

German War Plot Of Reds Reported

By the Associated Press
BERLIN, Sept. 20. — An Anti-Communist newspaper claimed today that Communists in Eastern Germany are arming illegal shock troops for an eventual attempt to seize power in Berlin and all Germany by force.

Montag's Echo, organ of the rightist Liberal Democratic Party, charged that these shock troops are composed of armed civilians who are being organized as auxiliaries of the Communist-controlled Eastern German police.

So-called workers police battalions are being formed in the Russian sector of Berlin and throughout the Soviet occupation zone, the newspaper said. This was the latest of several recent reports in the western-licensed press that German Communists, with Russian aid, are building up their forces for an eventual armed fight for Germany.

Meanwhile, the Communists have been propagandizing Russian proposals that all occupying forces be withdrawn from Germany.

If that should happen, western sources said, the Communists alone would have armed forces at their disposal to work their will on German anti-Communists.

The newspaper charge came shortly after Communist patrols raided newsstands in the Russian sector of Berlin yesterday, ripping and scattering anti-Red newspapers in an apparent showdown over the free dissemination of news.

The strong-arm tactics were denounced by American military government officials, who are considering a counter-embargo on Soviet-controlled publications. The Americans said the Communist raids were a violation of four-power agreements for the free exchange of information throughout Germany.

Among the western sector newspapers seized by the raiders were the American-licensed Tagespiegel and the Christian Democratic Organ Der Tag.

Meanwhile, the communist press launched an attack against both the western occupying powers and Berlin's anti-Red leaders, accusing them of "Fascist provocations and war mongering."

Truman Claims Republicans Sabotage West

Coloradoans Asked To Join Him In Fight
DENVER, Sept. 20. (AP)—President Truman called upon Rocky Mountain voters today to join him in a fight against "Republican undercover sabotage of the West."

He predicted that if the Republicans take over the government, "they will try to turn back the clock to the day when the West was an economic colony of Wall Street."

Mr. Truman told the westerners their hope for "new developments of your agriculture, your industry and your commerce" lies in insuring the election of a democratic administration "pledged to give you that aid and support."

Mr. Truman spoke from the grounds of the state capitol after a parade and impromptu speeches elsewhere in the city.

In the second major address of his current campaign swing he said the Republicans in Congress "consistently tried to cut the grounds from under our conservation program."

"There is a hard fight ahead," Mr. Truman asserted.

"We shall have to fight the slick political propaganda of the special interests and the Republican leadership. We shall have to fight the millions of dollars that Wall Street is pouring into the treasury of the Republican Party."

"We shall have to fight the Republican undercover sabotage of the West."

Mr. Truman declared that "we of the Democratic Party are eager for that fight."

"We are firmly determined to leave us a land that is better than we found it."

While he laid special emphasis on hydro-electric power and other water development projects of the west, the President again attacked the Republicans on housing and price control issues.

Strong U. N. Guard To Be Lie Demand

DEVASTATING CONVERSATION

WHITTIER, Calif., Sept. 20. — The eyes had it for Sam Lipscomb.

Lipscomb, 60, flood control watchman, told police a car containing a man and a woman drove up while he was on duty. The woman, dressed in gypsy garb, engaged him in conversation, said Lipscomb. The man just stared.

The watchman reported he "came to" in his shack 12 hours later, his wallet and $42 gone.

"Must have been hypnotism," said Lipscomb, looking police right in the eye.

COSTS RISING

Bell Telephone Asks Rate Hike

The Southwestern Bell Telephone company announced Monday it is seeking approval from the city commission of an increase in telephone rates here.

The request, said H. F. Fox, district manager, is based on rising costs of furnishing telephone service and a condition where the company is not making a reasonable return on its investment in Big Spring.

Proposed new rates, filed with the city commission along with a financial statement, represent an increase of $1 per month for business telephones; 50 cents a month for residence straight-line telephone users; and 25 cents a month for two-party lines. Also a new four-part residence service would be introduced to a rate of $2.25 per month.

In announcing the request for revised rates, Fox said that the company is not taking in enough money here to pay for its operating costs in Big Spring and allow a reasonable return on the company's investment, particularly in view of a half million dollar program of expansion.

During the last six months of 1947 (the entire year was not used because 42 days were lost through work stoppage the first half), the company collected $83,747 here, Fox said, but costs of furnishing service were $78,373. The company only earned $5,372 for the six-month period according to Fox on an investment of more than $390,000.

"The continuing upward trend of payrolls and other costs of furnishing service make it necessary that telephone rates be adjusted to help meet higher postwar costs of furnishing telephone service," he said.

Telephone payrolls, biggest single item in the cost of operating the local exchange, have increased sharply in recent years, he continued. Right now the monthly payroll ($15,000 plus) in Big Spring is

Bernadotte Death Shows Arms Need

Leader To Ask Constabulary Of 1,000-5,000
PARIS, Sept. 20. (AP)—American, British and French foreign ministers met tonight to debate what to do next in their quarrel with Russia over blockaded Berlin.

The three foreign ministers, here for the third annual United Nations Assembly session which convenes tomorrow, got together with their top advisers in the French foreign ministry.

PARIS, Sept. 20. (AP)—General Trygve Lie will demand urgent formation of a United Nations guard to forestall such acts as the assassination of Count Folke Bernadotte and to maintain order in disturbed areas.

As soon as possible after the 58 nations delegates assemble tomorrow, the UN administrative chief will ask for a United Nations constabulary of from 1,000 to 5,000 men backed by "the full authority of the United Nations."

U. S. Secretary of State Marshall and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin have both arrived for tomorrow's opening. Problems arising out of the tense situation in Berlin and other factors in the cold war between East and West overshadow the conference.

A meeting of the three Western foreign ministers, Marshall, Bevin and Robert Schuman of France, was expected with the possibility that the Berlin crisis may be laid before the 58 nations.

Both Bevin and Marshall will bring their top advisers on Germany with them tonight. Berlin dispatches said American military Gov. Gen. Lucius Clay will fly to Paris to report to Marshall this afternoon. His British colleague, Gen. Sir Brian Robertson is going to confer with Bevin.

They will be joined in the French capital by W. Bedell Smith, U. S. ambassador to Russia, Moscow dispatches said, and Frank Roberts, Britain's special envoy who has been participating in talks with the Soviets on the future of Berlin.

Marshall and his party arrived at Orly Field in President Truman's plane, the Independence, after an uneventful 15 hour, 50-minute flight from Washington.

The assembly, scheduled to convene tomorrow afternoon, faces a long list of harsh political problems growing out of the cold war between East and West.

The opening session will be held in the main auditorium of the Palais de Chaillot, the United Nations' home for the next three months. Meanwhile, the UN Security Council has scheduled a meeting for this afternoon to continue its hearings on the India-Hyderabad conflict.

The Indian delegation said it would ask the Security Council today to drop Hyderabad's request for intervention. The Nizam of Hyderabad said earlier that he had acted to withdraw his appeal to the UN.

Russians Will Remove Troops From Korea

MOSCOW, Sept. 20. — Russia will pull all her troops out of Northern Korea by the new year, an official statement said last night.

The announcement indicated the withdrawal of Soviet troops from the Far Eastern trouble spot apparently will be unconditional, although it called on the United States to move American troops out of Southern Korea.

The News Agency Tass announced the decree of the presidium (executive) of the supreme Soviet.

The Russian move caused surprise in American diplomatic circles, where some informants predicted the Soviets would not actually carry out the plan unless the Americans evacuate their area of Korea.

The Tass announcement as broadcast by the Moscow radio and heard in London said the withdrawal of Soviet troops from Korea would begin "not later than the second half of October" and will be completed by next Jan. 1.

Last year the Russians announced a conditional plan for withdrawal of their Korean armies—to be carried out only if the Americans also took their troops out.

Johnson Men Will Attack Jurisdiction

AT COURT HEARING
FORT WORTH, Sept. 20. — Lyndon Johnson's attorneys will attack the right of jurisdiction when U. S. District Judge Davidson opens a hearing tomorrow on Coke Stevenson's motion for a temporary injunction to prevent Johnson being listed as the democratic senatorial nominee on the general election ballot.

Raymond Buck, one of the Johnson attorneys, said today that action would be based on the grounds that the Senate itself is the exclusive judge of such contests.

