Screwworm Case Noted In Coleman County

After 205 days without a confirmed case of screwworms in Texas, a worm sample from Coleman County proved to be screwworms. The sample was from a docking wound of a lamb on the Harold Bragg ranch near Glen Cove April 5.

This was the longest period of time without a screwworm confirmation since the eradication program started.

Dr. Steve Smith, an epidemiologist with USDA's Screwworm Lab, and two fly trappers went to the Bragg ranch and worked in the area to see how many wild screwworms were there and collect evidence as to their origin.

The nearest known case from the Coleman County site was in the Villa Union community of Mexico's State of Coahuila, about two months ago. That is about 40 miles south of Eagle Pass, Texas and an estimated 180 miles from the Bragg ranch.

To date New Mexico has recorded 213 screwworm free days, Arizona 160 and California 242.

Area stockmen are urged to watch their stock for possible infestation and to submit samples of suspected cases.

Self Culture Club Has Meeting

Mrs. J. L. Sparkman was hostess, assisted by Mrs. Jim Spillman, when the Self Culture Club met earlier this month in the clubroom of Mountain City Center.

The spring gardening theme was used on the refreshment table, with pots of paper flowers, accents of small tools and garden seeds on the burlap cloth. Members served themselves to strawberry shortcake, banana slush, mints and nuts.

Mrs. Frank McCary, club president, conducted the business meeting. Plans were made for the May meeting, the last of the club year. Suggestions were made for the course of study for the coming year.

Continuing the year's program on Women, Mrs. Joe C. Barnes discussed the emergence of American women in literature. The rise of transcendentalism as it affected the writings of Louisa May Alcott and Harriett Beecher Stowe was told, and a panel discussion followed on the timeliness and the far-reaching results of their books.

Fourteen members were present, and two guests, Dana and Jon Sparkman of Lubbock, grandchildren of Mrs. Sparkman.

Statues Given For Our Good Always

And the Lord commanded us to do all these statutes, to fear the Lord our God, for our good always, that he might preserve us alive, as it is at this day. Deut. 6:24.

As the youth go out into the world, to encounter its allurements to sin,—the passion for money-getting, for amusement and indulgence, for display, luxury, and extravagance, the overreaching, fraud, robbery and ruin,—what are the teachings there to be met?

Spiritualism asserts that men are unfallen demigods; that "each mind will judge itself"; that "true knowledge places men above all law"; that "all sins committed are innocent"; for "whatever is, is right," and "God doth not condemn." The basest of human beings it represents as in heaven, and highly exalted there....Multitudes are thus led to believe that desire is the highest law, that license is liberty, and that man is accountable only to himself.

With such teaching given at the very outset of life, when impulse is strongest, and the demand for self-restraint and purity is most urgent, where are the safeguards of virtue?...At the same time anarchy is seeking to sweep away all law, not only divine, but human...

Such are the influences to be met by the youth of to-day. To stand amidst such upheavals they are now to lay the foundations of character. In every generation and in every land the true foundation and pattern for character-building have been the same. The divine law, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart,...and thy neighbor as thyself," the great principle made manifest in the character and life of our Saviour, is the only secure foundation and the only sure guide....

Here is the only safeguard for individual integrity, for the purity of the home, the well-being of society, or the stability of the nation. Amidst all life's perplexities and dangers and conflicting claims, the one safe and sure rule is to do what God says.

Disaster Loan Info Available By Telephone

Texas farmers and ranchers who want information about the disaster recovery loan program now have a toll-free number they may call, the U. S. Small Business Administration has announced.

"SBA has already assisted more than 10,000 agricultural producers in Texas," said Mercurio Martinez, SBA Regional Administrator. "This toll-free number will make it easier for farmers throughout Texas to receive information about the SBA program."

