Mountain Echoes

(Editor's Note: While Editor Barbara Kingsbery tours Europe, her mother, Mrs. Leona Bruce is filling in and helping in the publishing of The NEWS and writing her column.)

By LEONA BRUCE

We miss Barbara this week and for two weeks more. She is today where the mountains really echo, the yodelers in the Alps in eastern France or Switzerland, making the tour with her sister-in-law, Suzanne Kingsbery of Beaumont, and her cousin's wife, Jacqueling Woodward of Dallas. Jacqueling is the wife of Dr. John Woodward, and is a French girl who is a graduate of Yale. The three first visited her mother who lives in the town of Bannost, near Paris, and will tour several countries in Central Europe before returning home.

Overheard in a store: A man talking to another told how his summer is progressing. He said, "I don't do anything all morning and then I rest all afternoon."

John Gregg, postmaster, says at 5:00 Monday that registration of young men for a possible draft is going well. He had had five men born in 1960 who registered, with a good deal of good-natured banter from their friends. This part of the operation will go on this week, then next Monday will begin the registration of men born in 1961 and continue for that week.

Stacy Reservoir Hearing Set In Austin Nov. 19

The Third Court of Civil Appeals in Austin has set Nov. 19 as the date for oral arguments in the dispute over the proposed Stacy Reservoir.

The Texas Water Commission granted the Colorado River Municipal Water District a permit to build the reservoir despite objections by the Lower Colorado River Authority that project would cut the water supply downstream.

The reservoir would contain more than one million acre-feet of water for storage and municipal water supply and would be located in parts of Concho, Runnels and Coleman counties.

Austin District Judge Herman Jones upheld the TWC decision in February.

The LCRA has appealed on grounds the TWC did not have authority to grant the Colorado River MWD the permit because the district did not show it was acting on behalf of any particular cities.

The LCRA also argued that Water Commissioner Dorsey Hardeman should have been disqualified from voting in the matter because he represented the City of San Angelo in a previous case concerning Stacy Reservoir.

Assistant Attorney General Tim Brown said the appeals court has given LCRA until early September to file written briefs in the case. The state will file its answers to those briefs during early October, Brown said.

Clements Sets July 25-31 As Texas Farm Safety Week

National Farm Safety Week is July 25-31, and Gov. William P. Clements, Jr., has also proclaimed that week as Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Week.

Urging all who live and work on Texas farms and ranches to make accident prevention a part of every activity, Gov. Clements authorized a weeklong campaign to make safety the "conscious concern of all who work to produce Texas' and America's great agricultural abundance."

"Modern farming is a complex and highly skilled profession. It is also a hazardous one," Clements said. He noted figures which reveal that more than 200 fatal accidents occur on Texas farms and ranches each year. In addition, about 10,000 people suffer some type of disabling injury.

"Accidents can be prevented by using safe procedures in combination with safe equipment designs," said Clements. "Conscious attention must be given to the way we do things and how things are made or constructed so as to best reduce the risk of accidents."

The cost of farm and ranch accidents, both monetarily and in time lost from production, is enormous, said Dr. Gary S. Nelson, safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University, System, which sponsors the weeklong observance with the Texas Safety Association and several other organizations. Texas losses due to agricultural accidents could be as high as $10 million a year.

18--Depression An "How to cope with depression is an area of concern," says Elder D. R. Marray of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

"Depression is a normal response to an emergency situation with which you momentarily feel you can not cope. The healthy person stays depressed only a short time. It is the intensity and length of the depression that separates the normal from the abnormal.

"The symptoms vary from sadness, inactivity, and difficulty in concentration, to a feeling of helplessness, crying, a loss of appetite and sleep," adds Murray.

He says the first step is to recognize that some depression is normal and to be expected. Stop pitying self. Setting a simple goal you can accomplish immediately, such as getting out of bed, getting dressed, and cooking when you don't feel like it are "musts" if one hopes to bounce back.

