ALL-STAR GAME HERE FRIDAY

Hit Game of Season—Fats Vs. Leans—Expected to Be Sensational Clash

"Spectators of the soft ball games have seen nothing yet," voices E. R. Purdy and J. R. Lovelady, managers of the All Star Leans and All Star Fats teams, who will meet on the soft ball diamond next Friday afternoon, August 14, at 6:30 to determine which is the hardest hitting, fastest running crowd of the season. This is one game no one should miss—it will be worth your time to go over and get a good hour's laugh.

Mr. Purdy, manager of the Leans All Star team, will pick his players from the following men, who have a waist line of 36 inches or less and are over 31 years of age: Jack Woodward, Lemar Brown, L. W. Hoffer, D. W. Pioratt, Atton Piert, "Whitey" Regalski, Lester Guthrie, J. D. Conley, Bob McMillin, W. H. Rosedale, H. Sneek, Ford Barnes, Carl Ray, T. H. Upton, Will Bell and John Ross.

Dr. Lovelady, manager of the All-Star Fats, will pick his men from the following, who will have to have a waist line over 36 inches: Cecil Grantham, Charlie Evans, Will Parker, Jess Garrett, Dr. L. O. Garratt, Lee Mobley, Cecil Walker, Bill Ford, Jodie Mathews, G. A. Ragsdale, Lee Hunter, A. D. Donham, Dennis Kelley, Charles Berry, and Boss Caton.

Players are asked to be on the field at 6:15. Play will be begun promptly at 6:30.

Let's all go over and see what the leans and fats can do when they really try!

Preparations Being Made For Texas Rangers

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 14.—All Texans and the American public at large are invited to participate in the picturesque festivities incident to the meeting August 20-22 of the Texas Ex-Rangers Association at the Texas Centennial Exposition.

Major George B. Block, commander of the association, and the Exposition management, will be hosts to members of the organization. They will be housed, fed and entertained at Ranger headquarters on the Centennial grounds. Major events of the celebration are all open to the public.

Governor James V. Allred will unveil the heroic bronze statue, "Texas Ranger," Friday, August 21, at 7 p. m. with impressive ceremonies. King Vidor, national director, will present the statue to the Rangers of Texas in behalf of Paramount studios. Jean Parker, Fred MacMurray, Jack Oakie, and other famous picture stars will attend.

There are 12,000 square feet of floor space in Cheyenne Joe McInerney's Night on the Yukon dining place adjacent to Ranger headquarters, where the big public Ranger ball and jamboe will be held on the night of Saturday, August 22. Rangers are privileged to ride into it on horseback and refresh themselves at the longest bar in the world. Old fashioned square dancing in costume, and cowboy songs and skits will feature the program.

New Team Added to Soft Ball League

A new team under the leadership of Bob Basket and Glen Williamson is entering the league next week. It is composed of men and boys who are not now playing on another team. Since the purpose of the League is to allow all to play who wish, the committee thought it wise to admit the new team. However, it will not compete for the championships and games it plays will not affect the percentages of the other teams because several games have already been played in the third round.

Following is a list of players turned in by the managers: Bob Baggett, Glen Williamson, H. D. Smith, H. L. Lackey, W. B. Griffin, Wyatt Smith, Beans Parish, E. Day, Elmer Hardy, Augustus Lightfoot, Coot Blanton, and Chas. Evans.

F. F. A. Chapter Elects Officers

Monday night the local chapter of the Future Farmers of America met at the school building under the supervision of A. D. Pettit to elect officers for the school year 1936 and '37. The following officers were elected to serve: President, H. W. Kingsbery; vice-president, J. W. Davis; secretary, John Gregg; treasurer, Oscar Hill; reporter, Burton Gregg; farm watch dog, Adolphus Ashmore; parliamentarian, Darlin Brewer; song leader, Charles Hensley, and historian, Lewis Evans.

