SAHS School Favorites Are Chosen

Ochoes By Barbara Kingsbery

The Santa Anna basketball teams are off to a good start, and local people are encouraged to attend the games and support the young people.

A new attraction is planned for the varsity home games -- small basketballs, compliments of the Santa Anna National Bank, will be thrown to the spectators during the games. There will probably be quite a scramble to get them, too.

Following up on the football season, the Gorman team won their bi-district game Saturday night 28-22 over the Meridian team. As you remember, the Meridian squad is coached by David Horner, son of Richard and Oma Dean Horner, and last year defeated the Mountaineers in a close game in the play-offs.

Gorman will meet the Wink High School team Friday night in San Angelo as they advance to the State championship.

A very happy Thanksgiving to all of you. We will be pleased to share your news of visitors or out of town trips for the next issue, so call at the office early next week to report your news!

Santa Anna High School favorites were selected last week' in elections by the student body. Brad Wardlow, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Wardlow, was chosen as 'Mr. SAHS', and Julie Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Jones, was chosen 'Miss SAHS.' Both students are seniors this year and active in many organizations. Julie was also selected as 'Most seen at its best Saturday, when the Santa Anna and Bangs Ex-students meet in an annual clash at Mountaineer Stadium. The game will start at 2 p.m., with tickets available at the gate.

Teams from the two neighboring towns will be in full force, with the Santa Anna delegation numbering about 50 and coached by former SAHS football stars Randy Brown and Roddy Dean. The Bangs team won the 1980

Hometown football will be game, so the Santa Anna team will be seeking revenge in the Saturday contest.

The annual game benefits the athletic booster clubs, with the proceeds divided between the two groups.

The Santa Anna club will use their proceeds to renovate the track at the stadium.

Besides the action on the field Saturday, former cheerleaders will be on hand to boost the spirit of the team and spectators. Everyone in the community is urged to attend the game and support their home team.

Rate Increase Requested By West Texas Utilities

West Texas Utilities Company has filed for a general increase in its retail rates, citing inflation, high interest rates and an essential major construction program as the reasons for the

The official filing was made last Wednesday in Santa Anna by Charles Wetsel, local manager.

Wetsel said the application is a systemwide request for higher rates. Simultaneous filings were made in other incorporated towns for retail customers within their jurisdiction and with the Public Utility Commission of Texas for an increase to retail customers outside incorporated towns. The filing with the PUC also includes customers in eight incorporated towns which have ceded jurisdiction to the PUC.

WTU filed October 15 with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission for a rate increase to wholesale cooperative and municipal customers.

The proposed rates would produce an increase in total revenue of $32,256,983. This amounts to 15.4 per cent based on adjusted revenues of $209,402,-398 for a 12-month test period ending September 30, 1981.

WTU requested that the new

County Farm Bureau Presents Group's Policies

The Coleman County Farm Bureau recently held its annual meeting and convention at the recreation building at the rodeo grounds with a capacity crowd attending with guests from Taylor and Runnels Counties.

The meeting opened with the invocation given by Victor Cardinas, County President, followed by a barbecue supper.

The three students who attended the Student Citizenship Seminar at Baylor University this summer were presented with a certificate of their attendance after they each gave a brief report of their trip. The students were Carrie Hale, Juanita Diaz and Mike Wetsel.

Pat Smith, Director of State Affairs, Texas Farm Bureau was the main speaker for the evening. He gave a report on the accomplishments of the 67th Legislature. He gave a detailed account of Amendment No. 5. This was Mr. Smith's first visit to Coleman County and his speech was very informative.

Bob Turner conducted the nomination for the new directors from the four precincts. Those directors elected were as follows: Prc. 1, Jack Knox, Anthony Strawn; Prec. 2, Charles Greenlee, John Vance; Prec. 3, Curtis Jamison, Harrell Jewell; Prec. 4, Oliver Calk, Uictor Cardinas.

The main order of business was the presentation of new policies at the county level to be presented to the state level for possible adoption. This portion of the program was presented by the County Policy Development Chairman, Uack Knox. The following policies wer voted on and passed and will be sent to the state office.