Stevenson based his motion for the injunction on an allegation that fraudulently counted votes in Jim Wells and Zapata Counties were responsible for Johnson's scant 87-vote victory in the second democratic primary.

Secretary of State Paul Brown today told the Star-Telegram that if the court dissolves the restraining order Tuesday or Wednesday morning, he will be able to get the name of Johnson on the sample ballot now being prepared for presentation to the election boards of the 254 Texas counties.

Brown added that should he get relief from the restraining order at a later time, he would supply the election boards with a supplemental certification.

Whether the election boards or the precinct judges would have the authority to write in the name of the democratic nominee before handing the ballot to the voter—in case of supplemental certification—was one that neither Brown nor the attorney general's office could answer Monday.

"As it stands now, the Republican is the only major party with the name of senatorial candidate on the ballot."

Freighter Rides Out Hurricane While Aground

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 20. — The master of the stricken British Freighter Lochmonar reported today the 73 persons aboard were believed safe as a hurricane with winds of over 100 miles an hour moved away from the ship and closer to the Cuban coast.

South Florida from Miami through the Keys was placed in the "danger zone" of the storm which yesterday trapped the Lochmonar, a 9,000-ton vessel. The weather bureau warned South Floridians to stand by for possible hurricane warnings by nightfall.

The Coast Guard received a message from the Lochmonar stating: "Consider passengers and crew safe on board until weather calms. Do not think ship will break up. Vessel settled more and pounding eased. Holds in five fuel tanks. Three holds taking water slowly. Auxiliaries working. Sky clearing and wind easing slightly. Tug Curb standing by."

The Lochmonar is hard ground on little Cayman Island south of Cuba.

Chief Storm Forecaster Grady Norton said the Florida area under the alert was from Miami south on the East Coast and from Everglades south on the West Coast.

He said the Florida Straits should begin feeling the first effects of the hurricane early this afternoon. Strong winds from a northeastern buffeted the Keys over the week end. Key West reported 25 mile an hour winds and Miami 20 to 25 mile winds this morning.

Dewey Pushing Peace-Freedom Theme On Trip

EN ROUTE WEST WITH DEWEY, Sept. 20. — Gov. Thomas Dewey bore down on a "peace and freedom" theme today as his special train rolled eastward toward Des Moines and a major campaign speech tonight.

Shrugging off vigorous attacks on the Republicans by President Truman, the GOP presidential nominee prepared to tell the country just what kind of a government he expects to run if he is elected in November.

His secretary, Paul Lockwood, gave reporters a brief preview.

Lockwood said Dewey intends to "pledge his unwavering adherence" to "the basic principles and purposes of free government."

"He believes that they must be followed by the next administration in order to unite America and to carry forward in a troubled world the hope of freedom and the living premise that men can be free and that free men can live in peace," Lockwood added.

This peace-and-freedom theme seemed unlikely to parallel proposals made by Henry Wallace, Progressive Party candidate for president, toward the same objectives.

In fact, aides said they expect Dewey to pledge himself to a firm stand against any further widening of Russian authority in Europe or Asia.

Wallace has urged that this country get together with the Russians. Dewey long ago made his stand clear.

He told audiences in Oregon even before he was nominated that "the battle against Communism is going to be a long, tough one."

SMASH AT STERN GANG

Israeli Adopt Emergency Laws

TEL AVIV, Israel, Sept. 20. — Israel adopted emergency regulations last night to deal with terrorist organizations and took first steps to smash the Stern Gang, accused of assassinating Count Folke Bernadotte.

Israel Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok informed Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, acting United Nations mediator for Palestine, his government has "adopted special emergency regulations giving it sweeping powers to take action against terrorist organizations, their members and accomplices."

Shertok told Bunche that 150 members of the Stern group—accused of assassinating Count Bernadotte, UN mediator for Palestine, and French Lt. Col. Andre Pierre Serot, UN observer, Friday in Jerusalem—had been arrested in the Holy City and 50 others in Tel Aviv and elsewhere.

Israeli officials in Jerusalem said nearly 200 known Sternists had been seized and packed off to Jaffa for dispersal into the Israeli army. Despite airtight censorship, several prize catches were understood to be among those arrested.

They were said to include the Stern Gang's second in command, known widely as "Abu Mimri." A police source said a young Jew believed to have been the driver of the jeep used in ambushing the Bernadotte party also was held. At least two Jewish newspapers were arrested. The Israeli officials said they believe the arrests were a staggering blow at the Stern group.

Meanwhile, a plane carrying the bodies of Bernadotte and Serot left Rome today for Geneva. Officials at Ciampino Airport said they did not know whether the two caskets will be separated at Geneva or whether they will continue together as far as Paris.

A Stockholm dispatch said Bernadotte's funeral will be held Sunday in historic Gustav Vasa Church.

C-C Committee To Take Action On Property Note

Authorization of a committee to clarify financial obligations on the organization-owned property at Second and Scurry streets was voted by the chamber of commerce directors at their luncheon session Monday.

A $5,000 note held by the Texas & Pacific Railway is due October 3. The T&P, in selling the lots, made a proviso that it would donate $5,000 to the chamber of commerce, provided building accommodations, civil organizations were placed on the property. There was a two-year clause on this proviso, and the two years expire next month. The C-C committee will confer with railroad authorities on extension of the time, or on disposing of the obligation.

Reports were given to the board on progress being made by the Big Spring Housing corporation, on the Howard County Hereford tour of last week, and on plans for observance of Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 6-13.

Several board members indicated plans to attend the annual Lamesa chamber of commerce banquet at Lamesa tonight.

Slav Red Organ Says Youth Flee Into Bulgaria

LONDON, Sept. 20. — Borba, official newspaper of Yugoslavia's Communist Party, claimed today a group of "traitors" had fled to Bulgaria and set up an "administrative council" now seeking official recognition from the Bulgarian government.

The report, distributed here by Tanjug, the Yugoslav news agency, came as the latest development in the row touched off by the Communist's denunciation of Marshal Tito and his lieutenants on charges of pursuing independent "nationalistic" and "Trotskyite" policies.

Palestine Regime Formed By Arabs Despite Protests

AMMAN, Trans-Jordan, Sept. 20. — Over the strong protests of Trans-Jordan and Iraq, the Arab League announced formation today of an Arab government for Palestine.

Ahmed Hilmy Pasha, military governor of the Arab-held section of Jerusalem, was appointed prime minister of the new government, an official announcement here said, despite a declaration from King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan that such a government would amount to partitioning Palestine.

The Arabs have fought against partition ever since the beginning, he said. King Abdullah refused to permit formation of the government "within the security zone of the Trans-Jordan government, which extends from the Egyptian Kingdom's frontiers to the frontiers of Syria and Lebanon."

He added: "Creation of such a government is an arbitrary act without the consent of the Palestinian people, a thing I will not agree to and will oppose."

Abdullah's declaration brought to a head long-simmering differences over the formation of an Arab government for Palestine. Abdullah has been pictured as seeing in such a government an effort by the mufti of Jerusalem to carve out a base of power for himself in Palestine.

COMMUNISTS TAKE LARGE CITY Fledgling Indonesian Republic Is Facing Civil War Threat

BATAVIA, Java, Sept. 20. — The fledgling Indonesian republic, her third largest city lost to the Communists, is facing civil war. The Communists seized Madioen, in central Java, Saturday and breathed defiance today, accusing the republic's government of "selling the country to the imperialists."

A parliamentary working committee of the republic gave President Soekarno power to "take any measures he sees fit" to safeguard security.

An informed source in Jogjakarta, the Republican capital, declared that a document had been found in Communist Party files stating that a Communist coup in Java was to follow within three months of the beginning of rebellious activities in Malaya, to form an integral part of the spread of Communism in Southeast Asia.

The Communist radio at Madioen accused the Indonesian government of trying to deliver Indonesia into the hands of the Dutch in resisting the rebellion. The Communists termed Premier Mohamad Hatta of the republic as a "Fascist collaborator" and declared that "Madioen has arisen for the destruction of all enemies of the revolution."

"Military police and the army have been disbanded by the people," it added. "Laborers and farmers formed a free government. These arms will not be silent until the whole of Indonesia is free."

Antara, the Indonesian news agency, said mass arrests were made yesterday in Jogjakarta as an aftermath of the Communist coup at Madioen.