Murray says brisk, frequent exercise, standing up for ones self and your rights, having a friend who will listen, and avoiding stressful conditions in your lifestyle will carry you over the rough spots. Changing your attitude if you can't improve the situation is also a vital aid. In extreme cases psychotherapy or hospitalization may be helpful.

Adventists are health conscious. They operate 393 hospitals, sanitariums, dispensaries and clinics worldwide. During 1978, 5,688,873 patients were treated in these institutions.

Williamson-Williams Nuptials Held June 21

Wedding vows were exchanged in a candlelight double ring ceremony by Aletha June Williamson and Reagan Rene Williams at 7:00 p.m. Saturday, June 21, at the First Baptist Church in Weatherford with Dr. Bill Darnell officiating.

Parent of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Williamson (Ada Lois Newman) of Weatherford and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Huckaby of Sonora.

Grandparents included Mrs. R. L. Newman of Leakey (formerly of Santa Anna) and Mrs. Bea Holcomb of San Angelo, Texas.

When given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of sheer organza with delicate silk Venice lace. The gown featured a flattering Queen Anne neckline and bodice accented with silk Venice lace. From the bodice of the gown flowed a full circular skirt of silk organza edged with silk Venice lace. The full beshop sleeves ended in elegant cuffs at the wrists. The gown was completed by an exquisitely detailed wateau chapel length train.

Her mantilla veil of sheer illusion was edged with Venice lace and fell to fingertip length from a lace covered, beaded band, detailed with tiny seed pearls.

She carried a bouquet of blue carnations, white daisies highlighted with baby's breath and centered with an orchid corsage. The corsage also included "Something Old" a wedding band formerly worn by the bride's grandmother; "Something New" was a white Bible presented her by the First Baptist Church.

The bride was attended by Ora Jean Egger of Electra, serving as maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Nancy Golden of Fort Worth, sister of the bride; Arlene Williamson of Weatherford; and Pam Torbett also of Weatherford. The attendants wore identical gowns of blue quiana with empire waists, featuring jackets highlighted with Chantilly lace. The attendants carried baskets of silk carnations along with baby's breath and greenery.

Flower girl, Jamie Bagwell, wore a floor length gown of blue organza trimmed in lace.

Mother of the bride, Mrs. O. C. Williamson wore a floor length gown of apricot organza trimmed with delicate matching beading. The groom's mother, Mrs. Raymond Huckaby chose a pink dress with a matching plaid vest. Both wore gardenia corsages.

Serving as best man was Raymond Huckaby, father of the bridegroom. Groomsmen were Larry Dierske, of San Angelo. Ring bearer was Sam Glasson, cousin of the bride, from Houston.

The groom wore a white tuxedo with long tails and a blue ruffled shirt. The groomsmen, ringbearer, and candle lighter wore identical light blue tuxedos with light blue ruffled shirts.

Music was sung by Brenda Williamson, sister-in-law of the bride, which included "Greatest of These," "Wedding Song," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's chosen colors of blue and white were carried throughout with two large arrangements of gladiolas, daisies, blue carnations and baby's breath. The altar was decorated with white daisies and highlighted by the unity candle which was lit at the conclusion of the ceremony.

The candlelighters were Sean Bagwell of Weatherford and Tammy Arrott of Ozona.

The ushers were Judson Williamson of Athens, brother of the bride, and Gary Merri-man of San Angelo.

The reception followed in the Family Life Center and featured a three-tier cake, topped with blue silk flowers and baby's breath.

The bride's table featured a silver candelabra along with white baskets of silk flowers and a white lined tablecloth. Serving at the bride's table were Debbie Arrott, sister of the groom, from Ozona. Jean-sister of the groom, from Ozona. Jennifer Murphey of Weatherford and Patty Rauch also of Weatherford.

The bridegroom's table featured a chocolate cake topped with purple grapes. Coffee was served from silver service by the bridegroom's sisters; Charlotte Koeing, of De Soto; Dorothy Williams, of Los Angeles, Calif.; and Mary Bea Huckaby of Sonora.

the bride's book.

The bride graduated from weatherford High School, attended Weatherford Junior College and graduated from Tarleton State University at Stephenville. She has taught in Public School System of Ozona, for two years.

