Any committee wishing more help will be allowed to add as many others as they see fit to add in order to put the job over in good shape.

Santa Anna's first Free Fall Fair was held in October of last year, and was such an outstanding event the citizens of Santa Anna, encouraged by the farmers from over the territory, decided to make it a permanent affair, and this year promises to be even better than our 1935 event.

There are several objects in putting on these exhibitions. The principal object is largely for educational purposes. A farmer may think he has the best horse, mule, mare, colt or other livestock, but when they are compared with others, the points brought out, and some one else has better stock he goes about his work trying to produce and own the better kind, and so it goes with farm crops, poultry and other items on the farm.

Santa Anna's object in sponsoring these events is to encourage farmers in our trade territory to strive for better livestock and better crops. We want and need you to help us put these affairs over, and could not put them over in a big way without your help and co-operation. We feel sure the farmers in our trade territory will be glad to join us in putting over another fair and exhibition.

Begin now to prepare something for the fair. As soon as a premium list can be worked up it will be furnished, but do not wait for the premium list, just begin to prepare something and make your preparation to bring it to the Fair in October.

Revival Progresses At Baptist Church

The Revival being held this week and next at the Baptist church is making splendid progress. Rev. A. F. Johnson of Albuquerque, New Mexico and Fort Worth is bringing inspiring and gripping sermons twice daily and the crowds are increasing. One feature of the meetings is the 30 minute conferences at 7:45 each evening for all officers of the church and its organizations. Plans are laid for enrollment work at these meetings, and the messages are for deepening of fellowship.

At the morning services the meeting is more along the line of Bible study and discussion is encouraged by the use of the blackboard for outlines. Nearly 300 were at the morning service Sunday and it is expected that the number will pass 400 by next Sunday and 500 the last Sunday of the meeting.

Rev. Johnson is accompanied here by his wife and little daughter Charlotte Ann, and they are making their home at Miss Kathrine Baxter's apartment while in Santa Anna.

Services are held each morning at 10 and each evening at 8:15. All the community has been extended a hearty invitation to attend these services.

Todd Dairy Installs New Equipment

The editor, accompanied by A. D. Pettit, vocational agriculture teacher, paid a visit to the Todd Dairy last Thursday afternoon during the milking hour. Mr. Todd recently installed a new milking machine and has been busy several days, training cows to be processed the modern way. One machine is a two unit and the other is a one unit milker. After a cow becomes accustomed to the machine, it is much better and more sanitary than the old hand way of extracting milk from the cow.

The Todd Dairy, as it now is, is one of the most modern milk dispensers Santa Anna has ever had. This is not intended as a reflection to any other dairy or its management, but is a boost to modern industry for Santa Anna. We are always glad to give publicity to progress, and we think the management of the Todd Dairy has made a long step forward in modernizing their dairy.

Our visit was prolonged to inspect the cooling and bottling system, which is also modern and sanitary. The dairy barn, milking system, straining, cooling and bottling systems are much improved over the old style method of milking and preparing milk for the public, and we commend Mr. Todd and his helpers for their progressive ideas in installing the newest and most modern equipment a small dairy can afford.

MORTUARY

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon for O. V. Mitchell, former citizen of the Shield community, who passed away at the home of a son in Fort Worth Tuesday, July 14. O. V. Mitchell was born June 14, 1874, in Montgomery, Alabama, being 62 years and one month old at the time of his death. In 1893 he was married to Miss Mary Ellen Jackson, and was a member of the Baptist church for forty years.

Mrs. Mitchell and two children, Beverly and Mrs. Annie Claude Clardy, preceded him in death. He is survived by the following children:

W. W. Mitchell of Fort Worth, O. V. Mitchell, Jr., of Trickham, and Mrs. C. W. Douglass of Sonora; and six grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the Trickham Church Wednesday afternoon with Rev. Hal Martin in charge of the services and assisted by Rev. George Smith.

Interment was in the Trickham cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Williamson spent the first part of the week in San Angelo with relatives. Their daughter, Miss Katherine, returned home with them after a five or six weeks vacation in the state of Colorado.

Rev. and Mrs. M. L. Womack and Ernest Lee returned home last week after a vacation trip to Rochester, Minnesota.