Antara said the main streets in Jogjakarta are under strong military guard, although traffic and the daily activities of the people are continuing as usual. No public unrest was reported. Train communications in all directions have been stopped but were expected to resume today.

They acted in the case just as if true diamonds of high value were stolen, teletyping messages all along the eastern seaboard.

The messages contained names familiar to diamond fanciers everywhere. There were accurate descriptions of such famous gems as the Hope Diamond, The Regent,

VALUABLE REPLICAS OF FAMOUS DIAMONDS STOLEN FROM MUSEUM

EMPEROR Eugenia, Nassak, Stag of the South, Bullinan, Shah, Orlov, Koh-i-Nur, Piggott and 26 others. Police acknowledged that they knew of no better way to describe the imitations than to call them by names of the real diamonds.

To get the collection, the thief employed professional methods. He sneaked himself somewhere in the academy after closing hours on Saturday, police theorized, and then used a glass cutter to open the case containing the collection.

Making certain to leave no fingerprints, the thief removed the gem representations from velvet-covered shelves. Mountings were taken along with the imitations.

Everything Is Going To Be Funny In Red Russia Now

General committee of the communist party has imposed some drastic changes on the Russian humor magazine, Crocodile.

Obviously, Crocodile hasn't been funny enough in a funny sort of way for the high Reds.

The publication has been ordered to devote its energies of "battling with the vestiges of capitalism in the consciousness of the people."

Maybe it's been laughing at Uncle Joe's boys instead of Uncle Sam. Anyway the committee informed the magazine that it was to use "the weapon of satire to expose the thieves of public property, grafters, bureaucrats, boastful snobs, subservient individuals and rottenness; to react to an international event promptly, and to subject to criticism the bourgeois culture of the West, showing its ideological insignificance and decay."

Oh brother! This would seem to put the Soviet counterpart of Joe Miller on a crusade. If this goes through, there will be no shortage of corn in Moscow.

One of the first acts of the committee was to remove G. Rykin, editor, from his post. Of course Comrade Rykin should be put in stitches by this turn of events. And why not? He ought to be tickled pink that he doesn't have to sit up nights reworking that old bon mot of "who was that lady I seen you with last night?" The Soviet answer, no doubt is that "That wasn't no lady, it was a capitalist."

As Senator Claghorn would say: "That is a joke, Ivan."

Peace Must Be Won With More Resolution By UN

Count Folke Bernadotte had deeded himself in recent months to seeking a means of peaceful settlement of difficulties in Palestine. Although his efforts at truce were not entirely successful, they did result in saving scores and perhaps hundreds of lives. For this service, he forfeited his own.

Assassins shot him down Friday in Jerusalem. Credit generally is given to the Stern gang, a branch of Jewish extremists who have appropriated the law to their own use and have ignored the authority of the constituted government of Israel to speak for the Jewish people.

Although these hot-heads may have thought they were serving their cause well, actually they have done a great diservice. The Israel government is at once put on the spot for the question is bound to be raised: "If Israel cannot control its own in conflict, how then can it control in crisis?" The answer is not so easy, for anarchist individuals can do damage before being snuffed out. While authority cannot always prevent, it can certainly pursue and prosecute. The least that Israel can do is to attempt to bring the perpetrators of this tragic assassination to justice.

Meantime, the death of Bernadotte may serve as a dramatic reminder to the U. N. that international peace is not easily purchased, that it must be won with more resolution along with thread-bare diplomacy.

Matter Of Fact — Joseph And Stewart Alsop

National Security Council Advances Political Science

WASHINGTON—It is time for a report on what the National Security Council is, and what it does. For it is now clear that, almost unnoticed, the National Security Council has effected a radical and deeply significant change in the whole technique of making American national policy.

As it has developed over the last year, the council has assumed three main functions. The first is to make those decisions so critical and so urgent that they cannot be made on a day-to-day basis by individual policy makers. The second is to attempt to anticipate specific decisions which must be made in the foreseeable future. The third, and perhaps the most difficult, is to prepare a coherent definition of American political objectives for the world as a whole, and for specific areas of the world.

When an immediate, crucial decision must be made, the President calls the council into session, and, with the President participating, the decision is made on the spot. This was what happened, for example, when information became available that the Soviet Union intended to propose the return of Trieste to Italy before the Italian elections. Acting with a speed which has not been characteristic of the American government, the council decided to forestall the Russians. Similarly, an emergency meeting of the council was called some days ago on two hours' notice when it became clear that the negotiations between the four military commanders in Berlin were being rendered futile by the Soviet attitude. It was decided to recommend to Britain and France that the Berlin negotiations be suspended, and that one last attempt at negotiation be tried in Moscow.

The council also meets regularly on the first and third Thursdays of each month in the Cabinet room of the White House. At these meetings one or more decisions which must be anticipated for the future are canvassed. Papers outlining these policy decisions are prepared by the staff of the council, in consultation with the designated planning officers. These are General Kennan of the State Department, General

Albert Wedemeyer for War, General Lauris Norstad for the Air Force, and Admiral Arthur Struble for the Navy.

The papers are then submitted for approval or revision to the council. The council members are Secretary of State George Marshall, Defense Secretary James Forrestal, Air, Navy and War Secretaries Symington, Sullivan and Royall, Secretary of the Council Sidney W. Souers, and Arthur Hill, chairman of the National Security Resources Board. Under Secretary of State Robert Lovett, and Roscoe Hillenkoetter, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, regularly sit in. Secretaries of departments concerned in a given problem also attend on occasion.

Before these meetings, Souers takes the policy paper which is to be discussed to the President. The papers are usually confined to five succinct double-spaced pages, and Souers fills in the details for the President and suggests some of the implications of each paper. The President does not ordinarily attend the routine Thursday meetings, but if a flat disagreement develops, the final decision is referred to him. Otherwise, differences of view are ironed out, the paper is revised and the President initials the resulting policy paper. The council is now, for example, "seized" with the problem of what to do if no settlement of the Berlin crisis results either from direct negotiations or from the United Nations meeting. No final decision has yet been taken.

Finally, there is the task of defining a coherent basic national policy for the United States. A short paper, between fifteen and twenty pages, is now being hammered out, defining American world political objectives. Substantive papers on specific areas—the Far East, the Mediterranean area, western and central Europe—are also being prepared.

In every case, the State Department's primary responsibility for policy is recognized. Almost all policy papers are initiated by State, but the representation of the Defense departments on the council insures that the military and strategic implications of a given policy are acknowledged and taken into account.

Bernadotte Assassination Points Up U. N. Weakness

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The assassination of Swedish Count Folke Bernadotte in Palestine is a sharp reminder of this: After three years of life, the United Nations organization has not been able to agree on setting up an armed force to keep peace.

Bernadotte, as special representative of the U. N., had gone to Palestine last May to work out a truce between warring Arabs and Jews.

There's been an uneasy truce—a truce of shootings, bombings and killings—since May. Yesterday Bernadotte's car was stopped—according to reports, by members of the Stern Gang, a group of Jewish terrorists. They killed Bernadotte, and a French member of his staff.

Could it have occurred if the U. N. had had an armed force of any size in Palestine?

The U. N. set up a military committee of its members to work out an answer to this question:

How big should the U. N. world police force be and how would it be made up? The military committee started meeting in February, 1946, and in August, 1948, it finally had to report it could reach no agreement.

The Russians argue that each nation should make equal contributions to the U. N. armed force.

The U. S., China, Britain and France want the big powers to contribute whatever they're able to give.

The figures offered by the big powers show that the U. S. wants a far stronger and bigger U. N. police force than Russia. This whole argument got nowhere.

GOP Senators Turn Down Dewey's Plan To Boost Bureaucrats' Pay

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Gov. Dewey has dropped the hint to one or two Republican senators that he would like to engineer some boosts in government salary after he comes to Washington next January.

Talking to Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, chairman of the powerful Senate Appropriations Committee, Dewey said he wanted to bring Paul Lockwood, his astute confidential adviser, and several others of his brain trust to help him in the White House.

"But," added the governor, "they can't afford it on present government salaries."

Therefore he asked Bridges to put through some legislation increasing government pay scales.

"Well, if it's for Earl Warren, or any of the men around you," replied the New Hampshire senator, who has a New England conscience when it comes to money, "I'm sure we can do it."

