Mountain Echoes

By Barbara Kingsbery

Too often we hear the unpleasant things about our community, but one local lady had nothing but praise for the fine people of the community last week.

Bobbie Seals was stranded downtown with an ailing auto, and during the time it took for a mechanic to come to her aid, at least a dozen people stopped and offered to help. Mrs. Seals was overwhelmed by the courtesy and thoughtfulness of everyone who offered to help -- many of whom she did not know, and some who were only passing through.

She also said she never knew so many people kept "jumper cables" in their autos!

bk

Have we ever had cold weather! We have had one cold spell after another with temperatures well below freezing.

The latest norther arrived early Tuesday with some sleet and freezing rain.

Friday of last week there was sleet and light snow, resulting in several vehicles sliding off the highway, but no damage or injuries, according to Deputy Mike Bowers.

School was closed Friday due to the bad weather, the third day lost to bad weather this year.

More Rainfall In Santa Anna

Rainfall in the community last week was measured at .3 inch, according to R.W. Balke, rain reporter. The moisture fell Tuesday, February 2, and is the first for the month of February. The sleet this week was not enough to measure.

Leash Law To Be Enforced To Control Stray Dogs

After trying other methods of controlling stray dogs in town, the City Council voted Thursday, February 4, in regular session to enforce a leash law in the town.

All dogs in town must be secured by a leash or confined within a penned yard. In addition to the leash law, all dogs must have a city tag and a rabies vaccination tag.

Dogs found running loose in town after March 3 will be impounded, with owners charged $10 plus $1 per day the animal is impounded. The dogs must also get their city tag and rabies vaccination before being released.

Dogs with city licenses will be held six days before being disposed of. Unlicensed dogs will be held only three days before being destroyed.

City residents are subject to up to $200 fine for failure to observe the leash law.

The new regulation was made after the current method of controlling strays was found to be ineffective.

In other business at City Council last week, the price of water sold to transport trucks was raised from one-half cent per

Trustee Election Set April 3

Two Places to be Filled on School Board

The 1982 school trustee election has been set Saturday, April 3, with Rose Bass to serve as election judge. Two trustees, Jay Weathers and Max Eubank, have terms that expire this year. Neither has indicated if they plan to seek re-election.

At the Monday, February 8, meeting of the School Board, Weathers presided and all other members were present.

Bills and accounts for the month were reviewed for payment, with the largest items being utilities.

Phase 3 of the five-year accreditation process was approved. The local school district is in its third year of the curriculum improvement project, emphasizing math and reading.

Contracts of High School Principal Gerald Brister and Elementary School Principal Charles Brewster were extended another year, giving them a two-year contract with the local school system. Also approved were contracts for the athletic coaches, Roger Goodwin, head coach, and Dean Bass and Barry Miles. Other faculty and staff contracts will be reviewed at the next meeting slated in March.

SAHS Teams Seek Championships

The Santa Anna High School boys and girls basketball teams will be seeking District 29-A Championships Friday night when they meet the Rochelle teams at Rochelle.

The Mountaineers have a perfect district record, while the girls lead in the second half of play and were second in the first half of the season. Their victory Friday will give a clear title to the team that is coached by Gerald Brister.

Charles Brewster is coach of the boys team.

District championships for the Santa Anna teams will put them in play-offs with the District 28-A winners, probably the Goldthwalte girls and the Lometa boys. [See additional story Page 3]

Another Truck Mishap At Same Wallis Location

For the second time in two weeks, a truck tractor semi-trailer rig overturned in the west part of town on Wallis Avenue.

Last Wednesday morning at about 8:30 a truck tractor rig driven by Alan A. Debuhr of Lewiston, Nebraska went out of control on the curve and overturned, skidding into a utility pole near the self-service station.

The cab caught fire in the impact, but Debuhr was able to climb through the broken windshield and escape. The Santa Anna Volunteer Fire Department went to the scene to extinguish the fire that damaged the cab and numerous belongings of the driver. The trailer was not badly damaged in the mishap, but there was some damage to the bales of wool that was being hauled to Brady.

The truck was owned by Phil's Agri-Service of Lewiston, Nebraska.

The other recent mishap at the same location was two weeks ago when truck tractor semi-trailer loaded with cotton overturned on the ice-slick highway.

Highway Patrolman Butch Wampler investigated both accidents.

Victories By Santa Anna Teams Friday Will Give District Crowns to Boys, Girls

District Championships are almost certain for both the boys and girls basketball teams, with the last games of the season next Monday.