Bangs Annual Basket Picnic to Be Held July 18

Saturday, July 18, the little city of Bangs will hold its annual basket picnic. The Honorable C. L. South, candidate for re-election to Congress, and his opponent, Dr. H. F. Miller, will speak at 10 a. m. Other candidates will speak during the day. There will be a free rodeo and band music.

Bangs usually puts on a grand picnic and furnishes much entertainment for the community and visitors. Many Santa Anna people have enjoyed former picnics at Bangs, and in this respect the announcement is being made.

APPRECIATION

We wish to express our thanks and appreciation to our neighbors and friends for their many kind deeds and words of sympathy in the loss of our home and contents, recently destroyed by fire.

May God bless you all is our prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stafford and Family.

Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Oder and son, Clifford, returned Wednesday from Fort Worth where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Herring and little son, Phillip Floyd. Tuesday they visited Paul Oder at Dallas and went the rounds of the Centennial.

Miss Mary Jean Bishop of Wichita Falls came last week to spend the summer with Mrs. Alice Aldridge.

Mrs. Ed K. Jones left Saturday night to spend two weeks in Houston with relatives.

July 18 is Gulf Day At Centennial

A minimum of 10,000 Gulf Oil Corporation employees, dealers and their families from all sections of Texas are expected to gather in Dallas Saturday, July 18, to attend the Texas Centennial Central Exposition, according to an announcement made today by O. H. Carlisle, Division Manager.

July 18 has been officially designated as "Gulf Day" and the company is providing free admission tickets to the grounds to all employees, dealers and members of the employee's or dealer's immediate family. Special tickets are being printed for the event and an elaborate program is being planned in honor of the Gulf party.

Headquarters offices of the Gulf Company in Houston will close at noon Friday, July 17, and remain closed until Monday. This will include all departments, production, pipe line, refining and sales.

A majority of the 1,200 employees in the Houston office building, with their families, are expected to go by special train, automobile and bus.

July 18 has been officially declared a holiday for all Gulf employees and dealers throughout the state with the exception of the skeleton crews necessary to the operation of the organization.

Large delegations are expected from Port Arthur, where the huge Gulf Refinery is located; from production headquarters in East and West Texas; and from each of the major cities in the state.

The Jockey Club, adjacent to the old racetrack grandstand (now used in the presentation of the Centennial spectacle "Cavalcade of Texas") has been secured as Gulf headquarters for the day. Registration and information headquarters will be set up here.

A special program of entertainment has been arranged, for by the Exposition and several special radio programs are scheduled to originate in the Gulf Radio Studios on the Exposition Grounds and through the Gulf Centennial Network.

Saturday night has been designated as Gulf "Amateur Night" at the radio studios, and amateur musicians and entertainers from all sections of the state will compete for an opportunity to appear in the radio studios during a two-hour program.

W. A. Webb, General Manager of the Exposition, has written a letter, addressed to all Gulf employees, dealers and their families, advising them of the official designation of "Gulf Day" and outlining plans for the big oil company party.

In his letter he said, "We want you to see Texas' magnificent $25,000,000 World's Fair. We are particularly anxious that you should see the beautiful Radio Studios your company has built here; and that you should hear the programs that go out from these studios over the Gulf Centennial Network.

"Everyone in any way connected with Gulf should feel proud of the contribution his company has made to the success of the Centennial. The Gulf Radio and Public Address System is unique. It is undoubtedly the finest system of its kind ever installed at an Exposition. It contributes to the pleasure and entertainment of every Exposition visitor; it makes possible many programs and events that would be impossible without it. Further than that, it has been of inestimable value to us in our job of 'telling the world about Texas.'"

"It is indeed an in truth the Voice of the Centennial, as it is now popularly called. For by it and through it, people from far and wide are hearing not only about our great Central Exposition in Dallas; they are hearing about every section of Texas, being invited to see all the sights."

"We salute you, hope that Gulf Day will be a grand and glorious holiday for many thousands of you!"

Mrs. H. B. Thompson of Mason is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Baxter.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Allbright and baby of Baton Rouge, La., came Monday morning for a month's visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. Edd Bartlett.

Coleman Centennial Jubilee and Celebration Draws Huge Crowds

Coleman was the scene of an unusual crowd last Monday, the opening day of the Centennial Jubilee and celebration.

The presence of Governor Jimmy V. Allred, who delivered the opening address of the celebration and followed it with his plea for re-election to serve as Governor of this great state for a second term, was an added attraction to swell the crowd for the occasion.