1, 1982 the closing of the Coleman County Tax office and the Coleman Independent School District Tax Office which will provide upon their closing a more economical and efficient Central Appraisal Office for the complete taxing and collecting of ad valorem taxes in Coleman Coun-

2. To Encourage the widening and re-surfacing of Highway 283 North of Coleman, better known as the Baird Highway, from Coleman to the county line to provide wider and safer traffic of farm equipment and promote safer lake traffic to Coleman to encourage more income to the community.

3. To oppose and work against the use of Federal and State funds for Super highways that provide locations for shopping malls therefore eliminating useful and vital farmland and in turn leading to the deterioration of downtown retail businesses.

4. Work toward the passing of a law which after seven years all unclaimed royalties being held in escrow by the purchasing agent will revert to the land owner instead of the State of Texas as the law now reads.

5. To work toward the encouragement of a law passing a token tax on non-producing minerals for ad valorem taxes so future royalty owners are clearly identified and their rights protected.

6. Whereas much of the information needed to properly understand our complex tax programs and make recommendations to properly advise Texas Farm Bureau members is contained in computer files in Austin and elsewhere and whereas Texas Farm Bureau owns through its

Raising Money For Spring Trip

The Santa Anna Senior Band is conducting a fund raising campaign that started last Thursday. They are selling a variety of pillar, votive and cylinder candles that are popular gift items.

The money received from the campaign will be used for a group trip to Astroworld. In order to reach their goal, they need the help of everyone in the community. Band members will be calling on friends and neighbors to sell the unique candles.

service companies some of the best computer equipment in Texas, Be it resolved that Texas Farm Bureau move immediately to transfer to its own computer systems such public information as may be helpful to our legal, commodity and legislative divisions.

7. Whereas Texas Farm Bureau now owns and operates excellent computer systems and whereas small business units are now within the price range of many county offices, Be it resolved that counties be encouraged to transmit information directly, computer to computer rather than by mail, as soon as possible.

8. As a united group to campaign and lobby against all efforts the passing of any windfall profit tax on natural gas which will further prevent royalty owners of their rightful income, and communities of their income from royalty owners and a lowered tax base of ad valorem taxes.

The Santa Anna High School band, directed by Denise Waltrip, played a number of selections to conclude the program.

VFD, Families Enjoy Supper MondayNight

The Santa Anna Volunteer largest of its kind in the nation. Fire Department, Auxiliary and their families had their annual turkey supper Monday, November 16, at the Fire Hall. About 40 people attended the event that included the meal of turkey, dressing and all the trimmings.

Following the supper, the Ladies Auxiliary held a meeting to make final plans for their bazaar and garage sale to be held at the Fire Station December 4.

Old and new items, baked goods and hand crafts will be sold, and spaces for dealers and individual will be rented for $5. Each person must furnish their own table.

Plans were also made for the annual Christmas party at Ranger Park Inn, sponsored by the Auxiliary.

discussed the therapeutic value of laughter.

The educational sessions as well as the social events emphasized the Convention theme ('With a Song in Our Hearts.')

A featured luncheon speaker was television personality Virginia Graham. An awards luncheon honored top achievements by those within the profession and other who had aided it objectives.

Educational and commercial displays in the Fairmont Hotel numbered more than 100, all related to the newest equipment and innovative techniques for the longterm care profession.

The House of Delegates of TNHA elected a slate of officers.

At an Installation banquet/dance last Thursday evening, President Sid Rich announced that the Texas Association had reached its peak membership this year with 780 member facilities having a total of 79,288 licensed beds, making the State group the largest of its kind in the nation rates become effective January 1, 1982. Wetsel said that a rate increase granted WTU last year 'did not get the job done." That increase was for an average of 8.3 percent and was only the second in the Company's entire history.

The relief you granted us has been overrun by inflation and high interest rates and the need to build additional facilities, Wetsel said.

Growth in demand for electric energy, caused by a steady increase in new customers and higher usage by old customers, is forcing WTU to expand its facilities.

WTU's newest power plant was completed in 1977, and since then the summer peak demand has grown to a point termed 'uncomfortably close' to the system generating capacity.

The current construction program includes a coal-fired station at Oklaunion, near Vernon. Although ownership of this plant will be shared by two sister companies in the Central and South West Corporation, Oklaunion will be the most costly project ever undertaken by WTU.