The Mountaineers have an unblemished district record and a clear title to the championship for the third consecutive year. The girls are undefeated in the second half of play and will have the title cinched if they win in Friday night's game with the Rochelle team.

Games with Brookesmith next Monday will not affect the district standings as the Brookesmith girls do not have enough eligible players to compete for the title.

It is the first time in school history for both boys and girls teams to win district titles the same season.

In games last week, the Mountaineers won over Mozelle 102 - 41, with Mike Simmons scoring 28 points and leading in field goal percentage with 58 percent.

Farm Bureau Week To Be Observed Here

February 15 - 20 has been designated as "Farm Bureau Week" in Coleman County by County Judge W. W. Skelton.

The week is part of a statewide observance during which county Farm Bureau groups will make a special effort to enroll new members, according to Victor Cardinas of Coleman, president of the Coleman County group.

The official county proclamation calls American agriculture "the producing marvel of the world," and adds that one farm worker now produces enough food for 68 people. "Because of this," the proclamation said, "the average American family spends less than one-fifth of its income for food."

The proclamation continues by saying that "four out of five producers are voluntary members of Farm Bureau" and through that organization, they "work to build a better social and economic life for themselves."

Cardinas said that Farm Bureau will continue to represent interests of farmers and ranchers in Austin and in Washington, D. C. Among Farm Bureau policies implemented last year was the state constitutional amendment exempting livestock and poultry from ad valorem taxation.

The county leader said the organization also favored spending and tax cuts that were passed by Congress last year.

Defensive Driving Course Aids In Auto Insurance Costs

New Texas law required motorists to be covered by liability insurance.

Motorists who've never been covered may be surprised at the high cost of liability insurance. This cost can be lowered by taking the Defensive Driving Course.

Administered by the Texas Safety Association, the course was written and produced by the National Safety Council.

TSA statistics show those who complete the eight-hour course are better drivers. The Texas State Board of Insurance allows insurance companies to grant those who complete the course a ten percent reduction in insurance rates.

This ten percent discount applies for three years and can be renewed by taking the course again and is allowed for the principal driver of each family car. The discount applies to policies written by rate-regulated carriers. Discounts are given at the discretion of assigned risk pool and country mutual carriers.

Fee for the course is usually $18. The Defensive Driving Course is taught by more than 650 agencies across the state to more than 225,000 persons yearly. Courses are taught periodically in our area, sponsored by local groups or organizations.

LION news and notes

Still Doing Their Share

With cuts in social programs the order of the day in budget-conscious Washington, many Americans are wondering whether the private sector will be able to take up some of the slack created by big-government's belt-tightening.

Some people believe that private giving and volunteer effort declined as government at all levels assumed ever greater responsibility for providing social services. While this may be true for some groups, at least one of the "private sectors" has never slackened its efforts to help those in need: America's service clubs.

A recent survey by Lions Clubs International—the world's largest humanitarian service club organization—showed that its clubs expended nearly $75 million last year to help the needy in their communities. With approximately half of its 1.3 million members located in the United States, it's clear that the Lions continue to do their share.

And because service clubs are run entirely by volunteers, each dollar spent goes much further than its government counterpart, since even the most dedicated bureaucrat likes to be paid.

The millions of service-club members in the United States provide an incredible variety of services to their communities. Lions Clubs, for example, operate or support most of the country's eye banks and dog-guide training schools; they support eye research at hospitals and universities from coast to coast, purchase new eyeglasses and hearing aids for the needy; and recycle millions of used ones for use throughout the world. In fact, nearly four million people are helped in some way by a Lions Club each year.

When you add to this the efforts of the numerous other service club organizations active in the United States, it's plain to see that at least one branch of American volunteerism is alive, growing and still doing its share.

FmHA Assists Farmers With Financial Problems

(Temple, Texas), Feb. 3 - Although many farmers are facing financial difficulty because of today's cost-price squeeze, the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) intends to do all it can to help its borrowers stay in farming, FmHA State Director J. Lynn Futch said today.

"We recognize there are problems, problems with high interest rates, inflation, a grain embargo, adverse weather and other causes," Futch said. "And these have been intensified by overall bumper crops that have affected prices."

"As Secretary of Agriculture John Block said recently, our farm economy is in a valley right now and needs some help to move on up the hill on the other side."

Futch said Block had instructed FmHA to explore the use of private credit to supplement its own lending resources whenever possible. In addition, existing legal authority to reschedule or defer payments is to be used where practicable.