"But, if you're talking about bureaucrats personally," he continued, "Hell, I'm dead opposed to it. We've got to show that we're not going to load up the government with expensive bureaucrats."

A hush-hush meeting was arranged at the swanky Hope Club by Richmond Viall, manager of Brown and Sharpe Manufacturing Co. News of the meeting leaked, and, caught in the glare of the public spotlight, Aldrich and Danaher hit the ceiling. Carefully screening everyone at the door, they finally went ahead with their meeting, but despite the secrecy, here is what happened:

Viall tried to squeeze $50,000 from wealthy Republicans present, but only got pledges for $9,200. Aldrich, though helping to call the meeting, protested that he wouldn't contribute to the primaries, though he made it clear that the local Republicans would get all the Wall Street money they needed—if Hazard got the nomination.

Note—Congress is sure to vote the vice president a salary increase and give him a house—probably the colonial mansion once owned by Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson. Gov. Warren was promised this before he accepted the vice presidential nomination.

USES NEPOTISM Michigan's stock, garrulous Congressman Clare Hoffman considers himself a great protector of the public purse. However, he isn't so belligerent on that score when it comes to putting his own relatives on the public payroll.

Hoffman is the only member of Congress with no pockets in his pants. He gets his clothes made to order with no pockets, but doesn't seem to mind letting salary money get into the pockets of his relatives.

His son, Carl E. Hoffman, is paid $6,000 a year as counsel for a granddaughter, Sarah Ann Hoffman, gets $3,200, the top salary of the congressman's secretarial staff.

Incidentally, both have been spending a good part of their time at Hoffman's Allegan, Mich., headquarters, assisting in his re-election campaign.

LITTLE STATE, BIG FEUD Out-of-state Republicans are so anxious to steal Rhode Island away from the Democrats this year that they have stepped right into the middle of a local scrap and split the GOP worse than ever.

Today's primary battle on the surface is over the GOP nomination for U. S. senator. Actually, it goes deep into the roots of race and religious feeling and has aroused bitterness which may take years to heal.

The state GOP machine has been backing Thomas Pierpont Hazard for the Republican nomination against Republicans Walter Sundin and Louis Jackvony, the first Jewish, the second Italian.

GOP state bosses are convinced that only a hard-headed Yankee can beat Democratic Sen. Theodore Green in the showdown race, and national GOP leaders made the mistake of jumping in on the side of the machine. To this end, Winthrop Aldrich, head of the Chase National Bank, and former Connecticut Sen. John Danaher, director of Republican senatorial campaigns, tried to slip into Providence and raise money for bluestocking Hazard, against the Jewish and Italian candidates.

Note—Others who attended the secret Hope Club meeting included Henry Sharpe, board president of Brown and Sharpe Manufacturing Co.; Robert Dresser, former executive vice president of the National Association of Manufacturers; Steven Wilson, president of Framm Corporation; Malcolm Chase Jr., local banker whose father is a director of the Chase National Bank; Bayard Ewing, wealthy attorney; Henry Fletcher, former chairman of the Republican National Committee; H. Livingston Kelly Jr., treasurer for the Hazard campaign committee; and Thomas A. Casey Greene, Republican state chairman.

Actress Says Censors Like Fussy Old Maids

By GENE HANDSAKER

For BOB THOMAS HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"About some things," complains Arlene Dahl, "studio censors are fussy old maids."

Arlene, who's shaped like the girls in the jackets of modern novels, is in a mild wrangle with Eagle-Lion's censor over something called cross-lighting.

She plays a voluptuous spy in the French revolution in "Reign of Terror," now shooting. She must portray a clever, wily adventuress, costumed so as to take even patriots' minds off barricades and the bastille.

An appearance that will evoke whistles is, in this case, Arlene argues, a sober, legitimate part of her dramatic art.

Joe Breen, Jr., the studio censor, looked at some test footage of Arlene in a proposed, low-necked get-up. "Okay if you use flat lighting," he told the cameraman, "But I don't think we can get away with cross-lighting."

Flat-lighting is head-on and casts no shadows. Cross-lighting, he said, is too revealing. Too contouring. Might come under the ban in the Production Code, voluntarily adopted by producers 15 years ago, forbidding "undue exposure."

Arlene has a 19½-inch waist, and a 35-inch bust. The Mimsopolis-born ex-model and stage actress snapped:

"Censors carry their rules too far. Why, it gets to the point where you're ashamed of being a woman. Sometimes a picture depends on having a sexy woman, but the censors take away her sex. Take away her shape, and you ruin the characterization."

Breen, Jr.'s comment was "You know, sometimes I hate being a censor."

Being Faced By Elegant Exercise Can Be Problem

I cannot vouch for the one or two millions in this wide world I have not met but most of the people I have known have a weakness for collecting things.

In some, the weakness borders on a mania and with others kleptomania. Regardless of the souvenirs they gather or how they came about them, they always place much more value on their items than the things could possibly bring in the open market.

More than a few of the individuals who have divulged the nature of their hobby to me were string collectors. They never failed to pick up a piece of twine, no matter where they'd find it, and would cart it home to add it to the end of the treasures already flushed in the countless meat markets and department stores.

Most of them refused to put the twine to any use—it wasn't considered polite to ask them for any to fulfill your own needs. Whatever they did with the string I was never able to find out.

Others who would frown on that sort of hobby would wrestle you for a cover for safety matches, a bottle cap, a tobacco sack full of sand from Wakiki Beach, a mustache cup or a newspaper reciting the passing of Teddy Roosevelt.

More recently there has flourished the souvenir hunter who goes after the momentoes of the great and the near great.

If the bug to collect an item that once belonged to a movie star, a baseball player or a secretary of state ever hits you, your mania can quickly get out of hand. When you find yourself admiring the bony remains of a beef steak Tyrone Coleman once tore into and which now reposes under glass on the mantle of another member of your fraternity or again sying avidly the remains of what was once a tie belonging to Joe Barton, the boxing champion, and which was torn from his neck by an admiring mob, then you're pretty far gone.

Then we have our more morbid souvenir seekers. When John Dillinger died on the streets of Chicago under the fire of the G-Man, he spilled blood that brought the curious to the scene. Many people were seen dipping their handkerchiefs and newspapers into the hemoglobin, articles that will add credence to their stories in later years that "I was there."

We are not immune to such weaknesses, let us confess. Pince-nez Napoleon might have worn or the stuffed ear from one of Ivan the Terrible's horses would leave us cold. Our mania, instead, runs in old dollar bills. Anything in the way of currency printed by a United States mint prior to 1948 fascinates us no end. Any one who has such laying around the house they cannot put to use can feel free to refer them to us.—TOMMY HART

Movie Leaders Stick Another Dagger In Poor Old Carmen

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, (AP)—The movies have stuck another stiletto in poor old Carmen, the greatest female knife cushion in literature.

For more than a hundred years now this Spanish Gypsy wench has been giving men's hearts a wrench—on the printed page, on the operatic stage, on film, and over the radio.

She has been killed and revived more often than vaudeville. But every time she expires—from a knife thrust through the heart of her lover—it isn't blood she's shedding. It's a profits-transfusion for the boxoffice.

Prosper Merimee, the French writer, scribbled her story in 1845. It was essentially the story of a beautiful Gypsy lass with the morals of a mink who changed lovers as often as she did her earrings. She lured a simple soldier from his duty, got him to join a band of Gypsy smugglers and bandits and got her bosom vented by the soldier's dagger when she tried to give him the double switcheroo for a handsome bull fighter.

The tale hit the jackpot. Bizet based his famous opera on Merimee's story, and the "Toreador's Song" only added to Carmen's international renown.

But this gay little bad girl really hit her stride after Thomas Edison's invention of the flickers. Since 1910 Carmen has been in 15 films seen by American audiences and about a dozen foreign pictures.

Among earlier celluloid Carmens were Geraldine Farrar, Theda Bara and Dolores Del Rio. The latest is Rita Hayworth, starring in Columbia's glossy technicolor production, "The Loves of Carmen."

The other day I went to see a showing of Rita Hayworth's $4,000,000 version followed by Geraldine Farrar's 1914 epic.

How Carmen has changed! She sure has improved with age. In 1914 she was a plump, moon-faced damsel who moved jerkily across the screen with exaggerated gestures and expressed emotion by rolling her eyes like a pair of wild dice in a white cup.

