Co-Op To Open Branch Office In Big Spring

145 Farmers In Meeting Here Favor Control Of Acreage

The Texas Cotton Cooperative Association will open a branch office here with a federally licensed district manager, announced following a meeting here this week at which 145 farmers were present. During the meeting 145 of those present on a rising vote, expressed themselves as favoring legislation to control cotton production. But one person opposed this move. Mr. Ford was accompanied here by J. H. Greene, secretary of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce, and J. T. Goforth, Co-op field man.

TEXAS URGED TO QUIT COTTON

O. K. Allen (right), chairman of the Louisiana highway commission, flew from Baton Rouge to Austin, Tex., to present Gov. Ross S. Sterling of Texas with Gov. Huey Long's "no cotton planting" bill. Allen urged that Texas adopt the measure. State Senator Walter Woodul is shown center.

Ten Assistants To Allred Work In Humble And Magnolia Offices

HOUSTON, Sept. 3 (UP)—Seven members of the attorney general's office were in Houston going over the books of major oil companies. The men are operating under orders of Attorney General Allred to get evidence of whether anti-trust laws are being obeyed. The investigators arrived Monday and called on several oil company offices at the same time. Everett Looney is in charge of the inquiry. His assistants are H. C. Waters, W. A. Koons, John McCraw, J. A. Stanford, Jr., C. R. Miller and R. W. Yarbrough. W. S. Farish, Humble Oil & Refining company president, said his firm immediately turned its records over to the investigators. Humble also turned to the Standard of New Jersey. Underwood Parre of the Gulf Production company said as far as he knew the investigators had not called to see his firm's records. Gulf is owned by a Pennsylvania corporation. Shell locks have not been examined according to G. M. Lubu, head of the Shell legal department. DALLAS, Sept. 3 (UP)—Four assistant attorneys general were examining the Magnolia Petroleum company's books here as part of Attorney General Jones V. Allred's inspection of major oil companies for possible anti-trust violations. Assistant Attorney General Sidney Benbow, one of the party, said he and two others had been in Dallas since Sunday and already had completed examination of Simms Oil company and Oriental Oil company records. They were joined today by another assistant who came here after completing inspections in Fort Worth.

Many Qualify For Matches On Links Here

Charlie Nix, Sweetwater, Low With 75; Harry Lees Runs In Hot 77

Only one day separated Big Spring from the opening of the first annual Country Club invitational golf tournament. Saturday morning at nine o'clock the first link aspirants for the huge cup offered to the medalist of the meet will tee off on the eighteen hole Country Club course. The first day will be consumed in qualifying rounds. Numbers have already turned in qualifying scores. Six out-of-town golfers, playing the course this week have turned in their scores as their qualifying counts. Charlie Nix, Sweetwater, stroked low among the visitors with a 75, excellent golf anywhere. W. E. Rutledge, Sweetwater, turned in 82, while J. C. Southworth of Sweetwater beat him with a 76. Jack Wilson, Knox City, evened Nix's efforts with another 75. M. F. King of Stanton took an 88, and F. W. Haynie, Stanton, got a 90. Local men who have played the course with their cards going as qualifying counts are Cecil Wasson, 84; Fred Stephens, 85; Harry Lees, 77; Bob Pinor, 88; Lab Coffee, 87; R. C. Pyleatt, 88; Joe Kuykendall, 88; N. W. McCleskey, 89; Edmund Notestine, 90; C. W. Cunningham, 90; Buck Richardson, 91; and Dr. E. O. Ellington, 98. Others from here have played their qualifying round but failed to post their cards. Because he is recognized as one of the premier golfers of the state and is champion of West Texas, Charlie Post, Post, will be accorded as favorite to take first honors. However, many other strong golfers are to enter, according to their scores.

AUSTIN, Sept. 3 (UP)—Persons in close touch with the governor said this afternoon that martial law in the East Texas oil field would be lifted Saturday, allowing the new order of the railroad commission to take effect at 7 a. m. Governor Sterling was reported to have given this information to the railroad commission. The proration order it was declared, would be given a trial to test its merits.

