Mountain Echoes

By

Barbara Kingsbery

Last week in discussing the weather, I mentioned "Dog Days." None of the four young (under 30) staff members at the office had ever heard of it, so perhaps that's another of the traditional sayings that is lost with time.

For others of you who don't know what "Dog Days" are -- it's the period of time from early July through mid-August that traditionally has the highest temperatures in the Western hemisphere.

Our little niece, Barbara Ann Bell (daughter of Kay and John Bell of Pasadena) has a remarkable vocabulary for a 17-month-old child. She was born in the shadow of the Texas A&M University campus, so one of her first words was "Aggie."

Recently while being shown a picture book by her father, he pointed to a picture and said, "Plane."

Barbara Ann didn't hesitate to correct him. "Air Plane," she soundly responded!

Council Changes Water Deposit, Garbage Rules

In a called session of Santa Anna City Council Tuesday night, the group voted to increase water deposits from $25 to $50. The increase for the new connections is effective immediately.

In other action, Council members voted to require trash and garbage on the city routes to be placed in plastic trash bags. This measure was approved in order to help with the garbage collection that is now being done with a pickup truck that has no automatic unloading system.

The old garbage truck "died", according to City Secretary Pat Rutherford, and cannot be repaired. A new truck cannot be purchased until finances are available, so the new regulation will be necessary for the present time. Many towns have long required trash to be placed in bags, and many local people already do so.

City officials will appreciate the cooperation of all residents during this time of emergency.

Barn Burns, Other Damage During July 4 Rainstorm

Lightning that accompanied a heavy rainstorm caused damage in our community late Saturday afternoon. A barn at the Carl Benton place south of Santa Anna was struck by lightning just before dark Saturday, and the resulting fire destroyed the structure and about 1200 bales of hay.

The Fire Department was called to the scene, and although the barn and hay were completely engulfed by the flames, two steel storage bins and the corrals were spared.

At least one home in town had damage to a television set and electrical wiring when lightning struck the television antenna, and a large pecan tree at the D. D. (Tex) Wright home was damaged in the storm.

The Santa Anna area was in a tornado alert area for several hours Saturday after radar reported a tornado north of Coleman. However no damage was reported.

Rain in Santa Anna measured 1.30 inches at the official gauge on July 4. The heaviest rainfall was reported in the Liberty community where 3.8 inches fell in a short time, accompanied by high winds. Three inches was reported in the Buffalo area.

Odessa Man Recovering From Accidental Gunshot

A freak accident Saturday morning near Odessa has hospitalized the son-in-law of a Santa Anna couple. Daniel Reno, 29, the son-in-law of James and Billie Joyce Perry, was hit in the forehead by a .22 caliber bullet during a hunting outing near his home.

According to Mrs. Perry, Reno and his wife, Brenda, were rabbit hunting near their home, and a shot from Brenda's gun ricocheted on a pipe, hitting Reno between the eyes. Although the bullet was lodged in his brain, Reno did not lose consciousness during the time Mrs. Reno summoned an ambulance and got him to the hospital where the bullet and bone fragments were removed.

The Perrys went to Odessa to be with their daughter and family and remained until Sunday afternoon. Reno is getting along exceptionally well, and doctors expect a full recovery.

The Reno children, Brandee and Christopher, returned to Santa Anna with their grandparents Sunday afternoon.

rodeo circuit and Dobbs has worked the Coleman rodeo several times.

The second parade this year will be Saturday at 5:30 p.m. in downtown Coleman, featuring riders and riding clubs.

Local people are invited to take part in the rodeo and activities, with a special "family night" planned Thursday (tonight) when general admission tickets will be one-half price.

S-Annans' Grandson Given Promotion

Bob Kingsbery has been named President of The Outfit, Inc., according to Jay Nixon, founder of the livestock oriented agri-marketing firm headquartered in Arlington, Texas.

In his new post, Kingsbery will be directly responsible for the business management of the growing firm, and will oversee development, budgeting, and production of both marketing and consulting programs. He will also head a newly formed publishing subsidiary, Outfit Publications, Inc. and will help to determine future policy of the company.

