If Fire Strikes

When fire strikes, be calm. If you value your life! That advice is given by "Safeguarding America Against Fire."

Should your clothing become ignited, drop to the floor and roll into a rug or blanket. That will cut off the supply of oxygen and smother the flames.

If you are in a public building when the fire alarm sounds remember the old adage: "Walk don't run, to the nearest exit."

If you are awakened at night and smell smoke, DON'T OPEN THE DOOR! That is vital—to open the door may permit super-heated air and fumes to enter and smother you.

Even as 90 per cent of fires can be prevented through the exercise of simple precautions, so can ninety per cent of fires be prevented through the exercise of simple precautions.

Fire may break out in your home, place of business, in a building or theatre you are in, at any time. When it does keep calm, think, and then act!

Mrs. Edgar Shields and little daughter, Sandra, returned home Wednesday night from several days visit with Mrs. Shields' mother in Little Rock, Arkansas.

History of Local Baptist Church

It is difficult to write a full history of the early days of the Santa Anna Baptist Church as the records have all been destroyed, and we have to depend entirely for information on the memories and recollections of the few remaining early day pioneers.

For a good many years the church had no house of worship, but services were held in the school house in which the church was organized, near where the Grammar school now stands.

Because of illness in his family, Reverend Scott resigned in November 1893 and Reverend Watson was called as pastor.

After Reverend Staton came other pastors as follows: Rev. J. A. Skinner, A. J. Tant, J. P. Rutledge, Joe C. Stone, D. M. West, A. R. Watson again, W. B. Holland, a Reverend Wickham who was here for only a few months;

sheep that died on the range. She also remembers that with the coming of a three day Fifth Sunday Meeting, she moved her tent and stove up near the school and cooked for 50 of the visiting delegates, and made beds for them out of borrowed quilts, sheets and blankets spread on straw at night.

The next pastor of the church was Reverend Thomas. He was pastor in 1897, soon after the coming of the Railroad through this part of the country, and when the Chambers family moved here from Waco.

Miss Luella still has the receipts given her by Mr. Wofford for every dollar she collected for the good cause.

Reverend Parrack resigned in 1919 and in January 1920 Reverend J. M. Reynolds was called. In May 1920 a building committee was elected, Dr. W. F. Holland, L. V. Stockard, and J. L. Karr.

After the old building was torn down, services were held in the U. D. C. Tabernacle till winter came on. The Cumberland Presbyterians cordially invited us to worship with them in their church, and as they had preaching only once a month, and insisted that we use their church as if it were our own, we very thankfully accepted the invitation and moved in.

We have no complete records of the progress of the work on the building, but it was finished and occupied before Reverend Reynolds left us. He was pastor when we met one day for the purpose of disposing of the indebtedness of the church and the whole amount of $13,000 was subscribed at one service.

Following Reverend Martin, was Reverend Hal C. Wingo, whose pulpit ability and personal piety deepened the Spiritual tides of the church. He resigned in October 1935 to accept the work at First Church Gonzales.

We would not think of closing this brief history of Baptist work in Santa Anna without mentioning some of those who took up the work where the charter members left off, and carried on in such a good, spiritual way.

Pastors present Home-coming Day were Reverend J. M. Reynolds, Reverend D. M. West and Reverend Martin started, but his car broke down enroute. Misses of regret came from him and from Reverends Holland, Watson and Wingo at not being able to attend.

Automobile thefts are not nearly as common as they used to be, which is due no doubt, to the fact that almost everybody has one.

UNBUTTONING THE VEST OF INVESTIGATIONS

By NINA WILCOX PUTNAM

NO SOONER does spring move in and help clean up the flu epidemic than another one starts sweeping the country like a Victorian lady's train, stirring up a lot of dirt and germs and tripping up many an unsuspecting bystander.

Ah! Fooled you that time! You thought I was going to pull the well-worn spring fever out of the bag. But no, this year I am going to leave spring fever to the patients themselves and let them struggle through alone.

For several reasons that I can't think of just now, I feel this epidemic of investigations ought to be quelled. I'm not just sure what quelled means, but I think it's a form of ribbing or back scratching.

One trouble is that vice-investigators are entirely different from vice presidents. I mean, the former get all the publicity. And the trouble with most vice-investigations is, that their only result is demotion for one cop and a big bill for the taxpayers.