The large parade, depicting this part of Texas from the first inception of white settlers until the present, showing the progress by decades, so to speak, was a revelation. The parade was approximately two miles long.

Governor Allred landed in Coleman on the early morning train and was met by Company B, 142nd Infantry, Texas National Guard. He was accompanied to the spacious home of Editor and Mrs. H. H. Jackson on West Walnut street, where open house and an informal reception was held until ten o'clock, when he was carried to the Hotel Coleman. The Governor was greeted by a large number of friends while in the hotel. At 11:45 Governor Allred was the honor guest of a joint meeting of the Kiwanis Club and Lions Club in the educational building of the First Baptist church. About 75 friends of the Governor were present.

Following the luncheon Governor Allred gave a brief outline of some of the stunts pulled on the Supreme judges, District judges and other higher ups in Austin, but did not refer to his political campaign at the luncheon.

After luncheon, the Governor rode in the parade out to the City Park, where he paid high tribute to our forefathers and Texas heroes, then spoke some 40 minutes in behalf of his candidacy for re-election to the Governor's office to serve the second term. The following is a portion of his talk, as reported by Wendell Bedichek of the Abilene Morning News.

Never calling the name of any of his four opponents, but aiming pointed replies to statements he declared they had made in the campaign. Gov. Allred reviewed his administration, and devoted considerable time to the old age assistance question, in which he declared misinformation, and "deliberate untruths" had been spread by his opposition.

"You've probably heard that one of the major issues in this campaign, insofar as the four gentlemen who oppose me for a second term are concerned, is that I'm a 'ribbon-cutter' and a 'bridge-opener,' not to speak of my being a 'queen-crowner,'" said the governor.

"Well, I'm guilty," he declared. "Yessir, I've cut one ribbon and opened one bridge in my life—both on the same occasion when I was invited out near Wichita Falls by some legion boys to dedicate a highway. They handed me a pair of scissors and told me to cut a ribbon and I did. And it is also true that I've crowned some queens. Upon invitations from folks holding celebrations in this centennial year I have crowned about a half dozen queens, and all of them have been very pretty girls, like the one down at Coleman this afternoon. Now, that's the record. The vice-president, John Garner, cut a ribbon and opened a bridge down on the border the other day. President Roosevelt opened a bridge Saturday. Nobody has called those men ribbon-cutters and bridge-openers."

Criticisms

"The fact is, these 'issues' would be lamentable if they were not really funny," he continued. "I don't think the people of Texas appreciate this sort of mud-slinging and personal abuse."

"They say I've traveled too much. Well, I went out to California on invitation of Southern Methodist university and the Centennial. They paid my expenses. I went out to advertise Texas. I believe my opponents would have gone too, on the same proposition. I went up in the North and East ten days on the Texas train, advertising Texas. I find that other governors took trips too: Jim Hogg went East to advertise Texas; Pat Neff went to Seattle and Boston, even to Cuba; and Moody went East with the Texas newspaper men to talk Texas. And here's something that will surprise you: old honest

Candidates to Speak Here Trades Day

As has been the custom in Santa Anna during campaign years to give the candidates an opportunity to make their announcements in public and let the voters have an opportunity to look them over and hear them speak a few words, we will do so again this year, and have set the time for the political announcements next Wednesday, July 22, from 1 to 4 p. m.

At 4 o'clock, no matter who is talking, the Trades Day events will be called and no one will be permitted to infringe upon that hour. After the Trades Day events, if other candidates care to speak further, they will have the privilege of doing so.

The public is cordially invited to be in Santa Anna next Wednesday. The usual Trades Day events will take place, and the candidates will be allowed to take up the slack between noon and the four o'clock event or as much of the time as they see fit to use.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Golston, Dr. and Mrs. R. R. Lovelady, the editor and Mrs. Gregg and son Burton attended a meeting of group No. 2-A Lions International in Brady last Thursday night. The meeting was held in the beautiful Richards Park and was well attended by Brady Lions and Brady citizens. A splendid feed, consisting of barbecue chicken and other trimmings were served. Brady Lions are newly organized but they have learned one very important thing—to feed well. Lion Lovelady is group chairman of this district, and presided at the meeting. The next group meeting will be with the Llano Club in September.

Mrs. Travis Hays won first place in the Ladies' Riding Contest at the Coleman Centennial Rodeo Wednesday night and Bob Curry won first place in the Steer Riding contest.