Martinez explained how the telephone line will be operated by SBA. He said that persons who have questions about being eligible or how to apply for an agricultural disaster loan may receive a brief explanation by calling, toll-free, 112-800-692-4296 from anywhere within Texas. If a farmer has already applied to SBS for assistance, he may leave his name, address and phone number with the receptionist and a loan officer familiar with the application will call back at once using another line rather than tying up the toll-free number for any length of time.

Small Business Administration physical disaster loans are available in counties recommended by the Governor and subsequently designated by the Administrator of SBA. The loans are made only for crop losses not already covered by insurance or other disaster or deficiency payments.

Emergency Farm Loans Continue Another Year

March 30 President Carter signed legislation extending the Farmers Home Administration Economic Emergency Loan Program until September 30, 1981. The program was due to expire on May 15 this year.

W. H. Pieratt, Farmers Home Administration, Texas State Director said, "President Carter's action will enable us to continue the Economic Emergency (EE) program. Not only through the remainder of this year but through the next Fiscal Year as well. Although the EE program was not due to end until May 15, we were just about out of funds when the President signed the bill on March 30.

The EE program provides direct or guaranteed loans to farmers and ranchers who suffer economic hardship because of area or national economic conditions beyond their control.

Mr. Pieratt said the new law immediately increases the ceiling on outstanding principle for EE loans nationwide from $4 billion authorized under the Agriculture Credit Act of 1978. The additional $2 billion will be allocated to the states.

The new law requires that stronger "credit elsewhere" criteria be enforced before an EE loan can be approved. Any application for an insured loan of $300,000 or more must be accompanied by letters from at least two private lenders explaining why they turned down the request for a loan.

The new law also requires the Secretary of Agriculture to conduct a comprehensive study of the EE loan program and to recommend to Congress by March 31, 1981 whether or not the program should be extended beyond the September 30, 1981 expiration date.

Age, Identity Evidence Are Required For S.S.

Everyone who applies for a social security number must provide evidence of age, identity, and U.S. citizenship or lawful admission status, including young children, Priscilla Tercero social security Branch Manager in Brownwood, said recently.

Parents sometimes have difficulty finding the required evidence for their children Tercero said. They especially have trouble with the idea of providing evidence of identity.

Proof of age is relatively easy—public or hospital record of birth recorded before age 6 or religious record of birth or baptism recorded before age 5. One of these documents will also establish citizenship, Tercero said.

Documents which will establish a young child's identity, and which are usually available to most families, include: report card, school identification card, baby's hospital wrist band, newspaper birth announcement, baby book, court order for name change, church membership or confirmation record, doctor or hospital records, vaccination certificate, daycare or nursery school records, or child's membership in Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, or other young organization.

This is not an exclusive list, Tercero said. Any document providing identifying data such as a physical description, photograph, or signature may be used as evidence of identity.

Tercero said at least two documents must be presented—one to establish age or citizenship and one to establish identity. Only original or copies certified by the issuing agency can be used.

For more information, contact the Brownwood social security office. The people there have a free leaflet, "Applying for a social security number." The office is located at 300 N. Main and the telephone number is 646-7533.

A representative of the Brownwood office visits Santa Anna once a month on the 2nd Wednesday. The representative can be found at the Mt. City Center. The office hours are 9:30 a.m. until noon. Many matters can be handled by phone.

Leath Urges Passage Of Predator Control Law

Congressman Marvin Leath today, citing severe losses of livestock caused by predators, called on a House Agriculture Subcommittee to approve legislation which would develop a balanced animal damage control program effectively utilizing lethal and non-lethal control measures.

Leath stated that recent studies indicate Compound 1080 (Sodium Monofluoroacetate) may well be the answer to the producers' problems.

The Marlin Congressman presented to the Subcommittee the results of a study which indicated that 1080 did not pose a secondary poison hazard. "I imagine further testing is necessary to see if these findings can be duplicated. This is where the proposed legislation, H.R. 6725, is all important as it will give legislative direction.