But today—33 years later—Carmen has slimmed down to a red-haired spitfire who rolls in the street in a hair-pulling fight with another woman, and they expose more thigh surface than I've seen since the last time I saw Sally Rand.

Perhaps because red shows up well in technicolor, the 1948 picture kills off at least a dozen people.

I asked a man from Columbia Pictures why there was no bull fighting scenes in "The Loves of Carmen," and he said: "We only put $4,000,000 into this. With the price of beef what is it we couldn't take a chance of someone accidentally killing the bull and running the whole production into the hole."

Europe Slowly Realizes Hitler Won't Be Appeased

HITLER MADE HIS TRIUMPHAL ENTRY into Czechoslovakia's Sudetenland on Oct. 3 over roads strewn with flowers by rejoicing citizens of German blood who now were being annexed by the Reich.

I went along as a reporting observer, and it was in many ways an unhappy assignment.

Here she was at the mercy of a throw-back to the Huns. The position would have been even more shocking had we known that the weakened appeasement which was responsible for this Hitlerian annexation was also the forerunner of the German world war invasion a year later, and finally of the Communist conquest of 1948.

Hitler used the ancient frontier city of Eger as the loudspeaker through which he told the world:

"Never will this land be torn from the Reich!"

PERHAPS THAT BLATANT BOAST might have come true, had the dictator not been filled with the inordinate ambition to overrun the world and Nazify it. I stood directly back of Hitler as he made his garish promises and flung fresh defiance at the world. It was hard to take, and that was no place for a freedom loving American.

After the celebration at Eger I made a great and protracted swing through Poland, Hungary and all the Balkans, studying the situation with particular reference to the Hitlerian development. Everywhere the story was the same. Hitler held virtually all that vast area in the palm of his wicked hand. Quite apart from the armed might of the Reich, Germany had an unbreakable economic strangle-hold on those countries.

When I finally arrived back in London, the attitude of England and France towards Hitler seemed to have undergone a change. Accordingly I took my problem to one of the great figures of the British government. I put my problem to him bluntly:

"I HAVE NOT COME FOR AN INTERVIEW, because I know you cannot grant one. But I have sensed what seems to be the beginning of a change in British sentiment and policy towards Germany; I shall be grateful if you can tell me whether I am right, and if I am right, what it means."

"You are right," he replied. "We reluctantly have come to the conclusion that the policy of appeasement is a failure. We reluctantly have come to the conclusion, that Hitler is not susceptible to any moral influence. He is a man with a dangerous obsession. We have decided that we must smash him. We hope to do it by economic or political means. But if these fail, we shall use force."

The democracies finally had seen the truth, but they had closed the barn door after the horse was stolen. Had they been firm when Hitler first started to bully them, we probably should have escaped World War II. They wouldn't have had to march their armies to check the Fuehrer—just stand up to him.

So ends the reading of this chapter of history revolving about "peace in our time."

Hungarian Police Pull Guns On U. S. Men Probing Arrests

VIENNA, Sept. 20. (AP) — Highly reliable sources said today two American representatives of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey were arrested Saturday night in Budapest, Hungary.

The informants said Hungarian police pulled a gun on three officials of the U. S. legation in Budapest when they went to investigate the arrests of the oilmen's lodgings.

The arrested men, identified only as Ruedeman and Bannentine, were handcuffed when they were arrested and have been held incommunicado, the sources said. The charges against them have not been announced.

The legation officials drove to a Catholic convent where the arrested men were living in a pension maintained by nuns, the sources said.

Several men in civilian clothes were standing outside the building. One of the men told a nun, who acted as an interpreter that he was a policeman. He then pulled a gun and pointed it at the legation officials.

Two of the policemen flashed identity cards, but did not give the Americans time to read the names or numbers on them.

The group went to Ruedeman's rooms, the sources said. They refused to give the legation officials a list of what was taken. Bannentine's room also was searched and papers were taken, the sources said.

The police then left, saying the two American oilmen could be found at the police station.

It was understood the legation was preparing an official report to be sent to the State Department in Washington.

State Of Emergency Exists Inside Burma

RANGOON, Burma, Sept. 20. (AP) — A state of emergency existed throughout Burma today as a result of the slaying of Brig. U Tin Tut, inspector general of the Burmese auxiliary force and a leader in the country's anti-Communist campaign.

Tin Tut died Saturday night at a hospital without ever regaining consciousness after a bomb exploded in his automobile Thursday. Police reported no success thus far in tracking down the persons who placed the bomb beneath the floorboard of the car.

A state funeral will be held after the return of Tin Tut's wife from England, where their children are attending school. He had been slated to become ambassador to Britain.

Meanwhile, unrest was reported in several points. A communistic aid armed rebels Saturday attacked the residence of the civil surgeon at Syriam, oil refinery town only three and a half miles down the river from Rangoon. Rebels fired the town of Yexagyo, 325 miles north of Rangoon, and killed 50 persons in a three-hour battle with loyal troops there.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20. (AP) — A striking airlines pilot picketed in the sky yesterday as he spelled out the word "scab" some 10,000 feet above New York City's International Airport.

It was Mack Gilmur's way of protesting ceremonies marking the start of flight operations at the field by National Airlines.

Gilmur is one of a number of striking National Airlines pilots. On the ground 40 additional pickets, including other striking pilots, marched outside the airport's administration building.

The picket line protested the company's alleged refusal to rehire striking pilots as recommended by a presidential emergency board for the settlement earlier this year of a National Airlines strike.

Woman Escapes Police Station In Bare Feet

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 20. (AP) — A young woman prisoner escaped in her bare feet from the central police station last night but a companion was re-captured after a 25-foot fall through a skylight. Detective Sgt. Michael Daly said.

Daly said the two prisoners—whom he identified as Mary Kennedy, 19, and Mrs. Jean Arinotos, 18, both of New York—beat and locked a police matron in their cell.

The police matron, Mrs. Edith Renard, sustained bruises and a severe cut of the face. She said the two prisoners beat her with the heels of their shoes before locking her in a third-floor cell.

Daly said Miss Kennedy dashed down a stairway to the street and climbed into an automobile just as the car was pulling away from a traffic light. She was bare footed and was carrying her shoes, Daly said.

The detective said Mrs. Arinotos, meanwhile, had fallen through a skylight in an effort to reach a roof over the first floor of the jail building. She was treated for a fractured pelvis and ankle fracture.

India Establishes Hyderabad Controls

NEW DELHI, India, Sept. 20. (AP) — Hyderabad, which lost a six-day war to India, is now under the civil and military control of that dominion.

Secunderabad, original objective of the Indian invasion after the Nazam of Hyderabad had refused India's request for permission to garrison it because of alleged disorders, is now under the command of Lt. Gen. Maharaja Shri Rajendrasinhji, an army spokesman said.

A dispatch from Secunderabad said that the working committee of the Hyderabad State Congress Party, will hold an emergency session in a few days to discuss its relationship with the National Congress Party. Prior to the invasion the state party fought to obtain responsible government.

Qazim Razvi, fiery leader of the Moslem Razakars, blamed by India for border disorders, has been arrested. The Razakars, a private group, have been outlawed by the Nizam under surrender terms with India. However some are reported to be still holding out in remote areas.

Maj. Gen. J. N. Chaudhury has been appointed military governor of Hyderabad.

A New Delhi source said the princely state will have three alternatives to consider at a constituent assembly:

1. Retain constitutional monarchy under the Nizam and accede to India.
2. Abolish the monarchy and become a governor's province like Madras and Bombay within the Indian union.
3. Divide into three parts on a language basis and fuse with adjoining provinces.

VERNON, Sept. 20.—The Midland Indians and Vernon Dusters are due to break their Longhorn League playoff deadlock here tonight when they tangle in the game of the series.

The Dusters, who were down to the Tribe, 0-2, in the set when they ambled onto the home diamond Saturday night, evened the count by capturing a couple of 11-inning duels. They gained the edge by a 5-4 count Saturday night and then came back to grab a 1-0 decision Sunday afternoon.

The teams will move back to Midland on Tuesday.

The CHIROPRACTOR and You

This is One Of A Series Of Articles Published In The Public Interest To Explain And Illustrate The Practice Of Chiropractic.

