Hearing Held at Rockwood On Mining Regulations

Area residents and interested persons met at Rockwood Community Center June 24 when the Texas Railroad Commission conducted a hearing concerning the application of Amistad Fuel Company's permit to conduct a surface mining operation in Coleman County.

The hearing was to determine if the surface mining and reclamation rules meet the requirements of the state and federal surface mining laws and are properly enforced.

The proposed permit area is approximately 1,100 acres one mile southwest of Rockwood, and one mile north of the Colorado River. The mine has been in operation about two years at the site, with coal processed there for shipment to San Antonio.

Javier Padilla, Hearings Examiner, Surface Mining and Reclamation Division, Railroad Commission of Texas, led the hearing.

RRC recently approved permits for six lignite mining sites in Texas where the mixing of topsoil and subsoil results in soil medium equal to or more suitable for sustaining vegetation than the available topsoil. Railroad Commission surface mining rules were developed in 1979, with the Commission having authority to enforce both state and federal provisions.

Darla Kanady, Rick Smith Married in Coleman June 26

In a candlelight ceremony Saturday afternoon, June 26, Darla Hosch Kanady and Rick Smith were married in a double ring ceremony at Concho Baptist Church in Coleman. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hosch of Santa Anna and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Smith of San Antonio.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony were the bride's father and the Rev. Bobby Miner of Lubbock.

Patrick Hosch, cousin of the bride, was organist for the ceremony and accompanied David Oxford of Coleman as he sang selections during the ceremony as the processional. D'Annie Tanner of Lubbock played classical flute selections as guests were seated, and Patrick Hosch played organ selections as the prelude.

Brass candleabra holding peach tapers formed the background for the ceremony. Two large arrangements of white mums, peach and pastel blue carnations and daisies flanked the brass prayer bench that centered the altar area. Potted palms were at each side of the altar. Family pews were marked with nosegays of peach and pastel blue daisies and satin ribbon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of ivory chiffon in off-the-shoulder style. Wide lace and satin ribbon edged the wide ruffle at the neckline and each of the shirred tiers of the skirt. A chapel-length train was edged in the wide lace. Her headpiece was a circlet of peach and pastel blue silk flowers, with a veil of illusion. Her jewelry included a string of pearls belonging to her mother and pearl earrings, a gift of the groom.

The bride carried peach silk flowers and baby's breath atop an ivory lace fan.

Starla Kanady, daughter of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a gown styled like the matron of honor and wore flowers in her hair. She carried a white basket of peach silk flowers.

As part of the ceremony, Starla and the groom exchanged pledges as father and daughter.

MR. AND MRS. RICK SMITH

Michael Kane of Houston was best man. Brad Smith of Kansas City, cousin of the bride, was candlelighter. Ushers were David Thompson of Lubbock and Gary Hosch of Abilene.

Following the ceremony the bride's parents hosted a reception at the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was laid with a floor-length white linen cloth edged in lace. A gold epergne holding peach tapers was surrounded by white mums, peach and pastel blue daisies and carnations. Fruit punch was served from a gold punch bowl. The three-tiered white wedding cake was trimmed in peach sugar roses and topped by sugar wedding bells and miniature doves. Crystal and gold appointments were used, with Melody Thompson of Lubbock, Gwen Pruitt of Eastland and Gay Martin of Santa Anna, cousin of the bride, serving.

A blue floral print cloth covered the groom's table that was centered with an arrangement of blue daisies. German chocolate cake and coffee were served from silver appointments by Karen Martin of Lubbock, sister of the groom, Karen Daniel, also of Lubbock, and Ruby Hosch and Sandra Fitzpatrick of Santa Anna, aunt and cousin of the bride.

Both the bride's cake and groom's cake were baked and decorated by the groom's mother.

Brenda Gloyen of Lubbock registered guests.

Following a wedding trip, the couple are at home in Lubbock where the bride is a Registered Nurse at Lubbock Methodist Hospital. The 1977 Hawley High School graduate graduated from nursing school in May.

The groom, a graduate of a San Antonio high school and Texas Tech University, is a mechanical engineer with a Lubbock firm.

Special guests at the wedding and reception were the bride's grandparents, Mrs. Roscoe Hosch of Bangs and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mankin of Coleman.

REHEARSAL DINNER
The parents of the groom were hosts for a dinner Friday, June 25, at the Gallery Restaurant in Coleman for members of the bridal party and their families.