Mr. Pettit has begun his work as vocational agriculture teacher in a commendable way, and the boys are also beginning to manifest an interest in the work for the ensuing year.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Dean returned Monday from Fort Worth where Mr. Dean attended the Coaches meeting. They also visited the Centennial attractions in Dallas and Fort Worth.

Favor Change In Voting Law

Preferential Primary Is Seen As Possibility For Substitute

AUSTIN, Aug. 14.—Two Texas democratic party officials are on record for changes and corrections in election procedure and laws to simplify the nomination of public officials and protect the voters' rights.

Myron G. Blalock, chairman of the state committee, declared his personal view that the preferential ballot would be the "greatest improvement that could be made in party procedure."

By this step, Texas would eliminate the second primaries. But more than that, in Blalock's opinion, "it would give Texans the opportunity to vote for someone, instead of against somebody." It would settle all races in one primary, by counting second-choice votes where no candidate received a clear majority of first-choice votes. A chief objection to the double primaries has been that the system forces a choice in the second of the two extremes in the first primary race, and usually deals out the middle-ground man.

"It is well known that persons vote their dislikes, their pensions and prejudices first," Mr. Blalock said. "A preferential ballot would give them also the opportunity, after expressing personal preferences and dislikes, to vote their judgment as to candidates, not affected by these personal views."

Burriss C. Jackson of Hillsboro, former member of the state committee, now Hill county democratic chairman, has notified the state committee of resolutions adopted by the Hill county convention, urging conflict and confusion in the present election law be cured. Jackson will appear before committees of the next legislature to urge these corrections.

One of the conflicts is that though the state committee could not certify second-primary contestants in close races until August 8 this year, absentee balloting for the second primary started August 3. Further, one article of the law says that in county conventions, each 300 voters shall be entitled to one delegate to the state convention, while another article says that each county is entitled to a delegate for every 500 voters.

Mr. Jackson has requested the state executive committee to press for legislative attention the need of correction, clarification and revision of the election laws.

Cleveland Union Christian Endeavor

Sunday afternoon, August 9, the Cleveland young people's Christian Endeavor was called to order, and the secretary read the minutes of the previous meeting. Miss Ruby Thompson of the discussion on "The Moral Religion." A class discussion on the fifth chapter of St. John followed.

Next Sunday night the Endeavor will discuss the Beatitudes and again extend an invitation to all young people to come to these services.

DELAYED EXPLANATION

There is one man in this county this editor is certainly due an explanation and an apology. That man is none other than our good friend J. C. Hunter of Rockwood. Mr. Hunter was one of the candidates for commissioner in this precinct and carried a splendid vote. With the other candidates Mr. Hunter placed a nice and well worded Card of Thanks to the voters in his home box at Rockwood for the splendid vote he received and many other commendable remarks, paid to have it inserted in this paper, but by some mishap in some unaccountable way, the copy got misplaced and the Card of Thanks was not published.

We offer this in lieu of the original and assure our readers it was not Mr. Hunter's fault that this card did not appear with the others.

Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Blewett, Miss Marie Blewett, and Mr. and Mrs. Alpha Boardman spent Sunday until Tuesday in Dallas and Fort Worth attending the Centennial.

Southwide Publicity Given to Local Baptist S. S.

The recent campaign for enlargement of the Baptist Sunday School of this city gave that school, and incidentally, Santa Anna as a whole, some very favorable publicity. The Superintendent, Mr. J. R. Lock, wrote a report of the plans used and results attained in putting the school across the 400 mark in attendance and sent this to Mr. Harold Ingraham who is field worker for the Baptist Sunday School Board at Nashville, Tenn. Mr. Ingraham immediately had a copy of the letter printed on a four page circular and distributed them to Sunday School workers over the South. A thousand copies were handed out at a Southwide Sunday School meeting held at Ridgecrest, North Carolina. More information was wanted, as well as pictures of the school, and these will be sent later to add to the other material. Mr. Ingraham wrote a warm letter of appreciation to Mr. Lock and is sending 50 copies of the much publicized circular for any local people who might want to read them. The article is printed under the title "Jump—Not Slump In Sunday School Attendance."