AUSTIN, Sept. 3 (UP)—Governor Sterling announced today after conferring with the railroad commission, that he hoped to arrange for opening of the East Texas oil field. Members of the commission refused to talk on the subject. All three late yesterday signed an order effective Saturday to continue in force sixty days, allowing 225 barrels per well daily. The order was so drawn that it can be changed at any time.

AUSTIN, Sept. 3 (UP)—The Texas railroad commission overrode the wishes of Governor Ross S. Sterling late yesterday and issued an order allowing each well in the East Texas field to produce 225 barrels daily. Mr. Sterling had opposed a well basis. Word that the order had been issued spread rapidly about the capital. Within ten minutes many oil operators were in the office of Governor Sterling protesting its provisions and strongly urging him to keep the field under martial law. "That order won't go into effect until I put it into effect," Governor Sterling stated, indicating he had thought of removing the troops immediately. He placed the field under martial law August 17.

Majority Of Senators Not In Sympathy

Call Futile Without Action On Acreage Control Says Sterling

BULLETIN (Special To The Herald) AUSTIN, Sept. 3—With fifteen senators pledged as favorable to a special session for consideration of cotton acreage control, Governor Sterling this afternoon told J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture, that if two more senators expressed themselves as favorable to the move he would call a special session. Mr. McDonald was calling other senators by telephone. Nine or ten members of the upperhouse had not been heard from at all. It was expected the special session call would be issued tonight.

AUSTIN, Sept. 3 (UP)—Governor Sterling said today tabulation of replies to his appeal for opinions on a special session of the legislature to consider cotton acreage control showed a majority of members of the senate opposed to a law controlling acreage. In view of this the governor said he believed it would be useless to call a special session. He indicated a final decision might be made sometime today. He said the session would be futile if no law were enacted.

Oklahoman Is Arrested Here

Officer Finds Man Sitting In Car Parked At Post Office

S. W. Rectoy, deputy sheriff at Mangum, Oklahoma, and special state officer, "got his man" here Thursday morning when he took into custody J. B. Blackburn, a man in his parked car in front post office. Blackburn is wanted in Mangum on charges of theft, larceny, and swindling by bogus checks according to Rectoy. The chase, which led through Oklahoma City to Jacksonville, Texas, back through Graham, Texas, to here extended well over a thousand miles. But Thursday Rectoy and an aide had Blackburn handcuffed with a pair borrowed from the local sheriff's department, and headed back to Mangum. The prisoner waived extradition proceedings. "For fourteen years, Rectoy said he had been in the man-hunting game, and for fourteen years he has always "got his man." Blackburn was the latest name on his long list of captures. Apparently traveling from place to place under the guise of a tourist, Blackburn had a trailer hooked to his closed-in sedan. Before he began his journey back to Mangum, Blackburn went back to his car and told his wife goodbye. She cried as he walked to the car of the officers. She then turned the car and pointed it back to Oklahoma, minus her husband. Presumably the least upset of the entire group, Blackburn chatted freely with his captors as they fastened on the "brackets" and started for Mangum and jail.

Oil Embargo Asked Of Hoover By Gov. Harry Woodring Of Kansas

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 3 (UP)—Gov. Harry Woodring of Kansas has called on President Hoover to declare an embargo on importation of foreign oil. Certain major companies, he declared in a statement issued here last night, are reaping huge profits by importing foreign oil while midcontinent wells are shut down in an attempt to stabilize the market. "I am against the midcontinent states closing the windows against a shower while Washington opens the doors to a flood," Woodring said in his statement. Governor Woodring cited statistics to sustain this point—Namely, that while Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas were taking steps to curb their oil production, imports within the past week. "Unless we dropped to levels ruinous to producers, royalty owners and independent refiners in the midcontinent field," the governor said. The conclusion is inevitable that the prices are manipulator and not controlled by supply and demand.