Leath, who is a co-sponsor of H.R. 6725, said that a constituent of his, Charles Howard of Meridian, is currently engaged in a contract with the Department of Interior to study the effectiveness of a toxic collar and 1080. "To date, the results have been positive and I feel they will continue to be so." 1080 is used in conjunction with collared sheep in order to help control coyote kills of sheep and goats. When a coyote bites the throat of a collared sheep it receives a dose of 1080.

T. Stewardson Buried Here Last Friday

Funeral services were held at First Baptist Church Friday, April 18, for Miss Theola Stewardson, 49, of Abilene who died Wednesday, April 16, in Hendrick Medical Center after a long illness. Interment was in the Stewardson Cemetery in the Shields Community, with Henderson Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

The Rev. Butch Pesch, pastor of Crescent Heights Baptist Church in Abilene, and Rev. John Stanislaw, pastor of the Santa Anna church, officiated at the services.

Miss Stewardson was born in Santa Anna December 19, 1930, the daughter of W. T. (Ted) and Jessie Ella (Vance) Stewardson. She attended the Shields School and graduated from Santa Anna High School in 1948. She received her degree from Howard Payne University in 1965. She lived most of her life in Coleman County, moving to Abilene several years ago. She was a member of Crescent Heights Baptist Church in Abilene and a former member of Santa Anna FBC.

Survivors are her parents; a brother, Burgess Stewardson; a sister in law, Mrs. Burgess (Gayle) Stewardson; a niece, Kim Hubbard; and two nephews, Judd and Ward Stewardson, all of Santa Anna.

Pallbearers for the services were Judd Stewardson, Ward Stewardson, Boyd Stewardson, Gary Hubbard, Ben G. Tatum and Fred Cross.

VISITS IN AUSTIN

She attended an annual flower show where Brownlee received the award for best grown cymbidium orchids.

Facts from a pro on driving to survive.

Q. If you have a car wreck on an interstate highway in a city, which police would investigate the accident?—B. L., San Antonio

A. In most instances municipal police handle investigations on interstates within city limits. However, you may notify any police agency and give the location of the accident. The responsible agency will be dispatched to the scene.

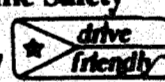

Q. Is a flashing red light at night the same as a 4-way stop on a regular stop sign?—N. B., Austin

A. Yes. A flashing red light, day or night, means that you must make a complete stop until it is safe to continue. Yield the right of way to vehicles on your right.

Q. Is it courtesy or law to stop for a funeral procession?—T. K., Midland

A. Texas law does not require motorists to stop for funeral processions; however, some other states have laws granting funerals the right of way. Allowing members of a funeral procession to pass uninterrupted is considered a gesture of courtesy.

Deficiency Corrections

Noted At Comanche Peak

Texas Utilities Generating Company has informed the Nuclear Regulatory Commission of actions the company is taking to correct deficiencies in two areas at the Comanche Peak nuclear power plant which did not pass recent TUGCO quality assurance inspections.

TUGCO also announced that, in routine inspections of Comanche Peak in February, the NRC found no items of non-compliance. The report on these inspections, which involved 54 inspector-hours by two inspectors, was released today by Texas Power and Light Company President Bob Campbell.

The two areas being corrected involve a manufacturing deficiency in discs in the service water control valves and certain welds which do not meet specifications.

The service water control valves contain aluminum bronze discs which did not receive the required post weld heat treatment, the manufacturer reported to TUGCO.

TUGCO analyzed these valves and none was considered to be subject to failure that would affect safety due to gradual corrosion. However, TUGCO will return the valves to the vendor to be brought up to specification requirements.

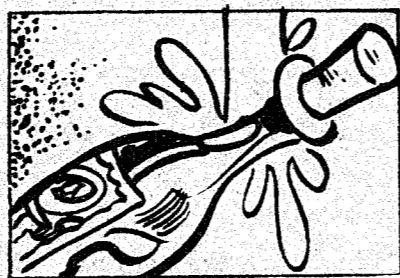

An inspection by Comanche Peak quality assurance personnel also showed that several welds attaching the Unit I main control boards to support structures were undersized and that the spacing of some welds did not meet original specifications.