"We intend to be reasonable, just as Secretary Block ordered," Futch said. "Our objective is to keep farmers in business. That isn't to say there won't be some who go out of business, because there will be, but we are going to use the best judgement we can and reasonable criteria in making our loan decisions."

Secretary Block said that borrowers who have made good faith efforts to pay their loans, who have maintained their loan security in good condition, who follow sound, recognized management practices, and who have a reasonable chance to succeed can reasonably expect FmHA to stay with them.

"We will be working with our borrowers and with the commercial lending institutions to overcome these temporary problems," Futch said. "Agriculture is basically healthy, just as the Secretary said; there is no question about it. We just have to move out of the present situation and dig in for the long run."

NATURAL WATER CYCLE

HOW SAFE IS THE WATER YOU DRINK?

Every day billions of gallons of water evaporates from lakes, rivers and oceans to form clouds. The water returns to earth as rain, rejoining lakes and rivers and seeping underground where it is recycled for our water supply. However, chemicals that travel through air and water are turning this natural system into a global pollution cycle.

Today 50,000 water systems serving 100 million Americans get their water from below the earth's surface. Many of these sources are threatened. According to a "60 Minutes" report on CBS, every state reports incidents of ground water contamination.

You can't prevent contamination of your water supply, but what you can do is effectively remove 106 or more of the known hazardous chemicals and up to 100% of the chlorine from drinking water. Right at your tap.

With the invention of the Neo-Life Water Dome Purifier

you have an alternative to contaminated water, expensive bottled water and inefficient, granulated charcoal filters. Your family can enjoy sparkling clean, fresh, delicious water right from your own tap for just pennies a day. Water Dome removes unpleasant taste, odor, color as well as chemicals, bacteria, sediment, most industrial chemicals, agricultural pesticides and chlorine (used by most water companies). When chlorine combines with certain organic matter, cancer-causing substances, such as chloroform and other trihalo-methanes form.

The Neo-Life Water Dome Purifier installs easily without tools, needs no power and comes in countertop, under-counter and portable models. They're available only from independent Neo-Life Distributors. Brochure available from Neo-Life Company of America, P.O. Box 5015, Hayward, Dept. D, California 94540.

Former Area Pastor Feted In San Angelo Recently

A former Coleman County minister, Ray M. Sparks, was honored January 17 in San Angelo on his 70 years in the ministry. The special service was held at Lindell Avenue Baptist Church where Sparks is now an active member.

Friends and family members were also on hand for a reception in his honor following the evening service at which he was speaker.

Born near Talpa October 21, 1893, he was the son of John R. and Mary Berta (Keeling) Sparks. His maternal grandfather, John Crumpler Averitt, was an early-day preacher and educator, founding a number of area Baptist churches including Santa Anna First Baptist Church.

Sparks entered the ministry in 1912 while still in high school, serving at times as supply pastor at Gouldbusk and Valera. Other churches in which he preached were Grape Creek, Herring and Spring Creek. He taught school to supplement the small income from the ministry, with his first school located at Duck Creek, between Millersview and Paint Rock in 1913-14.

He married Lillian Pauline Matthews of Talpa in 1915.

While attending college in 1917, he assumed the pastorate of the Eureka Baptist Church, northeast of Santa Anna, serving as pastor for eight months. He also pastored churches at Camp Colorado, Voss, Rocky Creek and Burkett.

He was pastor of Central Baptist Church in Coleman in 1926, then moved with his family to Blanket where he taught school and preached.

Among his other pastorates, he was supply pastor at Rockwood for awhile.

In 1945 Sparks became pastor at Hillcrest Baptist Church in San Angelo, moving to Silver in 1949 where he was pastor until his retirement in 1958. Not content with complete retirement, Sparks continued to serve as supply pastor and interim pastor at a number of churches in the San Angelo area.

In a recent story in San Angelo Standard Times, Sparks recalled some incidents during his early ministry. "They's pay me just three or four dollars, but sometimes they'd just give me a sack of oats for my horse," he recalled.

Sparks, now 89, preached his first sermon at Immanuel Baptist Church at Talpa. His memories of the rural congregations contrast sharply with today's "electronic" churches. Some are on the right track, but a lot don't tie people to an organization. They detract from the glory of the Lord, Sparks thinks, in reference

Researcher studies uses of feet for handicapped drivers

COLLEGE STATION — A Texas A&M researcher is analyzing the basic behavior of human feet in a project to help those without arms.