John N. Garner Endorses Allred

UVALDE, July 14. (SPL)—Vice President John N. Garner broke his traditional silence on political matters here today with a brief statement endorsing Governor James V. Allred and expressing a hope that the governor will win renomination in the first primary without the necessity of waging a run-off campaign.

The vice-president was interviewed just before he left for a two-weeks' fishing trip with a party of his old Uvalde cronies. "I never talk about national affairs," he said; "I leave that to the boss. But I still vote in Texas, and have a right as a private citizen to my own preference."

"I don't mind the world's knowing that I think Allred has made a fine governor and I hope he is reelected in the first primary."

"Of course, I am just talking like I fish—in the capacity of a private citizen, and not as vice president."

Recently Mack Cummings presented the satom canctium with a jumbo cucumber that weighed almost 2½ pounds. It was raised near Sweetwater by Mr. and Mrs. Houston Post, the latter being a daughter of Mr. Cummings. Several cucumbers were sent to Mr. and Mrs. Cummings, with a request that the larger one be given the editor. Thanks folks, next time send us one not quite so ripe as we can get more of it to eat.

Report was made from the college this week that Eugene and Miss Annie Louise Watkins, who were students in Texas Technological college, the past year, both made the spring semester honor roll with an average grade of B. Dosh T. McCreary, who was also a student there this year, made an average grade of A.

Cosby-Phillips

Miss Thelma Cosby and Mr. Roy Phillips were united in marriage Monday night at 8:30 at the Presbyterian Manse, Rev. M. L. Womack performing the ceremony. The couple were accompanied by Miss Hettie Williamson and Mr. Walter Scarborough.

Mr. Phillips is a farmer of the Love Hill community and Mrs. Phillips is operator of the Modern Beauty Shop where she has been located for several months. The couple will be at home here in Santa Anna.

Jim Ferguson took a trip when he was governor. Yessir. The newspaper files of 1915 will show you that he was off three weeks in the North and East and told 'em when he came home that he went up to tell 'em about Texas and try to get them to come down here and invest their money and live with us. Jim has been accused of most everything except not being smart. Nobody ever accused him of that. He was smart enough, I guess, to wait until his second term, as he did, to take his trip.

The record of his administration was reviewed by the governor on these major points:

Pension Issue

As to pensions for elderly people, the governor had this to say: "We have one serious tax problem confronting us. That is permanent financing of old age assistance. We have a temporary financing plan that is doing the job until we learn the amount that will be needed permanently to carry on this program of pensions.

"My opponents have misrepresented this question to everybody that would listen to them. This ought not to be in politics because it deals with human want and misery and these four gentlemen ought to be ashamed of themselves for trying, as they are, to deceive our old people, insulting their intelligence just because they want to be governor of Texas.

"I campaigned for old age pensions when I ran for governor two years ago, when they were silent.

"I took the stump last year and urged the adoption of the look office the rate was 77 cents, the highest allowed by the constitution. We cut it to 62 cents, saving 15 cents on the $100.

The democratic state convention in Galveston following my nomination adopted a platform of 31 planks. I submit to you that my pledge to the people has been performed. Of those 31 planks 24 have been carried out in full, two more in part and an honest and sincere effort made to accomplish the others."

"1. When I assumed office there was a deficit of more than $10,000,000 facing the state. In the next two years we will be able to wipe out that whole deficit without a single new tax being levied for the general purpose of government.

"2. When I took office $16.50 per child of scholastic age was being paid the schools by the available school fund, and the state was in the red on that. We raised it to $17.50 and had money left. We raised it to $18.50, the highest in the state's history — and we've got money left over.

"3. You've heard a lot of candidates with promises of lower ad valorem taxes. Well, here's a governor who made good on that promise. When I constitutional amendment providing for old age pensions.

"I submitted the old age pension law to the legislature and called it back in two special sessions to get the present law adopted.

"When this law was passed and placed on my desk I could do but one of two things—sign it or veto it. I signed it. You would have, too. When I signed it I said and I repeat that it is not perfect. I said that I was sure the legislators did not feel it was perfect.

All my present opponents were silent in 1934 and 1935 on old age pensions and some of them have admitted they voted against the amendment.

"Jim Ferguson, who backed a candidate two years ago who favored old age pensions, turned around and opposed the amendment after it was submitted to the people and Mr. Ferguson, who is running three horses in this race, will not deny that he was paid to oppose it.