These weld configurations must meet certain seismic requirements and TUGCO has ordered them to be reworked. This should be completed by May 1. Also, further training will be provided for welders working on electrical equipment to prevent a recurrence of this problem.

Work at Comanche Peak that was found by the NRC to be satisfactory during February included overall construction progress and practices; installation and inspection of instrumentation components and systems; training of quality assurance personnel in instrumentation inspection; and actions to insure pipe support base plate flexibility.

Comanche Peak is owned jointly by Texas Power & Light Company, Dallas Power & Light Company, Texas Electric Service Company, the Texas Municipal Power Agency and Brazos Electric Power Cooperative, Inc.

New loans help owners improve homes

COLLEGE STATION — Buying up is slowing down.

Families who need more space are finding that moving to a larger home is too expensive. Instead, many are adding a room, putting in a swimming pool or converting the garage into a den.

The Texas Real Estate Research Center at Texas A&M University reports that money for long-term home improvement loans, which has been difficult to obtain from savings and loan associations and commercial banks, may be more available when the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation (FHLMC) begins rebuying home improvement loans from local lenders later this year.

This new practice is expected to increase the total number of loans and the dollars available at the local savings and loans and participating banks.

The FHLMC announced that the maximum amount available will be $30,000 for single-family dwellings and $60,000 for multi-family units with terms from three to 20 years.

MRS. LIONEL JIM WILSON

Susan Brooke, Mr. Wilson Wed In Comanche April 12

Susan Rachele Brooke, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brown V. Brooke of Comanche, and Lionel Jim Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Jim Wilson of DeLeon, were united in marriage Saturday, April 12. Ernest Covey of Seabrook, uncle of the bride, read the marriage vows at six o'clock in the evening at the Pearl Street Church of Christ in Comanche. An archway of greenery and fresh daisies formed the setting for the ceremony. An arrangement featuring a 15-light candleabra flanked by spiral candleabras completed the setting.

Hurricane lamps lighted the aisle. Jeffery Brooke and David Johnson served as candle-lighters. Jolinda and Renee Covey attended the guest book. Dawna Pyburn and Connie Taylor sang "The Wedding Song" and "We've Only Just Begun." Chris Bloyd, Joan Kissinger, Cindy Owens, Misses Pyburn and Taylor sang "The Wedding March" and "Follow Me."

The bride was given in marriage by her parents. For her wedding she chose a formal gown of white Chantilly lace and silk organza. The fitted bodice featured an Empire waistline and a Queen Anne neckline accented with pearls. The full bishop sleeves of Chantilly lace featured a six-inch fitted cuff. The front bodice fell to a ruffled flounce effect while the skirt flowed to a chapel train accented by a four-tiered full flounce trimmed in Chantilly lace.

The Juliet head piece of lace held a veil of bridal illusion trimmed with matching lace. The bride's bouquet was of sweetheart roses, baby's breath and English ivy.

The bride carried out the "something old, new, borrowed and blue, wearing a ring belonging to her great-grandmother Brown and diamond earrings, a gift of the groom.

Cindy Schlee was maid of honor. Shala Brooke, sister of the bride, Julie Wilson, sister of the groom, and Judy Johnson were bridesmaids. They wore identical floor-length formals of apricot and carried bouquets of white daisies with white satin ribbons.

Kasha Cupps of Brownwood and Amy Genz of Fort Worth, cousins of the bride, were flower girls. They wore matching floor-length dresses and carried baskets of petals. Bobby Powell was ring bearer.

Jack Fields of DeLeon was best man. Ricky Wilson, brother of the groom, Lee Hood of Fort Worth and Ronald Powell of Houston were groomsmen. Billy Don Cupps and Jackie Johnson served as ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table held the three-tiered wedding cake. Anabeth Van Zant, Susan Lippe and Lana Beaty served cake.