WHAT IS CHIROPRACTIC? The Chiropractor teaches that the brain and nervous system are the root of health. From the brain, nerve energy is distributed through the nervous system to all parts of the body. When this nerve energy is shut off even slightly between brain and body (by bone displacement in the spine), one or more body functions are interfered with and ill health results. By X-ray, analysis and spinal adjustment the Chiropractor is able to relieve nerve interference and restore normalcy to the affected part. No drugs. No surgery. Nature is the healer.

CASE HISTORY No. 92. A victim of sinus headaches for several years. Suddenly stricken with pain one morning, he called upon a Chiropractor whose office he was passing at the time. A spinal adjustment brought relief from the pain in less than three minutes. Within half an hour the pain had gone entirely, and there has been no recurrence of the sinus condition since.

CASE HISTORY No. 356. A young woman who for seventeen years had been having as many as ten to fifteen convulsions daily. Treated for epilepsy without avail. Under special treatment for seven years without benefit. All hope for recovery had gone, when a friend advised Chiropractic. A spinal X-ray revealed a marked disarrangement of the neck, as result of a fall suffered when a child. Adjustments were commenced and after only four months she was 95 per cent better.

Four Cook County Officials Ousted

CHICAGO, Sept. 20. (AP) — Four Cook County jail officials have been suspended by Sheriff Elmer M. Walsh, pending an investigation into the jail break Saturday night of three prisoners.

Two of the escapees, Alphonso Najera, 26, and Chester Miller, 34, were seized shortly before noon yesterday while sitting on a park bench. The third man, Eddie Viecek, 21, is still being sought.

Sheriff Walsh said his investigation so far has indicated that the break was 'due to negligence on the part of the four suspended men.'

Search Abandoned For A Freighter Left In Atlantic

NEW YORK, Sept. 20. (AP) — A 9,000-square-mile search for a British freighter, abandoned four days ago by its crew in a North Atlantic hurricane, has been called off.

Coast Guard headquarters here reported last night that the Freighter Leicester was "presumed sunk" after the crews of two Canadian ocean-going tugs had failed to locate the ship in an extended hunt.

The Leicester, a rich prize, was sought by the crews of the two tugs in hopes of collecting salvage money under international marine law.

Six crew members of the Leicester, battered by the storm, were reported lost, 30 others were rescued by other freighters.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

By WACIL McNAIR

For Tommy Hart

Local fans found plenty of subjects for comment at the Steer-Cisco game Friday night, but apparently the performance caused enough favorable discussion to overshadow the criticism. Regardless of what may be said of their faults, the Longhorns did exactly what they were commissioned to do in many respects. True, there were very few plays when it appeared that 11 men were carrying out assignments simultaneously and in good fashion. But the objective was to win a football game, and their success represented execution of the chief assignment of the evening.

IMPROVEMENT GREATEST IN PASSING DEPARTMENT

Without a doubt, the greatest offensive improvement made during last week's practice sessions by the Steers was in the passing department. Whatever the difference may be between Cisco and Brownwood pass defenses cannot erase that fact. Any team that fails to complete a single pass in 11 attempts in one game and then comes back seven days later to connect eight times in 17 tries is making headway, regardless of the caliber of competition. Coach Mule Stockton and his staff and every man on the Big Spring squad are due some credit. They have worked long, hard and well, and they will be at it again before the ink is dry on this page of the Herald.

GROUND OFFENSIVE SHOULD NOT BE OVERLOOKED

The Steers were not without offensive threats on the ground. The ball carrying chores were heaped upon the shoulders of three men, Arless Davis, Virgil Roundtree and Donnie Carter, and that trio could not have turned in more identical performances if they had been triplets. Although they appeared somewhat slow on the getway, they hinted that a bit of power may be edging toward the surface in the Steer secondary. Roundtree accumulated a slight edge by carrying the oval 10 times for 41 yards, or an average of exactly 4.1 yards per try. Carter hit the line seven times for an aggregate of 28 yards, while Davis produced a net gain of 25 yards in seven tries. The Steers backs lost ground only twice during the evening. On two other occasions deficits were recorded, but erratic passes from center kept the plays from developing.

GRIGSBY HAD STICKY FINGERS FRIDAY NIGHT

Cuin Grigsby, the rangy left end, was the favorite target for Longhorn passers. He was on the receiving end of half a dozen of the eight completions, including the second touchdown toss. His total yardage was 43. Arless Davis was receiver for the other two completions.

MAXWELL BOYS BOOST SOUTHERN METHODIST GOLF HOPES

Harry Gage, who chronicles link activities for the Dallas News is predicting a rosy future for the SMU golf team since Bill and Bob Maxwell presented themselves for registration on the hilltop. Gage indicated recently that Coach Graham Ross figures he has a ready-made star in Bill, and he predicted that Bob will give "unlimited aid" to the Mustang aggregation.

Indians Only Half A Game Out Of First

By the Associated Press

Win, lose or draw, Lou Boudreau, shortstop-manager of the Cleveland Indians, rates as the outstanding player of the major leagues.

It is largely through his efforts at bat, in the field and on the bench that the Indians are only half a game out of the American League lead today, with an excellent chance to win their first flag in 28 years.

Lou blasted his 15th and 16th round trippers yesterday to account for both his team's runs in Cleveland's second game 2-0 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics. The Tribe also won the opener, 5-3.

The pair of victories, coupled with the double setback handed to the Boston Red Sox by the Detroit Tigers, 4-3 and 8-4, boosted the Indians within half a game of the pace-setting Sox.

The Indians also vaulted over the New York Yankees into second place when the Bronx Bombers were held to a split in their doubleheader with the Browns in St. Louis. The hustling Browns took the first game, 8-6; New York won the second, 9-6.

In the National League, only a complete collapse can stop the Boston Braves from winning their first flag in 34 years. The Braves defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 4-2, yesterday. They lead the Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals by six games.

The Cards moved into a second place tie with the Dodgers, scoring two victories over the Giants in New York, 4-3 and 3-1. The Dodgers whipped the Chicago Cubs in Brooklyn, 8-1.

Philadelphia all but eliminated the Pittsburgh Pirates, trouncing the Bucs in a twin bill, 9-6 and 5-3. Pittsburgh trails by eight games. The fifth place Giants are only two games away from being mathematically eliminated.

A paid Cleveland crowd of 75,382 saw Larry Doby slam a dramatic ninth inning home run with Joe Gordon on base to break a 3-3 tie and give the Indians their first game triumph.

Steve Gromek permitted only three hits in registering his ninth victory against three defeats in the nightcap. Dick Fowler allowed the Tribe only five hits, but two of these were those payoff circuit swats by Boudreau.

The Red Sox went 12 innings before finally bowing to the Bengals in the opener. Stubby Overmire, fourth Tiger pitcher, singled home the winning run with two out in the 12th. Ted Williams' 24th home run had tied the game in the ninth with two out.

SENS STOP LOSING
Al Zarilla's two-run homer in the sixth won the opener for the Browns against the Yankees. Fred Sanford, who gave way to Cliff Fanning in the seventh, was the winner. Joe DiMaggio led the Yankees to victory in the second game, polling his 37th and 38th home runs, each with a man on base.

The Washington Senators ended their 18-game losing streak, defeating the cellar-dwelling White Sox in Chicago, 10-7 and 8-6.

For the first time in a week, a pitcher other than Johnny Sain or Warren Spahn won for the Braves. He was Clyde Shoun, who relieved Red Barrett in the eighth with the score tied at 2-2. Eddie Stanky, making his first appearance since July 8 when he broke his right ankle, had singled in the tying run in the seventh.

Singles by the two McCormicks—Frank and Mike—a sacrifice, long fly and Phil Masi's double provided the winning runs in the eighth.

The Cards made it 10 out of the last 11 against the Giants, with Murry Dickson registering his 12th victory in the opener, and Harry (The Cat) Brecheen winning his 18th in the nightcap. Enos Slaughter's 11th home run, with Stan Musial on base in the fifth won for Dickson. Musial's 37th four-bagger, with Red Schoendienst on base won for Brecheen. The second game was halted after seven innings because of darkness.

TEXAS, SMU IN MAIN SHOWS

All Southwest Conference Teams In Action This Week

By the Associated Press

Everybody is in on the act this week in the Southwest Conference, but the main show centers around Texas and Southern Methodist University.