So far, WTU has lagged well behind most of the industry in increasing its rates. A recent report from the Public Utility Commission shows WTU rates to be second lowest in the state among investor-owned companies and fifth lowest among all

Under the proposed rates, an average bill for basic residential service would be increased by 19.1 per cent. For example, a residential customer using 600 kilowatt-hours per month would pay $40.95, compared to $34.39 under the present rates -- a difference of $6.56. This would include fuel costs.

book of Coleman County history entitled 'Historically Speaking.'

Born in Lampasas County, Mrs. Hunter spent her childhood at Winchell, south of Brownwood. She married John C. Hunter in San Angelo, and they spent the next 40 years farming south of Rockwood on their Colorado River stockfarm.

A couple of years after her Hunter moved to Santa Anna. In 1975 she built a new home on Rockwood community, and also a Avenue A where she currently

Mrs. Hunter enjoys spending her free time doing historical research of the area and exploring old cemeteries. She also enjoys traveling, touring different areas of the country. She recently returned from a Fall foliage tour of New England.

A Methodist, Mrs. Hunter is chairman of the United Methodist Women organization and is a leader in the Rockwood Extension Homemakers Club. She does not believe in the term 'Senior Citizens'. #### Stocker Gain Contacts Provide Price Insurance Small grain crops will likely produce an abundance of forage this fall and early winter due to good moisture conditions over most of the state. To get the most from this forage, producers may want to consider grazing stocker cattle under a gain contract.

"With continued high interest rates and uncertain livestock prices, a stocker gain contract can provide some price insurance," points out Dr. Ashley Lovell of Stephenvill, economist in management with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas including grazing owned stockers A&M University System.

"However, a producer needs an accurate estimate of his costs before entering into such a contract," cautions the economist. "This is essential for determining the price needed per hundredweight of gain to make the agreement profitable."

Assuming 1.25 acres of mall grain pasture per head (in the Central Texas Blacklands), Lovell estimates per acre forage costs (variable and fixed) at $102.50 and livestock costs (fee, labor, death loss and related expenses) at $47.77, for a total of $175.90 per head.

As net gain per head increases from 150 to 300 pounds, total variable cost of gain per hundredweight declines from $87.58 to $43.79 while total cost of gain per hundredweight drops from $117.27 to $58.63.

So, depending on the expected average daily gain per animal and total days of grazing, a producer can determine his position regarding a stocker gain contract. Armed with his cost figures, he can make sure the contract entered into is reasonable and

OFFICE HOURS 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. offers some assurance of covering. all costs, including a return for management time.

"Of course, in accempting the minimum compensation as determined by cost estimates, producers need to consider the likelihood of lower than anticipated net gains per head, unexpected forage production costs or higher than nornal stocker death losses," cautions the economist.

In addition to considering a stocker gain contract, producers also have several other options, until small grains play out or grazing them for a shorter period and then harvesting small grains for grain or hay.

"Whatever the choice regarding small grains and stocker cattle, first identify all the alternatives and the expected rewards for each," advises Lovell.

VISIT IN WRIGHT HOME

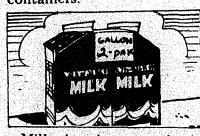

Visitors with Mrs. Audrey Wright last weekend for a family Thanksgiving get-together were Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Wright, James and Alys and Cindy Pierce. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gibson, Greg and Debra of Early, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Wright and Nicole of Lamesa; Mr. and Mrs. Phil Chambers, Amy Randy and Jamie of Hobbs, N. M.; Nilene Gleaton and Lisa of Early. They also attended the shower for Danna Turner Saturday.

OF NUTRITION

Vitamins In Wilk

Milk in a Gallon 2-pak gives you even more vitamins than milk in plastic or glass jugs.

Some 38 scientific studies show that milk retains more of its valuable nutrients when it's packed in paper containers.

Milk in glass or plastic exposed to supermarket or kitchen lights, or sunshine, can lose vital nutrients in an amazingly short time. According to Robert L. Bradley, Jr., professor of food science at the University of Wisconsin, as little as ten minutes exposure to light can produce discernible differences in whole milk.