In experiments designed to develop better adaptive driving equipment for people without arms, Charles Raab, a researcher with the Human Factors Division of the Texas Transportation Institute, is trying to learn if the feet are as good as the hands in certain tasks.

"We want to find the safest and easiest ways for a handicapped person to drive because transportation is one of the most difficult problems for them. Many are capable of holding jobs but can't get to work," Raab said.

Women's Seminar focuses on non-traditional jobs

SAN ANTONIO — The woman who coined the phrase "workwife," another who urges women to "make time work for them" and a third who found success in a blue collar trade are among speakers for a national women's conference to be held here March 7-10.

Sponsored by the Texas Engineering Extension Service of the Texas A&M University System and the Women's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor, the conference is titled "Society's Hope for Equality — Women in Non-Traditional Employment," and will be held at the Hyatt Regency Hotel.

The three-day program focuses on subjects ranging from women in the military to women in politics, and from stress management to women as agents of change.

The conference is open to any woman — especially those seeking employment in non-traditional jobs or who are considering mid-life career changes — as well as employers of women. # Bloss This Mess

By Billie Wheatley

In all fairness to men, I feel it my duty to devote a few lines to the farm wife. This title may not sound very impressive when stacked up against executive or professional, but you better believe it's a title that's worn with great pride by these girls, and they take a back seat to no one.

They can be found in various places like in the kitchen getting breakfast, meeting the school bus, on the phone, chasing the calves out of the garden, on the phone, taking a snack to the field, at the clothes line, on the phone, running to town for parts, taking lunch to the field, running to town for seed, and that's just in the morning.

They are easy to identify as they are all quite beautiful. I don't know any who chew tobacco. Should you lose one, don't worry, come soap opera time she will show up.

The talents these girls possess are endless. They can change a tire and not lose but two lug bolts, drive the tractor and only leave three snagged places in the fence, haul grain to the elevator and only pull the dump lever by mistake once, and they are the only people I know who can pen a calf who is doing twenty-five miles an hour without running.

If you want a job done right just ask a farm wife. Each is equipped with a typical set of tools, such as a hammer with one claw broken off, a pair of pliers with the jaws worn smooth, a screw driver with a rounded head, one very dull pair of wire cutters, and an unlimited supply of washers, screws, nails and bolts that she found in the washing machine after she did the laundry. One fellow told me his wife could take a tube of calking compound and a roll of tape and stop Niagara Falls.

Being married to a farmer is one of the most rewarding jobs found anywhere, and along with the hard work goes a lot of fun. Sure, we tell it pretty bad about all the jobs we have to help do, you know we wouldn't dream of stretching the truth any. As for spoiling our men by taking snacks to the field, we really have an ulterior motive. When they plow fourteen or fifteen hours a day, that's the only time we get to see them. Are you wondering why they work fourteen and fifteen hours a day? For us!

Misuse of S-Security Cards Now Considered a Felony

Stricter laws regarding the misuse of Social Security numbers and cards are now in effect, according to Priscilla Tercero, manager of the Brownwood Social Security office.

A law signed by President Reagan in late December 1981 provides criminal penalties for (1.) using a Social Security card obtained with false information, (2.) using someone else's Social Security number, (3.) buying, selling or counterfeiting Social Security cards, or (4.) possessing a regular or counterfeit card with intent to sell or alter it.

An unlawful act affecting the Social Security card or number is now considered a felony, rather than a misdemeanor, added Tercero.

Penalties for conviction can be a fine of up to $5,000 or a prison term of up to five years or both.

According to Tercero, individuals wishing to report misuse of Social Security cards or numbers should call the Social Security office listed in the telephone book or the HHS hot line in Washington, D. A. at 202-472-4222.

Almost all social security matters can be handled by phone. For general information or to report a change, call toll free, 800-392-1603. Medicare questions or filing of medicare claims can be taken care of by calling toll free 800-442-2620. You may file an application to establish your eligibility by calling 915-646-7533 in Brownwood.

A representative of the Brownwood office visits Santa Anna once a month, the second Thursday from 1 - 2 p.m. The representative can be found at Mountain City Center.

Beat cholesterol by exercising instead of dieting

COLLEGE STATION — The author of a controversial scientific study on heart disease suggests that Americans "get off their butts, out from in front of the television and exercise" rather than worry about limiting the intake of fat in their diets.

