 50 years.

The LCRA also contends the water commission exceeded its authority in approving the project and that the evidence did not support the action.

It also argues that Commissioner Dorsey Hardeman should have been disqualified from voting on the Stacy Dam issue. The suit says Hardeman was prejudiced since he earlier served as an attorney for San Angelo when that city applied for co-sponsorship of the project.

Smith said a hearing date for the lawsuit "will not be set for some time." It will be assigned to a specific district court later.

IF YOU SMELL NATURAL GAS, FOLLOW THESE 3 STEPS TO SAFETY.

The natural gas industry has an excellent safety record.

The fact that you can smell natural gas is because we add a harmless chemical to it as an extra safety feature. Otherwise, it would be completely odorless. If you detect faint whiffs of what you think may be gas, investigate. It may be something that is as easily and safely corrected as a pilot light that has gone out, or a burner valve that's partially open.

If your equipment seems to be working properly and the odor intensifies and seems to be everywhere, please follow these precautions:

1. Do not switch anything electrical on or off. Do not use the telephone in your own home. Do not strike a match. Do not do anything that might cause a spark.
2. Have everyone leave the house immediately, leaving doors open to help ventilate.
3. Go to a nearby telephone and call Lone Star Gas Company. Wait until we have found the source of the odor to determine whether it's safe for you to return to the house.

You may never have a natural gas leak, but we want you to be informed in case one does occur. Please make sure your family is aware of these precautionary steps. And we suggest that you keep this message for future reference.

We Should Be Called The Sons of God

Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God: therefore the world knoweth us not; because it knew him not. 1 John 3:1.

As John thought of the love of Christ, he was led to exclaim, "Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God."

People think it a privilege to see a royal personage, and thousands go great distances to see one. How much greater privilege it is to be sons and daughters of the Most High. What greater privilege could be conferred on us than to be given entrance into the royal family?

In order to become the sons and daughters of God, we must separate from the world. "Come out from among them, and be ye separate," the Lord says, "and I will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters."....

There is a heaven before us, a crown of life to win. But to the overcomer only is the reward given. He who gains heaven must be clothed with the robe of righteousness. "Every man that hath this hope in him purifieth himself, even as he is pure." In the character of Christ there was no discord of any kind. And this must be our experience. Our lives must be controlled by the principles that controlled His life.

Through the perfection of the sacrifice given for the guilty race, those who believe in Christ, coming unto Him, may be saved from eternal ruin....

Let no one be so deluded by the enemy as to think that it is a condescension for any man, however talented or learned or honored, to accept Christ. Every human being should look to heaven with reverence and gratitude, and exclaim with amazement, "Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God."

THE PRESIDENT'S ENERGY MESSAGE

Like most Americans, I could hardly wait for the President's Sunday night speech. Two weeks before, when the President cancelled his first scheduled speech, I was very pleased and delighted that he had decided to seriously consider the problem before setting forth any hastily-conceived decisions. It was further pleasing to get the White House announcement that the President would ponder the problems, and possible solutions, with experts and then devise a national energy policy. The entire nation was ready to support strong, positive, workable leadership.

As the days passed, and the Camp David sessions continued, hope persisted, but in my mind, doubt began to prevail. As the names of those giving the advice were released, it became apparent that there were few attending with adequate technical or administrative knowledge to contribute meaningful solutions. By the last few days, it was clear that political concerns were weighing much heavier on the President than were viable, responsible, practical solutions.

The speech on Sunday was rousing and well-delivered. Many of the President's declarations about the confidence gap between people and government, and even among ourselves, are tragically accurate. The fact is, however, that he has failed to recognize the cause of this condition. He instead launched headlong into even more rhetoric, more finger-pointing and more condemnation of the most logical scapegoats — the energy producers and OPEC. Sure, some of the blame rightfully belongs to these particular nations and some of these producers.

Yes, some oil companies and producers have gouged, held back and profited

— there again, this is to be expected when the conditions exist that foster such opportunity. Yet again, when you look at the total picture, this is only a very small part of the problem. The fact is, we produce 8 1/2 million barrels a day less than we consume. Our problem is not that we must import some oil — the problem is that we must import entirely too much oil. Here again, the President properly recognized that reality — yet once more, he totally failed to acknowledge why — he chose to attack by more control, more interference, more accusation, and a call for more sacrifice from our economy and our people. He moved to limit imports by edict, he asked for mechanisms to allocate the shortages, and he set forth plans to tax and tax and spend and spend.