For instance: • Thirty percent loss of riboflavin (Vitamin B2) ın only half an hour.

 Rapid oxidation of ascorbic acid (vitamin C).

• Loss of 15 percent of tryptophane, an acid, in only two hours. Losses can be even greater in low-fat and skim milks. The studies conclude that paper cartons best protect milk from light rays.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Fitzpatrick of Santa Anna are proud parents of a little baby daughter who arrived to make her home with her parents and also a little brother. Brandon, on Friday, November 20, at 7:55 a,m. in Shannon Hospital in San Angelo. The little miss has been named Steffany DeShea and weighed seven pounds, six ounces and was 21 and one-half inches in length. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Graham Fitzpatrick of our community and Mr and Mrs. Charles Hosch of Santa Anna. The mether and baby are doing fine and hopefully will be dismissed from the hospital Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Morris enterained in their home Sunday enjoying their Thanksgiving dinner. With them were their children, John David Morris of Eldorado, Mr. Joe Floyd Morris and Jamie Lee Morris, Mrs. Jacky Morris and children.

Jeffery and Jennifer of Santa Anna, Mrs. Morris' sister, Mrs. Ola Bell Morris of Brady and Norman Floyd Morris of Brownwood, Mr. and Mrs. Elwayne Perkins and Christi of Grand Prairie and a cousin, Mrs. Delma Morris of Brady.

Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Lovelady and Mrs. Juanita Minica of Santa Anna enjoyed a family Thanksgiving dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Minica of Blanket. Several members of the family were present and other relatives, and all enjoyed an abundance of food. Mr. and Mrs. Jacky Bullion and Michelle of O'Donnell were with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Graham Fitzpatrick, on Sunday, the 15th. Mrs. Bullion entered the Brownwood Regional Hospital Sunday and spent the entire week in the hospital having tests run. Mr. Bullion and Michelle came this past Saturday when she was dismissed and with her parents this week. Her family returned home Sunday afternoon, but she will return Wednesday for the Thanksgiving holidays here.

Mrs. Floyd Morris reports her grandson, Jeffery Morris, had the good luck of getting a six-point buck the first day of deer season. But Jeffery's luck was not so good probably Tuesday when he had the misfortune of getting his arm broker: while playing on the school ground at Santa Anna.

Mrs Karie Holoman of Grand Prairie profit several days the first of the week and last week end with her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Fitzpatrick.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Hudson of Leaday have recently spent the afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Morris.

and boys of San Angelo were with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Abernathy, during the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Matassa of Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Turney of Santa Anna were on the Turney farm here during the weekend.

Mark Worthington and Dr. Brad Strud of Weatherford were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Morris Sunday night and were in our community and Rockwood on Monday.

We enjoyed a nice telephone visit with our daughter, Mrs. Rick (Lynda) Wheeler Sunday night, who lives at LaGrange. All were well, but could not come for Thanksgiving. Her husband, Rick had foot surgery in April and was back to the doctor at Pasadena Wednesday. The pin was removed from the ankle, but he still endures lots of pain.

Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Lovelady of Santa Anna were bedtime visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Elec Cooper in Rockwood Saturday night.

Mrs. Lovelady in Santa Anna reports her brother, L. C. Baker of Midland, is improving following a heart attack several weeks back. The Midland doctors told him if everything went well, just maybe he could take Thanksgiving at home. All friends are very glad to hear this news.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rutherford chatted awhile Friday afternoon with their son, Mr. Hilary Rutherford, in Coleman. Hilary was on vacation last week and also this week. He is getting caught up with work around the home:

Mr. and Mrs. Graham Fitzpatrick were transacting business in Abilene Monday.

Etoile Cozart of Brownwood and some of his children or grandchildren were on the Cozart farm here on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Lovelady of Santa Anna were transacting business in Brownwood Monday afternoon.

S. D. Fellers of the Trickham community visited briefly with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Morris on Friday. On Sunday Mr. Fellers was a dinner guest in their home.

We do wish for each and every one a very happy and enjoyable Thanksgiving Day, and the holiday season. We do trust no misfortune will come to anyone.