When it comes to investigations which rip open stock deals, bank busts and eloping-promoters, the trouble with them is, the rip is seldom big enough to see what's inside. Or if it's a wide rip, all the evidence has had time to fall out on the other side while the wheresas were being written by the committee.

Nevertheless I realize that the investigation instinct is a natural, national and inevitable one. Investigations have been a popular pastime ever since Adam's cat stuck her nose in the first fire and got all burnt up about it.

Appropriations to investigate misappropriations have long added a "u" to the public fun. But the resulting report is seldom loud enough to be heard in the next room. It makes one wonder what the boys really investigate beside the ends of their cigars.

Also, an investigation into why so many Americans are trying for a dictatorship in the country right now might have amusing results. The real Americans, of course, are just a-plodding along and doing their jobs, as usual. They have no cure-alls or cures to offer.

Also, an investigation into why we have to have investigations, might prove very useful, too.

This last might even lead to a complete novelty in the way of investigations to half-wit, viz. and as follows. The investigation of why this is such a swell country. A thorough expose of how great America really is, how endless its resources, how basically superb the spirit of its people, would probably astonish us all.

We are all inclined to forget that a very small bug can cast a heck of a big shadow if it wriggles itself into the spotlight at just the right angle. The right sort of an investigation would prove without the necessity of a two-ton printed report, that nine-tenths of our fears and disturbances about our future are due to the above mentioned bugs.

And if we had a big expose to the effect that we are a healthy-minded race, with home-loving tastes and sane, conservative business methods, you'd rush around discussing the revelation with your friends, wouldn't you? Well, neither would I. But just the same I'd like to see truths like that brought out at a fair ratio—say one such truth to every three half-truths about Reds, frauds and graft.

The other day Uncle Sam paid off over six hundred million bucks worth of debts and not a radical discussed the matter. They all put cotton in their ears and went on yelling about revolution.

By the way, a swell investigation might be started to find out why Reds wear cotton in their ears. We already know it's not to clean 'em. Must be so they can't hear what they are saying. Or do they take it out when they talk to each other?

Of course there are many minor subjects which could be investigated with a fair amount of profit and excitement, such as why women wear straw hats in February and felt ones in August. Why mothers-in-law come to visit and why even Lloyd's will not issue insurance against gossip.

Pollyanna was a popular figure until somebody ruined the girl's reputation by calling her a fake. But, believe me, what the country needs is some investigation to prove she is less of a fake than her traducers, and I'll back such an investigation with all my heart, even if they want it with all the reluctance and dignity of a modern murder trial!

Profaned Pronunciations. Nearly all preferred pronunciations have a reason for the preference which real teachers include in their dictation. When we note that the allies are those who ally, the reason for the accent is made plain. Then, precedence is the state of those who pre-cede, so there is no excuse for pre-cedence.

Texas Young Democrats Issue Appeal To New Voters

AUSTIN, TEXAS, Sept. 29.—O. A. McCracken, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Texas Young Democrats, today issued a stirring appeal to 7,000 new voters, those who attained their majorities this year, to go to the polls and vote for Roosevelt and Garner in November. McCracken, besides being a newly elected member of the Legislature from San Antonio, is Assistant Director of the National Campaign in Texas. His organization also is cooperating in every county in the drive for campaign in Texas.

"More than any administration in the past the Roosevelt administration has recognized the youth of this land and has encouraged it," Mr. McCracken said. "Roosevelt did his bit for the youth of America and we should do our part by him. There are 12,000,000 new voters in the United States this year and I appeal to all of them to stand by the President for he stood by them."

McCracken announced that plans have been made for 17 Young Democratic rallies now demonstrating. He expects to attend all of these meetings, which follow:

Marshall, Oct. 6; Texarkana, Oct. 7; McKinney, Oct. 13; Dallas, Oct. 14; Fort Worth, Oct. 15;

Coriscana, Oct. 20; Waco, Oct. 21; San Antonio, Oct. 23; Beaumont, Oct. 27; Houston, Oct. 28; Corpus Christi, Oct. 29; Edinburg, Oct. 30.