B. T. U. Workers Making Many Plans

Sunday night in the Baptist Training Union the orchestra, under the direction of Robert Williams, will render several numbers for the General Assembly program.

At the executive meeting Tuesday night under the leadership of A. B. Lightfoot, many plans were completed and numerous phases of future work planned for. A poster exhibit, in which all unions will participate, is being started. The posters will be on exhibit Memorial Sunday, August 30. On Memorial Day the Senior Union will have charge of the General Assembly program, staging a short play, entitled "The Ladder to Membership."

At the Coleman County Association meeting Sunday afternoon, new officers for the ensuing year were elected, however a list of the names were not furnished for this issue of the News.

Monday night the B. T. U. sponsored a pounding for Reverend and Mrs. Dunham, Dixie Lee and Harley K. Dunham, in appreciation of their work and interest of the church. A large crowd attended and after an enjoyable evening of games and songs, a great number of gifts were presented to the pastor and his family.

Cotton Estimated 12,481,000 Bales

Crop Conditions Better Over Production Area Than Traders Thought

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—A cotton crop 1,842,000 bales larger than was grown in the United States last year was forecast Saturday by the Department of Agriculture.

In its first production report of the season, it estimated the amount to be grown this year at 12,481,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight compared with 10,638,391 last year and 9,636,000 in 1934.

A larger yield per acre and better crop condition generally than average also were reported. The department said the indicated yield per acre was 199.7 pounds, 13.4 pounds more than for 1935, 28.1 higher than 1934 and 29.8 higher than the ten-year average of 1923-32.

The condition this year at 72.3 per cent of normal was slightly above the 72.6 percentage for last year but well above the 1934 average of 69.4 and the ten-year average of 67.7.

Records Forecast
States adjoining the Mississippi River were said to have especially favorable prospects. Record yields were forecast for Missouri and Mississippi.

Better than average yields per acre were listed for all States except Virginia, the Carolinas and Oklahoma, the latter being hard hit by the drought.

The department said dry weather also affected cotton in Virginia and the Carolinas and part of the crop in North Georgia. Earlier private forecasts of the crop had ranged from 11,500,000 bales to 12,700,000.

The crop in Texas, largest producing State, was estimated at 3,850,000 bales well above the 1935 crop of 2,956,000.

Loss caused by boll weevil this season was indicated at less than average.

The record production in 1926-27 was 17,978,000 bales. The five-year average, 1928-32, was 14,667,000 bales.

The yield forecast for California has been exceeded only once while that for Arkansas has been topped only once in thirty years.

Acreage Higher
The cotton acreage this year is 9.8 per cent larger than that of last year. It is placed by the department at 29,924,000 acres, after deducting 2.3 per cent—the average abandonment for the last ten years—from the area in cultivation July 1.

The condition of the crop Aug. 1 was 72.3 per cent of normal, compared with 73.6 a year ago and 67.7, the 1923-32 average.

Indicated yield per acre was 199.7 pounds, compared with 186.3 last year and 169.9, the 1923-32 average.

The Census Bureau announced ginning prior to Aug. 1 totaled 41,130 running bales, counting round as half bales, compared with 34,346 for last year and 39,787 for 1934.

Condition of States
The condition of the crop Aug. 1 and indicated production by States follow:

Virginia	condition 62 and indicated production 25,000 bales.
North Carolina	60 and 501,000.

To The Voters of Coleman County

Friends of Mrs. Ora (J. O.) West wish to present her name for your favorable consideration and support at the August 22nd run-off primary.

Her training and former experience in clerical matters have qualified her for the performance of the duties of the county clerk's office, and knowing that she has the sole care and responsibility of her six children, that she lives in a rented house, that she lost her home to a loan company, we therefore heartily recommend her as worthy of your confidence and support, assuring you that she is fully competent to fill the office if elected.

Why keep one person in office a life-time.