Mower Rider: Make It Safe

It may be fun cutting your grass with a rider mower, but it's no toy. To help you make a safe trip around your property, the Outdoor Power Equipment Institute offers this advice:

1. Inspect the work area carefully remove objects which may be thrown, keep bystanders and pets away.

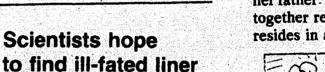

2. Cut up and down slopes to diminish chance of tipping over.

3. When dismounting, make sure the engine's off and has stopped completely.

4. Never let a "passenger" ride with you. That could put you off balance or prove distracting.

5. Each spring, reread your owner's manual. You can forget important safety practices from year to year.

With the help of these tips—and a little common sense—you can have the neatest lawn in town. And safe driving to you!

COLLEGE STATION — Scientists from Texas A&M University will be involved in this summer's search for the ill-fated Titanic that sank on its maiden voyage in 1912, killing more than 1,500 crew and passengers

Part of the equipment to be carried on the research vessel Gyre is a side scan sonar, which uses sound waves to locate and map submerged objects.

Abilene oilman Jack Grimm, the adventurer who has vowed to find the Titanic first and salvage its riches, contracted for the Gyre to assist in the search because the Texas A&M research ship was already scheduled to be in the North Atlantic for two other scientific cruises at the time, said university officials.

New homes should include energy features

COLLEGE STATION — If you're building a new home, why not build in some energy-saving features, suggests a Texas A&M University professor.

Dr. Larry Degelman, architect and building construction professor, recommends two to two-and-one-half foot roof overhangs that shade windows during the summer, ridge vents, slab insulation, double pane windows and green houses on south walls or south-facing windows.

The kingpin to energy savings is a structural orientation on north-south lines, Degelman

"People who plan to build and stay in a home 10 to 13 years or longer can amortize larger expenses," Degelman advises.

Treasure ships carried roaches, archaeologist says

COLLEGE STATION —:
Treasure ships sailing between Spain and Mexico in the 1500s hauled one not-so-treasured commodity — cockroaches — says a Texas A&M University archaeologist.

Dr. Don Hamilton, an expert on artifact preservation who has studied objects from the famous 1554 Spanish treasure fleet that sank off Texas' Padre Island, said remains of roaches were found in concrete-like encrustations that formed around cannon, anchors, coins and tools.

Life in the country

ls it as healthful as many city residents think?

LIFE IN THE COUNTRY often evokes visions of blue skies, clean air and wholesome value systems among Texans who live in more congested urban areas.

In fact, the mental and physical health of rural Texans is markedly worse than that of city-dwelling citizens, according to a lecturer in the School of Nursing at The University of Texas at Austin.

Dr. Mary Walker directs the Texas Rural Health Field Services Program at UT Austin. The program was established in 1978 to provide information, technical assistance and monitoring services to rural Texans. Dr. Walker also serves as a liaison between Federal and State health agencies, interested private groups, rural residents, health-care providers and policymakers.

If "health" is defined in terms of environmental, physical, mental and social factors, Dr. Walker believes it is inaccurate to say that rural residents are receiving health care.

'Rural residents do have some access to medical care, but even this is often limited by poverty, lack of health insurance or coverage under public programs, cultural barriers, racial discrimination and limited education," she reported recently.

Rural Texans are less educated, poorer and likely to die sooner than urban Texans, Dr. Walker has found. In general, she continued, rural residents can expect more days of disability and chronic illness than their urban counterparts.

So-Called City Problems Also Occur in the Country

Even problems often associated with city life, such as drug abuse, occur just as frequently in rural areas as in urban areas, she said. The same is true for child abuse, battered wives, depression and teen-age pregnan-

In 1980, the Texas Rural Health Program issued a report titled "Rural Health Care in Texas: The Facts - 1980." Among the findings published in the report are:

• As of August 1978, there were 97 counties in Texas where nutrition projects serving meals to the elderly were nonexistent. All of those counties were nonmetropolitan. (Nonmetropolitan is defined by the Census Bureau as all farms, open countryside and places of less than 50,000 residents outside Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas.)

• Of Texas nonmetropolitan counties, 94 counties or 47 per cent had no public family planning service.

• In Texas in 1978, the maternal death rate for the state was 11.8 per 100,000 live births. When nonmetropolitan areas were compared, researchers found 15.5 maternal deaths per 100,000 live births in rural areas, against 10.96 in Texas cities.