McCracken, who is assisting Roy Miller, Director of the National Campaign in Texas, sent a wire today to Governor Louis J. Brann of Main, in which he coined the term "Landonocrat" referring to those Democrats supporting the Republican nominee. The Young Democratic leader saw much encouragement in the results of the Main election, and his wire to Brann said:

"As Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Texas Young Democrats I congratulate you upon the remarkable showing you made in your race for the United States Senate, losing by the small margin of 5,000 votes in a state eternally Republican. This election result is encouraging to all of us here and Texas is going for Roosevelt six to one in spite of some 'Landonocrats'. We have but a handful of Republicans in Texas. Come down and see our Centennial and how Democrats do things in Texas."

Miller today announced that Mrs. W. L. Clayton, Houston, had contributed $10,000 to the National Campaign and that the Houston woman further had obtained an additional $3,600 from five other women, which so far puts the women ahead of the men in Texas in subscriptions to the Roosevelt war chest. Previously Mrs. Clara Driscoll Sevier had given $10,000.

Travis County, it was announced had oversubscribed its quota for the campaign, the first county in Texas to perform this feat. Travis had been allotted $3,240 but this week the sum collected reached more than $4,000 with an excellent chance of it being doubled.

Some healthy individual donations have been received by Miller, $1,000 from J. H. Pnelian, $500 from Beeman Strong, $500 from William Orgain, all of Beaumont, together with $5000 from Senator Morris Sheppard, of Texarkana.

Health Education Important Program

AUSTIN, Sept. 30.—Assembling of students in the schools of the State this month calls for public attention the definite health responsibility of parents and teachers, as well as health workers, and is the subject of an address from the State Department of Health to the citizenship.

"A public health education program is an outstanding factor in the development of the physical, mental, and social welfare of the school children of today," said Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer. "Health teaching should be a basic part of every educational program."

"Practically every phase of the school system is related to health. Housing, screening, diet, disposal of wastes, exercise, rest, even the manner of daily contact with others, all have a direct bearing on health. Schools must treat the child as a whole—with his physical condition related definitely to his mental and emotional capacities.

"Prevention is the all important factor in the control of communicable disease. 'Communicable'—as we all know—describes that kind of disease which may be imparted by contact or through some other method. One by one, the communicable diseases, such as smallpox, diphtheria, whooping cough, and typhoid fever, are being controlled by preventive or immunizing agents. It is much better for all concerned that the child should be protected from ever taking these diseases, which often leave some condition that will cause trouble later in life."

"Assume your responsibility in the community and work for the development of health education which will pay the way to a better health for the future."

Official Grid Penalty Signs

The signal system to indicate football penalties this year is practically the same as last year, with the exception of three new ones. Here is the code that will be in use:

Pushing movement of hands to front with arms hanging vertical—Crawling, pushing or helping runner.

Hands on hips—Officials and violation of kick-off formations. Grasping of one wrist—Holding.

Military salute—Unnecessary roughness.

Pushing hands forward from the shoulders with hands vertical—Interference with forward pass (also pass which touches ineligible player).

Sifting of hands in horizontal plane—Penalty refused, incomplete pass, play to be played, missed goal, etc.

Horizontal or of either hand—Player illegally in motion.

Waving hand behind back—Illegal forward pass.

Both arms extended above head—A score. Bringing palms of hands together after this signal indicates safety. Sifting of hands in vertical plane above head, time out; timekeeper answers by raising his right hand.

And here are the three new signals that are to be tried out this season:

Folded arms—Delay of game or extra time-out.

Military salute, followed by striking the back of the knee with hand—Clipping.

Military salute, followed by swinging the leg to simulate a punt—Running into or roughing the kicker.

Charles F. Mathews spent the week-end with his parents in Bangs.

Baptist Brotherhood To Entertain Group

Mr. Louis Newman, who is the Associational Laymen's Brotherhood president, has announced that the Santa Anna Baptist Laymen will meet Thursday night to plan a meeting of the whole association which will be held at the local church. The date of the Associational meeting is Thursday October 15. Hon. Weaver H. Baker of Junction, Texas, District Attorney of his district, will address the Associational meeting. He has definitely accepted the invitation of the group, according to Mr. Newman, and will talk on the work of the Baptist Brotherhood. More than a hundred out of town laymen are expected to attend and the local group will make plans Thursday night of this week to provide a real feed for the visitors. It is hoped that a men over the territory will make plans to attend October 15.

History of Presbyterian Church

The U. S. A. Presbyterian Church of Santa Anna, Texas, Brownwood Presbytery, was organized in May, 1883 by A. J. Haynes, as a Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Mr. Haynes served as pastor for one year. Miles Wofford was a charter member and was ordained elder at that time.