In a guest lecture at Texas A&M University, Dr. Robert Olson, chairman of the medical school at St. Louis University and president of the American Institute of Nutrition, said the amount of fatty cholesterol eaten by Americans was not an important factor in controlling the levels of cholesterol in the blood, believed to be the cause of clogged arteries.

Olson said the causes of cardiovascular disease, the nation's leading killer, are not clearly known "despite what appears in ladies' magazines and the utterances of the American Heart Association."

FACTS & FIGURES

Milk is a nearly perfect food. Although milk averages about 87 percent water, it contains nearly all the basic food materials needed for growth and energy. Milk solids (the amount other than water) contain protein, fat, carbohydrates and ash. A large part of the calcium and phosphorous in food eaten by people in the U.S. is in milk.

***

The price most Americans pay for milk is determined by a price system adopted in the Chicago Federal Milk Order in September, 1961. It's known within the dairy industry as the Minnesota-Wisconsin (M-W) milk series, and reflects prices paid farmers in these two states for manufacturing grade milk. Because these two states are the major producers of manufacturing grade milk, the M-W series mirrors prices set throughout the U.S., explains the United Dairy Industry Association.

B-wood Man Announces As GOP Rep Candidate

GARY W. LOGAN

Gary W. Logan of Brownwood has announced that he will be a Republican candidate for State Representative for the current 55th District. This is the post currently held by Lynn Nabers.

Logan, 41 years of age, retired from the United States Army in 1979 and is currently the Electrolux Sales Representative for the Brownwood area. He is also a full-time student at Howard Payne University and will graduate in May 1982 with a BBA in Accounting and Political Science and a BA from the Douglas McArthur Academy of Freedom in the Free Enterprise Path. Logan will have minors in General Business, Russian language and the Korean language.

Logan's military service spanned a period of 21 years during which time he served in numerous capacities to include that of Russian, Korean and Japanese linguist, special personnel and physical security investigator, and intelligence officer. Logan served overseas in Europe, Japan, Vietnam and Korea. Among his numerous decorations were two awards of the Meritorious Service Medal and three awards of the Army Commendation Medal.

Logan is married to the former Brenda Gorby of Brownfield and they have two sons, Kent and Scott. Kent graduated from Brownwood High School in 1981, attended Howard Payne University during the fall semester, and will enter the United States Air Force in March. Scott is a sophomore in Brownwood High School.

Upon graduation from Howard Payne University, Logan plans to enter the accounting field in Brownwood.

Logan's duties in the military permitted him to become well versed in international trade, economics and politics. His sales responsibilities in Brown and neighboring counties allowed him to have close contact with a broad spectrum of the local populace and have acquainted him with the problems and issues facing this district.

"I believe that it is only fitting that the citizens of the 55th Legislative District have a choice in the forthcoming elections and an alternative to the incumbent office holder. By virtue of my background and personal contact with the citizens of this district, I sincerely believe that I am amply qualified to represent this district in Austin. My basic philosophy is conservative and I have diligently prepared myself academically for political service to my district, state and country. I think that I have a lot to offer to the citizens of this district and hereby offer my energy, equal and fair representation and a firm voice in Austin."

Mrs. George Dick of Bangs has been designated as Logan's campaign treasurer and filed accordingly with the Secretary of State.

San Angelo Man Killed In Mishap Here Last Week

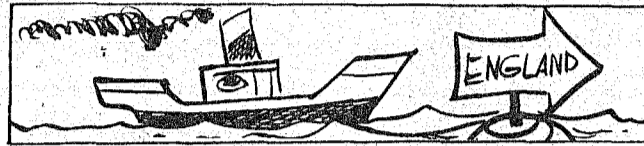

An 18-year-old man from San Angelo died Wednesday, February 3, as a result of injuries he received in an accident near Santa Anna.

Larry Brian Perrine was pronounced dead by Justice of the Peace Clarence Collins at Hendrick Medical Center in Abilene where he was transferred from Coleman hospital.

According to Highway Trooper Butch Wampler, Perrine's 1979 Chevrolet pickup truck went out of control at 7:30 a.m. that morning while traveling south on U. S. Highway 84 north of Santa Anna. The vehicle went into a ditch and skidded 172 feet before striking the rock fence at the roadside park about two miles north of Santa Anna. Perrine was a laborer, according to Wampler, and was alone in the vehicle at the time of the accident.

The first steamship to cross the Atlantic, the S.S. Savannah, traveled from Savannah, GA. to Liverpool, England, on 1819. The voyage took 29 days.