The bridegroom graduated from Lake View High School of San Angelo and attended Angelo State University. He is self-employed in the cabinet industry.

After a trip to New Orleans, La., the couple will be residing in San Angelo.

McIntire Reunion Set August 2-3

The family of the late Mr. and Mrs. B. F. McIntire of the Shields Community will meet for a reunion Saturday and Sunday, August 2 and 3, at the Civic Center in Santa Anna.

Family members and friends are invited to be present for the tenth annual reunion and enjoy visiting, fellowship and food.

We Shall Keep the Sabbath Day Holy

Remember the sabbath day to keep it holy.
Ex. 20:8.

God said, "The seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God." He placed His sanctity upon this day and blessed it and hallowed it as a day of rest....It is the only commandment in the whole Decalogue that tells who God is. It places God in distinction with every other god. It says the God that made the heaven and the earth, the God that made the trees and the flowers and that created man; this is the God that you are to keep before your children, and you have only to point to the flowers and tell them that He made these and that He rested on the seventh day from all His labors....The seventh day is a God-given memorial.

Pointing to God as the maker of the heavens and the earth, it distinguishes the true God from all false gods. All who keep the seventh day, signify by this act that they are worshipers of Jehovah. Thus the Sabbath is the sign of man's allegiance to God as long as there are any upon the earth to serve Him...

God has given men six days wherein to labor, and He requires that their own work be done in the six working days. Acts of necessity and mercy are permitted on the Sabbath, the sick and suffering are at all times to be cared for; but unnecessary labor is to be strictly avoided....And the commandment includes all within our gates. The inmates of the house are to lay aside their worldly business during the sacred hours. All should unite to honor God by willing service upon His holy day.

So long as the heavens and the earth endure, the Sabbath will continue as a sign of the Creator's powers. And when Eden shall bloom on earth again, God's holy rest day will be honored by all beneath the sun. "From one sabbath to another" the inhabitants of the glorified new earth shall go up "to worship before me, saith the Lord."

Williamson-Williams Nuptials Held June 21

Wedding vows were exchanged in a candlelight double ring ceremony by Aletha June Williamson and Reagan Rene Williams at 7:00 p.m. Saturday, June 21, at the First Baptist Church in Weatherford with Dr. Bill Darnell officiating.

Parent of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Williamson (Ada Lois Newman) of Weatherford and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Huckaby of Sonora.

Grandparents included Mrs. R. L. Newman of Leakey (formerly of Santa Anna) and Mrs. Bea Holcomb of San Angelo, Texas.

When given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of sheer organza with delicate silk Venice lace. The gown featured a flattering Queen Anne neckline and bodice accented with silk Venice Lace. From the bodice of the gown flowed a full circular skirt of silk organza edged with silk Venice lace. The full beshop sleeves ended in elegant cuffs at the wrists. The gown was completed by an exquisitely detailed watteau chapel length train.

Her mantilla veil of sheer illusion was edged with Venice lace and fell to fingertip length from a lace covered, beaded band, detailed with tiny seed pearls.

She carried a bouquet of blue carnations, white daisies highlighted with baby's breath and centered with an orchid corsage. The corsage also included "Something Old" a wedding band formerly worn by the bride's grandmother; "Something New" was a white Bible presented her by the First Baptist Church.

The bride was attended by Ora Jean Egger of Electra, serving as maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Nancy Golden of Fort Worth, sister of the bride; Arlene Williamson of Weatherford; and Pam Torbett also of Weatherford. The attendants wore identical gowns of blue quiana with empire waists, featuring jackets highlighted with Chantilly lace. The attendants carried baskets of silk carnations along with baby's breath and greenery.

Flower girl, Jamie Bagwell, wore a floor length gown of blue organza trimmed in lace.

Mother of the bride, Mrs. O. C. Williamson wore a floor length gown of Apricot organza trimmed with delicate matching beading. The groom's mother, Mrs. Raymond Huckaby chose a pink dress with a matching plaid vest. Both wore gardenia corsages.