The groom's table featured a chocolate cake frosted in beige in a cowboy boot design. A yellow daisy arrangement and silver coffee service completed the arrangement. Tammi Wilson and Julie Johnston served.

For the wedding trip the bride chose a two-piece casual suit of turquoise and white accessories.

ASCS NEWS

Coleman County grain sorghum producers have been mailed deficiency payments in the amount of $39,946.58 for the 1979 crop year. Payments were made on 240 farms, which averaged $166.44 per farm.

Though the payments in the county are not significantly large on a per farm basis, they do represent the payment rate guaranteed under the 1979 program. The deficiency payment rate is 13 cents per bushel, which was the difference in the $2.34 per bushel target price level and the $2.21 per bushel average market price.

Deficiency payments are made to program participants when the national market price for the first five months of the marketing year (October-February for grain sorghum) falls below the government established target level for the commodity. The payment rate is the difference between the target level and the higher of the five-month average price or the national loan rate for the commodity.

Grain sorghum producers across the nation received $61 million in deficiency payments. This is inevitably a large sum of money; however, it does represent the loss of income to the producers due to the low market price they received for the commodity.

The 1980 program is being operated under the same system. For 1980, however, there is a High and Low Level of participation. The High Level of payments will be applicable to those producers who do not exceed the farm's Normal Crop Acreage (NCA) in the planting of NCA crops.

Price support payments to wool producers in Coleman County totaled $156,400.82 for the 1979 marketing year. The drafts were put in the mail on Tuesday, April 15, 1980, and should soon be in the hands of some 178 Coleman County producers.

The payment rate for the 1979 marketings was 33.3 percent of the net sales proceeds on shorn wool, and $1.15 per hundred pounds liveweight on unshorn lambs. Promotion fund deductions amounted to 2.5 cents a pound for shorn wool and 12.5 cents a hundredweight for unshorn lambs.

There will be no support payments made on mohair for 1979 since the average price received by producers in the open market will be higher than the support price.

Trickham News

By Mrs. Oscar Boenicke

Rev. Franklin Swanner, the Baptist minister, preached at the 11 o'clock service Sunday. He and his wife were dinner guests of Sug and G. K. Stearns.

The Presbyterian minister doesn't think he will be here next Sunday. He usually lets the Joe Stacys know, and they have not heard from him if he is coming.

Joe and Ora Stacy attended the State Singing Convention at Stephenville Sunday and enjoyed it very much. A large crowd was there from over the state of Texas and several other states.

Rankin McIver went to Sweetwater and spent Saturday night with Curtis and Letha Lewallen, and Sunday morning he went to Odessa and had dinner with Martha Elder and her mother, Mrs. Nancy Marshall. In the afternoon they visited Bryan Elder in the rest home. He knew Rankin and seemed glad to see him.

Rankin came home Sunday night. I am so glad Rankin could go to see Bryan. He thinks so much of him. Bryan won't ever be but very little better than he is. He is my nephew, and he and his wife, Martha, used to visit us several times a year before he had the stroke three years ago last November 9.

Saturday Russie James and Oma Lee Dockery attended the Porcelain Arts demonstration and luncheon at the Adams Street Community Center in Brownwood. Sunday Roberta and Pat McShan of Brownwood came out after church to Russie's and spent the rest of the day with her and had supper.

H. B. and Ernestine Dockery of Brownwood visited Lou Vaughn Sunday evening. Ilene Haynes visited Oma Lee Dockery Sunday evening, and Russie James and Lou Vaughn visited her Sunday night.

Anna and Wayne Munn, Dean and Marla Margett of Midkiff visited over the weekend with her parents, the Marvin Smiths. Walter and Carrie Stacy came by after church Sunday and Russie James, Lou Vaughn and Oma Lee Dockery visited the Smiths Saturday night.

Royce and Wanda McIver of Houston spent Saturday with his parents, the Grady McIvers.

Terry and Orabeth McIver and family had dinner with them Sunday.