The terrific Texas Longhorns, victors over Louisiana State, 33-0, go to Chapel Hill, N. C., to take on revenge-bent North Carolina Southern Methodist, like Rice and Baylor, will be playing its first game of the year this week.

The Mustangs turn loose probably the best backfield in the conference against Pittsburgh in Pittsburgh.

Rice opens against Sam Houston State and Baylor takes on rough Tulsa University. Texas Christian, which squeezed by the University of Kansas, 14-13, last week, meets Oklahoma A&M.

Texas A&M, loser to powerful Villanova, 34-14, and Texas Tech, tangle at San Antonio. Arkansas continues to warm up by meeting East Texas State. Last week, the Razorbacks walloped Abilene Christian College, 40-6.

The Texas-North Carolina game shapes up as one of the best in the nation.

Charley Justice, highly touted North Carolina back and the rest of his teammates are openly aiming to avenge the 34-0 licking suffered at the hands of the Longhorns last year.

Texas displayed tremendous power on the ground in swamping L.S.U. The Longhorns seemingly endless supply of tested linemen held the Bengals to a net 38 yards on the ground and a host of Longhorn backs piled up 296 yards rushing.

Southern Methodist's hopes for a second straight conference championship may bloom a little brighter if touchdown threats All-America Doak Walker and Sophomore Sensation Kyle Rote come through in good style against Pittsburgh.

A&M came back from its trouncing by Villanova with four injured players. Halfbacks Ralph Daniel and Preston Smith and Tackles Jim Flowers and Dwayne Tucker are nursing hurts.

Coach Harry Stuteier indicated the Aggies' aerial game would set a stiff going over.

Oklahoma A&M is a tough hurdle for Texas Christian to get over. The Frogs were sluggish against Kansas.

Baylor carries a lot of high hopes into its game with Tulsa. The Bears are gunning for a better record this year.

Rice, expected to be one of the strongest entries in the conference, may give every phase of its offense a trial against Sam Houston.

Arkansas had little trouble with ACC last week, as expected, and shouldn't have too much to worry about in East Texas this week.

Season standing:

Perfect Records Scarce In Schoolboy Ranks

By the Associated Press

The Texas Schoolboy football campaign rolls toward October with almost three-fourths of the original field of 110 teams having tasted defeat or tie.

In the City Conference only eight teams have perfect records. They are Adamson (Dallas), Arlington Heights (Fort Worth), Milby (Houston), San Jacinto (Houston), Regan (Houston), Austin (Houston), Jeff Davis (Houston) and Brackenridge (San Antonio), the school that won the state title last year.

In the Class AA conference 25 are unbeaten and united while one—Brownfield—has not yet played a game. The undefeated, united teams are Amarillo, Pampa, Wichita Falls, Midland, Sweetwater, Austin (El Paso), Bonham, Gainesville, Greenville, Highland Park, Stephenville, Gladewater, Henderson, Kilgore, Texarkana, Waco, Corsicana, Port Arthur, Orange, Galveston, Corpus Christi, Alice and Edinburg.

The most notable eleven to fall last week was Kerrville, one of the state's highest rated teams. The Antlers lost to Brownwood 12-0, thus taking a plunge out of the top bracket and shoving Brownwood up to the favorites position in its Class AA district.

Odessa showed power in licking North Side (Fort Worth) 20-7 and Brackenridge edged into the favorite's spot in the City Conference as it whammed Abilene 26-7.

Lufkin, a perennial power, lost to South Park (Beaumont) 19-0. That was noteworthy since it marked the first time in years that Lufkin had failed to break into the win column in the first two games. Previously Lufkin was tied 13-13 by Longview, which last week was whipped 25-0 by Port Neches.

This week the schedule is filled with attractive games. The top tilt sends Brackenridge against Corpus Christi. Other outstanding games have San Jacinto (Houston) at Port Arthur, Austin (Houston) at Galveston, Breckenridge at Wichita Falls, Amarillo at Abilene, Brownwood at Sweetwater, Midland at Austin (El Paso) and Texarkana at Denison, and San Angelo at Mineral Wells.

Port Arthur, the general choice to win the Class AA championship, downed Fort Worth of New Orleans 24-0 last week in a show of power. Wichita Falls was impressive with a 25-13 trimming of Denison. Amarillo belted Childress 28-6.

Bovines Resume Training Grind This Afternoon

By the Associated Press

Coach Mule Stockton and his Big Spring Steers today begin a two-week grind in preparation for their next expedition to the gridiron and indications are they will need every minute of it.

The next battle may easily be the toughest of the year for the Longhorns, since they will be debating with the powerful Odessa Bronchos, an aggregation that has been ranked second in the state by some forecast artists. Also it will be the first District 3-AA conference game for the youthful Steers.

Bovines showed improvement by clipping Cisco, 14-12, last Friday night, but the Bronchos were gaining far more prestige the same evening by thoroughly outplaying a strong team from North Side of Fort Worth.

While the Steers idle as far as matched competition is concerned, the Bronchos will be entertaining the El Paso High at Odessa Friday night.

Elsewhere in the district, the Abilene Eagles will be hosts to Amarillo, Lamesa will be battling Brownfield at Lamesa, Midland will be at Austin of El Paso, San Angelo will be at Mineral Wells and Sweetwater will be taking on the powerful Brownwood Lions at Sweetwater.

Tigers Blank Indians, 7-0

By the Associated Press

The Big Spring Tigers combed the offerings of two visiting pitchers for eight hits to take a 7-0 victory from the Marfa Indians at Steer Park Sunday afternoon.

Gerry Rodriguez, former member of the Big Spring Bronchos, limited the Indians to three safeties. Tacho Martinez and Elias Gamboa collected two singles apiece to pace the Tiger hitters. The game was called at the end of the seventh because of darkness.

The Tigers spiked the dish for two runs in the second by taking advantage of two Indian errors and a hit batsman. They counted three times in the fifth on four hits and an error, and twice again in the seventh on two hits and an error.

A paid Cleveland crowd of 75,382 saw Larry Doby slam a dramatic ninth inning home run with Joe Gordon on base to break a 3-3 tie and give the Indians their first game triumph.

Steve Gromek permitted only three hits in registering his ninth victory against three defeats in the nightcap. Dick Fowler allowed the Tribe only five hits, but two of these were those payoff circuit swats by Boudreau.

The Red Sox went 12 innings before finally bowing to the Bengals in the opener. Stubby Overmire, fourth Tiger pitcher, singled home the winning run with two out in the 12th. Ted Williams' 24th home run had tied the game in the ninth with two out.

Youth Steals Net Spotlight

By the Associated Press

FOREST HILL, N. Y., Sept. 20. (AP) — "A new era had dawned in American tennis today as the National Singles Championship passed into the sturdy hands of Richard (Pancho) Gonzales, a 20-year-old power player from the busy, year-round courts of Los Angeles.

Gonzales, one of the youngest net stars ever to wear the crown, captured it yesterday when he whipped Eric Sturgess of South Africa, 6-2, 6-3, 14-12, in the finals of a tournament which was marked by the passing of the game's old guard, at least from the championship scene.

Players like Frankie Parker, Gardner Mulloy and Bill Talbert left behind by Jack Kramer to carry on when he turned pro after winning the title in 1947—never progressed beyond the quarter-final in this 67th annual tournament. The 32-year-old Parker was the only one of the trio to get that far. Instead, the youngsters who have developed since the war dominated the championships.

Gonzales, ranked eighth in the tournament and 17th nationally, was the only seeded American to reach the semifinals. The only other American to reach the round of four, was still younger, 19-year-old Herbie Flam.

Thus the pattern was set for a new chapter in the American court game. The ranking committee will be faced with the prospect of a wholesale revision in the national list for 1948.

Gonzales, a Mexican-American youth who took the National Clay Courts Championship earlier this summer, looked like a potential world beater as he overpowered the steady, 28-year-old South African champion.

Mrs. Margaret Osborne Dupont of Wilmington, Del., twice a runner-up but never a winner in the nationals, became the feminine champion to complete the upheaval.

Steer 'B' Team Ties At Lamesa

By the Associated Press

LAMESA, Sept. 20. — The Big Spring "B" team battled the Lamesa "B" aggregation to a 6-6 deadlock here Saturday.