For three decades now, we have forced oil companies to go outside the country to develop sources of crude oil. We systematically destroyed domestic production incentives under the political cloak of "closing loopholes." We bestowed foreign tax credits upon those international producers, making it more attractive to increase foreign capital investments.

Our world is running out of crude oil — we must accept this fact. We must turn to alternatives — we have accepted this need. Yet, in the ensuing 20-30 years we must dramatically produce more of that which we already know exists and that which we will discover. The only way this will happen is to give domestic producers the profit incentive, the adequate capital, and the investment environment to charge headlong into a massive commitment of exploration, development and technology research. I desperately want to support my President — most Americans do. Sadly, he has chosen to become a candidate, not a statesman.

HELP WANTED

MARINE CORPS HAS SEVERAL OPENINGS

Jobs are available that offer good pay, excellent training, a great deal of satisfaction, outstanding benefits, a fine chance for promotion, and opportunity to travel and 30 days' paid vacation a year.

If you qualify, you can have all that as a United States Marine.

A Marine's salary goes a long way, since food, clothing, shelter and medical and dental care are completely or practically free, and most other things can be bought at a fair discount. The Corps will help pay for your education, too.

The Marine Corps will train qualified men and women in an impressive variety of fields, from computer operations to cooking; radio repair to court reporting; aircraft to accounting; music to mechanics; drafting to data processing, plus much more; and pay them while they learn.

Some of the jobs — including many of those in combat arms — offer big bonuses, and the training will stick with you long after you've left the Marines.

In addition, being a Marine can give a person a sense of physical well-being, pride and personal fulfillment that's pretty hard to find in the average office, factory or shop.

Being a Marine also means

A great job may be waiting for you.

You may be working in many places around the world you've only dreamed of seeing. What's more there's a wide variety of sport and recreational facilities available to you right on base.

You can rise in rank as rapidly as you deserve in the Marines, and in only 20 years, you can retire on a good pension while you're still young enough to enjoy life, or start a second career with the skills you've acquired.

For free booklets about how to get the jobs the Marines offer, see a Marine recruiter, or call, toll-free, 800-423-2600. In California, the toll-free number is 800-252-0241.

SDA Services Gives Help To Mishap Victims

Helping the victims of floods, earthquakes, tornadoes, famines, tidal waves and wars is the work of Seventh-day Adventist World Service (SAWS).

In 1978 SAWS spent over $8 million in clothing, food, medical supplies and direct cash shipments. This aid went to 33 nations, to all needy victims regardless of creed or color.

SAWS is the overseas arm of the church's disaster preparedness. In the United States and Canada, each church operates Community Service Centers. Clothing is sorted by size, sex and season at the centers before being sent to SAWS warehouses for shipment overseas and for local use.

A fire in the Philippines, floods in Brazil and storms in India all brought quick response from SAWS during 1978. In addition to disaster relief, the organization also maintains an agricultural self-help program in Chad (Central Africa) and long-term Feeding program for hundreds of thousands of children in Chile and Peru.

The local branch of SAWS (SDA Community Service) will be located down town near the Lion's Club. But much work must be done to the building before it can be of use.

Watch the paper for announcement of the new opening of the Center. Recently four boxes of clothing were sent to Keene for use in the disaster van.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES.
BEREAN BIBLE SOCIETY
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

SIN NO JOKE

The present trend in American moral conduct is downward. Increasing thousands all about us are throwing restraint to the winds to enjoy the pleasures of sin.

We struggle with the problem of juvenile delinquency, but tempt the young in a hundred ways to immorality and violence. We are shocked at the deeds of sex-mad criminals who make it unsafe for women to walk the streets at night, but our women continue to pay less and less heed to the principles of modesty and decency that would contribute so greatly to their safety.

Most of all, we have disregarded the Word of God. No longer does the Bible hold the first place in our homes. It rather lies gathering dust while our moral and spiritual strength is dissipated by pursuing pleasures that fail to bring true happiness or satisfaction. Yes, we have "a form of godliness" but our conduct "denies the power thereof."

Sin may be "fun" to many. They may joke about drunkenness, indecency and immorality, but God declares that it is no joke to Him. He says: "Fools make a mock at sin" (Prov. 14:9); for, not only does sin in its very nature break down, rather than build up, but as responsible creatures sinners will one day have to give an account of their conduct to the God who created them.