Rev. French followed Mr. A. J. Haynes as pastor, and Rev. Richard W. Lewis, now living in Tennessee, was next pastor. Rev. W. B. Wright was next pastor and served several years. He continued to preach in Santa Anna on different occasions, but to the Cumberlands that did not enter the union. He died in 1931.

Rev. J. M. Hamby was the next pastor who served about four years. Rev. R. W. Oakes was called in 1902 and served four years. During his pastorate the foundation of Santa Anna Church was laid.

The union question came up and the work on the building was retarded until the question was settled. The church was completed in 1909 during the pastorate of Rev. J. M. Youree, now retired from service. Rev. Youree was called soon after the union and at this time members of the U. S. Church joined us.

Rev. G. A. Crane was next pastor and he served one year. Rev. T. W. Davidson came on the field in 1912 and was pastor for six and one-half years. He resigned in 1918.

Rev. J. H. King was next pastor and he supplied half time, preaching at Ballinger the other half. He supplied half time for one year then went to Kentucky.

Rev. McNutt was pastor supply in 1920 and in 1921 the church was vacant.

In March 1922, Rev. T. W. Davidson was called back and supplied two years.

In October 1923 Rev. J. M. Burrow was called and supplied until September, 1926.

In June, 1927, Rev. J. W. Brown was called and supplied until June, 1929.

In October 1929, Rev. M. L. Womack was called and is still on the work.

LOCAL H. D. CLUB HAS SPLENDID DISPLAYS

Mrs. Carl Ashmore's yard was the most important exhibit of the day when the local Home Demonstration Club put on the Achievement Day events Tuesday. The purpose of Achievement Day is to show a finished demonstration. The yard is an example of this—Mrs. Ashmore's goal has been reached, and a beautiful yard, pleasing to the eye, is her reward. She has laid a rock wall, has a smooth unbroken grass lawn, has perennial shrubs, growing in foundation plantings, and more important, has successfully managed to have a good rose garden.

At the club room, the bedroom was the main attraction. A bedroom suite had been furnished to the club and it was placed in a corner of the room in the proper amount of space for a bedroom, and showing the proper amount of furniture for a well equipped bedroom. Also, a sufficient supply of sheets, pillow cases, towels, and spreads were shown. In this display, the thing that caught the writer's eye most was a beautiful crocheted bedspread, made by Miss Mable Evelyn. Other articles were also displayed that add attractiveness to a bedroom.

Fifty-four pupils enrolled Monday, this attendance was far short of former records. We must have an average attendance of at least sixty-three in order to get state aid. Miss Billy Fay Featherston has a broken arm as a result of falling from a horse. It is mending and she is able to be in school.

Mrs. Leonard Watson and son visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Avant last week-end.

Rev. A. L. Haley, pastor of the first Christian Church at Colorado City, was a visitor in the Mountain City Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. Rev. Haley was formerly pastor of the local Christian Church and he met many welcome smiles while making his rounds to the business houses of his former townsmen.

not be mentioned, but there were hooked rugs, tufted and crocheted bedspreads, quilts, pillow cases, luncheon sets, etc.

Refreshments of fruit punch and cookies were served under the grape harbor in Mrs. Ashmore's back yard. The punch was poured from a pitcher that has been in Mrs. Ashmore's family for over one hundred years and is now in use by the fifth generation.

The editor and family enjoyed having our son Jim Bob and Miss Elizabeth Sloop of Bryan, Texas, visit with us over the week-end. Jim Bob has made good with his job with the Bryan News, likes his boss, some of the surroundings, but would not mind being back in Santa Anna where the best people on earth make up the greater part of the citizenship. Anyway, we were glad to have the jolly young couple visit with us, however the editor was so busy working on this week's special edition we had but little time to spend with them.

FFA MEETING

Monday night, October 5, 1936, a meeting of the Santa Anna Chapter of the Future Farmers of America was held and plans for going to the Centennial and making booths for the fair were discussed.

The FFA Sweetheart contest was in full swing Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. The election of a sweetheart is not only for the purpose of making money, but the Chapter has decided that any time they have a meeting that it will be fit as well as good, for any girl. The runoff will be held Monday and Tuesday, October 12 and 13 to select the girl that the most pennies went for. It only costs one penny per vote and the Chapter will appreciate anything you can do to help the best girl win.