Serving as best man was Raymond Huckaby, father of the bridegroom. Groomsmen were Larry Dierske, of San Angelo. Ring bearer was Sam Glasson, cousin of the bride, from Houston.

The groom wore a white tuxedo with long tails and a blue ruffled shirt. The groomsmen, ringbearer, and candle lighter wore identical light blue tuxedos with light blue ruffled shirts.

Music was sung by Brenda Williamson, sister-in-law of the bride, which included "Greatest of These," "Wedding Song," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's chosen colors of blue and white were carried throughout with two large arrangements of gladiolas, daisies, blue carnations and baby's breath. The altar was decorated with white daisies and highlighted by the unity candle which was lit at the conclusion of the ceremony.

The candlelighters were Sean Bagwell of Weatherford and Tammy Arrott of Ozona.

The ushers were Judson Williamson of Athens, brother of the bride, and Gary Merriam of San Angelo.

The reception followed in the Family Life Center and featured a three-tier cake, topped with blue silk flowers and baby's breath.

The bride's table featured a silver candelabra along with white baskets of silk flowers and a white lined tablecloth. Serving at the bride's table were Debbie Arrott, sister of the groom, from Ozona, Jean-sister of the groom, from Ozona, Jennifer Murphey of Weatherford and Patty Rauch also of Weatherford.

The bridegroom's table featured a chocolate cake topped with purple grapes. Coffee was served from silver service by the bridegroom's sisters; Charlotte Koeing, of De Soto; Dorothy Williams, of Los Angeles, Calif.; and Mary Bea Huckaby of Sonora.

the bride's book.

The bride graduated from Weatherford High School, attended Weatherford Junior College and graduated from Tarleton State University at Stephenville. She has taught in Public School System of Ozona, for two years.

We Shall Keep the Sabbath Day Holy

Remember the sabbath day to keep it holy.
Ex. 20:8.

God said, "The seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God." He placed His sanctity upon this day and blessed it and hallowed it as a day of rest...It is the only commandment in the whole Decalogue that tells who God is. It places God in distinction with every other god. It says the God that made the heaven and the earth, the God that made the trees and the flowers and that created man; this is the God that you are to keep before your children, and you have only to point to the flowers and tell them that He made these and that He rested on the seventh day from all His labors...The seventh day is a God-given memorial.

Pointing to God as the maker of the heavens and the earth, it distinguishes the true God from all false gods. All who keep the seventh day, signify by this act that they are worshipers of Jehovah. Thus the Sabbath is the sign of man's allegiance to God as long as there are any upon the earth to serve Him...

God has given men six days wherein to labor, and He requires that their own work be done in the six working days. Acts of necessity and mercy are permitted on the Sabbath, the sick and suffering are at all times to be cared for; but unnecessary labor is to be strictly avoided....And the commandment includes all within our gates. The inmates of the house are to lay aside their worldly business during the sacred hours. All should unite to honor God by willing service upon His holy day.

So long as the heavens and the earth endure, the Sabbath will continue as a sign of the Creator's powers. And when Eden shall bloom on earth again, God's holy rest day will be honored by all beneath the sun. "From one sabbath to another" the inhabitants of the glorified new earth shall go up "to worship before me, saith the Lord."

Adventists Celebrate Communion

After a brief service last Saturday morning in which Elder Tom Good reminded the audience of Christ's last supper with his disciples, the Adventist church celebrated the communion services. The group entered into the footwashing service, or Ordinance of Humility.

Breaking of the bread reminded the audience that Christ's body was broken, or sacrificed, for humanity. Partaking of the wine, or grape juice called to mind that Christ spilled his blood for the salvation of humanity.

Assisting Pastor Good were the local elders, Luther Walraven and David Morris. The pastor stated that the Adventist Church ordinances are not closed to members of other churches, so they were happy for their visitors to partake with the members.

These ordinances are celebrated four times a year, at the beginning, or close, of each quarter. This is not just a local program, but is celebrated on a quarterly basis throughout the entire world.