Vera Shield and her daughter, Annelle Clark, and Lonella Taylor Roesch of Santa Anna had dinner with the Oscar Boenickes Tuesday and visited in the afternoon.

Walter Stacy visited Thursday evening, and Lou Vaughn visited Saturday evening, and Albert Miller was a Monday visitor in the Boenicke home.

The Santa Anna - Bangs AARP meeting was held April 21 at the Methodist Annex in Santa Anna at 12 noon. Forty-three registered, and about 48 were there. There were four at the birthday table and all sang "Happy Birthday" to them.

Rev. Hugh W. Sanders, the Presbyterian minister, gave the invocation, and everyone enjoyed a covered-dish meal.

Mrs. Norman Walters, president, was in charge of the program, with Rev. Mike Alexander presenting the speaker, Dr. Gaston Foote. He presented the singer, Edward Smith, and led several group songs. We enjoyed them all.

After this short business meeting was held. The next meeting will be May 19 in Bangs. My cousin, Annelle Clard, was my guest at the meeting.

Mrs. Clark will be going home Wednesday to Larsen, Wis. by plane after spending over a month with her mother, Vera Shield in Santa Anna.

We hope to have a rain some time this week.

Three Magazines To Be Noted By Adventists

Three magazines published by the Seventh-day Adventist denomination will receive special attention in Santa Anna during church time over the next several weeks. According to the Pastor Tom Good any one of the three—These Times, Signs of the Times, and Message—is more than just another magazine.

"Each is unique in itself. These three journals not only approach their subject matter from an acceptable religious standpoint, but are very broad in their topic selections," says the pastor, "The readers seem to appreciate up-to-the-minute articles on health, diet, exercise, family, home, news, and science in addition to Biblical topics. Good food for the mind is as important as good food for the body."

The four-color monthlies are read by both members and non-members alike. Their combined circulation monthly is 826,000 copies. As yet they are not available on news stands.

All three magazines have readers within all cultural groups. However, Message, is designed to appeal to blacks.

Starting this Saturday, the members will be asked to share a yearly subscription with a friend or relative who as yet may not be acquainted with either of the magazines. Last year over 300 subscriptions were sponsored by the local Adventist Church.

RECENT VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Marony of Tyler visited recently in Santa Anna with their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McCary.

Experience and Integrity

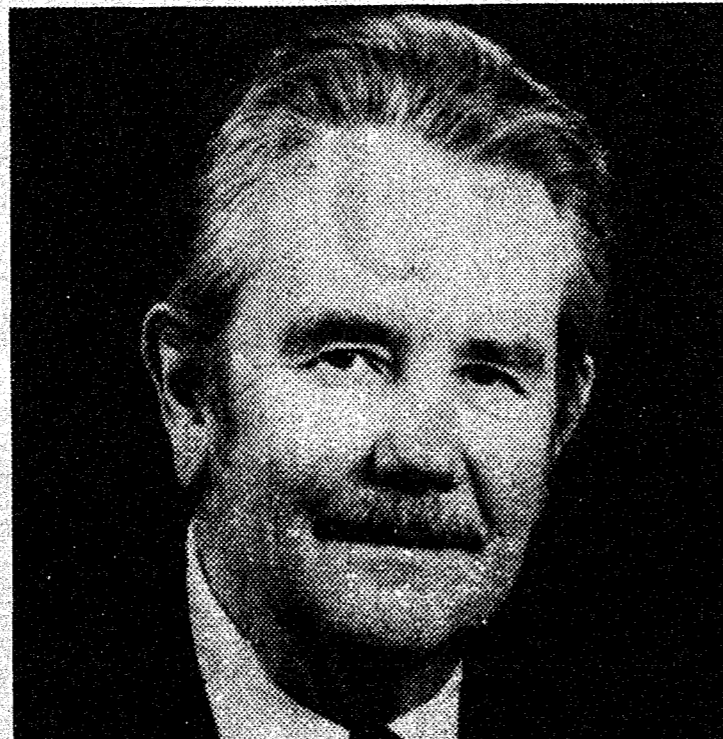

Gordon Griffin is the one candidate for District Judge with a proven record of experience and integrity. He has practiced law in Central Texas for the past 28 years. And he has served with distinction as our District Attorney and as Brown County Attorney.