To look at the brighter side, we may all rejoice in another indication that sin is no joke to God. St. Paul points it out in I Cor. 15:3, where he says: "Christ died for our sins." Christ knew the horrible results of sin and the dreadful penalty which justice must visit upon it. Yes, and He also knew that "all have sinned and come short of the glory of God" (Rom. 3:23) and in infinite love He left the glories of heaven and stooped to bear the disgrace and penalty for sin Himself! "Christ...hath once suffered for sins, the Just for the unjust, that He might bring us to God" (I Pet. 3:18) and those who come to know God through faith in Christ experience peace and joy which this world can never afford.

Supplementary Policies

Persons eligible for Medicare health insurance benefits who seek to supplement their coverage by purchasing additional private insurance should be sure

Should Be Studied warns Priscilla Tercero, Manager of the Brownwood Social Security Office.

Tercero says that Dallas regional officials of HEW's Health Care Financing Administration (HCFA), the federal agency that administers the Medicare and Medicaid programs, are concerned that many elderly Medicare beneficiaries are being sold duplicative or overpriced supplementary insurance policies.

According to Jerry Sconce, HCFA's regional administrator, some Medicare beneficiaries are being taken advantage of by a few unscrupulous insurance agents, often posing as representatives of Medicare of the Social Security Administration. Sconce has recently contacted state insurance commissioners asking their cooperation in identifying and controlling such sales practices.

The problem is a costly one, said Sconce, citing a recent report by the U. S. House Select Committee on Aging which estimated that senior citizens "being taken" for $1 ar by a few insurance companies and their agents. The committee report also noted that some companies which specialize in selling this type of insurance return an average of 50 cents on the premium dollar while others return as much as 90 cents for similar coverage.

Sconce urges senior citizens considering buying a supplemental plan to be sure that they are not duplicating existing Medicare coverage and to seek out policies that pay a high return in benefits.

He further warned that any insurance salesman representing himself as connected with Medicare or Social Security should be viewed with suspicion since no federal employee is authorized to engage in this activity. Sconce urged the public to report any such misrepresentation to the local Social Security office and to the State Insurance Commissioner.

YOUR CHILD'S BIBLE TRAINING CAN'T BEGIN TOO SOON

We're not just saying words, we really mean it, and we want the child to be able to see it in what we do. Of course, we'll make mistakes, but you'll have to explain that to the child, too, letting him know that mommy and daddy love the Lord and want to serve Him, but we are just people, and sometimes we're not going to do what the Lord wants. I think we should apologize to our child when that happens and say "We made a mistake, and we're sorry. We're asking God to forgive us and will you forgive us, too, for setting the wrong examples for you."

MRS. JAMES KEITH KENNEDY

S-Annans' Granddaughter Wed In June 22 Ceremony

Miss Gayla Jo Mills and James Keith Kennedy were wed in a candlelight ceremony June 22 in First United Methodist Church at Olton. They are the son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kennedy and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mills of Olton; and the bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. C. A. Crump of Coleman and Mr. and Mrs. Buck Mills of Santa Anna.

Decorations for the ceremony included a memory candle and a Boston fern in front of the altar, an arch candelabrum at center back, brass candle trees on either side, white roses and baby's breath outside the candletrees, and votive candles and ivy beneath the lighted altar cross. The chancel rail was entwined with greenery interspersed with votive lights; stained glass windows were accented with tapered candles nestled in greenery; and family pews were marked with hurricane lamps with white roses.

Officiating minister was the Rev. Elton Wyatt of Lubbock; organist was Mrs. Delmer Givens; pianist was Mrs. Dale Cary; and soloists were Mrs. Roy Shave, who sang "The Wedding Song" and "You Light Up My Life", and Mrs. Mark Hodges who sang "The Lord's Prayer". Mr. Mills escorted his daughter to the altar and he and Mrs. Mills gave her in marriage.

The bride wore a gown of organza and lace with moulded bodice, sheer yoke, high collar of Schiffli embroidery, Schiffli medallions on bodice and yoke, full bishop sleeves with crystal pleated cuffs, Venise lace trim, and Schiffli ruffle over the hands. The princess skirt with chapel train was accented with Schiffli medallions and encircled at hemline by a matching flounce.

She wore a fingertip veil of silk illusion edged with lace and carried a cascade of white silk roses accented with pearls. She also wore her grandmother Mills' wedding ring, and carried a Bible belonging to Mrs. Luis Hair.

Maid of honor was Merilynn Mills, sister of the bride; and bridesmaids were Lisa Brimhall, Janet DePrang, cousin of the bride, Karin Kennedy and Connie Rankin, cousins of the groom. Candlelighters were Patti Cary, Paula Baker, and Melody Ayres; and the flowergirl was Cindy Cary. Relda Strain and Mrs. Larry Trimble, sister of the groom, kept the bride's book.