"The federal social security act sets down rules that must be met by states if they receive federal money for old age assistance. This law says that pensions can be paid by the federal government only according to the need of the old people. President Roosevelt has never recommended that pensions be paid to those not in need.

"Now, these gentlemen opposing me are promising you the world with a little fence around it. They promise they would give all old people, regardless of need, $15 per month from the state and $15 from the federal government.

"I went up to Washington and asked the social security board if it would give money to a state to help on pensions to people regardless of whether they needed the money. They asked 'haven't you read the law?' I said 'yes, I know what it says but a bunch of men opposing me down in Texas are promising they would give pensions to everybody. I just wanted to be able to go back and report the facts straight."

"Congress appropriated $85,000,000 for these pensions. If we paid in Texas $15 from both state and federal funds—$30 in all—to all over 65 years it would cost $80,000,000 for both the state and federal aid—leaving $25,000,000 of Uncle Sam's money for the other 47 states.

"Now don't you see how these men are trying to deceive you? They say Jimmy Allred just wants to tax liquor. They shed crocodile tears because four old folks are having to take liquor money only? Now, while they're crying they ought to shed every fourth tear for the little school children because they get one-fourth of the liquor tax. I haven't heard any kick about that.

"The liquor tax was not my plan. Repeal of the liquor amendment was not my plan. I bowed to the will of the majority when it was repealed and I believe that if liquor is going to be legal it ought to be taxed.

"They say I've unnecessarily delayed the pension payments. Well, the pension law failed by one vote to be given a two-thirds majority in the senate. If it had been given one more vote the law would have been effective immediately. And as it was, it was not effective for 90 days after the legislature adjourned. If one of my opponents, a state senator being run by Jim Ferguson, had voted for old age pensions instead of against them, as the records show he did, that delay would not have occurred.

Not Pauper's Law

"This law is not, as is charged, a pauper's law. A single man may have $6,000 in property and $360 a year income and a married couple may have $8,500 in property and $720 in income annually and receive a pension, if in need. We've got the most liberal pension law in the nation. We've got more pensions paid—40,000 in all—in the first month than any state except Ohio and New York, with twice our population. They said it was unconstitutional. I took it to Washington and the social security board not only said it was a good and constitutional law but gave me more than a million dollars of federal money for July and August alone."

The Governor was introduced by Judge E. M. Critz, who made a very appropriate introduction. Following the address, Governor Allred crowned the Queen of the Centennial Jubilee, Miss Edna Atkinson, in a brief but very beautiful ceremony.

Earl Gardner, Apache Indian who backed his wife and infant son to death with a hatchet, paid with his life in a gasty fashion at dawn Monday on a gallows hidden in a deep rugged canyon almost at the base of Coolidge Dam, close to San Carlos, Arizona. His iron nerve never faltered and he said he was glad to get it over with. As the lever was sprung, Gardner's body slipped against the side of the trap which caused the noose to slip in front of his ear, so for 33 minutes terrible groans were emitted as his breath was slowly choked away.

The other child, two years old was not bound but was not big enough to climb out. The mother was held on charges of cruelty to children.

A railroad employee some distance away in a tower pulled some levers and the switch closed tight. After being patched up, physicians told him he would not be able to sit down anywhere for several days.

About Town

(By the Editor's Shadow) It must have been cloudy last week — the Shadow didn't find out until too late for last week's News that Walker's Pharmacy had acquired a new pharmacist. We welcome Mr. R. Wynne, who came here from Fort Worth Monday of last week, to the Mountain City.

Coleman has been thronged with crowds for the first three days of the week. Rain did not prevent them from coming — it just cooled things off. The Centennial Jubilee must have surpassed all expectations.

The Baptist Victory picnic was held at Richardson's Crossing Monday, and even though all those who helped reach the attendance goal were not present, plenty of fried chicken and other splendid foods were abundantly there for them.

It isn't too late to participate in Railroad Week. Patronize the Santa Fe this weekend. Remember their splendid service.

Scouts Buddy Lovelady and Burton Gregg are enjoying the week at Camp Tonkawa. The Chisholm Trail Boy Scout swung into their annual two weeks summer camp Sunday a 6 p. m. with supper in the mess hall. The Shadow doesn't like to merely shadow when it comes to an occasion like that.