The editor accepted a ride with Clebert Willis Wednesday throughout the heart of Texas. Leaving here about nine a. m. making the first stop at Salt Gap, where Mr. Willis' mother and sister joined us for ride near Austin, to visit with relatives. Our destination was Marble Falls, and we landed there about five p. m. Leaving the city of Marble Falls, God knows how it got its name, about seven, returning by way of Lampasas, we meandered our way back home about ten that night, checking up a ride of approximately 500 miles. The excessive heat, drought and insect pests are all doing their bit in deterring crops, but the prospects are fair to good except in some places where the boll weevil have wrought havoc with the cotton. Feed was good throughout the trip.

Rural Pantry Chart

Miss Grace Neely, Extension Food preservation specialist, has given the rural women of Texas a splendid chart for properly filling the pantry. The amount of the containers is estimated for the family of five. Should your family be larger or smaller, you should increase or decrease the amount of containers in proportion. Those women who belong to the demonstration clubs have this chart. Since many of our readers do not belong to such clubs, she is passing this chart along to you, as it will be of greatest help in filling your pantry with the things your family needs.

You should have 150 containers of green leafy and yellow vegetables and should serve them each day in the week for at least five months. Under this list are: asparagus, yam, squash, pumpkin, greens, English peas, green snap bean, green snap peas, and green peppers.

Eighty containers of other vegetables should be on your shelves. Other vegetables include: beets, white squash, corn, egg plant, parsnip, turnip, field peas half mature and cucumbers. Starchy vegetables; sweet and Irish potatoes. These should be served four times a week for three months.

A family of five needs 135 containers of tomatoes or citrus fruit—such as canned tomatoes, tomato juice, tomato soup, grape fruit, and grape fruit juice. This should be served once each day in the week for four months.

Your family needs 150 containers of fruit, such as berries, peaches, rhubarb, cherries, pears, and grapes. Serve each day of the week for five months.

Seventy containers of proteins, such as cheese, dried beans, and dried meats, served daily; also cured and fresh meats, such as pork, or beef, roast, chicken, chili, sausage, stew, served once each day.

You need 120 containers of grain such as corn, hominy, pop corn, served two times a week for ten months.

Fifty-two containers of miscellaneous foods, which include: since meat, peanut butter, pecans, baked products, soups, jellies, jams, jellies, and marmalades.

Using this chart as our guide in filling our pantries, and by making out our menus for a week in advance, we may solve our problem of what to serve and at the same time know that our families are being fed wholesome, body building and energy giving food.

Why Gulf is the Gas for August

WHY NOT BEAT AUGUST HEAT by driving someplace for a swim? And if you want to keep your gas bills down, don't forget you need a fuel with a formula that fits hot weather. Otherwise your gas doesn't burn completely—part of it escapes through the exhaust unburned, wasted. Stick to That Good Gulf in August—it's "Kept in Step with the Calendar"—specially refined for summer driving. All of it goes to work, none of it goes to waste. Try Gulf and see!

Mrs. Mina G. Wright Honored at Home

Honoring Mrs. Mina G. Wright on her fifty years of residing at her ranch, twenty-five miles south of here on the Colorado river, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wright, Mrs. Mina Hull, Mrs. Stella Fowden, children of the honoree, entertained guests from 2 to 8 o'clock in open house manner. On the spacious porch of the ranch home old friends gathered and talked over old times while the Hays boys played softly old fashioned music. With the strains of "Golden Slippers" were being heard Master Dale Wendell Land presented Mrs. Wright with a pair of tiny gold slippers on a white satin pillow. Cut flowers were used in decorating. Gold marigolds and Shasta daisies brought out the gold and white color scheme. As the guests arrived they registered in a guest book. A lovely poem in commemoration of Mrs. Wright was read first by Mrs. J. A. B. Miller of Coleman. Later in the day it was read by H. D. Bradley of Fife. The poem is as follows: Mina Golden Wright August—and the heat of the Texas sun, Burned plains and prairies dry, Hark! in the stillness of the day, A new-born baby's cry.