Each of the bride's attendants wore a white gown similar to the bride's in style, with high lace-trimmed neckline, sheer yoke edged with ruffle, full sleeves, and a ruffled flounce at the hemline. They carried lace parasols trimmed with lilies of the valley, bows, and wedding bells.

Best man was the groom's father; and groomsmen were Dwain DePrang, Randy Gober, Terry Beavers, and David Barham. Ushers were Bryan Gober and Kelly Baker; and the ring bearer was Master Shawn Smyth.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the church courtyard, where white lights were placed in trees, and floral arrangements and potted plants accented the area. Focal point was an archway entwined with greenery and trimmed with white doves and bows.

The bride's table was covered with white over white, and accented by an all white cake with pearlized columns separating four scalloped tiers. Serving here were Mrs. Sam Clark, Mrs. Luis Hair, Mrs. K. Y. Givens, Mrs. Jack Estes, and Mrs. Glen L. Peterson.

The groom's table was covered with light copper cloth with off-white overlay and appointed with copper. Serving here were Mrs. Trimble, and Sheri Kay Kennedy, his cousin. ## Solar Water Heating System A Feature Of S-Anna Home

As costs for fuel and energy increase for homeowners, one Santa Anna family is taking advantage of a free source—sunlight. The new home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Spillman in south Santa Anna has a solar hot water system.

The spacious brick home and the separate solar system building were built by Gary Patterson, a local contractor, one year ago. Local plumbers installed the equipment that is much less complicated than might be imagined.

The only distinguishing feature of the solar structure is two heat-collecting panels attached to the south side of the roof. Water is piped into the panels to be heated by sunlight in copper tubing that forms a network in a black heat-collecting material. The panels are covered with opaque plastic that is sturdy enough to withstand a hail storm.

Water in the collecting panels which reaches 180 degrees on a sunny day, is piped into a tank that resembles a large hot water heater. It is then pumped into a conventional gas hot water heater inside the home. The water often has to be cooled before it is used in the home.

The gas water heater automatically heats water for the home when there is not enough sunlight. There must be three complete days of cloudy or rainy weather before the solar system must be supplemented by the gas heater. The central Texas area has an average of only 23 completely overcast days per year.

The solar system was designed by Northrup Solar Enterprises, formerly of Abilene. The structure is large enough to provide roof-space for eight additional solar collectors,

NEW HOME of Mr. and Mrs. James Spillman features a solar water heating system housed in the small structure at right of the home. The conventional gas water heater in the home gets very little use as the central Texas area averages only 23 days of completely overcast skies annually.

HEAT COLLECTING PANELS provide solar power for the hot water system in the Jim Spillman home on South Lee Street. The solar system is atop a separate structure behind the Spillman home.

Heat A Danger On The Water

The hot summer sun is a potential hazard that is often overlooked by water recreationists, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Sunburn, heat exhaustion, heat stroke and sun blindness are real dangers on the water, and many drownings have been attributable at least in part to the sun's effects.

The sun's ultraviolet radiation can burn exposed skin (even tanned skin) and the burn can retard sweating which is nature's way of cooling the body. People with only the minimum amount of clothing are hotter than people covered with loose clothing. This is because when the skin is exposed, sweat evaporates quickly while clothing retains the moisture longer to provide more cooling.

Play or enjoyment ceases whenever the inner body becomes too warm by only a few degrees or when the water and salt supply become low. If the conditions persist and are not reversed, enjoyment not only disappears but a person may become helpless and unable to take preventive or corrective action.

Here are some emergencies that are caused by the sun:

SUNBURN: Exposure to the direct sun is always dangerous—it can cause burns that are painful or even fatal. Treat by cooling the skin, applying approved burn medications and avoiding further exposure.

SUN BLINDNESS: Caused by direct or reflected sunlight, especially on the water. Symptoms are burning, watery or enflamed eyes, headaches and poor vision. The best treatment is prevention, but once sunblinded, protect the eyes from all light and relieve pain. Wear a lightproof bandage and bathe the eyes frequently with cold, wet compresses. Generally, the victim will recover in 18 to 20 hours sufficiently to see with the aid of dark glasses.

HEAT WEAKNESS: Generally caused by excessively hot, humid environment. Symptoms are easy fatigue, headache, mental and physical inefficiency, poor appetite, insomnia, heavy sweating, high pulse rate and general physical weakness or loss of strength. Treatment is to drink plenty of water, get to a cooler environment and replenish salt loss.

enough to power a heating and cooling system for the large home when such a system is perfected.