The home town boys went ahead in the first quarter when a 45-yard run produced a touchdown, but the try of extra point failed.

Big Spring tied the count in the second quarter when Fred Herrington gathered in one of Cobb's passes and charged into the end zone. The play covered about 30 yards. Neither team was able to score during the second half.

Rate Hike
more than four times as high as in 1928 when current rates were established, he added. Higher wage rates as well as a much larger number of people required to handle the business have contributed to the sharp payroll increase. Big Spring had 1,500 telephones 20 years ago when the rates were established, he said. Now it has 4,300. With more than 1,000 families and business concerns waiting for telephones are faced with the problem of enlarging the telephone system here at a time when costs are at the highest level in history," Fox declared, adding that a $500,000 program to improve and expand telephone service in Big Spring is well underway.

Included in the 1948-49 telephone construction program for Big Spring are the addition to the telephone building (nearing completion); installation of three more sections of local, five sections of long distance switchboard, and 500 additional subscriber lines; expansion of the network of outside lines and cables throughout Big Spring; A $158,000 project to provide telephone facilities for several hundred rural and suburban families and business concerns; additional long distance circuits to parallel local extensions. Eight toll circuits are scheduled for the latter part of this and the early part of next year. Next year, he said, new direct circuits to Dallas, Fort Worth, Abilene and Odessa are planned.

Fox said the company was "proud that we have been able to enlarge the Big Spring telephone system to approximately three times its size 20 years ago without increasing rates, but that now cost factors, are such that the only solution is a reasonable increase in rates."

First consideration by the commission is due to be at its next meeting on Sept. 28. Under Texas law each city is its own rate authority. Fox said applications for increases had been granted in 40 Texas points. The application would have to come up three times before the commission before final action could be taken.

Glenn Patton Sets Pace For Last Motorcycle Races Of The Season
Glenn Patton, Wichita Falls, took Eddie Harris, Big Spring, got second and third in the consolation. Best time in this was 3:57 on the five laps. Christian was hard on Patton in the grand finale when, on the fourth lap his motor knocked out. Huskey moved up rapidly to greet Patton to the finish, and Beavers came in with a snappy third place. Officials of the club declared the event the "best we have ever had." They were appreciative to the turnout of local fans and of the riders who "come from widely separated areas to risk their lives for the fun of riding." Total prizes for the day were pegged at $500. The American Motorcycle Association sanctioned the races, last of the season here.

Patton negotiated the course in 10 laps (five miles) in a time of 6:16.2, one of the best times ever seen in this area on a sustained grid. Previously he had taken the expert 45 with a time of 3:46 for five laps and the 80 expert with 3:49. There were only two spills during the afternoon, and in each instance riders came out without a scratch. The track was fast and in fairly good condition for rough treatment by a score of the top riders of Texas and New Mexico. Ralph Nelson, Roswell, N. M., took the first novice heat with 4:22, nosing out Frank Taylor and Gene Sanders of Amarillo. Jack Ewing, Big Spring, riding in competition his first season, grabbed the second novice heat in a snappy 3:59, coming in ahead of Buddy Lovless, Albuquerque, N. M., and Wayne Early, Amarillo.

In the initial amateur event Down Beavers, Brownwood, sacked up the top honor with 3:59, ahead of Richard McDougall, Albuquerque, N. M., and O. J. Bartlett, Lubbock. Lee Christian, Lubbock and formerly of Big Spring, took the second amateur heat from Buddy Lovless and Ralph Nelson with a 3:56 time. Then came Patton's record low of the day on the five lap eliminations when he scored his 3:46 in grabbing the initial expert heat from Christian and Beavers. Fred Husky and Beavers finished in that order behind him in the second expert event with a 3:49 winning time. Tommy Ryan forfeited first place in the consolation to Lindell Ellison to get to ride in the expert finals. Richard McDougall and Services were in charge of the Rev. Roy O'Brien and Nalley Funeral home was in charge of arrangements. Besides the parents, the baby leaves its maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie Puckett, Big Spring.

Corporation Court Hears 14 Cases
Fourteen cases accounted for fine assessments totalling $218 this morning in corporation court. Leon P. Gonzales was assessed $17 after pleading guilty on two counts. He drew a $2 fine on a charge of driving through a service station driveway to avoid traffic, and $15 more for not possessing operators' licenses. Twelve cases involving drunkenness charges made up the remainder of the morning's docket.

Guardianship Case Heard In 70th Court
The application of Gladys Addie Judd for appointment of guardianship for Floyd Smith Judd was brought to trial in 70th district court Monday. The case came up on appeal from county court where Mrs. Judd was named guardian for her husband, whom the court had held non compos mentis, on March 22, 1948. C. H. Powell was listed as contestee. Case of R. B. Hood in contesting the election of B. E. Freeman as democratic nominee for county tax collector-assessor, was postponed until Sept. 29, on motion of Hood, who asked the continuance due to illness.

District Governor To Visit Rotary
Dr. Ira Woods of Littlefield, district governor, was due to arrive here this afternoon to visit the Big Spring Rotary club. The local organization has scheduled a club assembly for 7:30 p. m. at the Settles, at which time all club officers and committee chairmen are to confer with the district governor. Dr. Woods will be in charge of the program at the club's regular luncheon session Tuesday in the Settles.

WALL STREET
NEW YORK, Sept. 20. — Losses of fractions to more than a point were general in the stock market today. After receding slightly at the opening, the market turned definitely lower within a short time. Initial plus signs soon disappeared. Volume increased only moderately on the downside. Brokers have been harassed recently by the small amount of business attracted by dips in prices which now are near their August lows. Steels and motors were the most active groups. Halls and chemicals also got a fair share of attention, airlines and metals were unchanged to slightly lower, but they were inactive as groups. Utilities were steady. Stock on the downside included U. S. Steel, Youngtown Sheet & Tube, Chrysler, Santa Fe, Du Pont, Allied Chemical, Montgomery Ward, Douglas Aircraft, American Woolen, and Standard Oil (N.Y.). Pepsi-Cola was active and sold at another new low for the year. American Foreign Power Common touched a new low with the sale of a block of 2,500 shares of 1-4. A large block of 15,300 shares of United Corp. sold unchanged from Friday's close.

Why the telephone company is asking for higher rates in Big Spring

THE telephone company is asking the Big Spring City Commission for approval of a new schedule of telephone rates.

The reasons behind the request are simple. Present telephone rates were established 20 years ago. They are not bringing in enough revenue to pay the costs of furnishing telephone service here and allow a reasonable return on our investment here.

Expenses Increase Faster Than Revenues
Big Spring now has nearly three times as many telephones as in 1928 when present rates were established. Costs of furnishing service have jumped 170 per cent, while revenues are up only 153 per cent.

Prices of automobiles, clothing, food and most other items have increased sharply—some of them several times—in recent years. Yet telephone rates have not been increased since 1928.

Proposed New Telephone Rates for Big Spring

Following is the schedule of telephone rates which is required to put operations of the Big Spring telephone system on a reasonable financial basis, and assure our getting the additional investment dollars to carry out the large expansion program:

Table with 2 columns: Class of Service and Proposed Monthly Rate. Rows include: One party business telephone ($4.50), Business extension (1.25), One party residence telephone (3.00), Two party residence telephone (2.50), Four party residence telephone (2.25), Residence extension (.75). Includes a note: *Plus Federal Tax.

The proposed new rates are $1 a month more for business telephones, about 3 1/2 cents a day, while the increase for individual-line residence telephones is only 50 cents a month, less than two cents a day. Two-party residence telephones will cost 25 cents more a month, less than a cent a day. The company proposes to introduce a new four-party residence service, which has proved adequate to meet the needs of many telephone users in larger cities, at a rate of $2.25 a month. Also, charges for certain special items of telephone service would be adjusted in relation to today's higher costs of furnishing them. The telephone company is not asking Big Spring telephone users to pay the costs of expanding the telephone system here. That money comes largely from people who are willing to invest their savings in telephone securities. Telephone rates must cover all the costs of furnishing service and allow a reasonable, fair return on the dollars invested in the telephone system here if we are to continue to get the flow of investment dollars. Approval of our request for the first adjustment in telephone rates here in 20 years is necessary to put telephone operations here on a sound financial basis and allow us a reasonable return on our investment.