Body Of Man Is Identified

Was Being Hunted In Connection With Dual Killing In Houston

HOUSTON, Sept. 3 (UP)—Police worked today to discover connection between the deaths of John Cherris and Mrs. C. A. Jones. They believed Cherris was taken for a ride here Saturday night about 30 hours before the couple was slain in their apartment here. The body of the man was found in the Brazos river at East Columbia yesterday. It was definitely identified as that of Cherris, a police character who was being sought in connection with the Jones murders when the body was found. Identification was by latent marks, scars and fingerprints taken from the second layer of the skin. Police learned Cherris had been here Saturday with three men, believed to be the trio who killed Jones, an oil man and former convict. They believe the trio killed Cherris took his body to the river, and returned to kill Jones and his wife.

Final Plans In Making For '31 Farm Exhibit

Agricultural Fair Dates Set October 1, 2, 3 Watson Announces

Final details of the Howard County Fair are being worked out and soon everything will be in readiness for a good show, announced C. T. Watson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. The dates for the fair will be Oct. 1, 2, 3. The communities are planning their own exhibits, which will be held separately. Premiums will range from three to five hundred dollars. The fair will include displays of poultry, hogs, sheep, beef and dairy cattle, and products from the field, and garden. The orchard products will not make a good showing this year. Mrs. Louella Allgood, county home demonstration agent, says that the women will have one of the best canning exhibits ever seen in this part of the county. Club women began early in the summer to see that enough fruit, vegetables and meat were canned and preserved to guarantee their families plenty of good eats throughout the winter. The Chamber of Commerce is now mailing out catalogues about the fair.

Ben Richards Given Parole

Former Dallas Political Figure Was Convicted For Forgery

AUSTIN, Sept. 3 (UP)—A full pardon and restoration of citizenship for Ben C. Richards, Jr. of Dallas, by Governor Sterling, was announced today. Richards was convicted of forgery in June of last year. He was involved in a bet on an election, which led to a killing in Dallas, for which a young bank staff member was tried. The pardon application was signed by a large number of Dallas business and professional men, judges, attorneys, pastors and legislators. Richards' children became motherless soon after he was committed to prison. He had been free on parole.

Responsibility Of Service Clubs

Grow With Attempts To Establish Communism In U.S. Speaker Says

Necessity of curbing communistic propaganda in the United States renders the responsibility of service clubs greater than ever, declared Garland A. Woodward, veteran worker in Kiwanis clubs, before the local club Thursday following its luncheon at the Crawford hotel. "Breeding of communism in this country has spread through activities of workers who ply their nefarious tactics among those dissatisfied with existing conditions," declared the speaker. "They use the depressed economic state of the country as a vehicle for attempting to spread criticism of the government—the greatest government the world has known." "Where we find such activities we should then and there tell any man guilty of attempting to spread these doctrines that he lives under the greatest government," he continued, adding "a leadership that will bring the world out of present conditions eventually will appear and it will come from the United States of America." Mr. Woodward was the speaker on a program marked by introductions of three new members—Harvey Clay, O. Dubberly and Loy Acuff. Much of what the speaker said was directed to the new members, as well as the others. He reviewed

Fifty Yards Of Dirt Necessary To Close Hole In City's Center

Rain During The Past Year, Maximized By The Blinding Downpour Of Monday Brought To Light A Yawning Hole In The Heart Of The City, Large Enough To Swallow A 10-Ton Truck.

Following the latest rain, a small aperture was discovered back of a local bank. Attention of the city manager was called to the discovery and an investigation was made. The little hole proved to be an opening to a huge cesspool dug before the installation of the sewer system many years ago. It would have been an easy matter for a truck to have caused a caving in of the hole. City Manager E. V. Spence said, fifty yards of dirt necessary for the filling of the hole were being hauled Thursday.