The Spillmans visited a home in Comanche that is solar-heated, and know of several in Abilene that are using solar power, but know of none in this immediate area that is utilizing solar power. Besides the reduction of utility costs, tax exemptions are available for those installing solar systems, and there is no sales tax for construction materials of the energy-saving systems.

The Spillman home, of Pennsylvania Dutch design, is from plans the couple have had several years. Many of the furnishings are mementoes of the couple's travels while he was an officer with the U. S. Air Force. They returned to Santa Anna upon his retirement in 1976, and he is employed as an accountant with Herman Bennett

Co. in Brownwood.

Mrs. Spillman is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lester Guthrie of Santa Anna.

Yiddish twang?

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — There's more than a Texas twang to be heard at The University of Texas. There's a hint of Yiddish, too.

UT Austin is the only university in the area offering credit for studies in Yiddish, the Germanic language of East European Jewry.

Dr. Stephen Garrin heads the fledgling Yiddish program which has been around — off and on — since 1970. He hopes to expand it further into a serious area of study.

In addition to several courses in the language itself, Dr. Garrin eventually hopes to introduce courses in the Jewish contribution to English and Yiddish, courses in folklore and literature, and even offer a film festival.

Grasshoppers Invade Most Texas Areas

Hordes of grasshoppers are stripping rangelands in the Texas Panhandle and have their sights on pastures, ranges and crops to the south and east.

Some 1.5 million acres of rangeland have already been treated or will be treated shortly in the Texas Panhandle, report Dr. Mike McWhorter and Dr. Phil Hamman, entomologists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Counties in the spary area have a grasshopper count ranging from 32 to 54 per square yard. A count of eight adult grasshoppers per square yard is considered serious enough for control measures.

According to McWhorter and Hamman, the spray program for rangeland involves use of the insecticide malathion and is being conducted on a cost-share basis with ranchers, the Texas Department of Agriculture, and the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Spray applications are made after grasshoppers hatch and before females start laying eggs.

RELATIVES VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Garrett, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Garrett, Robin and Kim of Lake Jackson and Lauren Garrett of Austin were visitors last week with their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Kingsbery. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gray and daughter of Rising Star, Mrs. Kate Garrett Shore and Lynn May of Brownwood were visitors in the Kingsbery home during the week.

A bait mixture using toxaphene has been effective in controlling grasshoppers along field margins and roadsides, point out McWhorter and Hamman. Other insecticides are recommended for other control measures, with County Agents having information concerning the most effective and the methods of application.

It is also noted that the insecticides will kill only those grasshoppers present at spraying time or a short time thereafter. Followup applications will be needed, particularly in areas of high infestation, to control migrating grasshoppers.

S.A. Methodists Plan Activities

Members of United Methodist Church and their families are invited to a fellowship dinner Sunday, July 29, following the morning worship service. Each family is asked to bring a favorite dish and enjoy the meal and fellowship.

Other activities during the week at the church include choir rehearsal Wednesday, August 1, at 6 p.m. and the meeting of the Council on Ministries at 7 p.m. Derriel Warnock is chairman of the committee.

MOVED TO CLEBURNE

Mrs. Lyle Jarvis moved last week to Cleburne. She had lived in Santa Anna several years on Bowie Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill McCrary and Sam have purchased the Jarvis home and are moving this week from the former Boggus farm south of Santa Anna.

ASCS NEWS

Jerry L. May, Executive Director of the Coleman County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service of Coleman, reminds farmers, food processors, food distributors and other agricultural concerns desiring protection against natural gas curtailments, to file a written priority request with their supplier no later than July. The request should be filed with the farmer's supplier even though the July 15 final date has passed.

The Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC), originally designated June 15 as the last day for this requirement, but extended it by one month.

Users of interstate natural gas have been certified by the Secretary of Agriculture to be protected up to the full requirement against curtailment.

The request should include:

name and address; intended end user of volumes of natural gas needed; natural gas purchases for most recent 12 months for which records are available; documentation to support calculation of needs; standard industrial classification code numbers such as 01 for crops and 02 for livestock; signature swearing or affirming to accuracy of the request; contacting local natural gas suppliers concerning procedures for obtaining agricultural priority.

If assistance is needed, state and county ASCS offices will soon have information regarding eligible "Essential Agricultural Uses" as well as a suggested format for filing.

If an interstate line is involved, the user could be moved from a lower priority to a higher priority in their use of natural gas.