'Twas in Bastrop County in fifty-four, This wee baby girl came to stay, In the Golden home on August the sixth, "Mina" they named her that day.

The baby grew to womanhood, Then gave her heart away, Wedding bells were heard, and she Became Mrs. Wright one day.

'Twas in Fayette County in seventy-five, On September twenty-eight, They faced together what life held, What fortunes lay in wait.

In July of eighteen-eighty, They moved to McCulloch County, And bought some cattle their fortunes to start, Out of their meager bounty.

The following year, they left their cattle, With Billy Walker and Litt, While they went away to teach school, In the County of DeWitt.

In eighteen hundred-eighty-six, They bought this land right here, Which for fifty years has been her home, Each year has grown more dear.

For on this farm and ranch combined, She reared her girls and boys, She taught them what was right, and wrong, Shared in their hopes and joys.

Her husband was away so much, Serving his Lord by preaching, While she kept the home fires bright, And inn the Sunday School teaching.

Never thinking of herself, Her life was spent for others, Giving of her work and time, One of the dearest Mothers.

"Patching," she often laughs and says, Is her only talent, But, oh, her life is rich and full, So brave, courageous, gallant.

Through all these years, though tasks were hard, She read and studied too, She keeps up with the world affairs, Knows history through and through.

Of all the books that she has read, The dearest to her heart Is God's dear book, the Bible true, Of her a very part.

These past three years, her house and porch, Is the world her body knows; But through her books she travels far, O'er all the world she goes.

And as she sits upon her porch, She can lift her eyes and see, The hills, and the Colorado river as it flows, majestic, free.

The grass lands to the North and West Add beauty to the scene— Her life goes on in beauty, too, So peaceful, calm, serene.

Her dream house built upon a hill Has never yet come true— But, maybe, in a better land, She'll find it shining new.

Upon the hills of God 'twill stand, Where all may look and see

'Tis built of deeds of service done, For him who set us free.

"In my Father's house you'll find A mansion there for thee. Which I have gone before to build, And which you'll some day see."

Ah, yes, her life is lived right here, But facing toward the light; Behind her, fifty golden years, For Mina Golden Wright.

Refreshments of Angel food cake and ice cream were served. The plate favors were marshmallows wrapped in gold cellophane with stars bearing this inscription: "M. G. W.-1886-1936," written in gold.

The following attended the celebration: Mrs. Mina Hull, of Comona, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Riley and daughter, Miss Maudie, Mrs. J. A. B. Miller, Mrs. Theo Dunman, Mr. E. R. Crockett, Mrs. Mamie Bell, all of Coleman; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. George Garrett, Mrs. W. O. Garrett, of Santa Anna; Miss Linnie Box of Rockwood, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Bradley, Mrs. Elizabeth Bradle of Fife; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Steelhammer, Mr. and Mrs. Dr. W. Embry, and Dale Wendell Land of Brady; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Which for fifty years has been her home, Each year has grown more dear. For on this farm and ranch combined, She reared her girls and boys, She taught them what was right, and wrong, Shared in their hopes and joys. Her husband was away so much, Serving his Lord by preaching, While she kept the home fires bright, And inn the Sunday School teaching. Never thinking of herself, Her life was spent for others, Giving of her work and time, One of the dearest Mothers. "Patching," she often laughs and says, Is her only talent, But, oh, her life is rich and full, So brave, courageous, gallant. Through all these years, though tasks were hard, She read and studied too, She keeps up with the world affairs, Knows history through and through. Of all the books that she has read, The dearest to her heart Is God's dear book, the Bible true, Of her a very part. These past three years, her house and porch, Is the world her body knows; But through her books she travels far, O'er all the world she goes. And as she sits upon her porch, She can lift her eyes and see, The hills, and the Colorado river as it flows, majestic, free. The grass lands to the North and West Add beauty to the scene— Her life goes on in beauty, too, So peaceful, calm, serene. Her dream house built upon a hill Has never yet come true— But, maybe, in a better land, She'll find it shining new. Upon the hills of God 'twill stand, Where all may look and see