The following committees were appointed by the president:

Centennial Committee: Monte L. Guthrie, chairman; Hilburn Henderson, and S. A. Stapleton.

Objective Committee: Quinton Hudler, chairman; Lewis M. Guthrie, and Leon Copeland.

Fair Committee: Mace Blanton, chairman; Duane Moore, and Willard Wilson.

Chapter Sweetheart Committee: Billie Stapleton, chairman; John Gregg, and Shag Garrett.

Father and Son Banquet Committee: Bill Mitchell, chairman; Joe Stapleton, and H. W. Norris.

The Chapter voted to meet every first and third Monday night.

V. L. Grady and niece, Mrs. R. C. Gay, attended the Brown County Pioneers Day celebration at Brownwood last Saturday. The meeting adjourned at four o'clock in the afternoon. Several hundred people attended the second annual meeting. The third annual meeting will be held in Brownwood the first Wednesday in August, 1937.

The Capital Onlooker

1934-35 over the 1933-34 fiscal year.

Austin, Texas, Oct. 5.—More efficient methods of collection and a general improvement in business conditions were responsible for the substantial increase in gasoline tax collections which reached a new all-time high during the fiscal year ending August 31, in the opinion of George H. Sheppard, comptroller of public accounts.

Increased travel because of the Centennial was a contributing factor but was not one of the primary causes, Mr. Sheppard said.

Total collections for the fiscal period were $41,193,860, and increase of $4,111,035 over the preceding year, which also broke all previous records. The percentage of increase in the fiscal year just closed over the previous year was 11 per cent, compared with an increase of 9.07 per cent in collections for percentage of increase through the year and the amount of increase recorded for the Centennial months. They said, however, that even this difference could not definitely be attributed to Centennial traffic. In support of this conclusion they pointed to an increase of 16.8 per cent in collections in April over the same month in 1935, as compared to an increase of 15.1 per cent in June, the first month of the Centennial, over the same month last year.

July, 1936, collections were 21.5 per cent over the same month of 1935 but August collections dropped to 11.1 per cent, just slightly above the normal average increase. The percentage of increase in August, 1936, was 7.6 less than the percentage of increase recorded for August, 1935.

That enforcement, rather than other factors, is the chief cause of the increase is borne out by collections of the cigarette tax division for the fiscal year, Sheppard said. The comptroller's agents, released from court injunctions with which they literally had been plastered, collected $5,434,450 in cigarette taxes as compared to $4,302,542 the previous year, an increase of $1,131,908. Before high court decisions established the right of the comptroller to collect the tax on smokes purportedly purchased in interstate commerce the state lost hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The increase in the gasoline tax will enable the state to undertake some badly needed highway construction that has been delayed because of lack of funds. A major portion of the funds of the past few years has been needed to match federal aid, maintain existing highways and provide for other expenses, with a consequent slowing down of construction from purely state funds.

The highway commission and its engineers now are working on the 1937 federal aid program and when it is completed will consider projects to be constructed from state funds only.

The Worship of Toil

There are some people who think a man is not a laborer unless he works with his hands and wears overalls. I know a man who has not earned a dollar at manual labor for more than 50 years but he has been a laboring man all his life. He has known no 8-hour law, usually working far into the night.

He faithfully put in his six to eight hours in a school room and an equal amount of time laying plans, making programs, grading papers and dealing personally with pupils. Most nights, when the manual laborer is sound asleep, this man is still on his job.

Again, there are those who think that unless a man labors with his hands he is a consumer and not a producer. Such people take a grossly material view of life, forgetting that there are other production spheres as useful as mere material assets. When a small boy I heard an old Presbyterian preacher say: "If a man makes two blades of grass grow where one originally grew he is a benefactor."

Of course he was right.

But are we not right if we say: "If any man makes one lofty ideal, noble purpose, holy ambition grow where none originally grew he is a benefactor?"

These two types of laborers are essential to each other and no man is doing well when he arouses jealousies between them. The true idea is covered in the Scripture: "The eye can not say unto the hand I have no need for thee." In truth the whole question of jealousies and enmities between various types of labor would be settled if all of us would apply the principles set out in the twelfth Chapter, I Corinthians. A Bible attitude would solve this as it would all our other harassing problems.