Swift and Effective Justice

Gordon Griffin understands that slow administration of justice serves only the best interests of the criminal. With his solid knowledge of the law, he will work hard to guarantee swift and effective justice. And he will use his understanding of court rules and procedures to see that convicted criminals sentenced to the penitentiary serve their time, not set free on a technicality.

Ranger Park Inn News

Residents enjoyed the singing of the Pentecostal Church members of Coleman Tuesday evening. Sure appreciate the special music by Doris and Merrie Reed.

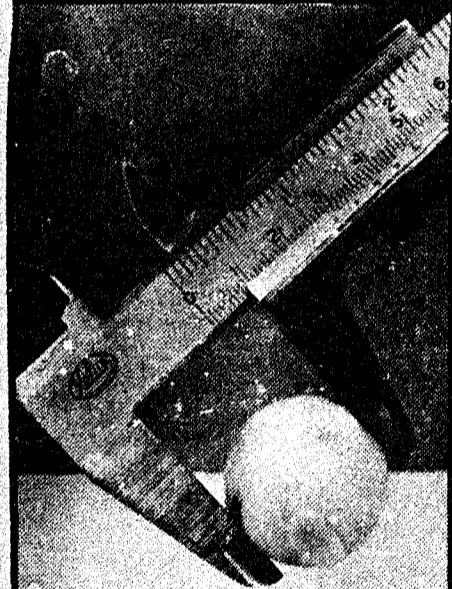

We had fun Wednesday morning taking part in the Cystic Fibrosis program. Dick and Eunice Longbrake came out at 9:30 and helped residents as they walked, rolled in wheel chairs, etc., for the fund raising project. Residents taking part were Lily King, Susie Snider, Mary Hoffman, Cora Mikeska, Ethel Matthews, John Watson, Pete Martinez, Don Young, Cecil Curry, Nyla Simmons and Mary Miller.

Thank you, Ann Stiles, for the pop corn we enjoyed eating Friday night while listening to the music of the Western Band. We want to thank Bill Laws, Lester Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Banta, Vernon Allen and friend for making music for so large a number of residents.

The quilt project for the Inn is going great. Friday a group of ladies met at the Presbyterian Church and tacked out 12 quilts, put the backs on two more, and we have nine tops to put backs on. There are still others cutting quilt blocks and sewing.

We appreciate the two quilts the ladies at Trickham completed. We want to say a big "Thank you" to each person who has had a part in the project.

A Senator who has earned Respect...

Grant Jones has been called the hardest working member of the Texas Senate. He has earned the respect of his colleagues because of his dedication to duty. Texas Monthly magazine twice named him one of the Ten Best Legislators, calling Grant Jones "...honest ... a gentleman ... probably the best briefed senator of all, and he does it by himself."

The Waco Tribune-Herald referred to Grant Jones as "soft spoken, low-key, highly intelligent ... a senator relying on facts rather than oratory or showmanship to make his points."

The Abilene Reporter-News said ... " ...he has acquired the reputation of being hardworking, fair and intelligent..."

Vote May 3rd for Grant Jones. It's our turn to show the Senator how much we appreciate his hard work in Austin.

True Texans are a vanishing breed

COLLEGE STATION — There was a time when to be correctly called a Texan one had to be born in the state.

Those guidelines don't work anymore, says an urban sociologist and state demographer at Texas A&M University.

More than 50 percent of the 2.5 million people added to the state's population during the last decade were "outsiders" who moved to Texas, says Dr.

Robert Skrabanek. The remainder of the new residents were born here.

But many old timers wouldn't even consider the newborns true Texans, Skrabanek says, because there is a good chance their parents weren't born in Texas, and that still makes them "newcomers"