The Shadow was threatened bodily because of a personal comment made last week, but on the other hand, we were offered to "dish it out!" So watch out, Mr. Kollman, at least we got "dedicated" — we learned how to spell your name for future use!

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Blair and little son moved to Pecos this week. Mr. Blair, an employee of Walker-Smith Wholesale co. was transferred from Brownwood.

4-H Clubs to Make Nation Wide Study Of Leisure Time Use

A nation wide study to improve rural and small town social and recreational life is to be a major activity of 4-H local leaders and members in the next few months. The program seeks to discover the best ways by which the youth of a community may use its leisure time and thus offset tendencies common today which are destructive to the development of the finest manhood and womanhood. Guides for the study are being distributed to 75,000 state, county and local club leaders of the United States by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work which is launching the project, and has secured for its sponsorship the Radio Corporation of America and affiliates, National Broadcasting Company and RCA Victor, which provides prizes valued at approximately $17,000 to successful contestants. Blank Forms Supplied. The guide is in the form of a report blank and calls for information on such activities of 4-H Clubs as contests and personal growth opportunities as indicated by school records, reading habits, music participation and use of radio, church and secular programs. Other desired data is on picnics, camps, tours, public entertainments, discussion groups and community enterprises like park and playground development, libraries, fire prevention and cooperation in local fairs. Conservation and social service in all of their aspects complete the list of subjects for which information is desired. Reports of local clubs are to be completed and filed with county extension agents for the selection of a county champion club early in October. The records of the county winning clubs are to be submitted to the State Club Leader in time for the selection of a state champion club by November 9. State reports in each of the four extension divisions of the United States will be judged to choose a winner therein, and one of these four will be named national champion club. County winning clubs each receive a handsome year book to record its activities. The leader of each county champion club receives a gold medal, and its respective county extension office a silver plaque. The state winning club receives a library of 120 Victor records selected for recreational use and an RCA Victor record player. The leader of the club receives a $100 RCA fully equipped radio set. Includes 44 Chicago Trips. To each member of the four regional winning clubs up to ten members, and their leaders is awarded an all expense educational trip to the fifteenth National Club Congress to be held in Chicago November 27-December 5 in connection with the International Livestock Exposition. The members of the national champion club receive a gold medal, and to their county goes a combination RCA radio-phonograph and 461 selected Victor records valued at $1550. Two $500 college scholarships complete the prize list which are to be awarded each to a boy and girl participating in the contest who best typify the objectives of 4-H Clubs. The scholarships are to be presented in June, 1937 in Radio City, N. Y. by Mr. David Barnoff, President of Radio Corporation of America, who also provides a trip for each recipient and chaperon. No fee or obligation of any kind is required of contesting clubs and leaders and they are permitted to enlist the aid of local representatives of the sponsor as well as individuals and organizations in compiling reports.

6666 Ranch Hands To Have Reunion At Centennial

FORT WORTH, July 14.—All present and former hands of the 6666 Ranch of King and Carson Counties are invited to a reunion at the Frontier Centennial July 21, show officials announced Monday. Arrangements for the special day were made at the request of John C. Burns, trustee and general manager of the S. B. Burnett Estate, through Frank Reeves, Sr., livestock editor of the Star-Telegram. In discussing the designation of a special day, Burns suggested that such a courtesy toward all the larger ranches in Texas would create a great deal of interest in attendance particularly among the old timers and that it would be in keeping with the spirit and purpose of the Centennial. "I am sure that the employees of these ranches would greatly appreciate such recognition," he added. Burns also made the point that some of the ranches might have their chuck wagons at the grounds for their particular special day, and each could serve meals to its own ranch hands. "It would mean a real reunion for many of the old boys of the range to gather around the chuck wagon again and talk about former days on the range," he declared. Edwin Rollins of Brooks Field was a Santa Anna visitor over the weekend. Miss Pearl Traylor came home Saturday from Lubbock where she has been teaching school. Mrs. W. B. Phillips and children of Canadian are visiting Mrs. W. W. Stephenson. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Weathers of Cisco are visiting relatives here. Mrs. Ray Luksinger returned to Fort Worth this week with her sister, Mrs. Vernon Adams, to visit indefinitely. Mrs. C. A. Walker was called to Cross Plains Wednesday to the bedside of her mother who is seriously ill. Fishing with trotlines is illegal in ten Texas counties. There are 151 branches of the San Diego county (California) public library.