But there is a word that should be said on the other side. If the manual laborer sometimes discounts the value of the so-called "brain worker," thinking himself an idealist, too often underestimates the hand worker, classing him as a mechanical cog in a wheel. If any man will study successful shops, factories, farms and such like he will see that the so-called manual laborer is usually also a brain worker—a genuine idealist.

It is a psychological perversion when we speak only of men who wear overalls as the "laboring classes." Every able-bodied, normally-minded man and woman ought to be a laborer. No man ever gets so rich or so high up that he is excused from labor. In the spurious economy set up by men it may be that the rich and the high up do not have to work. But in the economy set up by Almighty God everybody must work. That divinely ordered economic system definitely proves that if a man will not work he shall not eat.

In God's economy a man never gets too rich or too smart to be a laboring man. In the history of all the nations of the past when a large per cent of the people became "the leisure class" the nations went on the rocks.

We are certainly drifting in that direction. We talk about our millions of unemployed—meaning poor folks that can not get work. These millions bring us face to face with a grave problem. But a graver problem than that is our millions who have quit work because they have enough money to live without it. The most dangerous man in America is the rich man who has quit work. This rich man ought not to be in competition with those who have to work for bread and meat. He ought to be at work at something that will make work for other people.

A certain rich man said: "I have goods laid up for many years. Now I will take my ease." The Bible called him a fool. If that sort of rich man was a fool then, he is a fool now. No man who refuses to work has got good religion. Honest toil, whether in the ideal of the material sphere, is a form of worship.

DISCARDED ROCKER MADE NEW AND ATTRACTIVE

By using the information I have learned at the re-upholstering school I fixed over a discarded rocker into one that is both useful and attractive, says Mrs. J. T. Holder, bed-room demonstrator of the Rae-Echo Home Demonstration Club.

First, Mrs. Holder put the arm back on the chair and braced the legs to make the chair strong and substantial. After the chair was braced the springs were reset and securely tied with heavy upholstery cord. By tying them in all directions the springs will stay in place and the chair will be as comfortable to sit in as when new. The springs were then covered with but-up that is tacked down to the bottom of the chair, to keep the padding from working through the springs. Cotton or jute may be used to pad the seat of the chair. This padding is put on the springs and the upholstery material is stretched tightly over it and tacked down tightly to the frame of the chair.

PALESTINE: There are many women who would undertake the building of a pantry, a clothes closet or a set of shelves for food storage, but not many would raze a structure and rebuild it from the ground up. Mrs. T. L. Thomas, Anderson county home demonstration club woman, did just that.

Her kitchen was dark and dingy which a kitchen should not be, Miss Mary Louise Jones, home demonstration agent, says. Mrs. Thomas's husband had no time for carpentering, so with the help of a daughter just out of high school, she tore down the old room, including taking down an immense chimney.

With hammers, saws, and planes, Mrs. Thomas and Gladys built a new kitchen 9 by 13 feet. On one side of the room are the stove and ventilated pantry. On the opposite wall are two windows, sink, drain, and work surface with storage cabinets underneath.

All the work was done by Mrs. Thomas and her daughter except the building of a flue. The cash spent on the new kitchen was for paint, nails, and labor for building the flue.

BELTON: Thirty-five shrubs planted in her back yard help to make an attractive outdoor living room for Mrs. Edna Rice of Bell county, Miss Lorena Dry, home demonstration agent, recently reported.

The shade from big live oak trees, cool green grass, and the privacy afforded by the shrubbery and flower plantings have been utilized by Mrs. Rice. A fish pool, chairs, tables, and electric lights also add to the usefulness of the spot.