Proration

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) ence of chaotic conditions that prevailed prior to the shutdown. The governor said he would have no statement to make tonight. He said he had not read the order through before leaving his office. He was asked concerning the possibility of his opening up the field under executive order and carrying out the order with troops. He replied he had not investigated that phase and would take no action until there was within his rights. There are 1,700 wells in the field ready to produce oil. Several are in process of completion and it was estimated by those opposing the order that within three weeks there would be at least 2,000 producing wells in the area. The order contained an oil and gas ratio prohibiting the use of more than 700 cubic feet of gas in the lifting of one barrel of oil to the surface. Neff had contended for an oil and gas ratio. The independent operators went from the governor's office to a hotel where they were holding an "indignation" meeting and were protesting vigorously. While in the governor's office the delegation made "political" threats against the railroad commission and promised unqualified support of any movement to remove them from office in the event another special session of the legislature was called. At the recent special session to enact conservation laws Governor Sterling had recommended a law to establish an appointive commission to administer such laws. The proposal was turned down. The order is the first issued under the new law passed at the session. That it would be attacked in court as illegal and invalid was regarded as a foregone conclusion since three oil companies laid the predicate for the attack at the commission hearing on the field. The constitutionality of the law under which it was issued also will be attacked.

Three Tests In West Texas Find Oil During Week

Three wells with total daily initial production of only 54 barrels were completed last week in three West Texas counties, one well was abandoned dry and one location was staked. During the preceding week one location each was made in Crane and Ward counties and for the second time this year no completions were reported. Completion last week of an Irion county well making four barrels daily with 33 barrels of water; a Loving county well pumping 25 barrels of oil daily with twice as much water and a Ward county well flowing 25 barrels a day brought new production for 1931 to 92,250 barrels. Locations for the year were increased to 131. The location in Pecos county was by C. S. Messenger and others for No. 1 Byrne in section 24, block 10, H & C N Ry. Co. survey, 300 feet south of the same operators' No. 1 Buiz, a new producer in the same section. Five West Texas Counties To Get Road Contracts

AUSTIN, Sept. 3.—Contracts for road and bridge construction estimated to cost $4,500,000 will be awarded by the state highway commission at its meeting September 20, 21 and 22. Bids on 40 road and 23 bridge projects were asked today by the commission.

Mostly State Work Most of the construction will be purely state projects, the state having already used the $5,000,000 extra federal aid granted by the federal government last year on condition it would be used before September 1.

The mileage totals 331. Of this total 145.9 miles is grading and drainage structures; 21.7 gravel surfacing, 72.6 miles asphalt and other types of hard surface paving, and 90.9 miles of concrete paving.

Bridge projects included six railroad grade crossing eliminations. The list of projects announced today was tentative.

West Texas road projects announced included: Fisher county, 15.6 miles gravel base and double bituminous surface from Nolan county line to Roby on highway 70.

Hall county, 5.5 miles gravel base and triple asphalt surface from Motley county line to Turkey on highway 18. Lubbock county, 12.8 miles grading and drainage structures from Lubbock southwest to Highway 137.

Nolan county, 3.9 miles double bituminous surface from Sweetwater to Fisher county line on highway 70.

Pecos county, 13.7 miles grading and drainage structures from Fort Stockton, east, on highway 27.

Railroad Board Order Attacked In North Texas

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 3.—Charging that the Texas railroad commission did not grant a single request made by independent producers in drafting the commission order holding East Texas production to 225 barrels per well, the North Texas Oil and Gas association here last night adopted resolutions vigorous protesting the provisions of the new order.

About 100 members of the association, many of whom are producers in the East Texas field, attended the meeting which was called by Tom F. Hunter, president, after he had received a report of today's developments at Austin.

Urging Impeachment The operators declared in a resolution that the members of the railroad commission should be impeached or a new oil and gas commission created. They charged that the commission "seems" to have based their order at the request of the Sinclair and Gulf companies rather than on the evidence presented in the hearing.

The operators centered their attack upon the commissioner's plan of basing proration upon an allowable for individual wells, claiming this method will bring on an unprecedented drilling campaign.

The major companies will hold the advantage because of controlling 90 per cent of the field, it was declared in the resolution.

A telegram dispatched to Gov. R. S. Sterling expressed the fear that enforcement of the new order would mean disaster for the independent operators.