• The tuberculosis death rate in nonmetropolitan counties was 24 per cent higher than in metro areas in 1979.

• Cerebrovascular disease death rate for rural counties was 86 per cent higher than in metro counties, and pneumonia and influenza death rates were 60 per cent higher.

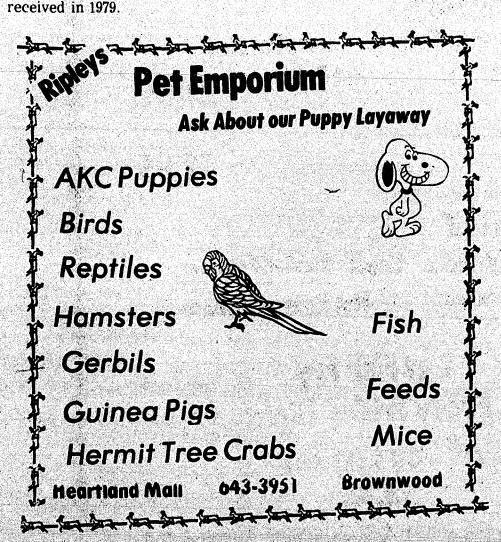

Of 31 counties in Texas without hospitals, and 32 counties without nursing homes, all are in nonmetropolitan areas.

'Health resources and services, like other resources and services, follow people," Dr. Walker commented. "Where the population is sparse, there have also been few or no health professionals, facilities or ser-

Information Requests Show Marked Increase

However, she added, consumers and providers are becoming increasingly interested in improving the delivery of health care in rural areas of Texas. In 1980, the Texas Rural Health Field Services Program had 600 requests for information, a 300 per cent increase over requests

SCS Employees Honored On Retirement

A retirement party Saturday night at Conger's Restaurant honored Rob Pearson and Ben Wilson. Pearson will be retiring from the Soil Conservation Service December 26 with more than 32 years of service, and Wilson retired last month with 15 years service on the board of Central Colorado Soil and Water conservation District.

Some 40 people, including SCS employees and soil and water district board members, and spouses, were in attendance.

Plaques of hand-tooled leather were presented to Pearson and Wilson, each citing and depicting with artwork the work and activities of each of the men. The plaques were made by Bill Leftwich of Fort Davis, a western artist.

Pearson also received a book of personal letters from SCS personnel, a camera from the SCS co-workers, friends and associates, and a picture of improved rangeland presented by Dale Herring.

Wasps may be divided into two groups, solitary and social insects such as the hornet and the yellow jacket.

Windfall Profit Tax Changes To Benefit Coleman County

The ecomonists of 24 West Central Texas counties will get a $2.9 billion boost between 1982-1986 due to recently enacted amendemnts to the "windfall profit" tax, according to the a study released today by the West Central Texas Oil & Gas Association (WeCTOGA) in Abilene.

Harry Bettis of Graham, president of WeCTOGA, estimated that independent oil producers in the 24-county area will receive $981,916,308 in extra revenue because of the amendments. He said independents have historically spent the equivalent of 105 percent of their gross wellhead revenues in exploration-development activities.

"Based on the established theory that every dollar invested in an oil venture results in a $3 benefit to the area economy, the West Central Texas area will benefit to the tune of $2,945,748,924", Bettis said.

For Coleman County is it estimated the benefits to independents will be $11,544,276, while the benefits to area economists will be $34,632,828.

(This is money that would otherwise have gone to the federal treasury), he said.

Bettis noted that those figures do not include the $2,500 tax credit royalty owners will receive in 1981, their two-barrel-per-day exemption in 1982-1984 and their three-barrel-per-day exemption in 1985 and thereafter.

"We just could not determine

Bettis explained that the tax rate on new oil will decline from 30 percent in 1981 to 27½ percent in 1982, 25 percent in 1983, 22½ percent in 1984, 20 percent in 1985 and 15 percent in 1986 where it will remain constant. Stripper oil (wells producing 10 barrles or less per day) will be beginning January 1, 1983.

WeCTOGA used 1980 production figures (the most recent available) from the Texas Railroad Commission, and estimated the price of oil at $35 per barrel.