HISTORY OF CHIROPRACTIC
 A brief history of Chiropractic is that it was given to mankind during this century for unrest. An era of time that the people were given various new things such as telephones, wireless, automobiles, Xray, airplanes and things too numerous to be written here; given to them because of the unrest of them and the ability of them to know how to get things.
 It is for the welfare of the HEALTH that Chiropractic is used. It teaches that all health-producing-power is inside of each body, and was born with (INNATE INTELLIGENCE) the body. That the INNATE-power flows along the nerves in normal quantity to produce healthy bodies and bodyparts. And that it can be interfered with so it does not flow along certain nerves in normal quantity; interfered with by a vertebra (bone of the spine) slipped slightly so it pinches the soft nerve-tissues; and then an abnormal supply of the INNATE-power (nerve-impulses) gets to the parts to which such pinches nerves extend, and an abnormal condition of the part is the result, and that is called disease and named a name.
 Chiropractors adjust that ONE VERTEBRA no oftener than it is needed to be adjusted; after which the INNATE-power flows in normal quantity to the afflicted part and performs there once more the process of health. Chiropractic is developed now from that old way of adjusting blindly; we select by the use of instruments especially invented to do it, the exact ONE VERTEBRA that is the CAUSE and adjust that no oftener than the instruments detect it should be done. More and more specific and definite.
 Chiropractic belongs to Santa Anna—to New York City—to London to every person on earth. It is not limited. It is a gift to humankind each to use it for the welfare of their health.
 I graduated in 1910 from The Palmer School of Chiropractic, and have been serving the people every since—and I have followed-up in every advance of the work.

HORTICULTURIST TALKS ON DEVELOPMENT OF CROPS

In a recent radio address over WYAW, College Station, J. F. Rosborough, Extension horticulturist, discussed "One Hundred Years of Food Crop Development in Texas."

Our table or dine at a hotel or cafe today are likely to have a meal quite different from the kind our forefathers had when they came to this vast, unsettled region 100 years ago. "Food at that time meant only meat and bread and even today many people throughout the other states consider Texas as solely a cattle and cotton producing state." Rosborough explained this statement by saying, "Less than 50 years ago the Rio Grande Valley was a vast ranching section, used only for producing beef cattle for the northern markets. "Today where those famous longhorns once roamed, the same land is producing quantities of fruits and vegetables that supply a large part of the United States markets."

The Extension horticulturist went on to explain that during the winter season when the northern part of Texas is covered with ice and snow, the people of the southern part of the state "where the sunshine spends the winter" are busily engaged in shipping carrots, beets, spinach and other vegetables. He explained that the production of these winter vegetables is bringing millions of dollars into Texas each year. "To give some idea of the scope of the vegetable industry, let me quote some values in dollars and cents," he said. "Cabbage brings $1,300,000; onions $2,500,000; spinach $2,300,000; tomatoes $3,000,000 and Irish potatoes $1,000,000."

"It is interesting to trace the development of some of our major truck crops through a period of years. For instance from a small planting of tomatoes made in Cherokee county, near Jacksonville, about 25 years ago, tomatoes have become a commercial crop grown from the Rio Grande Valley to the northeastern corner of the state. "In recent years from six million car loads of Texas tomatoes have been shipped to the northern markets."

"Spinach, the vegetable that the popular cartoon character, 'Popeye,' recommends, has ideal growing conditions in south-west Texas. This crop grows best where there is little rainfall since excess moisture causes the leaves to mould and the foliage to be gritty. Because of favorable growing conditions, Texas spinach does not have to be washed before shipping to market, and thus the cost of production is lowered."

In this recent radio talk the Extension horticulturist pointed out a rather startling statement in regard to cotton and truck crops of Texas. He said, "It is not the intent of this talk to minimize the value of the cotton crop of this state, but I cannot resist the statement of existing fact which is that the returns from an average acre planted in truck crops in recent years has been 15 times greater than cotton."

"It is not surprising that even in the leading cotton state that truck crop acreage has continued to increase. "The vegetable budget plan worked out by the Extension specialists shows that the average persons needs 600 pounds of vegetables per year. According to this standard, the truck crop region of Texas produces enough vegetables during the three or four months of the winter season to feed approximately six million people."

"Not only are vegetable crops shipped fresh to eastern or northern markets, but the canning of surplus products has become an active business. The future looks very bright for the establishment of commercial canning plants in the vegetable growing sections," Rosborough said. The Extension horticulturist concluded his address over the radio by saying, "Thus Texas during her 100 years of progress has developed her food resources. Whereas once her people found sustenance in meat and bread produced at home, and cabbage slaw was a rare delicacy, Texas truck crop areas now produce all kinds of vegetables the year 'round, not only for home consumption, but also to supply a vast market for the entire country."

"That Texas can feed her own people adequately and ship enough vegetables to supply a greater part of some of the eastern markets places the State in the top rank in the United States. "Texas ranks first in the number of cars shipped of beets, green corn, spinach, and onions and mixed vegetables and second in cabbage, carrots, and tomatoes."