Kingsbery, an agricultural journalism graduate of Texas A&M University, joined The Outfit as Account Executive, and was named Vice-President in 1980. He was raised on a purebred and commercial ranch in South Texas and was involved in a publication business before joining The Outfit, bringing with him extensive knowledge of both livestock marketing and print communications.

Nixon, who will become Chief Executive Officer after serving as President of the company since its beginning in 1973, said the move was precipitated by the tremendous growth of The Outfit over the last three years, and because of expansion of the company into other areas of service, including marketing and ranch management consulting, market research, and development of the publishing company whose first book Livestock Production: A Global Approach by Dr. Jan Bonsma, is scheduled for release this fall.

A widely recognized authority on marketing strategy, Nixon formed The Outfit eight years ago.

ago, "because of the tremendous need for more organized and effective marketing in the cattle industry," he said. Since then, The Outfit has become the largest and most successful organization of its kind, specializing in the promotion and marketing of purebred beef cattle. The company has been responsible for numerous marketing campaigns familiar to cattlemen, as well as providing well researched strategic marketing plans for livestock and related products. Among its clients are some of the largest and most profitable beef producing interests in the nation.

Homes Are Sought For Foreign Students

Homes for foreign high school students wanting to come to the United States and learn about middle income American family life are being sought by area representatives of the Youth Exchange Service (YES). Rev. and Mrs. Don Jefferys of Trinity Baptist Church, Sweetwater, are the Texas representative of YES, based in San Clemente, California. "We want to place one or two students in the Santa Anna area and are looking for homes to provide temporary lodging, meals, and love."

The students are carefully screened by the YES home office. "We want only the top class students from other countries in this program." The families are screened by the Jefferys'. Single adult homes may also be acceptable to host a student. The students are between 15 and years of age and because of their economic backgrounds in their home countries, these students are potential national leaders, they will have had an experience with America.

"We don't want them to be guests in your home," Jefferys said, "but want them to become a part of your family during their stay here. We want them to learn about middle America family life so when they return home, and for those who do become national leaders, they will have had an experience with American."

Most of the students come from South America and Europe. YES tries to match as nearly as possible the likes, dislikes, hobbies, interests, and personalities to the same characteristics of the host families.

Recent students from the YES have visited Roby, Amarillo, Graford, Oldham, and Hawley. The Jefferys were among the first families in Texas to host a student under this program with their student coming from Brazil. Other students currently in Texas are from El Salvador, Mexico, Arenantina, and Germany.

This is one of the best educational methods available for children in the home—whether young or teenage. Participation in the program as a host or hostess also makes teenage children eligible to become exchange students in a foreign country if they are interested.

The exchange program arranges transportation, medical coverage, and arrival and departure dates for the students. For more information on the program, contact the Jefferys' at (915) 235-4822, or (915) 235-2991. In order for students to arrive for the fall school term host families need to apply as soon as possible.

The Mind Must Be Fed With Pure Food

Every word of God is pure: he is a shield unto them that put their trust in him. Prov. 30:5.

There are many who are easily amused with story books. The mind is filled with a cheap kind of food for meditation, so that it becomes powerless to search and comprehend the very things which concern eternal interests. The Lord enjoins upon children and youth to search for truth as for hidden treasure, and to be attracted and fascinated by that which unites the human with the divine.

The mind must be fed with pure food if the heart be pure... The Bible is the standard for the young who would be loyal to the King of heaven. "Thy work have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against thee."

It is impossible for the youth to possess a healthy tone of mind, and correct religious principles, unless they enjoy the perusal of the Word of God. This book contains the most interesting history, points out the way of salvation through Christ, and is their guide to a higher, and better life.

The Bible gives the true seeker an advanced mental discipline, and he comes from contemplation of divine things with his faculties enriched; self is humbled, while God and His revealed truth are exalted.... The Bible contains just that quality of food that the Christian needs, in order that he may grow strong in spirit and intellect... Through the study of the Bible, converse is held with patriarchs and prophets. The truth is clothed in elevated language, which exerts a fascinating power over the mind; the thought is lifted up from the things of earth, and brought to contemplate the glory of the future immortal life.

Let the thought, the aptitude, the keen exercise of brain power, be given to the study of the thoughts of God.
